Doing Share in Canada

"I was right here in Canada doing my share in the only sphere in which I was able to do it. I have never claimed any credit for it, but I resent it when anyone casts aspersions on my loyalty. These things are just as distasteful to me as they are to Mackenzie King, but I did not attack him. If you read the papers you will see that he asks why the great patriots, Bennett and Ferguson, are not supporting him on his Empire trade policies."

Mr. Ferguson spoke in support of the three Conservative candidates in the County of Essex: Colonel S. C. Robinson, Hon. Dr. Raymond Morand, and Eccles J. Gott.

MOTHER RESCUES CHILDREN.

CALGARY, Alta., July 24 (C.P.).—R. E. Mossley, aged 54, farmer of Didsbury, was instantly killed, and his wife risked her life time and again as she plunged into the blazing farmstead to rescue their five young children when lightning struck their home at midnight. The house was burned to the ground.

BELITTLING KING NO HELP TO PECK CLAIMS McNABB

Disparaging Remarks of Conservative Speaker Under Liberal Fire.

SCORES FINLAYSON.

Public Money Being Used to Build Up Big Tory Machine.

"I believe that there are many Conservatives of Peterborough who will endorse the tribute paid to Premier King by Mr. Stanley Baldwin, leader of the Conservative party in Great Britain, on the occasion of his visit to Toronto three years ago", said I. P. McNabb at the Liberal meeting at Young's Point last night at which J. J. Duffus, the candidate, was the main speaker.

"On that occasion Mr. Baldwin, who preceded Mr. Ramsay MacDonald as Prime Minister, said: 'I defy any one to find two statesmen who pull together better for the good of the Empire than Mr. Mackenzie King and myself,'" Mr. McNabb quoted.

"Some of the Conservative speakers in this riding may imagine they are helping the cause of Mr. Peck by referring to Premier King in the most abusive manner, as was reported in The Examiner a few nights ago, but I feel certain that those citizens who like fair play, and especially the women voters, will agree with Mr. Baldwin rather than with one Peterborough speaker who said that Premier King was not fit to run a corner grocery store."

Mr. McNabb also referred to the visit of the Hon. William Finlayson to Peterborough Tuesday night.

"Mr. Finlayson was entrusted with the spending of $10,000,000 in northern Ontario on public works of this province, but he has been charged with using the public money in a political sense, building up a political machine which has been used in this election in aid of candidates of the Hon. R. B. Bennett. Mr. Finlayson has betrayed the trust the people of this province have reposed in him, and he has done so with the approval of the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson."

Mr. McNabb said that the only

BATTLE BY FLYER PROVES IN VAIN

WIND UPSET PLANE.

EDMONTON, July 24.—(CP)— The tale of a heroic battle by Dale Atkinson, North country pilot, in the face of a terrific storm was told when Pilot W. E. Gilbert of Western Canada Airways arrived from Northern Saskatchewan with the body of Woodrow "Chuck" Eagle, who died in a plane crash. Atkinson, whose plane turned over after landing on far-north Lake Nisku, came upon Gilbert's machine.

Eagle died when Atkinson, running into a terrific windstorm swung about, raced to Lake Nisku, landed and was pushing to shore. A cross-gust of wind lifted one wing of the plane, toppled it over on its back, and threw the occupants into the water.

Fighting his way down through the turbulent waters, Atkinson smashed his way into the cabin on the machine, found that his passenger was not there, and dived several times in an effort to find him.

Near exhaustion, Atkinson gave up the uneven battle and swam the dozen yards to shore. The fatality occurred on July 13 and the pilot waited until the water gave up the body on July 19.

FARMERS SUFFER UNDER LIBERALS

Price Declares Gov't Failed to Provide For Unemployment.

FACED BY EVIL DAY.

DURHAM, Ont., July 24 (C.P.).—Both farmers and manufacturers had suffered under the Liberal Government, asserted Hon. W. H. Price, Provincial Treasurer, speaking here last night. The King Government, he claimed, had held out promises to farmers that it would reduce the tariff, and at the same time had "hoodwinked manufacturers of implements by maneuvering drawbacks and sales taxes."

"Having sped along, taking advantage of the good crops which Canada has had, of the development of the natural resources of the province, notably Ontario and Quebec, claiming credit for all the prosperity and all the advantage of the position Canada has secured in the world, they are confronted by an evil day, a day when their policies have failed to make provision for unemployment and the proper protection of our farmers," Mr. Price said.

MONTREAL STAR ANSWERS KING

Claims Paper Sent Britain Was Effort to Boost Canada's Trade.

SHOWED TARIFF REVISION.

MONTREAL July 24. (C.P.)—The Montreal Star has editorially replied to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, who Tuesday night at a mass meeting here stated the paper had published an editorial for circulation in Great Britain which took a very different position on the Dunning budget from that taken in a recent editorial in the paper published in Canada.

The paper in question the editorial stated was an advertising flysheet sent out by the Montreal Star after adoption of the Dunning budget. This fly-sheet contained the tariff revisions in full. It further contained an advertising agent's exhortation to the British manufacturers and exporters to take advantage of the increased British preference to cultivate the Canadian market.

"It was a pure business undertaking intended to increase Canadian trade with Great Britain. It this be a sin Mr. King must make the most of it" the editorial stated.

TWO YEARS GIVEN CECIL HAMILTON

Listowel Lawyer Found Guilty on False Pretense Charge.

TO APPEAL SENTENCE.

STRATFORD, July 24.—J. Cecil Hamilton, Listowel barrister, was convicted here yesterday on a charge of false pretenses, and this afternoon was sentenced by Judge Clement of Kitchener to two years less one day in the Ontario Reformatory. Hamilton was found guilty on a charge of obtaining under false pretenses $1,200 from David Carson of Listowel in 1928.

Immediately upon the delivering of the verdict R. S. Robertson, K.C., chief defense counsel, announced that the conviction would be appealed. He asked that sentence be deferred. Peter White, K.C., of Toronto, Crown counsel, felt that sentence should be delivered immediately.

Hamilton's trial has been in progress, with various adjournments, since May 13. On two previous charges he was found not guilty.

Australia's population has increased by nearly 1,000,000 in the last 10 years.

TWO ARE VICTIMS AS FLOOD RAGES IN ENGLISH TOWN

Other Fatalities Feared as Cloudburst Hits Esk River Valley.

WHITBY UNDER WATER.

Lifeboat Busy Saving Families Marooned on House-tops.

WHITBY, Yorkshire, Eng., July 24.—(C.P.)— Two lives are already known to have been lost, and other fatalities are feared, in consequence of a flood that followed upon a cloudburst in the valley of the Esk River.

A lifeboat from this fishing port, equipped with rocket and other life-saving apparatus, was busily engaged far inland, away from its customary base, in an attempt to rescue the marooned people in the stricken district.

The last connection with the village of Sleights, in the centre of the flood area, was severed when the telephone wires broke down.

Many families throughout the area are imprisoned in the upper floors of their houses.

Butler as Spouse Brings Objections

WASHINGTON, July 24 (C.P.).—Miss Gytha Stourton, 28, beautiful and talented daughter of Britain's nobility, is on her way home to make a final plea for her family's consent before marrying Fiovanti Del'Agnese, a handsome Italian butler and major domo of the old British Embassy here.

Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the former Sir Esme, now Lord Howard of Penrith, retired Ambassador to the United States, was the first in Washington to receive Miss Stourton's confidence. She disapproved. It is because of her plea, joined with that of the Stourton family, that Miss Stourton is now en route to England on the liner Samaria.

FLAMING FOREST MENACES HOMES

Vancouver Island Settlers Fight Valiantly to Save Houses.

RANGERS RUSHED IN.

VANCOUVER, July 24. — Settlers' homes were threatened last night as two forest fires of serious proportions burned on Vancouver Island.

A blaze just off the Island Highway near Langford Station began sweeping toward that settlement. Fanned by a westerly breeze, the flames made great headway despite the efforts of 30 rangers, assisted by the residents, to check their spread. Nine homes in the vicinity were vacated.

More than 700 acres are covered by the revived Trout Lake fire, west of Menzies Bay. Additional fire fighters are being rushed from here to help cope with the situation. The blaze late Tuesday reached a strand of green timber, after having been placed under temporary control.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 24.—Cheese continued downward; butter, possibly in sympathy, was a little lower; eggs ruled firm, while potatoes and poultry were unchanged on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Markets yesterday. Another advance in milkfeed prices was the only change on the wholesale grain and feed markets.

Ontario cheese, waxed, was quoted at 16¾c a pound, while Eastern went at 16¼c. Receipts were 2,564 boxes; week ago, 3,099 boxes; year ago, 3,092 boxes.

The butter market was easier at 28¼c for Eastern townships No. 1, pasteurized creamery. Carlot prices on eggs were inclined to be slightly firmer. Extras were quoted at 33½c; firsts at 31c, and pullets', at 28c to 29c. Prices to retailers were unchanged.

Potatoes were steady at $1.50 per 80-pound bag for local stock. Bran, shorts and middlings were $1 a ton higher.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 24.—There were 537 cattle, 300 calves, 696 hogs, 1,250 sheep and lambs in the offering at the Union Stock Yards yesterday morning.

Cattle offerings this week have been much too heavy for the demand. Beef are moving slowly under warm weather conditions. Packing plants are overloaded. There were 1,900 cattle left over Tuesday and this reduced the prices 75c to $1 a cwt. from last week's close. No bids were received on weighty steers this morning and only the odd load of good handy butchers sold at 7¼c a pound up to 11 o'clock. A few good butcher cows brought 5¼c to a top of 6 cents.

The fresh supply of calves was light and offerings Tuesday were reduced in parts by shippers sending calves one to Buffalo. Prices are $2.00 a cwt. lower for the week at 8 to 9 cents a pound for choice. Grassers are a slow trade at 5 cents a pound. In many cases dealers returned calves to the country Tuesday.

No lambs sold early and bids are 50 cents a cwt. lower at 11 cents a pound for choice. Prospects are that the reduced bids will carry the bulk of sales. No sheep sold up to 11 o'clock.

Hog prices are unsettled, with packers' bids unchanged at 11½ cents f.o.b. for bacons. This is a half lower than prices to outside buyers yesterday. The tone of the market is weak. Settlements at the packers' bids are expected.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, July 24.—There was a fairly good demand for butter on the Toronto market yesterday, even though Wednesday is a slow day in this city, and fresh offerings of No. 1 Ontario were sold at 28c to 28¼c, the higher price being obtainable for good-sized lots of high-scoring butter. Ontario No. 2 was more difficult to dispose of at 26½c to 27c. Some low-scoring No. 2 or No. 3, as it is known, was unmovable even at sacrifice prices.

Cream

Cream prices never wavered and shippers were quoted 27c to 28c for special; 26c to 27c for No. 1, and 23c to 24c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese

The cheese market was steady at 17¼c to 17½c for new large; 17½c to to 17¾c for twins, and 17¾c to 18c for triplets. Prices to retailers were 19c for new large; 19¼c for twins and 19½c for triplets.

Eggs

With receipts gradually falling off, the egg market was showing steady tone at 31½c to 32c for extras; 29c to 29½c for firsts, and 25c to 25½c for seconds. But dealers were finding a little more difficulty in securing top prices, which was probably due to the closing of most meat and grocery stores on Wednesday afternoon. At any rate, though prices were steady, activity was only fair and late in the afternoon little trading was done.

Country shippers were quoted firm prices at 29c for extras; 27c for firsts, and 22c to 23c for seconds. The prices to retailers were 35c to 36c for extras in cartons; 33c to 34c for extras loose, 31c to 32c for firsts loose, and 26c to 27c for seconds loose.

Potatoes

The potato market showed no change at $1.60 for new, Ontario potatoes in bags, carlots, and $1.75 per bag on the wholesale market.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 24.—After an almost straightaway upturn of about 12c a bushel from recent low prices, the corn market yesterday hesitated and lost poise. Forecasts of showers indicated a halt in widespread crop damage from heat and drought had much to do with bringing about a selling movement that was also inspired by strenuous efforts, which many traders made to grab profits while the grabbing was good. Tending to stiffen prices again, however, at the last was an official estimate that the corn crop of Iowa, the largest corn-producing State of the Union, has been curtailed 45,000,000 bushels by drought and excessive heat of the last two weeks.

Closing Prices Irregular

Closing quotations on corn were irregular, ranging from ⅝c setback to ⅝c gain, compared with Tuesday's finish and about 1¼c under yesterday's top figures. Wheat closed nervous ¼c to ⅝c net lower, with oats ⅝c off to ⅝c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

Yesterday's European purchases of North American wheat were estimated at 1,500,000 bushels, and it was figured that since July 1 the total is fully 50,000,000 bushels, about 20,000,000 bushels of which has been bread wheat from the United States. Suggestion were also heard yesterday that Europe's wheat crop this season is likely to be 350,000,000 bushels less than last year. Oats price fluctuations were governed by the action of corn.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 24. — Wheat held fractional gains for the greater part of yesterday's session, chiefly on reports of extensive rust damage to crops in Manitoba and Eastern Saskatchewan. There were wiped out in late trading, however, and the market closed unchanged to ⅝ cent lower.

Advices that indicated another day of light export trade accounted for the last-hour decline. Also, there were cable reports that stated Russia was disposing of stocks to European countries.

Cash wheat was in good demand and trade was light. Coarse grains held firm.

HAVELOCK DEFEATS TRENT RIVER 14-8

Exhibition Softball Game in Railroad Town is Loosely Played Affair.

HAVELOCK, July 24.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—On Wednesday afternoon Havelock was invaded for the first time this season by the Trent River softball team, who came up for an exhibition game with the local boys.

The local team proved to be far superior and were victorious, defeating the visitors by a score of 14-8. The game was a loosely played affair, both teams making noticeable errors. Becky Jack for Havelock played a good game, being eclipsed only by McLaughlin, who in addition to catching a fine game was the heavy hitter of the evening.

This is only the beginning of a series of games being looked forward to by Havelock and Trent River fans.

KING BUNGLING WITH THE TARIFF SAYS MACAULAY

Mrs. Fallis Terms Present Campaign "the Bread and Butter Election."

RALLY AT LAKEFIELD.

Speaker Alleges Liberal Policy Changes in Various Parts of Canada.

"Some of Mr. King's candidates haven't been able to follow their leader around the corner fast enough—they are still reading the old campaign material," declared Leo Macaulay, M.P.P., of Toronto, speaking on the platform of E. A. Peck at a Conservative mass meeting at Lakefield last night. Scoring the Liberal Party vigourously for declaring one policy in one part of Canada and another diametrically opposite policy in another, Mr. Macaulay said that the King adherents were, like characters of old, following "afar off" and were "four years behind in the procession".

Bread and Butter Election

Mrs. Howard Fallis stated that the present election would go down in Canadian history as "the bread and butter election. She scoffed at the government for having taken "a double somersault on the eve of an election".

E. A. Peck, the candidate, charged the government with having "failed to do anything to help the industries of this country".

"If you are interested at all in the question of unemployment," he asserted, "you may take it very well for granted that no relief will be afforded by the present government."

Mr. Macaulay declared that Mackenzie King had been "laying unholy hands upon the tariff" and, not being an expert, in trying to undo the wrong he had done in the last nine years he had bungled.

"There's enough New Zealand butter in Canada at the present moment and enough on the high seas to put the dairy industry of this country on the rocks, not only for this year, but for 1931 as well," declared Mr. Macaulay. Regarding the Dunning Budget, he claimed it had been brought in at the last moment because the Government "knew the tendency of the country was toward protection." As for countervailing duties, "Uncle Sam does the counting and we do the wailing. And if it's good for 16 items, why isn't t good for 1186?" he demanded.

Uniform Policy.

It had been to Meighen's everlasting credit, the speaker maintained, and it was to Mr. Bennett's to-day that the Conservative Party had proclaimed a uniform policy throughout the country. But there was no uniformity to-day in "these varying tariffs of our opponents." Drury in North Simcoe claimed he favored countervailing duties because they provided free trade and reciprocity at the same time. The Liberal candidate in South Toronto and Senator Casgrain in Ottawa were proclaiming the farmer selfish and pampered, for the benefit of labor ridings.

"The issue in Quebec has nothing to do with the plight of industry or with tariff schedules," asserted Mr. Macaulay. Mackenzie King was still the exponent of Canadian independence there, while Bennett was "that Imperialistic snake" and "the kind of Englishman we do not like to see in Canada."

Mr. Macaulay read a despatch from St. Antoine, Quebec, in which a Liberal candidate had been warning his hearers that there was a war in India, that he did not know whether our sons would be called upon, but "we had better be on the safe side."

"An empty gesture," Mr. Macaulay styled the Dunning British preference. "With the Union Jack in front and the Stars and Stripes behind where he can get it to bring forward again when he wants it, Mackenzie King appeals to you to return him as the only statesman in this country loyal to Canada."

Held Up St. Lawrence Project.

Mr. Macaulay held the Prime Minister responsible for holding up the St. Lawrence project, while the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission was forced to obtain power from privately owned sources outside the province. "Is that not done," demanded the speaker, 'so that he may confound and discredit this great public ownership enterprise in Ontario?"

Mrs. Fallis denounced the Hon. Mr. Lapointe for having appealed at Woodstock for the support of Canadian women for the Liberal party as the party of "progress and advanced legislation." Conservative governments had given women the franchise in Ontario and in the Dominion, according to Mrs. Fallis, while women even to-day had no vote in the provincial elections of Liberal Quebec.

"What was the King government done for the farmer," asked Mrs. Fallis. In 1923 it had repealed Sir Robert Borden's 10 year grant to agriculture, while Ontario's share had been replaced by a Conservative provincial government. Grants to technical education, highways, and unemployment had all been repealed by the King government. In addition, the New Zealand trade agreement had been passed over Conservative protests and in the face of expert advice.

Crerar claimed that Canada's dairy industry was expanding, yet the $25,000,000 exoprt of 1925 had become the $40,000,000 import of 1929. Dunning claimed there was just as much milk, that if less butter was made, the milk was being put to other uses. Yet there were 140 to 150 thousand fewer cows in Canada to-day than there had been in 1925, while there were 100,000 more in New Zealand. Premier King produced "the crowning statement of all" when he claimed that the reason for the increased import was that the people of Canada were "eating more butter on their bread than ever before."

"I have a vision," Mrs. Fallis declared, "of the 200,000 unemployed men in Canada, made prosperous by the King policies, having nothing better to do than occupy their time spreading butter on both sides of their bread."

Mrs. Fallis saw the Dunning budget as "the death bed repentence of a dying government." She did not trust life-long free traders to enforce a policy of protection, nor Mackenzie King, who had "turned Canada's other cheek" to the United States so long that Canada's other cheek had finally been "soundly smacked by Uncle Sam a few weeks ago," to transfer his allegiance to Great Britain.

Mr. Peck, referred to by Mr. Macaulay as "one of the able, quiet and dispassionate representatives that Ontario sends to Ottawa," upheld Bennett's stand on British preference and Empire trade.

"It is our duty to Great Britain to develop this country to its fullest extent," declared Mr. Peck. "If Mr. Bennett is unpatriotic in this respect, I'm afraid you'll have to charge me with being unpatriotic, too—though it'll be a pretty stiff dose for me to swallow."

WHERE IS MEIGHEN? ASKS W. R. P. PARKER

Why Are Former Conservative Prime Minister Not Taking Part in Campaign Liberals Ask.

PORT CREDIT, Ont., July 24 (C.P.) —Speaking here in the interest of W. J. Lowe, Liberal candidate for Peel, W. R. P. Parker, chairman of the campaign committee of the Ontario Liberal Association, asked why Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden, former Conservative Prime Ministers, were not taking part in the present campaign.

Mr. Parker said he had been "credibly informed that Mr. Meighen had not been asked to speak or take any part up to the present time."

"The fact cannot be ignored," Mr Parker said, "that he was recently a Conservative Prime Minister and leader of the Conservative party. It is acknowledged by all, irrespective of party, that he was one of our greatest parliamentarians of all time. Has he, in effect, been asked to stay at home and, if so, why? Also, where is Sir Robert Borden, another Conservative Prime Minister and leader of their party?" If the views of these gentlemen were favorable to Mr. Bennett's policies, the speaker went on, the country would long since have heard from them.

FENELLA.

Empire Trade Important To Many Factories Provides Work For Employees in Peterboro

Mr. Peck Opposed Dunning Trade Policies

Do the employees of Peterborough's factories realize the importance to them of British Empire trade?

Do the men and women who work in the QUAKER OATS COMPANY know that the larger part of their output is exported from Canada and very extensively to Great Britain and the British Dominions and Colonies?

Do the employees of the WESTERN CLOCK COMPANY realize the importance to them of the markets of Britain, Australia, South Africa, Singapore and other British countries where Peterborough-made Big Bens are sold?

Do the employees of the JOHNSON OUTBOARD MOTOR COMPANY realize that their future as an Empire industry is one of the brighest prospects in Peterborough's industries? The Johnson Outboard Motor Company have not yet begun to invade the British markets to any extent. The employees of the Johnson Outboard Motor Company should be actively supporting J. J. Duffus and the Dunning Budget on July 28.

When Mr. Peck voted against the Dunning Budget he voted against the interests of the employees of these Peterborough factories. Three Conservatives voted in Parliament for the Dunning Budget because of its advantages to the people of their constituencies. Mr. Peck failed to see the importance to the workers of this city of the policy of wider markets within the Empire for Canadian products.

Mr. Peck should have known that many of the employees of Peterborough factories depend to a considerable extent upon Empire trade for their wages and livelihood.

Do the employees of the WM. HAMILTON COMPANY know that their firm also does some Empire business and has every likelihood of expanding it.

Do the employees of the CANOE FACTORIES in Peterborough and also in Lakefield realize that the products of their skill and handiwork are sold in many parts of the Empire?

And the employes of the NASHUA PAPER COMPANY should know that they are also sharing in Empire trade.

These are all indisputable facts, PETERBOROUGH FACTS, which Mr. Peck overlooked or ignored WHEN HE VOTED AGAINST the Dunning Budget.

By that default and opposition to Mr. Dunning's policy of increasing Canada's trade within the Empire, Mr. Peck thereby forfeited any claim he may now be putting forth to those who voted for him in his previous campaigns.

"WHAT DOES THE ELECTION MEAN TO ME?"

Some workingmen may thoughtlessly ask the question: "What does this election mean to me?" If they work in these Peterborough factories they should perceive that the British Empire with its 450,000,000 people affords a market which Canadian manufacturers are eager to penetrate as extensively as possible.

That is why the Montreal Star in its British edition, the paper that waged so devastating a fight against the reciprocity treaty in 1911 now acclaims the Dunning Budget as follows: "THE CUSTOMS PROVISIONS (OF THE DUNNING BUDGET) ARE OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE IN THEIR AVOWED INTENTION TO PROMOTE EMPIRE TRADE BY WIDE EXTENSIONS OF THE PREVIOUS BRITISH PREFERENTIAL TARIFF."

That is one of the most significant recommendations the Dunning Budget has received.

And what of the future? Have we any assurance of the success of the Dunning intra-Empire trade policies?

TRANSFER BUSINESS TO KITCHENER

Well, on July 10 a news despatch from Kitchener broadcast the encouraging information that the B. F. Goodrich Company of Akron, Ohio, with assets of $250,000,000 was transferring most of its export business from New York City to Kitchener.

J. D. Tew, president, intimated that the company had decided to make this transfer of its export business because by manufacturing and shipping from Canada it would obtain the advantages of trading within the Empire.

One of the three factory buildings erected in Peterborough this year, the MARTIN-HEWITT COMPANY, Park Street south, came into being largely as a result of the available business from Peterborough industries doing a large export trade with British countries.

Canada today exports more manufactured goods per head of population than any other nation with the possible exception of England.

The Liberal Government has found new markets and built up trade; and the Dunning policy seeks to enlarge and secure our trade within the British Empire of 450,000,000.

Mr. Peck voted against the Dunning Budget. Mr. Peck has had his chance to help Peterborough export trade.

Hence, the electors who should make sure of their vote for Duffus and the Dunning Budget are especially the employees of the factories in this riding which are doing business within the Empire.

We have become a great manufacturing and commercial nation under the Liberal Government. Trust Dunning to "make us mightier yet."

A VOTE FOR DUFFUS WILL BE AN INVESTMENT FOR YOURSELF

THE ADVANCE POLL.

All voters whose occupation requires them to be out of the city on Monday and who are in the classes covered by the Election Act, including commercial travellers, transport men, railway men and sailors, are reminded that the advance poll which opens to-night gives them an opportunity to use their franchise.

This poll will be open to-night, to-morrow night and on Saturday afternoon and evening, so that voters in these categories need not lose their chance to express their opinion on the issues of the day simply because they will be out of the riding on election day.

It is unfortunate in view of the fact that the election is a mid-summer affair and that many people are not in a position to regulate their holidays so that they will be here to vote that the regulations in regard to the advance poll could not have been widened so that more electors could have taken advantage of this pre-election day balloting.

To some degree at least the size of the vote polled Monday will be cut down by holidaying absentees, and in that respect both parties will lose.

DON'T LEAVE IT TO SOMEONE ELSE.

In renewing its appeal to the electors of West Peterborough to meet their responsibility as citizens by using their franchise on Monday, The Examiner has no apology to make for repeatedly pointing out the duty of the hour.

It has been said that this election is one of the most momentuous in the history of the Dominion, and while to some extent that assertion may be put down as the hyperbole of a politician, yet it must be admitted that there are issues of very great importance to be decided, not the least of which is the selection of the government which will carry on the affairs of this country for the next four or five years.

The things that governments do or fail to do are often of tremendous consequence to the individual citizens of the country over whose destinies they preside, so that the selection of such governments is not something that should be carelessly disregarded or left to others.

It is a strange commentary on our way of looking at things that, while we would not trust the judgment of our neighbors to select a new hat for us, we are often willing to leave it to his judgment to decide the personnel of the government.

That is a responsibility that every elector should handle himself by using his franchise intelligently and conscientiously on Monday next.

Don't leave it to the other fellow—use your ballot.

THE EXAMINER'S POSITION.

Hon. Mr. Finlayson, under the mistaken idea that a paid Liberal advertisement in The Examiner represented the views of this paper, started out at Tuesday night's meeting to arraign The Examiner, and was proceeding vigorously when those on the platform informed him that The Examiner was a non-partizan newspaper and the article in question a paid advertisement.

It is scarcely necessary for The Examiner to state that since it became the one newspaper in this community it has maintained a position of strict neutrality so far as political issues are concerned.

Our policy in this election as in other recent campaigns has been to give absolutely fair and uncolored reports of all political meetings in the district regardless of under whose auspices they were held, and in the matter of headings and display to give both parties an even break.

We believe that this attitude has been appreciated by the political organizations, and more particularly by Examiner readers, who have thus been given an opportunity to read both sides of the question and should therefore be in a much better position to vote intelligently.

THE COURTEOUS CHAUFFEURS' CLUB.

It is interesting to learn that already more than one thousand people have made application for membership in the Montreal branch of the Courteous Chauffeurs' Club.

Into this organization no one is admitted before his application has been thoroughly investigated by the membership committee and found to be a careful, safe and courteous driver.

Suggestions for safety received from every responsible quarter, but it is giving special attention to those of Dr. Miller McClintock, who has prepared a leaflet containing "Sensible, Safe Driving Rules" which are worth the attention of every driver.

Here they are:

"Keep your car in sound condition; keep your car under control because it is dangerous if you cannot stop in the assured clear distance road; keep your eye on the road because one second's hesitation may mean an accident; never fight for the right of way, as the only real utility of right-of-way rules is at inquests or damage suits; go along with the procession because you have no more right to drag traffic than you have to jeopardize yourself and others by unnecessary cutting in; be as courteous on the road as you are in your own home and give other drivers and especially pedestrians, a fair chance; know your local traffic rules and obey them exactly because they are the motorists' safety code and book of etiquette combined; take pride in your driving skill, and if normal people are too nervous to ride with you there is something wrong with your driving; do not mix liquor, worry or anger with gasoline; study local maps and experiment for shorter and less congested routes, and you will be surprised at the time you will save."

NEW QUESTION FOR CANDIDATES.

Stratford Trades and Labor Council has asked ... in the Dominion election here several ... on the list is as follows:

"The policy of your party in regard to the displacement of the worker by modern methods of efficiency and labor-saving machinery?"

That is not an easy question to answer because it is something on which there has been no pronouncement. It has not been made a matter of policy.

Perhaps the Trades Council had in mind a policy that would speak in favor or shortening the hours of labor or curtailing the number of days worked so that the output would be less.

Probably every trade or profession has felt the influence of new methods. To-day the X-ray machine is turned on a man who may have a fractured bone or a diseased tooth. That machine tells at once where the trouble is and what it is. But that operation, it might be urged, has cut into the practice of the doctor who used to spend many hours trying to diagnose a case which the X-ray reveals in a remarkably short time.

If we had no telephones the business of running errands and messages would be a highly developed vocation to-day, but we would not want to be without the telephone any more than we would care to do without the X-ray machine.

Each linotype machine in a printing office will do the work of five hand compositors, but we know that printers would not care to go back to the days of hand composition, and it is a fact that newspapers could not carry on with old methods. There were strikes in the printing trade when the type-setting machine came on the market, but the plain fact is that there are more mechanics in newspaper and printing offices to-day than there were in the days of hand composition. Improved methods made the larger and better paper possible, and increasing development took care of the labor displaced by the machines.

Although the question may be somewhat new for political discussion, it is an old one for labor. There are many industries where a larger output is being secured with a smaller force of workers, and naturally the Labor interests are concerned about it. It would be interesting to know just what plans Labor has for dealing with the question.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

ELECTION COSTS.

Over in the United States they bemoan the high costs of elections, but they have nothing on Canada, for, as far as we have been able to gather, it costs six times as much per vote in a Canadian general election as it does in a United States presidential election. The Hoover-Smith campaign cost, it was estimated at the time, 33 cents per vote, the average being based upon he total expenditures of the election. Before the election took place it was figured that the cost would be 20 cents. The vote was actually higher than it was thought it would be, which should have brought down the average cost. But, as we have indicated, the per capita cost was more than 50 per cent. higher. A writer in MacLean's Magazine estimates that there are 5,000,000 voters in Canada, and that the cost to the Government of taking the vote will be $2,000,000, while the total cost of the election, including the charges upon parties and candidates, will be $9,000,000. As he points out, the last-mentioned figure is about a dollar a head of the Dominion's population. If everybody votes, which they won't do, the cost per voter to the Government will be 40 cents, and the per capita cost of the total expenditure is $1.80. We are, therefore, very conservative when we say that a Canadian general election costs six times as much, proportionately, as a United States presidential election.

Of course, there is a reason for this, and it is not far to seek. Canada is thinly populated as compared with the United States, and the distance across the continent is the same in both cases, namely, 3,000 miles. High election costs are one of the penalties that result from a scattered population spread over a wide area. It had been hoped that radio would reduce the price of electing a government, but so far it does not seem to have done so. The leaders of the Government and the Opposition have not come to the point where they can agree to speak entirely from their own ridings by means of a Dominion-wide hook-up. Long train journeys and the organizing of meetings cannot yet be dispensed with. We may contrast the per capita cost of voting with the costs in England before the Reform bill of 1832, when in many ridings there were only a few electors. When Benjamin Disraeli contested the borough of High Wycombe, he got 11 out of the available 35 votes, but it is not on record that he paid each of his eleven voters $25, as some candidates in England did theirs. The increase in the number of voters has tended to make the purchase of votes excessively costly. So we may console ourselves with the thought that if the larger number of voters has added to the legitimate costs of elections, it has helped to remove abuses.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Vote as you like but vote. And remember July 28 is election day.

Now the election prophets get in their deadliest work. The safest time for guesses, however, is next Monday night.

H. G. FESTER

To The Editor of The Examiner,

I was surprised to see Mr. G. N. Gordon's letter stating that Mr. H. G. Fester was a rengade and impostor. I have known Mr. Fester for about 14 or 15 years. I have worked with him to help elect such men as the late Allan Studholme, Walter Rollo, George Halcrow and have always found him a sincere man.

I have had occasion to be opposed to Mr. Fester on some labor questions but have always found him a fair opponent. Mr. Gordon speaks of Mr. Fester being repudiated by the district labor council. That may be so, I do not know, but I do know as an ex-president of the East Hamilton Independent Labor Party that the only real opponents Mr. Fester had in that organization were the Red elements.

I would like to state for Mr. Gordon's information that the working men of Peterborough are not being influenced by his mass of figures to prove prosperity when they know they are either not working at all or one or two days a week and they will prove it next Monday.

What To-day Means To You.

"LEO."

If July 24 is your birthday, the best hours for you are from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m., 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 5:30 a.m. to 6:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Astrological influences on this date will awaken your ambitions, and you will long for social and material expansion. Do not shun the friendly advice and warning of a friend. Let the day be one of thought rather than action, and sleep over your ideas.

The child born on this date will be a lover of freedom, and will become fretful, irritable and rebelious under undue restraint. It will like to do one thing at a time, in its own way. It will aim to do, and to be right.

You shuffle along life's pathways spiritlessly, showing little indication of the joy of living. You choose a colorless gray existence, because you shrink from adventure and romance, as though for some unknown reason they were not for you. You are drab with the drabness of those who have no hope.

Your "rather be safe than sorry" principle will keep you from knowing the joys of living dangerously. You are afraid to be tempted—afraid of life. You try to suppress most of your human instincts and you are normal, until only unhappiness ensues.

The prejudices of all your ancestors seem to be brought forth in you, and they blind you to the truth, and many times the beauty of things. Many of your dislikes are only illusions—sad mistakes. You also have acquired the sad habit of boredom, which slams the door of spontaneous enjoyments in your face. You shun people under the false belief that you are a born recluse.

This is far from the truth. You do not have the powers and interests within yourself to give you solitary contentment. You need all the outside stimulation and uplifting you can get. You gain strength and magnetism from human contacts. You must change your present plans and modes of living. Think affirmatively, and not negatively! You are a gregarious creature—stick with your herd. You must not expect your sweetheart, your wife, or husband, to be perfect; do not put them on a pedestal!

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 23.

"You certain she's the sort of girl to make you happy, to make you a cracker-jack wife?" It seemed to Ken Burney that the king was paternally solicitous. "Remember, son, the girls nowadays are a lot different from the sort of girls your father and I married. They're high-rollers, but they don't know it, because the whole damned world is rolling 'em high. They're high and mighty and disobedient and independent. They think man was made for their convenience, and the first little thing he does to inconvenience them, they get rid of him and all he has is a memory and alimony. Be sure you're right, my boy, before you take a step that may ruin your life."

"Thank you, sir. I realize the truth of what you say. The girl of my choice, however, has one advantage. She is a lady. She has a high intelligence, good health and beauty. The only drawback is that she is inclined to be dominating and would rather have her own way than great riches. However, I expect to knock that out of her. There's only going to be one head to my house and that will be me. She'll do what I tell her to do or hell will pop."

"I'm not the sort of man to be twisted around a woman's finger by her tears and smiles and coaxings. I have observed that the happiest marriages are those where the wife trembles when her husband comes home and give three cheers when he leaves the house. An inflexible set of rules—fair, just and courteous—from the altar to the grave is my policy, and if my wife doesn't like that she can take her straw-suit case and her old tin trunk and go back to her former estate."

"You're so young and cocksure, Ken, I could weep for you. Well, I hope you get away with it. I never could. So you insist on going through with our contract, eh?"

"I'll quit if you insist, but I prefer not to. I need the reward and I must earn it, otherwise I may not accept it."

"How about forgetting you want to go into business for yourself and holding on to your present job?"

"Impossible. I promised Tom Bledsoe I'd quit and let him have his chance at it."

"Well, suppose I give you a nice job n the main office in San Francisco?"

"I should not accept it. I want to be able to go fishing or hunting when I want to."

"You really think you can pull off this contract you've entered into with me without getting yourself or any of my men hurt?"

"I'm certain I can."

"Well, then," the king agreed sadly, "hop to it," and without further ado he returned to his house and sat on the vearnda throughout the remainder of the day, staring gloomily off into space. At dinner he raised his head suddenly and fixed upon the princess a penetrating glance.

"I've had a talk to-day with Burney and offered to throw up the deal to get rid of Bruce and Gallegos. I offered to pay him for the job anyhow. He declined and held me to my contract. Says he wants the money to go into business for himself and marry a girl he met a year ago. So I reckon that let's you out and puts my mind at ease."

"The princess' face paled. She stared at the king unbelievingly a half minute, then resumed her meal.

"Took it like a thoroughbred," her father mused. "Damn that crazy Ken Burney. If he wasn't a blind fool he'd know I could make him the finest father-in-law in the world. Poor Muriel Poor old sweetheart! Well, hard as it i- on me, I' glad I butchered that dream before it took concrete form."

He ached to take his daughter in his great arms and permit her to spatter his vest with the tears he knew were welling in her heart but which would never show in her eyes.

The princess did not sleep that night. At dawn she heard the exhaust of a numbre of motor trucks and ran to her bedroom window and looked out. Ken Burney's convoy was lumbering down the road past the house.

From the cabin of the leading truck an arm was waved at her; then the dim gray light swalloed them and the princess went back to bed—to weep at last—and hate herself for doing it.

At eight o'clock Ken Burney's convoy rolled into Huachita. He paused at the livery stable long enough to pay the board bill on Rowdy and the other three saddle horses he had left there the night of his meeting with Martin Bruce and Miguel Gallegos; then he loaded them in the rear horse truck and proceeded to the international boundary where he formally declared to the United States officers the six definitely identified motor trucks, thirty-two saddle horses with full equipment and two pack mules with pack saddles he had purposed taking into Mexico and bringing back into the United States within thirty days. From the Mexican authorities he received a formal permit of entry for these same properties and the members of his party.

Senor De Haro was at the Mexican customs house and greeted him warmly before entering his motor car with two officers of rurales and preceding the Double B convoy down the narrow, rutty dirt road that led to El Cajon Bonita. In order not to excite suspicion he speeded up and left the convoy miles behind.

In the heart of El Cajon Bonita Burney spied a motor car coming toward him. "If our friend Miguel Gallegos is not approaching in yonder car," he told Tom Bledsoe, "I'm a Chinaman."

"Thee are not a Chinaman," the Quaker decided, as the motor car pulled off the road to permit the heavy trucks to go by them on the highway. In the front seat with his chauffeur sat Miguel Gallegos; as he recognized Burney on the seat of the leading truck he ordered his chauffeur to halt the car; with hand upraised, palm forward, he signaled Burney to halt.

O.E.A. PRESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

Principal J. A. Short of Swansea Public School Elected to Headship Last Easter.

W. M. WALLACE NEW HEAD.

KINGSTON, Ont., July 23.—(Special to Examiner).—The Ontario Educational Association has been bereaved by the death of President Principal J. A. Short of Swansea Public School. He took office at close of O.E.A. convention at Easter week. He was a capable officer. It was last year that similar bereavement came to Association when Inspector Chisholm passed away a month after his election as president. Change in constitution passed at Easter advances vice-president to president in case of vacancy and Prof. W. M. Wallace, Toronto University assumes headship of Ontario Educational Association. Last year a special meeting of Association was called to appoint Judge H. Scott, Perth, to vacancy caused by demise of Inspector Chisholm.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

LAKEFIELD, July 24 (Examiner Correspondence).— When the brakes on W. J. Webster's ice truck slipped on Monday afternoon about three o'clock, there was a mild sensation on the river front as about twenty blocks of ice were lost in the swift waters of the Otonabee and two wrecking cars pulled out the truck from its perilous position. Quite a crowd gathered and much free advice was offered to the wrecking cars and the driver of the truck. No one was injured, and aside from the loss of the ice there was no damage done.

Comment on the morning stock markets over Biggar and Crawford wire:

Renewed irregularity cropped out in the main body of New York stocks during the noon dealings. Aggressive operations on the upside were checked by increasing offerings that made their appearance as prices advanced. Amer Can sold off about 2 points from a high of $132¼ and set backs averaging about a point took place in U C Steel, Union Carbide and other leaders. However trading turned dull again on this recession and the general list developed a steadier tone around 1 o'clock.

PRICE CHANGES AGAIN LIMITED

NARROW LIST TRADING.

TORONTO, Ont., July 24. (C.P.)—Trading interest on the mining market was confirmed to a few stocks during the early period to-day, a big part of the list failing to receive even passing attention. Price changes were limited to a few points in almost all cases with the majority of issues holding unchanged from last night.

Abana displayed the outstanding activity and strength, touching a high of 52 and standing at 50 at mid-day for a gain of 10. The announcement that mining corp., had taken an interest in the property made a favorable impression, indicating support for Abana through the next few months of getting into production. Waite-Ackerman continued to advance gaining 13 to $3, and Sudbury Basin and Sherritt Gordon were both a couple higher.

Barry Hollinger featured a dull group of gold stocks. Strong on the opening, Barry moved to a high of 18 and at noon was up 2½ at 17. Recent reports indicate both improved recovery and mill tonnage at the property. Other golds were rather soft, Big Missouri, Howey and Vipond all receding a few points.

Ajax Oil firmed 4 to $1.85, but outside of slight weakness in Home Oil and Acme Gas no other change was made in the group.

NICKEL EASES AT TORONTO

Many of Favorite Trading Stocks Fail to Show Any Activity To-day.

PRICES FIRM.

TORONTO, Ont., July 24. (C.P.)—After having shown a slight improvement in circulation of stocks yesterday, the market on Toronto Stock Exchange today slowed down until movement was scarcely perceptible. Many of the better known trading stocks did not put in an appearance until late in the morning.

Prices were firm, changes being for less than a point. Nickel eased a small amount following yesterday's advance but there was no liquidation to speak of. Brazilian also slipped back from its close at 40 last night, selling at 39½ to-day.

Oils moved listlessly, unchanged or slightly higher. C.P.R. was unchanged Bell Telephone up ¼ point, Ford of Canada, City Dairy just under last night's finals. Massey-Harris picked up ½ point. Waterloo Standard Paving, Distillers, Walkers, Loblaw were unchanged.

Tom Kerrigan, Mount Vernon, N.Y., runner up for the championship in 1922 and 1923 and who once finished third in the British open, came back with a 73, composed of a 36 and a 37. Kerrigan is a man who usually shoots his best in the later rounds of a tournament.

Cloudy Sky Clears

Although the fairways had been thirsting for a shower for days, the rain held off until about 11 o'clock this morning, when it started with a sprinkle and a shower. The crowd of spectators took refuge on the club verandah, which was occupied by the tables, machines and wires of newspapermen. But the skies began to clear within half an hour and at noon there was hardly a cloud to be seen.

The temperature, in the middle 80's, was not oppressive for the players, as it was tempered by a cool wind, more wind than the course has felt for dayss.

Charles Guest, of Pontiac, Mich., turned in a 73. He shot 5, 5, 4, 4, 4, 4, 4, 5, 3, 4—38 and 3, 5, 4, 3, 4, 4, 2, 5, 5,—35. The two was accomplished on the 16th, of 165 yards. Guest used a foreiron and landed his drive on the green about two feet from the pin for an easy pull. Lex Robson also made a two, his being on the 6th of 200 yards. He drove near the green and sank the approach.

Silas Newton, the wealthy amateur of Mount Vernon, N.Y., has a 74. He ended the first nine of a bad 39, and turned in a 35 for the second. Raymond McAuliffe, Bridgeburg, Ont., had a 38 and 35 for his 73.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Numerous financial statements of Canadian corporations ending their fiscal year with June 30, 1930, are now in the course of preparation and, according to advance information, the results will be most satisfactory for the majority. These exhibit will cover the first six months of 1930 and the final half of 1929, or about nine months of the present business recession, and therefor will give a better line on the way Canadian companies have fared than the few quarterly earnings reports available for the first six months of the current year. Further evidence that Canadian industry is enjoying good business and earnings results despite the gloom being dispensed by the politicians is to be had in the way dividend payments have not only been maintained, but increased in the current year to-day. Only a comparatively few organizations found it necessary to pass dividends or reduce the amount paid and the result has been a substantial increase in the amount of money disbursed by many of dividends total payments, including those to be made in the month of August, aggregate over $127,000,000 for 1930 to six days contrasted with only $98,700,000 in the coresponding months of 1929 for every company that found it necessary to discontinue payment one or more others were able to pay initial disbursements and the total number to pass payment only represent a very small fraction of one per cent out of close to 400 dividend paying securities.

C.P.L. Earnings.

Earnings of Consolidated Press, Limited, for the first six months of 1930 were sufficient to meet all charges, including depreciation, debenture interest, taxes, etc., and leave amount available for distribution on the ordinary shares almost 2½ times the dividend requirement. Net earnings available for distribution on the class "A" shares are reported at $115,000 equal to approximately $2.30 a share on the 50,000 shares outstanding. Early in 1930 the class "A" stock was placed on an annual dividend basis of $2 par share and the requirement of $1 for the six months was earned with a margin of $1.30 to share. While these earnings do not compare as favorably with the $159,944 or $3.20 a share earning in the first half of 1930 nevertheless the results can be considered satisfactory and in line with profits of other concerns in the same line of business the class "A" share of Consolidated Press are currently selling on the Toronto Curb in the neighborhood of 32 to yield 6-25 per cent.

At the time of his resignation two years ago Lord Davidson received a gift of nearly fifty thousand dollars from world-wide subscriptions. This sum is left to the present Archbishop of Canterbury for general church needs as they may arise.

NICKLE DENIES STATEMENT BY MRS. MACDONALD

"Untrue" That He Threatened to Discharge Late Crown Attorney.

TELEGRAM TO GORDON.

Mrs. Macdonald Repeats Her Assertion in Interview To-day.

The statement by Mrs. Edith Kerr Macdonald, Cobourg, at the Northumberland riding convention, Monday, to the effect that the Hon. W. F. Nickle as Attorney-General of Ontario had threatened to discharge her brother, the late W. F. Kerr, Crown Attorney for Northumberland and Durham, if she entered the political field as a Liberal candidate is denied by Mr. Nickle.

Hon. G. N. Gordon was present at the convention and drew some of Mrs Macdonald's scattered barbs. He telegraphed Mr. Nickle on Tuesday, sending the following telegram:—

Peterborough,
July 22nd, 1930

The Honorable W. F. Nickle, K.C.,
Barrister, etc.,
Kingston.

Mrs. Edith J. Macdonald yesterday at nomination at Warkworth stated that you had warned her brother, the late Crown Attorney W. F. Kerr, Cobourg, that if she, Mrs. Macdonald, entered into politics or became a candidate the Crown Attorney would be dismissed by you from his office. As this is such a serious charge I am taking the liberty of reporting it to you and asking you as to the truth of it, and I wish you would telegraph me your statement.

G. N. Gordon.

Mr. Nickle's Reply

Kingston, Ont. July 22.

The Hon. G. N. Gordon, K. C.,
Peterborough:

Thanks for you wire. While I desire to avoid being drawn into a political controversy, yet you are entitled to know that if your message is accurate Mrs. McDonald's statement was not correct. Please forthwith direct her attention to your wire to me, and mine to you.

Mrs. McDonald wired Mr. Gordon this morning the following further statement in regard to the Gordon-Nickle correspondence:

Cobourg Ont. July 24.

Peterborough Examiner,
Peterborough, Ont:

"My late brother was a man who was absolutely truthful and reliable, not like some people we both know. He repeatedly told me from 1926 on that Mr. Nickle, when Attorney-General had sent for him and warned him that his office would be seriously menaced if his sister took part in either Dominion or Provincial elections. In May of this year my brother asked me not to give an address on organization to the Women's Liberal Club at Port Colborne, Western Ontario, as requested, as he thought the threat made to him by Mr. Nickle might be carried out. My brother's law partner, the local Liberal president, in 1926, was obliged to give up his office and only now feels safe to resume his political activities.

"Mr. Nickle's denial is as truthful as yours at Warkworth concerning your famous and oft-quoted letter to the Globe on 'one-horse weekly newspapers.' You are quite free to use this as publicly as you may use Nickle's to you and I shall make careful inquiries to ascertain that you do so."

Reply to Mr. Nickle

Mrs. Macdonald's reply to Mr. Nickle follows:

"I absolutely believe every word of by late brother. He repeatedly told me in 1926 and ever since and again in June of this year, when I was asked to do political work in Western Ontario that you, as Attorney-General, sent for him and warned him that his position (because of local Conservative pressure) would be seriously menaced if I took part in either Dominion or Provincial campaigns and begged me, because of your stand not to do so as long as we lived under the same roof. Your stand was well-known and frequently discussed in 1926 and since. In Cobourg my brother's law partner felt obliged to resign his office as local Liberal president in 1926 and only now feels free to resume his political activities. I may frankly state I believe my brother absolutely

BALL MANAGER IS SUED FOR WAGES

Dixie Walker Fails to Show Up in Court as Charge is Read.

ELEVEN PLAYERS PRESENT.

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 24.—(CP)—Magistrate Jones today issued a warrant for the arrest of Dixie Walker, manager of the Brantford team in the Ontario Baseball League. Eleven players appeared in police court charging the late manager with non-payment of wages. Walker's name was called three times but there was no answer.

Detective Boylan swore that he personally served the summons to Walker on Monday last.

George Haas came forward and acted as spokesman for the players. He deplored the delay occasioned by Walker's failure to answer the summons, saying that every day's wait only added to the obligations the players were forced to assume here. He thought that Walker had some money.

Magistrate Jones said he was in sympathy with the hardship imposed by the delay but the law entitled an accused to one delay.

MINING CORPORATION WILL FINANCE ABANA PROPERTY

HOLLINGER STRONGER.

TORONTO, July 24. (Special to Examiner.)—The announcement that Mining Corporation of Canada has undertaken to help Abana over the fence, so to speak, came as a pleasant surprise to most mining circles. While the big part of the support is withheld pending examination of the Abana property by Mining Corp. engineers, funds are immediately available to retire indebtedness on the property, understood to have been causing some worriment in official quarters. The action is also taken as another indication of Mining Corporation's confidence in the future of the Canadian Base Metal industry, activities of the company of late all having been pointed in this direction.

Though the exact foundation of to-day's strength in Barry-Hollinger remains something of a mystery, there can be little doubt that reports show a very favorable trend to events at the property. It is officially stated that are now at the 1,725 horizon in the winze and station cutting is expected to be under way at the 1,750 level by the end of the week. The winze is still in high grade ore encountered a week or ten days ago. It is anticipated production for July will exceed $20,000 as recovery during the past two weeks has averaged $900 a day with the mill treating approximately 100 tons.

Some recent activity and appreciation in the shares of Peterson Cobalt might be traced to the report received to-day that the shaft at Little Nipa, part of Pete Cobalt's property, is being dewatered and that two days ago had been pumped out to within three feet of the tunnel. It is understood they are going after the quantities of Cobalt ore known to exist in these workings and not considered worth mining when the search for silver was underway on previous occasions. Wall Street Journal reports that some quarters claim the copper stocks are now nursing a larger short interest than any other group. If this is true and change in demand and improvement in price will immediately be followed by a rush to cover. Foreign sales of copper on Tuesday came to 8,750,000 pounds and in the forenoon yesterday 6,500,000 pounds, foreign consumers appreciate that copper, which is intrinsically one of the most essential metal to industry to-day, is unusually cheap at 11.3 cents and so are buying in tonnage.

Domestic buying of copper is also in good volume and it is probable that there is a demand for more copper at 11 cents than can be obtained at present. In view of the disinclination shown by buyers to take copper at higher prices, it is not likely any advance in price will be seen for several weeks, but there can be little doubt that sentiment surrounding the market has improved of late.

In Police Court

Having imbibed not wisely but too well of the cup that cheers, three local citizens found themselves side by side in dock at the Police Court this morning.

One, charged with being in an intoxicated condition on Dublin Street on Wednesday, July 23, asked to plead by Magistrate O. A. Langley, said: "I was asleep and was taken out of a private house."

Police Chief Samuel Newhall corroborated this statement and added an amendment to the effect that Todd had gone on a terrible 'drunk,' going into a private house and scaring the residents who called for the police.

The delinquent drew a fine of $10, with costs amounting to $4.50

Pleading guilty to a charge of being in an intoxicated condition, another was fined $10, and costs amounting to $6.50.

His appearance in court was the sequel to an accident on the race-course last evening, when as driver of a horse he was in a crash.

Failing to pay a fine of $100, and costs of $6.50, Howard Wyatt, aged 37, of this city, was given three months in the County Gaol on a charge of having liquor in an illegal place.

FAIR TARIFF IS GUTHRIE'S CRY

PRINCIPLE IS COMPETITION.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 24 (C.P.).—Not a "high" tariff policy but a reasonable tariff that would protect Canadian industry was what the Conservative Party advocated, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, former House leader of the Conservative Party, told a large audience here last night. In the first of two Western addresses, Mr. Guthrie emphasized the point that the consumer must be protected.

The Conservative Government that, he was confident, would take office after next Monday's elections, would see to it that "no manufacturer, no agriculturist, no person would take advantage of the tariff increases through enhanced prices."

Competition for the trade of the country would keep prices at a fair level, contended the former Minister of National Defence. "Our principle is competition always — combination never."

GOODYEAR TIRE COMPANY TO BUILD IN SOUTH AMERICA

Decision of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. to erect a modern tire factory at Buenos Aires, Argentina, upon the site to which it has held title for some time, has been announced.

Construction of the plant, a one story building 250 by 460 feet, will start July first.

The factory, to be know as the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. of Argentina, is located in Hurlinghame, a suburb of Buenos Aires, situated 16 miles northwest of the city, up the La Plata river.

Capacity of the new South American plant, which will be turning out tires by February 1, will be a thousand tires and thousand tubes per day. Payroll of the factory is expected to include 400 employees.

The South American factory will be the ninth Goodyear plant—others being located as follows: United States four, Canada two, England and Australia each one. The company also operates its own tire fabric mills at seven points in North America; cotton plantations in Arizona and rubber plantations in Sumatra and the Philippines.

them have ever been out to the railway line, and, according to Mr. Cain, the number of them that had not seen a white man prior to the arrival of the treaty-makers was astonishing.

The treaty was negotiated and paid on the little "Barrens" Lake, on whose shore line Mr. Cain and Captain Maxwell were marooned for three days last summer when their Moth machine was forced down because of a storm and through depletion of their gasoline supply. The lake lies about 290 miles north of Sioux Lookout.

Mr. Cain's letter to Captain Maxwell was dated July 17. Heaven knows when you will receive this, he wrote. Relayed out of the wilderness by Provincial Air Force planes, it has, however, reached Queen's Park in five days' time.

HAMILTON IS RELEASED ON BAIL OF $25,000

TORONTO, Ont., July 24 (C.P.) — J. Cecil Hamilton, Stratford Lawyer, who was sentenced to two years' imprisonment by Judge Folan yesterday following his conviction on a charge of false pretences, was granted bail in the amount of $25,000 pending his appeal, by Mr. Justice Orde at Osgoode Hall to-day.

His Lordship's order is being rushed to Stratford to allow Hamilton's release from jail. J. W. Pickup appeared for Hamilton at to-day's application and I. A. Humphries, K.C., for the Crown. An appeal against the conviction was announced yesterday at Stratford by R. S. Robertson, K.C., chief defense counsel.

COMMONS SIGNS LONDON TREATY

Second Reading Ensures Enaction of Legislation on Naval Pact.

THIRD READING ROUTINE.

LONDON, Eng., July 24 (C.P.).—The House of Commons last night adopted on second reading the bill embodying legislation on the London Naval Treaty, thus virtually insuring that it will be enacted.

A third and final reading will follow, but that is largely a formality, and the action on the second stage is considered the equivalent to ratification. In the meantime the bill has been referred to the committee of the whole, where only routine action is regarded as likely.

When the measure is officially adopted on third reading the treaty will have been ratified by two of the signatories, as the United States Senate approved it this week. Only Japan is yet debating.

The Naval Treaty was signed by the British Government and would this be binding in any case, but C. G. Ammon, Parliamentary Secretary of the Admiralty, explained in urging approval last night that supporting legislation was necessary to give full legal effect in quarters other than governmental.

NOTED CANADIAN FINED FOR ENTRY BY PLANE TO U. S.

PAYS $600.

Situation Reported to President Hoover Brings Probe Into Case.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 24.—(CP)—A fine of $600 imposed on Major General J. H. MacBrien, President of the Aviation Association of Canada, for alleged failure to report his arrival in the United States by aeroplane, is to be the subject of an investigation by President Hoover's office.

This was made known yesterday in a letter from George Akerson, Secretary to President Hoover. Major General MacBrien flew from Ottawa to Chicago thence to St. Paul after notifying the former city customs officials, by wire of his intended arrival. Because Chicago has not been designated as an official port of entry, no customs agent recorded his arrival.

Made Second Effort

After reaching St. Paul, General MacBrien said he made another effort to report his entry but local representatives of an airways company said they could not find a customs agent. The next day, however, customs agents took General MacBrien into the Customs Department where the fine was imposed.

Major General MacBrien paid his fine. James C. Kelly, a friend of General MacBrien and a resident of St. Paul then wrote a letter of protest to President Hoover. The reply from Mr. Akerson said an investigation of the action of the customs agent would be made with a view to mitigation of the penalty.

Greater Peterboro

Hon. R. B. Bennett has failed to face the issue and lost an opportunity to lead his followers in support of the British Preference.

Leading Conservatives refuse to support his policy of unemployment, which he extols from the Atlantic to the Pacific, as a great issue in this election. BENNETT MADE A BLUNDER. Never before in the history of this great Dominion has such a spectacle been presented by the Leader of a great party, who tries to lead his followers in all the lanes and side lanes throughout the country to avoid meeting the REAL ISSUE ON THE MAIN ROAD OF TRADE AND COMMERCE.

The British Preference, the Dunning Budget and the Motherland.

A NATIONAL ISSUE

Why is Hon. Howard Ferguson and his Cabinet Ministers out speaking in support of R. B. Bennett and claiming unemployment the issue?

Do the electors of this riding believe such nonsense? They certainly do not.

WHAT IS THE REASON the head of the Ontario Government and his Cabinet Ministers are carrying on a campaign of all sorts of MISLEADING STATEMENTS? To cloud the issue?

THE REASON IS QUITE APPARENT

Simply to prevent the Conservative electors from voting for the REAL ISSUE—THE BRITISH PREFERENCE AND THE LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

J. J. DUFFUS

KING'S ATTITUDE INSULTS CANADA BENNETT SAYS

Charges Premier With Wrapping Himself in Assumed Mantle of Patriotism.

SEES GOV'T DEFEAT.

Tory Leader Resents Party Being Denounced as Disloyal.

(By Thomas Green C. P. Staff Writer)

OWEN SOUND, Ont., July 24.—The Dominion election campaign of Hon. R. B. Bennett draws toward a close. After traversing well over 12,000 miles he entered this morning on the third last day of the seventh and final week of his trans-Canada speaking itinerary, the Conservative Leader is scheduled for meetings at Chesley, Brantford and Newmarket.

Charging Premier King with wrapping himself in "an assumed mantle of patriotism, Mr. Bennett said the Prime Minister had taken this role on the eve of an election after having taken a "don't provoke" attitude on the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Bill of the United States and an advocacy in Parliament for an increase in the British Preference. "The people will stamp their disapproval of this Government in no uncertain way", he declared, and are waiting and straining at the leash for July 28th to record their disapproval."

Insult to Canadians

Again, he returned to the reported speech of the Prime Minister at Barrie on Saturday, "When a Prime Minister", Mr. Bennett exclaimed, "is clutching for power, beaten, defeated, gone and grasping out says 'I stand for Great Britain first' it is an insult to the Canadian people. The first duty of a Canadian statesman is Canada, a Canada within the Empire".

Strongly the Opposition Leader recorded his criticism of Premier King for daring to impugn the love of the Conservative Party for the British Empire while his follower Mr. Lacombe Laval, Two Mountains, Quebec, is denouncing "me as an Imperialist and an Englishman".

"The Conservative Party were the pioneers of Empire trade," Mr. Bennett declared in protesting vigorously against the statement of Mr. King that Conservatives are not loyal. He asserted that Premier King "looking around for support, seeking somewhere a straw to grasp for place and power and without conviction, without political principles, says he is now for Empire trade, he continued, was traditional. But, Mr. Bennett said, Empire trade could not be built up on "lobsided, Jug-handled" bargains. Empire trade, he proceeded, must be developed on mutual preferences between the contracting parts of the Empire. This view, expressed by himself at Winnipeg on June 9, Mr. Bennett said, had been confirmed on July 12 by internationally known bankers in the form of a resolution prepared by a former Liberal Chancellor of the Exchequer, now chairman of a leading British banking concern.

Wrong Work Evidence

The best evidence, Mr. Bennett asserted of the wrong work by "ill advised and one-sided bargains," was the New Zealand Treaty agreement. The Government had been forced to cancel the agreement, he declared, because of the destruction of Canada's dairy industry. "The Government laughed and scoffed at us when we told them on the floor of the House of Commons years ago what would happen to our dairy industry. Now, with our industry destroyed, they are going to cancel the agreement four years too late. But, the Conservative leader emphasized, "New Zealand is hurt and angry now and passing resolutions against buying goods from Canada."

This story and others uncovered by the police support indications it is said that Rumbold was murdered or at least overpowered elsewhere than on the road where he was found. He left Niagara Falls at 1.45 o'clock on Monday afternoon, and was seen at Hamilon about five o'clock; while the hour he met death has been set at about 11 o'clock by medical men.

The murder has served to focus attention on conditions alleged to to have existed on the highway in the Port Credit district for some months. Recently stories have been circulated of the invasion of United States "racqueteer" methods. Road house proprietors, it is said, have been threatened and told to leave large sums of money in certain places. One establishment was recently held up and robbed of $800 it became known to-day.

ROAD BUILDING HELD UP TO BUY VOTES SAYS KING

Claims Three Tory Gov'ts Trying to Influence Election Result.

SPEAKS IN CHESLEY.

Many Tories Failing to Back Leaders on Preference Premier States.

CHESLEY, Ont., July 24 (By Ray Brown, C.P. Staff Correspondent). —As the campaign draws nearer to its close Premier Mackenzie King's daily meetings increase in number. Yesterday the Prime Minister spoke at three different points in this part of Ontario. He gave short addresses at Palmerston and Hanover, and he was the chief speaker at a great evening meeting here.

Early this morning Mr. King left for Tilbury, where he will speak this afternoon, while in the evening he will give an address at Stratford. These are the scheduled meetings, but there is every possibility of others cropping up as the Prime Minister proceeds from place to place.

Last night's meeting was held in the open-air, and the crowd was estimated at 10,000 people.

The word "corruption" was used by the Prime Minister in describing the process which he claimed had been adopted by Conservative Governments in Ontario, New Brunswick, and Saskatchewan, of holding up expenditures on road construction until just before the election. He asserted that, while moneys for this construction had been voted long since, and in spite of unemployment in Ontario and Saskatchewan, the Governments had held up expenditure in order to influence the result of the election.

Time to Act.

He declared that the time had come for the people of Canada "to rise up and strike a blow at this kind of thing."

Mr. King also voiced the belief that hundreds of thousands of Conservatives in different parts of Canada were questioning the stand of their leaders with respect to Budget provisions for widening the British preference. They were saying, he declared, that they had thought the Conservative party stood for flag and Empire, but this did not appear to be the view of their leaders. In view of this he felt that many of these Conservatives would find themselves unable to support the stand taken by their leaders.

He believed, said Mr. King, that the women of Canada were behind the Government's gesture of friendship to Great Britain, Canada now had an opportunity to declare herself clearly and strongly in favor of developing Empire trade. If she did so, and the present Government was returned, her representatives could go to the Imperial Conference strong in the consciousness that the Dominion had spoken and that the voice of Canada was behind the proposals contained in the Budget.

other campaign in which he had taken an active part was last October when he was strongly attracted by the character of the Liberal candidate, Dr. A. Moir.

Urges Duffus Election.

"I have taken an interest in this election for the reasons that I am strongly in favor of the Dunning Budget; I am impressed by the splendid record of the King administration, and I am supporting the candidature of Mr. Duffus, a man who is above reproach in every way.

Mr. Duffus was born on the farm; he received his early training there; he understands the problems of the farmer and is in sympathy with the farming community. I cannot tell you how high is our appreciation of him in Peterborough. He has built up a business that is one of the most successful of its kind in Eastern Ontario. He has always shown that he is eager to serve the public, in the city council, the Chamber of Commerce and in other public organizations. His opponent, Mr. Peck, is a gentleman in every sense of the word, but as a candidate in this election we should not forget the fact that Mr. Peck has been twice elected to Parliament, but has been of little service because he was sitting on the wrong side of the House.

No Bennett Sweep.

Look over the political situation right now, and you will get clearly in your minds the opinion that if Mr. Peck is elected next Monday he will again be on the wrong side of the House. There is not the shadow of a doubt but that the Liberal administration will be returned to power. Mr. Bennett would like to believe that he will have a majority, but where can he get them. He certainly won't make any gains in British Columbia, and he may lose a seat there. Reviewers of the situation in the western provinces cannot see more than three possible gains for Mr. Bennett, if he gets that many. Quebec will not change much, and the Maritime Provinces have enjoyed such progress since the recommendation of the Duncan report were put into effect by Premier King that they are promising seven or eight gains for the Liberal party. And the newspaper opinions in Ontario talk of five to twenty Liberal gains.

Nowhere is there a sign of the sweep which Mr. Bennett must get if he is to be the next Prime Minister.

The riding of Peterborough has reached the time when it should elect a representative to the Government benches, a man who will get something done for the riding, and our friends of the Opposition admit that Mr. Duffus would make an energetic and industrious member. It may be a little selfish, but if we don't look out for ourselves in this riding, who will?

"I contend that a Government can only be as good as its individual representatives. If you review the qualifications of the two candidates you must concede that Mr. Duffus should be our representative."

Mr. McNabb declared that the Conservative appeal in this election had been extremely weak.

It had no policy to compare with the features of the Dunning Budget and the Liberal policy of expansion of trade within the Empire.

Thoughtful electors could see through the Bennett campaign, and they had no constructive alternative except to vote for the Liberal candidate, Mr. Duffus, as a representative who would assist in giving the Dunning Budget the fullest opportunity for success.

Mr. Duffus.

Mr. Duffus referred briefly to several of his public activities, particularly the Associated Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce of Ontario, the Tourists' Association of this province, and the Trent Waterways Association. As a result of the efforts of these organizations there had been a steady increase in the number of tourists coming into this district. The tourist traffic had become a very important industry. Agriculture and mercantile business directly benefited from the tourist traffic, which had also built up many hotels and summer resorts throughout this district.

Mr. Duffus said it gave him great satisfaction to observe the extent of the tourist traffic during recent years.

Speaking of the service which the member of Parliament could render to his constituency, Mr. Duffus pointed out that it was decidedly to the advantage of the riding to elect a member of the Government.

"While I have been able during the last four years to get a number of small things for the riding of Peterborough, you will appreciate the fact things of larger advantage to the community could be had if the member sat on the Government side of the House," Mr. Duffus said.

"The implication is that the King Government will be returned to power. I sincerely believe it will be because of the wonderful record of the King administration during the last eight years and also because many Conservatives have publicly declared that they cannot support Hon. R. B. Bennett, but that they will vote for the Liberal policies of the Dunning Budget."

Mr. Duffus read a letter from K. A. Mackenzie of Lakefield, informing the candidate of his intention to cast his first Liberal vote on July 28.

"Another evidence of the weakness of Mr. Bennett is the absence of prominent Conservatives from his platforms. Where is Sir Robert Borden at this time? Where are the Hon. Arthur Meighen and Sir Thomas White, men who have been regarded as outstanding members of the Conservative Party in Canada? The heads of industry and finance, who always took a prominent part in Federal elections, are not with Mr. Bennett because they are not in accord with his policies. They believe that the Dunning Budget offers the only solution of the trade and fiscal problems of Canada and also of the British Empire. Public men and private citizens realise that increasing and enduring prosperity is assured by that unity and larger trade within the Empire which the Dunning Budget has already inspired."

Mr. P. P. Young was chairman of the meeting.

AT HALL'S BRIDGE.

Mr. Duffus also spoke at Hall's Bridge, where he was assisted by Mr. Vincent Eastwood and Dr. J. J. Craig, president of the Peterborough Liberal Association.

"Dull, sallow, muddy-looking skin?

you are using the wrong soap"

warns ECHTEN of BUDAPEST
Beauty Specialist of renown

"You should wash the face twice a day with Palmolive Soap and water."

Echten ferenczy

ANDRASSY, UT 28, BUDAPEST

The valuable cosmetic oils in Palmolive Soap protect the skin against the constant use of make-up and the countless abuses of modern life. It is nature's safeguard . . . a beauty recipe perfected after more than 120 years of soap study.

Echten—beauty adviser at the Royal Opera

Francis Echten and his son, Francis, Junior, attend the famous opera stars of Budapest daily. They have, likewise, a social clientele that is more than distinguished. Yet the complexion treatment for home use is the same simple, easily carried out treatment advised by more than 23,720 other beauticians all over the world.

No soap ever had such universal professional endorsement. No beauty treatment was ever so popular as the Palmolive treatment. Millions of lovely women owe their freshness of complexion to this vegetable oil soap. They consult their beauty experts regularly, of course. But they do not fail—at the same time—to follow the advice given by those experts.

What these cosmetic oils do

The skin must be conditioned to meet weather, make-up, all sorts of abuses of daily modern life. The vegetable oils of palm and olives make a lather which is safe, gentle, effective.

Once you use it, you'll appreciate the enthusiasm of the world's great beauty experts. You'll see why they warn against the use of ordinary soaps . . . why they regard Palmolive as the best protection against a dull, sallow, muddy-looking skin.

"IF the skin is kept really clean," Echten, of Budapest, advises, "it cannot help but look fresh, vivid and lovely. But only too often you abuse the skin by using the wrong kind of soap, or using no soap whatever. The pores become clogged with impurities and the skin is blocked by dust absorbed from the air. What is the result?

"All sorts of skin irritations, a sallowness, a muddiness that seems to be proof against even your expert beauty specialist's treatment. There is just one thing to do and that depends upon you. The remedy is so simple, yet it must be a part of your daily routine. You should wash the face twice a day with Palmolive Soap and warm water, then rinse with cold. The result — a fresh, smooth skin — will delight you, I know, because Palmolive is made of pure vegetable oils—the best beautifiers known to beauty science."

LIBERAL POLICY IS SCORED AT HASTINGS RALLY

Old Age Pensions and New Zealand Butter Treaty Again Discussed.

SEVERAL SPEAKERS.

"Sandy" Macdonald Pays Tribute to Conservative Candidate For Riding

HASTINGS, July 24 (Examiner Correspondence).—There was a large turnout on Wednesday for the Conservative meeting in the Town Hall in the interests of M. E. Maybee.

Dr. J. H. Hess was chairman, and in calling the meeting to order he expressed his pleasure at seeing so many ladies present. The chairman before calling on the first speaker, Major Belford, said he would not take up any time.

On rising to speak, Major Belford received a great ovation. In opening his address the Major said it was always with great pleasure that he addressed any meeting in Hastings, no matter what the cause was. "The circumstances for the last few years and conditions of the country in general warranted a change in Government in the speaker's estimation. The farmers of the Dominion of Canada were not getting the protection they deserved from the King Government. The New Zealand farmer, whose cow can graze out in the open for twelve months in the year, and who can have 100 cows to 100 acres compared to about 10 cows to the 100 acres in this country, is shipping his butter into this country. The speaker pointed out to the farmers how the Government of New Zealand paid a bonus of six cents a pound to their farmers for each pound of butter they exported. This would allow the farmers to make a reduction of five cents a pound on their butter and still be able to make an extra cent a pound. The cold storage plants in the Dominion were full of butter which it would take months to get rid of.

This alone, in the speaker's mind, was enough to make the farmers feel the want of a change in government, so that when you drive along the highways of Ontario, they won't be dotted here and there with vacant farms and poorly kept up buildings. He asked the farmers to compare the value of their farms in 1922, and now and they would see for themselves that they would not get half the price. The King Government had neglected the farmers beyond any imagination.

Lean Toward U. S.

Mr. King's trade arguments all have a leaning for the United States and if he was returned to power and things kept on going the way they are now, that Canada would land where he was during the war.

When Mr. King came back from the last conference with his ministers, secretaries, with the big cry "We have made Canada a nation." It was not Mr. King who made the nation; it was your forefathers and the generations that have followed since.

The King Government established its own Ambassadors, sending Vincent Massey to Washington, where it cost $500,000 to establish him, and he hasn't been worth the interest on a $10.00 bill where he was there.

Speaks on Tariff

The tariff was the speaker's next subject; in looking over the schedule he pointed out some of the things which are admitted free, such as agricultural implements, something which Great Britain does not manufacture and for which Canada does not import; washing machines which seven have been imported in the last few years; vegetables, hay and straw, and so on all along; something for which the people do not import. Mr. Bennett's platform, he pointed out, was to get from England on a free trade basis was linens and such things that are not manufactured in Canada and cannot, and in return to ship to Great Britain agricultural products. The main thing was to look after the home market first and then the foreign markets. "Buy in Canada" everything possible; this would relieve the unemployment and there would not be the men tramping up and down the highways looking for work, or would there be the bread lines in the large cities that there are at the present time. There must be a drastic change or there will be a serious time next December. Mr. King's plan to relieve unemployment is to hold a conference and sit around in overstuffed chairs to agree and disagree; a fine thing for the man with an empty stomach. Mr. Bennett's plan was to immediately vote money for the deep waterway and the national highway, which would give men employment who wanted it.

In his appeal to the ladies, Major Belford said it was with great pleasure that he addressed the ladies of Hastings, as they were the finest in the county. It was up to them to get out and work for the Conservatives, as they were the ones who had to economize. His last advice to the farmers was on Monday, July 28, when the returning officer handed them their ballot, to go into the booth, put their ballot down and then put their last milk cheque beside it and let Nature takes its course.

M. E. Maybee Speaks.

M. E. Maybee, the candidate, was the next speaker called.

Mr. Maybee explained that at the nomination meeting in Warkworth conditions could not be discussed as they should have been. In dealing with the activities of the King Government, he quoted figures to show that Canada had bought considerably more than she had sold, by which no business can prosper by. It was up to the industries and agriculture to co-operate. In touching on the New Zealand butter question the speaker said it was not the New Zealand Government that were paying the bonus but the Canadian consumer. The Canadian National Railway was showing a large deficit. Why, because the elevators in the West were full of wheat and nothing moving. Had the King Government gone to Britain and made an argument whereby they would get such commodities into this country that were needed here and in return they take Canadian wheat, the wheat would be moving in Canada to-day.

Young men and women were going over to the States and living, engaged in making goods there which are shipped into Canada which could be made here. All the free arrangements have been made in regards to the buying and nothing done for the selling.

In touching on the old age pension Mr. Maybee said that the story was going that if R. B. Bennett was elected to power he would cut the old age pension off. This he said was not Bennett's platform, it was to make it a Federal act and the Dominion Government pay the whole thing.

He had been accused of voting for New Zealand Treaty for which it was impossible for him to do as it did not come up in the House of Commons. In closing he made a strong appeal to the voters to support Bennett and the Conservative cause.

Tom Brown "Living" Court Motion Says

White Legatees Seek Ex-Mayor's "Removal" From Executorship.

TORONTO, July 24 (Special to The Examiner, Copyright 1930). — Tom Brown, the man who is alleged to have departed from Stratford with more than $200,000 in public funds, is apparently not legally dead in Ontario. In a notice of motion filed at Osgoode Hall, petitioning the removal of the absconding ex-Mayor of Stratford as sole executor of the estate of the late Fred B. White, Brown is spoken of as though he were still "in the land of the living" in whereabouts unknown.

The order is sought "on the ground that the said Tom Brown is an unfit person to have charge of the said estate and on the ground that he has been absent from his usual place of business since January 1, 1930, and is of unknown address."

The petitioners, eleven members of the deceased's family connection, ask that two brothers, Charles White and Walter Adamson White, be appointed executors instead. Consent of eighteen relatives has been obtained.

The late Mr. White was a farmer of Downie Township, Perth County. He died on August 31, leaving an estate valued at $7,400.

During the time Brown had control of the assets, a filed affidavit declares, these were largely dissipated, and a thorough search of his files now shows the only remaining asset is a mortgage from David M. White.

Among a recent charity street collection in Aberdeen, Scotland, were 800 foreign coins, more than 200 washers, 34 buttons and many street-car tokens, nails and safety pins.

ENDS PILES QUICK

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel. Cutting and external remedies can't do this—an internal medicine must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, a specialist, succeeds, because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere, and has such a wonderful record of success right in this city that McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store, says to every Pile sufferer, try HEM-ROID at my risk. It must end all Pile agony or you get your money back.

The Sunday Schools of St. Thomas' Anglican church, and Grace Presbyterian church, held successful picnic outings at Victoria Park, Cobourg, last Thursday, trucks and cars conveying the picnicers to and from the lakeside grounds.

Bathing, swings, ball games, and races filled out the sports' program in each instance, the teachers and officers looking after the setting of the tables, and the service of the abundant supper at the tea hour.

Quite a number remained for the band concert in the evening, and the perfect weather was an important feature in making the outing the decided success, and as enjoyable from every angle, as it turned out to be. It was quite by accident that both Schools chose the same day and picnic grounds for their annual out of doors gathering.

SPAIN SETS NEW TARIFF SCHEDULE

Move Made to Stabilize Spanish Currency—U. S. Hit Hard.

BRITAIN SUFFERS.

MADRID, Spain, July 23 (C.P.)—The Government to-day published a new tariff schedule which increases the duties on numerous United States imports, principally automobiles, sewing machines, bicycles, motorcycles, pneumatic tires, razor blades, silk and hams.

The increase was announced as a move to stabilize Spanish currency and not in any way a reprisal against the increased United States tariff.

Increases in tariff on bicycles were about doubled, chiefly hitting Great Britain, France and Germany.

DELLA WILKS ALMOST EQUALS TRACK RECORD

to mind in the least the fact that they were racing at night—breaking the union law so to speak. Every race was a race. This fact was emphasized when Art Blade announced that the first heat in the 2:17 class was just two seconds below the track record. The record, 2.09½, was set up on May 24, 1928, when Jack Abbey raced Leximore, and H. Hunter's black mare, Della Wilkes, nearly equalled it last night when she tore twice around the track in just 2.11½. Every heat was fast and there were plenty of close, driving finishes.

Do Not Perform Well

Local horses did not perform well in the faster classes. Eddie Jones' Lou Gratton was the only Peterborough horse to get into the money in the 2.17 class, nabbing fourth purse. Keenedale had a bad night and was something of a disappointment to her local followers. Although she secured the pole position, she never could get started and was always left.

However, in the 2.29 class the local horses broke strongly into the win column. Lena Direct, W. Elmhurst's black mare, took two firsts and his Caucus Star secured second place. Caucus Star won the first heat and was nicely out in front in the second when her driver, Jack Donnelly, ran her into the fence. Donnelly was ruled off the track for a year for his bad driving by the judges.

It's a safe bet that there were more stop watches in the park last night than on any other occasion when horses ran here. Old horsemen were there in legion and each gripped his own stop-timepiece as he clocked the horses under the wire. Perhaps what added to the feverish manner in which the "boys" followed the stampede around the track was that "books" were being run on the races. Mayhap money was won and lost, which all add interest.

MONEY COULDN'T DO WHAT ALL-BRAN DID

I found that ALL-BRAN was the aid nature needed to relieve my trouble

This startling letter from an ex-service man will interest everyone who suffers from constipation:

"I was discharged after the World War with heart trouble and bad stomach. I had saved about $1,500. Since then I've spent that sum and a lot more on doctoring and operations and medicines. I always was bothered with constipation.

"I told my wife to get some kind of light breakfast food and I would try it. She came home with a small package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I ate it for breakfast, lunch and dinner, about a common tea-saucer full with milk at each meal. I have been doing this for a month. I have stopped taking dope (medicines). I work 9 to 12 hours. I have a good appetite. And now I am gaining flesh and believe I am getting well." —George C. O'Connell (address on request).

Cleanse your system of constipation's poisons. Thousands have regained their old-time vigor and vim, stopped constipation forever, by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Relief is guaranteed. ALL-BRAN is 100% bran. 100% effective—doctors recommend it. Ready-to-serve with milk or cream. Use in cooking. See the recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Sold by all grocers. Served in leading hotels and restaurants—dining cars.

PUPILS HONOR SCHOOL TEACHER

Miss Victoria Robinson, Popular Teacher at S. S. No. 11, Smith, for Past 4 Years.

PRESENTATION MADE

Miss Victoria Robinson, who has been the popular teacher at S.S. No 11, Smith, for the past four years, was presented with an ivory clock by her pupils at the end of the school term, before her departure from the community.

Edna Robinson read the following appropriate address while Burritt Harrison made the presentation:

Dear Miss Robinson,—We have learned with sincere regret of your intention to leave us shortly. During the past four years we have all become greatly attached to you and we cannot help feeling that you really belong to us and it is very difficult to sever our mutual ties with you.

You have always set an example for what is right, pure and uplifting, and we feel that you have taken an interest, not only in the school, but in the whole community. It is due to you that we are all proud of our school, its garden and grounds.

We realize that our loss will be your gain and while we regret your departure we wish that you may be as well beloved in your new sphere of action as you have been in this. "New friends are like silver, but old friends are like gold."

We, your pupils, could not allow this opportunity to pass without showing you in some way our appreciation of your many kindnesses toward us in the past and we would therefore ask you to accept this ivory clock as a token of the esteem in which you are held by us.

We would not ask you to accept it on account of its intrinsic value, but on account of the spirit that prompted us to give it.

Signed on behalf of the school—Edna Robinson, Burritt Harrison, Marjorie Mahood and Clarence Tully.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SUMMER HEAD COLDS.

One of the little symptoms often hard to understand is why you seem always to have an irritable throat with considerable discharge of a mucous nature. Sometimes it seems almost as if it contained yellow pus.

This has been found in many cases to be due to an inflammation of the lining of the little sinus or cavern in the upper jaw bone.

The flue epidemic left a great number of these cases and they seem to persist until the arrival of hot dry weather which dries them up for the time being.

About twenty years ago it was found that occasionally an infected tooth was causing this trouble, and by removing the tooth the sinus was sometimes drained through the opening made by the extracted tooth.

That this was really a frequent cause was however not suspected until recently.

Dr. G. Berry, Worcester, Mass., after studying several cases tells us that there is a relationship between this sinus trouble-sinusitis-and infected teeth in 60 per cent of all cases.

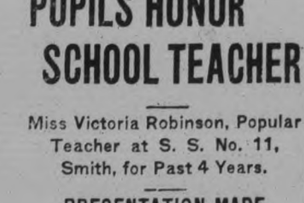
Unfortunately the teeth are not often suspected and the patient simply uses nose sprays such as camphor or menthol, or perhaps boracic acid or salt solutions with great regularity.

Now these are of help in easing irritation of the nose passeges but you can see that they are not going to be of much help where there is such an underlying condition as an infected tooth.

The tooth may go right up under the floor of sinus, or antrum as it is called, or penetrate right into the cavity of the antrum. Thus the pus and discharge and irritation from that tooth can all take place in the antrum, inflaming its walls and by keeping up a constant discharge which comes down into the nose and throat, makes the individual naturally think that he is suffering with a continuous cold.

Now when you remember that the organisms of this sinus discharge may find their way up the little tube running from back of throat to middle ear, you can see why much deafness, and that dangerous condition known as mastoiditis can develop therefrom.

And when you remember further that more than half of this antrum trouble is thought to start from infected teeth, it would certainly seem like good sense to have an X-ray made of the teeth where there is a persistent discharge from nose and throat.



OUR CHILDREN

By Angelo Patri

ANGRY CHILDREN.

Even very young children show anger. If a baby has anger spells look well to his diet. Even though you are following the doctor's directions faithfully, consult him about these spells. He may be able to discover the cause.

Some babies are angry because they are given a bath. Fear, perhaps brought on that anger. Deal gently with the child. Speak to him gently. Bathe him carefully so as not to hurt him. But go through with the process to the end. If he discovers that anger will check you you will be checked every time he feels like exercising his power.

If there are any tight bands on a child he is likely to be angry and fight. Loosen all bands, make certain that no part of his clothing is pulling on him. If he feels any restraining force anywhere on his body he is likely to get into a rage about it. We avoid the cause of anger whenever possible.

That means of course, that nobody in his senses teases a baby. If you hold something before a baby and he reaches for it, give it to him. If you offer it and then pull it out of his reach just to see him rage, then you are cruel, you are not being even sensible. Anger is not good for a baby's nervous system. Rages and tantrums are emotional stresses and they are likely, if repeated, to form a pattern of conduct very undesirable.

That is not to say that a baby is to have everything he reaches for. That is quite out of the question. But nobody is to offer him anything only to snatch it away. Often this brings on a tantrum, and in some cases, the child holds his breath until he is blue in the face. That called for loose clothes,and a face washing. Cool water on the face and hands will check that. But why bring it on if being careful will prevent it.

Some children find it harder to con control their tempers than other children do. Again we are careful to avoid the occasion. Each exhibition of temper makes the next one easier. Each successful attempt at control helps the next one succeed the sooner.

It is wise to keep silent when a child past babyhood gets into a passion, quietly take him away from the scene and wash his face and hands, doing your best to change his thought. It is no time to scold or punish. Quiet attention is what he requires. After the mood changes you can do your talking.

For the older children, no talking either. If a gesture will send them away to seek the soothing comforts of warm water and privacy, very good. If not, then lead the child away. Never meet anger by anger. Calm manners, gentle speech, a quiet hour, and then, instruction.

But begin with the baby and avoid the occasion as far as you can. Have the tempest tossed child under the care of a good child specialist. And never tease him. Temper is not funny. It is dangerous.

A Trip Saved

A recent telephone call to Winnipeg saved a trip. An Ontario merchant was about to leave for the West when he learned, by telephone, that two western associates were coming East in a week's time. Of course, one must travel, but the telephone makes one's trip both timely and effective. Reduced evening rates on "anyone" calls now begin at 7 p.m.—still lower night rates at 8.30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Carley of Toronto spent the week-end the guests of Miss Cora Braithwaite.

BAILIEBORO.

A large number attended the service at the United Church on Sunday evening.

Rev. W. Lovelace, who is camping at Rice Lake, was in charge of the service, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. E. F. Swayne, who is taking his holidays.

Mr. Lovelace took his text from St. Matthew, xxii., 21, where the Pharisees were trying to entangle Christ in His talk, "Render therefore unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's." He likened Caesar unto ourselves, and explained how too often we spend too much on ourselves and do not render unto God that which is His.

The services next Sunday will be taken by Rev. Nichol of Toronto.

Early rising, plenty of exercise, moderation in eating and drinking, and a contented mind are the secrets of how to keep young, as given by British Field-Marshal Lord Metheun, who is 85 years old this year.

After an engagement lasting 43 years a man aged 82 and a woman of 80 were married recently at Leon, Spain.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

JUST recently I was speaking to a lady who told me what a terrible time she had with shoes. It seemed that she had to buy footwear about twice a month and then it didn't look as neat as it should.

She realizes that pleasing results are as dependent upon hosiery as on shoes. There are several ways in which both can be made to do their best duty, and which prove economical also, without any sacrifice of time or energy.

The old idea of house shoes and walking boots has passed by!

To-day the same sort of footwear is worn indoors and out. Slippers and low shoes of all sorts are worn on the streets. The one exception to this is found in bedroom slippers, the pliable, heelless kind, or the smart high-heeled mules.

It rests with the woman, therefore, to decide which pair of her regular shoes she will wear about the house, and, more especially, what to wear in the mornings.

I know a lady who simply cannot wear low-heeled shoes to do her housework. She has a comfortable pair of high-heeled shoes which she wears in the mornings and which she says she cannot do without.

The thrifty plan is the old one. Wear comfortable old shoes about the house in the mornings, but never wear shoes that are "down at the heel."

There is a suggestion of slovenliness about the latter which has come to signify despair and destitution. This is fortunate, for shoes that have worn-down heels throw the body out of correct poise and are injurious to the health.

A person is less apt to use shoes with uneven heels because of the implication just mentioned and therefore one menace to health is lessened.

In the afternoons, shoes that go with the frock should be put on, or, if this is not imperative, wear a second best pair. Save the best for special occasions, and for street wear.

This same idea is recommended for hosiery.

The poorest usable pairs can be kept well darned, and, though the darns may show, the stockings can be worn in the mornings when the woman is busy about her housework.

Of course, if the person is a business woman, she must have just as good-looking hosiery in the morning as in the afternoon. The ones with darns that show can be put on when she is in negligee.

It is restful to change one's footwear, and the old stockings can be made to serve her well in this manner.

Keep the different grades of stockings in different compartments of a stocking drawer, or in different boxes. One woman I know puts her best stockings in one box, the darned ones in another, and so on.

Thus she knows just where each is and no time is lost in sorting over a lot of stockings, when in a hurry.

ALLAN FAMILY LEAVES ON TOUR

Rev. William Allan Will Motor as Far South as Charlotte, North Carolina.

ON SIX WEEKS' HOLIDAY.

The Rev. William Allan, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, who left the city this morning for a six weeks' holiday, will motor as far south as Charlotte, North Carolina, where he is to preach a week from Sunday.

Mr. Allan and his family have spent several summers touring Eastern Canada and the U.S. This year the tour will embrace the Adirondacks, the Lackawanna Trail, the Susquehanna of Pennsylvania, historic Maryland, the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, the Bald Mountains of Tennessee, the Blue Grass Country, and "the Land of the Sky" about Asheville, North Carolina.

Returning northward, the party will proceed via Raleigh, N.C., Norfolk and Richmond, Va., and Washington, D.C. Mr. Allan expects to make a side trip into South Carolina, possibly to Greenville and Camden, cotton centres of the Palmetto State.

Following this tour, the party will spend a few days at the summer home of Mrs. C. F. MacLean at Rye, New York, on Long Island Sound. Subsequently Mr. Allan will be at Stony Brook, Long Island, for the summer religious conference, in which he has participated annually since 1916, and which he addresses daily this year.

Accompanying the Rev. Mr. Allan on this trip are Mrs. Allan and their son Arnold. They expect to return about September 5.

SOCKLESS BILL MORRISON

MR. PECK has produced the most nondescript outfit of discredited platform performers ever seen in Peterborough.

MR. PECK brought H. G. Fester, the discredited and repudicated Labor imposter, to insult and affront the working men and women of Peterborough.

MR. PECK brought sockless Bill Morrison here to produce his socks before the audience and play a clown's part, until the crowd yelled in derision.

MR. PECK has neglected so many pension cases for ex-service men and widows that they have practically all given him the go-bye, although he has nothing to do in Ottawa except to present their claims.

MR. PECK has no right to subject this growing City to four years more of shivering impotence.

PAVING STARTS ON LINDSAY ROAD

Jupp Construction Company is Awarded Contract to Fowler's Corners.

TWO DETOURS EXIST.

A contract to pave the six-mile stretch of road between the Chemong turn and Fowler's Corners on the Lindsay highway has been let to the Jupp Construction Company which has completed work on the paving between Hillhead and Dancy's Hill. Machinery was moved to the scene of the new job and work begun this week.

With dry weather it is estimated that the new job will be completed within three or four weeks' time. Dancy's Hill has been made the base of operations although some long-distance hauling of concrete will be necessary.

Two detours now exist on the Lindsay highway. Traffic is still being directed around the new pavement between Dancy's Hill and Hillhead but this stretch will be opened to traffic shortly. The detour around the new job from Peterborough is out the Jackson Park road, second line Smith and by Best's Station.

When the year's paving is finished, however, there will be only a small portion of the highway between Peterborough and Lindsay with gravel surface remaining. Oil has been used on the part between Dancy's Hill and Omemee to lay the dust.

MONTREAL, Que., July 24. — (C. P.— Speaking particularly to the voters of Quebec East, where Hon. "If your great Laurier could return to the scene," exclaimed Senator Lemieux, "if he could be here with his golden voice in Quebec East, he would say that King and Lapointe, those two champions of Canadian tradition in their relations with the Mother country, had earned the approbation of their country."

There's Nothing That Is Indefinite About This

Lesser lights of the Liberal party take the platform night after night and glibly tell their audiences that Mr. Bennett has nothing definite to offer.

Well here are some of the things the Conservative leader has promised. We give them in his own words.

EMIGRATION TO UNITED STATES—"There are some things a government may not and cannot do, there are some things over which a government has no control, but there are other matters that profoundly affect the life of a nation which a government should and must do, and their failure to do it constitutes neglect on their part of the interests of the country they govern . . . The charge I prefer against the King Government is that they failed to recognize and realize that the first duty of the Canadian Government is to provide employment for Canadians in Canada."

UNEMPLOYMENT—"Why is it? The reason is that, instead of making here what we could make in this country by utilizing Canadian energy, brains and money, we have sent out capital abroad to buy goods from other countries and give employment accordingly . . . What will we do? Just as certainly as I stand here, if we are returned to power on the night of July 28, we propose at the first session of Parliament to amend the fiscal laws so as to give Canadians an equal opportunity in the development of their country under fair competition with their competitors elsewhere in the world. My business the business of those with whom I may be associated is to see that Canadians are my first consideration."

U. S. TARIFF LEGISLATION—"We are not concerned about legislation against any other country, but about legislation for one country, and that country is Canada. We of our party will see to it that no country makes the Canadian tariff except Canada."

BRITISH PREFERENCE—"Let us admit the statements of Mr. King and of Mr. Dunning, that the preference will make Britain more prosperous, and of greater purchasing power. But did Mr. King or Mr. Dunning make any provision to insure that Britain would spend the money in Canada?"

OLD AGE PENSIONS—"We say that if the Federal Government can provide one-half of the old age pensions, it can provide the whole without wrecking the constitution."

RAILROAD POLICY—"It has been said locally that, if the Conservatives come into power, there would be amalgamation of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway . . . Amalgamation never; competition ever."

IMPERIALISM—"I, like yourselves, am proud of this country as part of the British Empire, because that Empire respects and protects the rights of minorities, their tongue, their religion, their traditions. But my first duty is to that part of the Empire which is called Canada."

CONSERVATIVE POLICY—"To safeguard Canadian agriculture, Canadian industry, Canadian labor, Canadian health, and to safeguard the Canadian consumer against exploitation."

ISSUE OF JULY 28—"Are we to give a renewed mandate to a Government to increase the money to be sent abroad to buy products which we require for our own support and sustenance, or shall we, by developing Canadian industry and agriculture, offer the opportunity to Canadian farmers and Canadian workmen in Canada to find that employment which is necessary for the development of this country?"

THERE IS NOTHING INDEFINITE ABOUT THAT. IT IS A CLEAR, OUTSPOKEN, SPECIFIC PRONOUNCEMENT UPON EVERY ISSUE AND PROBLEM OF THE DAY; SOMETHING THAT ALL CAN UNDERSTAND.

Monster "Sea Flea" Racing Meet at Clear Lake

FIFTY DRIVERS EXPECTED TO TAKE PART IN COMPETITIONS

Racing Meet is Being Staged Under Auspices of Canada Power Boat Association.

SEVERAL TROPHIES.

Frank James, World's Amateur Champion, is Billed to Participate in Events.

The largest official outboard motor boat meet ever held in Canada will be staged at South Beach, Clear Lake, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday of this week by the National Yacht Club.

Fifty drivers, many of whom are known throughout America for their prowess as sea flea pilots, will skim their craft at break-neck speed over the waters of the expansive but placid lake, and for two days the many-pitched roars and hums of powerful high-speed outboard motors will resound through the district. One-mile, five-mile and ten-mile trials and a grand open free-for-all are scheduled.

Almost every official in the Canadian sea flea world worth mentioning will be on hand. The entire executive of the National Yacht Club will be there to officiate. All members of the executive of the Canada Power Boat Association, under whose sanction the meet is to be held, will journey to the scene of the races, and the whole executive of the Canadian Outboard Motor Boat Drivers' Association is scheduled to attend.

The meet will be absolutely an amateur affair, all drivers being required to qualify for Division 1 or Division 2 sea flea racing. To qualify for Division 1 a pilot must be amateur and with not more than 15 races behind him. Amateur pilots who have raced more than 15 races may qualify for Division 2.

Official Recognition

All times made in the competitions will be recorded and any speed records made will be granted official recognition by the Canada Power Boat Association. Mile records will be recognized in 5-mile and 10-mile trials.

The schedules include races for all classes except Class E motors. Friday will be devoted to mile trials in Classes A, B, C, and D, Divisions 1 and 2. On Saturday the 5-mile trials and the 10-mile trials will be run, all classes, Divisions 1 and 2. At 8.20 p.m. Sunday evening the grand 10-mile free-for-all will be run for the Ellis Trophy.

James to Take Part

Frank James, world's amateur champion sea flea driver, winner of the C Class in the Albany-New York Marathon, is billed to match his skill at the meet. Others will be Harold Ballard, who ran second in B Class in the Albany-New York event; "Young" J. R. Ardiel, Windsor; Art Heaven, Oakville; Bill Butler, Guelph; R. E. Matthews, Toronto; Red Foster, Toronto.

Among the trophies which will be at stake in the various events are the Champlain Trophy, won last year by Charlie Turnbull in his "I'm Alone"; the Kawartha Trophy, held by "Young" J. R. Ardiel; the Brule B Class Trophy, held by Ardiel; the Clear Lake Trophy, A Class, held by Bob Carter. New trophies this year are the Peterborough Trophy for stock runabouts, open; the Ellis Trophy; the Huron Trophy, and the Iroquois Trophy.

Lorne Ardiel of Oshawa, president of the Canada Power Boat Association, in conversation with The Examiner, stated that Clear Lake had been chosen for the great meet because of its natural qualifications and also because Clear Lake boasts the only official water race course in Canada. The course, which is two and one-half miles in length, was chained out on the ice by C.P.B.A. officials last winter. It faces directly on South Beach, with one of its five sides parallelling the shore.

A natural grandstand to permit a comfortable view of the entire course for thousands of people is provided by the gentle slope of the shady shore at South Beach. The program:

LONDON, Ont., July 24.—James H. McDougall's London Rowing Club rink captured the Free Press Trophy and the Western Ontario Bowling Association championship by defeating Archie McLaren's London Canadian National Railways' rink by the score of 30-10 before a large gallery at the London Rowing Club greens yesterday afternoon. It was the second consecutive year McDougall's rink won the title, and in doing so the Londoners accomplished a feat never before performed since the Free Press Trophy was donated nine years ago.

ORIOLES CUT DOWN ROCHESTER'S LEAD

KING OF GOLF

It's almost unanimous now that Bobby Jones, of Atlanta, Ga., is the greatest golfer the world has ever known. Jones is without a doubt a master of finesse, a stylist, and withal a remarkable all-around player. All clubs look alike to him, even if he does favor the wood and the putter. When he galloped off with the British open this year and the amateur tournament, he equalled a record established by John Ball of 40 years ago. "Emperor" Jones has now won the British open three times and the British amateur once and the United States open four times and the amateur title three times. In the recent United States open four times and the amateur title three times. In the recent United States open he entered the final 36 holes trailing Horton Smith by two strokes, but he shot a sensational 68 and then a 75 to lead the runner-up, veteran Macdonald Smith, by 287 to 289 at the finish. Jones ran into a lot of trouble in the last 18 holes, while the persistent Macdonald Smith turned in a 70 and was right in the running until Jones produced his famous "Calamity Jane" and right smartly sank a 40-foot putt on the last green. No other man has ever won two British titles and one American championship in one year. Not only that but he intends to enter the United States amateur tourney in September. Unless something goes amiss it certainly seems likely that he will accomplish a record that is not likely to be touched in a long time, if ever.

BIRDS WIN TWIN BILL OVER KEYS

Double Victory Places Orioles Within Three Games of Pace Setting Wings.

SKEETERS BEAT BEARS.

Slowly cutting down the advantage held by the Rochester Red Wings, Baltimore yesterday clipped another game and a half off the champions' lead.

A double victory over the Reading Keys placed the Orioles within three games of the pace-setting Red Wings, who lost their night game to Buffalo, in taking the opening contest 4 to 2 and the night cap 9 to 0, Baltimore ran its consecutive triumphs over the Kays to thirteen.

Lou Koupal bested Nelson Green in a hurlers' duel in the first game, but Stewart Bolen had all the best of the argument in the final contest, holding the Keys to three hits..

Joe Hauser, who is after some sort of a minor league home run record, sent two more balls sailing over the fence, one in each game, to bring his years' total to 37. Johnny Gill, playing only in the second game, also hit two homers for Baltimore to increase his total to 21.

Jersey City was outhit 9 to 7, but managed to defeat Newark 4 to 2 in the first of a four-game series. Jim Faulkner handed out five bases on balls, which with the Skeeters' ability to bunch their hits behind base runners, gave them the victory. The two teams play at Newark to-morrow afternoon and then jump to Jersey City to play the first night game on the Skeeters' home field.

Peiping, China, is making a bid for tourist trade.

O'Doul Closing In On Circuit Leader

After one day of clear leadership, "Chuck" Klein found yesterday that it is not so easy to be first. "Chuck" poled out five hits in the Phillies' prolonged doubleheader, but he went to bat twelve times, and his average remained stationary, while Frank O'Doul moved up again to gain a practical tie for the leadership in the National League and the Big Six batting list. Only the smallest fraction of a percentage point separated them after O'Doul had clouted four hits in eight times up to gain three points. Al Simmons registered another gain, adding one more point with two hits out of four attempts, while Riggs Stephenson, appearing again only as a pinch hitter without a hit, dropped two points. He remained in fourth place ahead of Lou Gehrig, because the Yankee also dropped a point with one hit in four times up. Babe Ruth hit twice in five times at bat and held his mark at .366.

GIANTS DOWN CUBS.

Whoever it was that said "youth must prevail" probably would be inclined to retract that statement if he should look at the major league box scores these days. The ancients of the pitching brigade have done just about as much prevailing as the youngsters and often in a more convincing manner.

Five moundsmen whose combined ages total approximately 200 years, were sent out to toil yesterday and while only one pitched a complete game, nearly all of them turned in good pitching performances. Adolfo Luque, Cuba's leading baseball hero, age 39, did a great job as he made first place in the National League safe for the Brooklyn Robins. Luque held the St. Louis Cardinals to five hits through a trying duel with Sylvester Johnson, while Brooklyn slowly gathered enough momentum to win 4 to 1. Most of the time Luque had only a one run lead and it was not until the Cards had tied the count in the seventh that the Robins started hitting.

The Robins' gain was made possible by their neighbors, the New York Giants, who downed the Chicago Cubs 8 to 6, to put Brooklyn a full game plus a few odd points in the lead.

three straight defeats and pulled out a 10 to 9 victory over the St. Louis Browns in eleven innings. Two home runs by Cronin, the second of which tied the score in the ninth, featured the Senator victory.

Another youngster of 39 years, Eppa Rixey, was given the task of trying to put the Cincinnati Reds into sixth place in the National League ahead of the Boston Braves at the start of yesterday's double header. He had a bad inning and was behind when taken out for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Silas Johnson was credited with the victory as Cincinnati rallied in the ninth to win the game 8 to 7. Johnson also was charged with the defeat in the second game when he again appeared as a relief pitcher and was the victim of Boston's eleventh inning run which gave the Braves the decision 6 to 5, and kept the teams in a tie. Harry Seibold, not much younger than the ancients of the select group, pitched the entire game and drove in the winning run himself.

Herb Pennock, the youngster of the quintet, age 36, had a rough time of it against Cleveland and was the principal victim of the Indian's eighth inning rally which netted five runs and a 10 to 5 victory over the New York Yankees; but it was Ownie Carroll who was charged with the defeat.

The Phillies and Pittsburg used pitchers of almost every kind as the Pirates won two games through Pie Traynor's two home runs. Traynor's first four-bagger gave Heinie Meine a 2 to 1 decision over Roy Hansen in the first half of the bill, while his second, coming with two one base in the thirteenth inning, put the Pirates on the long end of a 16—15 count. Ten pitchers worked in this game and between them they yielded 50 hits.

The pitching in the contest was a matter of numbers rather than skill, Chicago using five hurlers and New York four, and the wildness of the Cub throwers was the principal reason for the Giants' four run rally in the fifth which decided the game.

Along with Luque, ancient Jack Quinn of the Philadelphia Athletics whose years number somewhere near 45, above or below, gave the younger pitchers a lesson. Quinn had a little trouble in the ninth inning and George Earnshaw finished the game for him as the A's downed Detroit 4 to 1.

Softball Notes.

Tonight's Westclox-Sugar Bowl game should be a wow. Both teams are well up in the running and both are anxious for a win. The Westclox are out to make in five in a row while the Bowlrites figure they can come through with a win and pull the Clockmakers down with the rest of the teams.

The game will get away at 6.30 sharp, and from every angle it looks like one of the best of the series.

CARNERA FAILS TO APPEAR.

MONTREAL, July 24. — The tall shadow of Primo Carnera, mighty muscle merchant of Venice, was cast across the Montreal Stadium yesterday and such common attractions as baseball were definitely interrupted but as it turned out, the shadow never materialized, for Carnera failed to appear anywhere within 500 miles of Montreal, and the local public was out a boxing program as well as a baseball game.

In order that the Stadium might be rearranged to accommodate a crowd last night, Tuesday's open date on the Royals' schedule was shifted to yesterday afternoon, a double-header was played on Tuesday, and Montreal awaited expectantly the coming of Carnera, known also as the Ambling Alp and the Vast Venetian.

Primo, who is shortly to bolster the army of Senor Benito Mussolini to a considerable extent, was billed to box two exhibition rounds with three different opponents, the feature of a well-rounded card, and it is likely that the majority of the Toronto Leafs and Montreal Royals would have been present to watch the Man Mountain lumber about on the domain where they are wont to gambol.

Everybody Disappointed.

However, they, like the public, missed a ball game and a bout, and spent the day in divers manners, very much as they spend rainy days, though in truth the weather here was golden.

The teams resume hostilities today with a single game, the third of their four-game series, which has so far been split.

Manager Steve O'Neill has announced the acquisition of an outfielder who will join the team today and immediately take his place in centre field against the Royals. He is none other than Eddie Kunesch, last year with Jersey City, and who has been playing for Providence in the Eastern League so far this season. Kunesch is a left-hand hitter and has been hammering the ball to the tune of .320 with Providence.

Depends on Barnes.

O'Neill considers starting Frank Barnes on the hilltop against whomever Eddie Holly chooses to nominate for the Royals. Holly's selection is a bit hazy, but the likely choice rests between Roy Buckalew and Gowell Classet.

The Royals also announce the addition of a pitcher to their staff in the person of Paul Hopkins, who was with the club two years ago. Hopkins will probably report this morning.

REDS RALLY TO DEFEAT BRAVES

Eppa Rixey Pulled For Silas Johnson in the Eighth Frame —Win Out 8-7.

YANKEES LOSE 10-5.

Urban "Red" Faber, second in age to Quinn in this quintet, did not figure as a winner or loser for the Chicago White Sox. After holding a 1 to 0 lead for five frames, Faber weakened and allowed the Boston Red Sox three runs in the sixth. Hal McKain believed him and got credit for the victory as Chicago rallied again and gained a 5 to 3 decision. The victory moved Chicago back into sixth place as Washington came back after

BELMONT CLUB WINS FROM C.G.E. 29-14

Electric Fielders Give Terrible Exhibition of Softball—Many Misplays.

In a ragged exhibition of softball Belmont Club defeated C.G.E. 29-14 at Central School grounds last evening.

The C.G.E. gave a terrible exhibition of fielding, the team contributing a great many misplays. It was a weird exhibition by the fielders.

Richmond and Miller, the C.G.E. pitchers, worked hard and deserved a better fate than 29 runs. But the team was not behind them and their efforts went to waste.

Galbraith twirled for the Belmonts and pitched good ball throughout. He only allowed four runs up till the ninth inning when the Belmont players switched positions with dire results. Ten runs were scored in this last inning burlesque by the Clubmen

Manager Bennett of the C.G.E. gave his boys a few batting lessons when he pinch-hit for Thornton and collected a double and a single.

B. A. A. WINS PHELAN CUP FROM SCOTS

Exciting Scrimmages Take Place in First Half—Both Custodians Busy.

LARGE CROWD SEES GAME.

Majority of Goals Scored in Second Moiety—Fred Sutcliffe Presents Trophy.

The Brinton Athletic carried off the Phelan Charity Cup last night from the Caledonians by the score of 5 goals to 3 on King Edward Park before a good attendance. The Scots fielded a weak eleven through a number of the players being employed at business.

Cup Presented.

On behalf of the P. and D. F. A. Fred Sutcliffe presented the cup to Captain Westwood of the Brinton team. He thanked the fans for the generous response on behalf of charity, which is divided between the Children's Aid and St. Vincent Orphanage. It is now nine years ago since Father Phelan gave the cup to the association, and since that time splendid gifts have been given to these charitable institutions. He made an earnest appeal to the public to get behind the executive and get soccer back into organized football again. Tom Westwood made a suitable reply.

First Half.

From the kick-off the Brinton visited the Caledonian territory to be awarded a free kick. In the early stages Westwood missed the upright with a rising shot. The Scots replied with energetic attempts to find a stalwart defence allowing no privileges. They nullified combination with clever interception of play which was backed up by a smart half-back line. Close tackling was the trend of the game for a while thereby confining the ball to midfield tactics. Of course, an occasional run along the wing would intersperse the movement of the front rank, Cook, at inside right of the Caleys, being the only forward to have a try at goal. Continued pressure against the Brinton citadel failed to bring any result. But like a flash the winners' forwards beat it to the other end where the Scots custodian handled weakly to drop the ball to the foot of Jones who, standing awaiting the result, had no difficulty in scoring. This setback to the Scots forced them to take the initiative; Cook, as an individualist, manipulated the ball through the defence to finish with a right foot mid-air drive. Curtis, Brinton goalie, diverting the ball out with a one-handed save, for a fruitless flag kick. Just before the interval, both sides endeavored to force the issue into the goal area but the half-backs allowed no freedom while the forwards hovered in the dangerous zone. Give and take play predominated with the score standing at one goal to nil at half-time. Brinton Athletic 1, Caledonians 0.

Half-time.

On resuming, the Brinton made tracks for the Caledonians' goal through James and within two minutes had registered another tally on an individual run up the centre of the field. He shot while on the run, the goalkeeper finding it difficult to hold as the centre man caught the rebound. Not long afterwards, the same player caught the Scots' defence on the jump and connecting with a low grounder found the net, to make it three to nil. Time and again the Scots right wing went into the Brinton territory to find the going hard and unbeatable, but Cook got the advantage when he headed the sphere into the net past Curtis from a cross by McCracken. Ten minutes later Boon beat along the flank with the ball and imitating that he was going right through he hesitated a moment to steady himself and finished with a right footer that completely bewildered the goalkeeper. While this transpired at the Scots' charge, they had hard luck in not counteracting the counts in the raids that they made on Curtis' citadel. After dribbling his way toward goal, Cook rattled the upright at close range. On the next visit, Curtain repeated the same performance to gain two unsuccessful flag kicks. Another rest spasm permitted Boon to get the fifth tally with a shot from twenty yards out. With the score dead against them the Scots reduced the lead when Curtain converted from a spot kick. Fighting to the last minute they still further reduced the count when Coyle landed a drop shot into the back of the net for the final tally. Brinton Athletic 5, Caledonians 3.

Goal scorers—James 2, Boon 2, and Eric Jones for Brinton; for Caledonians, Cook, Curtain, and Coyle.

ZACK SMOKE 1ST IN MEN'S SINGLE RACE

EVENT WINNERS.

Keene Girls Win Softball Cup By Defeating Sixth Line 15-9.

Hiawatha held its third and by far its most successful regatta on Wednesday afternoon. The sun shone throughout and the breeze was pleasantly cool, yet not strong enough to stir up a choppy sea for the water sports. The remains of the old Cobourg and Peterborough railway form an excellent breakwater, and the high banks of the lake shore provide natural bleachers—altogether an ideal spot.

The premier event was the men's single professional canoe race for which the prize was twenty-five dollars, with an entry fee of one dollar. There were eight entrants, all guides.

Zack Smoke of Alderville came first and Hiram Taylor of Curve Lake second.

Event Winners.

The winners of the other events were as follows:

Mens double professional canoe race —1, E. Smoke and W. Smoke; 2, F. Gray and F. Smoke.

Ladies' single—1, Florence Howard; 2, Lillian Smoke.

Ladies' double canoe—1, Florence Howard and Verna La Fonte; 2, Millie McWilliams and Velma Crowe.

Skiff race — 1, Albert Adams; 2, Leonard La Fonte.

Gunwale race—1, Herb. Cardwell; 2, W. Smoke.

Tilting race—1, Roger Amys; 2, "Red" Hanna.

Putting the shot—1, E. Marsden; 2, Peter Thompson.

Boys' race, under 12 — 1, Wallace Thompson; 2, John Lukes.

The "greasy pig" was caught by Ralph Lukes. This event furnished great amusement for both spectators and contestants, except perhaps for the one man who, contrary to the rules, made a rugby tackle and came ruefully home with even his face heavily smeared.

Judges—T. J. Wallace, T. Curvin, and Geo. Robertson.

Win Softball Cup.

Keene girls played the Sixth Line Girls and won the cup with a score 15-9. The line-up was as follows:

Sixth Line—M. Hall, L. Donaldson, M. Renwick, L. Foley, I. Davis, E. Elliot, H. Weir, H. Donaldson, and A. Comrie.

Keene—H. Nelson, F. McCarthy, M. McCarthy, L. McCarthy, M. Brown, R. Gainon, K. Nelson, *E. Nelson.

Home runs — Grace McCarthy and Mary McCarthy.

*Place taken by Grace McCarthy after third innings.

In the evening a dance was held in the hall, the Frazerville orchestra supplying the music.

The committee this year consisted of the president, L. Rockwell of Bristol, Conn., Hanlan and Madden Howard and Henry Cowie.

Retains Title

Willie Lamb, professional of the Uplands Golf Club, who retained his title as professional champion of Canada when he led the field with a score of 141 at the Burlington Golf Club, Ont. He had a 71 for the first round and 70 for the second.

The following Scots' players are requested to be on hand—J. Ward, R. McInnes, R. Fowler, A. Boggie, J. Pottie, S. Agnew, T. Craig, R. Graham, J. Miller, R. Emery, D. Houston, W. McCracken, J. Cook, D. Curtain, D. Best, and A. B. Coyle.

The Brinton team will be as follows: W. Curtis, goal; F. Lucas and D. Green, full backs; J. O'Halloran, T. Westwood and E. A. Baylis, halves; J. Boon, E. Jones, W. James, J. Anderson and E. Hanson, forwards. Reserves: J. Taylor and H. Hotson.

Softball Notes.

Last night's game was something of a fiasco. The C.G.E. just couldn't get going although they had their regular line up on hand. The Belmonts further added to their reputation of being the heaviest run-getting team in the league.

Friday night will see four teams in action. Belmonts and Brintons play at the latter's home grounds, while the Westclox and C.G.E. play at Central School grounds. The last mentioned game is a postponed fixture from the first half and has a great bearing on the standing.

More Teams Drop From Quebec Derby

QUEBEC, Que., July 24 (C.P.)—The hard grind of the 500-mile international relay foot race from Montreal to Quebec and return has forced five of the orginal 20 teams which started in Montreal on Sunday, to drop out of the gruelling contest. To-day only fifteen teams started the fifth lap, 58 miles from this city to Ste. Anne de la Perade. The latest to quit the race were Paul Simpson, Saxapahaw, N.C., who turned an ankle yesterday, and Mike Kelly of Goshen, Ind., who suffered from "skin split."

SUN-BAKED UMPS DESERVING COOLER CALLING CLOTHES

CLEVELAND, July 23. — There should be a law in baseball enacted for the prevention of cruelty to umpires. It should read something like this:

"When the thermometer registers 85 degrees or higher the umpires shall be permitted to leave their coats in the club house and appear in their shirts, with pajama trousers, if desired."

The idea that it is undignified for an umpire to appear without a coat may have basis in precendent, but not in common sense. The umpire behind the plate is burdened by a heavy mask and heavy chest pad, besides having a coat to add to his discomfort. In the current heat wave the umpires have been almost dying on their feet. "Come on, you league presidents, free the umpires from a senseless rule".—Slocum.

A recent conference in Germany between representatives of industrial and labor organizations regarding modification of wage agreements resulted in a pact to consider specific industries on a regional basis.

Up-to-Date Buildings and Much Clean Entertainment Makes Up Camp Life.

SPORT TOURNAMENTS

LAKEFIELD, July 24.—(Examiner Correspondence).—"Oak Ridge" camp, above Eels' Creek, is open for the season and this year has passed beyond the experimental stage to the point of having really arrived. The new buildings, modern and up-to-date, are a joy to see and a greater to joy live in because provision has been made for all kinds of weather, a variety of enjoyment and a large amount of pleasureable instruction in camp-craft and in safe familiarity with the water and water-craft.

"Oak Ridge," as the name implies, is on comparatively high ground with a gradual slope to the water. A natural stone dock makes a splendid place for diving as there is a sheer safe descent into deep water. Then there is a natural sand beach where beginners learn to swim and to manage a canoe in the shallow water.

Up-to-Date Lodge.

The lodge at the camp is like all the buildings built this season and up-to-date in every particular. The main building or lodge is 30 x 30 feet and has a large granite fireplace which is delightful for cool evenings when the boys gather round for story-telling or perhaps boxing bouts. There are plenty of indoor sports, games such as table tennis, checkers, chess and book cases filled with books to while away the hours on a rainy day. There are horse-shoe tournaments and golf tournaments which are interesting land activities, but by far the most popular are the water sports and activities, which are varied enough even to satisfy the boundless energy of growing boys. Life saving is taught, also swimming and the proper handling of boats of all sorts. A properly handled canoe can be the safest of craft, and this is specially stressed.

Instruction and recreation, pleasantly blended, make life a real holiday at "Oak Ridge," for besides the canoes there is the sloop "Ace" which made its debut last year and the new dinghy "Jamboree." Camping trips provide another novelty where the boys learn the art of self-reliance and how to cook, portage a boat and light a camp-fire.

"Oak Ridge" is a pioneer camp on Stoney Lake, and this season, with new buildings and up-to-date equipment, has made a decided advance. It is under the management of A. M. ("Don") Fitzgerald, the holder of the paddling and swimming records of Stoney Lake.

WHEAT SITUATION REQUIRES ACTION

Guthrie Claims Canadian Wheat Being Slandered in Europe.

SCORES MOTHERWELL.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 24.—(CP)—Criticism of Hon. W. R. Motherwell one of the West's members of the Dominion Cabinet, was uttered last night by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, former Conservative house leader, in the first of two western speeches. He stated that while Canadian wheat "was being slandered in Europe last year", the Minister of Agriculture "was dozing in the sunshine of the treasury benches at Ottawa".

Mr. Guthrie said he realized the present difficulty in disposing of the wheat crop, and it looked as if there would be a bumper crop this year. The question he considered was: 'Where were they going to market it'? Another question was, 'Why did they not market the crop last year'?

Where was Motherwell

There was no doubt that someone was spreading slander and scandal against Canadian wheat last year in the markets of Europe, said Mr. Guthrie, adding, "Who took the matter up? Where was the ministers, where was the Prime Minister when Canadian wheat was being slandered? Where was Mr. Motherwell.

"Dear old gentleman", went on Mr. Guthrie, "I have not a word to say against him. But I have this to say—that Mr. Motherwell is today at the head of one of the most important departments of the Government of this country. He is actual head of that department in which we want leadership in the worst way, and we are not getting it from Mr. Motherwell."

It was Mr. Bennett who during a trip in Europe, heard of the situation, said Mr. Guthrie. He took immediate steps to have the mischief undone", the speaker asserted, "and in the House of Commons "exposed the whole matter and placed the situation fairly and squarely before the wheat purchasers of the world".

GRAND PIANOS IN BIG DEMAND

Board of Education Has Selected Grands For Public Schools.

NOW ON DISPLAY.

R. Haddow, local manager for Ye Olde Firme, Heintzman & Co., finds a source of gratification in the sale of Heintzman Grand Pianos for use in Peterborough's Public Schools. And well he may; for when an important educational body like the Education board purchases equipment, the deal is not consummated without careful deliberation as to value and quality.

These pianos in question possess all the tone beauty of Heintzman & Co.'s world-famed Concert Grands, while the fumed oak cases are entirely new and attractively beautiful in their design. They are indeed examples of that refined elegance and general constructional efficiency which has made the Heintzman pianos favorites for the concert stage, the home, and public institutions on the American and European Continents, not forgetting the Antipodes.

See examples of these new pianos for our schools in the window of Heintzman Hall, Hunter Street.

A Word of Warning To Women Voters

It is reported that Liberal women canvassers are travelling from house to house in some sections of the city, appealing to women voters whose temperance sentiments are known to vote for Mr. Duffus on account of the "liquor issue," seeking to delude those upon whom they call into believing that there is a wet or dry question to be settled in this election.

Conservative women, don't be misled by any such bunkum.

THERE IS NO LIQUOR QUESTION IN THIS ELECTION—no question of temperance or government control or anything of the kind and don't let any of those zealous canvassers fool you into thinking that there is.

They're merely talking the liquor question to you in the hope that you may forget THE BIG ISSUE. OF JOBS FOR YOUR HUSBAND AND SONS, OF OPPORTUNITIES IN CANADA FOR YOUR FAMILY.

That is the big thing for you to remember next Monday when you go out to mark your ballot.

VOTE E. A. PECK

AND FOR A POLICY THAT MEANS A GREATER CHANCE FOR YOUR SONS AND DAUGHTERS IN THEIR HOME CITY AND IN THEIR HOMELAND.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 19 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burrought

On the day Tarzan established his right to respect, the tribe was gathered in a small natural amphitheatre. Here, safe from interruptions, they celebrated victories. In the center was one of those strange earthern drums the thropoids build for their queer rites, which men have sometimes heard but never witnessed.

Tarzan, Lord Greystoke, is doubtless the only human being who ever joined in the fierce, mad, intoxicating revel of the Dum-Dum. This day the grisly rites marked the killing of a giant ape—a member of another tribe. Two mighty bulls laid the body before the earthern drum.

They squatted there beside it as guards. The other apes curled themselves up to sleep until the rising moon should give the signal for the commencement of the savage orgy. For hours absolute quiet reigned. At length, as darkness settled upon the jungle, the apes commenced to bestir themselves.

They formed a great circle around three old females, who, armed with knotted branches, began softly tapping upon the resounding surfaces of the drum, as the ascending moon silvered the treetops. Presently a wild rhythmic din pervaded the jungle for miles around. It rose to almost deafening volume.

Kerchak sprang into the open space, threw his head far back and, beating his breast, emitted thrice his fearful roaring shriek. Other males repeated the horrid, blood-thirsty screams. Then began the mad whirl of the death dance. And Tarzan, sweat-streaked, muscular, glistening, was one of the wild leaping horde!

QUEBEC ATTACKS STIR ANDERSON

Saskatchewan Premier Scores King For Allowing Propaganda.

DEFENDS ADMINISTRATION.

REGINA, Sask., July 24 (By George Finlay, C.P. Staff Correspondent). — Defense of his administration and condemnation of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King for allowing, without protest a campaign of false propaganda against him in the Province of Quebec, wherin he charged he was represented as a "destroyer of schools," were the highlights of an address delivered before the Oxbow Conservative Association last night by Premier J. T. M. Anderson.

"In Quebec at the present time," said the Premier, "campaign literature has been widely circulated attacking him and using the same false propaganda as had been used against Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen years ago. Dr. Anderson told of a cartoon which was being distributed in the French-Canadian Province by the Young Liberals of Quebec, representing the burning of a school with himself in the foreground, and teachers escaping with the children.

No Protest by King

"To that sort of thing," said the Premier, "there has been no protest by Premier King."

Again, Premier Anderson declared that the Province of Saskatchewan had sought unemployment relief from the Federal Government months ago. "Premier King did not take the request seriously," he said. He had asked for assistance while in Ottawa negotiating for the return of the Province's natural resources. Later Milton Campbell, then Progressive member for Mackenzie, had been given a brief by the Provincial Government to make representations to Premier King, but he had met with no success.

OBITUARY

MRS. GEORGE STENTON

The death occurred yesterday (Wednesday) evening at 8 o'clock of Mrs. George Stenton at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Ernest Reid of this city. The deceased, who reached her 83rd year on September 9 last, was the widow of the late George Stenton, for many years a familiar figure as caretaker of the Post Office here. She had been in poor health for some time.

The late Mrs. Stenton was born Ollie Kinmouth in Picton, Prince Edward County, in the year 1847. She survived her husband's death only nine months.

She is survived by a sorrowing family of four sons, Thomas, George, Charles, and Herbert; four daughters, Mrs. William Smith, Mrs. Fred Griffin, and Mrs. Ernest Reid, all of this city, and Mrs. Victor Henry of Lindsay. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. Charles Hall of Lindsay, 27 grandchildren, and seven grandchildren.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon, July 23 at 2:30 (D.S.T.) from the residence of Mr. Ernest Reid, 582 Park street. The Rev. G. L. Johnston of Bethany Tabernacle will officiate, assisted by the Rev. Mr. MacLean of St. Andrew's church.

MRS. GEORGE W. McCORMACK.

The death occurred at ten o'clock this morning of Mrs. George W. McCormack at the home of her son-in-law, Harvey J. Staunton, 854 George street.

The late Mrs. McCormack was the former Miss Margaret May Flewell of Vivian. She is survived by her husband, one son, Stanley, of Vivian; three daughters, Mrs. Staunton, Miss Mary McCormack, of this city, and Mrs. Sylvster Pollard of Ballantrae, and three brothers, Richard Flewell of Uxbridge, William of Stouffville, and Wesley of Ballantrae.

The funeral will be held from the family residence at Vivian on Sunday at 2 p.m. (E.S.T.) Interment will be in Hartman cemetery.

mar and Union Schools. He took up the building trades and as a contractor he had the responsibility of constructing many outstanding buildings here such as various additions to the public schools, the Isolation Hospital, Bank of Commerce building, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., the Cox block on Hunter street, the Peterborough Hardware block, and the Crystal block on George street.

His time as a town councillor was between 1881 and 1891 and he served on the Board of Education from 1892 to 1906. He held various positions of public trust besides his chairmanship of the Board of Health and directorship on the Board of the Y. M. C. A.

Enthusiastic Labor Man

Possibly "Johnny" Hartley's finest contribution to this community was as a Labor man. He earnestly believed in the dignity of honest, constructive toilers, and he believed that organized Labor, while looking after its own interests, should actively co-operate in the general affairs of the city. He gave the Trades and Labor Council prudent leadership for a number of years, and, when during the war his moderation did not meet approval and support of some mushroom and temporarily clamorous unions, he retired from the Council. The Bricklayers Union withdrew as a body, a striking evidence to the interests of Labor. Events during the last ten or eleven years have vindicated the wisdom of his counsel as president of the Trades and Labor Council.

While he was a member of the Town Council he was instrumental in improving conditions for the Corporation laborers, and at the same time was active in the representations that resulted in reducing the working day of the building trades from ten hours to nine, forty years ago.

Headr Association.

In a broader field he will be long remembered and honored as a president of the West Peterborough Liberal Association, a position which he took in 1904 and gave up in 1926 to be succeeded by Dr. J. J. Craig. None was more faithful to the Liberal Party than J. J. Hartley. In the Union Government campaign of 1917 it seemed that all the prominent Liberals except the president and the candidate, R. R. Hall, had deserted Sir Wilfrid Laurier. These two never wavered, and there is no record nor hint that they ever regretted the course they deliberately followed in continuing their allegiance to their "Old Chief."

The deceased was on the Board of Directors of George Street United Church, an Oddfellow, a Forester, and a member of the Bricklayers' and Masons' Union, and a member of the City Trust.

The death occurred at his residence, which he has tenanted for almost 50 years, after an illness of several months. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hartley. Eleven years ago his wife predeceased him, but surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Earnest Ainley, Toronto, Mrs. Thomas Beatty, Otonabee, Mrs. W. J. Spence, Radville, Saskatchewan, and Gertrude and Sophie at home, and one son, Fred C. Hartley of Detroit.

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard will conduct the services of the funeral, which will be held on Saturday at 2 o'clock from the family residence to Little Lake Cemetery.

Blame Gang Feud For Buckley Death

DETROIT, Mich., July 24.—(C. P.)—The Police Department announced to-day that "Black Leo" Celura and his gangster followers, notorious river characters, are being sought in connection with the killing of Jerry Buckley, radio announcer.

Detectives working on the case advanced the theory that Buckley was shot down early yesterday by members of this gang because they believed him responsible for the failure to "fix" the cases of two of their number now serving terms in a Canadian prison.

Fresh' Quake Spreads Terror in Italy

REVISED DEATH TOTALS REVEAL 2,930 PERISHED

Rescue Workers Continue Recovering Bodies From Ruins.

90 TOWNS DAMAGED.

King Victor Personally Aids Relief Squads Among Homeless.

ROME, Italy, July 25—(AP)—A new earthquake at Ariano, in the midst of an already ruined area and a hurricane that spread terror and death throughout Northern Italy to-day added to an already tremendous relief problem in this stricken country.

2,930 Victims

ROCHETTA, San Antonio, Italy, July 25.—(CP)—General Basitrocchi, Commandant of the Neapolitan zone, today said the total dead in the Province of Avelleno was 2,573. His figures added 37 deaths to the total of other provinces, bringing a grand total in the earthquake of 2,930 killed.

Touched to the heart by the realization of inestimable numbers of homeless, ever-growing death lists and hospitals filled with injured, Mussolini again urged public and private subscriptions for the victims.

Italy's relief subscriptions at noon had mounted to a total of a million lire. Banks and other institutions and private individuals continued to place funds at the Government's disposal, particularly in the aid of the hundreds of orphaned children in the southern earthquake zone.

King Victor Visits District.

Preparations were being made also at Naples and the inland country for the reception of King Victor Emmanuel and his staff, who were to arrive early this afternoon. The ruler was expected to be in the centre of the devastated countryside before night and to spend to-night among the saddened populace. His presence was expected to have a decided effect upon the spirit of the people, whose greatest need, aside from immediate physical succor, was spiritual and moral support.

The King is to visit hospitals in Naples and temporary shelters elsewhere, in which more than 4,000 injured to-day were being treated.

Prefects of the five provinces central within the devastated area today did their utmost to bring into an intelligible form the reports of relief workers which indicated this forenoon that the end of the casualty list by no means had been reached.

Official death lists accounting for 1,883 dead were supplemented by the figures gathered by Italian and foreign newspaper correspondents who travelled throughout yesterday and last night in the ruined zone making tabulations as best they could of the many communes. Approximately 90 towns and cities suffered damages varying from complete demolition to the toppling of some of the older buildings and in which death lists ranged from 600, reported in Lacedonia, to a few scattered casualties on the rim of the territory.

Panic Renewed.

To-day's earthquake, more violent than many of the slight trembles of the last 24 hours, cost the life of one person, its worst effect was a renewal of the state of panic which had subsided to some extent. Southern Italy escaped entirely the hurricane, which was local to the Pleave River Valley section and killed 22 persons, bringing to the once war-

KING-FERGUSON SCRAP CONTINUES TO BITTER END

Radio Active at Close of Possibly Longest Campaign in History.

MANY IMPROMPTU MEETS.

Storm Areas in Province of Quebec Quieten Down.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25 (By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Correspondent).—Party leaders are approaching the end of their schedules. Except for impromptu gatherings, few meetings remain. Final words will be said over sea-to-sea hook-ups on the radio. Thus will end the great 58-day campaign, possibly the longest in actual campaigning of Canadian history.

And to the end, Premier King and Premier Ferguson of Ontario are in exchange of bitter compliments. "Coward," says Premier Ferguson of Premier King. "I have a great contempt for the Tory." Premier King retorts, "and Mr. Ferguson is a Tory of the Tories." He charges the "Tories" with mercilessly exploiting the needs of the unemployed and declares that he has made his dollar-for-dollar offer of assistance to the Provinces across the Dominion, but thus far it has not been accepted. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, who left to-day for North Ontario, is scornful about Premier King's "lip service to the Empire. It was a lip service which would not long be the policy of the Liberal Party. It was a policy," Mr. Bennett accused, "adopted for political expediency in the face of defeat."

BOBBY SCOTT LOSES LIFE IN CANAL WATERS

AT HEALEY FALLS.

Youngster Riding Bicycle Along Wall When He Falls Into Channel.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—The Trent Waterways claimed another life on Thursday, when little Bobby Scott, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott, was drowned in the lock at No. 10 power house, Healey Falls.

Mr. Scott, who is the Assistant Lock Master, with the Lock Master, C. W. Insley, were locking the yacht Arlena II. of the National Yacht Club, Toronto, at about 7.40 p.m., when Bobby rode down to the wall on his bicycle to see the craft. In making the turn from the dirt to the cement wall, it is thought that he curved too wide, and boy and machine fell into the water between the boat and the wall. Both father and lock master saw the accident, but could do nothing to avoid it. Owing to the fact that the boat was in the lock, it could not be immediately drained. When the craft was at last passed through, the reach as far as Crow Bay was drained, and the body exposed at about 8.30 p.m.

Robert Chapman descended to the floor of the lock about, eighty feet down, and secured the body to a rope with which it was lifted to the surface. The coroner, Dr. W. F. Loucks, with Dr. F. Free, who were notified as soon as the accident happened, worked on the boy, with the assistance of several of the Hydro employees including H. Goody, H. Irwin, G. Brown, R. Long and Gilbert Hay, for about half an hour, until life was found to be extinct.

It is thought that the boy was dead from shock before he hit the water, because the body did not rise to the surface after it had sunk.

BREAKING U.S. TREATY

BROCKVILLE STORE BURNS

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 25.—(CP)—The general store and post office at Portland, Leed County, owned by Albert Gallagher, totally destroyed by fire which broke out early this morning, together with all its contents. Occupats of living quarters over the store, a two storey brick structure, escaped, the fire being fought by the joint volunteer fire brigades of Portland and Newboro, who prevented its spread to neighboring buildings.

TONAWANDA MAN WAS STRANGLED AUTOPSY SHOWS

Toronto Surgeon Claims Rope Used Before Rumbold Hit With Hammer.

$1,000 REWARD OFFERED.

Details of New $30,000 Accident Insurance Policy Being Probed.

TORONTO, Ont., July 25.—(CP)—Phillip Rumbold, Tonawanda, N. Y., real estate man, who was found murdered in his car near Port Credit, Ont., last Tuesday was killed by strangulation with a rope before he was struck on the head with the hammer found covered with bloodstains beside the dead body, according to an autopsy performed by Dr. I. H. Erb, Toronto surgeon.

Dr. Erb is continuing his investigation to discover the connection with the crime of the bloodstained handkerchief found near the spot.

$1,000 Offered

A reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of the murderer or murderers of Philip G. Rumbold, Tonawanda, N. Y., found dead in his car near Port Credit, Ont., Tuesday, was offered today by the Government of the Province of Ontario through Hon. W. H. Price, Attorney General.

Search Continues

While Inspector Stringer, in charge of the investigation, is in Tonawanda today looking up details in connection with the $30,000 accident insurance policy taken out by the dead man less than two months ago, his squad are working in the Hamilton and Port Credit district along two lines.

The first is their search for Jake Fleagel, wanted for murder in Colorado, who is said to have been seen in Hamilton the same day on which Humbold drove or was driven, from that city, to his death. Their second hope was the identification of the owner of the Slater's hammer with which Rumbold's head was crushed.

George Marahn, Tonawanda police chief said today he was positive there was no local angle to the murder and he firmly believes that the provincial police working in Ontario are on the likelier track.

Visited Canada Often

Despite statements of Canadian immigration officers that they knew Rumbold as a frequent visitor to this side, two friends of the dead man said they were sure that the first trip made to Canada this year by Rumbold was the one which resulted in his death. These were Layton Vogel, cousin of Rumbold and Moses Snyder, secretary treasurer of the First Trust Company of Tonawanda.

FARMER SHOOTS 15 YEAR OLD LAD

Admits to Officers He Would Have Shot Them if Given Chance.

SOUGHT BEFORE!

FREDERICTON, N. B., July 25 (C.P.)—Harvey Dunlop, farmer of Campbell Settlement, a rural community in the parish of Southampton, York County, upwards of forty miles west of Fredericton, is held in the police cells here for the shooting and killing of Urban Dickinson, aged 15 years.

Discusses Tragedy

The accused maintains a calm demeanor. En route by motor to Fredericton last night Dunlop discussed the tragedy with the police with no reserve. Speaking of his own arrest in his barn by the Provincial Police, Dunlop said:

"If I had been in the house you would not have got me. I would have shot some of you."

The accused has lived by himself for some years and is known to be a great reader of thrillers of the western and detective type.

His neighbors recall that some fifteen years ago the authorities were after Dunlop to arrest him for shooting Hirman Schriver in the foot. Dunlop was not arrested at that time, leaving his property and remaining away from the locality for some time.

Johnny Farrell, the New York professional, shot a 66 this morning, equalling the course record and the figure set yesterday by Nichol Thompson, Sr., Ancaster professional. Farrell turned in a card of 73 yesterday, which gives him 139 for the two rounds. He is low man so far.

Willie Lamb, Uplands' professional, who went around with him, turned in a 73, including a 10. He drove four times on the 6th, putting three balls out of bounds in a cross wind.

C. Ross Somerville, playing around with Leo Diegel to-day, came in with a 68, four strokes less than Diegel's 72. This gave Somerville 142 and Diegel 141 for the two rounds.

C. were in the lead with scores of 140 at the conclusion of the first 6 holes of the Canadian Open Golf Championship. John Watrous, who is a former Canadian Open Champion, played superb golf from the tee and on the farway, but his putting almost fell to pieces. He took three putts on several greens.

He shot a 72 to-day, four more than his 68 yesterday which put him in second place. French brought in a 68 to-day, his score yesterday being 72.

George Von Elm, former United States amateur champion, had a card of 141 for two rounds.

CREAM OF AUSSIE BATSMEN FALL IN FIRST DAY'S PLAY

Australia Loses Seven Wickets For 275 Runs in Fourth Test Match.

30,000 AT MATCH.

MANCHESTER, England, July 25 (C.P. Cable). — England has captured the cream of Australia's batsmen when play ceased for to-day in the fourth cricket test match with Australia at old Stafford, seven of the Australians' wickets were down for 275 runs. Playing on a wicket which under sunshine this afternoon assisted the bowlers, Australia had to fight hard for their runs. The match began this morning and will last four days. Over 30,000 attended during the afternoon.

Australia, after W. Woodfull, their captain, had won the toss by correctly calling the half-sovereign used in the toss, put out 13 for the first wicket. Woodfull and W. Ponsford were the opening pair and they played painstaking cricket. W. Woodfull departed when he had scored 44. Don. Bradman, the young batsman who has done such great things in England this year was the victim of I. A. R. Peebles the Middlesex and Oxford University bowler, playing in his first Australian test. He scored only 14.

UNKNOWN HERO RESCUES BOY

YOUNGSTER UNCONSCIOUS.

An unknown bicycle rider remains the hero of a life-saving episode last Sunday at the floating bridge on Chemong Lake, and Jimmy Herron, 12, who lives at 575 Stewart street, is still searching for the man who saved his life.

"I want to thank him," Jimmy stated to-day. "Yes, he jumped in and pulled me out of the lake when I was unconscious. Gee! I hope I find him. Mother wants to thank him, too."

Jimmy is still wearing a large white bandage around his forehead which rendered him unconscious while swimming in Chemong Lake. The youngster took a dive off the bridge, striking his head on a submerged pier. He floated unconscious to the surface. Just then the unknown man, riding a bicycle across the bridge happened on the scene. Without a moment's delay he jumped, fully clothed, into the water and saved the lad.

Jimmy's father was drowned in the Otonabee River five years ago.

KIWANIS HEARS REV. E. R. ADDY

MASS PRODUCTION.

Speaking "as a parson looking out on the business and professional world," Rev. E. Ralph Addy, of Cobourg, gave some interesting and thoughtful observations of modern conditions in an address to-day to the local Kiwanis Club in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Addy rejoiced in the fact that much of the destructive competition had been removed from business methods, and that to-day merchants aimed to attract increased business by better selling methods and increased service, rather than by attempting to force his competitor into bankruptcy. This he observed was also true in the professional world, doctors and dentists by greater proficiency and skill, increasing their contribution to the public welfare.

Decrying the modern idea of getting something for nothing, the speaker stated that this was largely brought about by so-called free service in merchandising. He warned that the seller always figured in the cost of the free service into the selling price and that the purchaser really paid for the service.

A danger was seen by Mr. Addy in the modern tendency of mass production. The danger lay not so much in the manufacture of material things, as the tendency to consider individuals as a mass rather than to think of the mass as individuals.

"All the movements for the uplift of humanity and for progress have been brought about by the individual," advised the speaker. "In the mass one gets the average mind and intellect, but the average is only half good enough, and it is the individual who reaches the heights.

Mr. Addy also stressed the sacredness of the individual personality and pointed out the difficulties and troubles to follow if individuals were moulded on a common pattern.

Harold Coulson, baritone soloist, accompanied by Martin B. Chenhall, A.T.C.M., on the piano, favored the club with two splendid baritone solos.

"The Produced-in-Canada Exhibition is going to be big and better than ever," stated I. P. McNabb, exhibition manager, in outlining some of the plans the club is working on for the big annual event.

Unknown Farm Boy Is Found Hanging From Limb of Tree

Youth is Believed to Have Been Between 18 and 20 Years Old and Come From the Vicinity of Peterborough—Body is Found Near Marmora.

WAS GIVEN A RIDE BY T. A. TUCKER FROM INDIAN RIVER TO MARMORA YESTERDAY MORNING—HAD NO MONEY.

Two Youths Spent Three Nights in the Peterborough Police Station, But Failed to Return Last Night — One is Believed Victim.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, July 25. — The body of an unknown farm laborer, thought to have come from the neighborhood of Peterborough was found hanging from a limb of a tree on the property of James Sheridan, on the Cordova Road four miles from this vilage yesterday afternoon.

Apparently it was a plain case of suicide with the cause partially disclosed by a conversation between the victim and T. A. Tucker a traveller for the Connor Washing Machine company of Peterborough who had given the youth a ride earlier in the day and to whom the boy confided that he had got into some trouble but that it was not his fault.

Tucker travelling east yesterday morning picked up the youth at Indian River and brought him as far as Marmora. Later he was seen travelling north on the Cordova Road and was noticed to be whistling as he passed the home of Albert Bartlett. Still later passers by saw the boy sitting at the foot of the tree from which his lifeless body was afterward found suspended.

To-day the authorities are at a loss as to the identity of the suicide victim. His pockets were empty of anything that would give a clue, containing nothing but a Waterbury watch with the crystal broken. There were no papers or money. The youth was apparently eighteen or twenty years old, about five feet nine inches tall, with dark brown hair and brown eyes. The body was clothed in overalls, a black shirt and brown boots.

According to Tucker, the dead boy had intimated that he had come to this country from England eighteen months ago and that he had been a baker in the Old Country.

Apparently before hanging him-

BENNETT'S FAULT 300 CANNOT VOTE

Heenan Claims Opposition Leader Turned Patricia Bill Down.

REVIEWS GOV'T RECORD.

KENORA, Ont., July 25 (C.P.).—Three hundred voters have been denied the franchise at this election, due to the action of Hon. R. B. Bennett, asserted Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, in addressing a meeting at Oxdrift in the riding of Kenora-Rainy River last night.

Toward the close of the last session of Parliament, the Government promised the Opposition not to press contentious legislation in view of the coming election, the speaker said. A bill was introduced by the Government to give the voters, in the district of Patricia, the franchise, and without apparent reason Mr. Bennett opposed it.

Gave Liberal Majority.

His chief reason seemed to be that Patricia district, which is given the franchise in Provincial elections, gave a majority against the Conservatives last fall at the Provincial elections. Continuing, Mr. Heenan said, owing

Smoot Says French Tariff Move Unfair

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25. —After an examination of foreign protests against the rates of the new tariff law, Senator Smoot says many of them are unjust and groundless.

He said the United States buys $256,000,000 worth of French products and spends $300,000,000 in tourist money in France annually, while exports to that country amount to $160,000,000 leaving a balance of $290,000,00 in favor of France.

Liberals Hold Rally at Campbellford

INTEREST OF THE TARIFF BOARD IN WOOLEN AND TEXTILE INDUSTRY TOLD BY W. H. MOORE EX-CHAIRMAN

Resurrection of N. P. Termed 50 Yeare Old Candle Too Dim to Light Way.

SPEAKS AT CAMPBELLFORD.

More Money in Selling Milk and Cream Than Making Butter Speaker Says.

(By Staff Reporter)

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., July 25.—Terming the resurrection of the National Policy by the Conservative Party as "a fifty-year-old candlestick" that is as useless in lighting the way as the brougham of Sir John A. Macdonald would be to modern speedsters, W. H. Moore, ex-chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board, spoke last evening in the Regent Theatre, Campbellford, in the interest of William A. Fraser of Trenton, Liberal candidate for the riding of Northumberland.

Knocking down the bogey of disloyalty; referring to a subject very dear to Campbellford and other places in the woollen and worsted industry, when he spoke of the free yarns and their popularity among manufacturers, the world-wide depression in the woollen industry and the suggested relief in the surtax, not yet adopted; pointing out the human element that is predominant in the Liberal tariff-making endeavors; explaining why the making of Canadian butter was found to be unprofitable compared to the selling of Canadian milk and cream; giving the facts of relief for the dairymen in the postponed decision of the National Dairy Council to consider the question with the Tariff Board and hammering away at the idea that prosperity in this land, instead of being non-existent or dead, was "just around the corner," Mr. Moore held the attention of over six hundred people that packed the hall, for an eloquent forty-five minutes of talk. It was a quiet but very enthusiastic audience that only broke its absorbed listening to break into genuine and unrestrained applause.

D. W. Douglas of Campbellford, president of the Liberal Association, presided over the meeting, which was also addressed briefly by the candidate, W. A. Fraser, and his campaign manager, W. G. Faulkner of Toronto.

Mr. Moore spoke for about forty-five minutes and covered considerable ground. His slow, deliberate manner of utterance and his friendly manner held the attention of his hearers throughout an address that dealt mainly with the workings of the Tariff Board.

Vote for Three Bills.

"Vote for the three Bills, and you won't have a counterfeit in the lot," he said. "Here is Bill Fraser. I'm another Bill, and between us we'll go down to Ottawa to join the third Bill."

Speaking of the distress and unemployment which are matters of universal experience at the present time, he said: "We all know that there is less of both than in any other country in the world. (Applause.) But that is not enough for Liberals. We want to relieve distress and there is only one way to relieve unemployment; that is by employment.

"I am here to-night to ask you, as business men and women, to look into the future. We are all interested in the pay-roll and the dinner-pail, and we must judge for ourselves what is best to be done with conditions as they are. You have two leaders, two parties and two policies, and you must decide which has the best and the most to offer.

"Let us see what the Conservatives offer you. They begin with the National Policy. Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Bennett have both made that clear. The National Policy came into existence fifty years ago and it went out of existence in 1896. As a young man, I remember watching Sir John A. Macdonald going down Yonge Street in Toronto in a brougham behind a spanking pair of bays. That brougham would be just as out of date to-day as would the National Policy.

"And that is because to-day we have an infinitely more complicated commerce and trade has increased by the millions.

"But you have to judge, not only the policies, but also the methods

EMPIRE TRADE IS ADOPTED TO SUIT KING'S PURPOSE

Bennett Charges "Lip Service" Not liberal Policy Very Long.

PREMIER FREE TRADER.

(By Thomas Green, C. P. Staff Correspondent)

TORONTO, Ont., July 25. — Ontario's northland will be invaded by Hon. R. B. Bennett today. At North Bay, the Conservative Leader will address a rally tonight. Mr. Bennett, who delivered a midnight speech at Newmarket, arrived in Toronto during the night and departed for the north on a morning train.

Empire Trade

In the course of a series of meetings yesterday at Chesley, Brantford and Newmarket with brief addresses at Tara and Hanover—the Opposition Leader returned to the subject of Empire trade. Embarking on this discussion, Mr. Bennett had references for the "lip service" of the Prime Minister to his "new policy adopted for political expediency in the face of defeat". He proceeded: "This lip service now being used about the Empire is not the policy of the Liberal Party very long. Is there a Liberal who will say there is conviction behind it, that there is a Liberal principle behind it". Protection between the component parts of the Empire as against the world was involved in Empire trade, the Opposition Leader asserted and he proceeded to question if this "newly adopted policy" could be safely entrusted in the "hands of Mr. King and Mr. Dunning—both free traders".

Mr. Bennett charged that Premier King was "peeved" because he was not being supported by the Premiers of six Provinces", whom he had insulted", and for that reason, he proceeded could not speak about Canada at his night meeting at Chesley on Wednesday. His speech, the Conservative Leader said in referring to the address of the Prime Minister, was that of "a defeated Prime Minister". Premier Kng, he declared "sore" for that reason had talked about corruption. "This is the man", Mr. Bennett exclaimed, "whom eight Libral Premiers meeting together in 1919 helped to make the leader of the Liberal party". It was all right for Mr. King, he remarked, in 1919 to have the support of Liberal Premiers, but now he talked about monopoly "after these premiers have been retired to quiet, private life and replaced by Conservative Premiers". It was "ridiculous", Mr. Bennett said, for the Prime Minister to talk about corruption in this regard.

Taschereau Speech

The opposition Leader referred to the "Dunning machine in Saskatchewan", he proceeded, "What about the speech of Premier Taschereau and his base appeal". He demanded to know from the Prime Minister whether or not he (Mr. King) approved the speech in question of the Quebec Premier. Was that the policy of Mr. King or not, he asked. If it were Mr. King was a "hypocrite" after going around this country and talking unity". No person could talk unity, Mr. Bennett said, and approve the speech which Mr. Taschereau had made over last week-end.

BRITISH AIR ACE ARRESTED IN U.S.

Snatched Purse—Believed Suffering From Repressive Insanity.

HOLDS MANY MEDALS.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 25 (C.P.).—A shabbily dressed man who police claim has been identified as Captain George R. Clifford, noted British air ace of the Great War, is under arrest here on a charge of purse-snatching. The man is understood to be a Canadian, having apparently enlisted from Montreal with the British Air Force.

Clifford was turned over to the police by two men who said they captured him after he seized a purse from the hands of a woman standing on a street corner. Psychiatrists said he was suffering from repressive insanity. Clifford was reported to have told the police: "I realize what I've done—I know I'm under arrest, but I don't know why I did it."

A passport issued in 1927 at Washington, and other papers showing Clifford served as a squadron leader of the R.A.F. during the Great War, and shot down 42 enemy planes, were found by police in the clothing of the prisoner. The authorities said they verified the records through government officials.

Premier Says Work to Go Ahead Despite Ferguson's Objections.

Expenditures on Roads Held Up in Ontario Until Last Minute.

(By Ray Brown, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

STRATFORD, July 25. — The last scheduled meeting but one of Premier Mackenzie King during the present election campaign takes place at Cornwall to-night. Early this morning the Prime Minister and the members of his party left for the East. It is possible that there may be one or more impromptu speeches en route to Cornwall, but, if any, they will be brief. From Cornwall Mr. King will move up to Ottawa; on Saturday he will address his final audience at Renfrew, where the Hon. T. A. Low is the Liberal candidate. On Saturday afternoon. Then Mr. King will go back to Ottawa again for the last act in the campaign—a last speech over a national radio hook-up.

Given Warm Welcome.

Two huge audiences listened to the message of Premier King yesterday In the afternoon he spoke in Tilbury, down in the Essex Peninsula, where a crowd of about six thousand gathered in a park to hear him. A special train rushed him back to Stratford for the night meeting, and there in the arena, about eight thousand more people were awaiting him. In both places he received careful and attentive hearings, and in both he spoke with vigor. There were very few interruptions and both audiences listened with attention, and at times marked enthusiasm.

At Tilbury, the Prime Minister asserted that Premier Ferguson of Ontario had held up negotiations looking to the construction of the St. Lawrence Waterways with a view to making the project a political issue in the present campaign. But this condition was not going to continue, the Prime Minister informed his audience. Amid applause he said that if the government was returned to power immediate steps would be taken to go ahead with the scheme in spite of Mr. Ferguson; the rights of the provinces would be safeguarded, but the work must be advanced.

Unemployment Comes Up.

Unemployment occupied the attention of Mr. King for some time during his speech in Stratford. He once more declared that the efforts of Mr. Ferguson in Ontario had been directed not in the direction of assisting the unemployed but towards keeping them out of work until just before the election when their votes could be secured by the Conservative party. "Machine politics" of the Conservative party had permitted the holding up of expenditures on roads until just before the election, he said, when the purse strings were unloosed and employment given to men in Northern Ontario. Ten million dollars had been voted by the Ontario Legislature for roads this year, Mr. King said, but the expenditure of this money had been held up until five days ago.

TORY FORECAST GIVES PARTY 134 SEATS IN HOUSE

McRae Predicts 56 Liberals, 14 Other Groups and 41 Doubtful.

68 IN ONTARIO.

Winning of All Doubtful Constituencies Give Liberals Less Than 100.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 25 (C.P.).—A forecast of the result of the general election issued from Conservative national headquarters claims 134 Conservatives will be elected, 56 Liberals, 14 of various other groups, and places 4 in the doubtful column. The forecast is signed by Gen. A. D. McRae, chief Whip and organizer of the Conservative Party.

First and Last Forecast.

The statement follows:

"This is my first and last forecast of this election. I have purposely refrained from making any predictions until I should have complete reports before me. With these now to hand, I have no hesitation in predicting the defeat of the King Government and the return of Hon. R. B. Bennett with a good working majority over all other parties combined.

"A Conservative increase in every province is promised. Confidential reports justify more optimistic expectations than I am quoting.

"Based on well considered returns, I predict that the Conservatives will carry 134 constituencies, and they will also, undoubtedly, carry a considerable number of those I have placed in the 'doubtful' column.

The Result.

"By provinces, the result, so far as can be definitely forecasted, I give as follows:

	Con.	Lib.	Ind.	D.
P. E. I.	3	0	0	1
N. S.	11	1	0	2
N. B.	8	1	0	2
Quebec	12	40	1	12
Ontario	68	5	0	9
Manitoba	7	4	2	4
Sask.	7	3	6	5
Alta.	5	2	5	4
B. C.	12	0	0	2

"In this table Farmer, Labor, and Independent representatives are grouped together.

"The Conservatives may hope to get their share of the doubtful seats In any event, I predict that we will have a minimum of 134 seats in the next House and a possibility of 150.

"It will be observed from these figures that if Mackenzie King were to get all the doubtful seats, he would have less than 100 Liberals behind him in the next Parliament.

CAMPBELLFORD WINNERS 8-2 IN HOME TILT

GOOD COMBINATION.

Game Was Clean and Fast, Few Penalties Being Issued.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 25.—Featuring one of the best clashes between Millbrook and Campbellford in the Intermediate O. A. L. A. the visitors went down to defeat with a score of 8-2, in a scheduled game played on the High School grounds here yesterday evening.

Although four penalties were registered against Campbellford, the game was clean and fast, and featured by good combination on both sides, Campbellford had the edge on the play, but Millbrook put up a stiff fight and was saved a big score by the brilliant play of their net keeper, Mazette. Although Campbellford's shots came thick and fast at times they failed to pass the line, Albert Armstrong of Havelock was the referee, and gave decisions that satisfied both teams, who so far have differed over this official.

The line ups were as follows:

Millbrook—Goal, Mazette; point, L. J. Lebarr; cover point, H. Nattress; 1st defence, H. Tait; 2nd defence, N. Chaplen; 3rd defence, H. Gray; centre, F. Donelly; 3rd home, G. Clarke; 2nd home, G. Gray; 1st home, D. Miller; outside home, N. King; inside home, L. W. Ingrim; subs, A. Jeffrey, W. White, E. Richards.

Campbellford—Goal, E. Fox; point, H. McArthur; cover point, V. Cochrane, 1st defence, L. Blake; 2nd defence, T. Little; 3rd defence, L. Bush; centre, S. Flint; 3rd home, O. Hendy; 2nd home, Copperthwaite; 1st home, L. Jack; outside home, F. Ingram; inside home, J. Nesbitt; subs, H. Ingram, W. Blue, M. Reid.

Referee—Albert Armstrong, Havelock.

Harvesters Lead Attack.

The game started with an attack by Campbellford on the visitors' goal, which resulted in H. Ingram scoring from a pass by Jack in the first minute of the game. After this Millbrook put up a strong defence, and the play ranged all over the field. Time and again the Campbellford squad bombarded the Millbrook net, only to be repulsed scoreless, and attacked in return.

H. Ingram and Flint starred for the home team in this period, while King and Nattress for Millbrook kept the Campbellford boys busy.

Calves 300; slow steady to 50 low; bulk good to choice vealers 11.50-12.00; common to medium 7.00-10.00. Sheep 2,500; very little done, indications 50-1.00 lower on lambs: bulk good lambs 9.00; holding some upwards to $9.50; fat ewes steady at 2.50-4.00.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TOROINTO, July 25. — Live stock receipts at the Union Stock Yards yesterday morning were 6 cattle, 53 calves, 65 hogs, 34 sheep and lambs.

The cattle offering consisted of 1,300 holdovers from Wednesday in addition to the half-dozen fresh arrivals. Buyers showed no interest in the stale offering and the only cattle sold up to 11 o'clock was baby beef, selling at 8½ to 10 cents a pound. Prospects are that the bulk of the run will be held over, and that few new cattle will be needed next week. Prices on most classes of killers declined 75 cents to one dollar a hundredweight on the week's trading.

A few calves offered were of fairly good quality, selling from 5 to 8 cents a pound. The market for choice veals was down 2½ cents a pound on the week's trading, closing at 8½ cents, and a very few primes made 9 cents.

Some good lambs closed at 11 cents a pound, culls and bucks closing at 9 cents. There were no sheep in the offering yesterday.

Hogs were selling at Wednesday's bid of 11¼ f.o.b. and 12¼ w.o.c. for bacons.

Bids on the day's offering were a quarter lower.

There were not enough sales to warrant quoting.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 25. — Wheat slipped down fractionally after scoring early gains yesterday. The increased export business, estimated to total 750,000 bushels, could not bring bears into line after the first downturn, and the market closed soft ¼c to ¾c lower.

Outside support was limited and buying in the pit was the lightest in weeks. This was despite reports of continued dry, warm weather on the Prairies and extensive damage by rust to the West's crops.

Spreads on cash wheat were about 1 cent better at the close after No. 6 wheat had showed a gain of 2½ cents. Demand for the cash product was generally good. Coarse grains closely followed wheat's trend.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 25. — New Zealand buter began to come into prominence again on the local dairy and produce markets yesterday, although prices held steady. Expectations of heavy arrivals at Halifax over the week-end, totalling some 5,880,000 pounds made the local dealers uneasy. Some of this will be shipped to England however although the exact quantity is unknown. The local prices were unchanged at from 28¼c to 28½c a pound.

The cheese market continued to have a weak undertone. Ontario cheese was quoted at 16¾c and Quebec at 16¼c a pound. The egg market ruled steady and potatoes were unchanged at $1.50 per 80 pound bag for local stock. Poultry was unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 25. — In the face of depressing reports of Russia doing a big export business in wheat, grain values showed a fresh upward trend yesterday. Corn scored a maximum jump of nearly 2 cents, finishing at about the day's top level, with complaints of widespread damage to the corn crop the main influence. Statements were current that Russia has sold nearly 4,000,000 bushels of new wheat for August shipment to various European countries, the price to be governed by quotations on the October delivery.

Corn up ¾ to 1⅞ Cents.

Corn closed unsettled ¾c to 1⅞c a bushel higher than Wednesday's finish. Wheat closed nervous, unchanged to ⅝c up; oats, unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions varying from 2c decline to a rise of 5c.

OBITUARY

MRS. HARRY REID.

STIRLING, July 25.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral service of Fannie Buchanan, beloved wife of Henry Reid, was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon. The church was filled to capacity with people desirous of showing their respect for the deceased who was very highly respected during her lifetime.

The Rev. Robert Simpson of Woodville, a former pastor, conducted the service, owing to the absence of the Rev. A. N. Reid. Over fifty members of the L.O.B.A. of Stirling and other places attended in a body and had charge of the service at the graveside.

HA! A BLESSING

VIENNA, July 25—For those who don't like their neighbor's attempt at playing a piano, it is suggested that one of the new pianos brought forth here be bought for him. It is a silent piano. The player wears special headphones which are connected to the instrument. When the player pounds the keys he can hear himself, but no one else can hear him.

CANOE TRIPS IN CANADA.

Canada, with its innumerable lakes, rivers and streams, renders accessible to the canoeist vast areas of country possessing unequally beauty. Away from the main waterways, winding through tree-shaded rivers, where fish are in abundance, negotiating rapids and camping over night under cover of the forest, the angler or sportsman is afforded a most delightful experience.

As a guide to those planning such a trip, the Department of the Interior at Ottawa has prepared a series of four booklets, entitled "Canoe Trips," covering the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and Western Canada. The booklets contain information concerning a selection of trips, giving in each case the total mileage and approximate time required to complete the journey.

Copies of the booklets can be obtained from the National Development Bureau of the Department of the Interior, at Ottawa, upon receipt of particulars as to the area in which the applicant is interested. They are well worth sending for in the opinion of The Examiner.

THE FINAL MESSAGES.

The elector who wants to hear the last words in the Dominion election campaign and to listen to the final arguments of the two leaders can do it to-morrow night if he is willing to sacrifice a little time and to test his powers of endurance.

First, Mr. Bennett, the Conservative leader, will be heard in his concluding platform speech, from Ottawa between 8 and 10 p.m.

Then Premier King will get his opportunity, and for the next two hours will present over the air his final message to the Canadian people.

Following this, Mr. Bennett will broadcast his last words of the campaign over an extensive hook-up.

The electors have thus an unique opportunity of listening to the concluding messages of this long drawn out political battle, and of a Sunday to think them over and digest them before going out on Monday to mark their ballots.

Probably by this stage in the campaign most people have decided how they are going to vote, but at all events the marathon of broadcasting on the last night will be a good test of the influence of the radio as a factor.

USE YOUR FRANCHISE.

The composition of the Government which will conduct the affairs of this country for the next four or five years is surely a matter of the greatest importance to every citizen of this city—of this country.

If any one were to attempt to prevent the people from expressing an opinion on that question there would be an immediate uprising, and, strangely enough, the most vehement objections would come from those electors who usually leave the voting to somebody else or who have to be literally dragged out to the polls.

They would be the first to resent any endeavor to disenfranchise them, and yet they, through their own carelessness and indifference, disenfranchise themselves.

Voting is one of the most important responsibilities and privileges of Canadian citizenship, and the elector who is alive to the least sense of what is involved would not willingly line up with the political slackers whose policy is "Let George do it," and then when George has done it, to spend the next four years complaining about the faults of the Government that may happen to be in power.

Citizens of Peterborough should make use of their franchise on Monday, remembering that only fifteen times in a lifetime of over eighty years are there opportunities given to vote in a federal election.

ANOTHER VETERAN GONE.

Peterborough citizens generally heard with a sense of deep regret and personal loss the intelligence yesterday of the death of John J. Hartley, one of the city's oldest and most esteemed residents.

"Johnnie" Hartley had lived all his life—a span of eighty-three years—in this community, and his gentle nature and many estimable qualities had earned him the liking and confidence of the legion of citizens who knew and respected him.

In his own occupation, as a contractor, as a labor man, as a member of the Council, as a church man, Mr. Hartley during his whole lifetime worked for the good of this community, and his death will cause general sorrow in many circles in Peterborough.

Particularly will he be remembered by the fact that for a quarter of a century he was the president of the Liberal Association in this city, a position to which he devoted himself with deep zeal and keen interest.

And it is characteristic of him that despite that zeal and interest he always enjoyed the regard and respect of those who differed with him politically, a condition that tells more eloquently than anything else could do of the splendid personality of Mr. Hartley.

Peterborough in his death has lost a faithful and loyal citizen whose passing means a gap in the fast dwindling ranks of the veterans of the community.

THE LITTLE PEOPLE OBJECTED.

If Solomon were alive and well to-day he might possibly be of some service at a Chicago hospital in deciding the ownership of two babies there. But come to think of it this case is more complex in a way than the one Solomon dealt with, for in his day there was but one child and two claimant mothers. In the Chicago case there are two children, two sets of fathers and mothers, doctors, specialists, nurses and what not.

It came this way: Babies Bamberger and Watkins were born in the same hospital on the same day. The custom is to stick some sort of a label on the child with the name inscribed thereon. This system, we imagine, they secured from the manner in which a man gets a ticket when he checks his hat and walking stick at a hotel dining-room.

Some days after when Mother Bamberger was bathing her child she saw that the label read "Watkins," and likewise Mother Watkins found "Bamberger" on the ticket attached to her child. Hospital said there was an error in plastering the labels on the wrong children, and asserted that each mother had the right child. Just wash off the labels and forget about it, was the advice.

But no. Parents wanted the thing made as plain as mud to them. So yesterday they had Dr. Emil Deutch, ophthalmologist on hand. His business was to squint into the eyes and use a strong light in so doing. Babies Bamberger and Watkins each own blue eyes; both little ones cried when Deutch was tinkering around; they didn't seem to like him at all.

Then came Dr. White, specialist in dermatology, who used a powerful glass to examine the skin. Peaches and cream was the verdict in both cases, and again the little Bamberger wailed and the little Watkins wept.

Dr. H. R. Fishback, pathologist, using the photometric system, swiped a drop of blood from each child and hastened away to see if his skill were sufficient to determine parentage. Once more little Bamberger and little Watkins howled. They couldn't see any fun in the performance at all.

That had not exhausted the list. There were Dr. Hellis, obstetrician, Dr. Von Bonin, anatomist, and F. Watzek, who made prints of fingers and feet.

What a day for little Bamberger and little Watkins! Look at that list, opthalmologist, dermatologist, pathologist, obstetrician, anatomist, and finger print sleuth —sticking needles in them, squinting at them, tickling them. No wonder little Bamberger and little Watkins cried, wept, wailed, kicked and protested. — Stratford Beacon-Herald.

PROFESSIONAL SECRECY.

Shot by a police officer in Buffalo, Albert Skurtis died at the General Hospital here, and the jury at the inquest went on record as disapproving the action, or lack of action, on the part of the man's medical attendants in not notifying the police that there was some one lying dangerously ill in hospital with a bullet wound. The disapproval of the jury was prompted by the best of motives, we have no doubt, but its rider will have little effect upon the future actions of members of the medical profession, for the simple reason that the question, "Should a doctor tell?" has been debated times out of number and a general policy agreed upon by the profession, after deep thought and consideration. "A physician is not a detective," Dr. F. W. Bowman, president of the Hamilton Medical Society, is credited with saying, apropos of the Skurtis case, and the doctor might have supported his attitude by quoting clause 2 of chapter A of the code of ethics of the Ontario Medical Association, which is the ethical code of the Canadian Medical Association also.

This clause runs as follows: "Every case committed to the charge of the physician should be treated with serious attention and humanity. Reasonable allowance should be made for the mental infirmities and caprices of the sick. Secrecy and delicacy when required by peculiar circumstances should be strictly observed, and the familiar and confidential intercourse to which physicians are admitted in their professional visits should be used with discretion and with the most scrupulous regard to fidelity and honor. The obligation of secrecy extends beyond the period of professional services. No circumstances connected with the privacies of personal or domestic life, no infirmities of disposition or stain of character, observed during professional attendance, should ever be divulged by the physician, except when he is imperatively required to do so. So reasonable and necessary is this obligation that, under certain circumstances, the physician's observance of secrecy is protected by courts of justice." A little consideration will show that an undertaking of this nature is bound up with a doctor's duties. What is learned in confidence must be treated as confidential. The duty of a doctor is to cure his patient. How is he to cure him if the patient dare not ask for medical aid?

A man in the discharge of his professional duties should not be called upon to be an informer. If a man is a doctor, a banker, a lawyer, a priest (using the word in its widest sense), an income tax collector, if he is in any position where he must necessarily be made the confidant of individuals who would not consult him otherwise, he cannot lightly betray that trust. No man of honor would do so. We recall the case which occurred somewhere in the United States where a woman, affected by the eloquence of an evangelist, went to him and confessed to the murder of her father. Her confidant immediately informed the police. The evidence of the crime was sought for and discovered, and the woman arrested. The evangelist was roundly condemned by other evangelists, because he had broken a sacred trust, and in the circumstances they were right in condemning him. He should have striven to keep her conscience awake, led her to make her own confession to the police and not acted like an amateur stool-pigeon. There are times when confidence cannot be kept without serious injury to others, and in these cases the duty of the confidant is to so inform the person whose guilty secret they have learned in the case of their professional duties, and which they never otherwise would have learned.—Hamilton Spectator.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Vote as you like, but vote. And remember election day is Monday, July 28th.

One thing is certain about this election and that is that a lot of political prophets will not be able to say, "I told you so," when the returns are all in on Monday night.

The campaign will wind up with a riot of radio broadcasting. But until television becomes general we won't be able to see the fist fights that sometimes develop.

Somebody put nails in the tire of Hon. R. B. Bennett's automobile. That was one occasion when protection failed to save the Conservative leader.

The Quebec Government is able to report a surplus of $4,269,686 for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930. Liquor sales were responsible for $8,560,791 of the total revenue.

Long engagements are better. The man kkept waiting for years doesn't mind so much when he's kept waiting forever after.

The chief difficulty in establishing parity is the fact that a fleet is no stronger than the man in charge of it.

Port Credit has a murder mystery of first importance on its hands. There is an opportunity here for some good sleuth work.

At any rate not during this weather does civic relief have to extend to the supply of hard coal.

Warned About Riots

Former Premier Nahas Pasha of Egypt, leader of the Wafdists, the most powerful political party in the country. Nahas Pasha has been warned by Sir Percy Lorraine, High Commissioner for Egypt, that the British Government would hold him responsible if foreign lives and interests were endangered.

What To-day Means To You.

If July 25 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. and 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The signs on this date indicate there should be "a feast of reason, a flow of soul"—the best that is in you will yearn for expression. All may not be smooth sailing, however, and impediments may mark the eleventh hour.

The child born on this date will be of a domestic temperament, affectionate, bright and cheerful. It will develop into a most capable person, who will win through its determination and energy. It will readily make friends.

Your famine-like crop of "wild oats" will be sown, if at all, at an early age. You soon will shed your vain illusions, and will bury many of your false gods. You never will be tempted or trapped by the tinsel and mock jewels of life. Nature will be your teacher, and from her you will learn your real values.

The lilt of a thrush, the sleepy chitter of birds at evening, or the blush of a wild rose, will mean more to you every year. The artificialities, after which many people chase in vain quest of happiness, will mean less and less to you as the years advance.

Your life is not a mimicry: you are more of an individualist than are most people. Your thoughts are not always someone else's opinions redished to the public as your own. You do not talk about things about which you know nothing. There is so little of the hypocrite, or the snob about you, that you are almost a hundred per cent. sincere.

Your straight from the shoulder, face to face thrusts are so much better than jabs in the back. You have your choice selection of friends who "speak your own language," but universally, you love everybody. You never seek the shadowy lanes of life. You are neither a slave to your work, nor under the dominance of your pleasures.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 24.

"Hello, Miguel, you great big lovely knockout," Burney saluted his enemy, as the truck halted. "How's everything over at Los Osos, where you hole up?"

"Not quite as fine as I should like it, Senor Burney," Gallegos replied smilingly. "I thought you told me you would give me ample notice of the date of your arrival, in force, in El Cajon Bonita. Is this one of your Yankee tricks?"

"Not at all, my dear bandit, not at all. I told you I'd give you notice of the day I was due in El Cajon to argue with your assumption of proprietary rights in the land and cattle owned by the Bardin Land & Cattle Company. This isn't my day for arguing. Like your amiable self I am not quite ready."

"Still, like all gringos, you are not afraid to take a chance, no?"

"You read me like a paper. But I'm not looking for a fight to-day, Gallegos. In military language, I'm merely making a reconnaissance."

"You are a very astute young man, Burney. I have for you a great admiration. It is too bad you are so headstrong."

He lifted his sombrero courteously and drove on and Burney's convoy continued on up the valley to a spot which he had, on his first lone trip into El Cajon Bonita, selected because of its natural advantages for defensive warfare. To the north the encircling hills, rocky and covered with a scrubby growth of pinon pine, cedar and giant cactus, converged to a pass perhaps two hundred yards wide, and through this pass a trail led to an arid plain beyond —a plain that stretched to the international boundary.

About a thousand yards south of this pass a barranca ran east and west for three-quarters the width of the valley which at this point was about a mile wide. South of this barranca the valley commenced to widen and stretched away for miles in an unobstructed view. Due to the rocky nature of the surrounding hills and the impassability of the growth on them, a flank attack was so remote as to be scarcely considered. An attack from the south would have to be across open and level terrain, entailing terrific losses under the calm and accurate rifle fire of the El Ranchito cowboys, while the same fire concentrated on the mouth of the narrow pass, where the enemy would necessarily be bunched when emerging, in the event of an attack from the north, would be equally murderous.

Even if the enemy succeeded in emerging intact he still had a thousand yards of open country to cover before getting to close quarters with Burney's men crouched in the barranca, a natural trench. Burney believed he could beat off very handily an attack in considerable force from either direction and thus have open to him two avenues of retreat.

At his order his men picked their way down the banks of the barranca at a shallow spot and the trucks crossed, turned at right angles and parked, at intervals, along the north bank of the barranca. Then the stock was unloaded by means of a ramp, led down into the barranca and made to stand, in bunches of six, a truck forming excellent protection for each bunch in the event of an attack from the south, in force—an attack that might not be repulsed—the animals could be mounted and screened by the trucks, a retreat could be made through the pass to the north. Should a party of the enemy be encountered in the pass Burney depended upon a spirited pistol charge to disperse it. At any rate the enemy would have no advantage in choice of ground, and a meeting engagement, Ken Burney knew, is usually won by the side that exhibits neither surprise nor consternation but charges instantly, regardless of the odds.

The battleground was far from being as advantageous as he could wish, but it was the best to be had and in such circumstances a good soldier never grumbles.

A few minutes after their arrival they were joined by Senor De Haro, his chauffeur and the two officers of rurales. In the tonneau of his car the 'jefe politico' had two machine guns, with ammunition for each, and while the El Ranchito men were packing the guns and ammunition on the pack mules, Burney and the 'jefe politico' mounted and rode off to the base of the range of hills directly east. Here Burney located a secret nest for the gun. It was well screened by the scrubby growth but offered a clear sweep down the barranca to the west, as well as commanding literally the open country both north and south.

A pack mule arrived presently and a gun, still boxed, and a supply of ammunition was cached there.

Across the valley Senor De Haro and Burney rode to the western flank where they established another machine gun nest. Then Burney made two neat and accurate panoramic sketches of both gun positions, designating distinguishing landmarks, and gave both sketches to the 'jefe politico,' who, after studying them, decided that any fool with their aid would have no difficulty discovering the hidden guns.

Meanwhile the cook had prepared the mid-day meal at the chuck wagon and when the men had eaten, Burney sent one rider north into the pass and another far down the valley, with instructions to ride back and give warning of the approach of any hostile party. Then, leaving Tom Bledsoe in charge of the garrison, he, with Senor De Haro and six men, rode out into El Cajon Bonita, seeking the calves Burney had photographed on his first trip. As fast as these were found and identified by the photographs, the men roped and hog-tied the animals, while Burney and the 'jefe politico' examined them for brands, earmarks and twenty-five-cent pieces under the hide of the inner side of the left front leg.

After locating twelve twenty-five-cent pieces on calves with split tongues, each calf bearing the brand and earmark of Martin Bruce, Senor De Haro decided he had secured sufficient proof for his purposes, and the party returned to the camp.

"The evidence is sufficient to convict that fellow Bruce in any court in Mexico," Senor De Haro assured Burney. "The first time he crosses the international boundary we will endeavor to stop this illegal practice. There is nothing, however, to connect Miguel Gallegos with these cattle thefts. We must catch him in the act, and he is a sly fellow. He sends others to do his dirty work."

"We'll catch the others and perhaps they will confess. However, before that happens, I have a suspicion Miguel Gallegos will convict and punish himself. He will call upon me to-morrow — in force. However, do ont worry. I can handle a force of five hundred if necessary. I will keep my horse secreted in the mesquite on top of yonder hill, and if it seems we may be overcome, your excellency can crawl down the barranca to the hill, mount, be in Huachita in two hours and return with two troops of 'rurales' three hours later. A demonstration in his rear will drive Gallegos off and I can hold him indefinitely. However, I do not think there will be any fighting to-morrow."

"You expect, however, to receive a definite ultimatum, Senor Burney?"

"I do."

"I will wait here and listen to it."

Always cautious, Burney put out a line of outposts that night, relieving them at two-hour intervals. At nine o'clock next morning a lookout on the hill to the east reported a cloud of dust advancing from the direction of Los Osos; within half an hour it revealed some two hundred mounted men, who came steadily up the valley, halted a mile away and fanned out into a skirmish line, thus bottling the men of El Ranchito in El Cajon Bonita.

Presently, from the waiting column a man galloped out. Waving a white handkerchief he rode straight to the Burney camp and pulled up at the edge of the arroyo, over the crest of which peeped thirty-one heads and as many rifles. The man was Miguel Gallegos and Ken Burney stood in the open, awaiting him.

"I have called, as I promised I would, Senor Burney," Gallegos announced pompously.

"What for, thou!" Burney spoke in purest Spanish; in his use of the solemn style he was enabled to express the most withering contempt for Gallegos.

"To bid thee begone, animal, before I overwhelm thee and leave thy bones and those of thy men for the coyotes to gnaw."

"Braggart! By what authority do you bid me withdraw? Is not El Cajon Bonita the legal property of my employer? Has he not a deed to it, duly recorded? And are not these cattle his, even though I observe that the brand of Martin Bruce is as prevalent as that of the Double B?"

"I know nothing of Martin Bruce and his brand. I am not interested. But it is a fact that everywhere the gringo has acquired the lands of the people by debauching the public servants of Mexico. The people have been robbed, by you rich Yankees, of their inherent rights and now I, as the defender of those rights, declare the title of El Cajon Bonita to be invalid, having been obtained in fraud; I do declare this land which your Senor Bardin claims forfeit to the people, together with all cattle thereon, and warn you that if you persist in presenting you claim contrary to that of the citizens of Mexico, I, Miguel Gallegos, will destroy you."

"But this isn't my day to be destroyed, thou monkey. Nor is it thy day to attempt the destruction."

"I destroy when I will," Gallegos replied grandly.

"And to-day is the day?"

Gallegos nodded. "To-day is the day."

"Very well. Get back to your men and let's see what sort of fight a bandit can put up. I had completed the business that brought me here. I came to brand our calves, but Martin Bruce has already run his iron on them, so there doesn't appear to be any work for my men to do. However, since a fight we must have sooner or later, I prefer it now, because I'm ready for it. Fly at it, Mike. Go, and quickly, thief, murderer, braggart!"

This last speech Burney made in English, for the benefit of his men. Miguel Gallegos promptly turned his horse and galloped back to his force, which [illegible] Bledsoe [illegible] Tom Burney called. "Two hundred and ten, all mounted."

"Why, this is just going to be old home week for us, Tom." Then to his men: "We have here three officers of the Mexican government who will witness that, in the pursuit of our legal business, we were attacked by this bandit and defended ourselves. Fan out along the barranca, men, and leave plenty of room for bullets to pass between files. Get good firing positions, with as much shelter as possible. Fire from under any low bushes you find along the bank, and when they advance within range I will give the range and the order to commence firing. Each man will repeat the order and relay it. You will then fire at will and don't be in a hurry.

"Pick your target carefully. Don't try for the riders. Topple the horses and pay particular attention to the flank riders. Gallegos will throw out a long thin line and, while his centre presses forward his flanks will attempt to get around us and charge us from the rear. I'm certain he'll attempt to envelop us."

London will need, in the next few years, about 20 aerodromes, says Sir Alam Cobham, the famous airman.

GIANT LOBSTER FOUND IN RIVER

10 MILES FROM SEA

PORTLAND, Me., July 25—And here is THE patriarch of crustaceans. —Length 42 inches, weight 24 pounds.

When Russell Lane and Lansing Bryer, of Back Narrows, pulled this monster lobster from their pots in the Damariscotta River, they certainly jumped right into the record holders of this port. Russell and Lansing have been on the short end of Lady Luck most of this season and they were certainly glad to be given something to talk about when the "boys" gathered on the wharves to tell of their experiences.

They said they caught the old boy just above Fort Island, where there is a large scallop bed and opined that inasmuch as he was 10 miles from the open sea he must have been living on scallops for the last eight or nine years.

A specimen of this sort must of a necessity have a name and following the lead of the elements, which had affixed a score of barnacles and mussels on the old relic's back, "Barnacle Bill" he became. In case there might be some to doubt the fishermen's story "Barnacle Bill' was shipped away to be mounted and from now on he will grace the front window of a local fish market.

Voice of the People

Letters to be printed in the Voice of the People column must be received at The Examiner Office on the day before it is desired to have them published.

1896 AND NOW.

To the Editor.

Sir,—From the platform a few evenings ago it was proclaimed that the farmers had received a "Black Eye" as a result of low prices of their products, due to legislation A comparison might not be amiss.

Take the decade 1886 to 1896. Eggs were sold by the farmers at 8c per dozen, to-day they sell for 27c. Butter was sold at 10c and 12c, to-day 27½c. Cheese was sold for 11c, to-day 16½c to 18c. Bacon hogs sold for $3.85 per cwt., to-day $9.75. Hay sold from $6.00 to $8.00 per ton, to-day $15.00. Oats sold at 22c, to-day 46c. Live finished beef sold for 4c per pound, to-day $9.25 to $11.25 per cwt.

Laborers breaking stones on a huge stone pile on Water Street, at $3.00 per cord, breaking 1½ cords per week. Men were working on the canal at 9c per hour. Teams at 25c per hour, to-day on the county roads laborers get 30c per hour, and teams 60c per hour.

If the present prices leave the farmer with one black eye, he must have had both eyes full of tears from 1886 to 1896.

Hon. Mr. Ferguson and T. P. Lancaster, Esq., M.P.P., assured the East Riding electors that if they were elected, and the report of the meetings where those promises were made wer under the pictures of those gentlemen, that the following would be built right away: A trunk road from Norwood to Clarina; a highway from Lakefield to Peterborough, a trunk road from Havelock to the Burleigh Road; a highway from Peterborough East to pass on through Hastings County East. Those gentlemen also declared a surplus for 1929 of over two millions, and we are patiently waiting to see those roads built and that surplus used to relieve unemployment. They have had nine months since election, summer half gone, and winter again approaching, when may we expect relief from that source.

Yours truly,

ROBERT EDWARDS,
R. R. 6.

THE BREAD QUESTION.

To the Editor of The Examiner.

Sir,—I notice the Local Council of Women has introduced the bread question which is a timely topic to discuss at the present time.

It may seem peculiar that the farmer has not mentioned this subject before, but the farmers have been called the silent throng, generally the last to speak on any subject and then they have very little to say in general and not much in particular.

However, as the women folks have started the row and knocked the chip off our shoulder, so to speak I would be obliged if some man of letters, a banker, miller, baker or politician, would answer to the satisfaction of the farmer, just this one question: "How is it that a farmer some years ago took a bushel of wheat to the miller and brought back 40 pounds of flour besides some bran and shorts?

"This forty pounds of flour is said to make 40 loaves of bread which sells back to the farmer for 11 cents a loaf, making a total of $4.40 returns for less than $1.00 invested in the bushel of wheat."

Well, a negro on the farmer's market with a banjo one day sang a song entitled "That's Where My Money's Gone," thus making the suggestion as to where the difference of $3.40 on a bushel of wheat is going to. Surely with our swift delivery system and modern machinery the farmer coul dbe allowed more than $1.00 a bushel for wheat.

The framer is thinking seriously these days along the line of an adjustment of prices on bread and other wares. One writer suggests using a substitute to bring down the price of bread, but does not make any suggestions as to what could be used to take the place of bread, which is called the staff of life.

In conclusion, the farmer has no substitute to offer. Wild berries are a failure, and the apple crop is not very promising, but we have read about an old king eating grass for a season, which would make the most convenient substitute for a farmer at the present time.

AN OLD HAYSEED.

INVENTS SHORTHAND

LONDON, July 25—It has recently been brought to notice that Dr. Timothy Bright, physician at St. Bartholomew's Hospital in 1588, was the inventor of the modern shorthand system. A patent was granted to him which licensed him to "teache, imprynte and publishe, or cause to be taughte, imprynted and published in or by characters not before this time commonly knowne and used by any other oure subjects."

Germany and Rumania have just signed a provisional commercial agreement.

TRADING SLUMPS TO LOW LEVELS ON WALL STREET

Bull Forces Content to Let Market Ride on Sluggish Current To-day.

PRICE TREND UNCERTAIN.

Moderate Trickle of Investment Buying Makes Appearance This Week.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 25 (C.P.)—Bull forces were content to rest on their oars and let the stock market drift on the extreme sluggish currents of speculative activity to-day.

Trading slumped to around the lowest levels of the past two years. Price trends fluctuated uncertainly and were for the most part narrow and inconsequential. Support was provided for most pivotal shares, and the market as a whole maintained a steady to firm tone most of the time.

A moderate trickle of investment buying has come into the market in the past few days, but on the whole, the public responses to rather widely disseminated buying recommendations of two large commission houses has been anything but impressive.

Bulls were inclined to feel from [illegible] maintain a sustained advance, and a cautious attitude has become rather general. Several important banking interests regard this as a healthy attitude for they feel that a runaway market might result in a repetition of early summer crash. Further unselling business confidence.

Radio and General Electric were active features, but failed to make headway. U. S. Steel was well supported at moderate concessions from yesterday's close and General Motors held fairly steady. Westinghouse and American dropped a couple of points after meeting fair support during the earlier hours of trading. Auburn was a soft spot, losing a few points.

LABOR RELATIONS ARE DISCUSSED

Harmony of Official Policies of Two Bodies Is Stressed.

DRAW UP FORMULA.

LONDON, England, July 25 (C.P. Cable). — The National Executive of the Labor Party and the Administrative Council of the Independent Labor Party met in the House of Commons to-day to discuss the relations of the two bodies. It is stated that both sides were entirely satisfied with the results of the conference, which tended to emphasize the harmony of the official policies of the two bodies.

It was decided that Right Hon. Arthur Henderson, representing the National Executive of the Labor Party, and James Maxton, chairman of the Administrative Council of the Independent Labor Party, should meet and draw up formula with which the two organizations can work together in the future.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Recently, Ford of Canada has been more than firm on Toronto Stock Exchange, improvement being co-incident with that in the general motor group in Wall Street. Despite the fact that production has been greatly curtailed this year with consequent reduction in earnings a more optimistic viewpoint is being taken regarding motor shares. One reason for this is that the industry has been house-cleaning and is really in a better position now for new business than it was a year ago. According to a private wire from New York, one of the leading executives in the motor industry will discuss the current situation throughout next Tuesday. He will show that whereas General Motors in 1929 produced 73,000 cars more than it sold to dealers, in 1930 production was 63,000 less than it sold to dealers. Thus dealers have sold more cars than they have received—in other words, there has been a general house-cleaning, inventories in the hands of the middleman have been greatly reduced. As a further step in this direction, stocks in the hands of the consumer or the second-hand dealer are to be reduced. Four hundred thousand obsolete and unfit cars were destroyed by various manufacturers during the next 12 months. A reserve of $15,000,000 will be set up against this wholesale slaughter of the unfit and unsounding for the industry as a whole it will be $15,000,000 well spent.

Each day's news brings many reassuring messages to shareholders of Canadian corporations.

Reports of increased earnings, sales improvement and optimistic remarks by executives have been appearing for weeks to offset the feeling of depression created through the words of the politicians in trying to further their interests in the Federal election. To-day shareholders of the National Steel Car Co. are presented with a financial statement covering the year ended June 30 1930, showing a remarkable increase in earnings per share from $2.78 in the 1928-1929 fiscal period to $6.83 in the 1928-1930 fiscal period. President H. Sailor of Canada Dry writes telling shareholders that the profit for the quarter ended June 30 was the best in history and mentions increased volume of business at the Edmonton plant, making it necessary for the erection of a larger building in that city. W. D. Boyd, president of Dominion Alloy Steel Corporation, is quoted as stating business of his company for the past three months has shown a 20 per cent. increase. News of the awarding of large construction contracts to English Electric Co. of Canada, Canadian General Electric, Canadian Westinghouse, and Disher Steel Construction is to be found in the day's exhibits. For weeks past the same story has been told of progress made by Canadian industry that is helping to chase pessimism and create a better feeling of optimism.

BIDGOOD MINE ORGANIZATION RAPIDLY ASSUMING OUTLINES

Expected Something Definite Will Be Arranged by the End of August.

MORE MINING NEWS.

TORONTO, July 25 (Special to The Examiner).—Anyone who has visited the northern mining districts knows how dearly the residents like an argument on mining. A man of the old-timers would undoubtedly sooner engage in arm-chair "mining" than eat. According to recent visitors, however, mining is "out" as a subject of discussion, having been replaced in the usual wholehearted manner by elections. Almost every corner is said to have its soap-box orator who has just as definite ideas on the outcome of the election fight as he ever had on the possibility of finding ore on the other side of a dyke, and opinions differ just as widely and as emphatically. Perhaps this would explain the rather drastic dearth of reports of new "finds" at the big mines noticeable at present. Yesterday's strength in Mining Corp. was generally attributed to the announcement of the interest taken in Abana, though why this should affect the price was something of a mystery. A report received to-day, however, would provide a better explanation for it is understood a new silver and cobalt find has been made on the company's properties, the importance of the discovery and its location—whether in Cobalt or South Lorraine—has not been established, but some say it may be the deciding fixture in continuing operations at either one of these mines.

Word around town is that the organization of Bidgood is rapidly assuming outlines and that something definite will have been arranged by the end of next month. Bidgood is one of those tantalizing propositions where results continue to warrant further exploration and yet fail to justify production. Pointing out the high dividend return made by Premier Gold at present market levels and the fact the company has made disbursements every year since 1921 at a rate of not less than 24 cents a share, a New York brokerage house is inviting inquiries concerning the speculative opportunities in this stock. Premier has been considered a liquidating proposition for some time, but recent news of development on other properties in which is interested has renewed interest in the stock apparently.

MARKETS WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

Price Changes Continue as Usual During To-day's Trading.

ON TORONTO CURB

TORONTO, July 25 (CP).—Since Canadian markets have decided to recess on Saturday, to-day's session mark the final for this week.

The first two hours it was uneventful, merely another long drag like preceding days. There was some bidding for City Dairy with the result the stock rose from 60 to 62 but outside this one issue the market remained stationary.

Price fluctuations of ¼ and ½ of a point meant nothing one way or the other, in hardly any case was there a variation of more than a quarter of a point. Nickel and Brazilian were each off ⅛, the former selling at 24½, the latter at 39½. Ford was unchanged. The oils were just where they left off last night. Massey-Harris returned to its former figure of 26, after having risen fractionally above the level.

H. SIFTON BRANDS FERGUSON ENEMY

Would Even Destroy Confederation to Serve Personal Ends Speaker Says.

WARNS YOUNG CANADIANS.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., July 25 (C.P.)—"Premier Ferguson is disloyal to Canada, an enemy to international good-will, an enemy to the citizens of both United States and Canada, and willing to go to the length of destroying Confederation itself in seeking to serve the personal ends of his unworthy friends," was the accusation levelled by Harry Sifton when he spoke over the radio from Brockville last night, criticizing the Ontario Premier's statement that he would not consent to the Governmen dealing with Provincial property in international negotiations.

"I am sure that a careful examination of Mr. Ferguson's personal record and letters would produce a matter of great public interest and some entertainment," Mr. Sifton went on. "But he may remain secure in the knowledge that we are not going to adopt the method of the gangster. Any mistakes he may have committed in the past will not be held against him unless they have a direct and constructive bearing upon public matters under discussion."

Mr. Sifton declared that "Mr. Ferguson seeks to prove from my letter to Insull that I sought to injure Canadian interests by seeking capital from Insull with which to develop the Ottawa River upon the terms of the Georgian Bay Charter." Commenting on this, Mr. Sifton issued a word of warning to "young Canadian business men travelling through the United States seeking financial aid for legitimate enterprise in Canada, "to say as few words as possible, and exercise caution regarding even the most innocent letter."

PRICE MOVEMENTS CONTINUE SMALL

TORONTO, July 25 (CP).—Only an unusually few stocks were turned over on the mining market in the early period, the majority of issues failing to receive even passing attention. Price movements, where they did occur, were confined to a few points, and showed a slightly easier tendency.

International Nickel and Noranda were both off at mid-day, the former showing a net loss from last night at 40 at $24.35 and the latter down a quarter to $23.75. Arno dropped a fraction to 6, and other base metals were stationary.

Barry Hollinger was the only gold to receive any concentrated attention, the stock moving up another 2½ to 19. Oriole and Wright-Hargreaves displayed point-advances but the balance of golds were in the discard.

Acme showed some life in the oils, gaining 4½ to 35. Calmont eased 5 to 90, however, and Ajax and Petro. Oil sustained minor recessions.

REVISED DEATH

devastated northern country a new grief.

Every estimate made by unofficial statisticians in Naples, Benevento, and other points to the death zone fixed the fatalities at not less than 2,240, and one report sent to Rome just before noon to-day said that in the Province of Avellino alone, in which are located the cities of Vill Nova, Lacedonia, Aquilonia Treviso, Ariano, and several other of the hardest hit communities, there were 2,575 dead and 1,315 injured, indicating how many of those caught in their homes in the sudden terrific upheaval were utterly helpless, wiped out probably without a realization of what had happened.

Pressure of emergency work kept scores of government officials at their desks without rest ever since the first alarming reports from the south began to pour into the capital. Premier Mussolini to-day called a council of ministers for Tuesday, the 29th, at ten a.m. at Viminale Palace, where he had remained almost without sleep since Wednesday. The council meetings will occur on his birthday and the thirtieth anniversary of King Victor's accession to the throne of Italy, which jubilee doubtlessly will find the ruler engaged in personally succoring the 'quake victims.

Rescue Work Speeded Up.

Although yesterday's Ariano earthquake occurrence which killed an old lady and injured several other persons increased the fears of the people, rescue work in that area went forward more swiftly to-day because the relief squads had been better equipped and were able to turn over the debris more rapidly to extract the dead and injured.

Minister of Public Works Croll Lanzi reported this forenoon that he had met Under Secretary Leom, Senator Cremonesi, president of the Italian Red Cross, and the military and Fascist Commanders of the zone with the technical experts of his department and that they had proceeded together to Rochetta and had taken charge of the relief and rescue work.

to the unreasonableness of Mr. Bennett's position, the Government was forced to withdraw the measure, with the result that 300 citizens of Canada in that territory will not be able to vote for any party on Monday next."

In these words, Mr. Heenan summed up the anomalous electoral situation under which the Patricia district of Ontario is not included in any riding for Dominion election purposes. Addressing further meetings at Minnitaki and Gunne, the Minister of Labor went fully into the Government's record, claiming little substantial criticism of it has been made by Opposition speakers.

BOND PRICES STEADY TRADING SLACKENS

Uneventful Week Reported in Canadian Bond Circles—Improvement Last Couple of Days.

(Special to the Examiner, Copyright

TORONTO, July 25—Slower trading and a stalemate in prices characterized last week in Canadian bond circles. The buying power which had caused a good advance the previous week was lacking, purchasers evidently having found themselves pretty well loaded before Monday.

A few issues softened as demand subsided. They were almost entirely within the corporation group, not did they indicate real weakness for the section. Rails, provincials, municipals stood still. The foreign market continued unsettled.

The last couple of days the activity picked up but still buying did no more than offset offerings.

New financing was light. The county of York issue for three-quarters of a million floated on a 5 per cent and 4.90 per cent basis was the principal municipal financing. About the only other item of large amount in which Canadians were interested was the Austrian government loan, 7 per cent 1957, for $25,000,000 floated at 95 to yield approximately 7.4 per cent. A small amount of this loan came into Canada from the United States.

APPEAL REFUSED TO GRAND TRUNK

Committee Decides Refusal of Fiat Not Determination of Judicial Officer.

COUNSEL PLEAS IN VAIN.

LONDON, Eng., July 25.—(CP) — The Judicial Committee of the privy Council to-day refused to grant permission for the stockholders of the Grand Trunk Railway to appeal from the decision of the Governor-General in Council of Canada, who has declined to grant the fiat necessary for the presentaton of a petition of right.

Counsel for the stockholders held that the case falls within the jurisdiction of the judicial committee of the Privy Council, and that appeal from the decision was justifiable, since, he contended, the petition for fiat had shown good grounds for action. This view was repeatedly questioned by Lord Dunedin, and their Lordships finally concurred in deciding that the refusal of the fiat was not the determination of a judicial officer and hence that they could not grant permission to appeal.

QUOTA INCREASE ON IMMIGRANTS RAISES PROTEST

NUMBER EXCEEDS BARGAIN.

Hoadley Claims Influx Continuing Despite Ban Placed By Province.

EDMONTON, Alta., July 25.—(C.P.)—Charges that the Dominion government had failed to co-operate with the province in its effort to curb immigration with the consequent aggravation of unemployment conditions in Alberta have been made by Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture. In a public statement the Minster said the influx is continuing in spite of the ban placed on immigration by the Provincial Government and agreed to by Ottawa.

Mr. Hoadley said that in correspondence between himself and Hon. Robert Forke, Dominion Minister of Immigration in 1928, it was agreed Alberta's quota of immigrants for the following year should be 880 British—600 from preferred European countries, and none from the non-preferred countries. Mr. E. Forke had previously suggested 2,000 might be taken from the latter sources, the Agriculture Minister said, but the province asked that this part of the estimate be eliminated entirely.

Actual immigration in 1929, however, was much in excess of these figures, Mr. Hoadley said. When in Ottawa recently, he said, he secured from the Immigration Department the exact statistics on immigrants received in Alberta for that year, which were as follows: British, 4,771; preferred countries, 2,600; non-preferred countries, 3,117; United States, 4,872; a total of 15,300 persons.

For this year, the Alberta Government made known to the Dominion authorities no immigrant from any source would be wanted, said Mr. Hoadley. In accordance with that decision the Government cancelled all arrangement with its office in London to bring over British settlers, and it was generally understood that, on account of the unemployment situation the ban was to be on further immigration until such time as the people here had been provided for.

But the figures again show, stated Mr. Hoadley, that the immigrants have been coming in, despite the ban.

Political disturbances in North China are not affecting Peiping's extensive civic improvement program.

GRAHAM SCORES ONTARIO PREMIER

Senator Says Ferguson's Conduct in Election is "Undignified."

HOODWINKING ELECTORS.

PEMBROKE, Ont., July 25.—(C.P.)—Criticism of Premier Ferguson's entry into the Federal election campaign was made by Rt. Hon. George P. Graham who spoke at Pembroke last night on behalf of Dr. Matthew McKay, Liberal candidate for Renfrew North.

"Undignified," was the description applied by Senator Graham to conduct of Ontario's Premier, who, he said, had stepped out upon the platform because "he could see the people of Ontario slipping away to the banners of Premier King."

He accused Mr. Ferguson of sidestepping the issue of Empire trade and of hoodwinking the electors of Ontario by discussion of the St. Lawrence waterways, unemployment and immigration in which, he maintained, the Ontario Premier did not speak what he really thinks.

No Difficulty in Way.

There was no difficulty in the way of developing power and navigation on the St. Lawrence, he contended, if the four parties concerned, that is, the Canadian and United States' governments, Ontario and New York State, agreed to it. Premier Ferguson had used ownership of the power as a "excuse" to justify his participation in the Federal election.

"I prophesy that if Mr. Ferguson desires it, an agreement will be reached to develop the St. Lawrence within a year," he declared.

SERVICE MOTTO OF J. J. DUFFUS ELECTORS TOLD

Candidate Points to Service He Has Rendered People in Last Four Years.

VISITED FACTORIES.

Record of King Government Has Been Clean Bridgenorth Residents Told.

Referring to a sheaf of letters which he had received from Peterborough manufacturers acknowledging his efforts on their behalf as the government's representative in this riding during the last four years, J. J. Duffus at Bridgenorth last night said that it was most gratifying to him to know his service had been so generally appreciated.

Robt. N. Scott was chairman of the meeting which was also addressed by Dr. A. Moir.

"These letters" said Mr. Duffus, "are a testimony of the fact that although I was defeated in the last election I was able to be of assistance to very many of Peterborough's industries, and indirectly to their employees. May I be permitted to say that they are complimentary to me, and express generous appreciation of my activities in behalf of our industrial concerns during the last four years.

This service is what the people would expect of me in whatever way I could be of help to the factories that are of vital interest to the city of Peterborough and to our entire district. Questions of governmental and tariff regulations as affecting business, the getting of orders, and other similar matters have been referred to me, and it has always been a great pleasure to render all the assistance I could, not only for these companies but also for the workmen. May I add that if I am elected as Peterborough's representative in the Liberal Government I shall be in a far better position to be of service than I have been during the last four years. I might also add that I have also been concerned with some matters of interest to the farmers of the riding. Should I not be elected I shall continue to do my best in every way possible for all the citizens."

Visited the Factories

Mr. Duffus said he had already visited most of the factories and was delighted with the reception that had been accorded him.

"I don't think I should mention at this particular time what some of the managers of the local industries said to me," Mr. Duffus continued, "but I think I may mention one fact that pleased me very much, and that is that Mr. J. H. Vernor, the general manager of the Western Clock Company paid a high tribute to Mr. W. H. Moore, chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board. Mr. Vernor also intimated that the new British Preferential tariff announced this week by the government of New Zealand would mean an increase trade of five per cent by his company in New Zealand."

"During this campaign I have repeated on every platform in the riding my statement that I am entirely in favor of the Dunning Budget and the Liberal policy of seeking an expansion of trade within the Empire. I believe that this policy which has already received unanimous acclaim throughout Great Britain, and which has already been followed in a practical manner by New Zealand and other dominions."

Mr. Duffus also mentioned the fact Great Britain had not renewed its trade arrangement with the Argentine, pending the results of the Economic Conference that will be held in London this fall.

The significance of that announcement was that Britain had no present arrangement with the Argentine to obtain supplies of wheat. The Liberal Government was looking forward with confidence to the expectation that Britain's purchases this year would be from Canada as a result of the realization of the possibilities of Empire trade.

"I have been reported as stating at one meeting that the Wm. Hamilton Company is very busy. That is not quite correct. I did say that the company was advertising in national newspapers for mechanics and has good business in sight."

A Clean Record

Mr. Duffus stated that the Conservative campaigners had been unable to point "the finger of scorn or blame" at the record of the Liberal government from the standpoint of clean and efficient administration, reduction of the national debt, reduction of taxes, successful management of the Canadian National Railways, institution of Old Age Pensions and other beneficial legislation.

The candidate emphasized the fact that of fifteen fiscal surpluses since Confederation seven of them had been accomplished by the King administration during the last seven years. On no platform, said Mr. Duffus had Premier Ferguson endorsed the Canada first and Canada only policy of the Hon. R. B. Bennett.

On a recent visit to the Lakefield Cement Company he had learned that the plant had been very much enlarged and was working twenty-four hours a day, "in spite of the blue ruin predictions of Conservative speakers in the election of 1926."

DR. A. MOIR.

"Let us compare two governments that have been in power for about the same number of years," Dr. Moir said. "The government of Ontario under Howard Ferguson has been conspicuous for its extravagance.

In 1910 the revenue of this province was about $6,000,000 and the public debt was $10,000,000. Mr. Ferguson had a great deal to say about the expenditures by the Drury government, but think of what Mr. Ferguson himself has done. The public debt in 1923 was $265,000,000, but after seven years of the Ferguson government the debt had increased to $426,913,988 and last year Mr. Ferguson added $30,000,000, so that to-day it is about $450,000,000. There is the comparison. The King government reduced the public debt of Canada by $272,000,000 in five years, while the Ferguson government has been piling up the debt of Ontario.

In those seven years the revenue of the province had grown from $34,-110,000 in 1923 to $64,449,000. The taxes of Ontario has practically doubled in the last seven years. Mr. Ferguson may tell you that only $2,000,000 are paid directly in taxes, but if we buy ten gallons of gas and pay a 50 cent tax surely that is just as much a tax as the tax bills we pay. Mr. Ferguson has also passed on to the municipalities the collection of money to help pay for our highways and old age pensions."

Dr. Moir ironically remarked that Premier Ferguson was boasting that he was "standing on guard for the people of Ontario.

"Was Mr. Ferguson guarding the interests of the people of Ontario while 'The Financial Post' was calling attention for two months to the condition of the stock brokerage houses in Toronto. Howard Ferguson did nothing until W. E. N. Sinclair, leader of the Liberal Opposition, publicly called attention to the brokerage conditions. Then Mr. Ferguson splurged around but nothing effective has been done as in Alberta where accused brokers have been tried."

Dr. Moir said that the Ferguson government had done nothing to relieve unemployment, nor had it taken action against the Associated Builders' Council when informed that the "A.B.C." was infringing the Combines Act.

Bennett's Tax Plea.

Dr. Moir said that the Hon. R. B. Bennett had stated that he would abolish the income tax and replace it with a business turn-over tax.

"Mr. Bennett is a millionaire and is said to be worth more than six millions. An income tax of five per cent would amount to $300,000 which Mr. Bennett would escape if this tax were discontinued. But the difference would fall upon the consumers. The King government's plan has been to wipe out the sales tax which is now only one per cent., but it must be clear to the people that Mr. Bennett's idea would be a great benefit to rich people like himself who would not have to pay the income tax now imposed."

"I have this request to make of you," Dr. Moir concluded. "See that every possible vote is polled for Mr. Duffus next Monday. I think we are very fortunate in having him for our candidate. Citizens should have such a regard for their franchise that they will not only do their duty of voting but also that they should go to the polls without having to be sent for. Take these matters to heart at this crucial time. None of us can guess the results which are likely to follow from the Dunning budget and the economic conference that will be held at London this fall.

REPORTS READ OLD HOME WEEK

Much Business Discussed by Directors of Stirling Agriculture Society.

DISTRICT NEWS

STIRLING, July 25.—(Examiner Correspondence).—At a meeting of the directors of Stirling Agricultural Society last Thursday night reports were received regarding the recent "reunion" and old boys and girls get-to-gether days. The finances showed a balance of $400 on the right side which on motion was ordered paid on the indebtedness of the Society. The meeting then considered matters pertaining to the 1930 prize list for the fair. Superintendents were appointed for the different departments, no changes from last year except in garden and roots. J. B. Thompson was named instead of E. J. Pyear, who is president for this year. Joe Wilson announced that the championship school fair would be held in Stirling in conjunction with the Stirling Fair. A request that the annual provincial ploughing match be advertised in the prize list was granted. Provisional copies of the various classes of exhibits received from the Department of Agriculture are to be made suitable to local conditions by superintendents of the different classes and reports made at a future meeting. Committees are to canvass the country for members for the Association, and if the farming community would respond readily they would have the material to make an exhibit of farm products which has not been equalled for several years.

INTEREST OF THE TARIFF BOARD IN WOOLEN AND TEXTILE INDUSTRY TOLD BY W. H. MOORE EX-CHAIRMAN

and the attitudes of the parties. This is a peculiar election. A man can sit at home and listen to political speeches over the radio.

And he will notice, as we all noticed, that there is a note of bitterness and hatred in the Conservative speeches that you do not hear from the Liberals. (Applause).

No Political Disloyalty

"When you hear Mr. Ferguson state that he cannot eat Canadian butter because he can't buy it, that is an exaggeration, and when you hear Mr. Bennett say that we are going to follow the example of Hawaii and become annexed to the United States, that also is an exaggeration and an insult to the United States. There is no disloyalty in Canada, among either party.

"Let us look at the policy that is calculated to serve you best. The year 1929 was the busiest year Canada ever had. We have had a recession of prosperity, but it is just around the corner. I firmly believe that. The Liberal's cannot bring it back by legislational one but it can and will be brought back by the people of Canada who choose a wise policy and a sound administration. And that is what the Mackenzie King government offers you, particularly in regard to tariff-making.

"I enjoyed service on the Tariff Board for over four years and therefore I know something about it and about tariff-making.

"In the Mackenzie King administration, any citizen in the land could write to the Minister of Finance an ordinary letter in which he could state his desire for an upward or downward revision of the tariff. It was then sent to the Tariff Board and a month's notice given to all interested to come and attend the hearing. That was not at all like the old days when the Red Parlour had its one-sided representation.

"Then comes the session to which everyone is admitted, along with the press and a stenographer to take down what is said. There are representatives of those who might favor the change and those who might oppose it. And there is no finality about tariff-making. The matter is never closed until it is settled satisfactorily.

"I will illustrate with one instance: That of the woollen industry. We had a tariff revision two years ago, and that revision was satisfactory, with the exception of one branch of the industry.

"The textile industry is divided into branches; the knitting and the weaving sections. On the whole, the knitting industry can not be helped by further tariff changes.

"In the weaving section, there are the worsted and the woollen department. In Campbellford, you are not interested in the worsteds. In the 1927 revision, the worsted industry was given free yarns for weaving, and not for knitting purposes. Previously the duty had been 12½ per cent and there had been a great many yarns imported with that duty paid on them. That arrangement was opposed at the time by quite a few of the manufacturers. On March 12th last, we had another hearing of yarns at which most of the important woollen and worsted manufacturers were present. And of the worsted manufacturers present, only one was in favor of restoring the duty on worsted yarns. The others, including Percy Hayes and the chairman of the association, David Dick, said that it had benefited their industry. No representation of the association's views was made, as some were on one side and some on the other. Only a few appeared and protested. Eight or nine said that the free yarns had preserved the weaving industry of this country.

Woollen Industry.

"Now for the woollen industry. The woollen industry is not prosperous in Canada. It is not prosperous in the United States nor in the United Kingdom now anywhere, in fact, except Czecho-Slovakia and Italy, where starvation wages are paid and where worthless and inferior cloths are produced.

"At the March hearing, I asked the manufacturers what they thought of a surtax on woollen goods coming into this country and produced from real work wool. In the first place, it would help the farmer. There is no doubt about that, because the Canadian farmer's wool does not go into the worsteds, but does go extensively into the woollens.

"Why was nt that surtax placed upon woollens in the budget? The hearing was in March, but there was no adequate discussion of the suggestion I made, and until the matter is disposed of by legislation, there is no finality to the work of the Tariff Board.

"When I went to Ottawa first, I had a pre-concerted idea about protection that was not altogether favorable. As a result of my experience on the Tariff Board, I have now no theories nor hunches, because that is just what most of these things are; hunches that our fathers had before us. (Applause).

Liberals Go One Better

"What has the Mackenzie King administration to offer us that is better that the National Policy? It is this: to handle the business of a country with the same efficiency that the best private business is handled. Call that a theory, if you like. I believe it is the only way in which to bring back prosperity.

"Apply to the business of the country first a method of investigating facts that give to the public the fullest information so that they may know what you have done: that is a business administration.

"When Mackenzie King is returned, you will see the application of the most revolutionary policy that has ever been applied to tariff-making. The revolutionary part is the human element. That is the yard-stick by which protection is measured. When the cotton people came before us, we went into the business of finding out exactly what portion of a dollar's worth of cotton goes to Canadian labor. About 30 cents went to American labour for the raw cotton and some of the rest of the dollars was made up of depreciation, interest and profit.

"It may be said that is not a new idea, but all Governments do not proceed on this revolutionary basis. We found some startling conditions.

"In one industry that had 25 per cent protection and an annual turnover of $500,000, there were seventeen men employed in the factory, while in Quebec, another industry with 30 per cent protection and a turnover of $800,000 a year employed only fifty men.

"If you will consider the Dunning budget you will see how this item has been regarded and the manufacturers have been told that, if they would have the protection of the Canadian people, they must employ Canadian people. (Applause).

"This budget was framed first in the interests of the people who work with their hands and their brains, in the factories and in the fields.

"And we did not forget the fields. I have talked so much about New Zealand butter that I have almost stopped eating butter on my bread. The situation is simple. We made a treaty with Australia and in 1925 we extended it to New Zealand. Since then we have had a wonderfully good trade arrangement. Every year we have sold more from this country than we bought from it. The Conservatives are very fond of talking about favorable balances of trade. We have had this every year since that treaty and in the seventeen years of the National Policy they had only four years out of the total with a favorable trade balance.

"Yes, we imported butter into Canada. But we imported butter because we found something more profitable to do with out milk. We had changed in a very short time into a nation of milk-drinkers, increasing our demand quickly for fresh milk and fresh milk and fresh cream from 270 pounds to 460 pounds per capita. And we turned it where we could get the most money for it.

"In the past three years, we have had domestic dairy products exported to the United States and imported from New Zealand. It was a very profitable three-way trade. Taking the difference between what our butter fat brought us per pound for export and what we paid for import, we made 10 cents per pound, or $2,-500,00 during the year.

No Profit for Farmers.

"Some of you dairymen will say: 'But I didn't get a cent of it. And you are right. I don't blame our farmers for being alarmed when our imports jumped from 5 to 12 millions in value, because our dairy products were shut out of the United States. When the jump was made the National Dairy Council, a splendid organization, went to the government of Canada and told their story. They protested against the importation and asked for a revision of the butter schedule. Their arguments were good and very convincing and they appealed immensely to the late Mr. Robb, whose constituency in old Quebec represented one of the richest of the dairy centres. He said to them:

"'We have a new system in tariff making. Sometimes the manufacturers come to us, and they say they want an increased duty on things that the farmers buy, and we say: 'Go to the Tariff Board.'"

[illegible] two and one-half years ago, but the National Dairy Council came to the Tariff Board until November of last year, and then they wanted an immediate consideration of their demands. The hearing, after the usual notices had been sent out, and the Christmas holidays were over, was on Jan. 25 of this year. We heard them and it was a case that convinced me and the government that there ought to be a revision of the dairy schedules under the Australian and the New Zealand treaties.

"On the first day of May the dairymen got exactly what they asked for. Could the government have taken a quicker action?

"Now, Mr. Bennett and the Conservatives say that we should cancel the treaty, and the Liberals say 'No. We have had good trade out of it. We cannot cancel it.' The negotiations are going on. They will be successful finally, although New Zealand is a bit angry over them. But they will succeed because they are British as well as we. We are kinsmen. We cannot blast our way into their markets nor can the United States blast their way into our markets.

"Well, prosperity is around the corner. Are you going to woo it back by sending Mr. Bennett to be your leader—sending men whose spirit is demonstrated by the epithets they hurl?

"Will you send Mr. Bennett who will light the way with the fifty-year old candlestick of the National Policy?

"Or will you return to power the best business administration that Canada ever had?"

Bursts of enthusiastic applause followed the conclusion of the address.

A number of men and women occupied seats on the platform, which was attractively decorated with beautiful flowers — hydranges in perfect bloom, some wonderful cactus dahlias, and long branches of gladioli.

W. G. Faulkner

Dealing with the past record of the Mackenzie King Government, Mr. Faulkner discussed the exemption on income introduced by the present administration which was raised from $2,000 to $3,000. He also pointed out that the sales tax, which was 6 per cent in 1923, has now been modified to 1 per cent. "This is a great benefit to those selling goods and," added the speaker, "if Mackenzie King is returned to office I am safe in saying the sales tax will be eliminated entirely."

Reductions in postage rates and the cheque tax, and the fact that the receipts tax and railway ticket tax had been discarded, were called to mind, as also was the fact that by their use the National Debt was greatly reduced.

Dollar at Premium

Mr. Faulkner further called attention to the fact that when Mackenzie King assumed office there was a discount of 15 per cent on the Canadian dollar in the United States and that by the Government's method of doing business our dollar is now worth 100 cents in Canada and is at a premium in the City of New York.

Criticizing a statement made by Rev. W. G. Martin, speaking at a recent meeting in support of Mr. Maybee, in which the speaker had said that it was perfectly outrageous that we are buying Japanese goods and that our trade treaties with other countries were assanine treaties. Mr. Faulkner quoted figures which showed that our exports to the Orient in 1921 amounted to less than two million dollars, while our imports from Japan and China were one and one-half million dollars. Pointing out that our exports to the Orient now amount to $24,000,000 annually as against imports of only three million dollars, the speaker considered these figures indicate a good stroke of business on the part of the Government.

"Mr. Fraser, your candidate, is seeking your support on 28th of July," said the speaker in closing. "He is going to be your representative and all the good things the Mackenzie King Government has been doing in the past are endorsed by Mr. Fraser and he is anxious to help carry on the work so that Canada will be one of the brightest stars of the British Empire."

W. A. Fraser

"I am exceptionally glad the people of Campbellford and district have had the opportunity of hearing Mr. Moore, ex-chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board," said Mr. Fraser, who added that during the past four years he had been active on behalf of Liberal and Conservative friends. "I have been with him at six or seven submissions and I can say without exception, that Mr. Moore has been eminently fitted for the position and has dealt with all matters without regard to political differences," stated the speaker.

He thought that Mr. Moore represented the type of men who are endeavoring to the best of their ability to administer the affairs of the Dominion of Canada, no matter on what political side they may be.

Increased Effort

Mr. Fraser considered that just recently the political situation in Northumberland County had become lopsided. "When I was unanimously chosen as your Liberal candidate," he remarked, "there was only one Conservative candidate in the field. Now there are two. The result has only meant increased effort on my part," he assured his audience, "and we are going to lick both Conservative candidates, by the cleanest and most above-board methods, bereft of underhand tactics."

"At Warkworth," he proceeded, "I had the pleasure, and I use the word literally, of sitting on the platform one and a-half hours and listening to the most emphatic lying or vilification as far as it concerns myself. It rather amused me. I did not think it possible that the human mind could perform such contortions."

Serious Questions

Stating that there are more serious questions to discuss; questions which affect the well-being of the Dominion of Canada, Mr. Fraser referred to certain incidents which he had met with in the present campaign which, he declared, hurt him. He spoke of the fact that a returned soldier who had been supporting him in his campaign, had lost his job in one of the industries of Northumberland County. "I have two affidavits from returned men," he said, "who have been similarly dismissed because they are supporting me as Liberal candidate. Surely Canadian citizenship and Canadian business men are too large to indulge in such petty practices, to bring grief to returned men and their families by discharging them for political reasons."

"At the first opportunity they will be placed at work in institutions where they don't ask a man whether he is a Grit or Tory. (Applause).

Mr. Fraser continued to speak reproachfully of the head of a certain industry in Campbellford who, he said, had taken the platform in the interests of a political party. "I make this statement," he added, "that it is wrong if any man will go on the platform of any political party and suggest that if the Liberal Government is returned to power that they will have to close down and cease operations." He said the actual facts are that this same company assured the Campbellford Town Council a short time ago in order to get a fixed assessment, that they intended to increase their industry." Mr. Fraser invited the party to whom he referred to meet him in his committee rooms after the meeting and discuss the matter as man to man.

The Whisper of Death

The speaker said he had been discussing the political situation with a gentleman who visited Cobourg recently incognito—a man who has travelled from Coast to Coast, and who is well posted as to the trend of events politically. He had said, "I am satisfied now from reports and personal contacts that the Canadian people will not accept the whisper of death of Mr. Bennett," and he predicted a great gain for Mackenzie King on July 28th."

Mr. Fraser dealt with the Old Age Pensions scheme, which, he stated, was introduced by the Federal Government in 1927. It was understood that the Provinces should pass legislation to bring in the Old Age Pensions Act in accordance with the Federal scheme, but he charged that Premier Ferguson had delayed this matter until the eve of the Provincial election last Fall, thereby keeping from the old people the pensions which were their right, until the day following the election. Furthermore, Ferguson had stated, that the municipalities must pay 20 per cent of the share. "I want to tell you," stated the speaker, that the Old Age Pensions is a Federal and not Provincial legislation."

If elected to Parliament, Mr. Fraser gave the promise that he will place on the Order Paper a recommendation that rural mail carriers throughout the Dominion should have a reconstructed schedule. He had discussed the matter with Mr. Moore, he said, and they were of the opinion that the mail carriers should be placed on a mileage basis to prevent underbidding on rural mail contracts.

He stated that Fred J. McArthur, M.L.A., is a personal friend of his and added that if elected to the Federal House he will work in conjunction with Mr. McArthur in the interests of the county. "Neither one of us will blast our way in, but will adopt the suggestions as laid down by Mr. Moore to-night," he said.

Summing up the Liberal policy, he said it is a case of, Is trade to follow the flag? That is what you have to decide. Whether you are going to turn Old Britain down or whether you are going to be carried by insignificant side issues.

"I submit to you ladies and gentlemen on the last opportunity I shall have of appealing to you and with all earnestness: We don't want gloom; we want the citizenship of Canada united; to bring her step by step forward as an outstanding example of what the people of the British Empire can do and to save the civilization of this fair world."

Millbrook 0, Campbellford, H. Ingram,1.

Millbrook Scores.

The second period started off with luck for Millbrook with Miller netting the ball in the first two minutes of play. The game then became brisk and the two teams battled for the counting goal, which was eventually made by F. Ingram from a pass from Jack. This was quickly followed by another count by Ingram, which was a lone play.

Penalties—Campbellford, Reid and Hendy. Goals—Millbrook, Miller 1; Campbellford, F. Ingram 2.

Third Period Fast.

The third period was fast, with some good checking. Hendy for for Campbellford did some fine stick handling, which resulted in his netting one goal from a pass from Jack. Jack also scored from a pass by F. Ingram. Millbrook fought hard to keep the score down, their goal tender, Mazette, and King playing excellent games.

Penalties, none. Goals—Millbrook, 0; Campbellford, Hendy 1, Jack 1.

Three Goals Scored.

The play in the last period was inclined to be loose on both sides. Millbrook failed to cover the way they should, and the homesteaders took advantage of the fact by adding three more goals to the count. These were scored by Blake, in a long rush, Jack, from a pass from Blake, and F. Ingram, from a pass by Copperthwaite. This put Millbrook on their guard, and King netted a fine goal at the end of the period.

Penalties — Campbellford, Blake, Bush. Goals—Millbrook, King 1, Campbellford, Jack 1, Blake 1, F. Ingram 1.

Campbellford put up a better game this time than they did the last time they played the Millbrook squad on their home ground. The combination was above average, and Hendy and Little were on their toes all the time. Millbrook came with a depleted team, and did wonders with it. Some of their best players were absent, and the loss was felt in the scoring.

UNKNOWN FARM BOY

self the youth had attempted to write a note by means of a charred stick but had changed his mind and torn the paper into shreds.

Provincial Constable Percy Gray and Dr. D. Thomson visited the scene and Coroner F. Nickle of Eldorado was notified. The authorities in Peterborough were also communicated with as it is thought that the youth came from the vicinity of that city.

The unidentified farm boy who hanged himself to a tree on the side of the road near Marmora yesterday may be one of two English immigrant boys who, for several nights previous to yesterday, had been finding refuge at night in the cells of the local police station. The description of one of these lads corresponds in every particular but dress to the dead boy, which leads strongly to the opinion that they were one and the same.

These two boys, without a penny in their pockets, left the Peterborough Police Station yesterday morning bound for Indian River in search of work. It was at Indian River a few hours later that T. A. Tucker, a washing machine traveller of Peterborough, picked up the immigrant boy, who later committed suicide. The boy told Mr. Tucker that he came from this city.

Sergeant Arthur Thomas, of the local police, told The Examiner this morning about the two immigrant boys who had slept in the station cells on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

"They left here yesterday morning about 8.30," Sergeant Thomas stated. "I asked them where they were going and they said to Indian River.

"Neither of the lads had any money and we had been trying to make them comfortable here," the sergeant continued.

One of the boys Sergeant Thomas describes as being 5 feet 9 inches tall, rather thin and with dark straight hair almost like an Indian's.

This corresponds exactly with the description of the unknown dead youth who to-day lies in the undertaking parlors at Marmora. But Thomas states definitely that the lad who said good-bye to him here yesterday morning was dressed in a brownish tweed suit. The boy found at Marmora wore blue overalls and a black shirt.

The Examiner has been striving to secure information concerning the two English boys who left here yesterday, but as yet has been unsuccessful.

Their names, as recorded on the "boarder's file" at the police station, are given as William Lawrence and Fred Panting. One was tall and the other short, police state, but they cannot say whether the tall one, who so resembles the Marmora youth, was Lawrence or Panting.

The short one said he came from Chelsea, a district in the City of London, England. He talked "cockney," police say.

Worked on Farms

Both boys told the police that they had worked on farms in Peterborough, but had not found their employment satisfactory. One had worked in Smith and the other in Otonabee. Both had disagreed with the farmers as to wages and had left the farm for the city. Both had been in camp with one of the local militia units, according to their own story, and had but recently returned.

They left Sergeant Thomas together yesterday, each carrying a small paper parcel containing food. They had no luggage.

Since taking Sargon I eat anything I want without a sign of indigestion; my nerves have steadied so I sleep good and I get up feeling alert and full of energy.

"Sargon Pills gave my liver fine stimulation and regulated me perfectly without the griping and upsetting I always experienced from other laxatives."—Walter James, 81 Hollis St., Halifax, Supervisor of the Halifax Industrial School.

FERGUSON SAYS KING IS COWARD ON EMPLOYMENT

ONTARIO NOT HELPLESS.

Road Building Program Doubled Over Province Premier Claims.

CHATHAM, Ont., July 25 (By Frank Flaherty, C.P. Staff Writer).—The Prime Minister of Ontario yesterday called the Prime Minister of Canada "a coward." Addressing a meeting here, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Premier of Ontario, charged Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, with evading the issue of unemployment in connection with a request from the Mayor of Toronto for action in connection with the construction of subways under railways in Toronto.

The Mayor, Mr. Ferguson said, had asked Premier King to authorize the construction of subways. The law already provided that on order of the Railway Board, subways might be constructed, the railway companies paying half the cost and the municipalities half the cost. When the Board refused the necessary order an appeal could be taken to the Governor-in-Council. Thus, it was within the power of the King Government to set in operation important construction work in Toronto which would aid in relieving unemployment.

Blamed Ontario Gov't.

Instead of dealing with the city's request, Mr. Ferguson went on, Premier King tried to lay the blame on the Ontario government. He said if the Provincial Government would say it could not meet the situation and was willing to contribute to the cost of the work, the Dominion Government would contribute an equal amount.

"In other words," said the speaker, "Mackenzie King wants me to get down on my knees and say I am helpless in the face of the unemployment situation. He is afraid to face the issue. He is a coward."

Far from being helpless, the Ontario government had done a great deal to relieve the unemployment distress, said the Ontario Premier. It has doubled its road construction program this year and was erecting buildings which otherwise would not have been built for some time to come.

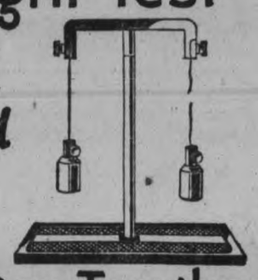
The Weight Test Shows Gum-Dipped Cords are Stronger-Tougher



HERE is a test which easily proves the value of Gum-Dipping---the extra patented Firestone process of saturating and insulating every fibre of every cord in a Firestone tire with rubber to eliminate internal heat and friction---the greatest enemy to tire life.

A two-ounce weight is suspended on the end of one strand of a cord (a) taken from an ordinary tire. The strand breaks in 15 seconds. A similar weight is suspended on a Gum-Dipped strand (b) taken from a Firestone tire---it remains unbroken for 45 seconds---three times as long!

Let your nearest Firestone dealer equip your car with a set of these stronger, tougher, more dependable tires that hold the world's records for mileage and endurance. See him to-day.

GOLD PRODUCTION MAY ESTABLISH 1930 RECORD

Turnover of 160,000 Shares of Standard Mining, New Low Record.

IN LIGHT TRADING.

(Special to the Examiner, Copyright 1930)

TORONTO, July 25—Whether or not the action—or lack of action—on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange during the past week marks bottom for the market question for the future to decide, but in the minds of circles it constituted the "limit" as far as listless trading and dull price movements were concerned.

The more important stocks were at an absolute standstill, and even the lower-priced specialties which have been giving the board a rather deceptively active appearance of late received only passing attention. An average daily turnover of approximately 160,000 shares establishes a new record for turnover on the exchange over a period of many years.

Absence of interest could not be traced to the character of news received. Four companies, McIntyre, Hollinger, Vipond and Keeley, issued their reports for the quarter ended June 30, and production of all but the last named showed improvement over the corresponding period last year. The gold bulletin of the department of mines for output of Ontario mines during June indicated a good possibility of a new production record being set up in 1930.

The statement for May of mineral production in Canada, issued by the Dominion bureau of statistics, also showed appreciable advances in output of many products of the mines. Copper was up 3.3 per cent over the preceding month and 42.9 per cent above May, 1929. Gold production increased 1.9 per cent over corresponding 1929 month, nickel 2.9 per cent, and silver 3.4 per cent. Zinc was down slightly from April but was 13.7 higher than May last year.

From all appearance an improvement in the base metal situation is still awaiting a turn in general business trend. Copper saw a further reduction in price during the week, but the publication of June statistics revealed the fact that for the first time in many months, production was actually under shipments in that period. Stocks show a small reduction, and curtailment all over the world appears to be having its effect at last.

Lead remains in a position to respond quickly to better industrial conditions, but zinc retains its rather hazardous economic background. The bug-bear of over-production and disorganization among producers holds the metal in quandry, and producers are looking to the coming world congress in London for some relief. The discovery of new uses for zinc through research and controlled output are believed to be the only remedies for the situation.

Silver holds at its record low, which means ink figures for the majority of Canadian mines depending on silver alone. With China disrupted by internal strife, India has the key position and the policy of that country of dumping silver every time improvement is shown in the market gives little hope for higher prices at present. By-product silver is still being produced in large quantities, and will continue to cast a shadow on any attempt at price stabilization or market control.

CARREL PRESSES CANADIAN TRADE

States Country Needs Empire Commercial Course if We Wish World Trade.

AT PRESS CONFERENCE.

QUEBEC, Que., July 25 (C.P.).—Hon. Frank Carrel, M.L.C., arrived here last night from a ten-week stay in London, where he acted as Canadian delegate to the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire as well as to the Imperial Press Conference.

Mr. Carrel was also on a particular mission in connection with propaganda work towards the necessity of adopting modern business methods to retain British trade prestige in the world's market.

Speaking of Canada's interest in British markets as an outlet to colonial products, Hon. Mr. Carrel, in the course of an interview, stated that Canadians had to pull themselves together on an Empire commercial course if they desired to hold their own in the world's commerce.

"Canada is becoming an important world trader," said Mr. Carrel.

This Health Unit was the first to be formed in Canada and has been operating on full-time for a number of years with great benefit to the surrounding communities. A motion was made in the House of Commons during the last session asking the Canadian Government to consider subsidizing these small full-time medical health departments in rural communities from coast to coast.

It Doesn't Mean Work For C.G.E. Workers

Gleefully the Toronto Globe tells of how a Moosejaw power company has given the contract for a 10,000 kilowatt unit to an English electrical company because by reason of the Dunning Budget the price was lower than could be met by American companies.

Still the switching of that order is not going to KEEP VERY MANY PETERBOROUGH MEN BUSY IN THE CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC WORKS, IS IT?

SEACHERS AFTER HEALTH DAILY DRINK WARM BLOOD

Believe Benefits Only Accrue When Animal is Freshly Slaughtered.

M.O.H. WOULD CHECK

TORONTO, July 25. (Special to the Examiner.)—Desiring to increase the number of blood cells in their systems many persons in the past few years have made a habit of going to the civic abattoir daily to drink the warm blood of newly-slaughtered steer or calf. Certain doctors of the medical profession have prescribed to their patients the drinking of this blood, which will, it is claimed, do away with an anaemic condition. In many cases this method of adding to the blood cell system has brought ailing persons back to good health.

"I knew of a lady who came here regularly for five months," Dr. J. W. Hoppleston, veterinary surgeon and inspector of cattle for the department of public health, said. "She was thin and very white in the skin. She used to come down every day with a cup and we would fill it for her after selecting an animal which appeared strong and healthy. As the blood, to be of any benefit, must not clot, it must be taken immediately.

"Of course, to the ordinary person this might seem gruesome, but to us it is nothing unusual. Why I recall a young lady who used to come down and remain in another part of the building. When the blood was brought, she would ask to be blindfolded so that she would not see what she was drinking. But to get back to the original person I started tospeak about, in five months she had gained weight. I saw her several weeks ago and she certainly looked in the pink of health"

Must be Taken Fresh.

The inspector told of a priest who used to bring a thermos bottle which contained a solution of citro-carbonate. The blood was put iito the bottle and the carbonate kept the blood from clotting while the bottle kept it warm. This was then taken to a man who was confined to his bed.

"But what about the animals?" the Examiner asked. "The blood is given and must be taken at once. After the animal is cut up and the intestines, heart, lungs and liver are examined, then the general state of health is known. Why the champion steer at the exhibition some years ago came in last night and seemed in good health. Yet I found a condition of peritonitis and had to order the animal to the "tank"! The tank, it was explained, was where all the blood and meat went in the same factory to be boiled and used in the making of fertilizer.

He continued: "A person has to take a chance on getting blood from a healthy animal. If an animal has pneumonia and the blood is taken, a child is more susceptible to get pneumonia than an adult. However, the cure for anaemia can be taken in more palatable form as the majority of people know to-day the great value of liver, which doctors say supplies the necessary blood cells as the blood of a steer does."

"Reprehensible Practice."

Dr. Gordon P. Jackson, M.O.H., admitted that he had never heard of the practice before. "It is certainly a rather reprehensible practice to say the least. You may say that we will investigate and make inquiries in order to curtail it in so far as we may."

Asked if the drinking of blood was of any use in increasing blood cells, Dr. Jackson replied: "Some poor, misguided individuals may have that erroneous idea. We all know that meat juices are beneficial if properly prepared, but that is an entirely different thing from the drinking of raw blood. Meats and meat extracts, properly cooked, are good, but the absolute drinking of raw blood could not be of great benefit."

"Would it do any harm?" asked the Examiner. "No, I do not know that it would do any particular harm, but there is always danger of certain infectious conditions in the blood. The meat is always inspected, but the blood is not.

Warsaw

WARSAW, July 25. — (Examiner Correspondence).— The ice cream social given by Warsaw United Sunday school was a success. There was a large crowd which appreciated the ice cream and dainty cakes served by the young ladies and gentlemen. Older ladies looked after the supplies in the serving room. The tables were pretty with bouquets of garden flowers. There was time for pleasant social converse before all were served.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson was chairman. While people were being seated Dr. Munro's orchestra played "Onward Christian Soldiers." Mr. Wilkinson led in prayer. Dr. Munro's orchestra gave another sacred selection.

The program was a solo, "When You and I Were Young Maggie"; an instrumental quartette, "Twilight" with Wesley Stark playing the saxophone, Miss Dorcas Payne and T. Davis violins, and Miss Stark at the piano; a solo, "What Do You Do In the Evening", by Byrn Thomas; a story by Dr. Munro, and a selection by his orchestra; solo, "Dream of Paradise" by Mrs. McMillan of Lakefield, with Mrs. (Dr.) Moore accompanist; piano selection, Miss Jean Munro; song, "Throug It Out the Window" by little Violet Darling; another instrumental quartette, "Golden Sunset"; duet, "Whispering Hope", Mrs. George Taylor and Mr. Batten; Mrs. McMillan sang "Land of Hope and Glory." Final selection by Dr. Munro's orchestra.

During the evening Mr. Wilkinson spoke of his appreciation of finding the doctor in the village so interested in music, community and religious work. It mean very much for such a busy man to be so interested.

Celebrate Anniversary

St. Mark's Anglican church people celebrate the seventy-sixth anniversary of the opening of their church on Tuesday, July 29, and plan a berry-ice cream social on the church grounds, when they hope to see a large number of people who are now away from Warsaw, but once were members. Some of the past clergymen will be present.

DOING RIGHT BY HENRY

By McCready Houston

"My boy Henry is ready for high school, but I don't know whether to get him his Ford and let him go, or to reserve space on the extra-fare limited for four years and send him away to prep." The speaker was Charles Fairbanks Jones, President of the Jonesville, Indiana, Lumber & Manufacturing Company. "Henry is a nice, normal youngster who stays away from drugstores and isn't anxious to write.

"He wants to go to high school right here at home till he's ready for college, but most of the boys of his acquaintance already have visited in four bathroom houses, with English country life names, and we don't want to deprive Henry of his rights.

"Of course, his mother argues that a family in our position is supposed to have a child coming home from boarding school for holidays. As Henry is our only one, it looks like he'll have to make the sacrifice, even if it does mean giving up his paper route.

"But I hate to make him do it. He asked me, 'Daddy, do I have to wear a fur coat and a derby hat home the very first vacation?' I told him I didn't think it mattered as long as he went to a school with forms instead of classes and a master instead of a principal.

"I've got half a notion to put my foot down and let the boy stay at home, at least till he gives up his electric train voluntarily!"

FOR CONVENIENCE

"Why did you cut the sleeve out of your overcoat?"

"So I could put it on without taking my books out of my hand."

Long Distance—quick, cheap dependable

WHETHER you are absent on business or pleasure you may keep in hourly touch with the office.

It is a good plan to set a certain hour each day for calling the office. Then all matters requiring your attention will await your call. You make immediate decisions, get prompt action.

Such a practice makes it unnecessary for those at the office to spend needless time and expense trying to locate you by telephone in emergencies.

The new Long Distance rate reductions make such calls cheaper than ever before. You will, of course, give the number, and tell the operator "anyone there will do," in which case the rates are lower still. If desired, these station-to-station calls can be charged to the office telephone.

Long Distance now gives you quicker and better communication than ever before. In eight calls out of ten the connection is completed while the calling party holds the line.

CONSERVATIVE VOTING FOR J. J. DUFFUS AND EMPIRE TRADE POLICY EXPRESSES HOPE FOR SUCCESS OF LIBERAL PARTY

Lakefield, July 16, 1930.

Dear Mr. Duffus:

I have your letter to hand, concerning the coming election, July 28th.

While a Conservative, there is no doubt in my mind at all how to vote in this all-important election. I shall support you, and I send herewith my sincerest wish that you may have a substantial majority on that day. It is indeed rather difficult to desert one's party, but there comes a time when one has no choice; and if there ever was such a time, truly this is it.

Again wishing you the fullest success, and hoping that you may get to Ottawa and support the loyal and sensible platform of the Liberal Party, I am,

Sincerely yours,

R. A. MacKENZIE.

This letter is one of the indications of how the vote will go on Monday. It is a sample of the assurances Mr. Duffus has received from the city and country sections of the riding, and in its sentiment and decision it is similar to the many letters which have been published in the Toronto Globe and other newspapers advocating the Dunning Budget and the extension of trade within the Empire.

Such a letter as Mr. MacKenzie's is written only upon strong conviction and provocation. The fact that there have been so many Conservatives who have likewise turned away from the course adopted by the Hon. R. B. Bennett in this election, Conservatives like J. J. CARRICK OF PORT ARTHUR, now contesting his riding as the Liberal candidate; COL. W. G. MacKENDRICK, OAKVILLE; HENRY O'BRIEN, K.C., TORONTO; J. H. BURNHAM; and so on down the list,—this fact will undoubtedly encourage many others in Peterborough and elsewhere to give their support to the Dunning Budget on July 28.

CONSERVATIVE APPROVAL OF BUDGET

And why shouldn't they? Canada and the other parts of the Empire are approaching the "meeting" of the ways. Read what Major L. M. Jones, editor of the Economic Section of the Morning Post, London, England, recently said in an interview:

"It is my hope that there shall be built up around Canadian wheat, the walls of an Imperial citadel, economically invulnerable, which will shelter the common interests of Britain and the Empire.

"I feel free to describe your Budget as a 'lit beacon on a high hill' and toward that beacon the eyes of industrial Britain are now turned. It is the belief of the Morning Post (Conservative) that the repercussions in public feeling to that Budget are incalculable."

A.Y.P.A. HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

A large number of members of branches affiliated in the Peterborough and District Council of the Anglican Young People's Association held their annual picnic at Chemong Park, Wednesday. The four city branches: St. John's, St. Luke's, All Saints' and St. George's, were well represented as was also St. Thomas', Millbrook, and Christ Church Omemee.

The chief interest and excitement centred in the splendid program of sports which had been arranged by a committee consisting of Messrs. Jack Hope, convenor (All Saints'), Joe Gore (St. John's) and Miss C. Long (St. Luke's.)

In the relay and other contests which called for two or more as one entry, the contestants forming a team had to be members of the same branch. The keenness and excitement thus created by the inter-branch contests pervaded also the individual entry races, the winners of which gained points for their respective branches. The sports' championship banner was won by All Saints' branch with a total of 16 points. The high jump provided an exhibition of some neat and splendid clearances of the bar, while the pick-a-back contest proved to be a gruelling affair.

In the blind fold race for ladies it was surprising how fast and straight a course the entrants made in spite of the fact that eyes were well covered with a bandage.

Ladies' Events.

75 yards dash: 1 E. Morley, All Saints; 2 N. Miller, Millbrook.

Shoe race: 1 N. Miller, Millbrook. 2 B. Lawrence, St. Luke's.

Relay race: 1 All Saints' team, Eileen Morley, Dorothy Worboy, Annie Williams Ena Young.

Blindfold race: 1 C. Long, St. Long, St. Luke's; 2 E. Morley, All Saints.

Men's Events.

100 Yards dash: 1, G. Young, All Saints; 2 J. Hope, All Saints.

Broad jump: 1 J. Greeson, St. Luke's; 2 J. Hope, All Saints.

Relay race: 1 All Saints' team, Jack Hope, Jim Morley, Gordon Young, Victor Chandler.

High jump: 1 J. Hope, All Saints, 2 G. Young, All Saints.

The winner cleared five feet.

LAWN SOCIAL BIG SUCCESS

Spacious Grounds of Rev. P. W. A. Roberts Proves Ideal Location for Outing.

ANNUAL AFFAIR

MILLBROOK, July 25 (Examiner Correspondence). — An ideal location for a lawn social was provided on the grounds of the Rev. P. W. A. Roberts' residence, King street, where the A.Y.P.A. of Saint Thomas' church sponsored a garden party on Tuesday evening, July 22, when the fine weather and lovely sweep of grassy lawns were among the contributing causes to a most successful and enjoyable gathering.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, with the officers and members of the Young People's Association, were indefatigable in their efforts to look after the entertainment and comfort of their guests. Long tables, set under the spreading branches of the large trees, had beautiful floral decorations, and were laden with an abundance of good things to eat, while strings of colored electric bulbs over the tea tables, round the concert platform, and elsewhere through the grounds, added to the beauty of the picture.

Radio music entertained the guests during the supper hours, and comfortable benches, conveniently placed, were ready for the use of those first served as they waited for the program to begin, and for the audience generally during the formal entertainment period.

The booth, in charge of Cameron Vance, had a ready patronage throughout the evening, the big watermelon for which a number bought tickets, going to Mrs. J. E. Allen, who held the lucky number, which happened in this case to be ten.

Rev. Mr. Roberts acted as chairman for the program which was provided entirely by Peterborough talent, the young people from All Saints' church putting on a play, "Say it With Taffy," a one-act comedy that was exceptionally well presented, and provoked the audience to almost continuous laughter throughout.

Preceding the play vocal solos were contributed by Miss Parsons of Peterborough, with Miss Webber as accompanist; little Isabel Young won all hearts with her clever recitations, "The Youngest in the Family," and "The Minister Calls;" Mr. Gordon Young, president of the A.Y.P.A. of All Saints' Church, sang "The Desert Song," with "Beside an Open Fireplace" as encore, and before calling for the play the chairman announced the district A.Y.P.A. picnic at Chemong on Wednesday, July 30, urging a large attendance.

The scene of the play was laid in the living-room of Miss Andrew's home in the late afternoon of a summer's day, and the story is concerned with the renewal of the engagement between Miss Margaret Andrews (Miss Dorothy Worboy) a charming spinster who declares, "I was twenty last week, for the second time," and Dr. Stephen Wynne (James Morley) whom she has not seen since their quarrel fifteen years before.

Miss Andrew's niece, Marjorie West (Miss Ena Young) has become engaged to Norman Wynne (Jack Hope) the doctor's nephew, and brings his uncle with him when he comes to call upon his sweetheart, hence the meeting once more between the long-parted lovers. The intrusion of Alphonse Folette (Spencer Hope), a French caterer, with his box of "cream poofs," and other examples of his culinary art, and his antagonism to Dr. Wynne when he finds him in the room and evidently gaining Miss Andrew's favor, with the ridiculous complications which result, provided many laughable situations, especially when Norman Wynne has shut him up in the chicken house and he comes in well 'lathered' with feathers having worked off his bad temper by killing at least two of the unoffending hens.

In the end the tagled skeins are all straightened out, Alphonse offering his card, with 'wedding cakes a specialty," when he sees clearly that a double marriage is in prospect. The explanation of the title lies in the honeyed compliments with which Dr. Wynne showers the lady of his heart, "taffy" being considered a requisite in his restoration to favor.

Miss E. Grandy was convenor in charge of refreshments for the garden-party; Mrs. T. G. Harkness convenor for the tea tables; and Miss Muriel Curtiss, president of the local branch of the A.Y.P.A., had the responsibility of arranging for the program. Among the many others who helped at the tables, and in various ways, in addition to the host and hostess, Rev. and Mrs. P. W. A. Roberts, were: Mrs. J. W. Hilton, Mrs. G. Raper, Mrs. L. H. Morton, Misses Ada Attwooll, Winnie Lord, M. Christie, Margaret Wnyte, K. Donnelly, Marjorie Vance, L. Crocker; A. A. Needler, C. Vance, E. Abbott, L. Nattress, Mr. E. G. Britton was the cashier.

Financially the evening was a success, the A.Y.P.A. wishing to add to its funds in order to bear a share of the new lighting system being installed as part of the extensive renovation scheme now in progress for Saint Thomas' Church; a Toronto firm having the matter in hand. A very hearty vote of thanks was extended to Rev. Mr. Roberts, and to all who helped in making the evening a success, before the gathering dispersed.

Hints at the Coming Mode

There is a great tie-up in the mode—dresses tie up for chic, hats too, tie up to themselves, and there is always a tie-up between the two. Witness the smartness that is knotted into the dress in the Vogue sketch at the right above. This frock, of printed crepe de chine, has a shaped collar in front, that ties over a vestee (watch how the bodice of a dress is going to star in the coming model!) The sleeves are bell shaped, but caught in at the wrist with buttoned cuffs. The upper hat in the sketch proves how literal the tie-up may be, for its crown is bound with taffeta ribbon, which ties up in a soft bow over one cheek. The second hat has its crown circled by a knitted and twisted band of blue velvet. On the left is a pretty summer evening gown of white moire showing painted flower patterns, and a tiny train.—Sketch is by Vogue.

MRS. D. MACDONALD SPEAKS AT FENELLA

Independent Candidate for West Northumberland Outlines Platform.

FENELLA, July 25.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Cobourg, the Independent Progressive-Liberal candidate for West Northumberland, in the coming election, addressed a meeting of the electors in Fenella Town Hall Tuesday evening. Her platform is political allegiance to no party, better markets for the farmers' produce, and a system whereby the unemployment question will be solved. Mrs. MacDonald is a very convincing speaker and kept her audience interest to the last. With her on the platform was the Rev. A. B. Bruce, former rector at Grafton, and at present rector of St. Cyphrians church, Toronto.

GIRL GRAVEDIGGER BUSY.

Recent reports showing that England has only one girl gravedigger has brought pretty Miss Maggie Freeman into the limelight. Maggie acts as gravedigger, verger, clerk of records, bell ringer and official factotum at the eight-hundred-year-old parish church at Normanton. She lives alone in a stone cottage adjoining the churchyard, as did five previous generations of church janitors in the Freeman family. She has dug many graves and has attended 500 marriage celebrations. Every Sunday the girl helps to ring the three bells in the church tower, and also rings the bells for the weddings. Maggie succeeded her father to the position when he died five years ago.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

CHANGES IN DEATH RATES.

One of the interesting things that research men have found out for us is how the death rate from different ailments has been changing during the past twenty years.

Drs. G. H. Bigelow and A. Hamblen, Boston, have totaled the deaths for the three-year period, 1923–1925, and have shown the order of frequency of the first ten causes of death for all ages, and in certain age groups.

Then they have shown where each ailment occurred in order of frequency in 1915–1917, and 1905–1907.

They were thus able to note what ailments were on the increase, and those that were decreasing.

Some of the findings were of a very favorable nature, and others were just as unfavorable.

Tuberculosis in patients under 15 and over 40 years of age, which formerly stood first as a cause of death, now stands sixth. This is most encouraging when you remember that there is no special medicine or cure for tuberculosis, except that of fresh air, rest, and good food.

And the unfavorable finding is that from 15 to 40 years of age tuberculosis still stands first as a cause of death.

There is no question but that this fad for slenderness, slimness, 'skinniness' or whatever you like to call it, is one of the largest factors in causing tuberculosis because the greatest increase is in young girls 15 to 21 years of age.

It is at this age that good nourishing food is essential not only for the ordinary needs of the body, but for the growth and development that should naturally take place at this time.

It is nothing short of suicide then that these young girls, and others even older, should deny their bodies the right amount and kind of food.

A favorable finding was that typhoid fever is not now among the first ten causes of death any more, thanks to our public health departments.

Summer diarrhœa in children which formerly carried off so many in years past, that it stood in fifth place, now stands in tenth place, thanks also to our health departments with their inspection of the milk, food and water supplies.

An unfavorable finding is the constantly increasing prominence of appendicitis in the age groups from 5 to 50 years. Also, that cancer is more prevalent, and seems to attack even earlier than formerly.

Also that while the life span has been extended by many years, the death rate in those over 50 years of age is just as high as it was 20 years ago.

These figures carry their lesson to all of us.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A mother who would enjoy the confidence of her children must not only be sympathetic to them, but she must be able not to show that she is shocked, although she may be, by some of the things that are told her!

All of you mothers know that the standards of yesterday and to-day are two very different matters.

• • •

Yesterday there were reticences—children kept things to themselves because for some reason, they felt they could not tell their parents, but now there is bold frankness.

One may be considered as good as the other, or as bad, since the extreme of either is not exactly desirable. It is between the extremes that wisdom lies.

Because the younger generation has frankness instead of reticence, and the mother was educated to have certain reserves, which the child has not, she has to be on her guard not to express too vivid astonishment at what she may hear.

I know it may be extremely hard sometimes to keep a calm look on one's face, although you are being told something that would astonish the most reserved people.

If a child is shocked at the talk or the actions which she is confiding in her mother, then the mother can share her child's attitude.

But whether she does this or has to quell her feelings, she can exert her influence in the right direction, and this is the essential thing.

Because she does not, by word or action, appear to be disturbed, although her child thinks in modern terms, and talks in them, does not alter the real state of affairs.

It is the mother's part to help her child to see things straight, and to do it so carefully that it does not offend nor condone.

If she offends, she cannot expect her child to come to her to talk things over that distress her, or that puzzle her. The child will find some other confident— and that is what must be guarded against.

There are a few young persons who can keep from talking over affairs as they affect themselves, or as they touch others among their group of friends.

On the other hand if the mother condones, her power of helpfulness is shattered. There may be extenuating circumstances, She must understand fully if she is to help.

A parent who is the confident of a child, realizes there is a bond between them and that it is the trend of the age, not wilful desire to shock her mother, that the child couches what she has to say in words that might not have been permissable otherwise

The mother has but to look back to realize that she herself was sometimes perplexed about certain problems and that she would have liked very much to go with frankness to her mother with her problems to have them solved.

• • •

Let a child feel that she or he can come with anything and know that an older experience and wisdom will be glad to share and to aid the perturbed mind of the little one.

GRIMM'S LAST FAIRY TALE

Out of the storm swept night a pall of horror fell on the ghostly mansion. Banging shutters and creaking stairs sent queer sounds through the eerie rooms and hallways. Suddenly a shot rang out—a gurgling scream, and then only the distant howling of dogs. A secret panel opened and an ape-like figure slipped from its shadows. With a thud, a headless body struck the staircase and rolled to the bottom. A door on the floor clock opened and a skeleton slid out. From the moldy cellar came the sound of fingernails scratching on coffins. For an instant a beam of light fell on a hideous face. Then a blood spattered chandelier plunged through the floor. Lon Chaney was spending a quiet evening at home.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

TO-DAY'S MY DAY

To-day's my day—how do I know?
Because the sunlight, falling so,
Aslant across the forest floor,
Wakes all my fairest hopes once more!
Because the winds, birds, flowers all say,
Be glad! Be glad! This is your day!

To-day's my day! How can I tell
That I am certain all is well,
And, though the rest were sweet and bright,
This marks a summit of delight?
How leave the past without regret,
Secure to-day is better yet?

Because this latest gift of time
Is mine, a heritage sublime;
Still fresh, untouched, unshaped until
I fashion it to meet my will;
So, joyous as the sun's first ray,
I greet this priceless gift, my dear!

OUR CHILDREN

CHILDREN'S SLEEP.

Undisturbed sleep is as necessary to the health of children as food. There would seem to be danger of this generation of children losing that great boon, restful sleep.

Noise, persistent, long continued, will break a child's rest even though he sleeps through it. The household that cherishes a baby ought not to allow a radio to send its raucous voices into the sleeping room of a child. Nor should any continued noise be permitted in the house where there are sleeping children. That means that noisy parties have to be omitted from the family's social scheme while the children are growing up. I am not asking that the children force the family to live in a whisper. While the children are awake they must take their share of whatever noise is about. Unfortunately we cannot escape most of it. But not while they sleep. Sleep must be sacred to loud and persistent noises.

Shade the light that falls on the sleeping child. Putting the pram in the sunshine while its baby occupant sleeps in the open air is a fine idea. But the direct winds must be avoided and the sunshine is not to fall on the baby's face. Tip the carriage top so as to shadow the child's face. When light is permitted to shine directly in the child's face his rest is disturbed.

Children will rest better without rocking. The violent swaying motion that most babies are subjected to as they doze off in their prams is anything but good for the baby. I have seen babies lose their morning meal by such rocking. I have known them to cry in protest against it, but the rocking was dutifully continued. The more the baby cried, the harder the swinging he received until he must have been giddy and seasick.

The best thing to do with a sleepy child is to make certain that he is physically comfortable. He must be dry and warm. Not too warm so that he becomes restless in the smothering heat, but warm enough.

Loss of sleep, restless sleep, causes loss of weight. A good night's rest is like a good meal for a healthy child. When a child is robbed of rest he fatigues very easily and brings on temper tantrums, cross days, food-fussing. When you find your young children hard to please, irritable naughty without seeming cause, try to see that they get more sleep or if their sleeping hours are plenty long enough, try to see that the quality of the sleep is improved.

The afternoon nap is precious. Children under three must have it. As they grow older the need of the afternoon sleep seems to lessen but there must be a period of rest. If the child refuses to sleep after luncheon insist upon a quiet period. Give the child a toy or a picture book and let him lie on the bed in a quiet room. Allow nobody to talk to the resting child. He is not to be stimulated into talking and laughing and romping. The idea is that he rest so as to avoid the late afternoon fatigue that makes so much trouble for mothers and children.

Sleep, and the quality of it, is highly important.

MRS. MACDONALD AT ROSENEATH

Great Harmony Prevails at Meeting of Northumberland Independent Candidate.

ROSENEATH, July 25.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—A record crowd of about 200 waiting for Mrs. Edith Kerr Macdonald, Independent-Liberal candidate in Northumberland, to arrive here last night from her Campbellford meeting had dwindled appreciably by the time the candidate appeared at ten oclock.

Due to the extreme clemency of the weather it was decided to hold the meeting here in the open-air instead of opening the hall, so Mrs. Macdonald addressed the voters of Roseneath from the verandah of John Murphy's store. On the verandah were two Liberals, John Murphy and Marcena Davey, an dtwo Conservatives, Earl Shearer and Milton MacMillan. The greatest harmony prevailed.

New Woollens Prophecy the Coming Autumn Mode

In spite of the midsummer heat that is gripping the cities, there are places where autumn woolens are more than welcome. The higher one goes in the mountains, the brisker the wind blows from the ocean. And so we may be interested in a woollen coat that will carry over into the autumn wardrobe. There are some new very modern interpretations of sturdy Scotch tweeds, which combine roughness with an even surface. Jersey is as important as ever and keeps that strong tendency to look like something else usually tweed. Two illustrations of the coat are shown in ABOVE. On the RIGHT is one of the smartest early fall modes, a strictly tailored dress in a soft woollen fabric. (Sketch is by Vogue).

KING POLICY SCORED FROM MANY POINTS

Conservative Candidate For Durham, F. W. Bowen, Holds Public Rally at Millbrook.

Several Speakers.

Standard Bearers Emphasizes Work Being Done in Riding in Present Campaign.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MILLBROOK, July 25.—The Conservative candidate for Durham, F. W. Bowen, who has represented the riding in the Federal House since 1921, held his only meeting, locally in the present election contest, on Thursday evening, July 24, in the Town Hall, Millbrook, when the record of the King government was assailed from many points.

On the platform, besides the candidate and Mrs. Bowen, were the speakers, W. W. Staples, M.P.P. for Victoria county; A. Trebilcock, Toronto, and ex-Warden Milton J. Elliott, Bowmanville; A. J. Fallis, ex-M.P.P.; Mrs. J. H. Paul; Mrs. J. L. McCamus; and ex-Warden Jas. L. McCamus, who presided over the gathering.

Mr. Bowen received an ovation when he rose to speak, his opening remarks referring to the two speakers, Mr. Staples and Mr. Trebilcock, as "Both Durham boys who had left the county and made good, and are here to-night in the interests of the Conservative party."

Crisis in Canada

The work being done in the riding in the present campaign was emphasized, as was also the importance of getting the vote out on the 28th. The crisis in Canadian affairs now prevails was laid at the door of the King administration, the speaker stating that he had been one of a committee appointed by his Leader, the Honorable Mr. Bennett, to investigate agricultural conditions throughout the province. They had visited many sections and everywhere had found conditions bad for the farmer; figures were quoted showing the reduction in live stock, necessary to successful farming, and the consequent loss in labor and money. The tariff changes were blamed for monetory losses and the increase in unemployment, and the British preference declared to have been the policy of the Conservative party since the days of Sir John A. MacDonald, his insistence being, "First the interests at home; then the British Empire; then the rest of the world". The King-Dunning budget was characterized as "only a gesture", and Sir Charles Tupper was praised as the one who first placed a British preference tariff on the statute books.

Urging that the electors "do as nobly as you have done in previous elections on July 28, and I have no fear as to the outcome", Mr. Bowen resumed his seat to the accompaniment of prolonged applause.

M. P. P. Speaks.

M. J. Elliott spoke briefly, mentioning his pleasure at seeing so many ladies in the audience and his keen appreciation of the support given him by the local electors in his candidature for the Provincial House last fall. Voicing his pride in the "very impressive campaign which Premier Ferguson is waging throughout the province," the speaker said Honorable R. B. Bennett would be the man to represent Canada at the Imperial Conference, for he was assured the Conservative leader will be the Prime Minister after Monday next, and will have the duty of forming a Cabinet. The duty of the voters is "to bring Canada back to the place where it should be on the 28th," formed the conclusion of Mr. Elliott's address.

Important Election.

Mr. Trebilcock, whose family for generations has resided at Bowmanville and has always been linked up with loyal support of Conservatism, was the third speaker, arousing enthusiasm by his reference to the County of Durham as "the Garden of Canada," a conclusion arrived at after touring other parts of the Dominion and then noting the beauty spots while driving over from Bowmanville that evening.

"This is the most important election since Confederation," declared the speaker, as he went on to consider the question, "What progress has Canada made under the King Government?" The pre-election promises of 1925-26, including free trade for the West, and protection for the manufacturers of the East, were strongly criticized, the Australian treaty and the New Zealand order-in-council, with the consequent ill-effects to the Canadian dairy business, came in for analysis and condemnation the increase in unemployment was blamed upon the government, and the raised tariffs against Canadian wheat by France, Italy and Germany, "leaving our elevators choked with the 1929 crop, and a price lowered to the nineties instead of around $1.50, as it should be," was another item for which Mr. Trebilcock insisted the Mackenzie King Administration must shoulder the full responsibility and blame.

Reviews Industry.

W. W. Staples, who is widely known for his oratorical ability, was at his best on Thursday evening, asserting his pride in being descended from the famous Cavan Blazers, and hence cherishing a deep affection for Cavan Township.

Declaring he was going to give the true story of British preference, Mr. Staples began by stating he would look for evidences of prosperity in Canada, such as Mackenzie King says exist, from a sane viewpoint, and then proceeded to list lessened value of farm property, and products; factories, in many cases, idle instead of humming with industry; workmen standing in line waiting their turn for breakfast in soup kitchens; young people, ready for their life-work, having to get out of Canada to find a job —"going out the front door, while foreigners come in the back way to take away the jobs there are"; ending each item with the query, "Is that evidence of prosperity, Mr. King? Is it?" "Hadn't we better consult a real good phrenologist and see if our bump of intelligence is in the right place?"

The national policy, "which has made Canada what she is," was lauded in flowery language, and governments were praised for having stood by it though not always elected on that cry. "It remained for Mackenzie King to tamper with the tariff, and put us in the Slough of Despond, where we find ourselves to-day," said the speaker.

When the applause had subsided, the meeting, which had been opened with community singing, led by "Sandy" Clarke of the Lindsay Watchman-Warder, Mrs. (Canon) Allen presiding at the piano, was closed with the National Anthem, and rousing cheers for Fred Bowen, and for the Honorable R. B. Bennett.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL!

I knew that I loved her the minute I saw her, standing small and slim in the doorway of my house. She seemed so young and wide-awake. Her dress, her actions and her glorious full-throated voice all gave evidence of a dynamic flow of youthful energy. About twenty years old, I said to myself. Just the right age.

"Yes?" I asked as I opened the door.

"Is this where the Browns live?" she inquired somewhat bashfully.

"Yes. This is the Brown's home. Whom do you wish to see? I am Leonard Brown."

"I want to see your mother, then. Mrs. R. D. Brown."

"Won't you please come in and I will call her."

"Thank you." The well known words fell on my ears like a caress. Oh, how beautiful and young she was. I hurried to find my mother. I must get acquainted with her immediately. My mother must introduce me this very minute. Such were my thoughts as I accompanied Mother back into the room where the graceful, slim wisp of beauty sat waiting.

"Grace Landlow, of all persons!" my Mother greeted her, and they both embraced. After a moment's exciting chatter, my mother called to me. "Leonard, come over here and meet my old college roommate!"

ELUSIVE BUNNY CAUSE OF LAD BECOMING LOST

Seven-Year Renfrew Boy Tells Tale of Week's Wanderings in Bush.

LEAVES HOSPITAL.

Lad Ate Berries For Food—Followed Cattle Till Found.

RENFREW, Ont., July 25 (C.P.) — A rabbit, darting across his path and disappearing into the bush was the immediate cause of Lloyd Warren, age 7, being lost for seven days and six nights in some comparatively wild and barren country near here. He was found a week ago and yesterday left the local hospital, seemingly little the worse for the privations and sufferings he underwent. He told his story yesterday for the first time.

Lost Rabbit in Bush

The boy, scenting adventure, followed the rabbit into the bush where he lost track of it. After wandering around some time, he saw he was lost and the farther he went, the worse became his predicament. Undaunted, and exhibiting courage far in advance of his year, the lad made himself a bed of spruce boughs and slept under the foliage of the trees. For food he had wild berries which grew in great profusion in that neighborhood. He found plenty of water to drink.

When his absence was noted, poses of men began a systematic search of the bush country. On several occasions, young Warren revealed, he heard the men shout but he was too weak to make his way to them. Finally, he came across a herd of young cattle and decided to keep close by them, believing that the owners would eventually appear upon the scene. The lad was discovered on a large boulder, munching a handful of berries and in close watch on the cattle when found by the searchers.

Facts for the Electors -

An Open Letter to the Electors of West Peterborough and of Canada generally.

To the Editor of The Examiner:—

Permit me to draw attention to all this talk by Conservative speakers throughout the Province who say unemployment is the issue—and Bennett will win.

The Conservative party knows very well indeed that the Hon. R. B. Bennett has not a probable chance to win in this Election. The Leaders of the various Conservative Provinces and the members of the Conservative party have known this before Parliament adjourned. In fact, it was declared by many of his supporters that the day the Hon. R. B. Bennett stood in his place in the House and took his stand against the British Preference and the Dunning Budget his action then destroyed any chance he might have had to win—and since that time the efforts of all the Conservative Leaders and their party speakers adopted a plan of campaign to discredit the Government, and divert the attention of the Canadian Electors, and more particularly the Conservative voters who stand for the British Preference and the British Empire—many of whom are supporting the Liberal Candidates on this occasion. This plan of campaign has been adopted to prevent the Conservative Electors from leaving their party on the main issue—The British Preference and the Dunning Budget.

The method and plan of campaign carried on by the Leaders of the Conservative party and the Prime Minister of the Province of Ontario is an insult to the intelligence of the Electors of this Province; and in addition, their campaign of unemployment and Blue Ruin as a national issue will go down in history to the discredit of the Conservative party for a generation. Never was a great party asked to subscribe to such nonsense. Have they brought any charges of corruption against the King Government? No, Hundreds of millions of dollars of the people's money have been handled by the King Government honestly—and no charge of dishonesty or scandal brought against them by the Conservative Leader—A Proud Record for Any Government.

Are the Conservative Electors to blame for the action of their Leaders in this Election? No, indeed. They are opposed to such tactics and thousands are supporting the British Preference and the Liberal Policy.

Hon. R. B. Bennett cannot win. Why? There are many reasons. The first important reason is a fact and also ancient history—There was not a single Conservative (other than himself) elected in the whole Province of Alberta in the last Election. Why? Since when did the Hon. R. B. Bennett champion the interests of the Farmer? The answer is clear and direct—Never in his whole career. The Alberta Farmers do not take him seriously and they certainly will not vote for him. Another reason Bennett cannot win—The Province of Saskatchewan in the last election did not send a single Conservative to Ottawa. It is true that there were two or three elected as Progressives. Why? The policy of the Conservative party is against the interest of the Farmer. As an example:—In the last Election the Conservative Leader opposed the restoration of the "Crow's Nest Pass" rate on grain and flour to the Lake-head at Fort William. When the Liberals were returned to power the rate was restored, and a saving made of about $40.00 to $50.00 a car on most all the wheat shipped by the Farmer. Think what that means—When you consider that, during the movement of grain, thousands of cars of grain pass the inspection department at Winnipeg DAILY.

Did the Province of Manitoba send a supporter of the Conservative Party to Ottawa in the last Election? No, not one.

Will the Province of Ontario send any more supporters of the Conservative Party to Ottawa than they sent the last Election? No, indeed. Thousands of Conservative voters are supporting the British Preference and an Empire Market for all surplus farm products—The Policy of the Right Hon. Mackenzie King. How is Bennett to win, may I ask? The answer—Quebec will stand fast for the British Preference and the Dunning Budget.

What about the Maritime Provinces? The answer is simple. The treatment received from the Liberal Government "through the Duncan Commission" will cause a large favorable vote for the Liberal Party in this Election.

"The King Government will be returned to power"—Send the Liberal Candidate, J. J. Duffus to Ottawa. Let Peterborough Profit by the British Preference and the Dunning Budget.

Mrs. Edith Kerr Macdonald's Statement at Warkworth Fully Confirmed and Proved!

At the official convention at Warkworth on Monday, Mrs. Macdonald claimed that Mr. G. N. Gordon, of Peterborough, speaking on behalf of Mr. W. A. Fraser of Hastings County, had written a letter to the Toronto Globe in which he referred to the weekly newspapers as "one-horse weekly papers." Mr. Gordon, in pretended indignation, violently protested that "he had never done so," and since the Convention Mr. Gordon very courteously and in a most gentlemanly language telegraphed Mrs. Macdonald that "she had lied on the platform about him."

Mrs. Macdonald's statement was the absolute truth, and on Thursday afternoon she had it confirmed by a long telegram from the Toronto Globe, quoting from its files of November 7, 1928, which contained a letter from Mr. G. N. Gordon with the following abstract: "The Globe owes it to its 100,000 readers, instead of featuring articles, some of which come from one-horse weekly papers," etc. . . .

WORLD IS ALL TOPSY-TURVY WHEN JU-JITSU IS APPLIED

Frail Woman Can Make Heavyweight Hercules Bite Dust in Nose Dive.

WORTH TON OF BRAWN.

TORONTO, July 25. (Special to the Examiner.)—The big men have to be on their guard these days.

They may get into an argument with some undersized opponent, a thin weedy college youth of 16 or a frail woman of 116, and think they can brush them off like a fly.

But they may go sailing through the air and crash heavily and fatally on the pavement or have their mighty arms and elephantine legs snapped off like the brittle stem of a church warden's pipe if they run into one of H. H. Hunter's pupils.

He is a teacher of ju jitsu, the Japanese art of self-defence, in which an ounce of brains is worth a ton of brawn. With it a child can master a Hercules.

He has a daughter 12 years old who weighs only 84 pounds. "Yet," said her father, "she could take a man weighing 200 pounds and break every bone in his body as easily as she eats her breakfast. And she eats her breakfast very easily."

I was not so incredulous when the ju-jitsu expert demonstrated a few of his tricks of bone-breaking and point dislocation.

Simple Twist of the Wrist.

"Take hold of my wrists," said he, "Grip them as hard as you can."

I thought I had him lashed to the mast, but with a quick circular movement he broke my grip, seized one of my own wrists, whirled around, got me on his hip and had my arm across his knee. One light downward thrust was enough to convince me that he could break it if he desired.

"Try another hold," said he. "Put your fingers around my throat. Don't be afraid of strangling me."

He might as well have talked of strangling a greasy pole. He turned his head and my fingers slipped off his Adam's apple. He grabbed my feet, tucked them under his armpits, and in a flash had me on my back with his own foot on my own Adam's apple. Weighing 166 pounds, he had no great superiority in bulk.

"Those are just two tricks," he remarked, "of the several hundred that there are in ju-jitsu."

"Did you learn it in Japan?" I asked

"Yes. I went there when I was in the navy. One day when I was ashore, I noticed a small boy laughing at one of our marines who was drunk. This angered him, and he drew back his arm to strike the lad. To my amazement, the big sailor went off the ground like a balloon and landed with a crash that shook the earth. The disproportion between the little skinny boy and the huge man struck me as so funny that I burst out laughing. I asked a policeman who was standing nearby what had happened and he said, 'Ju-jitsu.'

"That was the first time I had ever heard the word. I went to a school and learned something about it."

He was such an apt pupil that when he returned home he became ju-jitsu champion of Europe and taught the art to many of the police forces in England.

There is nothing like ju-jitsu to humble those who are proud of their strength or their Dempsey punch.

"I had the strongest man in Vancouver," said he, "come to me for instruction. He could lift 150 pounds from the ground with one hand. He got into an argument with a little Jap and attempted to strike him. But the Jap sent him flying. He was so humiliated that he was through with his strong man stuff forever."

Female Deadliest of Pupils.

In a few months possibly, it will also not pay to get gay with the Hamilton police. Mr. Hunter may give them lessons that will enable them to throw the mountain out of their way as easily as an obstreperous visitor.

"Women," said he, "think that they have no strength and therefore cannot hurt you. When I give them a grip on me, I run the risk of having them break my bones. A beginner whoes not realize the power he possesses can do a great deal of damage."

Mr. Hunter has many women pupils. He showed me how easily it is for a woman to repulse a man. "Suppose," said he, "that a little woman is walking along a country lane and a ruffian grabs her by the arm. No matter how small she is and how big he is, she can put him hors de combat."

He asked me to place my arm inside his. Wheeling about he put one arm under my armpit and the other on the outside of my wrist. He could now snap my arm as you snap a dry twig.

Stands 'Em on Their Ears.

Going into a ju-jitsu parlor is like going into a lion's cage. You feel happy when you get out alive.

Appealing to my imagination he asked me to suppose I was a curb-cruiser dragging a reluctant maiden into a car. In a twinkling he had me up-ended with his foot on my throat with a pressure on the carotid artery that would soon have caused unconsciousness.

"Any man" he said, "can stand any man on his ear just like that."

Can Incapacitate and Resuscitate.

If Mr. Hunter can incapacitate you in a second, he can also revive you in the same length of time. As a pendant to ju-jitsu he has a recuperative art called katsu, the Japanese methof of resuscitation. He can strike you on the fifth vertebra or stroke a pectoral nerve and bring you to, after you have been knocked out.

Ju-jitsu, he clearly demonstrated, is something that makes a woman as strong as a man and the weakest man as strong as the strongest, provided that the latter knows nothing about this Japanese grappling.

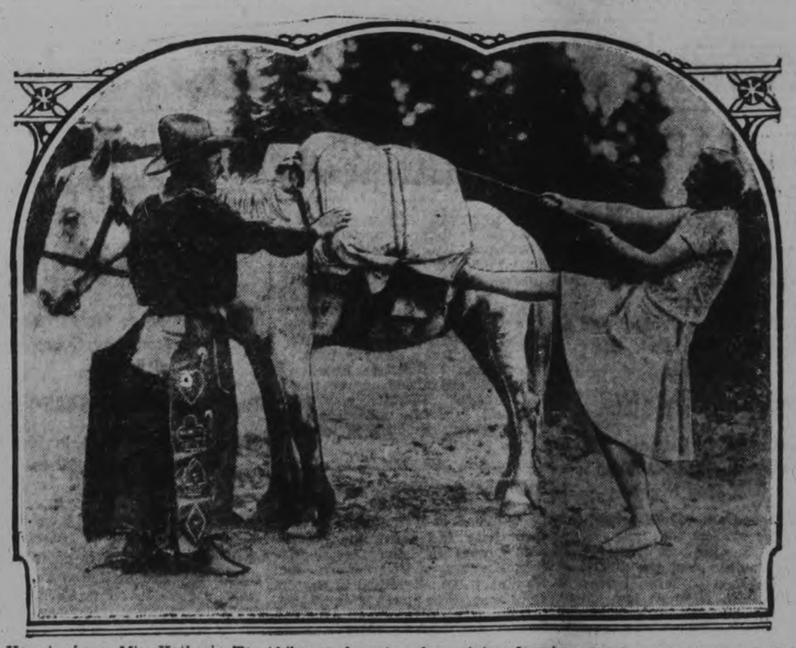
Learning to Tie a Pack on a Pony so It Will Stay



Here is shown Miss Katharin Trevelyan, daughter of Sir Charles Trevelyan, British minister of education, who has completed a trans-Canada hike, as she gets a few pointers from "Scotty" Dowsen, Jasper Park guide, on how to put a pack on a pony so it will stay there. STATE SENATOR SHOT ON STREET

Moncks Corner Resident Arrested After Firing Shotgun.

DENNIS MAY DIE.

MONCK'S CORNER, S. C., July 25. (C. P.) — E. J. Dennis, State Senator of Berkeley County, was shot down and probably fatally wounded on the street here yesterday in the latest episode of this county's bloody history of gun fight, ambushes and assassinations of recent years.

The 54-year-old Senator Long, a dominant figure in Berkeley's turbulent politics, was rushed to a Charleston hospital, where it was said that his recovery was doubtful.

W. L. Thornley, aged 35, Monck's Corner resident, charged with emptying a charge of buckshot into Dennis's head, as the latter conversed with two friends in front of the post office, was taken to the state penitentiary at Columbia for safe keeping.

SUCCESS

The operation for the rejuvenation of youth has been performed on the seventy-year-old patient. As he comes from under the influence of the ether, he begins to weep bitterly.

A kind face nurse bends over him. "Don't be distressed," she says comfortingly. "The operation is a complete success in every detail. When you leave here you'll be feeling ever so many years younger."

But the old man only continues to wail, the tears rolling down his checks and losing themselves in his white whiskers.

"Don't cry," pleads the nurse. "The pain you feel now will soon pass away."

"I'm not crying because of the pain," explains the disconsolate one between his racking sobs. "I'm afraid I'll be late to school."

"How's your brakes?"
"You should worry. It's my car!"

CROPS IN ONTARIO NEED RAIN BADLY

Country Burning Up North and West of London—Tobacco Suffers.

EAST FAIRS BETTER.

TORONTO, Ont., July 25.—Crops in Western Ontario are in a bad way for lack of rain, according to J. B. Fairbairn, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, who has just returned from a tour of the province.

Mr. Fairbairn reports that in the district north and west of London there has been no rain for weeks and the crops are practically burned up. "If they do get rain this week,' he said, "it will make a difference of perhaps 15 or 20 bushels of beans to the acre." The temperature in the district, he reported, was running as high as 95 degrees in the shade.

The tobacco crops were also suffering from the extreme heat and dryness, the Deputy Minister said, and farmers were already beginning to head them out although it was far too early for this process.

Eastern Ontario had had an abundance of rain this summer so far, and haying conditions were rather unfavorable as a result. Although as yet no harm had been done, said Mr. Fairbairn, crops in Central Ontario were reported in an excellent condition.

PLAN FRUIT PACKING PLANT AT NEWCASTLE

TORONTO, Ont., July 25 (C.P.). —Announcement has been made by J. B. Fairbairn, Provincial Deputy Minister of Agriculture, of the establishment in the vicinty of Newcastle at an early date, of an experimental fruit-packing plant.

"The idea we have in mind,' said Mr. Fairbairn, "is to get uniformity and tightness in packing of our overseas fruit shipments. If the plant at Newcastle proves successful we will establish other plants throughout Ontario. Arrangements are being made so that growers may have packing facilities located in their districts by applying to the Government."

ESTONIA CO-OPS. GROWING.

Co-operative banking is becoming a factor in Estonia and is branching out into other activities. Although the country's financial organizations had to start almost anew after the World War the balances of 21 of its largest co-operative banks now total nearly $9,000,000. The largest of these, the Estonian Peoples Bank, has 255 member organizations performing various activities. These include nine central co-operative banks, 153 co-operative banks, and 38 buying and selling, 14 dairying, six machine users', three building, and one potato societies. Another central institution, the Farmers' Central Bank, was started last year.

A Contrast and a Challenge

The Conservative Legacy of Debt and Depression

WHEN the Mackenzie King Government came into power Canada was suffering from a widespread industrial depression. The National Debt was increasing with alarming rapidity. Large numbers of Canadians were emigrating to the United States. The Canadian dollar was at a discount. The Government-owned railways were hopelessly disorganized and operating at a heavy loss to the taxpayers of the Dominion.

The Liberal Record of Faithful Stewardship

1. Under Liberal Administration deficits were changed into surpluses. The National Debt has been reduced by $273,000,000. The Canadian dollar was brought back to par. Our credit was restored at home and abroad.
2. Taxes have been steadily and progressively reduced.
3. From 1922 to 1929 the export trade of Canada has almost doubled. Canada exports more manufactured goods per capita than any country in the world except Great Britain. With a population of 10,000,000 Canada stands fifth among the trading nations of the world.
4. Under Sir Henry Thornton, whose services were secured by the Liberal Administration, the Canadian National Railways have been converted from a liability to one of the greatest assets of the Canadian people.
5. The exodus has been checked. Canadians are returning in increasing numbers from the United States.
6. Old Age Pensions have been established. Already 43,000 of our aged citizens are receiving the benefits of this Liberal measure.
7. Canada's War Veterans have been treated with justice and liberality. Our war pensions legislation is the most advanced in the world.
8. The Western Provinces have received back their natural resources. The grievances of the Maritime Provinces have been removed. In eight years of office the Government has paid to the provinces the vast sum of $136,330,618, much the most generous treatment ever accorded.
9. The eight-hour day has been enacted for government employees and workmen on Government contracts. There has been less industrial strife than at any period of our history.
10. Under the Tariff Advisory Board the tariff structure is being developed on a sound and scientific foundation.
11. The Welland Canal, the Hudson Bay Railway and other great public works have been completed out of current revenues and without borrowing a dollar.
12. Legations have been created abroad which have greatly advanced the interests and prestige of Canada. Intra-empire relations were never more satisfactory than they are to-day.
13. Until the present world economic crisis came upon us, Canada was enjoying the greatest prosperity in its history.
14. In a time of world-wide unemployment and distress, Canada shows the least unemployment in the world.

THE RT. HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
Premier of Canada

"Standing on a record of sound progressive accomplishment, we approach the problems of the future with the same faith, courage and optimism which have made possible the achievements of the past years."

WHO?

"That's the Imperial Conference, and it is for you to say whether you want to send to it men who have ridiculed and denounced the Dunning Budget ever since it was first introduced, men who have opposed that great Empire trade gesture, or those who have staked their political existence on the provisions of the Dunning Budget. Are we going to have a further strengthening of the foundations of Empire or are we going to lose for another decade the opportunity the Economic Conference presents?"—Mackenzie King, Speech in Newmarket, July 19, 1930.

Canada must be represented at the Imperial Economic Conference by the Government which has blazed the trail to Intra-Empire trade.

Leafs Stage Ninth Inning Rally to Defeat Royals

TORONTO CLUB BEATS ROYALS BY 3-2 COUNT

Walk to Pinch Hitter Shaute Paves Way For Montreal Defeat.

BARNES DOES WELL.

Ira Smith Leads Rochester Red Wings to 9-2 Decision Over Bisons.

The Rochester Redwings and Toronto Maple Leafs took advantage of Baltimore's idleness yesterday to recover some portion of the gain the Orioles had made on Wednesday.

While rain halted Baltimore's encounter with Reading, Rochester lengthened its lead by whipping Buffalo 9-2 while Toronto drew to within half a game of the second place Orioles by nosing out Montreal 3-2. Rochester now leads the parade by three and one-half games.

Effective pitching by Ira Smith, supported by lusty clouting on the part of his teammates enabled the Red Wings to turn back Buffalo easily. Smith, allowing only a half dozen hits blanked the Bisons for seven innings but successive doubles by Sax and Mueller in the eighth saved them from a shutout. Rochester made good use of its ten hits off Fussel and Schoof, one of the blows being Rip Collins' 24th homer of the year.

Although they got only four hits off Frank Barnes, the Royals apparently had Toronto beaten 2-1 going into the ninth inning. Here Toronto rallied to score the tying and winning runs on bunched hits behind a walk to pinch batsman Shaute. Sheedy gave Toronto a 1-0 lead with a homer in the fifth but the Royals went ahead with two in the eighth, one a home run by Urbanski with Gulley on base. Roy Bucklew pitched well through the first eight innings but could not withstand the leafs' attack in the ninth.

Bears Advance

Newark won two games from Jersey City and advance to within one game of the fifth place Buffalo Bisons. The Bears won the afternoon game at Newark 4-2 after rain wiped out a seventh inning Jersey City rally for three runs. The score reverted to the sixth inning and the Bears won officially by the 4-2 count. In the first night game at Jersey City, the Bears won 18 to 11 in ten innings in a wild game. Newark held a 7-0 lead after five innings but the Skeeters jumped on Jess Petty for six runs in the sixth and then tied the count at 11-11 in the ninth. In the tenth, Newark assaulted Pitts and Miner for seven runs to decide the battle beyond dispute. Ten pitchers saw service during the game, each team using five.

Softball Notes.

Two games will be played tonight in the Softball League. Belmonts and Brinton Carpet play at the latter's grounds, while C.G.E. and Westclox play at Central School grounds.

The Belmont-Brinton game should give the south end fans a real card. Both teams need the win. A loss tonight for Brintons will lessen their chances considerably of getting in the play-offs while a Belmont loss will not help the Clubmen. It should be a real battle.

Up at Central School grounds the Westclox will try to make it six in a row. The C.G.E. need this game as it gives them a chance in the playoffs of the first section. This game is a postponed fixture from the first half and has a great bearing on the standing.

Both games start at 6.30 sharp.

COGS-CRESCENTS MEET TO-NIGHT

Teams Will Battle It Out for Second Place Berth in the E.P.L.

COGS NEED VICTORY

Cogs and Crescents go at it again this evening at Exhibition Park in another exciting battle for second place. Cogs are getting good pitching and are hitting the ball, but games are being lost because of erratic work on the runways, where both Canadian General and Crescents show strength.

A loss to-night and a Crescents win against the Electricians on Monday night would put the Cogs in a bad way while two defeats for the Crescents would change the scenery completely and leave a very definite doubt as to the Generals' opposition in the playoff series.

Here is a list of the games to be played: July 25, Cogs at Crescents; July 28, Crescents at C.G.E.; July 30, C.G.E. at Cogs; August 1, Cogs at Crescents.

The game on Friday night is a replay of the contest on July 8 when Cogs and Crescents failed to break a tie score. This arrangement postpones the schedule game for Friday between Crescents and Cogs leaving two postponed contests and another tie game of July 18 between Crescents and Cogs to be played. The second postponed game is that of July 11 between C.G.E. and Crescents.

RAINVILLE LOSES TO GILBERT NUNNS

Canadian Tennis Semi-finals Reached in Finals.

TORONTO, July 25. — The second bracket Canadian Lawn Tennis championships, was not only an all-Canadian affair, but it virtually decided the relative standing of the first two Canadian players for the year 1930—a vexed question. In the spring of the year a Davis Cup team had to be chosen to represent Canada against the United States, the match to take place in May, before the opening of the tennis season proper in our northern clime. The committee placed Gilbert Nunns on this team by virtue of his previous season's record. Some critics questioned this, claiming that Rainville of Montreal had a prior claim. In the trials, Rainville, who had been playing winter tennis in the south, literally swept the boards and acquitted himself splendidly in the Davis Cup tie. Nunns had not hit his stride but steadily improved during the season. At their meeting yesterday each was in fine form. Nunns won in decisive fashion by three sets to one and at the conclusion of the match Rainville was the first to admit that he had been outplayed. He failed to get up to the net and at the baseline driving game Nunns was decidedly superior, winning by the score of 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

PROMOTER PLANS SATURDAY NIGHT RACE

"Fifty In One" Is This Snake Story

This is no fish story but a real snake one. Yesterday morning, on the Wolf Fox Farm, Bernard McManus captured a four foot six inch snake. To satisfy the curiosity of the human mind, George Wheeler cut open the animal to see how many snakes were inside. He counted no less than fifty and the average length was about two inches. The snake was of the harmless nature but would bite hard when in a tight corner.

WESTCLOX WIN FIFTH STRAIGHT

Good Work on the Part of Clockmakers' Fielders Give Them 17-10 Win.

SOME HEAVY HITTING.

The game was not as good as was expected, and only the great work of the Clockmakers' infield and outfield gave them the win.

Darling twirled for the Westclox and was lucky to pull out a win. He was touched for nineteen hits but bad baserunning by the Bowlrites and quick work by the Westclox fielders gave him the win.

Forsythe started for the Bowlrites but was hit hard and retired in favor of Dormer, who held the Westclox in check while he was on the mound.

Goodson was the outstanding fielding star, making a dozen pretty catches in centre field. Dormer at short stop made two sensational catches of hard hit balls.

Sugar Bowl lost a good chance in the second when they only got one run on five hits. The Westclox collected five runs on three hits in the first innings.

Harold Dormer led all the hitters with four hits in six times up, although Bradshaw had two hits and three walks in five times up.

The teams:

Sugar Bowl—Westbrooke, 3b; H. Dormer, 1b; Bake, rf, lf; Gillespie, cf; G. Dormer, ss; Weese, 2b; Bradshaw, lf, rf, 1b; Forsythe, p, rf; Connors, c.

Westclox—Dorrington, 3b; White, c; Curry, rf; Vinette, ss; Fowler, 2b; Goodson, cf; Kitchen, 1b; Darling, p; Foley, lf.

MACHINES BLAMED FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Labor Saving Devices Cause of 90 Per Cent. of Unemployment Says Burnham.

BRANTFORD, July 25. — J. H. Burnham, after making a close analysis of unemployment, showed that 90 percent. of it is actually and definitely due to labor saving machinery which of late has been so marvellously developed. There is no cure for the substitution of machinery for men and women but the buying up of all labor saving machinery and the control of it by the government which can thus use it for the general benefit of all the people.

TORONTO HORSE NEARLY EQUALS TRACK RECORD

Peter Patch One Second and a Half Behind Mark Set For Mile.

SECOND NITE BILL.

Promoter W. C. Cummer Plans to Hold Third Race on Saturday Night.

One second and a half behind the track record for the mile pace, Peter Patch, owned by Dick Rowntree of Toronto won the 2.14 class race in a field of seven horses at the Exhibition Grounds last night and once more proved conclusively to the doubting skeptics of the district that horses will run just as well at night as in the day time. The time was 2.11.

The meet was the second of two scheduled night races staged by the Chatham Driving Park Company and drew a total of 18 entries from Toronto, Smiths Falls, Seaforth, Collingwood, Niagara Falls, Trenton, Port Hope, Port McNichol, Sutton, Keene and Peterborough, in races of three classes, 2.14, 2.19, and 2.25. Purses of $300 were put up for each race by Promoter W. C. Crummer. A third race will be run this Saturday evening it was announced last night.

Artificial Light.

Once again track fans who gathered from many points in the district as well as the city enjoyed the novelty of seeing regular horse races on an artificially-lighted track. The instantaneous rise of the grandstanders to their feet whenever a spectacular change in position took place on the far side of the track testified to the excellent visibility made possible by scores of high-powered electric flood lights. The white canvas background threw the horses into relief and not a movement in any of the races was missed by the eager watchers.

The three races were run on the three-heat plan. Peter Patch won the 2.14 class in two straight heats, making 2.11 in both. Della Wilkes, owned by H. Hunter of Smith Falls and the winner of the 2.17 last night, won a hard fight to triumph for second money in the third heat and left third and fourth money to Oliver Pete, Len Guy of Seaforth, and Princess Arthur, Dick Scott of Toronto.

Irene Peters, owned by Len Guy, won the 2.19 in two heats doing the mile in 2.15¼ in the first and 2.15½ in the second in a field of six. She had a safe lead in the first heat with Alright and Dick Sunday battling for second place and also had a couple of yards to spare in front of Louis Botha in the second. Although Alright, William Herbert of Niagara Falls, made a spectacular spurt on the home stretch, Louis Botha, owned by H. Hunter, won second money in a close finish in the third heat. Alright got third place in the race and Minnie Patchen, Sutherland and Quinlan of Peterborough, fourth.

Taking two straight heats in a hard fought race, Lady Opera, owned by H. Hunter, took first money in the 2.25 class event. There were 5 entries. It was a neck and neck battle with June Patchen in the home stretch in both heats. In the second Lady Opera came out from behind and passed June Patchen in the last 25 yards. June Patchen, E. Williams of Toronto, won the third heat and third and fourth money went to Lena Direct, William Elmhurst of Peterborough, and Herman L, Dr. Stevenson of Sutton. Race times were 21.8, 2.18 and 2.19½.

Officials were were: Dr. Proctor, Newmarket, starter; Stanley Lowe and Art. Blade, Peterborough, judges; Dr. Forest, Port Hope and M. Storey, Peterborough, timers; and D. R. Fleming, Peterborough, clerk of the course.

Race on Saturday.

The owners of the fifty horses that were here for the races on Thursday night and last night have all agreed to stay over for the races which will be staged on Saturday night, W. C. Crummer announces. The price of admission on Saturday night will be lowered to 50 cents from $1.00.

CYCLISTS' WEDDING UNIQUE.

Recalling the old song of "Daisy Bell," crowds at Cardiff, Wales, recently witnessed a wedding at which the bride and groom arrived at the church separately on single bicycles and as husband and wife rode away on a tandem for their honeymoon. All the guests peddled to the church in cycling costumes. The bride and groom wore dark cycling breeches, while some of the guests were in shorts with bare knees. As the bridal couple left the church they passed under an archway formed of bicycle wheels. The bride was Miss M. Rees and the groom, Frederick Jones. Both are prominent in cycling clubs.

Montreal Soccer Player Is Given Life Suspension

MONTREAL, July 25.—The P. Q.F.A. Discipline Committee has outlawed Player Rowland of Sunnyside Soccer Club for life because he struck Referee Hilliam in the face in the course of a game with Spoof here Tuesday night. Rowland was evidently under the false impression that his team was being unjustly penalized when the referee called a halt for an offside on the part of Spool. Rowland was not present to defend himself when the committee disposed of his case.

ERVIN BRAME LEADS HOME RUN HITTING PITCHERS IN MAJORS FOXX CONNECTS FOR 4-BAGGER

Indians Bow to 1929 World's Champions By Score of 8 to 6.

CHICAGO BEATS SENATORS.

Cubs Defeat Phillies in Heavy Hitting Fray By 19 to 15 Count.

About the time that Babe Ruth astounded the world of baseball by hitting 29 home runs in one season, a feat described in the next official baseball guide as "a regular mastadon of a record," it was something almost as amazing when a pitcher knocked the ball for the circuit. In the current era of long distance hitting, with the Babe travelling along far ahead of the pace that brought him the current record of 60 homers, it is so common for pitchers to hit home runs that even the moundsmen who do it hardly get a thrill.

So far this season, 15 pitchers have hit 20 of the National League's 543 homers, while eight American League moundsmen have driven out nine homers of the circuit's 629. Ervin Brame of Pittsburgh has hit three four baggers to lead this array while a few days ago Phil Collins of the Phillies connected for two in one game.

Ray Kolp of Cincinnati was the only hurler to turn the trick yesterday. His homer in the second inning of the first game between the Reds and the Brooklyn Robins gave Cincinnati a 3-0 lead and with one late run was enough to win the contest 4 to 3. Brooklyn came back and took the second game 9 to 0, before rain stopped them in the sixth inning. This game produced one of the season's best exhibitions of stalling as the Reds tried to make the approaching storm wipe out Brooklyns 2-0 lead and the Robins tried to prevent this. The needed 4½ innings were completed just in time and as darkness began to fall on the field the Robins fell on Benny Freys pitching for seven more runs to keep themselves a half game ahead of Chicago.

The Cubs were unhampered by the weather at Philadelphia and after 2 1-3 hours of slugging came out ahead by a 19 to 15 score. Thirteen of Chicago's runs were scored in the first two innings.

1-0 Win for Giants.

The same storm that stopped Brooklyn's proceedings, gave the New York Giants a 1 to 0 triumph over Pittsburgh. The Giants had a homer by Fred Lindstrom left from the first inning while the Pirates, after getting only one hit off Carl Hubbell in six frames, had the bases full in the seventh, when the game was stopped.

Boston's Braves won the remaining National League game, beating St. Louis 5-4, and finally broke the sixth place tie with Cincinnati. The Braves went a half game ahead of the Reds and the same distance behind Pittsburgh.

Babe Ruth again provided one of the big features of the American League's day by clouting his 36th homer of the year as the New York Yankees defeated Detroit 5 to 2.

Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia's long-distance star, also clouted a homer, and although it was only his 27th it meant more at the time than did Ruth's. Foxx's circuit blow was made in the ninth inning with the score tied and gave the Athletics an 8 to 6 triumph over the Cleveland Indians.

Keep in Line on Curves

Keep in single file on curves. You can't see the road ahead, so do not try to pass. Another car on its own right of way may meet you . . . with a crash.

On steep grades too, keep in line. There's danger always of another car suddenly coming over the top towards you.

If traffic is not moving fast enough for you, wait for an open stretch before you move ahead.

Observe the Rules for Safe Driving always and you will help to keep yourself and others safe from accident on the highway.

The injured were rushed to hospitals, seventeen of them were unconscious, and physicians said three of them, as yet unidentified, probably would die. The condition of the others was pronounced serious.

MENIE ENTERS LEAGUE FINALS

Defeat Springbrook 16-14 in Replay Game of Softball League Fixture.

DAVIS GOOD ON MOUND.

BURNBRAE, July 25.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—Menie earned the right to compete in the league finals on Wednesday evening when they won a thrilling encounter from Springbrook 16 to 14. This game was the replay of the 12 to 6 win one week ago which was protested on account of the alleged illegality of Kerr's delivery. The same Kerr pitching with a sore arm and receiving only mediocre support, was the game this time.

Davis pitced fast ball for the first four innings but Menie batters being used to curves found no difficulty in hammering in sixteen runs from seventeen hits. Hazlett with his slow, straight delivery completely baffled them in the next two innings, Shillinglaw being the only one to hit safely, his only hit of the game.

Rally in Fifth.

Twelve runs down beginning the fifth Springbrook staged a rally that almost won the game and only a dumb play on the part of Gibson, who tried to make home on a fielder's choice, prevented them from putting the tieing run on the pathway. The same player precipitated a near riot in the last inning when he fouled L. Little and Rannie in succession jumping into the bases.

The umpiring in this game was fair and impartial and undoubtedly this accounted for the peaceful state of affairs as the feeling between the teams has run quite high at times in the past.

Rannie and Eagleson scored half of Menie's runs with four each, the latter getting four hits in five times up while Rannie got only one two-bagger, being walked twice and reaching first on an erorr once. On his last appearance he forced Hay at second. Frank Little also got four hits out of five attempts, while Kerr got three out of four times up, one a three-bagger. Tom Little started the fourth with a three-base clout, also getting another single in the first. Petherick got two hits, one good for two bases. Lew Little secured one single while Hay reached first only on an error.

Bateman Leads Attack.

Bateman who in the previous game failed to hit, led the attack with four singles in five trips to the platter. Gibson got three hits, one a clean-cut homer in the second. Hazlett got two safeties, one a three-bagger, while W. Heath and Davis each collected two. G. Heath and Mason hit once while Williams and Morton failed to connect safely, each striking out three times. Davis and Hazlett were the heavy hitters with three runs each.

The first game of the play-off series between Menie and Bethel will be staged at Menie on Friday evening, when a record crowd is expected to be on hand.

BRITAIN UNABLE TO STOP GRAIN

Would Be Breaking Treaties to Prohibit European Shipments.

PREFERENCE, BRIGHT SPOT.

LONDON, Eng., July 25 (By Thos. T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer). — Discussing European tariffs in the House of Commons last night, Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, said Britain was not likely to help the reduction of these tariffs by embarking on a tariff policy herself.

"The one bright spot is the preference Canada has accorded to Britain," he declared. He expressed the hope that Britain would get a little more such encouragement at the coming Imperial Conference.

The President of the Board of Trade had pointed out that the Anglo-German Commercial Treaty, signed in 1924, prevented Britain taking any protective action against the imports of German grain, which are subsidized by the German Government.

"If we prohibited the bounty-fed grain from France and Germany we would be violating the Anglo-German Commercial Treaty and the most-favored national treaties with a dozen other countries," Mr. Graham pointed out.

This will give fans an opportunity to judge the Rays' strength as compared with the E.P.L. clubs. There will be no admission charge, but a collection will be taken.

Five Brothers Will Cast Votes Monday

KINGSTON, Ont., July 25 (Special to The Examiner). — Five brothers, who were born in Lennox County, whose combined ages total over 400 years, and who have been lifelong Liberals, will vote next Monday for the party they have given their allegiance to these many years. They are George Wright of Conway, 87 years of age; John Wright, Toronto, 83 years; William Wright, Picton, 80 years; Charles Wright, of Napanee, 78 years, and Edward Wright of Conway, 76 years. Thus four brothers of the five will cast their votes in the county in which they were born. Very few counties in the province of Ontario can boast of such a family record.

PETHERICK'S WIN FROM SPRINGBROOK

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, July 25 (Examiner Correspondence). — The local softball team met the fast Springbrook aggregation at Rylstone lawn social on Tuesday evening and emerged on the long end of a 11 to 8 score in a keenly contested and well-played game. Springbrook started off like world beaters, with Davis in the hero role with a homer which brought in three runs. Petherick in centre field put the K.O. on any further attempts by the same player making two sparkling catches of flies to deep centre. Davis pulled the star catch of the evening when he snared a line drive by taking a nose dive to reach it. The locals hit Heath hard and often in the first four frames, but were able to get only one run off Davis in the last two innings. Fry pitched a steady game throughout, while the local infield handled all but two of the put outs in good style. Bateman, with four hits, was Springbrook's heavy hitter, while Davis and M. Heath scored twice. Garnet Heath usually a sure batter, failed to reach first in five attempts. M. Heath and Morton each secured three hits.

Owens led the local attack with three runs and four hits in four times up. G. Kerr, Petherick and Anderson each secured three hits, while Fry and Anderson scored twice each. Watson was the only one of the locals who failed to hit safely. However, he contributed a nice sacrifice fly and did some good work on third.

The line-up:

Springbrook—M. Heath p; Williams c; Bateman, 1b; W. Heath, 2b; Ingram, 3b; Davis, ss; Rev. H. A. Bunt, lf; G. Heath, cf; Morton, rf.

W.O.B.A. TOURNEY COMES TO A CLOSE

Three Winners of Year Ago Repeat in the Same Events.

LONDON, Ont., July 25. — Probably the best W.O.B.A. tournament held since pre-war days drew to a close last evening just before sundown, when Galbraith of Chatham, defeated Slattery of the London Thistles, in the Consolation singles by a score of 14-2.

The tournament was not remarkable for the size of the entry so much as for the quality of the bowling and the revival of interest manifested by the competitors.

A feature of the play was the consistency shown by last year's winners, no less than three being returned victors in the same events they were defending. This is probably unprecedented in bowling history.

Jimmy McDougall's rowing club four started this fashion by capturing the first event again this year, and Frank Wilson's Thistles carried on the precedent by winning the Tecumseh. Dr. Snelgrove, who won the Marr Singles last year brought up the rear of the procession of two time victors by winning them again in the afternoon, defeating C. Dockstader of London Thistles.

J. H. Sims' Kitchener rink, prevented an all-London sweep of the major events in the rink competitions by stopping W. J. Ashplant's Rowers in the morning final of the Cornwall Trophy.

Two out-of-town pairs battled for the consolation doubles, McCoy and Agnew, of Lucknow, showing a pair of Scotchmen from Wingham, Rae and Hal McLean, the way home, 18-12.

Galbraith of Chatham continued the victories going to out-of-town bowlers on the last day by winning the consolation singles. He had put out his rink skip, W. J. Brokenshire, in the semi-finals.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S MYSTERIOUS RIDE.

"We are all out of molasses, Mr. Gruff!" said the big, black bear lady to her husband bear one morning as he shuffled around the den, his paw nails making a clicking, clacking sound on the stone floor.

"All out of molasses, are we?" growled Mr. Gruff who, though a bear, was not the jolly gentleman sort like Mr. Stubtail, the father of Neddie and Beckie Stubtail. "Well, I'd better go get some," went on Mr. Gruff. "We need sweet stuff! Where's the can?"

"Here it is," his wife growled back at him. Mr. and Mrs. Gruff, being bears living in a den, were always growling at each other.

Mr. Gruff took a big tin can, the kind that holds milk before it is put into bottles, and placing this large can on his wheelbarrow, the old bear started for the molasses store. There was nothing in the can now, for all the molasses had been taken from it by Mr. and Mrs. Gruff. As he walked along, pushing the wheelbarrow, Mr. Gruff said:

The rabbit was clapped inside the can.

"Yes, indeed, we bears must have sweet stuff to eat once in a while, and molasses is the best thing I know."

Just then, a little way ahead of him on the path, Mr. Gruff, saw a rabbit gentleman hipping ,hopping along.

"Bless my funny little tail!" growled Mr. Gruff. "There's Uncle Wiggily! talking about sweet things to eat, he is sweeter than a lot of molasses! I think I'll catch him and take him home to my wife before I go on to the store."

Now Uncle Wiggily wasn't thinking of bears, molasses, big tin cans, or even wheelbarrows, so he did not hear Mr. Gruff slinking up back of him. And the first thing Uncle Wiggily knew he felt himself caught by his ears in the paws of the bear and—presto, the poor rabbit gentleman was clapped inside the molasses can and the lid was pushed on.

"Dear me! What can have happened?" Uncle Wiggily asked himself when he could catch his breath. He found himself in darkness, but by feeling about he could tell he was inside a tin can. It was so large that he could move about and there was enough air so he did not smother. There were dents and holes around the lid, where more air came in, and a teeny, wee bit of light.

"Ha! Ha! Talk about molasses! I've got something sweet!" laughed Mr. Gruff in a loud voice. Uncle Wiggily knew that bear's laugh.

"He has caught me at last!" thought Uncle Wiggily. "I'm shut up in his molasses can! I wonder what will happen next!"

The next thing Uncle Wiggily knew he was being given a mysterious ride. He felt himself being trundled along inside the milk can, but could not guess the can was on a wheelbarrow, as he had not seen that before he was caught. There was a loud, grumbling sound as the wheelbarrow ,with Uncle Wiggily in the molasses can, bounced over the stones.

"Hello, Mr. Gruff!" Uncle Wiggily dimly heard a voice say. "What have you there, molasses?"

"Something sweeter than molasses, Mr. Bob Cat!" answered the bear. "I've caught Uncle Wiggily and I'm taking him to my den."

Then the rabbit gentleman, shut up in the can and being ridden on the wheelbarrow, knew the worst had happened. He did not know what to do. He did not know how to get out and he felt very sad when, all of a sudden, he heard a little voice saying:

"Don't be afraid, Uncle Wiggily! We are going to save you!"

"Who are you and how are you going to save me?" asked the rabbit in surprise.

"We are a lot of ants that crawled inside the can to get some of the sweet molasses stuff out of the cracks," was the answer. "Listen! The bear will take you to his den. As soon as he gets there he will take the cover off the can to show you to his wife. As soon as he does that we ants will crawl all over those two bears. We'll tickle their noses and their ears and they'll be so surprised that they'll forget about you for a minute. That will be your chance to hop out of the can and run away fast."

"Oh, I'll do that all right!" said Mr. Longears. "Thanks a lot!"

On rumbled the wheelbarrow with Uncle Wiggily on it in the can. Reaching his den, Mr. Gruff called to his wife: "Here I am!"

"Did you bring the molasses?" growled the bear wife.

"Come here and look!" shouted her husband. "I have brought you something much sweeter than molasses!" She looked into the can as he took the cover off and shouted:

"Uncle Wiggily! How wonderful!" Then, before the two bears could nibble the rabbit, out of the molasses can swarmed thousands of black and red ants. They crawled all over the big, shaggy creatures tickling them on their noses and ears so the bears had to scratch and, for a moment, they forgot about the rabbit in the can.

"Here is where I go!" cried Mr. Longears and out he hopped and ran down the hill away from the bears' den safe to his bungalow.

Mr. Longears was thankful to the ants for saving him and he laughed when he thought of his mysterious ride in the molasses can.

THE ONLY EMPIRE TRADE POLICY THAT MEANS ANYTHING

The Liberal press bureau devoted half a page last evening in a vain effort to delude local industrial workers into thinking that Empire trade depends upon the Dunning budget.

It would be a sad day for Empire trade if it or the jobs of Peterborough workers depended upon anything so unreliable as that flagwaving apology for a business policy.

Fortunately they do not.

Fortunately the workers of Peterborough and the farmers of Peterborough county have some thing more substantial to vote and that something is the policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett, a policy that offers the only sure way of developing Empire trade on lasting lines and the only sure way as well of protecting the home market of the Canadian manufacturer and the Canadian farmer.

As Mr. Bennett himself has said in regard to Empire trade the Dunning budget "gives everything, asks for nothing and waves the flag for votes."

IT DOES NOT PROTECT THE WORKERS OF THIS CITY FROM THE COMPETITION OF AMERICAN GOODS, IT OPENS THE DOOR TO COMPETITION FROM THE EMPIRE AND IT GIVES NOT A SINGLE THING in return except the fond hope of Mr. Dunning that the British traders will be so overcome with gratitude at his Imperial gesture that they will ignore the price of wheat from the Argentine and Russia, and the price of bacon and dairy products from Denmark and do all their buying in these things from Canadians henceforth.

It does not require circus type Liberal advertisements to prove that self-evident fact.

But where is there a concrete fact to prove that this tinfoil Dunning offer guarantees substantial benefits for Canadians in return? WORKERS OF PETERBOROUGH, FARMERS OF PETERBOROUGH COUNTY THERE IS ONLY ONE SOUND PATH TO GREATER TRADE WITHIN THE EMPIRE.

The Conservative leader has pointed to that path all through the campaign.

The British Bankers Association, the shrewdest financiers in the world have indicated the same path.

IT IS A POLICY OF EMPIRE TRADE BASED ON RECIPROCAL PREFERENCES THAT WILL BE MUTUALLY ADVANTAGEOUS.

To depend upon anything else only means harder times in Canada.

Mr. Peck DID HIS FULL DUTY to the workers of Peterborough's factories when he voted against a Budget that failed to stop the importation of American goods, that increased the competition represented by British goods and that gave neither the industries nor the farmers of this riding a single concrete advantage.

AND WHEN HE GOES TO OTTAWA TO THE SPECIAL SESSION TO BE CALLED BY THE NEW GOVERNMENT THAT IS TO BE AFTER NEXT MONDAY, MR. PECK WILL CONTINUE TO DO HIS FULL DUTY TOWARD THE WORKERS AND FARMERS OF THIS RIDING BY HELPING HON. R. B. BENNETT PUT INTO EFFECT A POLICY THAT WILL ALIKE PROTECT THE JOBS OF THE FORMER AND THE HOME MARKET OF THE LATTER FROM OUTSIDE COMPETITION.

A vote for Duffus in this election is a leap in the dark so far as Empire trade is concerned and is a vote to leave Peterborough's factories exposed to foreign competition.

A vote for PECK IS A VOTE FOR A SENSIBLE EMPIRE TRADE POLICY that will last because it will be built on a business line and a vote for protection of the Canadian worker and the Canadian farmer.

If you are more interested in creating a job for somebody living outside of Canada vote for Duffus, but if you want to be sure of your own job and help your workless neighbor get one vote for Peck.

If you are more interested in helping make a New Zealand dairy farmer prosperous vote for Duffus but if you think the Canadian dairy farmer should have his chance vote for Peck.

There is the plain, simple issue.

WIND DAMAGE IS EVERYONE'S CONCERN

Second only to fire in capacity for destructiveness, high winds wreak damage almost everywhere, at almost any time.

June, "Month of Roses," has a bad record for windstorms. And there is no insurance against such destruction as may be wrought by gales and tornadoes except a specific Windstorm Policy. However, the cost is very moderate, as we'll be glad to prove.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 20 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The weird dance went on. Then at a signal from Kerchak the drums ceased. The males rushed headlong upon the thing which their terrific blows had reduced to a mass of hairy pulp. They now turned their attention to devouring their late enemy. The mightiest apes obtained the choicest morsels.

Tarzan with his sharp knife slashed off a more generous portion than he had hoped for. Old Tublat spied Tarzan with the prize and wicked gleams of hate shot from little little eyes. Tarzan saw the great beast's purpose and leaped nimbly away—Tublat, however, close upon his heels.

Swiftly he sprang. Gaining a lower limb, he climbed rapidly, followed closely by Tublat. Up, up he went to the highest branches, where his heavy pursuer dared not follow. There he perched, hurling taunts and insults at the raging, foaming beast fifty feet below him. And then Tublat went mad!

With horrifying screams and roars, he rushed to the ground among the females and young, sinking his great fangs into a dozen tiny necks. Tarzan witnessed the whole mad carnival of rage. Now he saw Tublat dash toward Kala, his foster-mother. Tarzan dropped swiftly and faced the infuriated brute.

With a roar of triumph, Tublat leaped. Tarzan plunged the keen hunting-knife a dozen times into him. The ape rolled to the ground. Tarzan, his foot upon the neck of his enemy, threw back his head and, beating his mighty breast, screamed out the fierce ape cry of defiance.

DOMINION ELECTIONS, 1930. PETERBOROUGH WEST.

Notice is hereby given to all Deputy Returning Officers appointed for the Urban District of Peterborough West, that they may obtain their ballot boxes at my office situated at 96 Douro street, East City, between hours of 6 p.m., and 12 midnight, Standard time. It is imperative that each D.R.O. should make every effort to obtain his ballot box to-night in order to get acquainted with his instructions relating to the carrying on of his duties on Monday next, when ballots will be taken.

SIDNEY WHATLEY,
Returning officer, Peterborough West
1d22-2396

OBITUARY

J. R. EASTWOOD.

In the death yesterday at his home 202 Glenrose Avenue, Toronto, of J. R. Eastwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Eastwood of this city, Toronto lost one of the most prominent and successful of her younger business men. Well known socially, and loved and respected by a wide circle of friends, the late Mr. Eastwood was the head of the large Deer Park Garage of Toronto, and a member of the Masonic Order.

Leaving his home here 22 years ago when he was moved to the head office of the Royal Bank of Canada, of which he was at that time an employee, the late Mr. Eastwood later entered the service of Hislop Brothers, large Cadillac dealers, where he learned the automobile business thoroughly.

During the period of the war, the late Mr. Eastwood served overseas in the Mechanical Transport. Following the war, he took over the business which his untimely death yesterday left in the thriving condition to which his keen business sense had brought it.

Born in Peterborough in the year 1890, the late Mr. Eastwood reached his 40th birthday on the 9th of June last.

In addition to his parents, the deceased is survived by a sorrowing wife (the former Miss Edith Rader), a brother, V. M. Eastwood of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. G. S. Matthews and Mrs. (Dr.) Howson, and Mrs. Allan Cameron, all of this city.

The funeral will be held from his father's residence, Belmont Avenue, to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at 3 o'clock (D.S.T.). The Rev. Mr. MacLean of St. Andrew's Church will officiate. The intrement will be in the Little Lake Cemetery.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR ESSEX CAR

Contest Being Held By Kiwanis Club in Aid of Underprivileged Children.

RUN WITH EXHIBITION.

Tickets for the new Essex car to be given away by the Kiwanis Club in aid of under-privileged children in Peterborough go on sale at the corner of George and Charlotte Streets at 2 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

The car is a beauty, and the contest will be run under practically similar lines to the recent contest of the Rotary Club.

Monday evening the successful candidate in the local Federal ring will seal the speedometer of the car and lock the ballot box. This ceremony will take place immediately that it is known for a certainty whether Mr. Peck or Mr. Duffus will be the city's next member of Parliament.

The contest is being run in conjunction with the big Kiwanis Produced-in-Canada Exhibition, and on Monday the conditions of the contest and other details of information will be announced.

Port Hope Bowlers Are Here To-Night

The regular Friday night bowling tournament, a feature of the Peterborough Bowling Club's activities this year, will be made doubly interesting this evening on account of the fact that eight rinks from Port Hope will be present to participate in the competition and to take active part in something of a novel and unusual nature.

Following the announcement made in last night's Examiner regarding to-night's 'pleasing feature,' nothing further than this can be disclosed to-day, but an urgent appeal is made to every member of the club to turn out without fail.

During the course of the evening sandwiches and coffee will be served.

BALLOTING IS SLOW AT ADVANCE POLL

Big Vote is Not Expected By Returning Officer.

The balloting at the advance poll held in the city council chambers yesterday evening proved extremely light, according to Sidney Whatley, Returning Officer. It is expected, however, that voting will be brisker to-night and to-morrow.

The returns from the advance Poll here, Mr. Whatley states, are never the maximum. No change in this regard is expected this year.

The majority of those who voted at the advance poll here are travelling men, according to the Returning Officer, althouhg a few railway employees also exercise their franchise at the Council Chambers.

The poll is open again from 7 to 10 (E.S.T.), to-night, and from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. (E. S. T.) to-morrow.

While waving from the car window as the Paris-Cherbourg express passed their home at Rouen, the arms of Albert Menard and his sister, were broken by a train traveling in the opposite direction.

Shoemakers and their employees in El Salvador are fighting efforts to introduce shoe-making machinery into the country.

Nearly $6,000,000 worth of harvesting machinery was exported from the United States in the first five months of this year.

MAIN STREET TOPICS

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

VANDALISM.

An act of vandalism in its lowest form was reported to The Examiner to-day by Robert Fair. While his automobile was standing on George Street overnight someone destroyed one tire by slashing the outer cover with a knife. The guilty party will be subjected to a severe penalty when caught and brought to justice.

GYPED!

"Oh-oh-oh!" wailed two little lads who were both standing on the platform of one of those automatic weighing machines on George Street. "We've been gyped! Small cents ain't no good in these machines!" They had just inserted a small coin in the slot and heard an empty mocking rattle as it slid down the gluttonous throat of the contraption, but no weight slip was to be found.

How the young urchins were going to determine their individual weights is not known. If the machine had done its job, they probably would have been contented with their combined weight or maybe they intended to divide the figure by two.

WANTED—AN OWNER.

Bearing signs of having been driven some distance minus the tire and rim on the left front wheel, a dilapidated touring car of well known make but of very ancient vintage was deserted and abandoned on the 'doorstep' of a Sheridan street resident last night.

The wooden spokes on which the old bus had probably jolted some distance were literally chewed up, while the windshield which was absolutely minus added effectively to the antique and pathetic sight which the vehicle presented.

UNACCEPTED.

Bearing the legend, "If they fit you, you can take them," an oversize pair of pants which have been hanging outside a certain second-hand store for some days past, are as yet without a claimant.

Possessing an exceptionally large waistline, whose size is accentuated by the fact that a large wooden hoop has been utilized to advantageously display its dimensions, it is safe to say that the pants will remain unclaimed, it being almost impossible to conceive of a human being with such an abnormal waistline as that suggested.

REAPING!

Cutting an ever widening swath in the plenteous fields of golden-eared fall wheat, the steady and continuous whirr of the binders is once more a familiar and welcome sound in the countryside of Central Ontario.

Working from sun-up to sundown, the farmers are industriously engaged in harvesting the first fruits of their season's labor, and all indications point to a record grain crop.

The haying, which is now practically completed, has resulted in full lofts, which will provide an ample storage from which to draw the forthcoming winter's fodder supply, while the spring wheat, barley, oats and corn are all rapidly reaching maturity under the beneficent influence of Old Sol.

BIRTH.

BIGAMY CHARGES IN POLICE COURT

Clarian Windover Pleads Guilty to Having Bootleg Liquor.

GETS THREE MONTHS.

Charged with having bootleg liquor in his possession, Clarian Windover, 24, a resident of Rockford, in Harvey Township, pleaded guilty in Police Court this morning. It proved to be his second offence of a similar nature and, in passing sentence, Magistrate Langley inquired from the young man if the residents of the back part of the county were not aware that a strict Temperance Law had been passed in Ontario in 1917. "If the nature of this law and its severe penalties have not sunk into the minds of the people back there it is time it had," stated the Magistrate.

Windover was given the minimum, three months on the hill.

Having pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy on Wednesday, Cephus Munroe appeared to-day for sentence. However, during the interim he had secured the services of J. A. O'Brien as counsel, and this morning Mr. O'Brien asked that the plea be changed to not guilty. "Although this man pleaded guilty to this serious charge, I am doubtful if ever he knew the meaning of the word bigamy," declared Mr. O'Brien.

While the Magistrate considered the request somewhat unusual, it was conceded. Munroe was remanded for one week, when the preliminary trial will be held.

VOL. LXV., No. 22 — PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, CANADA, SATURDAY, JULY 26, 1930 — PRICE THREE CENTS

ONE KILLED AND 3 INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Immigrant Boy is Identified as Cyril Call

SUICIDE VICTIM LIVED ON FARM NEAR WESTWOOD

Companion Identfies Body of Man Who Was Found Dead on Thursday.

IN CANADA 13 MONTHS.

No Reason is Given for Young Man Committing Rash Deed.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, July 26—Identification of the body of the young man who committed suicide on Thursday afternoon on Cordova Road near here by hanging himself from the limb of a tree was made yesterday afternoon. William Aspinall of Otonabee township recognized the body as being that of Cyril Call a farm hand employed by Hugh Cameron of Otonabee. Call was a native of Leeds, England and migrated to Canada 13 months ago when he was immediately engaged by Cameron.

No Motive Known

He was always bright and cheerful and was highly respected in the community and a great friend of the young people around Westwood. No motive can be assigned for him committing the rash deed.

Mr. Cameron told The Examiner here yesterday afternoon that on Thursday morning he had given Call some chores to do while he went over to another farm. Later in the morning when he returned he found the young man missing. When he failed to return that night he knew that something must have happened. Inquiries were made with the result that he heard an unknown man was dead near Marmora.

Yesterday afternoon Provincial Constable Harry Thompson and Sergt. Arthur Thomas of the Peterborough Police force motored to Marmora with Aspinall who identified the remains. Cameron was notified and he identified them also. The two young men had been companions for several months and they were planning to go on a farm of their own next year. No inquest will be held and the remains were buried at Westwood this afternoon.

OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

Farrel, Hagen, Watrous and Deigel Expected to Finish Strong.

ANCASTER On., July 25. (C.P.) Tony Manero, Elmsford, N. Y., turning in a card of 70 for a total of 208, was first of the leaders to report at the half way mark in today's 36-hole final of the Canadian open golf championship. Manero had started the final in second place, one point behind Nicol Thompson, Sr., Hamilton, who went out late in the morning.

Charles Lacey of Pine Valley was next to Manero in the early returns with 215. Lacey however fell back considerably when he shot a 74 on top of his previous 141 total.

Thompson Being Watched

All eyes were on Nichol Thompson this morning as he sought to bring back the championship to Canada in competition with stars of the Royal and Ancient Game whose names are household words wherever the game is played. Thompson whose son, Nichol

MAJORITY OF 37 IS FORECAST OF LIBERAL PARTY

Conservative Seats in Next House is Set at 85.

TWO SEATS DOUBTFUL.

Ontario, Maritimes and B. C. Expected to Give Gains.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26 (C.P.). — The official election forecast of the Liberal Party was made public by the National Liberal Bureau here. It contemplates a majority over all for the present administration of 37, with a possibility of 39.

Extensive Gains.

The statement follows: "A careful appraisal of the reports received from the Provincial Liberal Associations indicates extensive gains for the Government in those sections of the country which in the last election gave their support to the Opposition. This is particularly the case in the Maritime Provinces, Ontario and British Columbia, where the constituencies report a definite swing towards the Liberals.

"On the Prairies, where local issues have at times obscured those of national import, the Government will hold its own, with the prospect of making gains.

Liberal Estimate.

Maritime Provinces	17
Quebec	61
Ontario	32
The Prairies	26
British Columbia	5

"One seat in Manitoba and another in British Columbia are regarded as doubtful.

"The National Liberal Bureau concedes 85 seats to the Conservatives, and 17 seats to the other independent groups.

"The standing in the next House of Commons should be:

Liberals	141
Conservatives	85
Others	17

R-100 ON TEST FLIGHT.

CARDIFF Wales, July 26.—(C.P.)—The British airship R-100, making a 24-hour trial flight preparatory to a voyage to Canada, passed over Western Wales early to-day.

Two Titled Britishers Who Died in Crash

Six persons, including three titled Britishers, were killed when a German Junkers passenger aeroplane exploded in mid-air over Kent, England. The "air taxi" was bound from Le Touquet, France, to Croydon, England. Among those who lost their lives were Lady Maud Grenfell Hulbert-Postan (above) and the Marquis of Dufferin (inset).

CAMPAIGN ENDS AMID BATTERY OF BROADCASTS

Two Federal Leaders Give Final Message in Dominion-wide Hook-ups.

BATTLE OF PREMIERS.

King and Ferguson Hold Limelight Blast With Bitter Retorts.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26 (By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Correspondent). — The campaign ends to-day. Except for Quebec—where Sunday usually sees much electioneering—to-night will hear the last speech. On Monday Canada goes to the polls.

And the 58-day campaign ends in personalities, in bitter exchanges, and, as is not unusual with both parties' organizations claiming a clear majority in the next House. It has been a campaign in which the radio for the first time has figured prominently. Dominion hook-ups at $2,00 an hour, provincial hook-ups, local hook-ups—night after night, sometimes even during the lunch hour, the fan has been offered a program of speech. To-night, the two Federal leaders will give their final message over Dominion-wide hook-ups. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, will have the last say.

Premiers Very Active.

And the fight has not been one merely of the Federal organizations. Provincial Premiers have campaigned as never before. Premier Ferguson of Ontario early threw the weight of his Provincial organization into the Conservative scales. Premiers Baxter of New Brunswick, Rhodes of Nova Scotia, and Anderson of Saskatchewan followed suit. Premier Taschereau of Quebec campaigned for the Liberals. It became a battle of Premiers, with Premier King and Premier Ferguson holding the limelight.

"King and Lapointe pose as Imperialists," Premier Ferguson challenged at Stratford last night. "They are not imperialists. They are separatists. They are severing one by one the silken cords that bind Canada to the British Empire." Premier King repeats his charge that the Ontario government held up road expenditure to influence votes. Premier Ferguson retorts that the Ontario government let its road work contracts earlier this year than ever before. "He insulted the Premiers of five provinces who could not stand his cant and hypocrisy," Mr. Bennett adds of Premier King. "Shades of Laurier, traditions of a great party, where are they?"

Premier King rejoins with reference to Premier Ferguson's pride and anity and 'swelled head.' He charges Conservative leaders with letting loose a flood of personal abuse. "They are defeated and they know it," Premier King exclaims. "There has been a stream of abuse and vituperation which has done dishonor to the party they are supposed to represent.

Car Is Sideswiped on Omemee Road, Death Is Instant

Miss Helen Johnston, 21 Years Old, of Omemee, Was Instantly Killed Early This Morning While Returning From a Dance at Thurstonia Pavilion.

CAR WAS HURTLED INTO DITCH, SOMERSAULTED TWICE, COMING TO REST 150 FEET FROM POINT OF IMPACT.

Howard Wilson, Driver of the Car, is the Most Seriously Injured—Other Two Passengers Battered and Bruised But Did Not Receive Permanent Injury.

(Examiner Correspondence)

OMEMEE, July 26.—Returning home from a dance early this morning with a party of Omemee young people, Miss Helen Johnston, 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston of this village, was instantly killed in a motor accident on the Omemee-Bobcaygeon road.

The other passengers in the car were: Miss Violet Duffy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy, of Downeyville, Howard Wilson and Harry McGinnis, both of Omemee. Wilson was driving the car and it is feared that he suffered a broken pelvis. The other two were battered and bruised but, it is believed, received no permanent injury.

The party had passed the evening dancing at Thurstonia pavilion, Sturgeon Lake. They were driving home about 1 o'clock along the Omemee-Bobcaygeon road at a fast speed, police state, and just north of Fox Corners in passing a car driven in the opposite direction, they sideswiped it. Their car was hurtled into ditch, somersaulted twice and came to rest 150 feet from the point of impact.

The other car contained, Hugh Elliott, the driver, who teaches school near Fox Corners, and William Patrick, who lives close by.

Omemee, was called to the scene and he attended the injured, who were removed to their homes here.

Miss Johnston's instant death was caused by grievous head injuries. The preliminary inquest will be held this afternoon.

The passengers in the other car were uninjured and their car was but slightly damaged.

CANADIAN BUTTER BRINGS HIGHEST PRICE IN WORLD

30,000,000 LBS. SHORT.

William Newman, M.P.P., Addresses Big Liberal Rally at Centerville.

"We don't make enough butter to satisfy our consumption to the extent of 30,000,000 pounds," said William Newman, M.P.P., for North Victoria, and head of the Eldon Creameries, Limited, with factories at Lorneville, Gamebridge and Rathburn, speaking at Centreville last night in support of J. J. Duffus, the Liberal candidate.

The output of the Eldon Creameries is 500,000 pounds annually. This statement was made at the close of Mr. Newman's address and in reply to the chairman, James McRoberts, who said that one of his friends had contended that Canada supplied all the butter it needed.

Completing his statement which came after he had concluded his address, Mr. Newman continued: "Then in the name of goodness, if we have to bring it in, where should we buy it if not from one of our sister Dominions, New Zealand."

During his speech Mr. Newman, who had motored from Lorneville to assist Mr. Duffus, declared that the Australian treaty had not killed the dairy business, as alleged by Conservative speakers.

Canadian Price Higher

"I fancy that I know something about the dairy business", he remarked. "We have been getting a higher price for our butter than any other country in the world, and in spite of the Australian treaty. Our friends don't tell you that in New York last January the price of butter was less than ours and they had a twelve cent duty on it.

Let me remind you that under our treaty with New Zealand we sold $12,000,000 worth of automobiles. During the last few years the city of Oshawa has grown rapidly around the automobile business, because they were selling cars not only in Canada but for export within the Empire, including New Zealand. Men went from my own district and from this district too to find work in Oshawa.

Go up to Northern Ontario and you find towns like Kapuskasing and Iroquois Falls growing up around the big paper mills. These growing towns and cities have all been increasing our home consumption of butter.

Production Not Sufficient

During the last five years we have made more dairy butter, but we have been consuming so much that we require 30,000,000 pounds for our own consumption. When employment falls off in Great Britain we find that the demand for butter declines. That happened during the coal strike. We all remember that. What we should

EGYPTIAN KING'S ORDER IS DEFIED

Nationalist Deputies Pass Motion of Non-confidence in Pasha Gov't.

HOLD SECRET SERMON.

CAIRO, Egypt, July 26.—(A.P.)—Nationalist deputies early this morning held a secret so-called "session of Parliament" at the Saadist Club and passed a motion of non-confidence in the Government of Premier Ismail Sidky Pasha. The meeting was convened in defiance of King Fuad and the Government.

The Wafdists met under the presidency of Abdel Salaam Fahmy, vice-president of the Chamber of Deputies, which has been adjourned by order of the King.

After the meeting Nahas Pasha, former Premier and Wafdist leader, announced the Nationalists would immediately start a non-co-operation movement, beginning with a refusal to pay taxes, much in the same fashion as Mahatma Gandhi did in the Indian civil disobedience campaign.

The deputies read and approved a petition to King Fuad asking him to convene a special session of Parliament.

As King Fuad had not replied to their petition for a session, this morning's meeting will almost certainly be regarded as illegal and defiant.

LET U.S. MANAGE OWN LIQUOR LAW

WAR DEBT VIEWS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 26 (C.P.)—Canada should not concern herself with preventing liquor being exported to the United States, Clarence Darrow, famous criminal lawyer of the United States and anti-prohibitionist, stated in an interview here.

"The United States is quite wealthy enough to enforce its own laws," he said. "Why should Canada spend its money when the United States is so much richer and can better afford the expense?"

On the question of war debts, Mr. Darrow declared England should never have taken on herself the payment of war debts to the United States. "We were in the same war," he said, "and we should help to pay for it. If it is not the debt of the United States we should never have been in the war."

AUSTRALIAN WHEAT CROP IS 126,477,000 BUSHELS

SYDNEY, Australia, July 26.—(A.P.)—The wheat harvest for Australia, including Tasmania, was officially announced to-day as 126,477,000 bushels for 1929-1930.

Shaw Celebrates His 74th Birthday

LONDON, Eng., July 26.—(CP)—George Bernard Shaw, who is 74 years old today, is more than ever the literary and dramatic emperor of Europe, he admits it himself.

The first time Shaw had a play produced in Vienna the producer objected to his dictatorial stipulations about the manner in which the play was to be produced.

COL. LINDBERGH WILL DRAW LINE IN FUTURE ON RIGHT OF THE PRESS

Felt Outraged When Reporters Followed Him on His Honeymoon.

USED NOISY MOTORBOAT.

NEW YORK, July 26 (C.P.). — The current issue of Editor and Publisher carries an interview by Marlen Pew with Charles A. Lindbergh in which the Colonel explains his attitude toward newspapers.

"He draws the line strictly," Pew writes, "between the right of the press to report his activities as they to do all he could to keep aloof from and what he calls personal curiosity. He said he appreciated the remarkable liberality of the press in support of his work."

He said in the future he intended Members of one squadron bet the newspapers that "have no serious purpose." He felt outraged when some reporters followed him on his honeymoon and "for eight hours circled about our boat at anchor in a New England harbor in a noisy motorboat." He considered it absurd that he should have been forced to keep a guard at the gate of his wife's home, and told of a reporter attempting to bribe a servant with $2,000 to "betray family secrets."

R-100 LEAVES SOON AS WEATHER RIGHT.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26. — The R-100 will leave England for Canada as soon after July 27 as moderately favorable weather across the Atlantic prevails. This was the information received to-day by the Department of National Defense from its representative in London. The tests are expected to be completed to-morrow after which the giant airship will be in readiness to start for Montreal.

Unemployment Cut Down 21,296 in June

OTTAWA, Ont. July 26.—(C.P.) In a report issued here the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, in analyzing the employment situation in Canada, said there were 21,296 more persons earning wages in Canada on July 1 last than on June 1. From reports sent in by 7,283 firms it was computed that 1403,232 workers were employed in Canada.

THORNTON SEES FINE GRAIN CROP

Claims Western Yield This Year Probably Be 400,000,000 Bushels.

EDMONTON, July 26. — (CP) — Western Canada will probably have a wheat crop of around 400,000,000 bushels this year, in the opinion of Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who reached the city yesterday. Accompanied by Lady Thornton and a party of prominent officials, he left aboard his special train at midnight for Calgary, en route east.

Last year's prairie wheat crop was 272,000,000 bushels, while in 1928 a crop of 550,000,000 bushels was harvested.

Speaking of the crop outlook, Sir Henry said he found good growing conditions and the prospects for a good yield of grain in the west.

WORK TO START ON NEW HIGHWAY SAYS LANCASTER

E. A. Peck Holds Last Meeting of Country Campaign at Keene.

ONE CONTRACT LET.

Route of New Highway Out of Peterborough Will Be By Block Road.

That work on the new Peterborough-Ottawa highway would commence on August 1, was the declaration made from the Peck platform last night by T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., as part of a reply to recent allegation on the part of Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.

Famed for noise and heckling in matters political, the Village of Keene last night accorded a quiet and respectful hearing to the parting shots in the campaign of E. A. Peck, Conservative candidate in Peterborough West. With M. E. Smithson, ex-Warden of Peterborough County, in the chair, a large crowd listened to Mr. Peck's arraignment of the King Government for its stand on agricultural depression, unemployment, and foreign trade.

"I submit that it is a reasonable and practical question to ask," declared Mr. Peck, "what has the present Government done for agricultural and industrial depression? These are matters with which it is the duty of the Government to deal."

Referring to the circular letter to Canadian farmers issued by Dr. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture in the Dominion Government, drawing attention to the alarming decrease in the export of produce from this country, Mr. Peck said: "I might comment that it isn't a Government's business to seek advice, but to give it. But since advice is sought I would suggest that one solution is —vote for Peck on Monday next!"

New Treaty Under Way.

The Australian treaty and the New Zealand Order-in-Council were measures, the speaker maintained, which not only had not aided the farmer, but had seriously injured him. With the country already flooded with New Zealand butter and more pouring in, the Government had finally wakened up to the situation and had given the necessary six months' notice of the termination of the treaty. "But negotiation of the new treaty will be a difficult thing to do," Mr. Peck commented. New Zealanders were likely to be resentful, he felt.

"The population of this country has scarcely increased under the present administration, despite extensive immigration schemes and the expectation due to natural causes," asserted the candidate. "Unemployment exists because this Government has failed to build up the home market and has squandered its time formulating foreign treaties." The Government spoke proudly of the foreign trade it had built up. The fact that $1,200,000,000 worth of goods had been imported into this country last year was "scarcely a thing to be proud of."

"I attack the Government for its failure to afford our industries proper protection," stated Mr. Peck.

Election Returns at The Examiner To Be Most Complete in Paper's History

For the residents of Peterborough and district The Examiner has completed the best arrangements in the paper's history for receiving the election returns, Canadian Press, of which The Examiner is a member, has arranged to collect the returns in every constituency in the Dominion, with Toronto being the headquarters. To the Toronto office The Examiner will be connected by two wires. One wire will carry the returns over the printer circuit, which will lay them down in The Examiner office a few moments after they are received in Toronto. The second wire will be operated by a Morse operator, who will also receive returns and file out those of Peterborough West and Hastings-Peterborough. Telephone arrangements also have not been forgotten for those who are unable to come down town and hear the returns announced from in front of The Examiner. Six operators will give those who phone the most complete returns possible. Just ask for 1600. Two extras and possibly three will be printed and sold on the streets. The first will come off the press as soon as the Peterborough results are compiled, with the others following later.

MYSTERY MAN BEING SOUGHT

WATCHED ROAD 10 DAYS.

TORONTO, July 26. (C.P.) — Three new developments marked the fourth day of investigation into the murder of Philip G. Rumbold, Tonawanda, N. Y., found dead in his car last Tuesday, morning on a secluded road near Port Credit.

Attorney-General W. H. Price announced the Government of Ontario offers a reward of $1000 for information leading to the arrest of the murderer or murderers.

Dr. I. H. Erb, who performed the autopsy on the body, stated that death was due to strangulation from the rope about the neck and not from the hammer blow on the head.

Regarded as a connecting link with the murder, Chief Clark and Deputy Chief Green of Wentworth, are attempting to learn the identity of a mystery man who claimed New York state as his home, who for ten days prior to the murder boarded at a foreigner's farm on Governor's Road, near Dundas. During that time he sat on a box beneath a cherry tree on a knoll which commanded a view of the roads in the district. The evening before Rumbold's body was found at Port Credit a man in a large car called for him about 8.30 o'clock. He has not been seen or heard of since.

Railway Board Willing Toronto to Build Subways—Dollar For Dollar Basis.

CORNWALL, Ont., July 26 (C.P.).—Starting the final day of his election campaign itinerary that has carried him from coast to coast across the continent and back as far as this town, Premier Mackenzie King left early this morning after delivering a vigorous speech before a large audience last night.

This afternoon Premier King will speak at Renfrew and will then entrain for Ottawa, where he will broadcast his final appeal to the electors over a national hook-up of radio stations to-night.

Repeats Charges.

A repetition of his recent charges that the Ontario Government had held up expenditures on road construction in order to influence votes was made by the Premier during his speech last night. Mr. Ferguson, he said, had held back $10,000,000 which had been voted for road improvements and construction at the last legislature, until the eve of the election, and now it was being released in the constituencies of Northern Ontario to create a favorable impression toward the Conservative candidates.

Touching upon the unemployment problem and the recent interchange of messages with Mayor Bert S. Wemp of Toronto regarding the erection of subways in that city, the speaker asserted he had received from the Board of Railway Commissioners at Ottawa a telegram saying the Board was willing Toronto should engage in the subway construction on the "dollar for dollar" basis which he had previously announced. There was now no reason, Premier King declared, why the Province of Ontario should not accept this offer.

LONDON, Ont., July 26 (C.P.).—A ban has been issued by Humane Society officials on live chicken chases at summer picnics in this district. He said a chicken had been released at a picnic held here a few days ago, and the unfortunate bird had been torn to pieces alive by women struggling for possession.

SOCIAL LONDON ENDS ACTIVITIES

Court Ceremonials Wind Up With Royal Garden Party.

ROYALTY GOES TO COWES.

LONDON, England, July 26 (By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Corespondent).—Social London left town this week-end and political London will follow next week. The Royal garden party on Thursday marked the close of the court ceremonials and entertainments this summer. Though the thousands who attended this function were from all walks of life, it is the only assembly held under Their Majesties' direct auspices for which no applications for summonses are considered. The invitations are issued entirely at the discretion of the Lord Chamberlain's staff.

It is the fashion with social writers to describe every London season as more brilliant than before. Certainly there were visitors by the tens of thousands this summer, but with so much depression in industry, with the political uncertainty at home and abroad, it is doubtful whether London regained entirely its old time midsummer glamor. Half the theatres are closed, and only two or three are making profits. The air crash of a few weeks ago also cast a cloud over the round of social festivities.

Their Majesties leave on Tuesday for Portsmouth to embark on the Royal yacht, which will proceed to anchorage at Cowes. Many following Royalty's example, will seek Cowes earlier than usual. The King's racing yacht Britannia, though it was built for Edward VII. in 1893, can still hold her own, and will begin racing on Wednesday His Majesty hopes to add something to her 196 first prizes.

The Japanese cabinet is insisting on a reduction of government expenditures to less than the budget allotment.

WASHINTON, July 26.—(CP)—All paper pulpwood from Russia henceforth will be denied entry into the United States, Seymour Louman, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of customs has announced. The ruling was based on section 07 of the New Tariff Act, which forbids the importation of goods, made, wholly or in part, by convict labor, that would be sold in competition with domestic products. It climaxed a recent situation that attracted International attention when hearings were held before Mr. Louman and customs officers concerning six cargoes of Russia spruce, two shiploads of which had arrived at United States and four of which were on the high seas.

MOORE PROMISES ADVANCE IN IRON AND STEEL WORK

HAMILTON, Ont., July 26 (C.P.)—Enormous developments in the steel and iron industry are in the offing as a result of the Dunning Budget, said W. H. Moore, former Tariff Board chairman, speaking here last night in the interests of F. F. Trevelan, Liberal candidate in East Hamilton.

KING CHANGES PROGRAM FAST BENNETT SAYS

Premier Could Not Build Seaway Two Weeks Ago But Now He Can.

CROWS NEST RATES.

Conservative Policy Only One of Lasting Benefit to Empire.

(By Thomas Green, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, July 26. — Little short of 14,000 miles have been traversed by Hon. R. B. Bennett in his Atlantic to the Pacific campaign closing in the capital to-night. By train, automobile and steamer, the Conservative leader has travelled in waging a contest to be decided on Monday for guidance of the political destiny of Canada. When he delivers his final speech here to-night the Opposition chieftain will have spoken 107 times.

King Changes Mind.

The St. Lawrence Waterways Project, unemployment, and the Crow's Nest rates, all found place in the speech of Mr. Bennett at North Bay last night. "Did you read the speech of the Prime Minister last night?" Mr. Bennett exclaimed to his audience. "Now he says he is going to build the St. Lawrence Waterways an act passed by parliament; two weeks ago he said he could not take the power from the provinces. He could not do it two weeks ago, but now he says he is going to do it. There has been no change in the constitution since and the Canadian people are not so credulous that they cannot see through this."

Mr. Bennett had comments for the recent declaration of the Premier on unemployment that his government would give "dollar for dollar" if the Provincial Governments would certify they were unable to take care of the situation. There was a condition to this grant, he remarked, and Mr. King has 'never made a yes or no statement on any subject,' he observed, 'but anyway he has raised the ante from five cents to a dollar. Between now and Monday he may take away the condition.'

Crow's Nest rates, the Conservative leader emphasized, had been ratified by Act of Parliament, and would not be removed under any administration of which he was the Prime Minister.

Reckless in face of Disaster.

Mr. Bennett charged that Premier King, 'reckless in the face of impending disaster,' he now throws caution to the winds and launches into a hurly burly of charges 'which are as contemptible as they are unfounded. But he said, the failure of the charges was due 'to the 'inherant fairness of the Canadian people, and not to any effort of the Prime Minister.'

He went further. Mr. Bennett, touching on Empire trade, charged that Mr. King, unable to deny that the policy of the Conservative party was the only one which meant lasting benefit to the Empire, 'He seeks to becloud that fact by an appeal to Empire sentiment which comes less fittingly from him than any other man who headed a great Canadian party.'

With the coming of the automobile in New Zealand, music lovers have started a craze for attending concerts in distant cities.

KING GOVERNMENT IS GOING TO WIN

WAKE UP! PETERBORO!

ELECT A MEMBER OF THE GOVERNMENT

This smart and busy industrial city should not be content to send a representative to the Opposition benches.

We need a voice in the Government Councils. We need a Member who will carry weight with the Government, and that is why we should send J. J. Duffus.

In 1926 Mr. Peck asked the electors for one more turn. The riding gave it to him; but what did this riding get?

Mr. Peck has had his turn. Let Peterboro now look out for its own interests. With the King Government's election sure, Mr. Peck would not be in a position to assist any more in the future, than in the past.

When Conservatives are deserting the Hon. R. B. Bennett, as they are in this election, he hasn't a chance to win.

The last national summary by The Financial Post indicated that Mr. Bennett will not be the next Prime Minister.

The policy of Mr. Peck and his leader, Mr. Bennett, is the weakest that has even been presented to this riding. And the people know it. And the Hon. Wm. Finlayson proved it beyond a doubt last Tuesday night.

Mr. Bennett faces defeat Monday because prominent Conservatives have openly declared their opposition to him, and what he presents as a platform and are actively working against him. They are voting for the Dunning Budget and the Liberal policies.

Peterboro has had enough of the futility of electing an Opposition member to the Dominion House.

This riding has a candidate in J. J. Duffus, who will not be a disappointment. He has experience, ability, energy, and character. He has been tried out by the public, and has been found a faithful servant.

The citizens of all shades of politics who are behind Mr. Duffus are guarantors to those who do not know him, of his worthiness, and his trustworthiness.

Mr. Bennett has no constructive policy. He does propose to take the money which that thrifty old Scot., the late Hon. Mr. Robb, saved for this country, and throw it around for bridges, highways, railways, to the extent of nearly a billion dollars. Such reckless promises could only result in more taxes.

However, we don't need to worry about Mr. Bennett. What is Peterboro going to do?

Why should we stand in our own light for another four years.

MAKE YOUR VOTE COUNT ON MONDAY

ELECT J. J. DUFFUS

And Give Peterboro a Member of Dominion Government

CAN RELIGION BE DESTROYED

Dr. Richard Roberts, Reviewed by Rev. Jos. Fort Newton

Dr. Roberts is minister of the Sherbourne Church, Toronto, in the United Church of Canada.

After two notable pastorates in London, he came first to the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn, and later went to the American Church in Montreal. In his recent Merrick Lectures, entitled "The Christian God," he deals with religion in the light of behaviorism, insisting that the strange behavior of man on his knees at an altar must somehow be explained. The sermon here reviewed is timely in view of the efforts of the leaders of Soviet Russia to destroy religion.

"Can religion be destroyed?" asks Dr. Roberts. "Jesus seemed to think so when He said, 'When the Son of Man cometh, shall He find faith on earth?' Such words bespeak something more than a passing mood of depression, born of weariness of mind and body. They show a quick and piercing insight into the awful possibilities of disintegration. Jesus did not believe in the false idea of the inevitability of the progress of man onward and upward forever. He knew that humanity may any day offer a swift and terrible slip backward, and lose its vision of the best."

As Dr. Roberts knows, our fathers held that religion, founded as it is on deep human wants, cannot perish. But to us it is conceivable that religion may vanish, or sink so low as not to deserve the name. We have discovered the ease with which man forgets his wants, or mistakes one want for another. There is in human nature a deep need for beauty; but under misery and gross living that need seems to disappear. There is need for honor, but in times of panic and break-up this need is forgotten. The wants of man are kept alive partly by being satisfied, and when they are neglected they may die.

"Jesus had no illusions about human nature," says Dr. Roberts. "He told men that the Kingdom of Heaven is at hand, but He did not mean that it will come automatically, by evolution or otherwise. This is a religion in which we cannot count on evolution or progress, for man is the arbiter of his own fate. Whether the final change in mankind will be for the best, no one can tell. It can be and may be, depending on whether mankind will admit the Kingdom of God into their hearts. Here there is neither certainty nor inevitability; and Jesus did not deceive Himself. He said that there is doubt; but He also believed that there is hope."

Yes, religion can be destroyed in the individual and in society, as Dr. Roberts admits. Often we read in the Bible of periods when there was no vision, and the earth seemed swept clean of every trace of faith and faithfulness. Always the highest values of life are the first to disappear when decay sets in. When religion sinks into superstition, when it becomes a stony dogmatism or a sterile ritualism, it dies of dry rot. In Russia they destroy churches by atrocity; in America we do it by attrition—by sheer indifference and neglect.

"In the end," Dr. Roberts tells us plainly, "each of us must answer the question for himself, not for mankind. It is true that the circle of our responsibility is wider than we suppose; our solidarity with our fellow-men is deeper than we are aware. But our central responsibility lies in what we do with ourselves, whether we keep religious faith alive in our own lives. Our faith must maintain itself against confusion, sorrow, distraction and distress, and to do so it must be continually reaffirmed—we dare not let it go unwatched and untended.

"To that end we must provide, in the plan of our lives, for the reinforcement and nurture of our faith; it must not be left to odd moments and at loose ends. In the sort of life we moderns live, religion will surely be crowded out and killed if we do not make for it a place and keep it inviolate. Careless neglect, now so common among us, may be fatal to the finest tradition of our race. The situation is appalling when only one child in four receives any religious instruction, and more than half our people have no connection with any church or synagogue."

Will religion be destroyed in America? Dr. Roberts does not think so. There will be an awakening, but not until we have learned bitter lessons. There will be a renewal of a creative faith fashioning the times to be, though no one can predict what form it will take. If religion is crucified, it will be resurrected, as it has been many times before. Our hope is that when the younger generation, now so glibly skeptical and gayly indifferent, grow older and have to take upon their hands and hearts the responsibility for society, they will seek the sources of inward sustaining, as men have done in every age.—McCall's Magazine.

Earnestness In Life

(A Passage from a Great Religious Classic)

Christ impressed two things on His apostles' minds. 1.—The duty of Christian earnestness — "Rise." 2—The duty of Christian energy—"Let us be going." Christ roused them to earnestness when He said, "Rise." A short, sharp, rousing call. They were to start up and wake to the realities of their position. The guards were on them: their Master was about to be led away to doom. That was an awaking which would make men spring to their feet in earnest. Brethren, goodness and earnestness are nearly the same thing. In the language in which the Bible was written there was one word which expressed them both: what we translate a good man, in Greek, is literally "earnest." The Greeks felt to be earnest was nearly identical with being good. "Behold the bridegroom cometh; go ye out and meet him." That is a sound which will thunder through the most fast-locked slumber, and rouse men whom sermons cannot rouse. But that will not make them holy. Earnestness is life, brethren, that is goodness. Wake in death you must, for it is an earnest thing to die. Shall it be this, I pray you? Shall it be the voice of death which first says, "Sleep on for ever?" Shall it be the burial train sweeping by and the shutting of the doors and the discovery that the lamp is gone out? Shall that be the first time you know that it is an earnest thing to live? Let us feel that we have been doing; learn what time is—sliding from you, and not stopping when you stop: learn what sin is: learn what "never" is: "Awake thou that sleepest."—F. R. Robertson's sermon on "The Irreparable Past."

one knee to ask for help, I say he should be willing to go down on both knees to give work to the unemployed", said the Prime Minister. "Neither Mr. Ferguson's pride, nor his vanity, nor his swelled head should be permitted to stand in the way of the unemployed in Canada getting relief", the speaker added.

The Prime Minister charged Conservative Leaders with resorting to personal abuse during the recent weeks of the campaign. This he classed as an indication that "they are defeated and that the know it." He said there had been "a stream of abuse and vituperation which has done dishonor to the party they are supposed to represent".

Empire trade Premier King said was the great issue in the election and he expressed confidence the people of Canada would support the Government in its effort to develop trade with the Mother Country and Empire.

In a signed message the Premier issued here to the people of Canada he classified the three outstanding issues in the campaign as the record of the Government, the Liberal budget of 1930 and intra-Empire trade.

Explains New Zealand Treaty

Prior to the meeting here Premier King addressed a large gathering at Alexandria during the afternoon. The New Zealand Treaty and butter importations were discussed at much length by the speaker who claimed the reason for increased importation of this dairy product from New Zealand to Canada was because the supply of Canadian butter had been gradually decreasing at the same time as the demand was on the increase. Business prosperity in the Dominion was responsible for the increased demand he said, and it extended to ice cream, powdered milk and similar products.

DUFFUS SCORES TORY PROPOSAL ON IMMIGRATION

Claims Party Sought to Have $300,000,000 Spent Over Period of 10 Years.

AT MAY'S SCHOOL.

Strong Appeal Made By Candidate to the British Born Electors.

J. J. Duffus concluded his campaign last night with meetings at May's School and Centreville.

William J. Byers was chairman at May's School, where the candidate was assisted by John Dewart and John R. Marshall. The musical entertainment was provided by the Peterborough Cheerio Band.

Mr. Duffus discussed the question of immigration, recalling that on March 9, 1928, Conservative members of the House proposed a plan to increase immigration at an estimated expenditure of $300,000,000 over a period of ten years.

Gen. McRae had urged this intensive effort to bring people from the Old Country, and the Hon. R. B. Bennett had participated in the debate in the House. But during this election campaign, Mr. Duffus emphasized, both Mr. Bennett and Premier Ferguson had attempted to blame the King Government for encouraging immigration, and had tried to create the impression that unemployment in Canada was to a large extent due to the number of people who had been permitted to enter this country.

The Conservative proposal contemplated bringing in two million immigrants during the ten-year period.

"Cauliflower Ears"

"But what has Premier Ferguson said of immigration? Writing in MacLean's Magazine, December, 1928, Mr. Ferguson said 'There are plenty of possible immigrants in Britain who are anxious and willing to come to a new portion of the Empire. Some of them have cauliflower ears and flat feet, but unless we take the position that there shall be no more flat feet than what we ourselves produce, of course we are going to discourage migration. Let us be sensible about it. When we brought out those thousands of harvesters and told them: 'You can work at the harvest during the summer, and if you can get a job for the winter, you can stay in Canada,' it was not necessary to ask them to answer more than half a dozen questions which meant in effect: 'Are you sound in wind and limb and are you willing to work? If you are, you can go.' Why, then, should we require four or five sheets of family history and technical statistics for the admission of immigrants? This inquisition has left an unfavorable impression in the Old Country.'

"Now, see what follows when election time comes," said Mr. Duffus. 'Saturday Night,' issue of the 12th July, 1930, reports Premier Ferguson as having stated at Kitchener recently that there are in Ontario mental hospitals 500 immigrants that had been admitted to Canada within a year and are now being cared for at a cost of half a million dollars to the Province."

"Immigrants" in Cabinet

"Speaking broadly," Mr. Duffus continued, "men and women who come from lands across the seas should look most kindly on the present Prime Minister when we realize how he has recognized such men as Forke, Dunning, Heenan and others.

"It grieves me when I hear some belittling our good friends who came from other lands and without whom Canada could never have been a nation.

"I wonder if we realize the tremendous privilege and profoundly important duty that devolves upon us to welcome those who come into our country in order that we may share with them the heritage that God has given to us, and in this way realize our world citizenship.

"It is only when men and women dream dreams and see visions that advancement and progress come to the world, as a result of this idealism.

"It is difficult to understand just how some people will insist on attaching opprobrium to the so-called immigrant.

"We who are Canadians even to the third generation, sometimes are inclined to overlook the fact that, far back at some stage in our ancestry, we all were immigrants, and that all there is here in Canada to-day of health, wealth and happiness has been made possible by the hard work and the self-sacrific of those who came from other lands.

"It therefore behooves us as good Canadians to hold out to them the hand of fellowship; to give them welcome and to make them feel at home among us, for the immigrants of to-day are our neighbors of to-morrow. If we but remember this in our contact with them we can be of greatest assistance to them in becoming established on the high-road to prosperity.

"Yes, our neighbors of to-morrow; our citizens of to-morrow; our farm leaders; our co-operative directors; our school trustees; our municipal councillors; our legislators and financiers; but most of all, our neighbors, sharing in common with us not only the rich heritage of this great country but the responsibilities of its development."

Major John Dewart

"I am very pleased to have an opportunity of advocating the election of J. J. Duffus to represent Peterborough West in the House of Commons for two main reasons," said John Dewart.

1—The outstanding policy of Empire trade submitted by Hon. Mr. King and designed to make the British Empire a self-contained economic unit.

2—The ability and desire of Mr. Duffus to render public service to the people of this city.

"In dealing with the second reason first I would like to point out that few citizens of this city have rendered more outstanding public service as Mr. Duffus. As alderman, mayor, he was a credit to us all, and also as president of the Board of Trade. He has also given a good deal of attention to farm problems and has served in many capacities in the Plowmen's Association, finally as president. I might add that he is one of the most expert plowmen in Ontario, having won many prizes.

As you know, he was our candidate in 1926, and although defeated, worked unceasingly during the last four years to aid industry and increase employment in the city. He has a sheaf of letters from heads of industrial plants thanking and commending him for the assistance he has given. At his own expense he has gone many times to Ottawa to bring matters concerning local industries to the attention of Government officials and in every case he has met with some measure of success.

Urges Duffus Election.

"If you elect him you have a useful public servant. He not only has the ability but he can give the time and he has that brand of perseverance that does not take no for an answer. The people of this city and district have a certain sum of money to spend in engaging the services of a man to represent them. How can you do it best? You have been paying Mr. Peck. Has he given you value received? If not, try Duffus—give him a chance, and I for one am convinced that your money will be well spent in the service it will buy for the riding. What has Mr. Peck done for industry in the riding? I could give you many examples of Mr. Duffus' activities for the welfare of industry in Peterborough.

"The first reason I gave you for advocating the election of Mr. Duffus was because the party he supports is offering us the policy of inter-Empire trade. What does that mean? It means that our tariffs are to be so adjusted that a great volume of the goods now being bought from foreign countries will be purchased from countries within the British Empire.

"There are many commodities which are not now produced within Canada and have to come from other countries. These will be purchased where possible from some part of the British Empire.

"Fruit which we have been purchasing from Florida and California will be purchased in the British West Indies.

"Coal which we have been purchasing in large quantities can come from England and Wales.

"Iron and steel which we have been buying from the United States can come from Britain.

"We can go through the whole list of articles that Canada has to buy and find that with very few exceptions all can be purchased in some country over which the Union Jack flies.

"Canada is an export nation, standing fifth among the nations of the world in that respect.

Wheat Must Be Sold.

Our wheat crop is so vast that we are producing upwards of 500 million bushels, and can only use 100 million, leaving 400 million for export. Where can we market this surplus? Only in the British Isles, in the West Indies, and other parts of the Empire that admit our wheat free of duty. Other countries — France, Germany, Italy, who used to buy our wheat have put up high tariffs against it. Britain allows it to enter duty free. In return we will buy the goods we need from Britain and thus furnish employment for our own kith and kin, and in return they will take the goods we produce and give employment for the people of Canada.

"The question is serious — the world is suffering from depression. The only way this depression can be cured is by finding markets for our products. These only can be found within the British Empire. If the 450 million people of the Empire come together in trade they are independent of the outside world.

"The two parties are to-day asking for votes. What are they offering in return? Bennett offers high tariffs to keep out all goods of other countries. If this is done, who will buy our surplus goods? Nobody. Canada's wheat can rot in her granaries. Canada's goods over and above what we can use can bluemould in warehouses. Our ships can rot in the docks. Our machinery rust in our factories; our workmen go without work.

"He promises to build bridges, public buildings, etc., totalling around a billion dollars to be paid for out of taxes. He promises to deepen the St. Lawrence as an all-Canadian waterway at an estimated cost of 250 million dollars, to be borne entirely by Canada, although by treaty the United States will have an equal right to use it.

"He promises to call a special session of Parliament at the cost of around two million to cure unemployment, although he does not say how he will do it.

"He advocates a policy of 'Canada First' without considering the Empire. He says 'A dollar spent in the British West Indies which should have been spent in Canada is no better than a dollar spent in the United States.'

The Liberal Policy.

"Now let us see what Mr. King advocates. First and foremost, the policy of trade within the Empire so that other parts of the Empire will buy what we have to sell and we will buy our requirements from countries over which the Union Jack flies.

"He advocates a continuance of lowering taxation, economizing on expenditures and steady reduction of debt.

"He advocates the deepening of the St. Lawrence in conjunction with the United States, each country paying half. When this is done the power developed will be so enormous and economical that Canada will be able to produce goods cheaper than any country in the world and still pay good wages to all workmen. It will make Ontario a hive of industry and open up jobs for thousands of men.

"His record shows that he is a friend of labor, of industry, of agriculture.

"He stands for unity and co-operation among all members of the British Empire, and his work in the past has been so outstanding in that direction that Mr. Stanley Baldwin, former Prime Minister of Britain, and the present leader of the Conservative Party, said, speaking in Toronto in 1927:

"'I defy anyone to find two statesmen who pull together better for the good of the Empire than Mr. Mackenzie King and myself.'

"In the face of a world-wide depression which even Canada is feeling, it would be a calamity to change a Government which has a record of clean, progressive legislation, a Government which has encouraged industry so much that during its regime our industrial output has increased in the last eight years from 240 million to 430 million, for a party led by a man who is an unknown quantity and has promised at least a billion of the people's money during the campaign.

Trust Mackenzie King, the man who led Canada out of the depression of 1921 to the greatest era of Canadian expansion.

"This is the opportunity for all loyal Canadians to stand shoulder to shoulder behind a Government that has produced a Budget of which the Daily Express of London, England (Conservative) says: 'The Dunning Budget constitutes the greates advance in Imperial relations we have seen since the war.'

"Send Duffus to Ottawa to support this Budget and help to light a beacon fire which will be carried from hill to hill throughout the entire British Empire."

WEAK AND DEPRESSED.

The work of the average woman in the home makes greater demands on her vitality than she realizes. Long hours, care of children and home is the daily grind. No wonder she is depressed; that she suffers from headaches and is run down.

What is needed is a blood-builder to give her vitality to perform her every-day duties. Such a blood-builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, of which Mrs. Jos. L. Corbin, Moncton, N.B., says: "I was weak; badly run down; housework was a burden and I was greatly depressed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended and by the time I had taken half a dozen boxes I was fully restored to health and strength."

You can get these Pills through any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TheQuestion ? ? Box ? ?

In this corner the enquiries of readers on Biblical and religious problems are answered. Address "The Q. B. Editor c-o The Examiner.

Q.—Do you think that if we have great faith we can accomplish deeds which we would otherwise fear to hope for?—C. L.

A.—Unquestionably, and if you turn to the 11th chapter of Hebrews you will find there an account of some of the things accomplished through faith.

But what is faith? It is certainly not merely believing as many say they believe in the Bible. It is not simply saying, "I believe this is true."

In the first verse of the 11th chapter of Hebrews, faith is tersely defined as "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

If we were to put this thought in modern English, it would read something like this: "Faith is the essence of trust, and the demonstration of things invisible to our physical eyes."

Now, what is the essence of trust? Is it not conviction based upon knowledge? You would trust so and so with anything you have, you say, and you put your trust in him because you are so convinced, from your experience of him, that you know he is worthy of trust.

How are things unseen demonstrated? Not by physical means. You do not see the earth going round the sun, but you believe it. And here we have an illustration of the difference between mere belief and faith. The average person who cannot follow the mathematical and other reasoning by which the astronomer arrives at the conclusion, so contrary to the evidence of his senses, that the earth goes round the sun, may be said to be an astronomical believer. He doesn't know.

But the astronomer knows. And because he knows he has more than belief, he has faith. His faith is the essence of trust, the demonstration to him of something invisible.

So with religious faith. The religious man who believes in the Bible but who does not know that the Bible is true, because he has not tested its teachings and found them to be true, does not have the faith that the man has who can cry, "I know that my redeemer liveth."

The man who has real faith cannot have his religious convictions shaken and he is able to draw upon a spiritual force which enables him to achieve what would otherwise seem impossible.

Q.—Why is it that many Christian people give the impression they are not sincere in their religion?

A.—Perhaps they are not sincere or perhaps the critic demands that a man trying to live a good life should be 100 per cent. perfect or not try at all.

The accusation of hypocrisy cannot be met by retorting, "There is room in the church for another hypocrite." That is an evasion of the question.

Churchgoers may be divided into three classes: those whose object is to gain money or praise by professing religion; those who are deceiving themselves that they are religious when everyone sees they are not; and those who make an effort, humbly recognizing their own failures but never despairing of ultimate achievement.

We think that it is perhaps the middle of these three classes which has raised the question in the mind of the enquirer, and the answer is that their standards of religion are not high enough and that they do not take time to criticize themselves.

Q.—Who were the Hussites?

A.—The followers of John Huss of Bohemia. John Huss was born in the 14th century, the date of his birth being uncertain.

He became acquainted with the writings of Wycliffe through Anne of Bohemia, consort of Richard II. of England. The teachings of Wycliffe inspired him to become a religious reformer.

Huss' preaching did not please the authorities, and by an act of treachery he was seized, tried for heresy, and burned at the stake on July 6, 1415. Four years later his followers rose in revolt.

His chief doctrine was like that of Wycliffe: that the holy scriptures should be the supreme standard in matters of faith.

From the Hussite there developed the Bohemian and Moravian brethren.

It was to a Moravian missionary that John and Charles Wesley owed much for their religious development.

An Englishman inspired a religious movement in Bohemia which was to affect, 300 years later a new religious movement in England, that was the foundation of the Methodist church.

WHY SO MANY SUICIDES?

The suicide of a British farm boy near Marmora is only one in a long series of such deplorable events, and the frequency of these cases demand a searching examination of the whole situation.

It justifies the question as to whether enough interest is being taken in the fate of these young Britons after they are brought into this country.

Here they are, just youngsters, thousands of miles from their friends and relatives, suffering from that most distressing perhaps of all ailments, home sickness.

Are we doing enough for them?

Are they being treated as poor lonely "kids" should be treated?

Are they being given a chance to make friends in the neighborhood, to establish social contacts, to get interested in church activities?

It would seem that in far too many cases they are not.

Young boys do not take their own lives without being driven to it, and it is the duty of the authorities to find out just wherein lies the cause for so many young farm helpers ending their existence on this earth by their own hands.

THE CAMPAIGN TOO LONG.

The general opinion as the political campaign draws to a close is that it has been too long.

It is getting on the nerves even of the leaders, judging by the speeches of the last few days, in which things have been said on both sides that would have been much better left unsaid and into which a biting bitterness has crept in that is distracting attention from the important issues of the campaign.

Especially in summer weather, a two months' campaign is too long.

It is impossible to keep the interest of the general public alive for that length of time, and after the key speeches of the leaders have been given out to the public, what they say afterwards is not of a great deal of interest.

A shorter campaign with more intelligent use of newspaper advertising and judicious employment of radio facilities would more closely grip the attention of the electors and result in just as an intelligent expression of public opinion.

It is undoubtedly true that a verdict just as reasonable as will be given on Monday could have been returned two weeks ago.

In future let us hope political battles will be shortened.

THE RADIO MAKES A DIFFERENCE.

There is a new angle to Canadian elections as the result of the widespread use of the radio.

The air is international, and naturally radio listeners-in across the line who have been twisting their dials around these nights have got an occasional earful of Canadian oratory.

In fact, just as we in the last American election listened to the speeches of Herbert Hoover and Al. Smith, so our American cousins have been following to some extent at least the campaign utterances of Premier King, Hon. R. B. Bennett and other Canadian speakers.

And there have been things said about the United States during the campaign that they didn't like over there.

One United States paper at least has referred to that fact and argued that such speeches are harmful to the good-will that has always existed between the people of the two countries.

Our friends over the border shouldnt take the tone of some of our campaign speeches too seriously—in fact, they were never intended to be heard across the line, but were for home consumption.

The radio, however, has changed the situation.

Making political speeches over the radio in which a neighboring country is attacked is just like talking about the folks next doors and forgetting about the fact that the wall between is not sound-proof.

A FINAL WORD.

The Examiner hopes that every voter whose name is on the list will use his or her franchise on Monday.

A federal election is an occasion of tremendous importance, and the duty of taking a part in deciding the issues and in selecting the personnel of the Government is one that should be willingly and cheerfully faced by the free people of a free country.

This has been a long campaign.

There has been plenty of time to study the questions that have to be decided on Monday, and with the publishing of adequate and impartial reports by the newspapers and the added advantage of being able to hear important speeches over the radio, the voters in this election have only themselves to blame if they are not more fully informed than usual as to the campaign issues.

Everything, too, has been done to make the duty of voting easy.

The new system of securing the names of eligible voters has resulted in more accurate and more up-to-date lists.

Voters have even been notified through the mails as to where they vote.

Under these circumstances there is not a single logical reason why there should not be a very large percentage of the available vote in this riding polled on Monday.

Don't leave it to George to do it.

Use your franchise—it is a privilege that should not be lightly disregarded.

CAMPAIGN NEEDS ADVERTISEMENTS.

One of the mistakes of all parties in the present election has been to omit the publication of a well-planned series of advertisements setting forth the respective platforms.

The Financial Post and other newspapers, of course, would derive revenue in this way, but it is no mere desire for revenue which occasions these remarks. The Financial Post and other worth-while publications benefit truly as the country benefits, and this lack of advertising—we feel—has produced a dangerous situation. The voter is going to the polls with only the vaguest knowledge of what each party stands for what the leaders propose.

The parties have been relying on the radio to send their message. The radio rightly has achieved a place in these campaigns. But the radio is supplementary to the printed word. The talkies do not abolish reading; the radio does not make newspapers superfluous.

What is the Liberal platform? What does Mr. Bennett propose for the welfare of the nation? Who knows?—other than the comparative few who have followed the long and sometimes rambling speeches broadcast from a platform on which the orators strive to attain a localized point of view. Would not the voter—the average voter—have his mind clarified if he could get these thoughts, these policies, in succinct form, freed from the blare of village trumpets, aside from the distraction of the diminutive damsel with the bouquet and the autograph album?

Merchandisers use radio. But they have found that well-planned advertisements are the best means of broadcasting a sincere message. The policies of a political party likewise could best be presented in newspaper advertising.—Financial Post.

ANOTHER DIAMOND JUBILEE.

On July 20, 1871, the colony of British Columbia became a Province in the Dominion of Canada, then just four years old. The anniversary of this important event in the history of our country brings to the minds of all Canadians the inspiring story of the growth and development of the western coast district. Fifteen years after British Columbia's entrance into the federation the chief condition of the union had been fulfilled, and the Canadian Pacific Railway line had been built across the mighty barrier of the Rockies, one of the greatest railroad engineering feats the world had ever known. Ever since the East and the West of Canada have been drawn closer and closer together in understanding and fellowship.

The anniversary recalls another event which took place almost a century before the admission of British Columbia into the Confederation. Many Canadians, no doubt, are still unaware of the identity of the man who first crossed the main portion of the North American Continent from sea to sea. It was Sir Alexander Mackenzie, of the North-West Company of Montreal who, in search of new avenues of trade for his company, first reached the Pacific by land north of the Rio Grande. In October, 1792, he set out from Fort Chipewyan, on Lake Athabaska, and, after spending the winter trading on the Peace River, he ascended the Parsnip, a branch of the Peace, and crossed the divide to the upper reaches of the Fraser, which he believed at first to be the Columbia.

Eventually he reached the western sea via the Blackwater and Bella Coola, or the Rascal's Village, as he called it. On a rocky bit of shore, recently definitely located and marked by the Historic Sites Commission, he painted the following inscription: "Alexander Mackenzie from Canada by Land, the Twenty-second of July, One Thousand, Seven Hundred and Ninety-three." Great men have often strangely prophetic visions, yet it is doubtful if Sir Alexander Mackenzie could have dreamed that he was blazing trails which would one day link a prosperous west coast Province to her sister Provinces in a powerful Dominion.—Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Vote as you like, but vote. And remember Monday is election day.

The political organizations have made it easy for you to use your franchise. It is up to you to do your part on Monday.

Oshawa is finishing up the campaign to-night with two mass meetings and two brass bands. That should provide plenty of excitement for the Motor City.

Remember the polls are open Monday from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., daylight saving time.

All the politicians will be able to take a rest after Monday, and for some of them it will be a permanent holiday.

Vote early—and help the campaign workers. It is a duty the public owes those whose efforts makes voting easy.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 25.

He leaped down into the barranca, walked along it to a firing position previously selected, and waited. He saw Gallegos form his company into single rank, in one long squadron front; then, suddenly, the fifty riders on the right flank and the fifty on the left galloped out in column of twos, while the center of the line pressed forward at a trot, rapidly taking distance between riders as they came. Perhaps fifty feet out in front of the center troop Miguel Gallegos rode.

"Anybody who says a Mexican will not advance to the assault is crazy or hasn't fought them," Burney told Tom Bledsoe. "And with fifty per cent. Irish blood in their leader this bunch will be hard to stop. Well, here's where I stop Miguel."

He sighted carefully and pulled away. A cheer went up from the motor truck behind him. "Viva!" cried Senor De Haro. "The animal, Gallegos, is afoot."

"I am in the exact center of our line," Burney shouted to his men. "Men on my right, take care of the party advancing on our right flank. Men on my left take care of the party advancing to envelop our left flank. Tom and I will work on the center. Range—one thousand. Commence firing—and don't waste your shots."

Instantly the venomous crackling of rifle fire broke from the barranca. Burney, former expert rifleman of the Berks Yeomanry, brought a horse down with every shot, but Bledsoe was not so fortunate, although, as the distance between the forces lessened, his marksmanship improved. Nor did the general manager waste any time glancing toward his flanks to see how the attack was progressing in those quarters. He knew it was suffering heavily, that before it could complete the enveloping movement half of its horses would be down. So he concentrated his fire on the center until Tom Bledsoe came up beside him and nudged him in the ribs.

"The flanks have broke, Mr. Burney!" he shouted.

"Don't let the dismounted riders reach the brush at the base of the hill," Burney cried to the men nearest him. "Pass the word. They'll snipe us from that cover and some of us will get hurt."

The bandits on the flanks who were still mounted had about-faced and were bearing down at a tangent to join the advancing center, while the men whose horses had been knocked over were running for cover at the base of the hills some four hundred yards distant. It was long range shooting, but the El Ranchito men toppled a dozen of them as they ran, before the line of horsemen out front lifted their horses in the final charge. Their wild cheers as they came on drew upon them instantly the attention of the entire defending force and a murderous fire brought them down at such a rate that the attack melted.

At a distance of three hundred yards the Gallegos forces suddenly turned and fled in the direction whence they had come, and instantly the El Ranchito men again turned their attention to the survivors on the flanks. Most of the cowboys had fired not less than thirty rounds and their rifles were now too hot for comfort, so presently the fire slackened and died away.

Of course the enemy had not been entirely idle. Men, dismounted during the action, had continued to advance afoot, firing as they came, and many of the mounted men had fired from the saddle. But at the long range and moving rapidly as they had, their fire had been wholly ineffective. Burney seized the opportunity, while the rifles were cooling, to make an examination of his forces. None of his men had been hurt, but he had lost one horse and one pack-mule was slightly wounded. There were several bullet holes in the trucks and a bullet had dropped into the chuck wagon and ruined the cook's best bread pan.

The men of El Ranchito stood to, or rather sat to in the bottom of the barranca, for some of the bandits who had succeeded in reaching cover on the flanks had courageously taken position and were firing vigorously. Eventually, discovering that the Gallegos forces were in rapid retreat, these snipers subsided, made their way through the scrubby timber down the valley and rejoined their comrades.

Senor De Haro and his companions climbed out of the truck (they had occupied one with a heavy sheet-iron body) and embraced Ken Burney, the while their glad "vivas" echoed over the valley. Then the Mexicans, accompanied by Burney, mounted and rode over the field, while Tom Bledsoe took charge of the task of reloading the men and horses in the trucks and breaking camp, preparatory to leaving at once. The wounded horses Burney mercifully killed, and the wounded bandits on each flank the jefe politico's companions as mercifully wafted into eternity with well-directed shots from their six-shooters.

Ken Burney counted the dead. They numbered forty-two.

The coyotes will be grateful to you, Senor Burney," the jefe politico suggested humorously. "Also, it becomes my duty and pleasure to express to you the gratitude of my government. You have but defended yourself when attacked by a bandit force and no criticism can be directed at you or your employer."

Ken Burney smiled upon him half sadly. "Poor little sandal-feet," he murmured. "They know better. But will not criticism be directed toward you for the lack of vigilance which resulted in my company entering Mexico armed?"

"Certainly, Senor, but the criticism will be directed by those of no importance. We have a long frontier and Mexico has not sufficient troops, customs or immigration officials to guard it. I shall disclaim responsibility."

"Nevertheless," Burney reminded him. "The same lack of vigilance will not be possible again. When I return to El Cajon Bonita, as I must, I will have to cross the line at some unguarded point and at night. It would not be kind of me to embarrass you, Senor De Haro."

What To-day Means To You.

If July 26 is your birthday, the best hours for you are from 6 a.m. to 8 a.m., 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

There will be many surprises sprung from a clear sky on this date—unexpected opportunities for advancement. There will be a tendency to neglect home and home duties in the quest of other things. Favors law problems.

The child born this date will have remarkable mental gifts, and is destined to lead an adventurous life. It may be inclined to abandon its better opportunities for hazardous enterprises. It never will be without many friends, and loyal ones.

You are a born fighter for justice in this world, and you never go after it without a sword in your hand. If they are coming to you, you will swallow bitter pills without a murmur, but you will not have them forced down your neck for nothing.

You want a square deal yourself, and you wish others to have it. Deception and hypocrisy infuriate you. You will meet any one half way, if they will only be honest and above-board with you. You will forgive a truth that hurts much quicker than a falsehood which has deceived you. You do not want anybody's friendship on false pretenses.

You have the firmness of character and fixity of purpose which the Leo natives have. You like power, but you would never use it meanly. You know how to handle other people so as to get the best out of them, and to hold their respect. Your head and your heart rule you in conjunction with each other; so that, although you are shrewd and keen, you are not hard.

You are able to do some very clear thinking, and you do not act impulsively. You are independent, and can make your own way, without either the moral or material support of others. Luck is not usually with you when you listen to the advice of others, and it is for you to make your own decisions.

You have strong business intuitions, and you are fitted for the commercial world. You are interested in physical culture and mental hygiene.

Sunday, July 27.

If July 27 is your birthday, the best hours for you are from 11 a.m. to noon, 4 p.m. to 5:15 p.m. and 10 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 5:30 a.m. to 7 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 3 p.m.

Inspirational influences will be afloat on this date, and your mind will not be able to rest. Artists will be inspired, and writers will have something new to say. Guard your emotions!

Children born this date will have high ideals, but impracticable natures. They will be too romantic, too imaginative, and too little self-absorbed. They will be creatures of circumstance. They will be tender-hearted, and have passionate affections.

You are a most energetic being, but you lack system. No one can raise a bigger dust than you, but it settles again, doing little good. A gentle touch, with method behind it, usually counts in this world.

You do not think of what you are doing many times, and your absent-mindedness needs to be paid for in many ways. You must learn to let your head save your heels. You are over-anxious, if anything, about things, too nervous for efficiency. Slow down! Calm down, and know what you are doing, and half your troubles will end.

You should try to overcome your self-consciousness, and forget those about you. As yet, you have no aura of protection from the jibes and criticisms, which all receive. Dig your roots of self-esteem in deeper, so they do not wilt so easily.

You are easily teased, easily fussed, and people prey on these weaknesses. It is very difficult for you to conceal anything from the world—your thoughts are painted vividly on your face and in your expression.

You have an open, frank and noble spirit; and you are desirous to please, and to be pleasing to others. You have a quick temper when provoked, but your anger does not last long. You never will be involved in any serious scandal or law trouble. You do not enjoy traveling.

HUGE DECREASE TOURIST TRADE

Understood Visitors in This District Not Spending as Lavishly as Before.

FISHING MORE POPULAR.

Those who wonder whether or not "hard times" in the U.S. and Canada will affect the tourist trade here this summer will have to wait, of course, until official figures are issued at the end of the year. But, even now, bodies like the Chamber of Commerce are willing to hazard the guess that a substantial falling-off will be shown and that Peterborough's million-dollar harvest will not be realized this season.

Previous estimates based on the number of visiting cars seen on the streets will prove misleading, it is felt, in view of the fact that local tradesmen are complaining that tourists are not spending as lavishly this year as formerly.

The sale in fishing tackle and fisherman's supplies, indeed, appears to be the only one to hold its own. One local hardware merchant claims that he is expecting his returns at the end of the season to show a marked increase in the turn-over in this line.

Whether this fact is due to the swing of tourists away from expensive pursuits to one appealing to modest purses; whether it is that enforced unemployment has permitted a long period of summer leisure to people of quieter tastes; or whether it is merely that many seasons of Kawartha fishing propaganda are just beginning to bear due fruit, it is impossible to state.

While some hotels have complained of a falling-off in the line of tourist trade during the past few years, it is a noticeable fact that those hosteleries specializing in unpretentious comfort for vacationers have no more reason to bemoan lack of custom this year than in the past. An outstanding fact is the swing away from the traditional "hotel" to the "lodge." Not a few hotels in this vicinity have been transformed into central lodges with a series of cabins. Inquiries from prospective visitors received in the mail at the local Chamber of Commerce include not a few asking for information about these lodges.

What most vacationers demand is that element of privacy which only individual cabins afford, coupled with opportunity to secure meals and other services at a central lodge, according to the Chamber of Commerce.

To celebrate the tenth anniversary and 1,685th performance of 'The Beggar's Opera' in London recently, every member of the audience was given a book of the play.

ARTICLE LXXVII.

Q.—What would be the course of an order for 100 Atchison Pfd. at 95? This is a margin purchase. What would be the process of purchase, of clearing and of delivery?

A.—When a client puts through a buying order for 100 shares of Atchison pfd. at 95, he may either phone, wire or write the broker or call in at the broker's office. If the order were sent in, it would go direct to the order clerk. If the client called at the office he would interview the customer's man who would hand the order over to the order clerk. We assume that the broker is willing to handle this stock on a marginal basis. If the client had a margin account previous to this at the office the order clerk would transfer it to the margin clerk to see if the customer's account is O.K. the order clerk records it and phones the clerk on the floor of the Exchange. The phone clerk also records it on a buying slip which he hands to the firms' tender.

Since it is not for a broken lot it will not be handed to an odd lot dealer. If the stock were not selling near 95 at the time, it might be handed over to a specialist. We will consider that it is selling around that price. If it is selling above 95 it must be held over. The trader will try to get it at a bid price, but if this is impossible he will have to raise it. The trader shouts "buy 100 Atchison Pfd at 95" and upon hearing the reply "sold" the transaction is completed as far as the traders are concerned.

The trader then makes out another slip recording the purchase the name of the stock, the number of shares, the price and the name of the broker who sold it. This is delivered to the phone clerk who relays it to the office, and the client is advised that his order has been filled at 95.

A statement and confirmation is made out for the client. If he had bought the stock outright he would pay $9,500 plus brokerage and tax. Since he bought it on margin he will only pay a fraction of this sum. The office will open an account for him and debit him for the balance.

The selling and buying brokers each make out "delivery" and "receive" tickets which are sent to the clearing house by messenger. While there, the messenger picks up all tickets involving transactions with his firm that have been delivered by other firms. These are checked against the clearance sheet which is made out in the office as the various transactions are phoned from the Exchange. This clearance sheet is later delivered to the Clearing House along with the "receive" and "deliver" tickets, statements of stock to be received and delivered and a draft or check as the case may be.

After the clearing house goes through their checking process the various amounts are received from or paid to the various brokers, and stock is allotted to the proper brokers.

Unless otherwise arranged, stock is delivered on the next whole day after the transaction takes place. It must be in bearer form or in street name. The purchasing office in the case cited above will send the stock to the transfer office and have it registered in the firm's name or in that of one of the partners. It will then be held in the office or used as collateral for a loan.

The amount of bookkeeping that is necessary is very great and intricate. Thus we see what a great number of steps are necessary in the execution of one order.

NEW YORK MART HAS BRISK TURN

Pool Favorites, Case and Vanadium Rise About Five Points.

U. S. STEEL UP.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 26 (C.P.).—The stock market broke out of the rut in which it had been confined for two days with a brisk upturn in to-day's short session.

Popular trading shares were bid up 1 to 5 points, as professional operations for the advance were encouraged by the complete drying up of offerings in yesterday's decline, resulting in a rally before the close. Shorts who had put out experimental lines recently, rushed to cover their commitments. A little profit-taking appeared at the close, reducing the gains by a pound or less.

The market continued a highly professional affair, in the absence of decisive business news, with affairs generally in the grip of summer slump. A moderately cheerful tone was maintained in the week-end business.

Case, Vanadium Up 5

Such pool favorites as Case and Vanadium rose about 5 points. General Motors, one of the more stable issues in which a strong speculative group has been working, rose more than a point. Radio was bid up a point or so early in the session, but the move in this issue petered out toward the finish.

U. S. Steel was again brought forward as a leader, as it was late yesterday, and sent up more than 2 partially in response to fairly pleasing forecasts of the second quarter earnings to be disclosed next Tuesday. American Telephone was a strong feature of the late trading rising more than 3 points. Sponsors of the move in this issue assert that there has been a steady stream of investment accumulation in it of late, and that it should do better marketwise after the expiration of the rights, Aug. 1.

A group of active floor traders and a few professional operations appeared to provide the bulk of the day's trading, but it showed fair acceleration over the low levels of the early hours of yesterday. Many traders had left town for the week-end, so the active group had this pretty much to themselves.

The rise again carried the general level of prices well into the peak area reached late last week, when the technical reaction set in.

Lady Heath's Condition Blamed on Injury Received Last Fall.

SKULL FRACTURED.

CLEVELAND, O., July 26 (C.P.)—Lady Mary Heath, famous British flier, who is distinguished particularly for her flight from London to Capetown, is incompetent and is in a hospital at Mantor, near here, receiving treatment for nervous disorders, according to a petition for a guardian on file here to-day.

Her condition is believed to have been caused by a severe skull injury suffered here last September, when an airplane she was testing for the Great Lakes Aircraft Corporation, fell through a roof. For several days she was at the point of death and her recovery was doubted.

She recovered sufficiently, however, to deliver numerous addresses in this country. She returned to Cleveland last May after obtaining a divorce decree at Reno, Nev., from Sir James Heath, 76.

FIVE DIE IN CRASH OFFICER IS HELD

Mexican Authorities Claim Bet Made Before Manoeuvres Started.

TWO SQUADRONS COMPETE.

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, July 26 (C.P.). — Colonel Alfredo Lezama, commander of the Aerial Regiment containing the two planes which yesterday collided in the air and caused five deaths, was arrested early this morning by orders of the army high staff pending an investigation of the accident.

Four of the victims were aviators, two to each plane, and the fifth was a peon playing handball on a court below.

The flyers were participating in maneuvers by two squadrons of nine planes each and a bet made before the start of the practice is held mainly responsible for the accident. Members of one ssuadron bet the second that the group which performed best must be treated to lunch by the other. The cadets ask that it be proved whether Lezama knew of and permitted the bet or participated in it.

FRENCH TEAM DOWNS AMERICANS IN DAVIS CUP CHHALLENGE ROUND

TENNIS.

Victory of Cochet and Brugnon Comes as Great Surprise.

FRENCH LOSE THIRD SET.

ROLAND GARROS STADIUM, Auteuil, France, July 26. —(CP)— The French team of Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugon scored a surprising victory over the American combination of Wilmer Allison and John Van Ryn in the doubles play today of the challenge round for the Davis Cup. The scores were 6-3, 7-5, 1-6, 6-2.

The United States youngest, victors over the French in the challenge round last year and champions at Wimbledon this season, were no match for Cochet's slashing attack and the superb serving of the veteran Brugnon.

Brugnon Weakens in Third

The French paraded through the first set, found a bit stiffer opposition in the second and as Wilmer Allison the Texan steadied somewhat after the erratic start, and then dropped the third set when Brugnon weakened. After a ten minute rest Cochet and Brugnon came back to smash the American opposition with ease.

PARIS, July 26.—Big Bill Tilden, veteran of ten Davis Cup campaigns, hung a French scalp to his belt to begin his eleventh yesterday. He defeated Jean Borotra—a Borotra at the top of his form—in four sets, 2—6, 7—5, 6—4, 7—5, justifying his last-minute inclusion in the invading American forces, and did it with such decision that not a soul in the 10,000 who watched the opening of the 1930 challenge round had the least doubt who was the better of the two.

Two hours later little Henri Cochet had taken his revenge for Wimbledon by sending George Lott to the showers with a straight set defeat, 6—4, 6—2, 6—2. Thus the score when the evening shadows settled over Auteuil was United States 1, France 1, and the fate of the Davis Cup for 1930 still hung very much in the balance. The doubles match will be played Saturday, and the final pair of singles Sunday.

Despite more than a hint of rain and a hot, muggy day there wasn't a vacant place in the big stadium when Tilden and Borotra began the usual preliminary ball slugging.

TORONTO, July 26.—Gilbert Nunns of Toronto added to his laurels here yesterday when, following his defeat of Marcel Rainville of Montreal, he qualified for the finals of the Canadian singles championship by defeating Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., leading United States player at present on the continent, by 3 sets to 1: 4—6, 6—4, 6—4.

Nunns played a magnificent game and stood up well before a very crushing barrage of drives from the United States net star. At the same time Lyttleton Rogers of Dublin, Ireland, defeated Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N.J., by 3 set to 1: 6—2, 0—6, 9—7, 6—2.

The defeat of both United States Davis Cup stars was a great surprise, and the outcome of today's final between Nunns and Rogers is awaited with the keenest anticipation, and is considered very open.

In the men's doubles, Mercur and Hall defeated Rennie and Proctor, Ontario champions, in straight sets, 6—2, 6—0, 6—1. In the other half a hectic battle took place when Munns and Martin of Toronto defeated Rogers of Ireland and Aikman of Montreal in five sets, 8—6, 3—6, 6—1, 3—6, 6—4. Mercur and Hall will thus contest the finals with Nunns and Martin.

Morgan Power Company of Moosejaw gave a contract to English Electric Company for steam turbine and turbo.

The C. G. E. Co. does not make steam turbines. It makes electrical machines, and every employee is aware of this distinction.

The English Company got this order over American companies because, why? Because of the British Preference, and, furthermore, because the machine is not being manufactured in Canada, and never was manufactured in Canada.

PORT HOPE BOWLERS PRESENT MANTEL CLOCK TO LOCAL CLUB

Presentation Made H. Rosvere of Life Membership in P. B. C.

PLEASING CEREMONY.

As a tangible expression of the good will and sportsmanlike feeling existing between the Port Hope Bowling club and Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club Limited, a handsome eight-day oak mantel clock was last evening presented to the local club, by H. Rosevear.

The pleasing little ceremony took place in an interval between the keenly contested games, and was witnessed by a large crowd of bowlers and their friends who gathered at the foot of the steps leading to the spacious verandah overlooking the greens and which provided an excellent stage from which short addresses were given.

Life Membership

Mr. Rosevear was the recepient of a life membership of the Peterborough Bowling Club, in recognition of his fine service in the interests of sport throughout the district. The card was handed to him by J. H. Sedgewick who accompanied the presentation with a fitting little speech.

Dr. Daley of Port Hope who acted as Mr. Rosevear's spokesman, said it had been recognized for years past that a fine spirit had always existed between the Bowlers and Curlers of the two towns. He thought that a very fine spirit of sportsmanship exists in Peterborough. They knew it he said from the fact that they have been playing in tournaments up here for years past. "Many are the good times you have given us and you can depend upon it that this little token of esteem is also 'good time' ". This comes from Hank Rosevear, the speaker stated, proceeding to dwell on the many fine qualities which the donor has always exhibited in all spheres of activity.

'I have been coming to Peterborough for the past thirty years", said Mr. Rosevear, who added that on the completion of the splendid new clubhouse and greens recently, he was struck with the thought that it only needed a mantel clock to complete the equipment.

In accepting the clock on behalf of the Peterborough Club, M. Bredin the president, expressed the pleasure which it gave him. He dealt with the spirit of friendly rivalry which exists between the two clubs and expressed the hope that it will be possible to have more tournaments in the future and that games will also be arranged with other clubs in this district.

There were 35 local rinks and 7 visiting rinks from Port Hope. Following the completion of the tournament coffee and sandwiches were served in the clubhouse and an enjoyable social hour was spent by all members.

The prize winners in the tournament were as follows:

First, Chief George Gimblett; second, George Lowe; Third, J. Harrison; Fourth, D. Hill; Fifth, A. Ringer, smallest score.

Madoc.

MADOC, July 26.—Examiner Correspondence.)—The Sunday school of St. John the Baptist church (Anglican) Madoc, held their annual picnic at Cottage Cove, Moira Lake, at the pleasant summer some, Sagonaska, of Mrs. A. H. Watson, on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

At an early hour a merry group of children and friends gathered at the church, waiting for conveyances, which were gladly supplied by several members of the congregation, and all were soon safely at the picnic grounds.

Many indulged in swimming at Cottage Grove, after which sports, games and races filled in a most enjoyable afternoon. Picnic baskets furnished a most sumptuous repast, together with lemonade served by the ladies, and it was a tired but happy group of children who dispersed only when it was too dark to see to play.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Nickle, of Madoc, Ontario, announce the engagement of their second daughter, Edna Vivian, to Mr. George Oscar Griffith, of New York City, son of Mr and Mrs. Thomas M. Griffith, of Grafton, West Virginia—the marriage to take place in August.

Lou Gehrig Adances In Big Six Averages

Lou Gehrig tossed a little excitement into the Big Six batting race yesterday as he moved a long step nearer the .390 class, while his rivals were making little or no progress. Lou hit his twenty-ninth home run of the year, a triple and a single in five times at bat, raised his average three points to .389, and went into fourth place ahead of the still idle Riggs Stephenson. Al Simmons was the only other serious hitter, getting two blows, one a homer, in five times up to hold his mark at .393. Frank O'Doul failed to hit in four attempts, but with the aid of a semi-official revision, which took away one time at bat, dropped only to .404, remaining two points ahead of 'Chuck" Klein, who lost a point by getting only one hit in four times up. Babe Ruth failed to connect in his two official times at bat and fell off three more points to .362.

TROTTING RACES AGAIN TO-NIGHT

Another Big Program Will Be Staged By Chatham Driving Park Company.

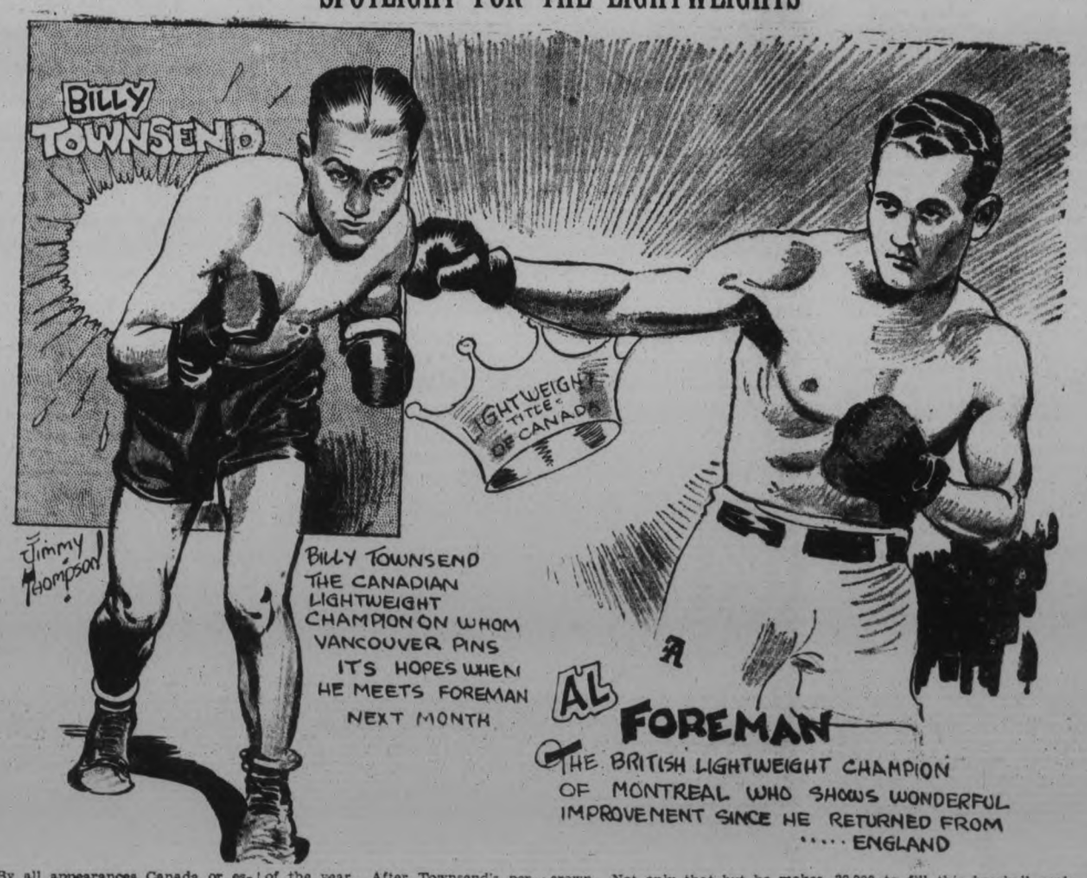
LARGE ENTRY LIST.

Once more fans of the Sport of Kings in Peterborough and district will direct their steps towards the race track at the Exhibition Grounds tonight to see another big bill of night horse racing staged by the Chatham Driving Park Company. Horses from all over Ontario which participated in the races on Wednesday and Thursday are billed to go into action again.

Night racing has made a great hit in Peterborough as in other centers in the Province. Times made by Dela Wilkes and Peter Direct in the 2:17 and 2:14 class races during the week went far to prove that horses will run as fast if not faster under the light of the power lamps than in Old Sol's burning glare.

Tonight the price of admission is 50 cents.

SPOTLIGHT FOR THE LIGHTWEIGHTS



By all appearances Canada or especially eastern Canada is about to go lightweight boxing crazy. In the past flyweights have occupied No. 1 position in the game, which might be traced back to the sensational rise of French Belanger. Now, however, since the appearance of Billy Townsend, the Canadian lightweigth champion, and Al Foreman, the British king, all eyes are on these two men to provide the first out-of-doors show of the year. After Townsend's performance against the sturdy Jack Purvis, in which he broke the latter's jaw in jig time, sport fans acclaimed him the coming world champion of the welterweight division. Hardly a week later, however, Al Foreman battered Sammy Hackett, Toronto's favorite, in two rounds and at the same time convinced the critics that he is a new man since he returned from England with the lightweight crown. Not only that but he makes an open challenge that he would meet Sammy Mandell for nothing if he could be induced to fight. Since the decision which gave Towsend the lightweight title of Canada was unpopular in Montreal, Playfair Brown, it is rumored, is speculating on bringing these two men together at the Maple Leaf stadium in Toronto early in August and that means he is figuring on an attendance of around 20,000 to fill this baseball park. At present the betting odds are about even. This bout seems to have all the earmarks of the most popular fight of the year. Vancouver believes that there is no man in Canada who can trade punches with Townsend. Montreal claims that Foreman was robbed of his title and that he is a hundred per cent. better than he was when he battled Townsend in Montreal. So you pays your money and you takes your choice.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

TORONTO, July 26. — Following fairly liberal offerings last week, an increase in the supply of cattle amounting to 900 head proved more than the market could accommodate this week, and prices on all grades of killers except baby beeves broke sharply in the week's trading, which was the dullest of the year to date. There were 1,400 cattle held over to Tuesday, and still 1,300 head stale in Thursday's offering, when buyers showed no interest in the stale supply. Prices on Wednesday showed a decline of 75 cents to $1.00 per cwt. Packer buyers reported coolers overloaded and cattle held in feedlots for future slaughter.

Steers were the hardest class to sell, with several loads left over at the close. Closing prices ranged from 6 to 7½ cents per cwt., with a top load on Wednesday at 7.85 cents. Handy butcher cattle sold from 5½ to 7¾ cents per pound, with the bulk selling from 7 to 7½ cents, or 75 cents per cwt. for the week. Butcher cows were off $1.00 per cwt. for the week with the best closing at 6 cents and plain butcher cows downward to 4 cents per pound. Both butcher and bologna bulls were down in price, the former selling from 5 to 5½ cents and the latter from 4 to 4¾ cents per pound for the bulk. Baby beeves were a light offering and sold about steady at a range of 9 to 11 cents per pound.

There was very little demand for store cattle to return to the country, and only a few light stockers were taken out at farmers' orders. Speculators took a few lots of feeders on Wednesday at 5¾ to 6¾ cents per pound, a few at the top price averaging around 1,100 pounds. The milker and springer trade was slow with prices easier at $80 to $100 each for the best.

Calf supply was moderate, but weaker markets in the United States contributed to easier feeling here, export buyers showing little interest. Prices on medium to choice veals were down $2.50 per cwt. as compared with last week's close, and in the attempt to find an outlet some shipper sent calves on to the Buffalo market, while others returned trucks in lots to the country points. Good to choice veals closed at 8 to 8½ cents per pound, with an odd top at 9 cents. Grassers sold down to a new low of 4½ cents, and most plain calves from 5½ to 6½ cents per pound.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 5,500, or 1,700 more than last week, with the increase occurring mainly in lambs. Lamb prices declined $1.50 per cwt. in the week, choice ewes and wethers closing at 11 cents, with culls at 8½ cents, good buck lambs at 9 cents per pound. Sheep were a slow trade and barely steady in price at a range of 2 to 5½ cents, with only a few of the best light ewes making the top.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 26.— Corn prices jumped yesterday to within 3c. a bushel of wheat, and at some places in Illinois maize was commanding 14c a bushel over wheat.

As a rule, corn is 25c to 30c a bushel cheaper than wheat, and the present extraordinary reversal of the comparative position of the two cereals attracted widespread attention.

Closing quotations on corn were strong at virtually the topmost level reached of late, and ¾c to 2c higher than Thursday's finish. Wheat closed irregular ¼c off 3-8c up, oats 38-c. to 1-2c advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 22c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 26.— Word was received here yesterday that the Steamships Huntingdon and Mahana had reached Halifax with their cargos of New Zealand butter, some 5,880,000 pounds of which was originally consigned to this country. A considerable quantity has been resold to London, where the butter market is strong, however, and without word of how much would be landed here the local butter market was dull. With little trading, prices ruled steady at 28¼c a pound for Eastern Townships No. 1.

Potatoes, with exceptionally heavy supplies arriving, dropped 50c a bag to $1. Closing quotations ranged from $1 to $1.15 per 80-pound bag.

The cheese market quotations remained steady at 16 5-8 to 3-4 for Ontario's and 16 to 16 1-8 for Quebecs. Eggs and poultry were unchanged.

Winter wheat flour was 10c lower, while new winter wheat flour was offered at 30c to 40c. a barrel lower than the old stocks.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 26. — Early losses of 1c were turned into slight gains on the wheat market yesterday, a sharp recovery in the last half-hour coming on the heels of reports from Saskatchewan, where, according to private crop observers, a large acreage will return comparatively little wheat. The market finished unchanged to ½c higher.

Cable news that the French Government would reconsider milling regulations, with the prospect of the mixture of foreign wheat being raised from 3 per cent. to 20 per cent., added strength to the late rally.

Cash wheat demand was light and trading amounted to little. Coarse grain values held firm.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, July 26. — The local butter market appeared to be away to a fine start toward higher prices at the first of the week when dealers were able to get a ¼ better almost daily for No. 1 Ontario. But at the middle of the week prices remained steady at 28c to 28¼c and the week closed with these prices still in effect and buyers only willing to pay the top price for large lots of high scoring butter. From about Wednesday until yesterday trade was only fair and yesterday one might have gone farther and called it quiet. The Montreal market has been showing a strong tone all week with top prices a ¼c better than in this city, but Thursday dealers in Quebec City were made uneasy by the arrival of New Zealand butter from Halifax, though the reports stated that a great deal of this New Zealand supply would go on to England.

Cheese.

Cheese prices strengthened at the first of the week but yesterday they were back to about normal as far as city dealers were concerned. The advances on the country boards have had little bearing on the local market and any attempts by brokers to secure new high prices did not meet with too much success. Yesterday shippers were quoted 16¾c for new large, 17c for twins and 17¼c for triplets. While retailers were asked to pay 19c for new large, 19¼c for twins, and 19½c for triplets.

Potatoes.

Potatoes, new, Ontario, started on the down trend a few days ago, and yesterday they were 15c a bag lower in car lots on track at Toronto. The price asked was $1.40 per bag.

Eggs

The egg market was going strong at the first of the week, and up until Wednesday local brokers were quoting graded eggs, free cases, 31½c to 32c, for extras 29c to 29½c, and some 30c for firsts, and 25c to 26c for seconds. But on Wednesday buyers were not over-anxious to take on many more loads and most sales were made at 31½c for extras, 29c to 29½c for firsts and 25c for seconds. Yesterday prices were still lower at 31c to 31½c for extras, 29c to 29½c for firsts and 25c for seconds.

Poultry receipts are still comprised almost entirely of chicken and fowl. A few spring ducks are arriving, also some roosters. The demand for roasting chickens and turkeys is being filled from reserve stocks in storage. The outward movement of storage poultry has been showing some improvement recently. It is expected that the output of storage poultry will continue to improve during the next two months. The fresh crop of chickens arriving are gradually increasing in size, but are not yet sufficiently big enough for roasting purposes.

ROY STUDIO WINS FINE GOLD MEDAL

HELD AT MILWAUKEE.

A Peterborough citizen has again brought honor to this fair city when F. L. Roy of the Roy Studios has been awarded one of the five gold medals which are awarded by the Photographers' Association of America for the best portrait exhibited of three or more at the Milwaukee annual convention. The contest was open to all members of the associaton and only one print was allowed to be submitted. Mr. Roy's winner was a picture of Mrs. Agnes Richardson and her three children.

The judging was in secret and the result was announced at the big banquet when Canadian and American members joined in congratulating Mr. Roy on his splendid work. The gold medal is beautifully encased and engraved. Mr. Roy was also awarded a blue ribbon in the commercial class.

CHILD MANNEQUINS IN DEMAND.

Following the introduction in London of matronly mannequins for displaying gowns for older women have appeared girls of six years to show off the beauties of children's dresses. Tots are being trained at mannequin schools, the course lasting from six to eight weeks, and each receives $5 for every parade she attends. A juvenile parade usually lasts about 15 minutes, making the pay at the same scale as for adults. "Children take an interest in their dresses at a very early age nowadays," said a fashion expert. "When they reach the age of six they like to be fashionably dressed, and these exacting requirements have led to the demand for child mannequins."

Chinese cigarette manufacturers in Shanghai are petitioning the government for financial assistance.

A Final Word

To the Electors of West Peterborough.
Ladies and Gentlemen:

The campaign is almost over and on Monday you will be called upon to use your franchise.

I sincerely believe that you will be voting in your own best interests and in the best interest of Canada if you support the policies of HON. R. B. BENNETT and the Conservative Party, whose candidate I am proud to be.

I am satisfied that the promise of Mr. Bennett to deal with unemployment at a special session of Parliament offers the most immediate and effective solution of that grievous problem, and equally satisfied that Empire trade can only be developed on the lines he suggests.

The Conservative policy of protection for Canadian industry and the home market of the Canadian farmer is a safeguard that is essential to the welfare of this country.

My heartfelt gratitude goes out to the loyal corps of faithful workers in city and rural subdivisions who have toiled through this hot summer weather on behalf of myself and the cause I represent and to the very many people who have assured me of their support on Monday.

Sincerely yours,

E. A. PECK

Conservative Candidate.

WORK TO START

"a pretty tame document on which the Liberal Party has rung the changes to a great extent" — Mr. Peck asserted: "In no way does it develop your home market, save in a few minor items, nor is there anything to encourage the manufacture in this country of those articles which we now import from the United States."

He hoped the Budget would have the expected result of increasing the trade in manufactured goods with Great Britain as against the United States, but cited the "misjudgment" of Bennett's attitude on British preference as "unfortunate' 'and "unfair."

Broader Issues.

Local Liberals had asked, Mr. Peck declared, "What has Peck done for Peterborough?" criticizing his failure to secure concessions for the riding. It was the business of the Dominion House, according to Mr. Peck, to deal with broader issues; it was the business of the Provincial House to deal with local matters. "In my business dealings with you," he stated, however, "I have always tried to do a good job. And if I am elected I will try to do a good job in the House as I have endeavored to do in the past."

In reply to the Hon. G. N. Gordon's allegations regarding the indemnity which Mr. Peck has received during what was charged as an "impotent" period at Ottawa, the candidate doubted the accuracy of the Hon. Mr. Gordon's arithmetic, adding: "I seriously question whether Mr. Gordon did very much in the interests of Peterborough for the 'indemnity' which he drew during his period in the House."

Start Work August 1.

T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P., in reply to Mr. Gordon's letter of yesterday demanding why work was being held up on the Peterborough-Ottawa Highway, stated that in an interview which he had had no later than last Friday with the Hon. George S. Henry, Provincial Minister of Roads, Mr. Henry had announced that work on the new highway would be proceeded with about August 1. The first contract had been let for a stretch west of Norwood, and the the vicinity, according to Mr. Lan- would be via the Block Road. Great labor and expense had been necessary in the surveying and considerable difficulty had been experienced in settling on the route. Other provincial roads were being mooted in the vicoinity, according to Mr. Lancaster.

A 25 per cent. decline in Canada's live stock exports in two years was deplored by Mr. Lancaster, while he quoted figures to show that butter dropped from an eight and a half million dollar export item in 1925 to a 14 million dollar import item in 1929. A 33 million dollar export in cheese had in three years been reduced by almost half.

"No wonder Dr. Grisdale's Department is alarmed," commented Mr. Lancaster. "Every good Canadian must be alarmed."

Mr. Bennett had made four "very specific" pledges respecting agriculture, the speaker pointed out, namely, protection, the fostering and developing of agriculture and the live stock industry, the stabilization of trade, and the development of interprovincial trade and a favorable foreign market.

At mention of Bennett's proposed National Old Age Pension scheme, the meeting broke out into vigorous applause.

Silence, followed by prolonged applause, greeted Mr. Lancaster's remarks on the Conservative candidate. "Few of use can live as long as Mr. Peck," asserted the speaker, "and live as blameless a life as he has. His life has been an open book; and, whether you have been on his side in politics or not, you all love, admire, and respect him."

Government Stampeded

Dr. M. A. Morrison saw the King Government "stampeded into this election." The Liberal Party has been "fighting with its back against the wall during the past two or three weeks," he contended.

He scored Liberal talk of tax reduction, declaring that the government had collected 713 million dollars more from the people during the past six years than during the previous six years.

While immigrants from South and Central Europe were being dumped on the country by the King Government, asserted Dr. Morrison, 1,200,000 young Canadians were leaving this country for the U. S.

The Conservative leader had promised "complete reconsideration" of the Government's 53 foreign treaties, declared the doctor, scoring the exercise of foreign flexible "minimum tariffs" against Canada's fixed "intermediate tariff." Bennett had promised that there would be no favored nation treaties with those countries refusing an open market for Canada's produce.

Crerar had claimed that the expected bumper wheat crop in the West would cure unemployment. "There were 175,000,000 bushels of wheat in the elevators and in transit in Canada on July 1," stated Dr. Morrison. "If a crop of 500,000,000 bushels is going to cure unemployment, why hasn't the 175,000,000 done something about it? The only solution is Mr. Bennett's proposal to bargain with the nations to take our wheat."

S. S. Joyce of Havelock, speaking first, saw the necessity of voting and foresaw a victory for Bennett.

HEPBURN EXPLODES BOMB

Product to Be Supplied from Factory Near London, Ont.

(Special Despatch to The Globe)

ST. THOMAS, July 25.—Speaking to a large audience here to-night, which included many farmers, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Liberal candidate in West Elgin, exploded a bomb under Conservative attacks on the Dunning Budget when he stated that the Borden Milk Company's head office in New York reports that an order has been received from the United Yeast Company, of London, England, for 1,000,000 pounds of malted milk, to be placed with their Belmont plant at Belmont, near London, Ont., and filled from there.

"Carloads of malt are already on the tracks at Belmont," he stated, amid cheers, "and are being unloaded."

This order will mean the consumption of 10,000,000 pounds of milk by the Belmont plant in order to make the malted milk for England. This business was formerly placed in the United States, but British interests have cancelled the American order and transferred this great volume of business to Canada. The Dunning Budget and its antithesis, the high United States tariffs, are alone responsible for that order, the first of many."

He quoted an official as answering a question as to whether or not the Dunning Budget had anything to do with the order: "It certainly had. The Dunning Budget and the high United States tariff are the reasons for it."

This is just the beginning of the flow of orders that would follow the inter-Empire trade policy of the King Government.

Finally, I again give you my assurance that at all times I will do my utmost in the interest of every person in this riding.

Believe me, faithfully yours,

CANADIAN BUTTER

do, and what the Dunning Budget is likely to do, is to help to create prosperity in Britain by Canada, for instance, buying goods from the Old Country which we have been getting from the United States.

The New Zealand butter arrangement ends in October, and I am just afraid that it will spoil one of the finest treaties Canada has ever had. I say that in all seriousness. I am glad that New Zealand is going to keep in touch with Canada."

Mr. Newman's whole address was a plea to the electors, farmers as well as city people, to take a broad view of the Dunning Budget and Empire trade.

"I believe the hearts of South Monaghan beat true for the Empire, and I trust that, by the grace of God, Britain is going on to the place that is meant for her, not dominating the world, but stimulating it, so that we shall be a blessing to all the nations."

Too Much "Partyism"

Deprecating the intense political partizanship that flares up in campaigns, Mr. Newman said "I know you Tories at the back of the hall are here in a critical spirit. The chief consideration to-day is to realize that Great Britain is in such need as she has never experienced, and Canada too is in great need. I believe that if we would all study the needs of our country and Empire and follow the dictates of our conscience regardless of partyism we would elect Mackenzie King unanimously because we have in this election one of the best policies ever presented to the Canadian people".

U. S. Excludes Products

Mr. Newman pointed out that the United States had been gradually raising her tariff wall, deciding to live within themselves. Prior to the latest United States tariff increase a large eastern triangle of eastern Ontario had been shipping its cream across the border. The cheese factories in that district had gradually closed their doors during the last ten years and those factories were among the best in Ontario. Now, the very profitable market for Canadian cream in the United States was closed. Other farm produce was also excluded and Canada today is forced to find new markets for our surplus products. In this emergency the Dunning Budget was brought in. The leading statesmen of Great Britain and the British press and business men applauded this Budget.

"All that Budget needs is for you to back it up on Monday", Mr. Newman said. "If we can send Mr. King back with a stronger majority we shall be sounding a new and brighter hope throughout the British Empire.

I know no farmer in my district who has taken care of his farm and is not prosperous, but I do know some who want to get road jobs and are neglecting their farms and you couldn't expect them to get along.

Mr. Bennett's Approval

When the Budget was introduced in the House, Mr. Bennett was stunned. Then he said we had stolen the clothes of the Conservative party. In that sense Mr. Bennett himself gave sanction to the Dunning Budget. If he had stayed with that statement, he would have proved himself the statesman the Conservative party expected of him when he was chosen leader at Winnipeg.

Since the war the nations have been closing their trade doors against Britain and she is today at stranglehold. But, there is hope within the Empire. As Col. W. F. Cockshutt of Brantford, a former Conservative member of Parliament, stated upon his recent return from England that the total trade of the Empire was eleven billions of dollars and of that amount $6,500,000,000 worth comes from foreign countries. Col. Cockshutt declared that if we could transfer one-quarter of that foreign trade to the British nations we should all enjoy a greater prosperity than we have shared up to the present time."

Mr. Bennett's later reaction to the Dunning Budget, Mr. Newman said, was to declare himself for Canada first with tariff walls against the United States, Great Britain and all other nations. Had he produced an Empire trade policy at this time of a great opportunity Mr. Bennett would have had the support of business men of this country and the approbation of the public men of Great Britain.

Certain of Victory

"I have no doubt who will win on Monday", said Mr. Newman, "and I have no doubt who should win. Mr. King is going back stronger than ever. Look at the number of Conservatives who have publicly announced that they are voting for the Liberal policies. Mr. Burnham of Peterborough, Col. MacKendrick, Henry O'Brien, K. C. of Toronto and J. J. Carrick who although a Conservative member in the last Parliament is now a Liberal candidate, backing up the Dunning Budget. Two Conservative members from Nova Scotia also voted for the Budget.

"When they talk of Canada first and protection, I wish Mr. Bennett and his friends would tell me how they are going to protect the wheat of Canada. Every bit of depression in Canada today is because of no other condition except the condition of agriculture. Hon. Mr. Crerar says that if we have 500,000,000 bushels of wheat in the west this year our unemployment problem will be solved."

Mr. Duffus' Plea

Mr. Duffus spoke on the record of the Government and appealed to South Monaghan to give him a chance to represent the constituency during the next four years.

The Singing Scots, Jack Smith and Bob Hendry, provided enjoyable entertainment, and made as big a hit as they did Thursday night at Bridgenorth.

ARTICLES OF INTEREST TO THE FARMER

Fruit and Vegetables Made Popular Through Ever-Increasing Inspection

The buyer of food products more than anyone else to-day must know that he is getting the quality he buys. The shipping point inspection service of the Fruit Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has established the confidence of the "trade," from producer to consumer, in the reliability of the Government certificate. From a modest 2,839 carloads inspected five years ago, the federal inspection service last year inspected 25,760 carloads of fruit and vegetables, an increase over the preceding year of 9,281 cars. More than that, the inspection service, having created confidence in quality and developed uniformity, has made inspected fruits and vegetables really popular on the larger markets, and in the export market premium prices have been obtained. The federal inspection service is a neutral determination of quality standard between buyer and seller established by certificate.

LIBERAL BONUSES WILL BE GIVEN CANADIAN EXHIBITION AT CHICAGO

Provincial Gov't's Offer Prizes for Winners at Grain and Hay Show.

HAD GOOD RECORD

CHICAGO, Ill., July 26 (C.P.)—Successful Canadian exhibitors in the International Grain and Hay Show which will be held in Chicago, Nov. 29 to Dec. 6, will be awarded liberal bonuses in addition to the regular premiums offered in the prize list which is now being distributed.

The provincial governments of Quebec, Ontario, Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, the Canadian National Railways, the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, the Canadian Co-operative Seed Producers Limited, and the Calgary Board of Trade have already announced offers of special awards for Canadian exhibitors.

Prizes Offered

The Government of Alberta offers $150 for each grand championship won by an Alberta exhibitor and $100 for each first prize won by an exhibitor from that province. Other offers are: Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Limited, $100 to the Wheat Pool member from Canada winning the grand championship or first prize in red spring wheat.

Calgary Board of Trade—To the Albertan winning grand championship in wheat or oats—return railway ticket and sleeping car fare to the next International Grain and Hay Show.

Government of British Columbia—$150 to be divided among the prize winners of the Province of British Columbia. Not more than $50 to be awarded for each prize won; the exact amount allotted in accordance with the number of standing of awards received.

Government of Ontario—(a) $50 to each Ontario exhibitor winning a first prize; (b) $25 each to Ontario exhibitor winning highest awards on alfalfa seed, alsike seed and six-rowed barley, provided such exhibitors did not win a first prize.

Government of Quebec—$150 to be divided among the prize winners of the province of Quebec. Not more than $50 to be awarded for each prize won; the exact amount to be allotted in accordance with the number and standing of awards received.

Canadian Pacific Railway Company—$100 to Canadian scoring the highest award in hard wheat.

Canadian National Railways—$100 to be divided evenly among the two exhibitors from Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, winning the highest awards in (a) alfalfa and (b) timothy seed.

Government of Saskatchewan—(a) five prices of $50, $40, $30, $20 and $10 respectively, for the highest five Saskatchewan exhibitors in Hard Red Spring Wheat and an additional $100 if a Saskatchewan exhibitor wins the first prize in this class; (b) $50 to a Saskatchewan exhibitor winning the first prize in any other section.

Canadian farmers have always made a strong showing at the big Chicago exhibition, carrying home many of the grand championships. The liberal special bonuses offered this year are expected to bring out an even stronger display of Canadian grain than in the past. W. T. G. Wiener, Secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, Ottawa, has charge of an active campaign to encourage entries in the International Grain and Hay Show from Canada and copies of the premium list itemizing 1,067 regular prices offered in the 95 separate contests can be secured from him.

Farmers Can Profit By Feeding Wheat

EAST LANSING, Mich., July 26.—(A.P.)—Agricultural experts at Michigan State College offer a new form of farm relief to those who are worrying about the price of wheat.

Feed it to livestock, says a statement issued by four department heads. At present prices wheat is worth $5 more a ton as a dairy feed than as a commercial cereal, the experts assert. They add that farmers can save $10 a ton by feeding wheat instead of corn.

GROW TWO CROPS INSIDE ONE YEAR

One Harvest Reaped Off Cereal Greenhouses From Test Plots.

SPEEDS RESEARCH WORK

The success which has attended the efforts of L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, and his staff at the Central Experimental Farm of the Dominion Department of Agriculture in growing two crops of grain a year, one in the field and the other in the cereal greenhouse, is a fine example of putting one over on father time. The most important work of the Cereal Division is the development of new varieties of cereal and other plants particularly adapted to Canadian conditions and demands. In the cereal greenhouse grain harvested from field test plots in the fall is planted again within a month or so, and the work of research and development is carried forward another crop year during the one calendar year. This means in practical result that the research work which usually took from eight to ten years to carry out in connection with a specific hybrid development under the old system of field test plots can now be done in from four to five years under the new two-crop-a-year system. The development is one of major significance to Canada's future as a producer of cereal and forage crops.

EGG RICHNESS IN FOOD VALUE OF GREAT USE

Are Relatively Inexpensive as Part of Meal Even at High Prices.

YOLKS PREVENT RICKETS

Statistics Show Only Trifle Over Half an Egg Per Day Per Capita Used.

Whenever I have occasion to discuss the food value of eggs, I am reminded of a story told me some years ago by a New York social service worker. A group of children from the congested Bowery district were making their first visit to the country. One typical little gamin was asked how he liked the nice fresh country eggs. "Aw, dey ain't no good," was the reply.

"Why, what's wrong with them?" he was asked.

"Well," explained the youngster, "dey ain't got no smell and dey ain't got no taste!"

However desirable those two elements may be in most foods, most of us will be perfectly willing to dispense with them in eggs. There are, however, numerous other qualities of such value that we cannot afford to be without them. Practically all the elements which contribute to the building up of and maintaining a healthy condition of the human body are present in eggs. Statistics show that the American people consume but little over one-half an egg each per day per capita for all users. This is not nearly enough. We should eat and use more eggs.

Compare them with beefsteak, for instance. At 40c a dozen, twelve eggs give you more food value, penny for penny, than a pound of steak at 45c, and don't forget there are no bones in the eggs. On a weight basis, eggs compete successfully with meat in almost every report. They have at least as great protein content, and are more valuable sources of iron than any meat except perhaps liver.

Compare Favorably.

As for those much discussed but little understood food elements, the vitamines, eggs compare most favorably with other foods. Nobody knows what vitamines are, but what they can do is fairly well understood. Weight for weight, eggs contain ten times as much vitamine A as milk. While it is true we use much more milk at a time than we do eggs, their great vitamine A content makes them a valuable addition to milk. As vitamine A is credited by competent investigators with helping to prevent diseases of the lungs, the importance of eggs in the diet is readily appreciated. Eggs and milk have long played an important part in the diet of tubercular patients.

Eggs are quite as rich as milk in vitamine B. This member of that mysterious family is the one which aids bodily growth and gives protection against neuritic disorders. Getting on down the vitamine alphabet, we find eggs comparatively rich in vitamine D, the one which prevents rickets. Generally speaking, they have less value in this particular than cod liver oil. They contain quite enough of this element, however, to make them valuable substitutes for the oil for people whose stomachs refuse to retain it. A daily ration of egg yolks will prevent rickets and, in many cases, heal rickets that have already started.

Having justified our title in one sense by showing the value of eggs as food, it would not be amiss to show that eggs are good to eat in still another sense. While few of us would care for the racy tang demanded by the youngster quoted at the beginning, it cannot be denied that eggs are ever popular because they have a most agreeable flavor all their own. Served in the simplest manner, they are always acceptable. As a garnish for various vegetables, salads and other dishes, they are both attractive and palatable. But what would we do for cakes, pies, pastries of all kinds, and other dishes were it not for eggs?

Thus in hundreds of ways the egg insinuates its health-giving and body-building values into our daily menu. Unlike other foods that are good for us, the egg is something that can appear in some form or other at every meal without making us tire of it. This is good, for the egg is one of the most valuable of all the many things used for human food. We can hardly eat too many eggs. Let us, therefore, endeavor to make every week an "eat more eggs week" by finding more attractive ways and a greater variety of ways to serve these valuable and ever tasty food products.

APPLE TREES MAKE FINE START DESPITE LACK OF CULTIVATION

Do Well in Sod But Need Annual Application of Nitrogen Fertilizer.

SPLENDID RESULTS

Planting young apple trees in a sod field among stumps and briars may seem a lazy man's way of starting an orchard, but results of an Ohio experiment show that the method has advantages over the common and more laborious system of setting the trees in a plowed field and cultivating them annually until they reach bearing age.

The two systems of starting trees have been compared since 1921, in an orchard at the Mahoning County Farm, one of the sub-stations of the Ohio Experiment Station. The trees were set out partly in sod and partly under cultivation. They came into bearing in 1929, with fully half the trees producing some fruit.

"It is surprising to note," writes L. W. Sherman, superintendent of the station, "that the trees which were set in sod and properly fertilized grew faster and came into bearing earlier than those which were grown under cultivation but without fertilizer."

Other than the method of cultivation; the only difference in the treatment of the two plots was the fact that the trees in sod have since 1924 received an annual application of Nitrate of Soda. Inter-cropping, summer tillage, and the growing of winter cover crops like rye and vetch was the program followed on the cultivated plot. When an intercrop was grown it was liberally fertilized.

The use of Nitrate of Soda was begun on the sod plots in 1924, with an application of one pound a tree. This was increased by ¼ pound each year until 1929 when the application was 2¾ pounds per tree.

Placed Under Outer Branches

The Nitrate was applied under the outer branches of the trees and was applied in the spring as soon as growth started, but before blooming. The sod plot was moved twice a year, and the grass was either left on the ground or was raked up and used as mulch under the trees.

The average yield of the trees on the cultivated plot during 1929 was 5.7 pounds of fruit per tree, as contrasted with 9.1 pounds from the trees in sod. In every instance a given variety produced more fruit in sod than under cultivation.

At present, after 9 years, the trees in sod but which were fertilized with Nitrate are larger and more thrifty than those which have been cultivated.

In summarizing the experiment, Superintendent Sherman points out that the results do not mean that apple trees can be set in sod and allowed to shift for themselves in ther fight for plant food and against weeds and grass.

"When set out in sod, the trees should have an annual spring application of nitrogen fertilizer," he says, "and the weeds and grass should be mowed down at least twice a year. The interesting thing to us at this farm is that it has been possible to grow apple trees up to bearing age so well without the labor of annual cultivation."

In the first quarter of this year more than $9,000,000 worth of linen manufactures were imported into the United States.

Two Acres of Peas Yield Five Tons

KINGSTON, July 26.—(Special to The Examiner).—Ten thousand and twenty pounds—over five tons—were threshed at the Union Vale pea viner in Prince Edward County. The peas were grown on two acres on the farm of James Tubbs, of Gore G., in the neighborhood. This is regarded as a record. Another big yield was ten thousand boxes of strawberries picked off two and three-quarter acres owned by Trumbel Brothers at Bethel, Prince Edward County.

CANADIAN BOYS PLACED THIRD IN CATTLE JUDGING

World's Championship Lost By Difference in Placing Methods.

AT MANCHESTER, ENGLAND

Trio Meet Many Notables and Given Tour of British Isles.

MONTREAL, July 26. — Just how close Canada came to winning the Golden Challenge Trophy and the world's championship in boys' and girls' cattle judging was revealed by the three boys who were members of the Canadian team competing with those of other nations at the Royal Agricultural Show at Manchester, England, when they returned from overseas on the White Star liner Laurentic.

Placing Methods Differ.

Though the three Canadian boys were well abreast of the top teams in the judging of most of the classes, a difference in method of placing the animals in one class as between the Canadians and the members of the board conducting the contest was responsible for the Canadian boys dropping into third place in the final count. The British team came first with 766 marks, United States second with 750 marks, and the Canadian third with 715, so that even in the final result the Canadians were within a comparatively narrow range of marks with the leaders. The three Canadians, Gordon Campbell, aged 13, from Stewiacke, N. S.; Cedric Kirkpatrick, 19, from Wirral, N. B., and Clifford Baldwick, 18, from Barrie, Ontario, went to the international contest under the auspices of the Federal Livestock Branch at Ottawa, and the Canadian National Railways Agricultural Department.

Landing in Britain several days before the contest, they were given an opportunity of studying British dairy cattle at close range on some of the more prominent breeding farms. Following the contest, which, they state, was highly instructive for them, the boys were given a short tour of the Old Land, during which they saw the sights of London, Glasgow and other places of interest, and were entertained at various places by people of note. They were introduced to Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester, immediately after the contest at Manchester, who congratulated them on their showing, and they were also entertained at tea on the terrace of the House of Commons by the National Association of Boys' Clubs of Britain, under whose auspices the judging contest is held.

Learned a Lot.

"We learned a lot," said the youngest member of the Canadian team, just well into his 'teens, "and we could go right back now and make a different story of the judging contest. The whole tour was a wonderful experience, and we are certainly grateful to the Canadian Government and the Canadian National Railways for making the trip possible."

The Canadian boys had the unique experience of carrying through the various features of the judging contest confronted by a very large and critical audience, and that they made the showing they did under the circumstances was considered very creditable. The boys were required to place animals in three classes of dairy cattle, and following that, to give their reasons for such placings before the board of examiners, when they were again faced by a very large audience, which was in itself a stiff test.

"Everybody was so kind to us, though, that we were made to feel at home," said the boys, "and we were entertained so much we couldn't begin to eat all the meals. We were photographed everywhere we went until we got tired of posing, and when the newspaper reporter asked us what we thought of England, we told them it was a nice country, but we liked Canada better."

Banana growers of Jamaica have formed a sales organization and are operating their own steamship lines to England and Canada.

STUBBLE NEEDS EXTRA MOISTURE

Best Results Obtained by Summer Fallowing as Early as Possible.

WATER FACTS

Five years study of soil moisture and crop production by experts of the Dominion Department of Agriculture disclose some interesting observations as to the relation between water and crops.

It takes 39.84 tons of water to produce 1 bushel of wheat; 21.8 tons of water for 1 bushel of oats; 1,106 tons of water for 1 ton of corn ensilage; 1,370 tons of water for 1 ton of sunflower ensilage; 2,326 tons of water for 1 ton of 1st cut Brome hay; and 1,222 tons of water for 2nd-cut Brome.

More water is used to produce a bushel of grain from stubble land than from summer-fallow; and the latter always contains more moisture—this is a unique crop paradox.

To convert into vapour enough water to give one inch of rainfall over 640 acres of land requires as much heat as would be produced by the combustion of 5,000 tons of coal.

Nature's way of making rain for the world supply is through evaporation, which is caused by the sun at a rate of 16,000,000 tons of water converted into vapour every second.

June, July and August, the dry months at the Pacific coast, are the "shower" months on the prairies.

Summer-fallow will conserve from 25 to 35 per cent of rainfall moisture in the soil. The earlier summer-fallowing is done the better the results.

Weeds rob grain crops of needed moisture, and their presence in fields always results in lowered grain yields.

It is not the amount of rain that falls, but the amount which is stored in the soil as moisture which counts. In some years despite heavy rainfalls crop yields are light because of the small amount of moisture stored in the soil.

There is no way yet by which the amount of rainfall for a coming season can be forecast with any degree of certainty.

Make Your Hired Man's Wages Count Through Use of Modern Machinery

The three important factors in the cost of producing crops are land, labor and capital, and the human labor factor is the only one which is higher to-day than it was fifteen years ago, a statement prepared by officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture shows. Field husbandmen, therefore, stress the importance of making the hired man's wages count by supplying him with first-class equipment so that wherever possible he may be able to do literally two days' work in one. This is where modern farm machinery comes in. Eastern Canada crops take 20 hours' labor per acre to harvest; Western Canada crops harvested with horse-drawn outfits take 11 hours' labor per acre, and harvested with the use of the new combine-harvester the labor cost is only 2.5 hours per acre.

OBITUARY

HARRY A. FINLEY.

MOUNT PLEASANT, July 26. — (Examiner Correspondence). — The death occurred on Wednesday, July 2nd of a highly respected resident of the township of Emily in the person of Harry Alexander Finley at his late residence, lot 15, concession 1, Emily.

He was the younger son of the late Alexander Finley and the late Mrs. Finley, formerly Elizabeth Jackson.

Deceased was born on July 10th, 1873 on the farm known as the Finlay homestead. It was the first farm settled in Victoria county by his grandfather, Humphrey Finley, ensign to the first battalion of Victoria militia and the militia of the province.

The late Mr. Finley had been in failing health during the past years. He was of a quiet disposition, always ready to do an act of kindness, was a member of the Church of England, also a member of the Masonic lodge No. 375, Omemee. In politics he was a staunch Conservative and up until the past month always retained an active interest in the welfare of the community.

The late Mr. Finley was unmarried and leaves to mourn his loss three sisters, Miss Lena Finley who resided with him, Mrs. John Fowler, Peterborough, Mrs. Ethel Furry, Peterborough, and one brother, William John of Emily.

The funeral took place from his late residence. The service was conducted by Rev. A. T. Weir of Omemee, assisted by Rev. E. R. James of Peterborough, a former pastor, both of whom gave messages of comfort to the bereaved.

The service was under the Masonic order and was largely attended by brother Masons. The body was laid to rest in the Emily cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Hubert Lowes, William Greig, Melville Jackson, S. Hart, Harry Bradley and Thos. McMann.

VICTOR THOMAS WRIGHT

HAVELOCK, July 26.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of the late Victor Thomas Wright, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wright, whose tragic death occurred on Saturday last, was held from the residence of his parents, on Monday afternoon, and was the most largely attended ever seen in Havelock.

Services at the Presbyterian church, were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Lennox, who returned from his vacation at Barrie, for the occasion. He was assisted by Rev. Mr. Archer of Havelock United church, and Rev. Mr. Shaw of Burnbrae. The church was packed to its utmost capacity, and many were unable to gain admittance to the edifice, and were obliged to remain standing outside, so great was the measure of sympathy extended to the parents and family of the dead boy.

Mrs. H. F. McNichol presided at the organ, and the choir of which Victor had been a most valued member, rendered suitable music throughout the service. "Nearer My God to Thee", "Safe In the Arms of Jesus" and "God Be With Us, Till We Meet Again," were some of the choral numbers.

Rev. Mr. Lennox preached the funeral sermon, and spoke words of hope and consolation to the sorrowing family. Rev. Mr. Archer and Mr. Shaw each spoke briefly, words of sympathy and consolation. Interment was made in Maple Grove, the pall-bearers being four of Victor's boy chums, Alton Thompson, Gordon Buchanan, Harry Anderson, Fred Rutherford, George Kennedy, and George Aboud.

Military representatives at the funeral were: Lieut-Col. Neilson of Westwood; Major M. J. Bygott of Campbellford; Captain Evans of Havelock; Captain E. Massey-Cook of Peterborough; Lieut. G. H. Free, Lieut. Ironside, and a number of N.C.O.'s from Campbellford.

The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and from practically every one in Havelock, as well as many others. Especially noticeable were wreaths, and sprays from "C" and "D" Company; Northumberland Regiment officers and men, Havelock-Norwood Hockey Club, Junior Institute, Havelock, Knox Church Ladies' Aid, Knox Church Choir, Knox Church Girls Class, Knox Church managers, Continuation School students, Bank of Toronto staff at Ottwaa, and a beautiful broken wheel from the boys of Havelock.

Besides his sorrowing parents, there are three sisters and four brothers, left to mourn the passing of a dearly loved youngest brother, Donald of Smith Falls, Robert of Ottawa, Douglas of Newmarket, Glen at home, Jeanette of Smith Falls, Mrs. Melville Dafoe of Havelock, and Dorothy at home. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved family.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure s weet,
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind,
But each shall seek the common weal,
The good of all mankind.

CAVAN.

Many Institutes have adopted the plan of having a Health Day, and have found the program prepared both interesting and helpful. Dr. Helen McMurchy issues the very useful little blue books and other literature which are more and more being used especially by mothers. She asks the co-operation of all Institute members in trying to make maternity safe in Ontario.

"Health in the Home" is very important, and everything possible should be done to promote it. Both our Provincial and Federal Departments of Health have useful literature in abundance just for the asking. Some schools have obtained medical inspection, and many want it; some have school nurses for their schools or counties; all need it and want it, but often the financial side proves the stumbling block in the way.

One Institute on its Health Day had the roll-call responded to by each member naming a fruit or vegetable containing vitamins A, B, C, or D that was available at that time of the year. This involves a lot of study. Another one had the roll responded to by a recipe for a winter salad. There are many ways of making a health program interesting and instructive, and every Institute should give more atention to this phase of the work.

MILLBROOK.

A "Garden Meeting" is a practical suggestion for a summer Institute gathering that comes from a western Ontario branch. Seats, of course, were on the lawn and when the business had been disposed of, as rapidly as possible, the grounds were gay with groups of well-dressed women, in their dainty summer gowns, (some of them past the three score and ten mark), as they moved about and chatted together.

Games and contests suited to the varying ages, passed the time happily, but of this particular meeting there was one feature of peculiar interest, and that was a tour of the garden and grounds the hostess having worked a wonderful transformation since her husband had purchased the farm home where the out-of-doors meeting was held.

"Weeds and burdocks flourished here when we came into possession" the hostess explained; "the change you see was of my own planning, and is the result of many hours of hard work. However, I love working with plants and vegetables, and it really hurts me to see lawns and gardens neglected; I am not posing as a 'shining example', but if any of you receive an impetus today to want to improve the grounds round your own homes I shall be glad, and will give you any information, along lines by which I have learned by experience, any time you request."

Evergreen trees, a nicely-trimmed hedge, trailing vines and flowering roses over white, lattice trellis work, and flower beds, with the modest English daisy forming a border, were included in the artistic and atractive arrangement. Terraces and lawns of velvety greenness, a summer home of rustic wood, and vine-covered, a croquet lawn, and at the foot of a white-painted set of steps a boat on the small pond to which the grounds sloped, and, too, a 'swimming-hole', were all evidences of good taste in cultivating and planning.

Round the tea tables, under the trees on the lawn near the house, the guests discussed the whole matter of landscape gardening, questioned their smiling hostess on her methods of procedure, the labor involved, the help her men folk gave, the seeds used, seasons for transplanting, etc., and afterward went to see the lovely kitchen garden whence had come the delectable strawberries they had enjoyed at supper time, as well as the green things for the salads, and where, in ordered rows, later vegetables were making fine growth. There were rows of flowers here also, and it is quite safe to say, when the members left for their respective homes, there was more than one firm resolve to improve home grounds, and to plant a tree on Arbor Day—one each year if it were found necessary.

A litle talk on "hope chests" was given recently at an Institute meeting, the origin of the name being interesting. "It was really named for the person who made the first one on the order of the girl's father, who wished to give his daughter something original, as well as beautiful, as her marriage was approaching. So he had made a carved chest, and filled it with fine linens for her future household. Thereupon Hope chests became immensely popular (one desperate person was heard to call it the "Lord knows when chest") and have remained in high favor ever since. The first one was made in Spain some hundreds of years ago, and unduobtedly the pattern and size have changed in a thousand ways since that time, but the idea has never lost popular approval.

Filling a model hope chest is an activity that some branches have undertaken, a practical lesson for the younger girl members who naturally like to have some workable ideas on the subject of what to include in its contents.

WARSAW

Our federal elections are drawing near. Politics and religion are the two forbidden subjects of discussion in Institutes, because they are the two subjects over which people most often disagree and have most bitter quarrels. They should not it seems strange that the subject over which Prince of Peace reigns, should cause quarrels, and as for politics, the sun shines, the rains fall, summer and winter, spring and autumn come, no matter which party, if any, is in power. Good harvests or poor harvests come, business fails or carries on, life and death themselves come, so why should we quarrel?

Women have the vote. It came to them in Canada after the war. As a woman's soul is her own, not her husband's brother's father's, but her own. She is accountable for it, responsible for it, and she must work out her own salvation, therefore no human person has any right to dictate to her how she must act, or what she must do in a matter of right or wrong.

If a woman considers a thing wrong, whether it actually is or not, it is wrong to her, therefore no human being has any right to correct her in her line of action. For the same reason she has no right to correct any one else in the same way. If any one, man or woman, seems set on what is actually a wrong course of action, then it is the duty of others to try to show the wrong. It does not look any too well, before the world, and results, specially if there be children, for husband and wife to belong to different denominactions. There cannot be the true union there should be in the home, where father and mother cannot be members of the same communion. If their religions are not reconcilable the marriage vows should not be made. It would seem that the wife should give in.

In the matter of voting, it would seem that each should have a right to decide for himself and neither object. There are many homes where neither really knows how the other will vote. There are homes where the wife is so dominated by her husband, that she dare not vote other than he wishes, and there are others where the man will not take the woman to the polls unless she will vote as he wishes. There are others where all go to the polls, and if driving take others who have no means of getting to the polls, simply to give each one his country's right to use his franchise as he sees fit.

When these two subjects religion and politics can be handled in the homes, then the Institute can take them and discuss them as there will be no quarrelling. The Institute puts home first, all that goes into that home to make it good in every way, is Institute work. Through the home the community, not only in an ethical way, but in a true spiritual way, must reach higher.

There is no getting away from the fact that little differences will occur in branches. Human nature sometimes comes uppermost, but those who aim to do the most good in the world will recognize that all cannot see from the same angle, and overlook little slights, even intentional ones. The unintentional ones are far more frequent and cause great pain to the giver as well as the slighted one. An Institute members wish the best interests of her home, and her community at heart, will remember that Christ said, not to forgive seven times times, but seventy times seven and that is not often necessary. The one who makes mistakes, even unintentionally, will—unto seventy times seven, endeavor to repair the error.

PAIN

or check a Cold

WHY are some women so patient with pain? Shopping with a head that throbs. Working when they ache all over. Sometimes it's hours before they take Aspirin and get relief! Most men take these tablets the moment that some sudden ache or pain threatens their comfort and so should you. Aspirin is perfectly harmless; it cannot depress the heart. The tablets stamped Bayer are always genuine Aspirin; always the same, always safe. So it isn't sensible to suffer with a headache, a cold, neuralgic pains, or anything else that these tablets relieve almost as soon as swallowed. Buy by the bottle and save money. Any drugstore has the 100-tablet size.

TRADE MARK REG. BAYER ASPIRIN

SAYS DEVICE REVIVES DEAD.

Claims of a heart specialist of Sydney, Australia, that he has perfected a portable device which restores the dead to life, is attracting the attention of scientists of Europe. The general opinion is that the claimant will have to further prove his statements by demonstrations. The invention is said to have a special needle, operated from an ordinary wall plug, which is plunged into the heart of the dead person, thereby restoring animation. The inventor declares that he brought life to a stillborn baby, which apparently had been dead for nearly 15 minutes, and that it is now living. He says that to revive adults the operation must be performed within 10 or 12 minutes after death.

Coal from the State-owned mines of Venezuela is being used by coastwise steamers, Venzuelans having turned to charcoal and wood.

FISHING CAMP IS INSTALLED

HERE FOR TWO WEEKS.

LAKEFIELD, July 26 (Examiner Staff Reporter) — Backed by the friendly shelter and seclusion of a ridge of low hills and facing east on the shores of Katchewanooka lake, midway between this village and Young's Point, is set up some twenty tents, the happy camping ground for the next two weeks of the members of Monaca (Penna.) Fishing Club.

Having been in existence for the past twenty-eight years the Monaca Club boasts the largest membership for an organization of its kind in the State of Pennsylvania.

Under Captain Elmer Smith, thirty-four members are answering the call of the wilds this year, a considerable decrease from the attendance at previous camps, which has averaged sixty or more members.

In conversation with the secretary Geo. Kay, the Examiner learned that the club members first came to Canada for their annual vacation twenty five years ago, since which time they have invariably spent several weeks under canvas in Ontario each summer.

Mr. Kay stated that for four years, Fenelon Falls was the scene of their camp while they have also been to French River, Devonshire Park, Waltham and Parker all well-known spots on the Ottawa River.

Near Lakefield

Largely through the efforts of Frank G. Stinson of the local Chamber of Commerce, with whom the tourists were in communication they were induced to come to this district once again, and without exception all express themselves as highly satisfied with the camp site and the convenient location to Lakefield from which place they obtain supplies on which they expend on an average of $100 daily.

Travelling from Monaca, an industrial town near the City of Pittsburgh, by railroad, the campers had a baggage car load of camp equipment including twenty tents, which are now neatly grouped along the banks of the Lake. They also brought along a complete set of musical instruments including saxophone, violin, cornat, clarinet and a dinky little portable harmonium, which responds in great style to the touch of one of the younger members of the party, who is something of a musician.

Large Culinery Staff

Culinery arrangements are under the capable supervision of John Canne who has four equally capable assistants, while a large dining tent seats the entire party, who do ample justice three times per day to the good fare with which the supply tent is well stocked.

Water pumped from the lake is boiled and filtered for drinking purposes and an ice box situated under the shade of one of the numerous trees insures that the butter and milk supply is kept in good condition.

The members of the club, who are all artisans employed in the glass, steel and pottery works which abound in the vicinity of Pittsburgh, intend to stay in the district for the following two weeks, which will be spent in fishing, canoing, hiking and having a general good time next to nature, and bound together by the ties of genuine brotherhood.

Mr. Kay informed the Examiner that the club owns a large Ohio motor driven skiff, which they did not bring with them finding it more convenient to hire their canoes in this locality.

The visit to the camp recently, disclosed a scene of perfect orderliness and peace, the waters of the lake being dotted with canoes from which the fishing enthusiasts were trolling. Others less industriously inclined lounged around the camp on the home made benches calmly smoking while the smoke from the camp kitchen and the delightful odour of roast pork and beans gave promise of a meal just ahead.

Floating gracefully side by side, suspended between two trees, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes added an international aspect to the scene.

In addition to the camp orchestra, there is a battery radio rigged up, which keeps the crowd in touch with Broadway or the latest news items from their native land to the south.

In greater or lesser degree all the campers are entertainers, possibly the outstanding 'card' being one known as 'Bull Montana,' a big husky good natured fellow who it is learned has a record as a globe trotter. Attired unconventionally in a bathrobe he wanders around the camp most of the day, delighting in instilling a spirit of fun and optimism.

The visit to this camp, reveals but a counterpart of the numerous other tourist camps which abound in Ontario during the summer months and pays tribute to the 'Banner Province' which has the overwhelming charm and appeal to induce the same parties to make this their happy hunting ground for so many years in succession.

What's Wrong With This 'Gloom' Picture? The Cartoonist Omitted Mrs. Howard Fallis

Mrs. Fallis told a Conservative audience at Wallaceburg that women were weeping in the streets of Peterborough because of the lack of work.

Every woman in Peterborough knows that Mrs. Fallis' aspersion on this city, which she evidently calls her home, is utterly untrue.

And the women of Peterborough have the opportunity on Monday to repudiate Mrs. Fallis by voting for J. J. Duffus and showing her that the people of Peterborough are loyal to their city, one of the outstanding industrial cities of this country.

Does Mrs. Fallis imagine that the women as well as the men do not know that there is less business depression in Canada than there is in the United States?

Business has receded only 15 per cent. from the peak of the boom years, 1928 and 1929.

It is only since May 1st that we felt the slump. Even then a block of George and Charlotte street property was bought for a big new store, but those plans are temporarily suspended.

When Mrs. Fallis talks "blue ruin" tell her the number of employees in Canadian factories has grown from 474,430 in 1922 to 658,023 in 1928.

And under the same period of Liberal Administration the production of manufactured goods in Canada increased from $2,482,000,000 to $3,769,000,000.

Nearly four billion dollars, the value of our factory products.

That is how the King government has encouraged Canadian manufacturers. The Liberal Ministers of Trade and Commerce, the Hon. T. A. Low and the Hon. James Malcolm, have made a splendid success of their Department.

There was a larger increase in the total number employed in the six years between 1922 and 1928 than in the previous thirty-two years.

These are achievements by Mackenzie King that must appeal to every man and woman who judges a government on its record.

Will you believe Mrs. Fallis, who is paid for preaching "blue ruin", or Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, vice-president of the Bank of Montreal, who wrote to The Financial Times of London a few weeks ago as follows:

> "Canada, except for the wheat situation which is slowly correcting itself, has been less affected than almost any other country by the economic and industrial crisis through which the world at large is at present passing."

The King Government has earned the support of the women of Peterborough.

It removed the duty on tea, thereby reducing the price by from 7 to 15 cents a pound.

It has removed the duty on chinaware which should be cheaper.

It passed the Old Age Pensions Act which applies to women as well as to men.

WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's ailments. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., Windsor, Ont. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

THERE is a subject on which one seldom sees anything written—I don't know whether it is considered uninteresting, or whether it never crops up in a conversation; nevertheless, we will discuss it to-day.

It is about positioning a bed for comfort and good decoration.

Some women, I know, study the position of a bed in a chamber very carefully. On this depends the arrangement of the other pieces of furniture, for the bed is by far the largest article.

When a bedroom is small, the architecture of the house may determine the position of beds in the rooms. When an architect makes the plans for the house, they must plan in each case for spaces that can accommodate beds.

Windows and doors have to be so introduced that they will not interfere with such spaces. When there is but one part of the room that will accommodate a bed then the home decorator has no choice in its position.

In rooms that are larger and most bedrooms permit of two or more places where a bed may be put, the homemaker may make a choice.

She has, of course, to consider various aspects before determining which place is best suited to the purpose. It is wise for her to change the position from time to time as will be seen.

A number of benefits are derived by doing this—one of them is that the floor coverings are then worn in different spots and makes them last longer and look better.

In summer the housewife moves the bed right close to the doors and thus benefits from all the fresh air coming in. The doors are covered with screens, keeping out the flies and mosquitoes.

In summer the bed should be so placed that it gets the best air, and this is especially true of homes situated in the city, where the summer breezes are scarcely noticed on a warm night.

Keep the bed out of a corner of the room, if this is at all possible, and put it in a spot where every breath of air can be enjoyed.

In winter the bed can be pushed into a corner and be as far from direct draughts as the size of the room permits. Then windows can be open and pure air admitted without discomfort to the sleeper.

If a large free area is desired in the room, the bed should not stand out in it any more than can be helped. Its position depends upon the part of the room that is desired free.

Usually this space is near a window. Study the room and find out what arrangement will bring about the desired effect. The room should have the furniture so balanced that the bed does not appear to be awkwardly placed.

If any person who is not very strong is to make her own bed, it is important to have it stand out from the wall, so it will not have to be pushed back and forth in order to get around it.

FIVE SPEAKERS FOR ST. PAUL'S

Will Occupy Pulpit During Six Weeks' Absence of Rev. William Allan.

OUTSIDE MINISTERS.

Of the five preachers who will occupy the pulpit of St. Paul's Presbyterian church during the six weeks' absence of the minister, the Rev. William Allan, who is on vacation, two are making their first appearance in Peterborough, while the remaining three are paying return visits.

The preacher at both services tomorrow will be the Rev. E. M. McFadden, D.D. of the New Covenant Mission, Pittsburgh, Pa. The Rev. Mr. McFadden is the General Superintendent of that mission and has labored for many years in the task of evangelizing the Jews of eastern U.S.A. In addition to his prominence in this field, the Rev. Mr. McFadden has achieved an enviable reputation on the lecture platform, his lecture, 'The Children of the Restless Feet,' being his most famous message.

On Sunday, August 3 the Rev. E. A. Thompson, B.A., of Elora, Ont., will occupy the pulpit. This is the Rev. Mr. Thompson's second engagement at St. Paul's in two years. One of the most prominent of Canada's younger clergy, he is the son of the Rev. Dr. Thompson of Hastings.

The Rev. James Cattanach of Baltimore, Md., will be the preacher on August 10. The Rev. Mr. Cattanach is the brother of Mrs. Robert Deyell, of South Monaghan and is well known and popular here, having preached at St. Paul's last summer.

On August 17 and 24 the Rev. J. F. Johnston, D.D., of Hartford, Conn., will conduct the services. The Rev. Mr. Johnstone has been the minister of the First Presbyterian church of Hartford for several years. A costly memorial tower has just been added to the edifice of this congregation as one of the fruits of the Rev. Mr. Johnstone's ministry.

The Rev. Alfred Bright of Toronto, will preach on August 31. Following his graduation from Knox College, the Rev. Mr. Bright was assistant minister for a short period at St. Paul's during the ministry of the late Dr. Torrance. Successful during a long pastorate at Sherbrooke, Que., the Rev. Mr. Bright was called two years ago to the Riverdale Presbyterian church of Toronto, where his labors have been visited with singular success. He preached at St. Paul's for several Sundays last summer.

The Rev. William Allan returns to his congregation on September 7.

PRODUCE PLENTIFUL ON LOCAL MARKET

Eggs Bring 30 Cents a Dozen and Butter 35.

There was plenty to buy on the market this morning but not much sale, although the crowd was large. The vendors downstairs were complaining of the very slow sale of their produce.

"Look at that for lettuce," said one man, "and none to buy it." It was a gorgeous large head of green lettuce that he pulled out of a pail of water and shook out in the sun.

In the basket section, eggs were priced generally at 30 cents a dozen. They were plentiful and so was butter, selling at 33 to 35 cents a pound. Spring chickens were 35 cents a pound and one woman asked 40 cents a pound for milk-fed birds.

The marketers have a whimsical taste, according to one woman whose stock of brdad beans and kohl rabi had a quick sale last week and no sale at all to-day. The large, green broad beans were 10 cents a quart and the odd-looking kohl rabi was priced at two for a nickel.

There were plenty of lovely flowers this morning, both up and downstairs, perennial sunflower with round gold faces making a beautiful bouquet with baby's breath and large white daisies; also sweet peas, gaillardia and gladioli. Two small boys had quantities of gladioli of a rose-flame color, on the open market, selling them for 25 cents a dozen. The sale was very slow.

Red raspberries sold at two pints for a quarter on the open market, shelled peas were 25 cents a quart, green apples 40 cents a peck, green peas 3 quarts for 25 cents, new potatoes 25 cents a peck, and fine-looking butter beans sold at 25 cents for eight-quart baskets.

Yorkshire pigs were $7 apiece. Little silky white Angora rabbits were 60 cents a pair.

BORDEN BACKS TORY CHIEFTAIN

States He Advocated Bennett's Fiscal Policy 25 Years Ago.

EMPIRE FIRST.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 26 (C.P.). — In a statement issued here, Sir Robert Bordon, Canada's war-time Prime Minister, defines his position in relation to the present general election issues. The statement which Sir Robert has handed the Canadian Press follows in part:

"Since retiring from public life about eight years ago, I have deliberately refrained from taking an active part in political discussion, nor did I intend to do so on this occasion. But, as my name has been dragged into the controversy by prominent supporters of the Government, and even by the Prime Minister himself, it becomes my right as well as my duty to make my position clear.

"I am whole-heartedly in accord with the fiscal policy which Mr. Bennett has eloquently proclaimed in every part of Canada. Twenty-five years ago I took substantially the same ground. The British Empire first and within the British Empire, Canada first, the preservation of our home market for our own producers, the maintenance of our industries to give employment to our people, Canada's unimpaired control over her tariff, subject within the Empire. Briefly stated, such was the policy that I advocated and to which I still adhere."

Jr., is also playing in the tournament, is nearing the half-century mark, and the heat may affect his play somewhat. But he is a veteran campaigner and has always played consistently. Manero, reputed to be a strong player in the opening rounds may crack under the stress of closing play, but such players as Farrell, Hagen, Watrous or Leo Deigel, the defending titleholder, who is four strokes behind the leader, often finish with record breaking rounds and undoubtedly the late afternoon will see a greulling finish.

In handsome Johnny Farrell wins it will be the first time he has taken the Canadian championship. Al Watrous won it in 1922. The Birmingham professional is inclined to vary in his play day by day; if he has a good day, he is difficult to conquer.

Last year Leo Diegel won the open with a 72-hole score of 274. He won it also the year before with 282; Tommy Armour won with 288 the year before.

278 Sufficient to Win

In the event of Nicol Thompson, Sr., Tony Manero, Johnny Farrell or Walter Hagen—all of whom stand at 139 or better for the 36 holes played—duplicating or surpassing their two-day's performance they would come home with 278, which should be sufficient to win. The handicap of being a few strokes behind is one which Leo Diegel, titleholder, could only overcome by shooting an excellent round, but Diegel is a surprise man and though his supporters are doubtful, he is still close watched.

CO-OPERATION ON EMPIRE ADVOCATED BY STEVENS

VANCOUVER, B.C., July 26 (C.P.) —Hon. H. H. Stevens, Conservative candidate for Vancouver Centre, emphasized his party's stand for co-operation in the British Empire, in a speech last night.

Speaking upon Canada's destiny, Mr. Stevens voiced his own and his party's ambition to become a powerful economic and commercial force within the British Empire.

That ambition could be achieved only by co-operation with the Motherland and all units of the Empire in all things, not "petty trade" alone, he warned.

HARD TIMES TURNS SHANGHAI INTO "CHICAGO OF ORIENT"

Kidnappers Don't Hesitate to Commit Murders in Plying Trade.

GET BIG RANSOMS.

By C. D. ALCOTT

SHANGHAI, July 26.—The crash of the silver market coupled with the burden imposed on the poorer classes of Chinese by almost continual warfare has brought about an amazing increase in the number and seriousness of the crimes committed daily in Shanghai.

To-day the Asiatic metropolis is living down to its nickname of the "Chicago of the Orient."

Coolies, clerks and even skilled laborers are turning into kidnappers, burglars or pick pockets. Killing is becoming so common that a day seldom passes but what one or two murder trials are in session at the Shanghai special district court.

Rich men are becoming more and more afraid to appear outside their homes after dark for fear that they will be black jacked and spirited away to be held for ransom. The old method of transporting payrolls by messenger has become too dangerous to continue while bill collectors are making it a point to start for office early in the afternoon in order to avoid the possibility of being caught in a crowd or at some lonely spot, there to be held up.

Kidnapping is still the most popular form of crime among the Chinese since it offers easier and bigger money than theft or burglary.

Firing Squad No Deterrent.

One successful abduction will provide an average sized gang of Chinese outlaws, say a dozen men, with enough money to live comfortably on the rest of their lives. The penalty, of course, is death at the hands of a firing squad and in this respect Chinese law knows no leniency. Still the kidnapping bands continue to increase, and their methods become more vicious.

The Chinese criminal is so constructed psychologically that death, even when it is met in front of a squad of riflemen, is only the means of being transported from an unhappy world to a place where life is all peace and contentment. He will eat a hearty meal, smoke a cigarette and then ride or walk as the case may be to the execution ground laughing and joking with his guards. He believes in a hereafter where even a murdered or kidnapper can be happy.

A docile person when brought before a tribunal he is a hardened and merciless individual when "out on a job." Daylight or even a crowd of several thousands is no barrier to a Chinese determined to rob a payroll or to carry off a rich man.

The Chinese kidnapper of to-day operates from a fast automobile. He waylays his man, fights it out with the police or guards if necessary and, if he wins the preliminaries, hustles his victim into the back seat of the car and then disappears in the traffic.

Fussian Guards Shot.

One of the most recent kidnappings of this sort was staged in front of a downtown Chinese restaurant. The victim, a bank manager, guarded by four Russians armed with automatics, had just stepped from his automobile with the idea of entering the cafe for lunch. Two strong arms reached out from the crowd and grabbed him by the shoulders. Another automobile had appeared on the scene, loaded with half a dozen kidnappers.

The Russian guards opened fire and within a few seconds the street was cleared of a few hundred onlookers. The kidnappers had the thoroughfare to themselves and they made the most of it.

The guards lost. Two were killed and the bank manager, in his effort to break away and run, stopped three bullets. He died the next day cheating his would-be abductors out of a possible quarter of a million dollars.

An abduction took place a few days later in the French concession. Another Chinese rich man, also a banker, was motoring home to dinner. When only a block or two from his house his machine was suddenly forced on to the curb by two speeding motorcycles. An instant later a high powered auto drew alongside and four armed men leaped out.

A guard opened fire on the kidnappers but before he could pull the trigger a second time he had stopped two bullets both of which penetrated his brain. The men who committed the crime demanded $20,000. They got it.

In other lines of crime the Chinese criminals are equally as bold. During the past few years they have resorted to the methods employed by the thugs and gangsters of other countries daylight hold-ups have become a common occurrence in Shanghai.

Pick pockets and bag snatchers are by far the most numerous of Shanghai's law breakers. In the international settlement alone a hundred or more are arrested every week while the total for the entire city runs to three and four times that number.

In comparison with other criminals there are few burglars since this type is regarded by the average Chinese as a weakling.

Holding up entire families while they are at dinner is one of the favorite ways a thug gang has of obtaining easy money. This type of robbery is almost as common as bag snatching and the day seldom passes that there are not four or five such crimes reported in the settlement alone.

The procedure generally employed is simple. The gangsters enter the house they intend robbing by the front door, gather all the inmates in one room and place them under guard while a chosen few ransack the place. On leaving the thugs fire a few shots into the air to frighten away possible pursuers and then disappear down an alley.

To the Electors of Peterborough West

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,—

In coming to you with my last appeal before the most momentous election in Canada's history, I do so on the platform of Inter-Empire Trade, as set forth by the Dunning Budget. This is not so much an election between Grits and Tories, as it is an adoption of a policy whereby we, as a part of the British Empire, will trade with this great market of almost five hundred million people, millions and millions of whom are our own race.

Mr. Bennett would just as soon trade with the United States as the British West Indies, which is part of the Empire, when he says a Canadian dollar spent in the West Indies is no better than a Canadian dollar spent in the United States, a country which has shut its doors against us.

Dr. Manion said trade was war. Would he be able to get trade for Canada within the Empire, if he negotiated in this manner? Mr. Bennett said he would blast his way to the British Market. Is this the proper way to deal with our own kith and kin in the British Isles?

I believe the policy of the King Government in its preferences to the Empire is the only manner in which we are going to be able to find an outlet for our SURPLUS PRODUCTS OF THE FARM, THE FORESTS, THE MINES, THE FISHERIES AND OUR OWN FACTORIES. Where is this surplus going to be sold unless to this great market of 490,000 people of which we are a part.

My desire to represent West Peterborough is to serve it. I have endeavored, as Government representative during the past four years, to take care of everything that came to me for attention. If I am elected, I am prepared to give two-thirds of my time to the proper service of this important riding. I believe in Peterborough, in the Dominion of Canada, and in the Empire, and our whole future is unmistakably linked up in this combination.

There never was a time in the history of elections in Peterborough, when a Conservative voter could, with a clearer conscience, vote for a Liberal Candidate and get more to his liking than if he supported the Bennett policy on this occasion.

I have endeavored, as Mr. Peck has, to keep the election in Peterborough clean, and if I am returned, as I believe I will be, I will give all I have in me, to the proper representation of this riding, and will be pleased to help every individual who may come to me, in any way that is possible. I have enjoyed the campaign throughout, and I finally kindly solicit your vote and influence in my behalf.

Yours faithfully,

J. J. DUFFUS

LIBERAL VICTORY COMMITTEE.

Crescents Defeat Cogs 6-4 in E.P.L. Fixture

VICTORS SCORE EARLY LEAD TO TAKE EASY WIN

Cogs Start Rally in Sixth But Held Down to Two Straight Runs.

HARDILL GOOD.

Clubmen Tally Two Runs in Fourth Inning Without Getting a Hit.

Crescents pulled away from the Cognawagas for second place in the E.P.L. race by defeating their rivals 6 to 4 at Exhibition Park last evening. The game never developed much interest, since the Crescents nabbed a lead of four runs in the first innings, and this seemed to take much of the heart out of the Cogs.

However, in the sixth Hardill eased up on his tosses from the mound, and the Cogs threatened to overcome the lead. They lammed Hardill for two triples and a single in that frame, but were cut short with but two runs. They had secured a pair previously on two walks, an error and a sacrifice fly. Phonse Brioux' twirling with these slight lapses, was much better than the Cogs' batters, and sent them down with but five hits.

Billingsley pitched for Fred Cripps' team, and although the long fellow had little speed he mixed his curves well.

Lead In First.

Walks to Jones and Sweetman in the first innings started the Crescents on their way. After Crary had flied out, Rooke erred on Hickey's bounder and Jones scored. A hit to left by Collins scored Sweetman and Hickey. Hardy rolled to short, but F. Jones singled and Collins crossed the plate. Heard rolled to the pitcher for the third out.

The Crescents got another in the third when Hickey tripled into centre and countered on Collins' single. They scored their other run in the fourth. Heard getting on with a walk stealing second and being pushed around on grounders to the infield by Lebarr and J. Jones. In the fifth Crary went out trying to stretch a triple into a home run.

Without a hit the Cogs ran across two runs in the fourth Billingsley walked and stole second and third. Baker whiffed, Wilso nwalked; Collins threw to second to get Wilson stealing; the throw was low and Billingsley scored. Williams followed with a sacrifice fly, sending in Wilson. In their batting rally in the sixth, Billingsley was safe on an infield hit. Baker scored him with a triple. Wilson got a life when Sweetman threw wild to first, but Hickey recovered the ball in time to throw out Baker at home, who had attempted to score on the error. Williams followed with another triple, and Wilson crossed the plate.

Thompson Retains Golf Lead

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, we bin having something fresh in the sport world with harness horse races at night. The new game is O.K. with me, Mac, although when I ain't never had no luck picking horses in broad daylight I can't expect to do much guessing at the winners under artificial light. However, the general verdict is night racing is all to the good. It's a lot more comfortable for the crowd for 1 thing, and the track is so well lit that you can easily follow the trotters all the way round the circuit.

Local baseball is drawing near the end of the preliminary schedule, Mac. In the East Peterborough loop it looks like the Cogs tossed away their chance of getting in the play-offs the other nite when they was nosed out by the Electricians after the Primeau gang had been stopped just before by Mister Brioux's Crescents. It will be the Crescents and C.G.E. for the play-offs, Mac, and the finals should produce a tidy argument that will give the fans plenty to enthuse over.

In the Lakeshore circuit, Mac, the Oshawa Arabs and the local Rays is booked for the final serious. The Port Hope and Cobourg teams is outa the winning, if they ever was in. The clash between the Rays and the lads from Oshawa should be closer than the atmosphere has been round here lately. Both has licked the other twice, and they go into the final dash with an even record. They both are well fortified with throwing strength, and altogether it oughta be a real tussle in the play-offs.

Manager Jake Beckerman's Westclockers has been riding rough shod over the opposition in the mush ball loop since the 2nd half opened. Up to Thurs., the day this bunk was writ, the Big Bens had been tossing all and sundry, winning a coupla overtime games that was pips. Their clash with Belmonts was the best of the season, while the Belmont-C.G.E. fixture Wed. was the worst. The 2 teams made enough runs for a cricket match, and if there was a mark placed everywhere a ball dropped or a error was made they wouldn't be room to play no ball games up in the Central School lot.

The political sweepstakes is Mon., Mac. Ed. Peck and Joe Duffus has been in training for 7 weeks, and with a last canter to-night, the lads is fit and well to go to the post at 9 a.m. Monday morning. It won't be long now.

Well, old-timer, vote as you like, but vote—and don't try it more than once.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

Athletics Widen Out Lead in American League to Win Two Full Games.

SENATORS LOSE OUT.

At the rate the Philadelphia Athletics are pulling away from the rest of the American League pack and the spaces between the lower positions in the standing are widening, it won't be long before the only interesting struggle left is the fight between Boston and St. Louis to keep out of last place.

The Athletics are looking better every day as they continue their triumphs over western rivals. Not only have they been slugging a great rate to pull ahead of Washington until their margin has become six full games but they have been tossing in a few extra frills that bring runs. Yesterday they surprised the Cleveland infield with a pair of triple steals and worked them to add a couple of runs to their total. In addition to this strategy the A's made 12 hits, three of them home runs, and received ten bases on balls, to win by a 14 to 1 score. It was their eleventh victory in 14 games of the current western tour.

Washington dropped further back as the Chicago White Sox came along fast in the closing innings and pulled out a 6 to 5 victory in the ninth. The Sox scored five times in the last three frames, Carl Reynolds driving in the final run with a double off Irvin Hadley. The Senators have suffered almost as many reverses as the Athletics have scored triumphs, losing 11 games and winning 7 against western opposition.

The third place New York Yankees kept pace with the league leaders, nine games behind them, by taking advantage of Detroit's seven errors to win a 14 to 7 decision. The Tigers bumped Wells for five runs in the opening inning, but their own errors and Lou Gehrig's 29th home run soon wiped out the lead.

Bitter Battle Here.

Down where the league's real struggle is going on, the St. Louis Browns came out on top by a 6 to 3 score and kept the Boston Red Sox in the cellar. Boston striving to move into seventh place, could not cope with George Blaeholder's six hit pitching and Goose Goslen's hitting. Goslen drove in four runs with a homer, a double and a single.

TONY MANERO IS SECOND IN TITLE PLAY

Veteran Ancaster Pro Shoots 71 Yesterday For Total of 137.

HAGEN IS FOURTH.

Farrell Equals Course Record and Now Ranks Third in Competition.

HAMILTON GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB, Ancaster, Ont., July 26 (By James Parsons, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—Nichol Thompson, Ancaster, veteran professional of many golfing wars, is making a serious bid for the Canadian Open crown, being defended by Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente pro., four times winner. Thompson forged to the front of the pack at the end of Thursday's opening round with a new course record score of 66, and yesterday finished the second with a total of 137, due to a very useful card of 71, one over par. He played steady and consistently throughout.

game do not expect the leader to be able to withstand the pace over the 36-hole route today. Should he falter at any of the holes there is at least six or seven experienced and noted linkmen quite capable of taking the situation in hand and with it the leadership and probably the title.

Tony Monero of Elmsford, N.Y., a post entry, who with three-quarters of the field accounted for yesterday, snatched the lead away from Johnny Farrell of Mamarnock, N.Y., and Walter Hagen, Detroit, Mich., three times winner of the British Open, with a total of 138. He finished well up with the leaders on Thursday with a 69, one under par for the lengthened course, and duplicated this consistent performance yesterday. Farrell came near creating a new course record on Friday's round but failed on a rather longish downhill putt on the home green for a birdie three and finished with a 66, which coupled with his first-round card of 71, gave him a total of 139. Hagen, displaying the form which made his name a household word amongst linksmen also carded a 69 in the second round, to give him a tie with Farrell.

Diegel finished four strokes behind the pace setter after taking a 69 on the opening day. This lead of Thompson's is not expected to create a deficit for the champion to overcome. He is noted on staging a garrison finish in title events, especially in the Dominion classes.

MONTREAL CLUB SCORES WINNING COUNTER IN 7TH

Rochester Beats Buffalo 18-11 to Strengthen International League Lead.

ORIOLES SPLIT BILL.

George Miner Holds Newark to Give Jersey City 4-1 Victory.

The Rochester Red Wings have added another half game to their already substantial lead in the International League pennant race.

The Red Wings stretched their advantage to four full games yesterday by beating Buffalo while Baltimore was dividing a double bill with Reading.

Rochester pounded out 25 hits to bury Buffalo under an 18-11 count. The Red Wings took a 10-0 lead in the first five innings but Wilson blew up in the sixth and Williams and Schoof, his successors, were pounded heavily by the Bisons. Buffalo might have won the game had the Bisons been able to find a pitcher who could stop the Red Wings clouting on the late innings. Worthington got five hits for Rochester and Rip Collins four while Martin accounted for eight runs driving in six and scoring two. Sax got five of Buffalo's 17 hits.

Win From Orioles

Reading took the first game from Baltimore 7-5, but dropped the second 12-6. The Keys' victory in the opener was the first they have registered against the Orioles all year. They have lost 14 games to the Marylanders so far. Jim Weaver apparently was on the way to a 5-2 victory in the opener when the Keys drove him out of the box in the midst of a five-run rally in the seventh. Bell went the route for Reading and held Baltimore to nine hits. Bunched hits enabled the Orioles to take the nightcap. They scored a dozen runs on as many hits off McAfee, Woolfolk and Warnecke. The Keys pounded Monte Weaver and Foster Edwards for nine hits and five runs in 3 1-3 innings but could do nothing with Luther Roy.

Montreal advanced to within two games of the third place Toronto club by beating the Leafs 5-4 in a close battle decided in the Royals' favor in the seventh inning. Montreal collected 12 hits off Joe Shaute but the former Cleveland hurler was tight in the pinches. The game was deadlocked at 3-all at the end of six innings. Toronto scored once in the seventh but Shaute could not hold off the Royals in their half of the same frame and the tying and winning runs crossed the platter.

Fine pitching by George Miner enabled Jersey City to beat Newark 4-1. Leo Mangum pitched well for Newark in the seven innings he remained on the mound but was the victim of bunched hits in the second and third innings when the Skeeters scored three of their four runs. Miner granted only seven hits and had a shutout until the Bears put across a run in the seventh.

ONE HALF GAME SPLITS LEADERS

REDS WIN OUT 7-2.

Brooklyn and Chicago, who continue to keep the National League race interesting, each won another game without trouble yesterday, and still are separated by a half game, Brooklyn leading. The Robins pounded Red Lucas hard in three innings, and accumulated enough runs to down the Cincinnati Reds 7 to 2, while Ray Moss and Fred Heimach, the latter making his first appearance for Brooklyn, held Cincinnatis batters in check. Chicago pounded Benge and Willoughby for 16 blows and gain defeated the Phillies, this time 9 to 5. It was the second straight high score game in the Philadelphia "bandbox," which was completed without a home run.

The New York Giants, who have a habit of helping others while they help themselves lent their aid to the Boston Braves and moved them into fifth place in the standing. Boston in return helped out the Giants four games ahead of the fourth place St. Louis Cardinals. Clarence Mitchell's southpaw hurling held the Pittsburgh Pirates to seven hits while New York gained a 3 to 1 victory.

'Wee Willie' Sherdel stopped his former mates with nine blows, and Boston defeated the Cards 5 to 4. A homer by Bill Terry and an error by George Grantham gave Mitchell the decision in a close duel with Larry French. The Braves used 12 hits off Flint Rhem to offset the work of Ray Blades, who drove in all four St. Louis runs.

TRUE ECONOMY is more than price deep

Total cost, not merely purchase price, determines the economy of a motor car. And so great are the ownership economies of Dodge Brothers motor cars that in final cost they actually prove less expensive than many cars lower in purchase price.

The Dodge Six and Eight-in-Line are deliberately built better than just good enough. The chassis is extra sturdy. Bearings are extra fine and extra large. Sturdy, efficient Dodge engines get the most out of fuel and oil. The safe, silent Mono-Piece Steel Bodies require no maintenance expense. The internal hydraulic brakes increase the life of tires.

Drive a Dodge Six or Eight-in-Line and learn that Dodge economy goes hand in hand with brilliant performance.

SEA-FLEA "DAREDEVILS" PARTICIPATE IN MILE TESTS AT N.Y.C. MEET

Records Recognized as Official By Canada Power Boat Association.

SIXTEEN TRIALS.

Wes Kelly Upsets His Craft "Kankajou" Before Test Begins in Class "D."

SOUTH BEACH, July 26 (By Examiner Staff Reporter).—Seven Canadian amateur speed records in outboard motorboat racing were set at South Beach, Clear Lake, yesterday afternoon in the preliminary mile trials at the opening of the National Yacht Club's great three-day sea-flea meet over the Canada Power Boat Association's official course.

The Records

"Andy" Cleland, Hamilton; Division 1, Class D, 40 m.p.h.

"Young" J. R. Ardiel, Toronto; Division 2, Class C, 40.25 m.p.h.

Bill Butler, Guelph; Division 2, Class B, 38.70 m.p.h.

J. Stacey, Oshawa; Division 1, Class B, 32.75 m.p.h.

Lou Marsh, Toronto; Division 2, Class F, 34.28 m.p.h.

When passed by the officials of the Canada Power Boat Association, under whose sanction the tests were run, these marks will be considered official Canadian records, as they were made at the first official trials to be held over a race course recognized by the Canada Power Boat Association. The course at Clear Lake, which was chained out by officers of the C.P.B.A. and is, as yet, the only official course in the Dominion. . . .

Sixteen Trials.

Sixteen trials for mile records were staged during the day in classes B, C, D and F, Divisions 1 and 2. Both divisions are amateur, pilots who have participated in 15 races or less bein eligible for Divsion 1 and other amateur pilots being eligible for Division 2.

The one-mile stretch on the course marked by a buoy in front of South Beach and a buoy on the east side of the lake, was used. Each trial consisted of two heats, a heat each way on the course, and the time on the two heat was averaged for the mile figure. A slight wind diagonally across the course caused choppiness that gave trouble during some of the trials.

Efforts to beat the records set yesterday are being made to-day by record-holders and others who made bids for records.

Johnson Sea Horse motors, constructed at the Canadian Johnson Motor Company in Peterborough, were used in the record making trials by Ballard, Cleland, J. R. Ardiel, Robert Ardiel and J. Stacey. Evenrude Motors were used by Butler in his Class B record trial and Lou Marsh in Class F, (runabout class).

Harold Ballard, who ran second in the Class B race of the Albany-New York Marathon, made his record yesterday in "Sinmac," a step hydroplane made by the Canadian Johnson Motor Company. Andy Cleland drove "Miss Penndrake." Both used Johnson "32" (four cylinder) motors.

"Young" J. R. Ardiel drove "Miss Windsor" and Robert Ardiel was at the wheel of "Leidra 5" in the Class C record trials. "Miss Guelph," powered by an Evenrude, was piloted by Bill Butler and Stacey's boat in the Class B was called "E. L. Jean." It was powered with a Johnson Sea Horse "16."

"Pick 'n' Shovel," the boat used by Lou Marsh in the Class F trial, is a Peterborough Dart Runabout built at the Peterborough Canoe Company.

Three trials other than the record-making trial of Ardiel were run in Division 2, Class C. Kitchener Russel of Toronto almost equaled Ardiel's mark with a speed of 39.56 in "Tonsilitis" and Jerry Mordaunt drove "Miss Oakville" at 37.01 miles per hour. Harry Slemin of Toronto made 36.75 miles per hour driving "Lady Luck."

Ballard made an unsuccessful bid for a record in Class B when he drove "Torcan's Pup" at 33.90 miles per hour. Bert. Clark of Toronto made a mark of 31.37 in "Passing By" in a Class B effort and in the "Flying Kid" Alex McKenzie of Toronto made 31.*0. Trying in Division 1, Class C, Jimmy Moffat of Toronto made 35.02 miles per hour.

Wes. Kelly of Peterborough, was slated for a trial in Class D but upset in his craft "Kinkajou" before the trial began. Bob Morrison of Hamilton, failed in a bid for the Division 1, Class C record when his motor conked out in the second heat. He was using "Baby Zip."

Timers at the trials were Lorne Ardiel of Oshawa, president of the Canada Power Boat Association; Charles Turnbull, vice-president of the Association, and "Tommy" McClure, secretary.

Thirty-five boats are scheduled to take part in the five and ten miles competitions all classes, Division 1 and 2, this afternoon and to-night. Many trophies are at stake. Drivers with their boats have gathered many points in the Province.

BRINTON WINS LEAGUE POINTS FROM CALEYS

BRINTON 2, SCOTS 1.

Cook Equalizes on Smart Effort —Hanson Scores Winning Goal Within a Minute.

The Caledonians lost by the odd goal to the Brinton Athletic last evening in a soccer league game on King Edward Park, before a good attendance of spectators. It was one on the best exhibitions of the code seen for a long time. Cook, at inside right, gave a brilliant display of the finer touches that brought applause from the fans. The Scots equalized in the second half, but Hanson got the deciding goal within the next minute. The Brinton gained two valuable points.

First Half.

The Scots took advantage of the spin of the coin which compelled the Brinton to face the sun in the west. Both goals went under a siege in the early stages, with fruitless flag kicks going wide of the mark. After ten minutes' play, Boon evaded the full backs on the run and travelled into the corner where he sent across a perfect centre to the other wing. Hanson met the ball with a first-timer to leave James in a proper position to beat the custodian at close range. Exchanges continued even until McCracken broke away on the Scots' right along with Cook who beat three men in succession and finally touched it over to his left foot that sent a rising shot just over the cross bar. The Brinton replied with a better understanding thereafter and settled down to their regular game. They kept up a continual barrage of shots going into the Scots' goal where Ward held everything ranged at him. While occasional raids by the Scots never materialized after they introduced combination down the field. Although McCracken's shot from the touch line was touched over the bar in the nick of time by Curtis. Play ran from end to end at a rapid pace with the half-backs counteracting every move to introduce combination play. A smart shot by Hotson just before the whistle sounded dropped in below the cross-bar where Ward grabbed with two hands still kept the count at one goal to nothing in favor of Brinton Athletic.

Second Half.

The second moiety opened up with the players swinging the ball from wing to wing. This style of play suited Hanson on the left wing who beat along the goal line to finish with a timely centre that James headed closely past. He returned immediately to work around the defence with the ball at his toe and finished with a low grounder the Scots custodian punted clear. Open tactics by the respective forwards held the ball in the goal area where the custodians stood the test of the gruelling attacks, sometimes ending up in a scrimmage in front of goal. Twice Coyle beat the defence on the run, then passed out to his team-mates to score but they were too far back to accept the openings. A few minutes later, James took advantage of the miskick by Boggie in front of goal. He caught the ball with his toe that sent a lightning drive against the upright. Emery a centre-half got the better of the argument against Westwood in midfield, carried the attack into his forward line. Cook accepted the pass to feint a shot, but caught Curtis cold with an oblique shot into the far corner of the net. Quick as a flash the Brinton got the tally back when Hanson travelled along the wing, leaving the opposition behind and finally tested Ward with a low grounder. The goalkeeper saving but he expected an offside ruling when the Brinton left-winger sent in a return shot. To lose a game after equalizing seemed to add new life into the Scots. They endeavored to even up the count again, but time came to the aid of the Brinton seven, while the Caley's front rank hovered inside the goal area. Brinton Athletic 3, Caledonians 1.

Give Canada A Chance

The Conservative Leader

HON. R. B. BENNETT
CANADA'S NEXT PREMIER

THE CONSERVATIVE POLICY

A special session of Parliament to deal immediately with the question of unemployment. .

A tariff policy that will protect the job of the Canadian worker and the home market of the Canadian farmer.

A sensible Empire trade policy based on reciprocal preferences that will be mutually advantageous.

A national old age pension system that will relieve the provinces and the municipalities of their present burden.

A national transcontinental highway.

The construction of the St. Lawrence waterway.

DO YOUR PART TO GIVE CANADA A CHANCE.

Turn out on Monday and vote for E. A. Peck, the Conservative candidate and help elect a government that believes that the FIRST DUTY OF A CANADIAN GOVERNMENT IS TO LOOK AFTER THE INTERESTS OF CANADIANS.

When unemployment is causing suffering and distress, when agriculture is depressed and business dull, the tonic effect of a new administration that will face the situation whole-heartedly and Canadian-mindedly is the only thing that will save the situation.

The Conservative Candidate

E. A. PECK
Conservative Candidate

And because they realize that fact scores of former supporters of the King government in this riding have decided that this time they are going to cast a vote for themselves and for their own interests.

They are not writing letters to the newspapers about it as some publicity-seeking people have done but they will do something more effective than letter-writing.

They will go out to the polling booth on Monday and mark a ballot for E. A. Peck, the candidate who stands for the Progressive, patriotic and business-like policy of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Canada's next premier.

CANADA NEEDS A CHANGE

This administration that seems more concerned about looking after the welfare of New Zealand farmers than it does about the interest of Canadian agriculturalists and to worry more about putting into effect a policy that will give work to people living outside of Canada than it is to find jobs for the Canadian army of the unemployed IS THROUGH.

Canada has decided to give Hon. R. B. BENNETT a chance to put his Canadian policy into force for the benefit of the people of this country.

West Peterborough will help in that change by giving E. A. PECK, CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE. A record majority.

VOTE FOR PECK

POLITICIANS USED 508,500 WORDS IN PETERBOROUGH WEST CAMPAIGN

Candidates Have Covered 1,014 Miles Going to Meetings.

113 HOURS OF ORATORY.

Voters of the riding of Peterborough West have listened to more than half a million words of election speeches during the month's campaign just completed, according to The Examiner Office Hound in an interview this morning.

"Believe it or not," declared the Office Hound, "the exact number of words issued from the public platform of Joe Duffus and Ed Peck will have reached the total of 508,500 when the talking stops at twelve o'clock to-night."

No mere supposition forms the basis for the Office Hound's figures. His calculations, which he claims have occupied his attention for the past two days and three nights, have been carried on with the utmost mathematical exactness.

Of this 508,500 Mr. Duffus and his speakers were responsible for the major share—315,000 words, to be exact. The remaining 193,500 words were piled up by Mr. Peck and his cohorts.

Duffus Leads in Meetings.

J. J. Duffus held no fewer than 24 meetings among his rural constituents, while E. A. Peck held 14. The farthest point in the riding reached by either candidate was Mount Irwin in the Township of Galway, a distance of 52 miles from Peterborough. Mr. Peck opened his stump campaign there June 30, while Nogie's Creek heard Mr. Duffus's opening fire on June 27.

The total distance which our Office Hound figures was covered by the candidates in their search for votes among the rural citizens amounts to 1014 miles.

"This is a conservative estimate," remarked the Office Hound modestly,".....'conservative' with a small c."

The wheels of the motor car bearing Mr. Duffus about the country side traversed 594 miles of road—most of it narrow, country road; much of it rough. Mr. Peck's car carried him 420 miles.

Twenty-five miles per hour is a good average for travel on country roads, according to the Office Hound, and this average would mean that the rival standard-bearers in this riding spent forty and a half hours and a certain number of seconds on the road.

Stenographers claim that, making generous allowance for pauses and interruptions, 75 words a minute is a safe estimate of the average speed of the political speaker.

Now, in addition to the country meetings, the Office Hound points out that Mr. Duffus held eight rallies in his Committee Rooms here, one garden party, and three big mass meetings; while Mr. Peck held eight Committee Room rallies and one big mass meeting. Taking two hours as the average length of the rural meetings, an hour and a half for the city rallies, an hour of speaking for the garden party, and three hours for each of the mass meetings, this would mean that a total of 113 hours were absorbed in oration.

113 Hours A Minute.

At 75 words a minute, 113 hours—or 6780 minutes—represents a production total of 508,500 words.

If laid end-to-end this ought to reach from here to somewhere—probably to the Valhalla for departed spellbinders.

There are 245 ridings in the Dominion of Canada. If the riding of Peterborough West were taken as an average for the whole country in this campaign, the total flow of political verbage at this rate would amount to the staggering figure of 124,582,500 words.

"And if that isn't a record for something or other, I'm a pound of New Zealand butter," said the Office Hound.

The difficulty arises when it is remembered that in many ridings there are three-cornered, four-cornered, and even five-cornered fights. If half of the above figure is taken and added to the total, the Office Hound asserted, a fairer idea of the situation will be formed. And this gives a total of 186,873,250 words.

"Think of it!" panted the Office Hound. "One hundred and eighty-six million, eight hundred and seventy-three thousand, two hundred and fifty words! And not a soul out of ten million Canadians willing to hazard a guess as to how many of them, when laid end-to-end, meant anything!"

15 Words Too Low?

But the Office Hound hastened to dig up a fresh difficulty. Seventy-five words a minute may be thought to be too low an average. One stenographer claims that Premier King in his Peterborough speech—"two hours and ten minutes, a record for stump speaking"—was travelling at a rate of 175 words a minute at the end of his address. Mrs. Fallis's rate is 110 words per minute.

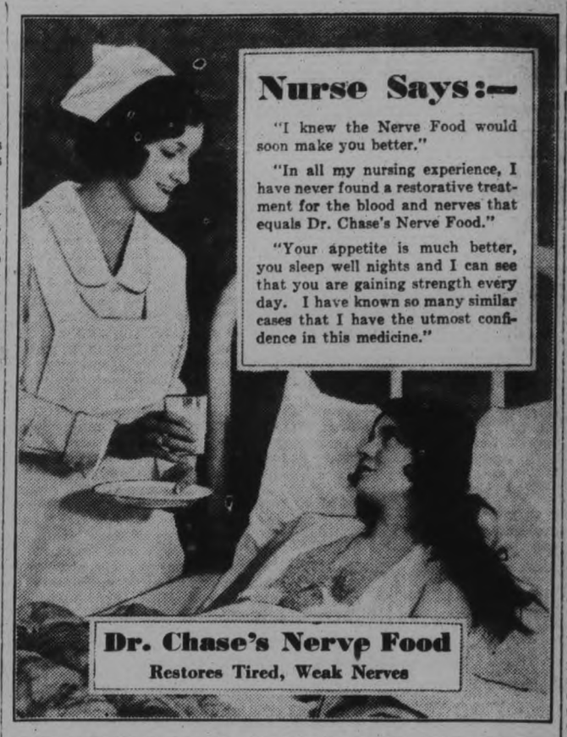
If 100 words a minute had been taken as the average, instead of 75, West Peterborough's total would have reached 678,000 words. And Canada's total, on the one-and-a-half basis, would arrive at the breathless and sobering figure of 249,165,000 words.

And the statistician who can figure what this represents in liquid refreshment and throat-lozenges is a better mathematician than the Office Hound by a long shot!

"No one—not even yours truly,—" growled the Office Hound, "will be willing to guess what the lady candidates will do to these figures."

REJUVENATION IN COURT.

Whether old age is an illness and should a company in which a man is insured against illness pay the cost of a rejuvenation operation, are questions before a Berlin, Germany, court. A doctor, in the sixties, has sued a company because it refused to pay the fee charged for a Steinach operation performed by Dr. Schmidt. The operation is said to have improved the patient's condition. Council for the complainant argued that insurance companies paid for the treatment of sclerosis or hardening of the arteries, which is a malady of old age, and claimed that as the rejuvenation operation had restored the patient's ability to carry on his profession the company was liable to pay. The court reserved its decision.



COUNCIL VIEWS SEWAGE PLANTS

Work on Local Plant Will Be Proceeded With Very Cautiously.

FOUND NOT SATISFACTORY

Having thoroughly inspected two modern sewage disposal plants in Toronto yesterday, members of Peterborough's City Council returned home convinced in the opinion that work on the ordered addition to the local plant should be proceeded with slowly and with great caution.

The Provincial Department of Health months ago issued the local Council a mandatory order that digestive tanks and beds must be added to the Peterborough sewage disposal plant.

The Council has delayed the work on the addition to allow time to learn the success or failure of newly constructed plants in Toronto. Yesterday members of the Council made a special trip to study the plants at North Toronto and in York Township.

Neither of these plants was found to be giving satisfaction. Foul odors were pervading the atmosphere around the plants for wide areas.

It was admitted by several of the foremost sanitary engineers in the province, who accompanied the Council on the tour of inspection, that both plants were in experimental stages and it is not fully known yet whether they will prove satisfactory.

At the North Toronto plant a system of digestion tanks and drying beds have been installed, and at the plant in York Township a filter system is being used. Both system have been installed at great expense.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

RIGHTS OF POWER FOR CANADA ONLY SAYS FERGUSON

Ontario Premier Will Not Have King Divide it With U. S.

QUEBEC BACKS ONTARIO.

North York Liberal Circular Opposes its Leader's Seaway Plan.

STRATFORD, Ont., July 26 (By Frank Flaherty C.P. Staff Correspondent). — Delivering a further challenge to Premier King to state his policy on the St. Lawrence Waterway scheme Premier G. Howard Ferguson said the provinces of Ontario and Quebec stood "shoulder to shoulder" in opposition to any infringement of provincial rights to water power. Mr. Ferguson was commenting on Mr. King's statement on Thursday that he would put a measure for the development of the St. Lawrence Waterway through Parliament.

"He says he is going to pass an Act" said Premier Ferguson. "Let him tell us what his scheme is. Is he going to divide the sovereignty of the Canadian section of the St. Lawrence with the United States? For my part I am determined to keep the control of Canadian waterway in Canada."

The Dominion Government the Ontario Premier charged wanted to confiscate the power right of the Provinces and make the power pay for the navigation development.

Taschereau Stands in Way.

"Mr. Taschereau stands in the way of that" he said. "Mr. Taschereau, representing the Province of Quebec, stands side by side with me, representing the Province of Ontario, in defending the water power assets of the provinces. Is Mr. King going to override his friend Taschereau in Quebec? If he tries, he is going to hear something from Mr. Taschereau."

In North York, Mr. Ferguson said, the Liberal candidate, Colonel W. P. Mulock, had put out a circular opposing the development of the St. Lawrence as proposed by Premier King. This, he said, showed that the Liberal Party did not know where it stood on the question, that there was no unanimity, and no considered policy among Liberal leaders.

Besides his meeting at Stratford, in the riding of North Perth, Mr. Ferguson spoke at Brodhagen, in South Perth. At both meetings he was supported by speeches from the Hon. J. D. Monteith, the Provincial Treasurer for Ontario.

Your Prosperity to be Settled on July 28th

The affairs of the Dominion are the affairs of every voter. When every Canadian finds profitable employment Canada makes progress. But employment is largely a matter of home markets and foreign markets for what Canadians produce. Two policies are being advanced—one must be chosen. On the choice may depend the comfort and prosperity of yourself and family during the next four years at least. Hear both policies explained over the radio by the men who are to direct the affairs of your country. To hear these speeches distinctly and to sense the personality of the speaker, have your radio put in A-1 condition. Replace any tubes that have served their usefulness with—

The British Government is holding up any further trade agreements with the Argentine until the result of Canada's election is known. If the Canadian people endorse the Dunning Budget by electing Liberal candidates by huge majorities it will help Canada to market her wheat crop in Great Britain.

Mr. Stanley Baldwin said, speaking in Toronto in 1927: "I defy anyone to find two statesmen who can work together better for the good of the British Empire than Mr. Mackenzie King and myself."

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 21 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The morning after the Dum-Dum, the tribe started slowly back through the forest toward the coast. The body of Tublat lay where it had fallen, for the people of Kerchak do not eat their own dead. The march was but a leisurely search for food. Once old Sabor crossed their path.

This sent them scurrying to the safety of the higher branches. Tarzan sat directly above the lioness—and hurled a pineapple at their ancient enemy. Into his mind a great plan sprung. He had killed the fierce Tublat; now he would track down the crafty Sabor and slay her likewise!

At the bottom of his little English heart beat the great desire to cover his nakedness with clothes. He had learned from his picture books that all MEN were so covered, while APES and every other living thing went naked. So he desired the skin of Sabor, the lioness.

On this day he had other things to attract his attention. Suddenly it became as midnight. Faintly came a low, sad moaning. The great trees bent. Vivid and blinding lightning flashed from the whirling, inkly clouds above. Roaring thunder belched forth its fearsome challenge. The deluge came—pandemonium broke loose!

The tribes huddled in shivering fear from the cold rain at the bases of great trees. For hours it raged—ending suddenly. To Tarzan came a dawning light to explain the mystery of clothes. How snug he'd have been beneath Sabor's heavy coat! So was added a further incentive.

TRUTH VERSUS ERROR

Fallen, beguiled, blinded, and deceived man, in the near future will be disillusioned, and see that the Satanic - inherent-human-immortality-idea has been and is an abominable lie. The millions who have died, back along the centuries and in our day, as the victims of man's ambition and greed, and in the name of righteousness, is to our minds, an overwhelming thought; and yet for each individual the suffering was comparatively short.. All this cruelty, suffering, and death is put into the shade by that awful preposterous proposition, that the time now is and will be forever, when many, many millions of human beings will be subject to conscious horrible agony, eternal in duration. Preachers have for centuries propagated this lie, by voice, pen, pictures, and poetry, and have called it the gospel (good tidings of great joy). The time is coming on, when men and women shall be undeceived; all shall know Jehovah God in his real character. Then sorrow, crying, pain, and death shall flee away.

—M. T. BUTCHER.

OBITUARY

MRS. ANDREW KNIEWASSER.

HAVELOCK, July 26 (Examiner Correspondence).—The funeral of Mrs. Andrew Kniewasser, whose death occurred at Ottawa recently was held from the United Church, Havelock, to Maple Grove Cemetery, and was largely attended.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Ann Gunby, was a former resident of Havelock and was most highly respected by a large circle of friends here. She was a lifelong member of the Methodist Church, latterly the United Church, and prominent in all church activities.

The Rev. Mr. Archer, of the United Church, Havelock, conducted the service at the church and graveside. Her sorrowing husband, her daughter, Mrs. Crossman, and her son, Dr. Vernon Kniewasser, all of Ottawa, were present at the funeral, as were also Mr. Crossman and his brother, Mr. Royal Crossman, and wife, all of Cleveland, Ohio. Her two brothers, Messrs. Freeman and Walter Gunby, of Nelson township, Halton county.

HAS FAITH IN CITY'S FUTURE

Home Furnishing Co. Erects Spacious Two-Storey Addition.

It is encouraging to note the confidence in the future of Peterborough displayed by Harry Florence, head of the Home Furniture Co. by a recent very considerable extension to his store on Charlotte street. A spacious two-story building to the east and in the rear of Asta Bros. has just been finished, providing over 3,000 feet of show floor, to allow for housing the larger stock this firmly established business requires to carry even in these days of trade depression. The downstairs room of this bright and cheerful addition is devoted to the display of popular grades of living-room furniture, including rugs, while upstairs one finds other furnishings, dominated by summer furniture such as reed and fibre sets, veranda and lawn chairs, etc.

The formal opening of this new annex to-day comes at an opportune time to accommodate the large shipment of lovely Chesterfield suites purchased for the Home Furnishing Co's annual August sale which opened this morning to continue all next month. And the public are cordially invited to drop in and see these new furniture showrooms that are a credit to both the company and to Peterborough city. It is a real pleasure to record the progress of any local business firm, and The Examiner extends congratulations to Mr. Florence, who evidently visualizes a bright future ahead for Peterborough, otherwise he would have been more conservative in his investment. In any event, his optimistic attitude is worthy of emulation by all Canadians, for nothing is gained by crying "blue ruin."

The values at this August sale are unusually attractive, while exceptionally easy terms will aid many a housewife to buy her house furnishing needs during a period when ready cash is none too plentiful.

And remembrance silently borne.

1. Why cannot Mr. Peck tell why he brought the impostor Fester, discredited and repudiated by the Labour Unions, to Peterborough?
2. Why does Mr. Peck refuse to explain why he voted against the Market Gardeners' interests, when he refused to support the King Government's tariff against American vegetables and fruits?
3. Why does Mr. Peck refuse to answer why he opposed a duty of 4c per pound against New Zealand butter and 6c per pound against American butter?
4. Why does Mr. Peck refuse to help the poultrymen when the King Government has raised the countervailing duty against American eggs to the extent of 30%?
5. Why Mr. Peck opposes the Australian Treaty which helped the William Hamilton Company and the Canadian General Electric Company of this City?
6. Mr Peck is afraid to answer the questions I have asked him, and is skulking behind ramparts of New Zealand butter, when his own Government allowed millions of pounds of oleomargarine to be made and imported by the packers who are now supporting Mr. Peck and his party.

Attempting to Elude Police Man Is Killed

ASLEEP ON TRACK BRUCE MAHAFFEY KILLED BY TRAIN

Young Man is Believed to Have Been Waiting to Catch Train.

ATTEMPTED THEFT.

Was Attempting to Elude the Police By Escaping From City.

While lying asleep between the rails of the C.N.R. track just north of Jackson Park, Bruce Mahaffey, 26, of 492 Cambridge Street, was killed at 3.45 on Sunday morning when run over by a freight train. Sleep apparently fastened on the young man as he sat on the track waiting to catch a freight train to Lindsay.

Attempted to Take $2.00

Early Saturday evening Mahaffey had walked into the little shoe-repair shop of Alex Pepe, near the corner of Hunter and Aylmer streets and attempted to steal money. While talking with Mr. Pepe, he reached around the counter, opened the till and snatched out two one dollar bills. He then bolted out the door with the shoe man in hot pursuit...

Running past the office door of W. T. Rogers, veterinary surgeon money haffey tossed the stolen money into the doorway. Mr. Pepe retrieved the money and continued the chase up Hunter street to Selkirk and Elliott's car show rooms. There he lost sight of Mahaffey, who ducked down a lane behind the old Oriental building.

Eluded Police Search

Having eluded the police search, Mahaffey went to his home about 1 o'clock Sunday morning. He was advised that the police were looking for him and had visited the house. Against the protests of his mother and brother he decided to leave the city immediately.

He made up a small lunch and set out, declaring that he was going to Lindsay. It is thought that he walked out the track and then sat down to rest in the hope that he might catch a passing freight. Time passed, and lying between the rails, he fell asleep.

The place where he lay was just around the first bend north of Jackson Park, at the beginning of an up-grade in the rail-bed, a most favorable spot to catch a train.

Coming From Lindsay

About 345 a.m. a freight from Lindsay drawn by two engines rolled rapidly down the grade. The train's searchlight stabbed the night, showing the glistening rails ahead. The circle of light picked out the out-stretched body of the man lying between the rails. Peering ahead from the cab of the first engine, Engineer Wm. Check, of Lindsay, saw the body but too late to stop his train.

Mahaffey's body was cut and mangled almost beyond recognition. Investigating the accident, Provincial constable Harry Thompson found that the unfortunate young man was wearing two pair of trousers, carried a spare coat and had a safety razor in his pocket. This further strengthens the opinion that he was bound for Lindsay and that sleep was responsible for his death.

An inquest will be held.

CRASH INJURIES FATAL.

OTTAWA, July 28. (C.P.) — Injured on Saturday when his automobile crashed into a tree on the Cyrville Road, William Brady of Detroit, died early to-day in hospital here.

Brantford Facing Meningitis Scare

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 28 (C.P.)—After consultation with Mayor Smith, Alderman Hampel, chairman of the Board of Health, and with the Provincial Health authorities, Dr. W. L. Hutton, Medical Officer of Health, has ordered the closing of the civic and Y.M.C.A. swimming pools as a preventive measure against the spread of epidemic of cerebro-spinal meningitis. Another case of the disease was reported from the centre of the city, and the patient, a boy, like other cases, had been swimming in the "Y" pool.

Notorious Chinese Killer Captured

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 28.—Wong Sam, Newark Chinese, blamed by police for half a dozen Tong killings, was arrested in a lower East Side grocery to-day and jailed on a homicide charge in connection with the slaying of Hong Wa Hong on June 9.

Hong, President of the Chinese Peace Society, was shot in a Chinese Bowery theatre. Sam was identified as the slayer on the night of the killing. He escaped life imprisonment on a murder charge in Minneapolis in 1925 when his sentence was set aside on appeal, police said.

VOTERS SLOW IN GOING TO POLLS CARS VERY BUSY

Heat and Weekly Wash Show Morning Vote is Not Heavy.

CANDIDATES OPTIMISTIC.

Business Almost at Standstill as Canadians Go to Polls.

Heat and the weekly wash combined this morning to keep many Peterborough voters away from the polling booths. But after 2 o'clock this afternoon election activity became more brisk and there was every prospect of a very fair vote being cast.

The streets presented a busy scene as cars speeded to the polling stations carrying their loads of women voters. Both parties were using more cars than in any previous election, it being wisely thought that many voters would remain at home rather than walk to the polls in the heat.

Candidates were optimistic, the heat seemingly having no effect on their ardour. It was evident that Both candidates were optimistic, the thought that their speech-making was over and that it now rested solely with the electors.

"Yes, everything is going fine here," said Mr. Peck at his committee rooms. "The vote has been just fair this morning, but I am very hopeful." He stated that he had cast his ballot at Henry Crane's house fifteen minutes after the polls had opened this morning. Asked if he was the first to vote at that station, he replied, "No, there were several there before me"

Duffus Optimistic.

Mr. Duffus was every bit as optimistic as his opponent and his carefree laugh sounded cheerily as ever. "Reports indicate that the vote is getting out nicely, but we all expect that there will be a bigger rush his afternoon. We have more cars offered us than we can use and everyone is working hard."

Mr. Duffus went out at 1.45 to

EXPECT RECORD VOTE IN ONTARIO TO DECIDE ISSUE

Greatest Battle Ground in Province in Western Section.

THOROUGH CAMPAIGN.

More Women and Fewer Independents Running Than Ever Before.

(By J. F. Sanderson C. P. Staff Writer)

TORONTO, Ont., July 28. (C.P.)—As a climax to weeks of arduous and intensive electioneering on the part of political workers in every part of the Province, the citizens of Ontario will be the deciding factor in the election and that either the present Government will be maintained in office or overthrown by the aggregate vote from this Province, their work has been more thorough than in any election for many years.

That a record vote will be cast by Ontario seems assured. Generally, weather conditions to-day are good but local thunderstorms are in order as a relief from three days of intense heat.

Hot Contest in West

Possibly the greatest battle ground in Ontario is in the western section where the Liberal Government in 1926 received the largest number of its supporters. Ridings like the Oxfords, the Perths, the Hurons and the Greys—these are the principal battle grounds to-day. Also, in the northern constituencies where the present Government received much support ,the battle has been keen and promises to be exciting when the ballots are counted to-day. Of course, no riding has been left alone by party workers because in this election, more so than in any recent one, the result promises to be close. Every vote counts and no stone has been left unturned in an effort to throw each and every riding in the desired direction.

Ontario is divided into 82 Federal ridings. For these seats, there are 175 aspirants. In all but nine constituencies, straight fights between Conservatives and Liberals will be made. There are two four-cornered contests in Lanark and Toronto west centre. In seven ridings, there are three candidates running—Carlton, Fort William, Hamilton east, Lambton east, Nippissing, Northumberland and Toronto south.

More Women Running

There are more women running in this election than ever before. Also, there are fewer Independents than ordinarily. The once-powerful United Farmers political party has dwindled until only one candidate represents it to-day, Miss Agnes MacPhail, who is contesting her old riding of South-East Grey which she has held since 1921, making her Canada's only woman member of the House of Commons. There are four

BABY JUGGLING LEADS FAMILIES INTO LAW ACTION

Watkins' Attorney Seeking Writ of Habeas Corpus to Get Baby.

DECIDE IN COURT.

$100,000 Damage Action Brought Against Englewood Hospital.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 28.—(C.P.)—The Watkins-Bamberger baby tangle which has been bounced from the laps of obstetrics, Department of Health finger print experts, bone, blood and baby specialists, a maternal mass meeting and even the law, cradled to-day in he church. Still it is not at rest.

The infant in the possession of the Charles Bamberger was baptized George Edward Bamberger at the Church of Our Lady of Solace yesterday.

The William Watkins, who are Presbyterians and who believe the baby baptized a Bamberger is really their own offspring to-day sought the advice of a clergyman of their own faith with a view to having the child in their possession baptized without application of a name.

The Watkins' attorney, Barratt O'Hara, was getting ready to ask a writ of habeas corpus to compel the Bambergers to produce their baby in court and show cause why they should not surrender it. In such an action, it was explained, the matter would be placed before the court which would make final decision as to whom the infant belongs.

The attorney also was instructed to bring suit for $100,000 damages against the Englewood Hospital where the Bamberger and Watkins babies were born June 30. Bamberger, on the other hand, has announced that everything is settled, that he is satisfied he now has his own infant and that no legislation of any kind is contemplated

Aged Lady Finds Name Off Lists

Ninety years old—and her name wasn't on the list. Half a century back, it wouldn't have mattered to Mrs. Joseph Ayotte whether she voted or not. But this morning she was a badly disappointed woman.

Mrs. Ayotte lives at 565 Bethune street. Donning a sunbonnett with "blue ribbons on it" exactly like the famed lady of the song, she was driven to the polls this morning. And she wasn't on the list.

UNKNOWN MAN IS FOUND ON TRACKS

Victim Believed to Have Fallen Off Fast Express Wolverine.

INQUEST AT WELLAND.

WELLAND, Ont., July 28. — The body of an unidentified man was picked up about midnight last night on the tracks of the Michigan Central Railroad, about three miles east of Welland. It was removed to the undertaking parlors at Welland on orders of Coroner Allison, who had been called to the scene and who late to-day opened an inquest, the jury viewing the remains. It is stated that the man had been a passenger on the fast express, the Wolverne, which passed through Welland about seventy miles an hour at 9.39 Standard time. Whether the man fell off the train or whether he had jumped off the fast travelling express, has not been determined.

While taking a course of instruction for military guides, Lieuts. Klammer and Schadmann of the Austrian army were killed recently in falls from the Zuckerhueti in the Schubai Alps.

ALL SIGNS POINT TO BIGGEST POLL EVER RECORDED

Many Additions to Voters' Lists Under New System of Enumeration.

DOMINION TOTAL 5,000,000.

Ontario With Its 82 Seats Viewed as Prize of Lot.

TORONTO, Ont., July 28 (By George Hambleton C. P. Staff Correspondent).—Canada went early to the polls. From every province comes word of strenuous campaigning to the last minute, and to-day all organizations are working to the uttermost to bring their supporters to the ballot box. In the nine Toronto ridings alone 5,000 Conservative workers are out to garner in the vote. They have a thousand automobiles. All over the Dominion the largest poll ever recorded is confidently predicted.

Bigger Voters' Lists

The new system of urban enumeration has resulted in large additions to the voters' lists. Under the old system, repeats were common. Although in some cases the number of names actually on the electoral lists was greater than it is under the new system, the total of those entitled to vote was considerably less. Western Provinces have 120,000 more names on their lists than they had in 1926. Vancouver ridings show an increase of 43,000 names. But with the new enumeration, errors in copying have resulted in a number of names being omitted. By an oversight, the amended Dominion Elections Act makes provision for rectification of printers' errors only. But where the two candidates consent, a certificate or vote is granted.

Total names on to-day's voting lists are estimated at five millions, in 1926. In 1926, the number on the lists was 4,665,381. Actual votes cast numbered 3,273,062.

Ontario Key to Situation

Of all Provinces, results from Ontario will be awaited with greatest eagerness. Ontario with its 82 seats holds out a tempting prize. It was in Ontario that the two Federal leaders elected to make their final appeal. In Ontario 73 members of the last House are seeking re-election. They include four Cabinet Ministers and six former members of Conservative administrations.

And, next to Ontario as a key Province, the political "expert" is apt to rank Saskatchewan. The Prairie Provinces, in the present elections, face an unusual number of three-cornered fights. In Saskatchewan a new Farmer party is in the field with nine candidates, two of them women.

AFTER A LONG NIGHT SEARCH BOY IS FOUND SLEEPING IN MOW

Harvey Township Chap Left Last Evening in Search of Cows.

FAILED TO RETURN.

GANNON'S NARROWS, July 28 (Examiner Correspondence). — All through the night until daybreak this morning the men and boys of this district were engaged in searching for Carman Chase, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chase of Harvey, who disappeared early on Sunday evening. At 5 o'clock this morning the little lad was found sleeping blissfully in the hay mow, all unaware of the anxiety he had caused.

The lad went out yesterday evening to find the cows, but did not return. As darkness fell his parents became anxious. 'Phone calls throughout the district failed to bring news of him. A search was organized in which over fifty men joined. It was feared that he might have fallen in the river and the men stumbled through underbrush and into the water in their search.

The buildings had been first searched, but this morning they were again visited and the fair-haired youngster was found curled up on some hay. He said that after getting the cows he wandered in the the loft to play. "I must have fallen asleep," he said innocently.

Election Returns at The Examiner To Be Most Complete in Paper's History

For the residents of Peterborough and district The Examiner has completed the best arrangements in the paper's history for receiving the election returns. Canadian Press, of which The Examiner is a member, has arranged to collect the returns in every constituency in the Dominion, with Toronto being the headquarters. To the Toronto office The Examiner will be connected by two wires. One wire will carry the returns over the printer circuit, which will lay them down in The Examiner office a few moments after they are received in Toronto. The second wire will be operated by a Morse operator, who will also receive returns and file out those of Peterborough West and Hastings-Peterborough. Telephone arrangements also have not been forgotten for those who are unable to come down town and hear the returns announced from in front of The Examiner. Six operators will give those who 'phone the most complete returns possible. Just ask for 1600. Two extras and possibly three will be printed and sold on the streets. The first will come off the press as soon as the Peterborough results are compiled, with the others following later.

THOUSANDS FLEE INDIAN FLOODS

15,000 Leave Shikarpur As Waters Threaten to Wipe City Out.

LOOTING STARTS.

KARACHI, India, July 28 (C.P.) — Fifteen thousand persons from Shikarpur and Sultan Ote poured into Karachi and Sukkur by rail and highway to-day to escape flood waters pouring over the upper Sind and skirting the only rail line that offered them escape.

Shikarpur to-night was in imminent danger of being wiped out. Hundreds of constables left Sukkur for that city yesterday to help with the relief work.

Looting was reported from Khanpur, another inundated city.

A canal was cut in the night to relieve pressure on embankments of the Indus River in the hope of saving Shikarpur.

Abnormal rains are the cause of the floods which have resulted in extremely heavy financial losses for several days. A flood fund of about $2,000 has been raised.

A referendum recently taken by the Chamber of Commerce of Liverpool, England, amongst its members and affiliated associations, showed that more than one-third of the 1,000 voters favored a general tariff on imports.

J. J. HARTLEY IS LAID TO REST

Many Friends Pay Tribute to Former Well Known City Resident.

SERVICE AT GRAVE.

John J. Hartley, one of the most energetic community builders in Peterborough, was laid to rest in Little Lake Cemetery on Saturday afternoon, in the presence of a vast concourse of his former friends and fellow-citizens, representative of every walk of life.

The service conducted at the house was beautifully simple and impressive. Rev. J. E. J. Millyard officiated, assisted by Rev. Dr. A. R. Brown.

In a short but touching address Mr. Millyard eulogized the sterling qualities of the late Mr. Hartley, building up his address around three central ideas. He drew attention to the industrious life which Mr. Hartley had lived and of his many achievements, pointing out that his had been a particularly useful life, founded solidly on the foundation of Christian principles.

Mr. Millyard dealt with the late Mr. Hartley's untiring work in the interests of George Street United Church, and pointed out the fact that at the time of his death he held office as a member of the session and on the official board.

Services were also conducted at the house and at the graveside by the deceased's brother members of Peterborough Lodge I.O.O.F.

The bearers were: S. R. Armstrong, W. J. Green, Harry Evans, J. H. Vallery, Dave Kernaghan and F. Raines.

HARD CAMPAIGN.

Bennett, Conservative leader, will spend the day quietly here awaiting the results of the polls. Surrounded by a few intimate friends they will receive the returns as the returning officers' reports filter in from across the country.

The result of the election in the two Ottawa seats has always been regarded as indicative of the political mood of the whole country and in this campaign the old phrase has been heard on the platform: "As Ottawa goes, so goes the country." E. R. E. Chevlier, member in the last Parliament, and T. Frank Ahearn, are the Liberal candidates. The Conservative candidates are Frank Plant, Mayor of Ottawa, and Frank L. Fortune, City Controller.

Nearly $400,000 was realized from the sale of wine, spirits and furnishings of the Hotel Cecil of London before demolition was started.

Much public interest attaches to the visit of H. R. H. the Duchess of York to her Scottish homelands, where she will await the second visit of Mr. Stork. If the child is a boy, the status of the little Princess Elizabeth, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of York, will be materially altered, since she is now in the direct line of succession.

BALDWIN WISHES TO WELD EMPIRE INTO SINGLE UNIT

Claims Dominions Must Be Assured of Continuing Preferences.

MUCH WORK TO DO.

Would Have Permanent Committee Deal With Economic Questions.

BRIGHOUSE, Yorkshire, Eng., July 28 (C.P. Cable).—The furnishing of assurance to the Dominions that Britain would not remove the trade preferences in effect, and establishment of an Imperial body to consider economic and industrial issues, were advocated by Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader, in a speech here Saturday. He predicted that the MacDonald Government would be out of office within six months.

Businesses and countries were grouping themselves more and more into great units, Mr. Baldwin said. Above all there was that great unit, the United States of America.

"The great unit I have in mind is the unit of our own Empire," Mr. Baldwin continued. "That unit is not going to come into being without a great deal of hard work and hard thinking, not only in this country but in every Dominion.

"Two things must be done quickly and should be done at the Imperial Conference," he continued. "First there should be assurance to the Dominions that under no circumstances whatever would the preferences that already exist within the limits of our own fiscal system be removed; secondly, we want to set up without delay a body composed of representatives of each Dominion and the Mother Country, to sit permanently at the expense of the Dominions and the Mother Country, to be always working, day in and day out, at those economic and industrial problems that are interrelated between the Dominions and the Mother Country.

Should Speak With Authority.

"As a self-contained unit, the Empire should be made so that it might speak with a united voice and the authority of one Empire to the nations of the world."

Regarding the Imperial Economic Conference, Mr. Baldwin said there was a chance even now that the Government might do something. The Government was trying to deal with the question by appointing an import board. He believed there was another method of greater helpfulness, the quota method, whereby, coupled with guaranteed prices in this country, Britain might be able to offer great advantages to such of the Dominions as desired to export wheat, and might preserve a quota of business with those countries where they could get something in exchange for the benefits given under the quota.

Mr. Baldwin dwelt upon the increase in unemployed and the refusal of the Labor Government to extend safeguarding, or tariff, duties.

DOMINION CHIEF REVIEWS RECORD IN FINAL ADDRESS

Prime Minister Speaks to Millions From Laurier House.

TELLS SAME STORY.

Ferguson Called Boss of New Cult of Tory Tammanyism.

OTTAWA, July 26. — The Prime Minister, Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, closed the election campaign at Laurier House Saturday night, when he addressed the people of Canada over a nation-wide network, speaking for two hours upon the outstanding issues to be decided at the polls to-day.

The microphone was placed in the dining room, upon the walls of which hang portraits of the Liberal chieftain's distinguished grandfather and of his father and mother.

Mr. King told the same story over the radio that he has been telling from the platform in all parts of the Dominion during the past month. In his introductory remarks he dealt briefly with the tirade of abuse and personalities indulged in by his opponents, particularly Premier Ferguson of Ontario "the supreme boss of the new cult of Tory Tammanyism." He reviewed the record of the Government, showing how it had implemented its pledges with respect to reduction of the national debt and taxation, reduction of the tariff on the instruments of production and the necessaries of life, the reorganization and revitalizing of the Canadian National Railways under Sir Henry Thornton, the promotion of foreign trade, generous treatment of war veterans and nurses, enactment of old-age pensions, completion of the Hudson Bay Railway and the Welland Ship Canals; the transfer of the natural resources of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to the Provinces, and the return of railway lands in British Columbia; the removal of grievances in the Maritime Provinces; scientific revision of the tariff through the creation of an Advisory Board of Tariff and Taxation, and the development of a Canadian nation within the British community of nations.

Crerar Flayed For Asserting Present Year Most Prosperous in History of Country.

CAMPBELLFORD ADDRESS.

Deplores Entry of 873 Europeans Into Canada Through Halifax in July.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 28 (Examiner Staff Correspondence).—"We are paying the penalty of loyalty to our children and our homes," asserted the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, explaining the tariff question in relation to trade depression at a mass meeting of Conservatives at Campbellford on Saturday afternoon. The rally, which was in support of the Conservative candidate for Northumberland riding, Milton E. Maybee, was held in the Davidson Arena, and attended by over fifteen hundred people.

Premier Ferguson, who was accompanied by Mrs. Ferguson, met with a royal reception. The band of the Northumberland Regiment met him on his entry into town, and escorted him to the rink. Other speakers on the platform were M. Maybee, F McArthur, M.P.P., Major J. F. B. Belford, Sandy McDonald, and Councillor N. A. MacColl, who welcomed the Premier to Campbellford on behalf of the citizens of the town and district. Mayor C. H. Davidson occupied the chair.

Mr. Ferguson ,after being introduced by G. F. McArthur, M.P.P., dealt with the business of the country, pointing out the depression in the farming industry in the past few years and the decrease of farm values.

"There must be a reason for this," he said, and went on to describe the Government as the business managers that handled the affairs of the country, and pointed out that as the affairs of the country were his affairs, he had a right to ask the Government the reason for the present situation.

The speaker continued to explain that the real reason for this condition was because Canada was sending her raw materials and manpower to other countries. "This is not sound from the business standpoint," he declared, and showed how in the past nine years imports into this country had doubled, sixty per cent. of which could be produced in Canada. "What we want is trade among ourselves," said Mr. Ferguson, stating that coal, of which Canada had a vast supply, was being imported into this country from Russia and other countries. "I do not remember so serious a crisis as is in this country at the present time," he said, and asserted that the wheels of industry were scarcely turning. "This is due to the lack of protection on the part of the Government to enable us to work ofr ourselves."

JEW MURDERED FEAR OUTBREAK

Anti-Semitic Leader Boastfully Admits Bessarabic Slaying.

STORES CLOSED.

BUCHAREST, July 28. (C.P.) — The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports that the Jews of Uriev, Bessarabia, are in a state of panic over the murder on Friday of a Jew named Shrolom Landauon. The Jewish leaders of Uriev telephoned that they were fearful of further sinister developments in what appeared to be a definitely planned anti-Memitic campaign. All stores owned by Jews are remaining closed, and the Jews are keeping off the streets in the Bazaar section.

Former Professor Machedon, anti-Semitic leader, who murdered Sholom Landau in the presence of hundreds attending the Uriev Bazaar, arrogantly asserted to the investigating authorities yesterday that he shot Landau because he hates the Jews.

"I shot at the Jews who were attending the Bazaar while I was perfectly sober and conscious of what I was doing. When I am released I shall join Professor Cuza in order to widen my anti-Semitic activities."

ASSASSIN SLAYS STATE PRESIDENT

Political Enemy Shoots Joa Pessoa in Rio de Janeiro Store.

RESCUE TOO LATE.

RIO DE JANEIRO, July 26.— (A. P.)—Joao Pessoa, president of the state of Parahyba and Liberal candidate for the vice-presidency of Brazil in the March 1 election, was assassinated Saturday night in the city of Recife. He was slain by a political enemy.

Accompanied by some friends, Pessoa encountered the assassin, Joao Dantas, in a refreshment store. Dantas drew a revolver and fired several times point blank at Pessoa, who fell dead.

Pessoa's chauffeur, trying to save his chief, whipped out his own weapon, firing at Dantas, but too late to stop the assasination. Dantas was wounded in the head by the chauffeur's gun.

BLEACHERS FALL 20 ARE INJURED

18,000 Fans Panic Stricken as Seats Overturn in Mostreal Stadium.

RUSH FOR EXITS.

MONTREAL, July 28.—Approximately a score of people were injured, none seriously, when a section of the seats in the Montreal Baseball Stadium collapsed at the finish of the international 500-mile relay race here Saturday afternoon. The victims were taken to hospitals, where all but three were discharged.

Two of the remaining patients suffer from fractured legs, and another from broken rigs. A minor panic developed among the 18,000 spectators when the seats overturned, shouts of "The stand's collapsed!" and "Fire!" causing many spectators to make a rush for the exits, and others to jump over the railing into the playing field. The accident is believed to have been caused when persons standing on the top bench of a row in the bleacher section caused it to tip over precipitating the spectators on the benches bolw, and making them collapse in turn. Some dozen benches were overturned.

Police and ushers were unable to restore calm for about 20 minutes, after which the program was carried on.

The Weather

The month of July has seen a succession of warm days, the thermometer generally rising to between 80 and 85 degrees. Sunday, however, did a little better, the temsprature going up to 88 degrees in the shade. The highest point this year was on June 4th, when we had a reading of 89 degrees. The last week or so has seen a succession of warm days with little rain and the lack of moisture is becoming noticeable. — W. P.

SOVIET EXPORTS COME UNDER FIRE OF TORY LEADER

Bennett Assails New Zealand Pact in Winding Up Campaign.

VOTERS TO DECIDE.

Calls Upon King to Pronounce Stand on Quebec Conscription Cry.

OTTAWA, July 28.—Concluding a campaign which has carried him from remote points on the Atlantic to the Pacific, Hon. R. B. Bennett, in the Capital Saturday night, addressed an audience massed in the auditorium. The Conservative chieftain vigorously protested against "millions of pounds" of New Zealand butter coming into Canada, issued a strong warning against subjecting Canadians to "convict and sweated labor competition" from Soviet Russia, through the importation of coal and pulp exports, called upon Premier King to pronounce upon the "raising of the cry of conscription," reiterated his stand on Empire trade and decried unemployment.

The necessity for completion of the Hudson Bay route with navigational aids "to make the route a success" and a criticism of Liberal "campaign methods" were pressed by Mr. Bennett. "With every confidence," the Conservative Leader declared, he awaited the decision of the electorate.

Thanks to Electors.

And after thanking Canadians "from the bottom of my heart" for the welcome they had accorded him in his tour, the Opposition Leader gave his last message of the campaign. "Decide," Mr. Bennett exclaimed, "without passion or prejudice, to which party you may more safely entrust the welfare of the country. You know her needs; you know as surely the measures which must be taken to meet them. Make up your minds which party supports these measures, and which will the more steadfastly prosecute them till the work is done. Decide for yourselves which party offers the surer prospect of a greater Canada. Then vote. The greatest gift democracy has to offer is that of Canadian citizenship. You who are honored with it, exercise its privilege to the full. Vote."

R-100 NOW READY FOR LONG FLIGHT

Expect Great Dirigible Starts For Canada Tuesday Morning.

MAY TAKE 3 DAYS.

CARDINGTON, England, July 28. —(C.P.) — The dirigible R-100 was given a close inspection Sunday morning after her trial flight which terminated on Saturday night, and was officially declared fit for her flight to Canada, which will, according to plans, be started within a few days.

The R-100 is now floating ready at the mooring mast and is only waiting for the Air Ministry's orders. She is not expected to leave before Tuesday, and the start may be deferred until later in the week. Weather developments over the Atlantic will be a considerable factor in fixing the time.

There is every reason to believe the flight will be finished in three days, but the great airship is being provisioned for five. The provisions include wrapped bread, dried vegetables and meat.

Thousands of people visited the airship on Sunday.

The R-100 only returned at 8.30 Saturday night from a cruise over the Bristol Channel, the west of England, and the English Channel, totalling 1200 miles. The flight, said Major Scott, commander, was satisfactory in every respect and the ship though flown through wind and rain stood the test without developing trouble.

Tips on the Future Mode in Evening Dress

To be fashion wise, one must buy on a rising market—that is, select a dress with advance chic, rather than current. To do this, of course, one must be on tip-toe noticing the little things that make a dress this season or the next. Several indications of the future mode are shown in the evening dress in the Vogue sketch at the left above. Finely tucked bands encrusted on the skirt release the fullness in front and back and interrupt the length of the silhouette. The attached scarf, which crosses in front, ties and hangs low in the back, thereby concentrating the decolletege treatment in the back—a new emphasis. While we are thus looking forward, we need not forget that it is still the open season for the short wrap—that perfect complement to the long evening gown. The one shown above in the sketch is chic and practical when made of velvet. It has a scarf collar, which ties in a bow in the back at one shoulder. On the right is Norma Shearer wearing a short ermine evening wrap, made in cape effect, and outlined with sable.—Sketch is by Vogue.

LONDON NIGHT LIFE CHANGED.

As a result of the campaign conducted by Viscount Byng, the Metropolitan Police Commissioner, against the alien proprietors of underworld clubs, London night life has been completely changed. The suppression of dozens of undesirable night clubs has cleared the West End of its objectionable elements, but thousands of merrymakers still dance and dine in the early hours of the morning in places which are complying with the law in keeping order and in paying license fees and taxes. With the closing of the noxious places the law-abiders have grown popular and prosperous so that London's night life is still at its height, but in a different way.

HIS HERITAGE.

This is his heritage: to see
Where Autumn fields glow mistily,
More beauty in the garnered sheaf,
More wonder in the falling leaf
Than common men could hope to gain
From viewing all earth's wide domain.

This is his heritage: to hear
In the lark's lyrics, crystal-clear,
Drifting across far field and wood,
A message few have understood:
Though masters play viol and flute,
Still music's self, to some, is mute.

His heritage is this: he gives
A glimpse of realms wherein he lives
To less unclouded eyes; he shares
The garb of loveliness life wears
With those who, else, would never know
How beauty's tides, unceasing, flow.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

DURING this summer vacation I have met many new friends, and that is one reason why I look forward to this season—perhaps you do too.

• • • • • • •

And then when one meets new friends, one learns a lot from the conversations which come up and when the people are good conversationalists, it is much more enjoyable.

• • • • • • •

But do you know I have found out lately that there are some homemakers who do not keep their minds up-to-date, as they do their homes?

• • • • • • •

Yes, indeed, it is true. Some homemakers who are renowned for their homes, have not given much attention to the passing times.

• • • • • • •

The continual adapting of oneself to changing conditions in the world used to be considered imperative for those "getting along in years" only.

• • • • • • •

But it is different today. We find life speeding ahead at a rate to bring new conditions within surprisingly short periods and it becomes essential for those who cannot be included in such a group, to acquire new outlooks.

• • • • • • •

Seldom do we hear the younger generation talk of things which happened when they were young. Our great grandmothers and great grandfathers loved to talk of the things which occurred when they were children.

• • • • • • •

Perhaps the expression "when I was a girl" seems rather unnatural now, because costuming shows no disparity between ages in adults.

• • • • • • •

Age has now become more a matter of an open mind and an advance outlook than mere years!

• • • • • • •

Recognizing this, it becomes increasingly important for those on the sunny side of middle life as well as those who are becoming older, to treat new ideas as they would new inventions.

• • • • • • •

It is rather embarrassing to be talking to some person who is well conversed on the subjects of today, and find you know very little about them.

• • • • • • •

You can learn a great deal from reading the newspapers—some people say all that is contained in the newspapers now-a-days are murders, etc., but this is far from being correct.

• • • • • • •

When some new topic comes to you, study it and find out as much about it as you possibly can and perhaps you can help somebody else on points not clear to them.

• • • • • • •

It keeps a mind flexible to be constantly adjusting the outlook to new trends of thought. It cannot get stiff in its mental joints, nor slow in its motion.

• • • • • • •

Without this mental flexibility life seems out-of-joint, as it were, and we become unhappy within ourselves and a source of unhappiness to the ones we love who are about us.

• • • • • • •

Those outside this circle find us dull and uninteresting. Whatever our age—whether young or old—we will get into this way, if we are careless.

• • • • • • •

It is worse to become mentally old while bodily young than to be both mentally and physically old. It is the young mind that is refreshing, stimulating and inspiring, whether found in an old or young person.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

SLEEPLESSNESS.

Perhaps you are one of thos individuals who fails to get the amount of sleep considered necessary.

Now it is generally agreed that the most common cause of sleeplessness is the dread of sleeplessness. And you can easily see as the time passes and you do not get to sleep you become more and more irritated or even alarmed and instead of feeling sleepy you actually become more alert.

Now there is only one person who can handle a situation of this kind and that is you.

There are some little annoyances that can be removed and there are some little 'comforts' that can be obtained, if you give thought to them.

First is your bed comfortable? Do the mattress and spring support your body evenly and comfortably, so that at no one point are you conscious of a little hill or a little valley that either presses against your body, or lets your body sag so that you have to use some muscle power to support that part.

Is the temperature of the room right for you?

You know what suits you best, as low as 60° F. or as high as 70° F.

Is the room getting fresh air, not by means of a strong draught, but a slowly moving current obtained by a gentle cross draught.

Are you free from noise either in the house or from the street? It is most important because hearing is the last sense to remain active until you get off to sleep.

You think it takes a long time to get off to sleep, but it has been found that from the time you get really started until you are sound asleep is only a matter of a minute or two, perhaps five at most.

And the whole idea is to get the mind and body into such a condition that they are doing absolutely nothing, that they are at zero as far as activity is concerned.

Now you must sleep, because sleep is as important as food. Lack of sleep can pull you down even faster than lack of food.

But approach the matter in a sensible manner.

After the physical discomforts of bed, mattress, ventilation, gas in stomach or intestine have been removed, there is the discomfort from your brain also to remove-worry, fear, or other emotional disturbance. You must exercise your common sense on these as far as possible.

And then relax your muscles; have fingers, arms, legs, and toes in a half bent condition. Then take long breaths in and out, as if you were absolutely exhausted.

I talk about sleep often, because nothing keeps you more irritable, upset, with poor appetite and no desire for work, as does the lack of sleep.

Leaders of religious thought spoke at a recent London meeting at which was passed a resolution urging the Soviet government to withdraw its opposition to religious teaching and worship.

WOMEN DECIDE ELECTION ISSUE CLAIMS BURNHAM

Former Member Declared He Did Not Talk Politics, Just Empire.

PREFERS EASTERN ONTARIO.

Returns From Extensive Campaign Throughout Province of Ontario.

"I believe the women will decide this election." This was the declaration of J. Hampden Burnham, in an interview with The Examiner this morning. Mr. Burnham, who returned yesterday from an extensive campaign tour throughout Ontario in the interests of Mackenzie King's Empire policies, felt that women "see farther ahead than men."

Mr. Burnham asserted that he "did not talk politics" on his tour—"only the Empire. There is unquestionably," he contended, "a large body of people who do not care about an Empire. They do not understand it. There is also a large element which does not want any interference with its private plans."

Regarding the women's vote, Mr. Burnham was unwilling to make any more specific prediction.

"I should have liked to speak from Conservative platforms," he stated, "but Mr. Bennett did not invite me to do so, and Mr. King did invite me to speak from his platform. I should have liked to see the Conservative Party making the Empire its care.

"As to unemployment, you will find that my unemployment idea is the only solution. Either we will take possession of labor-saving machinery long enough to enable the unemployed to find other work and to save them from their fate, or there will be trouble. We cannot treat people so selfishly as to disregard their flesh and blood because others have the means to employ machines instead of people.

"The methods of business are nobody's fault and ought not to fall on the unemployed. The governments must take this matter up. If there were no machines, there would be more than enough work for all."

Questioned regarding his itinerary, Mr. Burnham remarked: "Yes, I have been about Old Ontario and a small part of New Ontario. With the exception of the shores of the Great Lakes, I should prefer Eastern Ontario to Western Ontario. A trip up the Ferguson Highway from Lindsay through Muskoka reveals a most picturesque and richly-soiled country, with fine hardwood forests and luxuriant vegetation. People everywhere were very kind and courteous, showing a high degree of Canadian culture."

We're poorer for the passing of a lot of time honored things, among them, contribution plates.

"So that silver dollar was right under Abie's nose?"

"No, only under the first couple of inches of it."

TOO MANY ACCIDENTS.

It may be surprising to many people to learn, according to figures collected by an insurance company, that almost as many lives are lost in drowning accidents in Canada as there are snuffed out by automobiles.

The latest figures are for the year 1928 and they show that in that year there were 1,028 people drowned in Canada, as compared with 1,061 killed in automobile accidents, while an estimate of the drowning fatalities for last year places the total at 1,125, which is a higher percentage than the United States show.

The tragedy of such a death list is added to by the fact that the majority of the victims in cases of drowning are under twenty years.

While medical science is making great strides in protecting young people against infectious diseases, the toll of accidental death continues to increase.

It is a situation that is worrying the insurance companies and that should worry everybody else.

GOOD ADVICE.

That was good advice the Department of Highways gave to motorists in its latest advertisement in a series of safety education articles.

There is not the slightest doubt that the number of serious traffic accidents would be materially reduced if motorists generally would faithfully follow instructions and not get out of line when rounding curves or on hills.

The driver who tries to pass another machine on a curve or on a grade is unnecessarily taking a chance of finding his car squarely in the path of another automobile travelling in the opposite direction—and there can only be one end to that situation.

A general compliance with the advice of the department both on that point and in regard to making sure that there is ample room ahead before trying to pass another car would eliminate several of the most common causes of accident.

It is just ordinary horse sense to play safe—but, unfortunately, there are some motorists who seem to be singularly lacking in that respect and who prefer to take chances under the impression that by so doing they are saving time by shaving a few seconds off here and there.

AN INQUEST JUSTIFIED.

It is difficult to follow the line of reasoning by which the coroner who dealt with the case of the immigrant farm boy who hanged himself near Marmora the other day decided that an inquest was not necessary.

In view of the number of such suicides surely it is essential that public opinion should be satisfied that everything in the direction of getting at the facts has been done.

The reaction in the Old Country to these repeated stories of young immigrants taking their own lives is most prejudicial to the reputation of the Dominion in Great Britain.

When the news goes back that apparently the Canadian view is that these tragedies are of so little consequence that an investigation by a coroner's jury is not considered necessary, Canada's prestige will be further impaired.

As The Examiner pointed out on Saturday, young boys do not commit suicide without some cause, and when the cases begin to multiply it would seem that there should be a real effort made to get at the cause with a view to its elimination.

Certainly in all such cases there should be an inquest, if for no other reason than to show the people of Great Britain that Canadians are not indifferent to the fate of the young Britishers they invite to their doors.

RADIO LICENSES INCREASE.

According to Ottawa figures, there is one radio license in Canada now for every twenty people in the Dominion.

On July 1 there were 435,557 radio receiving licenses in this country, as compared with 107,589 less than that the year before, an increase of nearly 35 per cent.

It is difficult to say just how much in excess of this total the actual number of radios in use happens to be, but probably the difference between the number of licenses corresponds to the number of receiving sets more closely now than at any other time since the license system began.

That is accounted for by the fact that the action of the department some months ago in conducting a police court campaign against delinquents had a very marked effect in speeding up applications for licenses, so that it is probable that the increase noted was partially due to that condition and partially to the placing into commission of new sets.

At all events the license total is a formidable one, indicating that the radio is now an instrument of amusement and education that must necessarily have its effect upon the people of this country.

Certainly in the election campaign just closed it has not only brought the electors into touch with the political issues, but it has had the effect also of impressing upon the people of one section of the country the interests they have in common with those of all sections.

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT AGAIN.

Agitation against the retention of capital punishment in Great Britain, always more or less active, has been given encouragement by the Archbishop of York, who, before a Royal Commission, has advocated abolition. In Dr. Temple's opinion, capital punishment tends to lower the general conception of the sanctity of human life.

No one will deny that capital punishment is a terrible thing. Especially in these times when many people are somewhat more dubious than in the days of extreme nationalism as to the absolute subordination of the interests of the individual to those of the state, everyone realizes that in taking the life of a man or a woman those in authority are incurring very grave responsibility. And there is not a conscientious Canadian who will not heartily wish that the time may soon come when legalized life-taking will no longer be necessary or even advisable.

But those in closest touch with the situation, the judiciary, the police and others equally affected, are convinced that such a time has not yet arrived. They are interested in saving lives, not in losing them, and are almost universally of the opinion that only the almost certainty of the gallows prevents, in these days of ruthlessly organized crime, the taking of many innocent lives. No Christian will deny sympathy even to the perpetrator of the most violent crime as he faces death, but his greater feeling is for the law-abiding relatives of the law officer or the bank teller or the payroll messenger who has been cruelly slain, and who are too often forgotten by criminal law "reformers" of the more extreme and irresponsible class.

The contrast in crime conditions in England, where capital punishment is rigidly enforced, and in the United States, where even in states which have not legally abolished it, the chances of the guilty to escape it are generally quite good, does not seem to indicate that either Great Britain or Canada would be well advised to move towards abolition without very serious consideration.—Brantford Expositor.

SHOCKING TO RECALL.

We read considerable in the papers now about "bathing in the nude." That is a nicely-modulately phrase to suit our tastes for such things to-day. But it really means going in bathing with nothing on—not a stitch of clothing—just bare naked.

We see where certain cities have instructed their police to arrest people who do such a thing; in other places they have blankets, so the officers can go down armed with a blanket and a warrant and hustle the offender off to jail.

But really there is nothing new in the idea. As a matter of fact, and as a record of unblushing confession, we indulged in it years ago, and so did all the other boys around the town.

Just to the north of the town of Parkhill there used to be a body of water known as Mud Creek. Really we do not know if it had any better name than that or not, but the name seems to be quite right because it was a creek and also because it was muddy.

It found its way through a district then known as Millers Flats, and back of that it was also running—when it did run—through territory known as Hasting's bush.

At one point there was a turn in Mud Creek, and it seemed a little deeper and wider there than elsewhere, so that became the swimming hole. Every town has to have a swimming hole, it's just as important as the weigh scales or the town bell. It took about ten minutes walking to get there, over a couple of wire fences and then through a few patches of thistles.

* * * *

But once there, the method of attiring the person for entering the water was comparatively and extremely simple. There was only a shirt and a pair of pants to take off, and shocking as it may seem, very often they had been shed before reaching the spot.

It's awful to think about it now, but no person ever did wear a bathing suit there. Just what might have happened if some boy did don such raiment is hard to guess.

There were times when it was thought advisable to throw in a few rocks and stones before entering the water. Such gestures in advance were considered good tactics, as local tradition had it that the onslaught might cause the snapping turtles, the crabs and blood suckers to move slightly up or down stream.

The method of learning to swim was simple, too. There were no instructors. The larger brand of the human species seized the smaller fry and chucked them in the deep hole and told them to swim or drown. It is not recorded that any person ever sank; the lads seemed to learn with remarkable rapidity just how to struggle and kick sufficiently to make shore under their own steam.

* * * *

Then, too, as we recall it, there were mean people in existence in those far-removed days. They would get out of the water first, put on their garments and then tie knots in the clothing of those who were lingering in the muddy waters too long. The name for that operation was "chaw raw beef." Who gave it that name we never did hear.

Of course, the boys of that generation were uncouth individuals. They never did use such an article as a towel after they came out of the water. They stood around a little fire on the shore for a moment while those that had blood suckers on their toes touched them with a hot coal, a sure method of making them leave go and be about their business.

Clothing was actually put on while the carcase was wet. Just think of it! The boys figured that by the time they had walked for five minutes they'd be as dry as was necessary. The boy who could do the "dead man's dive" and come to the surface with his hair parted in the middle didn't need a comb; the rest didn't have them anyway.

We imagine every village, town and hamlet in the country has had its nude bathing parties, and very likely they are having them to this day.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Now it can be told.

The Brantford Expositor says that both political leaders ventilated their views there and that was the only way the arena has ever been ventilated. We have buildings like that, too.

Remember you have until 7 o'clock this evening to get in your vote. If you haven't exercised your franchise do so before it is too late.

We won't hear so much about New Zealand butter now, but we'll probably go on eating it for some time.

After listening to the two leaders speak at Ottawa the civil servants probably figure that they'll be all right anyway unless the Progressives call the time in the next Parliament.

Moved by Messrs. King and Bennett and seconded by the whole Canadian people, that we have no more mid-summer elections in this country.

Recalling what has been said in recent speeches by the leading members of both parties, the week that has just closed may well be described as the "last awful week."

To-night will show just how much faith can be put in the official forecasts of political organizations.

Men and women who circulate rumors about candidates for political honors should be deprived of the right to vote.

The gunmen of Detroit have outdistanced the gangsters of Chicago for cold-bloodedness, which is saying a whole lot.

Missing

A. L. Geddes, K.C., former Deputy Attorney-General of Saswatchewan, whose disappearance several weeks ago still remains a baffling mystery. Several theories have been offered, and his movements were traced up to a point where he boarded a boat for Japan. He has not been seen or heard from since. The theory that he committed suicide by jumping overboard has been discarded by those who knew him well. On the other hand there was no trace of a struggle in his stateroom. Mr. Geddes had a brilliant war record, and was one of Saskatchewan's most prominent lawyers.

If July 28th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 7 a.m. to 8:45 a.m., 2 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., and 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

Joy-giving, vitalizing influences will be in force on this date, bringing "heady moments" to the young, and making their elders feel full of "joie de vivre." Very fortunate developments in your affairs. Be careful of jealousy.

The child born on this July 28th will show exceptional powers of observation, and the development of this trait will probably be the keynote to its future successes in life. It will have a brisk, brusque nature, and will hit straight from the shoulder.

Nature made you a simple being, but she also made you strong, brave and big in a spiritual and moral sense. Younot only face facts squarely,but you have a way of seeing under and around them as well, which endears you to the more discriminating of your associates. You will have failures and disappointments, but after the confusion and turmoil of them have died down, they are forgotten, and you only retain their lessons. You take defeats well. You seldom darken your present or future days with the shadows of past regrets. Fate will snub you, but she will never be able to give you a "knock out blow."

Four walls will never enclose your world, for you live near nature, and you are in tune with everything that breathes. You are very responsive to other people's moods, and you know how to doctor them if they are not of the right kind. You are a clever wizard at managing other people, without their knowing it. You are at times impetuous and headlong, but headlong always on the side of fairness. You are not particularly talented, and are only artistic in the rare art of knowing how to live simply and naturally.

You are a dexterous worker, and whole-hearted about everything which you do. Religion, philosophy and other of the higher mental activities appeal to you. You have a marked indifference toward money.

CHAPTER 26.

"Perhaps that would be the better plan, Senor Burney. But there is a certain amount of sorrow mingled with the joy of this tremendous victory. I fail to find Miguel Gallegos among the dead."

"He who fights and runs away may live to fight another day. It is not well to catch but one bird at a time. In the next fight Martin Bruce and his cowboys will reinforce Gallegos—and Bruce will dictate the strategy of the campaign. Unlike Gallegos, he is not a fool. When he learns from Gallegos what has occurred to-day he will come down to Los Osos immediately for a conference with Gallegos."

"True words, my friend. But—when this fellow Bruce crosses the international border I will have him arrested and tried for cattle stealing. Then I will send three troops of rurales to Los Osos to arrest Miguel Gallegos—"

"A good plan, Senor De Haro, but I have a better one. Gallegos has lost many horses, but he still has a hundred and sixty-nine men fit for active service. The force he came with to-day was one hastily gathered; doubtless within forty-eight hours he can remount and redouble his force, and it is conceivable that, if attacked by the rurales, he may defeat them. At any rate good men will die—and there is no necessity for that. My plan provides for the complete destruction of these men, but without much danger to the rurales. We will make haste slowly, my friend."

Two hours later the El Ranchito convoy crossed back into the United States at Huachita.

Burney went at once to the telegraph station and wired Bruce at the latter's home in Arizona and also at his ranch headquarters in New Mexico:

Your little playmate, Miguel Gallegos and two hundred and ten of his gang tangled with me in El Cajon Bonita this morning. Casualties ninety-eight horses and forty-two men, all too dead to skin. No casualties on my side except one horse killed and one mule creased. I had to get out in a hurry but I am coming back soon to round up every cow brute that wears your brand, vent the brand and run the Bardin iron on every head. After a while you will learn that branding other men's calves is a mighty unprofitable business. Miguel was long on courage but short on brains. You should go down and help him out and if it will be any comfort to you, to know that I am returning to El Cajon Bonita with my men next Thursday and will be pleased to meet you and discuss the matter. Maybe some of the calves that wear your brand really belong to you although I doubt it. But I want to play fair.

Kenneth C. Burney.

"That chunk of information ought to reach Martin Bruce about the time he receives a hurry-up call from Gallegos," he decided.

From the telegraph station he strolled over to the International Hotel where he related to all and sundry the tale of his adventure of the morning in El Cajon Bonita. Nor did he hesitate to pay his respects to Bruce and Gallegos. In no uncertain terms he branded them as liars, thieves and murderers and announced his intentions of seeing to it personally that the first fall rains should start grass growing verdantly over their graves. To half a dozen men he imparted, in confidence, his intention of doubling the size of his party when he should return for the round-up; he bragged that with sixty men he could move the international boundary down to Tepic. And when he had bragged to the point where his own chin music was beginning to disgust him, he joined the cook, waiting for him with the motorized chuck wagon, and returned to El Ranchito.

Tom Bledsoe, with the motor trucks, had long since arrived at the ranch and the news of the battle had reached the king and his daughter; consequently, when Burney came rolling in with the chuck wagon Art Graydon informed him that the king's orders were for Burney to report to his chief immediately upon arrival.

His Majesty was pleased beyond words and shook the hand of his general manager heartily. "Did you get Gallegos?" he demanded.

"No, sir."

"Why the devil didn't you? Tom Bledsoe says you toppled his horse at a thousand yards. Couldn't you have toppled him?"

"Why, yes, sir; I could, but—"

"But me no buts. Why didn't you tunnel the skunk?"

"I had orders not to, sir. Nobody revoked the order previously given me not to kill Gallegos, so I contented myself with knocking his horses over as fast as he mounted them. I didn't want to fight him, but he warned me to pull out of El Cajon Bonita and never come back and he confiscated the entire valley and all of your cattle in it, in the name of the Mexican people. Naturally, following that outburst, I had to defy him. If I hadn't, no man on this ranch would serve under me."

The eyes of the princess were big with excitement. "You weren't hurt at all, were you, Ken?" she quavered.

He bowed to her. "My dear young lady," he replied coldly, "may I presume to remind you that I am your father's general manager and to be addressed as Mr. Burney? Rank has its privileges, you know, and I object to being addressed, on brief acquaintance, with the familiarity a dude-ranch tourist accords a cowboy guide.

"I beg your pardon," the princess murmured meekly. "Did you personally, kill anybody to-day?"

"I did. I am morally certain I bowled over not less than eight men in self-defence and I'm not sorry for it and I'm not apologizing."

The king flew to the defense of his daughter. "There's no call for you to act uppity, Mr. Burney," he admonished. "What's you next move?"

"I'm going back into El Cajon Bonita, prepared to remain there long enough to round up every head of stock that wears the Bruce brand, vent that brand and run your iron on them."

"What do you mean—vent that brand?" the princess queried with alert interest.

"I'm going to rebrand them with Bruce's iron, or rather one exactly like it. That's called venting and the second brand outlaws the first. Then I'll run the Bardin ion on them and that brand will indicate legal ownership."

"But," the king protested, "how do you know that all of the Bruce cattle in El Cajon Bonita originally belonged to me?"

"Because Martin Bruce neither owns nor leases lands in Mexico and there is no record in the archives of the Mexican customs of his having driven any cattle into Mexico. Nor do our own customs people have any record. And if that isn't sufficient excuse, the Bruce, cattle are pasturing on your land, which is fenced, and how did they get in there, anyhow? Your Majesty, I'm going to gram 'em all.

The king was mollified. "Well, that won't be hard to take. There must be a couple of thousand head at least. But it means we'll have a lawsuit."

"No, we'll not, sir, because next Thursday morning Martin Bruce and all his thieving, murdering allies are going to perish violently. There'll be nobody left to dispute your ownership of those cattle below the Line and I imagine you can make a deal with Bruce's executors to buy his outfit above the Line and live happy ever afterward."

"I think we ought to have a little drink," said the king.

"We should," Burney agreed. "I'm famished."

"May I call you Ken," the princess pleaded.

"Why, of course, Miss Muriel."

"Suppose you stay for dinner. You can go into the guestroom yonder and wash your face and hands and comb your hair and eat dinner in your shirt sleeves, Ken."

"Thank you. I'll be mighty happy to, Miss Muriel." He took her hand, bent and kissed it gallantly, and in his dark eyes there was a look that caused the king's heart to give a great leap.

"You double-crossing son of a horse-thief," His Majesty murmured softly to himself. "For two cents you'd give the air to the girl you met a year ago, and I don't know whether I like you for that or not." Then he noted a lambent glow in the eyes of the princess and a faint rosiness in her delicate cheeks and decided instantly, that upon the whole, things were—going badly.

TOO MUCH SECURITY.

The crime wave, which causes so much peril, will come to an end when the general public becomes sufficiently frightened.

A thorough scare is a terrible thing while it lasts, but it is often beneficial.

Crime news which people read in the papers annoys them and worries them a little, but the crimes never seem very close to them.

Just now the criminals spend most of their efforts, flying at each other's throats.

When they extend their operations, and begin flying at honest people's throats, the honest people, always in the majority, will do something about it.

Crimes of violence could be materially lessened if law abiding citizens became aroused.

That would not necessitate the organization of vigilance committees such as functioned in the West in the old days.

It would merely mean insistence on law enforcement, and the removal of any peace officers who were unwilling to enforce the law or more unable to enforce it.

Too much security is often a result of such a period of prosperity as America has enjoyed for a great many years.

People took it for granted that everything was all right, and that it was going to stay all right.

When violence, resulting from the desire of lazy crooks to share the prosperity which others had earned, began to spread, most people refused to recognize its existence.

It didn't come near them, it didn't affect any members of their immediate families or anybody with whom they were intimate.

So they regarded it as unaffected people used to view epidemics, and went on their unheeding ways.

But that will not last always. Already the time has arrived when the criminals are getting out of bounds.

The suppression of crime news, which the police and some well-meaning people are always insisting upon, would be the worst possible expedient.

What is needed is full publicity, so that everybody may know what is going on and become aroused, which is a polite word for "scared."

When that happens there will be more police activity, more general alertness, and fewer murders and robberies.

After all, the people are the bosses, and when they attend to their jobs and assert their authority they get things accomplished, despite all opposition and in the face of the most craftily organized crime.

NEW YORK LIST WORKS HIGHER

Forces For Advance Meet with Resistance in Irregular Trading.

SEVERAL ISSUES UP.

NEW YORK, July 28. (C.P.)—The forces working for higher prices struggled with considerable animation in to-day's stock market to jack up prices above the resistance levels of the rally from the June lows, established on July 18. Their work was hampered by rather tempestuous flurries of selling but the list worked irregularly higher, several issues selling up about 2 to 4 points, and recording new high levels for the movement. Trading was fairly active based on the reduced standards of these days. There was a notable shift of bullish operations from industrials into the utilities, as the latter group was not so thoroughly exploited during the past week. Oils were later pushed up.

Warner Bros. broke 5 points in a new low to the accompaniment of unselling rumors regarding rapid expansion, large bank loans and the security of the dividend, but although Albert Warner, vice-president, told the Associated Press that unsettling rumors were untrue, this break unsettled the entire list for a time.

Such shares as American Telephone, American Can, Columbia Gas, Electric and National Power and Light, North American, American Water Works, Standard Gas, Westinghouse, Atchison, American Tobacco "B," Union Carbide and Woolworth gained 2 to 4 points or more. Oils turned upwards in the early afternoon, with good buying of Standard of N. J., Barnsall and Phillips. The last named had sagged a point, earlier, with a transaction of 48,000 shares.

During the morning, Radio Keith, International Telephone, Vanadium and Johns Manville sagged moderately. Trans-America was a soft spot losing more than two. Call money was again at 2 per cent. on the floor and 1¼ per cent. outside. Commercial paper was firmer at to 3¼ against 3 flat late last week.

EXPECT RECORD VOTE IN ONTARIO TO DECIDE ISSUE

Communists among the candidates, all running in urban centres. There is only one representative for both the Progressive and the Labour Party. The Conservative party has a candidate in each riding and the Liberals in 78. The latter party is co-operating with the Progressive Party in a joint candidate in three constituencies.

The general campaign of both Rt. Hon. W. L. M. King, Prime Minister and Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, was focussed for the last week on this province. From platforms in every section they told their policies and repeated their pledges. Their voices were carried through the air to thousands of Ontario homes. Their messages were repeated by the press, by personal contact and from hundred of scattered platforms, the same policies and pledges were made in their names by candidates and followers.

Most Interesting Campaign

For weeks it has been the most intensive sort of campaign that Ontario has witnessed. Her citizens have been harrangued politically from every angle. The press and the radio have been over-burdened with politics. The mails have carried tons and tons of pamphlets and literature. House-to-house canvasses have been conducted. Bill boards have been erected where they would catch the eye of the voter.

But to-day, all this is ended. Ontario goes to the polls and will render its verdict to-day on the relative appeals of the two chief political parties and others. The battle has been warm and the campaign keen but to-day Ontario wil have a great bearing on the verdict rendered by the Canadian people on the question of representation at Ottawa.

WOMEN HAVE "AIR FEVER"

Flying has become so popular among women of England that it is almost a craze. A record number are now learning to be pilots. The 'air fever" has infected not only the young woman anxious for a thrill, but also her older sister, who recognizes the great part the private plane will play in transportation of the future. Many are taking lessons without their parents' knowledge because they are determined to become qualified pilots before revealing their ambition. Many women are planning to buy their own planes.

Warning letters, instead of summoneses, cautioning autoists for minor offenses were sent to nearly 70,000 people in England last year.

CURB TRADING CONTINUES DULL

Opening Prices Fractionally Higher But Issues Suffer Setback at Noon Hour.

FORD OF CANADA UP.

TORONTO, July 28 (CP).—Trading showed no improvement as the market reopened on Toronto Stock Exchange to-day after having been in recess since Friday night. Price fluctuations were small.

At the opening, prices were fractionally higher; part of this gain they lost before mid-day, though there was no evidence of liquidation appearing.

Nickel at noon was selling at 24¾; Noranda at $23.75. Ford of Canada was fractionally higher and City Dairy up a small amount above 62. Massey-Harris was somewhat more active and within a small amount of 27. Oils were firm, only slightly changed. Brazilian eased back to 39; Walkers, Gypsum, Service Stations, Durant, Canada Vinegars were unchanged. Standard Paving gained a point.

VOTERS SLOW IN GOING TO POLLS CARS VERY BUSY

Someone suggested that it would be merely the proper thing if each candidate voted for the other but a cynical bystander brusquely added, "Catch them doing it. They both need every last vote they can get. This is going to be a close fight."

Every kind of prophecy was being heard on the street. Every street corner held its little knot of election gossipers. Business in the stores was almost at a standstill. Everyone was too intent on the election. However, there were no arguments the heat seemed too intense, and the men quietly expressed their views and sentiments while they mopped perspiring brows.

Result May Be Close.

It was the concensus of opinion that the election would be closer locally than in the last campaign. In factories, offices and barber shops "pools" were being run on the local and Dominion results, and wagers were being freely made. Odds were apparently even.

Officers and scrutineers, hatless and coatless, clustered around the polling booths, but up until 3 o'clock they had never been swamped with work.

Even though it was known that the women voters were busy over the wash tubs this morning, the female electorate was fairly well represented in the visits to the polls. "Sure, the women are coming out just as well as the men," stated one scrutineer, emphatically. "So far it's about fifty-fifty."

Up until 1 o'clock, when The Examiner interviewed many of the scrutineers throughout the city, the vote was estimated at about one-third its total strength, but there was every evidence that it would speed up during the afternoon.

Some even went so far as to say that there would be a heavier poll than last year. "Wait until the cool of about five o'clock and they will flock out," stated one man confidently.

Predictions by party supporters who had come in from the rural divisions were that there would be a big vote. It was reported that in Smith the voters had been to the polls early and then returned to work in the fields.

In the city, where the political affiliations of so many of the voters were known to the scrutineers, it was a matter of intense interest to conjecture how the battle of ballots was swinging. The sight of a staunch supporter being the first to enter the poll was hailed by his party's scrutineers as a favorable augury of the final outcome. Good-humored badinage passed freely among the opposing scrutineers, and, judging from the comments, both candidates were assured of victory.

Contrary to general expectation, there was no overwhelming rush of workmen at noon, but it is expected that they will get in their votes after 5 o'clock.

One voter travelled 600 miles to Peterborough to use his franchise, and then found to his dismay that his name was not on the lists. According to rumor, his wife was down as a "widow."

It was stated at one booth that a woman over 90 years of age had been driven to the polls to vote, but her name was absent from the list.

Even as this is being written a bet was made on the local result, without odds, which further emphasizes that to the man on the street the election will be close.

GREAT BEAR LAKE PROPERTY MINING PROGRESSING WELL

INVESTIGATING VALUE.

TORONTO, July 28 (Examiner Correspondence).—Some interesting details in the picture of this year's activity at Great Bear Lake are contained in a letter forwarded by Gilbert Labine, pioneer in the district and managing director of Eldorado gold mines, to H. M. Tarras, secretary of the company. Enthusiastically describing the new district as one of the greatest mining figures ever discovered in Canada, Mr. Labine states activity is very pronounced and men and supplies are pouring in.

Just how large the Great Bear mining area is has not yet been established definitely, but sufficient investigation has been accomplished to indicate its importance. Mr. Labine staked a length of three miles on the massive copper district discovered last fall and says the ore is a chalcocite of high grade quality. He also staked other ore bodies and details are expected shortly. In addition to Eldorado, Consolidated Smelters and Dominion Explorers have secured large holdings on either side of the original find.

Operations are expected to resume in August on Ritich gold mines on the strength of financial arrangements now pretty well completed. The plant is standing in readiness for almost immediate service and is capable of working to some 1,500 feet in depth. Prior to closing down the shaft had been put down 500 feet, but with only limited exploration and development at that horizon before funds were exhausted, diamond drill cores indicated values of $9 to $19 per ton across good sloping widths, and the forthcoming development is intended to investigate these indications.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

Increase of car loadings on Canadian railways during the latest week tabulated reflects a slight picking up in movement of commodities. The figures were 61,208 against 60,781 the previous week. While this represented an increase of only 337 cars, the significance was that it did show an improvement however during the same week one year ago car loadings amounted to 71,271. Loadings the first six months of this year have been well below last year and below 1928 as well. The spread is more apparent in Western Canada, the loadings in Eastern Canada being only slightly below 1928, although down considerably from 1929.

Canadian companies are frequently reporting in an optimistic vein to shareholders. While many of the letters sent to shareholders can be classed as sales promotion they nevertheless do give an idea of how the company is faring and how the future is shaping up, while some simply present the bald facts. Crown Dominion Oil company has just had an encouraging word for shareholders, gas sales, for the first six months of the current year being reported approximately 22 per cent. above those of 1929 and profits also measurably higher. R. D. Kerby, president and general manager of Durant motors, has informed stockholders that in spite of all the obstacles in the automobile industry Durant Motors is relatively in a better position in the industry in Canada than it was at the same time a year ago. The standing is higher, although, of course, the volume of business is very much lower. Every possible economy is effected and the officials quite optimistic that the showing over the entire year will be fairly creditable and acceptable to shareholders.

Reports of better prices and a fairly active market at the opening in Wall Street this morning had very little effect on the local market. Trading continued to be of dull nature, price variations of no weight. For a time the leaders sold fractionally above where they had left off last week, then they eased back to about the same level. Neither the public nor the professional element is interested in the market these days and the prospects that it will continue to coast along for some time yet.

Q.—(a) When you see a statement in the daily paper that "the shorts are covering" what is meant?

A.—When a client sells short, he is selling with the expectation of buying again at lower levels. He is selling stock which he does not possess. This he borrows through his broker. When prices are dropping and often at a low point we hear the term used that "the shorts are covering." This means that they the protecting the sales that they made by buying in the stock. They are compulsory purchases.

(b) How does short selling tend to steady the market?

A.—This buying tends to put the price of the stock up, or at least to stop its downward trend. By selling when stock is high and buying in when stock is low such people tend to put a brake on the fluctuations and make them less marked. In a bull market stock is scarce and the demand is greater than the supply. Shorts come along and sell short and thus increase the supply of the stock. This acts as a brake on the rising price.

Thus shorts have a steadying effect on the market whether prices are rising or falling. A steady market is more desirable, with stocks rising or falling slowly, commensurate with the earning power and conditions in general of the companies which they represent.

NEW CLUE FOUND IN MURDER CASE

Inspectors Concentrate Efforts on Hamilton and Toronto.

TONAWANDA VISITED.

TORONTO, July 28. (C.P.) —Hope for the solution of the Rumbold murder mystery was held out once more to-day with the provincial police concentrating their search on Hamilton and Toronto, the two cities on either side of Port Credit near which the body of Philip G. Rumbold, Tonawanda, N. Y., realtor, was found last Tuesday. Inspector William Stringer has looked to Hamilton to provide the solution of the crime since he visited the dead man's home town last week. While the Inspector was satisfied that the immediate solution does not lie in Tonawanda he is said to have found there the clue on which he is basing another drive against the culprits.

Toronto entered the calculations of investigators with the receipt of information over the week end that Rumbold had been seen here last Monday night. Inspector Stringer stated that this news was not inconsistent with the time or place of the murder.

FLOOD REFUGEES MOVED.

While acute famine conditions no longer prevail in the flooded districts between Peking and Tientsin, China, it is possible that more extended relief may become necessary later in North China. Relief societies are transferring a few thousand refugees as immigrants to North Manchuria from Honan and Shantung provinces. Arrangements are being made for their care there until the next planting season.

LOCAL MAN ADVANCED FROM AGENT OF COMPANY PRESIDENT

Late Senator Cox Built Up Canada Life Insurance to Present Standard.

HAS FINE RECORD.

Company Attains Billion Dollar Mark in Insurance World.

TORONTO, July 28—The Canada Life is now a billion dollar life insurance company.

Early last month Canada's oldest life insurance company—founded twenty years before confederation—found itself with just exactly $1,000,000,000 of life insurance on its books, a goal which has been achieved by only one other Canadian life company.

It took the company just 77 years to accumulate its first $500,000,000 and only five years to accumulate the second half billion. This is a significant commentary not only on the rapid growth of the company in the past few years, but also on the amazing growth of life insurance in the past decade.

The Canada Life was not only the first Canadian life insurance company but it was founded some twenty years previous to its earliest contemporaries in the Canadian field. The company was launched on August 21, 1847, by Hugh C. Baker, its founder and first president, and when it issued its first policy on October 29, 1847, the history of Canadian life insurance really began. Previous to that time the science of life insurance was practically unknown to the provinces. In its first annual report the company states that "the practice of life insurance was but little understood among us, while its governing principles were still less generally understood."

Thus it was that the company first went to parliament to obtain its charter, the application was thrown out by the House of Lords, one witty member remarking that the only capital which the petitioners possessed was their "Assurance." However, the charter was duly obtained and the much more difficult task began of educating people to the uses of, and need for, life insurance.

Started Agency Here.

Just fourteen years after the company had been founded, a young man by the name of George A. Cox, joined the company as a local agent in Peterborough. At the age of 21 he wrote his first application and through his tireless energy and indomitable will he gradually built up an agency that rose to very first place in the company's rolls. In a few years he had charge of all Ontario east of Toronto and in 1885 the territory became the Eastern Ontario branch, with headquarters at Toronto. Accordingly, steps were taken to build a building at Toronto commensurate with the dignity and position to which this branch of the company had attained. It was to this very office that the company moved its headquarters in 1899 when the decision was made to forsake Hamilton as a head office, for the Ontario capital.

In this present day and generation the name of Cox is perhaps the most outstanding in the company's annals for the young agent who joined in 1861 rose steadily up and up the company's corporate ladder and in 1899 became president of the company. He succeeded A. G. Ramsay, who retired in that year, having served the company magnificently in the position of manager, managing director and president, respectively. Mr. Ramsay came to the company in 1859 from Scotland, where he had been secretary of the Scottish Amicable Assurance Co. He assumed the position of manager, which had been vacated when John Young, who then held that post, was appointed president on the death of the founder and first president, Mr. Baker.

Since the turn of the century, when Senator Cox assumed the office of president, the company's progress has been remarkable and in keeping with the growth of life insurance as a national institution. In 1903 the company entered the British field and now has a splendid record of successful operation to its credit in that field.

In 1914, shortly before his death, Senator Cox turned the active administration of the company over to his eldest son, E. W. Cox, who had practically grown up in the Canada Life, having become connected with the general agency at Peterborough in the early eighties. Unfortunately, his incumbency of office was of short duration, for within six months he died, after a brief illness, and the responsibilities of office were ably assumed by Herbert C. Cox, who remained president for fourteen years until 1928 when, at his own request, he was relieved of the responsibility and was appointed chairman of the board, being succeeded by Leighton McCarthy, K.C., distinguished general counsel for the company for many years and latterly vice-president.

NORANDA UNCHANGED.

Lindsley's In Mixed Trend While Little Was Done in Oil Section.

TORONTO, July 28 (CP).—Outside of a 16-point advance in the shares of Oriole mining, price changes on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, during the early session to-day, were of little or no significance.

After reaching the high price of the day, 40, Oriole encountered profit-taking, which sent the stock back to 35, where it still showed an advance of 11 points, as compared with the closing price Friday of 24. Noranda was unchanged throughout. But Nickel went up 50, to $24.75, and Hudson Bay 15 to $8.25.

Lindsleys were mixed, Sherritt Gordon up 8 at $1.40, and Falconbridge 5, at $2.10, while Ventures was off 5, and Sudbury Basin held unchanged, at $1.45. Miscellaneous stocks were as follows: Big Missouri up 5, Base Metals 5, and Waite-Ackerman Montgomery 10; Abana and Keely were unchanged.

Little was doing in the oils, Acme up a little more than 2 points, Ajax 2 and Calmont 5, Foothills, Home and Associated were unchanged.

Gold stocks were generally firmer, Hollinger up 10, McIntyre 5, Teck Hughes 5, Wright Hargreaves 1, Kirkland Lake 1 and Barry Hollinger ¼. Howey lost 2¾ and Sylvanite 4, Siscoe was unchanged.

Builder and Cottage Port Credit Murder Victim Ordered at Sunset Cove

On the southeast shore of Lake Nipissing, Phillip C. Rumbold, Tonawanda, N.Y., realtor, whose murdered body was found on the Mineola Rd., Port Credit, Ont., selected a site for a summer home four years ago. Since his death, the circumstances surrounding his holiday activities reveal that after he ordered the cottage built, he was forced to cancel the order. Robert Byers then reclaimed the property which is part of the Sunset Cove Inn resort. The cottage in its prominent position on the cove is shown in photograph above. Robert Byers, who built the cottage, is also shown holding his small daughter.

FIFTY YEARS OF CONSTANT ENTERPRISE

A CROWD USED TO GATHER

The proud owners of the first automobiles in Canada used to drive around to the Imperial Oil yard for gasoline. Filling the car with gasoline was a ceremony, and a crowd used to gather to watch it. The deed was done with a five gallon bucket.

The five gallon bucket was the first form of service station, and the next was a tank which Imperial Oil put on the wall of one of its plants to meet the growing demand.

Today, of course, there are Imperial service stations for motorists in every corner of Canada. And there are caches in the north for Arctic adventurers — distributing points across the prairies for the Western farmer — supply stations for the mines—airport stations at landing fields.

It has been the work of Imperial Oil for fifty years to meet the new needs of transportation and industry with new service and new perfection.

Because this work has been done well, Imperial has grown from one small plant at Sarnia, Ontario, to six great refineries—miles of tank cars—its ships on the Atlantic and the Pacific—nine thousand of its men at work from the Arctic to Peru.

Fifty years of constant enterprise are in the products Imperial Oil sells today.

Marvelube is Imperial's finest motor oil.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Waves of buying swept the corn market upward Saturday to 16 cents a bushel higher than was the case hardly a fortnight ago. The general rush Saturday to purchase came about largely as a result of a long-range official weather forecast indicating that no general break in drought conditions is probable this week.

One consequence of the new bulge in corn values was that No. 1 white corn and No. 1 red wheat changed hands in Chicago Saturday at identical figures, the first time in many years that corn and wheat have been of equal value, corn quotations usually being far under wheat.

Closing prices Saturday for corn were at virtually the day's topmost level, 1⅛ to 2 3-8 cents a bushel over yesterday's finish. Wheat closed irregular, varying from ¼ cent off to 5-8 cent up, with oats at ¼ cent decline to ⅛ cent advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 5 cents.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 28. — The wheat market experienced alternative periods of weakness and strength on Saturday, and finished off ⅛ to ¾ cent; when good growing weather was promised the Prairie Provinces for the week-end in the Meteorological Bureau forecast. Right from the start quotes went lower under moderate selling pressure, but soaring corn prices at Chicago carried wheat also into higher ground. The final dip ran values down almost to the low points of the session.

Trading was light and pretty much local in character.

Offerings of cash wheat were light and spreads on better grades were fractionally better, although some lower grades were 1 to ½ cent easier. Domestic demand for oats and barley continued good, as did export demand for rye.

BLACKMAILER IS TAKEN BY VICTIM

Lansing Auto Magnate Leads Police to Spot Chosen For Payment.

WANTED $15,000

LANSING, July 28.—Richard H. Scott, president of the Reo Motor Car Company, led Michigan State police to the capture of Samuel Meyers, 39 years old, who is in jail charged with having attempted to extort $15,000 from the millionaire manufacturer and philanthropist under threat of killing Mr. Scott, his wife, their son, Maurice M. Scott, and their grandson, Richard Scott, five years old.

Meyers was placed under arrest as he reached for a package ostensibly containing $15,000 in cash deposited by the Reo president at a point back of the sheds of the Van Winkle Coal Company, River and Hazen streets.

Scott arrived at the rendezvous several minutes in advance of the alleged extortionist and, after leaving the dummy package, retired from the scene while state police officers waited for their quarry. When Meyers appeared, detectives covered him and took him into custody.

Joy Brings Tears, Pain Brings Laughs By Indian Tribe Members In Mexico

MEXICO CITY, July 28 (Special to The Examiner, Copyright, 1930).—A people who laugh when they are sad and weep when things are going well with them has been discovered in Southern Mexico. These queer folk are the Mixe Indians who inhabit the backwoods of the semi-tropical state of Caxaca. This tribe, according to travellers, in many respects bears a close resemblance to certain African negroes.

One of the villagers declares that when he entered a Mixe village the natives wept as they came to greet him. He thought that death or desolation had befallen the community, and was surprised to find all was well with the townsfolk. While there, he suffered a severe toothache and was annoyed to find those he encountered laugh merrily when he indicated his discomforture.

These people are idol worshipers and visitors witnessed dogs, cats, pigs and donkeys being slaughtered as sacrifices to various stone and wooden gods. The Indians laughed during this ceremony, for it was a sad occasion. Their petition was that thunder and lightning storms be less frequent.

Another sacrificial ceremony consisted of the beheading of a flock of turkeys and burning the carcases. The natives wept during this rite, for it was a thanksgiving sacrifice as the crops had been unusually good. It is whispered that human sacrifices are made by these people to their numerous gods, but no direct evidence has been forthcoming.

MANAGEMENT IS

cheese factories that showed a profit, Mr. Ferguson declared that he was not interested so much in them as in the farmer who was producing the milk.

Canada had lost her market for butter and cheese, and other countries such as New Zealand, which had more favorable conditions, were competing in her own market, with a cut price. "No business can stand up against an unfair competition," he maintained, and went on to explain how the pay cheque of the factory worker was the property of the farmer, through the purchase of Canadian produce.

In referring to the statement of Mr. Crerar at Brandon that "this was the greatest and most prosperous year he had ever known in the history of the country," Mr. Ferguson said that "one would almost doubt the sanity of a man who made a statement of that kind." Of the agricultural implement industry, the speaker pointed out that imports in the past few years had increased from eight to forty million dollars, and that many of the implement factories were only running three days a week. Referring to these imports, the speaker said "We want to make and do these things in our own country,' and scored the Government as not looking after the interests of the country in this instance.

The Premier touched on the unemployment question, stating that the reason for it was because we are sending our money out of the country.

He said he was glad that there were so many women in the audience as the problem was one that was vital to them, as the home spenders. "We are fighting to-day for the maintenance of Canadian homes," he declared, and emphasized the fact that those homes could only be maintained if the heads got sufficient money to support them. Canadians could not compete with foreign labor or foreign standards of living, and because of this fact there were only two courses open, to lower the standard of living, and this was a thing that Canadians did not want to do, or put a fence around to keep out unfair competition.

He scored the countervailing duties and the tariff in general as being regulated by Washington and emphasized the fact that he "objected to anybody outside Canada running Canada's business. We elect people to do that," declared Mr. Ferguson, "and if the Government cannot do that, let them get out and some one else come in who can."

Complete Highway.

Mr. Ferguson also stated that the Campbellford to Brighton Highway would be completed as he had promised the people of Northumberland.

In referring to the immigration question, the speaker deplored the fact that between July 11 and 21, 873 Europeans had entered Canada through the port of Halifax "to add to our difficulties and aggravate our situation."

He was not opposed to immigration from the Motherland, for he hoped that the country would always have fresh infusions of British blood to carry on our Empire stock.

The speaker described the English preference as a "Padded misrepresentation of the real facts," and declared that it was impossible to bring prosperity to one half of the Empire by bleeding the other half. The solution of the problem, he stated, lies not in preference, but in reciprocal trade within the British Empire.

Mr. Maybee, who was greeted with hearty applause by the meeting, dealt entirely with the refutation of statements by the Liberal candidate, criticizing heartily the special W. A. Fraser campaign section of the Cobourg Sentinel-Star. Quoting what Mr. Fraser has done for Trenton, the speaker stated that the Liberal candidate has had the patronage of the government for the past four years, and has used it in Hastings County and not Northumberland. This was seen in the erection of an airport in that town. Of the endorsation of the Liberal candidate by the Prime Minister, Mr. Maybee read an endorsation of his candidacy from the Hon. R. B. Bennett, in which the opposition leader stated that "victory was in the air."

Of Mr. Fraser's criticism at a Cobourg meeting of Mrs. Macdonald entering the field as a Liberal-Progressive, he pointed out that in the 1926 election, Mr. Fraser himself ran as a Liberal-Progressive.

Referring to a statement made by Mr. Fraser in his Campbellford speech on Thursday, regarding a worker of the overhead bridge on the Front road being fired because he was a Liberal, Mr. Maybee read an affidavit made by the man in charge of the work, a Mr. Empey, before a Trenton lawyer, to the effect that the man in question was promoted to foreman. He then proved unable to hold his job, and admitted that he had not used his tools for 25 years. Mr. Empey did not know the political conviction of this man, and in his place an ex-service man had been hired, whose political persuasions he was also unaware of. These statements of the Liberals, said Mr. Maybee, appealing for the support of the electors, "are veiled expressions denoting lunacy and degeneracy."

Major Belford also addressed the gathering appealing to the farmers to guard their interests in regard to the milk situation. He touched on the unemployment question, and made a strong appeal to the women voters to consider the issues as they affect the home and family life.

Appeals Tory Cause

Sandy McDonald, the boy orator, made a strong and splendid appeal on behalf of the Conservative cause was greeted with tremendous applause. He was eloquent and dramatic, and showed promise of becoming an outstanding speaker in political life. Before his address he presented Mrs. Ferguson with a bouquet of flowers, to which she graciously responded.

The large audience was orderly and attentive. Only two interruptions occurred. Mr. Maybee, who was accompanied by Mrs. Maybee, was heckled by a member of the opposition in the gathering, who after being answered by the candidate continued his interruption which resulted in his expulsion by the police.

Wes. Kelly Averages 40.35 Miles Per Hour at Clear Lake.

SEVERAL FAST EVENTS.

Frank James and Bill Butler Also Among Those to Make Records.

SOUTH BEACH, July 28 (By Staff Reporter). — New speed records for Canadian amateur outboard motorboat racing continued to be set up here on Saturday when the greatest array of sea fleas ever to be assembled in local waters churned the waters of Clear Lake in the National Yacht Club's races for the championship of the Kawartha Lakes.

Seventeen sea fleas got the gun together at the start of one of these great races. Every record was made in competition along the Canadian Power Boat Association's official five-mile course.

The Records.

Bill Butcher, Guelph, free-for-all —42½ miles per hour.

West Kelly, Peterborough, Class D —40.35 m.p.h.

Bill Butler, Guelph, Class B — 5 miles in 9.31 1-5 seconds.

There were 17 entries in this race, and although Miss Guelph was easily the fastest boat in the race because of the greater power of her engine, Kelly gave Butler a good run. The driving of "Young" J. R. Ardiel with his light engine stood out in this race.

Class D.

1—"Andy" Cleland, Hamilton, Pendrake.

2—Wes Kelly, Peterborough, Kinkajou.

3—Harold Ballard, Toronto, Sinmac.

Cleland took the first heat, but Kelly returned to take the second handily, making the fastest time of the race.

Two In Tie For Canadian Golf Title

ARMOUR MEETS LEO DIEGEL ON WEDNESDAY FOR THE TITLE

With Farrell Conceded Championship, Pair Make Record to Lower Mark.

TOTALS OF 277.

Tony Manero Ties MacDonald Smith For Fourth Place on the Round.

ANCASTER, July 28. — Tommy Armour, "the man who was out of the running" achieved the greatest come-back and the greatest round of 18 holes known to a national open championship when he shot an almost incredible 64 here on Saturday to tie Leo Diegel, defending champion, for the Canadian open title. The play-off is to be held on Wednesday.

It was the most dramatic final of any Canadian open, and there is no record in British, United States or Canadian open championships of an 18-hole round as low.

When Armour went out on his last 18 holes with a 54-hole score of 213 no one thought that he would win or tie for the championship. He went out in the score-wake of Tony Manero, who had 208; Johnny Farrell, 209; Walter Hagen, 210; and MacDonald Smith, 211, to mention the most notable of those ahead of him.

Farrell Conceded Victory, but—

Johnny Farrell, the smiling pro from Mamaroneck, N.Y., had practically been conceded the championship. He came in before Diegel and Armour with a total of 278, a stroke less than Tony Manero, who had finished before him. A radio broadcast had pronounced him winner and he was receiving congratulations.

"Wait until they're all in", said Farrell cautiously with what most deemed to be an excess of modesty.

Then came the amazing report from the course. It passed from mouth to mouth; it electrified hundreds. Armour, the supposedly out-of-it Armour, was six below par coming up to the seventeenth tee and Diegel, four times winner of the Canadian open, was three below. If they shot the last two holes in par they would tie for the lead with 64 and 67 for 277.

Tense crowds gathered around the eighteenth green as the two men came up. They had done the seventeenth in par. Both balls were on the edge of the last green in two. They were down in twos for par fours. They had tied and Farrell had sunk behind.

Farrell lost the championship on the eleventh and twelfth holes. He played his first nine beautifully, three under par. On the eleventh tee he hooked into a bush and got out only about ten yards with his niblick. His approach was poor and he took six strokes—two above the par four. He hooed again, amazing enough, on the next tee landing in the woods to the left. His ball was found to be under a catapault-shaped sapling.

Smiling a wry smile and with no comment, Farrell bent down to survey the lie. He tried putting his arm around one branch, but gave this up for a crouch. He made a valiant out of 50 yards, but too five for a par four. These holes lost him the match, though he got a birdie on the fifteenth.

Armour went his spectacular round with well-nigh perfect strokes. His drives were straight and long—300 yards where need be—his approaches were dead to the pin and his putting deadly. But in one hole, the first, he approached badly and this gave him his one above par here.

Par for the course:
Out ..... 44 543 454—35
In ..... 444 344 354—35—70

Armour's card was:
Out ..... 544 333 354—33
In ..... 344 338 354—33—66

Diegel, the titleholder, and known as an unorthodox player and the freakish-style putter, made two birdies on the first nine and one on the second, shooting all the other holes in par, the course par being 70. His putting, which had been off, improved, and he had cured himself of a persistent tendancy to hook noticeable in the first two days. And Armour's cure of his putting weakness was largely responsible for his round, as his tee and fairway work in his morning round of 71 was faultless.

Diegel's card follows:
Out ..... 444 443 454—33
In ..... 443 344 354—34

All the players have put in special practice for this cup tie and all arrangements are completed whereby everything will be a success.

Fan sare requested to keep at least six feet away from the goals, also not to talk to the custodian. All fans will have to conform to the rule stating that they must keep off the touchline on King Edward Park.

INDIANS' ACE STOPS MACKS

Wesley Ferrell Chalks Up Sixteenth Win By Reason of 7-4 Victory.

SENATORS BEAT SOX.

CLEVELAND, July 18. — The Cleveland Indians won the final game of the series from the league-leading Philadelphia Athletics yesterday 7-4. The Athletics had won the first three. A four run rally in the fifth inning clinched the victory, which was the sixteenth of the season for Wes Ferrell.

SENATORS CHASE JINX.

CHICAGO, July 28. — Fred Marberry permitted the White Sox only three hits yesterday to pitch Washington to a 10-1 victory, its only triumph of the four game set.

Dutch Henry, who started for Chicago, was hit hard, especially in the sixth, when the Senators scored seven times, and was hampered by poor support. Five misplays were charged to the Sox, all of them figuring in the scoring in some manner.

TIGERS WHIP YANKEES.

DETROIT, Mich, July 28. — New York closed its western road trip here yesterday by taking a 7-3 beating by Detroit, thus making matters even on the series here, and establishing a record of 10 wins and 9 losses for the trip.

BOSTON LOSES TWICE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 28. — The St. Louis Browns defeated the Boston Red Sox in both ends of a twin bill here yesterday, 10-9, and 9-6. The games were featured by nine home runs. Webb, Goslin and Kress hit for the circuit in the opener. In the night cap Goslin and Todt made two home runs each and Webb and Metzler one each.

Stribling Opposes Phil Scott To-night

Open-air Boxing "On Trial" in the Old Country.

LONDON, July 28. — Not only W. L. ("Young") Stribling and Phil Scott but open air boxing and the whole sport of pugilism will be on trial, so far as Great Britain is concerned, when the Georgian and the British champion meet in a ten round bout in Wimbledon stadium to-night.

In the land where it rains on the slightest provocation, and sometimes on no provocation at all, open air bouts are a gamble, and the last one at Wembley, in which Tom Gibbons figured, cost the promoter so much money Tom had to go home without his share.

This eventuality is unlikely at Wimbledon, because the young promoter, Jeff Dickson, appears to have pleased everybody with his arrangements and 30,000 customers are expected to crowd into the stadium. It's the Wimbledon Greyhound Stadium, incidentally, and not the Tennis Arena, with its patch of lush turf, that is guarded year round like the Crown jewels.

TORONTO BREAKS DOUBLE SERIES WITH RED WINGS

Champions Take Opener 8-5 and Lose the Next Game 4-3.

ORIOLES DOWN CATS.

Bisons Hit Stride to Take Double-header From Montreal.

ROCHESTER, July 28.—One rally by the hitless wonders, the Toronto Leafs, brought an even split for the O'Neillmen here Sunday. Four hits and three runs in the second game decided that tilt, won by 4-3, after Rochester had triumphed over 'Hoot' Gibson and Phil Page in the first encounter, 8-5.

Bob McGraw, veteran, was the victim of the assault of the Canadians, and after that frame he went to the seventh before the Leafs could score again with a run that did not look necessary at the time, but was the final margin of victory. Frank Barnes wavered in the seventh of the second for a brief moment, but he retired "Pepper" Martin for the final out to strand Toporcer on first base with what would have been the tying run.

Barnes hurled strong ball in the pinches, allowing no more than two hits in any one frame and only runs in single attempts, these coming in the first, sixth and seventh, the tallies in the first and seventh coming with two out.

Worthington led the attack on Barnes, an old teammate of Houston 1928 days. He had three hits, including a triple. Davis was the best for the visitors in this fray, getting three solid bingles and scoring a pair of runs.

BIRDS DOWN CATS.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 28.—In a twin battle marked by high explosives, the Orioles downed the Jersey City Black Cats here Sunday, 10-5 and 5-2.

A total of eleven home runs were clouted, the Birds having nine of these robust clouts. Joe Hauser, with one in each game, brought his season's total to 39. Vince Barton had three in the opening game, while Gill had two and Stroner one.

Walker and Selkirk hit four basers for the Cats, while Padden socked the other for the Birds in the nightcap.

KEYS AND BEARS DIVIDE.

READING, Pa., July 28. — Reading and Newark broke even in their four-game series by dividing a double-header here Sunday. The Bears won an 8-2 decision in the opener, but Reading came back in the nightcap to pound out a 9-3 win.

Pete Scott hit his twenty-first home run of the season in the second game with two on base.

BISONS HIT STRIDE.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 28. — The Buffalo Bisons made it four straight triumphs in two days at the expense of Canadian foes when they inflicted a double lacing on the Montreal Royals here Sunday afternoon by 8 to 4 and 3 to 1.

Home run smashes played the leading roles in each game. Ralph Shinners pounded two gigantic drives out of the park to account for four tallies in the opener. Ollie Sax smacked one over the left centre field wall.

ROBINS WIN DOUBLE-HEADER TO LENGTHEN LEAGUE LEAD

Nine Homers in Twin Fixture at Brooklyn Home Field.

KLEIN GETS TWO.

BROOKLYN, July 28.—The league-leading Robins gained a game and a half on the Cubs and two full games over the Giants yesterday by twice defeating the Phillies in a double-header. The scores were 10—6 and 9—6.

Jim Elliott, pitching the first game for the Robins, was knocked out of the box in the ninth, but did not surrender the early lead given him by his team. Sweetland was batted hard. Roy Hansen, recruit Philly southpaw, held the Robins until the sixth inning of the second game when Wright's homer with two on dealt the Quakers a blow from which they could not recover.

Nine home runs featured the afternoon. Klein's two in the first game brought his total for the year to 29. Wright, Lopez and Southern also hit two home runs, while Thompson accounted for one.

GIANTS LOSE TWICE

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Giants dropped both ends of yesterday's double bill to the Pirates by scores of 10—8 and 8—4, thus ending their home stand against the West with nine victories and eight defeats.

Cranthan led the attack with a single, double and homer, while Traynor also poled a homer.

TRIPLE-PLAY SAVES REDS

CINCINNATI, July 28.—A triple-play in the sixth, the second they have executed against Chicago this season, enabled the Reds to defeat the Cubs, 6—5, here yesterday, for their fifth straight triumph over the champions.

With the Reds leading, 2—1, the Cubs came to bat in the sixth. English leading off with a triple. He scored on Cuyler's single. Wilson then doubled to score Cuyler, and went to third on a wild pitch. Dan Taylor walked, and when Grimm hit to Ford, Wilson started for home, and was trapped. In the meantime, Grimm had started for second, and was run down between there and first. Taylor tried for third, and was nipped on the way, thus ending the Cubs' threat to run up a substantial lead. The Reds came back to score four times in their half of the same frame.

TWO FOR CARDINALS

BOSTON, July 28.—The Cardinals took a double-header from the Braves, 2—0 and 6—1, here yesterday, evening the current series at three apiece.

Sylvester Johnson held Boston to three scattered singles in the first game, while St. Louis's two runs both were circuit clouts, hit by George Fisher and Chick Hafey. It was Hafey's fourth home run of the series.

NUNNS BEATEN IN THE FINALS

G. Lyttleton Rogers of Ireland Gives Impressive Display.

FOR TENNIS TITLE.

TORONTO, July 28. — The Canadian lawn tennis championship for 1930 were brought to a conclusion on Saturday afternoon on the courts of the Toronto Tennis Club at Price street in the presence of a large and enthusiastic gallery which stayed doggedly on through two intervals forced by showers of rain and enjoyed to the full, judging by the frequent applause, a series of fine exhibitions of lawn tennis.

The winners and runners up in the various events are given below together with the scores in the final round.

Men's Singles.

G. Lyttleton Rogers, Dublin, Ireland, defeated Gilbert Nunns, Toronto, 6-4, 8-6, 0-6, 9-7.

Veterans' Doubles.

M. S. Glassco, Hamilton, and H. Nunns, defeated W. H. M. Bonnell and A. G. Hudson, Toronto, 6-4, 8-6.

G. Lyttleton Rogers of Dublin, Ireland, is the 1930 Canadian lawn tennis champion and succeeds to the title won last year by Dr. Jack Wright of Montreal, who did not defend. Gilbert Nunns, the Toronto Davis Cup player, gave him a terrific battle and all but succeeded in defeating him. Match point in the fourth set was more than once in Nunns' hands and on one occasion what would in 99 cases out of 100 been a gift to the Torontonian was lost through excess of keenness and the high tension of nerves natural to such an emergency. It was quite evident after the match that had Nunns scored that one point victory would have been his, as the tall Irishman—6 feet 7 inches in his socks—actually collapsed from fatigue, when he reached the dressing room.

RAYBESTOS TRIMS COGNAWAGAS 7-3

Little Heavy Hitting in Exhibition Contest on Saturday.

The Raybestos trimmed the Cognawagas in an exhibition game played at the Exhibition Park on Saturday afternoon, 7 runs to 3. The Rays used Maudsley and Kitchen on the Mound, while Billingsley and Holmes twirled for the Cogs.

There was little heavy hitting in the contest. The Rays took an early lead and maintained it.

"Red" and Len Hollingsworth played with Cogs and Star caught.

SATURDAY RACES ARE CALLED OFF

Promoters Forced to Cancel Program Owing to Unpromising Weather Conditions.

Keen disappointment awaited the crowds seeking admittance to the night races on Saturday, when the announcement was made that the racing had been cancelled owing to the unpromising weather conditions, and keener disappointment waited round the corner for the promoters, when the threatening clouds dispersed giving way to weather which was ideal. The slight downfall of rain earlier in the evening had placed the track in fine shape and a small handful of real racing enthusiasts eagerly waited around in the hope of some entertainment. By this time most of the outside horses had left for another destination, but it was seriously considered racing the local horses. Earnest discussion and a handsome offer of co-operatino on the part of the promoters failed to receive general assent and the evening ended in a blank.

QUEST COMPETES FOR CANADA'S CUP

This Will Be Selected to Defend Trophy at Rochester in Yacht Series.

TORONTO, July 28. — A decision was finally arrived at, and officially announced, by the Selection Committee of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, regarding the boat to represent that club in particular, and Canada in general, in the race for the Canada's Cup. That boat is the Quest. This information was divulged at a sailors' banquet held at the R.C.Y.C. on Saturday night. It was also announced that the Thisbe of the Rochester Yacht Club would defend the cup for the United States.

It was announced some time ago Norman Gooderham will skip the Canadian boat.

The Quest is the Fife-designed Scottish-Canadian boat, built in Canada at Oakville. It is the white boat of the trio of three boats built by a Royal Canadian Yacht Club syndicate.

The series of races for the Canada's Cup take place off Rochester during the week of Aug. 11. It will be a series of three out of five races. Canada will be well represented by the Quest and Norman Gooderham in the attempt to lift the cup that the United States has held for 23 years.

New Yacht Added To Canada List

The Nonchalant, owned by Major James E. Hahn, President of De Forest Crosley Radio Company, Limited, Toronto. The Nonchalant is a seventy-two foot auxiliary yawl, Hereschoff built, which is sailing off the Atlantic coast this year. Major Hahn will bring this craft into Canadian waters next year under the colors of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club. It will be a decided addition to the Canadian sailing fleet, being one of the largest sailing yachts in Canada.

PETERBOROUGH BUILT BOATS PROMINENT PART IN RACES

Bill Butler's "Miss Guelph II," a "Hurricane" Model From P.C.C.

ARE WORTHY CRAFTS.

Boats built by the Peterborough Canoe Company figured most prominently in the big sea flea racing meeting held at South Beach during the past three days.

The premier race of the whole meet, the grand free-for-all handicap, was won by Bill Butler's "Miss Guelph II" a "Hurricane" model built by the Peterborough Canoe Company here. Butler's boat was powered by an Evenrude "Four-Sixty" motor, a powerful and weighty engine but so graceful and trim was his craft that he sped around the course at a terrific speed to overtake the other boats, which with lesser handicaps had started earlier. The boat rode along like a greyhound of the waves.

This was the final race of the regatta and boats with various powered motors competed. The handicaps were set as even as the horse power ratings and previous speed records of each class would permit. Bill Butler, with the heaviest motor, started last and maintaining an even speed of more than 43 miles an hour gradually spurred his way to the front. He passed a little Class A. entrant, which had started far in advance, in the home stretch to take first place.

On Saturday the same driver in his "Miss Guelph I" also a Peterborough Century design, powered with an "Evenrude Speedy Bee" finished first in the B Class race.

Bill speaks highly of the Peterborough Canoe Company's boats, having used them with winning results in many races this season and last. Butler is the driver who took first places in the 15-mile Derby at the Canadian National Exhibition race last year, driving at that time his Peterborough Bullet.

Right here it might be mentioned that Butler with his "Miss Guelph II" is being picked to win the Lipton Cup at the C.N.E. races this fall. The Lipton Cup symbolizes premier sea flea racing honors in Canada.

COLLEGIATE GOULASH

Boil a pair of fancy garters
In a pan of clabbered milk
Till you loosen the elastic
And can squeeze it from the silk;
Frost the center of a doughnut,
Split and halve it, if you must;
Marinate with gas or cider
And a pound of iron rust.
Grind this with the salvaged rubber
Till the garters start to faint,
Then revive them very slowly
With a can of auto paint.
Brush the top with garlic jelly;
Dot with dainty bits of coal,
And then bake it very quickly
In a bomb-proof casserole.

POLICE PUZZLED BY ART THEFTS

Many Valuable Pictures Have Been Stolen in England This Year.

JEWELS ALSO MISSING.

LONDON, Eng., July 28 (C.P.). — British police are puzzled by the unusually large numbers of art objects stolen this year.

The latest in the series was the abstraction Saturday night of a valuable Reynolds portrait from the London home of the Earl of Minto. The Earl and Countess were dining out, leaving only the servants and children behind.

When they returned a portrait of the first Countess of Minto was missing, also a string of 300 pearls and other jewels valued at $100,000. The picture was valued at a like amount.

The Reynolds portrait had been unframed and rolled up in the library. A Romney had been meddled with but the thieves apparently were disturbed before they were able to take it, probably by the crying of the Earl's infant son, Lord Melgund, in an adjoining room.

Three weeks ago a Van Dyke portrait of Ferdinand, "The Cardinal," was stolen from the Earl of Clarendon's house, but later was recovered. Other cases this year include the theft of eighteen pictures, including Rembrandts and Gainsboroughs, from the Carlton galleries, a Van Dyke stolen between Ostend and London, and a Hoppner from a residence at Stanmore.

BAILIEBORO IN SECOND PLACE

Highway Town Entry Scores 10-1 Decision Over Alderville on Saturday.

NORTHUMBERLAND LEAGUE.

ROSENEATH, July 26 (Examiner Correspondence). — Riding over the Alderville entry in the league by a score of 10-1 in a ball game at Roseneath on Saturday, Bailieboro jumped into second place in the Northumberland League standing. A high-class exhibition of ball satisfied a large gallery of fans present.

The game was anybody's up to the seventh, although Bailieboro had managed to register two in the first innings. Then Bailieboro began to hit Walter Crowe, on the Alderville mound, and four trotted over the plate before the innings closed. Another four by Bailieboro in the ninth brought their total to 10. A run by Alderville in the last inning prevented a whitewash.

Hastings leads the league with Bailieboro in second place and Alderville in the cellar. Baltimore dropped out.

The teams:

Bailieboro—M. Wood, c; A. Deyell, p; S. Harris, 1b; W. Johnston, 2b; J. Barnard, 3b; G. Dean, rf; C. Butters, cf; W. Lloyd, ss.

A BEDTIME STORY

By Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S JIMPITY JUMP.

"Can you whistle?" asked the Fox of the Bob Cat one day as the two bad chaps met in the woods not far from Uncle Wiggily's hollow stump bungalow.

"Can I whistle?" spoke the Fox, a cunning look coming over his sly face. "Of course I can whistle!"

"You're lucky!" said the Bob Cat. "I can only mew and howl."

"Do you want me to whistle?" asked the Fox.

"Not now," whispered the Bob Cat. "Wait until we get to Uncle Wiggily's bungalow. Then I want you to whistle as loudly as you can."

"What good will that do?" asked the Fox, looking at the Bob Cat's silly little tail and trying not to laugh.

"It will do a lot of good," mewed the Bob Cat. "If everything comes out right, we'll catch that rabbit this time."

"Pooh! Nonsense!" sneered the Fox. "We'll never catch that rabbit. He is too smart for us."

"We'll catch him this time!" whispered the Bob Cat. "I know we have tried many times without catching him, but

He gave a quick jimpity jump.

that's because I didn't know you could whistle. You never told me."

"You never asked me," said the Fox. "Anyhow I don't see what my whistling has to do with catching Uncle Wiggily."

"It has a lot!" mewed the chap with the silly little tail. "This is what we'll do. We'll go to the hollow stump bungalow. I'll hide near the front steps, and you stand off a little way and whistle as loudly as you can. Uncle Wiggily will hear your whistle. He will hop out to see what it means. I'll jump up and shut the door behind him so he can't pop back in and lock us out, and then we'll have him. How is that for a trick?"

"Seems like a pretty good one," snarled the Fox. Then the two bad chaps started for the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow. But, all of a sudden, the Fox said:

"Look here, Bob Cat, suppose you do shut the door after Uncle Wiggily comes out when I whistle? Why, his wife or Nurse Jane will open the door for him and he'll pop inside and lock it and we'll be as badly off as before."

"No," mewed the Bob Cat. "Uncle Wiggily is home all alone. I made sure of that before I met you. Once we get him outside his bungalow we can easily catch him after I shut the door so he can't pop back in."

"All right," growled the Fox, who was getting hungry. "Come on!"

Reaching the bungalow, the Bob Cat hid himself near the front steps out of sight. Scrouching down behind a bush in front the Fox began to whistle loudly. Inside the bungalow Uncle Wiggily heard the toot toot tooting whistle and said to himself, being all alone:

"I wonder who is whistling? I'll go out and look."

Out of the door he hopped and no sooner was he on the steps than up from where he was hiding sprang the Bob Cat. The bad chap slipped behind Uncle Wiggily, slammed shut the door and howled:

"Now we have him!"

"Sure!" barked the Fox, jumping out from behind the bush. The two bad chaps rushed at Uncle Wiggily, but as soon as the rabbit gentleman saw them he leaped off the porch and began running around the bungalow. For Mr. Longears knew if he tried to open the door to go back in the Bob Cat would grab him. So around and around the bungalow ran Uncle Wiggily as fast as he could run.

"Catch him!" howled the Fox.

"Come on!" mewed the Bob Cat.

The two hungry bad chaps chased Uncle Wiggily around and around the bungalow, going the same way he was going. If one of them had thought to turn and go the other way, he might have bumped into the rabbit and so have caught him. But they didn't.

Around and around and around the bungalow ran Uncle Wiggily.

"Oh, if there was only a window open so I could jump in I would be safe," he thought, but no window was open. Then Uncle Wiggily looked up at the roof and saw his big, wide chimney. "Oh, if I could only hop up high enough I could jump down through the chimney, the way Santa Claus does on Christmas Eve, and I would be safe!" he murmured. "I wonder if I could do a jimpity jump big enough and high enough so I could get down the chimney? I'm going to try it."

Now rabbits are very good at running and jumping. All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily began to run faster and faster. Then he gave a quick jimpity jump high in the air, sailing above the roof of his bungalow. Straight for the chimney he jumped and down inside it he plopped' there being no fire to burn him. Down through the chimney into his bungalow the rabbit gentleman dropped and the bad chaps couldn't get him.

"Fooled again!" growled the whistling Fox as he slunk away with the Bob Cat. "Fooled again!"

NO MORE PILES

HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, is guaranteed to banish any form of Pile misery. It gives quick action even in old, stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and strengthens the affected parts and removes blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only an internal medicine can do this, that's why salves and cutting fail. McDermid & Jury, Bond's Drug Store and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID with guarantee that it cost you nothing if it doesn't end all Pile agony.

S. S. PICNIC IS HUGE SUCCESS

Members of St. George's Anglican Church Enjoy Annual Outing.

THROUGH UPPER LAKES.

The annual Sunday School picnic of St. George's Church was held on Friday last. This outing is always a popular event with members of St. George's congregation, and a good crowd of parents and friends boarded the Stoney Lake to enjoy the day with the young people. The weatherman always does his best to help forward the success of the day, and this year he excelled himself in that respect. Everyone was in good spirits as the steamer left George Street Wharf at 8.30 a.m. to wend her way throughout numerous locks and up the river Otonabee. The steamer cruised along the east shore of Clear Lake, affording a good view of the Rotary Boys' Camp, and as far as "Big Island," at the entrance to Stony Lake. Rounding the island the boat returned along the west shore of Clear Lake, passing close in to Kawartha Park and Sandy Point.

On returning to Young's Point a halt was made, and the party made their way to the school grounds, where the sports and races were run off.

After passing through Lakefield, "tea-time" arrived, and about 7.15 George Street Wharf was reached. In spite of the high mark kept by the thermometer throughout the day, many of the young people enjoyed being on the lower deck, and the sounds of music and dancing could be heard almost continuously. A large measure of the day's success was due to the untiring efforts of the devoted band of teachers, and the able support of the rector. The booth of ice cream, candies, soft drinks, and milk was in the capable hands of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dorrell and Miss Grace Field, and did such a roaring business that everything was sold out before the home trip was completed. During the latter stage of the homeward trip, the Rector expressed sincere thanks to the parents and friends who, by their presence, had contributed to one of the most successful picnics ever held.

On the homeward journey, great excitement prevailed among the juveniles when it was announced that every child on board would receive a free ice-cream cone. Needless to say, no second announcement was required, even babies in arms claiming their cones.

Pastor and Members of New Kiss Cult

The indignation of John Lambert, unemployed landscape gardner, over ritual observed at the Church of God and Saints of Christ, when his wife, as one of the flock, kissed the colored pastor and joined in community feet and clothes washing, has thrown the kiss cult before the public eye and into the health court. In short, Mr. Lambert states he is going to ask for an investigation as to just what goes on. Here are shown: (1) George Adams, colored pastor of the church, who admits the kissing ceremony, but denies hugging is practiced. (2) Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bruce, members of the church, demonstrate the symbol of the kiss cult, and (3) Norman Lambert, aged 10, son of John Lambert, a young member of the congregation.

RELIGIOUS SCRAP FOLLOWS ARREST

Extra Police Patrol Liverpool Court to Prevent Serious Rioting.

PRISONERS ATTACKED.

LIVERPOOL, Eng., July 28. (C.P.)—After a night of ceaseless vigilance with hundreds of police patrolling the streets and ambulances parked for emergencies, fighting between Catholics and Protestants in the Netherfield Road area was resumed to-day.

The religious partisans stormed a police court where several persons arrested during yesterday's disturbances were being brought before a Magistrate and held for trial.

Outside the court building a huge crowd gathered, divided into two factions which booed and shouted at each other when the prisoners appeared.

The troubles started at the doors of the courtroom where several women took the initiative, jostling the prisoners, screaming and refusing to be quieted.

Soon the place was in an uproar and one woman was arrested for assaulting another, subsequently three others were taken into custody.

The fighting had been so fierce yesterday that the authorities had an ample force of officers on hand to prevent development of serious rioting to-day.

AFRICA PLANS EXHIBITION.

Africa is making active preparations for the Pan-African exhibition which is to be held in one of its leading cities in 1932. The event promises to be one of the most colorful as well as instructive affairs of the kind ever held anywhere. The major objects are that it shall embrace and envisage the whole continent of Africa, present a striking picture of the vast continent and to reveal Africa to the world as a vast reservoir of raw materials. Native life, customs and characteristics will be shown in displays and demonstrations. The exhibition will be the largest ever held in that country.

Spanish, Italian and German soap factories in Ecuador are competing for business.

THREE KEYBOARDS FOR PIANO.

Musicians in Paris have taken much interest in the new triple-keyboard piano which was recently demonstrated before a group of distinguished musicians. The instrument was invented by a young Russian, and was made in Germany. It produces 24 separate pitches and was devised especially for the rendition of chamber music and a symphony composed by the inventor. The selections have quarter and three-quarter sharps and flats. Modern composers have declared that the quarter-tone piano and similar instruments which give a division of tones may restore to music its "fluid quality" which has been lost to some extent in the present notation system.

Air "taxis" which travel at 100 miles an hour are now being run by a German company at rates which threaten to rival railway fares, the fare for three persons working out at eight cents per mile per passenger.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 22 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan always kept his grass rope lasso in readiness when journeying through the forest, catching many small animals. At last came she whom he sought—Sabor, the lioness. Nearer and nearer—to where Tarzan of the Apes crouched upon his limb, the coils of his long rope poised ready.

Like a thing of bronze sat Tarzan. Sabor passed beneath. Three strides she took. Then the silent coil shot out and settled about her neck. With a quick jerk Tarzan snapped the noose tight about the glossy neck. She made a bound and fell upon her neck. Sabor was trapped.

But Sabor had now found that it was only a slender cord that held her, and, grasping it in her huge jaws, she severed it? Tarzan was much hurt. His well-laid plan had come to naught. Sabor paced back and forth beneath the tree for hours, often springing at him.

Tarzan mocked and danced above her, hurling twigs and branches at her unprotected face. At last he tired of the sport. With a parting roar of challenge, and a well-aimed ripe fruit that spread over her face, he swung rapidly through the trees a hundred feet above the ground.

In a short time he was among the members of his tribe. And here he recounted the details of his adventure, with swelling chest and so considerable a swagger that he impressed even his bitterest enemies, while Kala fairly danced for joy and pride at her foster-son's bravery and prowess.

WEDDING BELLS

BLOWERS—EVANS.

The marriage was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at Knox United Church, of Rhoda Evans (formerly of Portmadoc, North Wales), to George Blowers, well-known in local football circles. The service was conducted by the Rev. S. H. Moyer of Springville.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, David Evans, was dressed in a lovely frock of ivory flat crepe with veil and orange blossom wreath. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Kathleen Williams, cousin of the bride, was in mauve crepe de chine, with matching picture hat and bouquet of roses.

Robert E. Williams, a cousin of the bride, acted as best man.

The two little flower girls, Kathleen Armstrong and Aelwen Jones, were charmingly attired in primrose crepe de chine and carried baskets of flowers.

During the signing of the register, Mrs R. J. Kahler of Toronto gave a splendid rendition of "The Crown."

W. R. Potter played the wedding music.

After a reception held at the home of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Blowers left on a honeymoon trip to Waukesha, Wisconsin.

The bride's travelling costume was an ensemble of peach flat crepe, with brown hat and shoes and scarf of cross fox fur, the gift of the bridegroom.

The gift to the bridesmaid was a gold ring, and to the best man a gold signet ring. Many valuable gifts were received by the young people, and cable messages of congratulation were also received from overseas.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Blowers will reside in Peterborough

BEGGS—MONTGOMERY.

The marriage was solemnized by the Rev. A. E. Moorhouse, at half-past two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, at St. James' United Church, of Ann Bardner, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Montgomery of 516 Lock Street, to Alexander Nicol Beggs, son of Mrs. Agnew and the late William Beggs.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a lovely gown of poudre blue georgette trimmed with eggshell georgette, with a blue hat, white kid slippers and white silk hose. She carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Mary Montgomery, sister of the bride, was in shellpink georgette, with white hat, slippers and hose, and bouquet of Ophelia roses.

William Beggs acted as best man for his brother.

After the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's mother, attended by the immediate relatives.

The young people, escorted to the train by a large number of friends who gave them a hearty send-off, left later for a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls. The bride travelled in a mauve ensemble, with matching hat.

On their return, they will reside on Lock Street.

A large number of handsome gifts were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Beggs, including a cabinet of silver from the bridegroom's fellow-workers in the Canadian Packing Company and an electric grill from the C.P.C. football team.

The bridegroom presented the bride with a cheque, the bridesmaid with a purse and the best man with a silver cigarette lighter.

Detailed Work For School Inspectors

KINGSTON, Ont., July 28 (Special to The Examiner). — The Ontario Department of Education keeps tab on its inspectors with a minutiae of detail that is very exacting. He must record his work for every day of the year, Saturday and Sunday included. Not much chance is given for escape from church to play golf. He must record the date of his visits to the schools, meetings attended or other official activities engaged in, and a neat space allowed for remarks. A copy of the month's duties is required to be sent to the Deputy Minister at the end of each month and a copy retained on the inspector's files. And be it said, no body of men do their duty with greater fidelity.

CONTEST FOR CAR OPENED TO-NIGHT

Winning Candidate Will Seal Speedometer of Kiwanis Car.

An important event to-night will be the official opening of the Kiwanis Campaign for funds to look after their Underprivileged Child Work of the city. A lovely Essex Sedan is on display at the Kiwanis tent on the corner of Charlotte and George. This car is to be given away free in a guessing contest similar to the Rotary contest recently concluded.

Just as soon as it is known who is the successful candidate to-night a parade will be started from his committee rooms, and go to the Kiwanis tent where the successful candidate will give a short address. He will also officially seal the speedometer of the car, which will be placed at zero. He will hold the key of the speedometer lock until the contest is over. With this official act, which will take place at 10:15 p.m., the contest will be under way, and it is confidently expected that the citizens of Peterborough will rally to the support of the Kiwanis Club, as they have so magnificently done in the past.

FIRE CALLS

To the accompaniment of shrieking sirens, the ladder truck and Chief's car of the Peterborough Fire Department commanded the right of way through the city's heavy traffic on Saturday evening shortly before eleven o'clock, and promptly dealt with a burned-out motor on the air-compressor in the basement of Brown's Garage, Water street.

At midnight another call was received from a service station at 266 Charlotte street, where the striking of a match on the vent pipe of the gasoline storage tanks, caused a small explosion. Fortunately nothing more than a big flash of flames resulted, but the Fire Chief begs to call attention to the danger of smoking in the vicinity of gasoline tanks and points out the fact that so doing constitutes a breach of the Fire Prevention By-laws.

WHEN IS THE ELECTION

The headquarters of both parties were scenes of incessant activity in the completion of the arrangements to bring out the fullest possible strength in support of the respective candidates. A near tragedy occurred in the Conservative headquarters when a waggish citizen, on leaving the rooms looked intently at the perspiring workers and asked blandly, "When is the election, anyway."

His fate is unknown.

DISTRICT FREE OF ACCIDENTS

Although traffic was abnormally heavy as thousands of motorists took to the roads adjacent to Peterborough in search of relief from the heat, the district does not figure in the Provincial accident list for the week-end. No heat prostrations have been reported and, despite the fact that countless hundreds took to the water on Sunday in this region, there were no drownings.

A sedan belonging to a Toronto man rolled on its side on the Port hope highway this side of Dale's Corners, but neither of the two occupants was injured. The accident occurred at 11 o'clock last night and was caused by a broken spring.

PLEASE WATER FLOWERS

Alderman Walter Stocker deserves the congratulations of the citizens for the splendid appearance of the city's parks. But Alderman Stocker is calling for the assistance of the citizens in making Peterborough "The City Beautiful." He wants those citizens in front of whose home the city has placed flower stands to water them several times a week. He adds the caution, that the water should be added slowly.

IN MEMORIAM

HAWTHORNE — In ever loving memory of my dear mother, who entered into rest July 28, 1927.
Gone, dear mother, gone to rest
Resting those dear hands which did their best
To a beautiful life that came to an end
Who died, as she lived, everyone's friend

Those who have a mother
Cherish her with care
For there never is another
Can fill her vacant chair.
—Sadly missed by her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. A. Pooley and grandchildren, Beatrice and Alfred.

IN MEMORIAM

HAWTHORNE.—In loving memory of our dear Mother, who passed away on July 28th, 1927.
I heard the voice of Jesus say
Come unto Me and rest,
Lay down, thou weary one,
Thy head upon My breast.
—From her loving daughter and son-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Wilf. Jones, and grandchildren, of 2 Gordon avenue, Peterborough.

HAWTHORNE—In loving memory of our dear Mother, who passed away July 28th, 1927.
She is gone, but not forgotten,
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of her are always near.
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
All earthly trials and troubles are past.
In silence she suffered; in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.

FUNDS ARE NEEDED FOR NEWS DEALER

Jack Brownlee is Facing Bankruptcy—Debt is Only Small.

More money is needed, if Jack Brownlee, the blind newsie, is to continue his little news stand business. Bankruptcy is facing Jack unless local citizens rally to his financial support. His business suffered a big drop when it was found necessary to move his stand back from the sidewalk on Charlotte street, and he is now in debt. Friends started a subscription for him, but as yet not enough has been given to lift Jack out of the "red."

When Jack's business has again been straightened out his stand will be moved to the south-west corner of Charlotte and George streets, where he is assured of better business. Any contributions may be left at The Examiner.

GREAT DIRIGIBLE RADIO'S POSITION OFF IRISH COAST

Airship Carrying 44 Aboard 205 Miles at Sea By Noon.

ADVERSE WINDS.

Coast of Scotland Hugged During Morning to Avoid Storms.

VALENTIA, Ireland, July 29. (C.P.) — The wireless station here at 4.18 p.m. (11.18 a.m., E.S.T.) received the following radio from the British dirigible R-100: "Now 205 miles west of Malin Head, bound for Montreal."

A message received from the R-100 at 4.00 p.m. Greenwich time (11 a.m. E.S.T.) read as follows:

"Everything O.K., fine weather. Rather cold."

The position of the airship at the time was 54.40 north latitude and 11.30 west longitude.

From the positions given by the ship it was apparent that she was swinging in a south-westerly direction and that she was taking a much more direct route than at first planned when her itinerary called for her skirting Cape Farewell on the southern tip of Greenland.

The despatch from the R-100 definitely placed the airship upon its westward journey. The point of Malin Head is ten miles northeast of Londonderry, which is on the northern coast of Ireland.

There were low clouds and adverse winds but otherwise everything was proceeding excellently.

The position given by the R-100 indicated that after leaving the coast of Scotland she had skirted the northern coast of Ireland and then swung directly westward out over the Atlantic.

Hugged Scottish Coast.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, July 29.—(C.P.) — Hugging the coast of Scotland, getting out of the way of adverse winds, the giant British dirigible R-100 at noon to-day was making progress toward the Hebrides on her journey from Cardington to Montreal, Que.

She reports her 44 passengers and crew men "all OK."

The Maritime county of Argyllshire, one of Scotland's most ancient, is mountaincus and it was considered that the Commander, Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, probably had run into rather heavy counter-currents from the peaks of the land of the Campbells on his way out.

Carries Picked Crew

LONDON, Eng., July 29 (C. P. Cable).—When the giant British airship R-100 rose from the Cardington airport at 3.45 this morning, and headed westward on its long flight to Montreal, it was manned by the chosen few of England's finest fliers.

In command was Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, who was transferred from the Royal Navy in 1915 to be a Captain of non-rigid airships. He won fame in 1920 for his brilliant performance when the R-33 broke loose from its Norfolk mooring-mast and drifted over the North Sea at the mercy of a 100-mile-an-hour gale. Last year he was appointed to command the R-100; Britain's latest bid for supremacy in lighter-than-air craft.

One of the most distinguished passengers is Sir Denistoun Burney, who

22 Lives Are Lost In Balkan Tornado

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 29.—(A.P.)—Refugees began to arrive here from Adrianople with tidings of the storm of Sunday in which, according to latest reports, 22 persons lost their lives and damage was caused to the extent of about $4,000,000.

According to eye-witnesses of the catastrophe the tornado was the worst in the Balkans in the last 100 years.

CHINESE REDS LOOT AND BURN CHANGSHA CITY

Force of 10,000 Overwhelms Small Nationalist Guard.

GUNBOATS GET FOREIGNERS.

Fate of Yale in China, Standard Oil Buildings and Y.M.C.A. Unknown.

SHANGHAI, China, July 29. (C.P.) Communists, forming a well-disciplined force of 10,000 swarmed into the city of Changsha yesterday after defeating the relatively small Nationalist guard remaining after the departure of Government troops for the Honan and Shantung civil war fronts.

Warned of renewed Communist activities, British, U.S., and Japanese authorities had sent five gunboats to Changsha to protect their Nationals. Foreigners hastily boarded these vessels.

Carnival of Killing

Foreign wireless reports from Changsha said Communists stage a carnival of killing and looting. They apparently sacked virtually all the city which lies on the right bank of the Siang and then crossed to an island opposite town which heretofore has been immune to disorders.

The foreign consulates and additional property are located on the island. An unconfirmed report said these had been looted and burned. A dispatch last night said its doom was considered sealed.

The fate of Yale in China College was not known. Besides the college dozens of foreign missions and properties of the Y.M.C.A., Y.W.C.A. Standard Oil Company of New York and British Asiatic Petroleum Company are located at Changsha. The value of the Standard Oil holdings there was estimated at $5,000,000.

Invitation Comes From Premier MacDonald To Attend Round Table Meet.

LONDON, Eng., July 29 (C.P.).—Premier Ramsay Macdonald announced in the House of Commons to-day that the Government proposed to invite the leaders of the two Opposition parties to nominate a representative from both Houses to participate in the Round Table Conference of India which will be held this fall.

It had generally been understood that this would be done but the Prime Minister decided to make a formal announcement nevertheless.

Bennett's Message To All Canadians

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29 (C.P.) —Canada's Conservative Premier-elect, Hon. R. B. Bennett, to-day issued the following statement to his fellow-Canadians:

"The policy of the Conservative Party has been accepted by the people of Canada as the instrument of national development. The fact that every province of the Dominion has contributed to the result will sustain the new Government in the task which lies before us. This Dominion-wide expression of confidence ensures a solidarity of Government which at this time is essential and manifests a determination on the part of the people of our country to cherish and maintain national unity. For victory at the cost of unity would be in truth an overwhelming defeat of the purpose for which our party stands.

ST. CATHARINES, Ont., July 29.—(C.P.).—Robert Corrin of Merritton, formerly of London, was fatally injured last night when the C. N. R. gasoline speeder on which he was riding collided with another speeder carrying three men, near Thorold and proceeding in the opposite direction. Those on the second speeder escaped injury.

GREAT B. C. WATER POWER SOURCE IS DISCOVERED

VICTORIA, B.C., July 29 (C.P.). —The greatest water powers in Canada, greater even than those harnessed along the St. Lawrence River, have been revealed along the coast of British Columbia, north of Vancouver, by Government engineers during th past summer. Officials in the Legislative Buildings here declared.

Preliminary reports indicate that in addition to the noted Taseko Chilko Homathko power site, with a possible development of 1,200,000 horse-power, two other sources of electricity have been discovered, bringing the possible development of the coast district up to the huge figure of 3,000,000 horse-power.

WORKMAN FALLS TO DEATH FROM 160 FOOT STACK

NATIVE OF TEXAS.

Worked on Construction of Chimney Stack of Canada Cement Company's Lakefield Plant.

MONTREAL, July 29 (Special to The Examiner)—Aubrey White, a native of Texas, an engineer with the Canada Cement Company, was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon in a fall from a 160-foot smoke stack. The deceased young man who came to this city from Peterborough at the latter part of June had been employed on the construction of the chimney stack at the Canada Cement Company's Lakefield plant. During his few weeks' stay in the Peterborough district, he had come to be highly regarded by all with whom he came in contact.

LAVERGNE ONCE SAT AS LIBERAL

Nine Former Members of House of Commons Are Re-elected.

TWENTY CONTESTED SEATS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29.—(C.P.)—Twenty former members of Parliament, not members of the last house, sought re-election in yesterday's general election, and nealy half of them were successful. Nine were returned. They were all Conservatives.

Armand Lavergne, K.C., elected in Montmagny, Que., was last elected to Parliament in 1914, as a Liberal. Since then he has become a Conservative and will again sit on the right of Mr. Speaker, where he has once sat as a supoprter of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

Another old timer returned is J. A. Barrette, Berthier-Maskinonge, who, like Lavergne, gained a Liberal seat in the Province of Quebec.

Nicholls is Returned.

C. B. Nicholls, first elected to Parliament as supporter of Sir Robert Border's war-time Unionist government in 1917 a d later as a Conservative in 1925, was re-elected in Algoma East, Ont. He was defeated in the 1926 election by Beniah Bowman, the Liberal whom he defeated yesterday.

Six other Conservative members elected in 1925 but defeated at the subsequent 1926 general election came back. They were Hon. Raymond Morand, in Essex East, Ont., D. M. Wright, in Perth North, Ont., Thomas Hay, in Springfield, Man., Hon. Robert Rogers, Winnipeg South, Man., W. W. Kennedy in Winnipeg South Cen-

ELECT 11 TORIES OVER MANITOBA

Lisgar Swings to Liberal-Progressives After Being Conceded to Hewitt.

BROWN RE-ELECTED.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 29 (C.P.). —The wide-flung Manitoba constituency of Lisgar swung to-day to the ranks of the Liberal-Progressives as returns became almost complete.

The late count showed the re-election of J. L. Brown by a majority of something like 150 votes, whereas a compilation of returns last night indicated such a strong Conservative poll that R. T. Hewitt, carrying that party's banner, was early conceded election.

Mr. Brown's return to Parliament makes Manitoba's Liberal-Progressive representation three-strong. The defeat of Hewitt leaves the following of Hon. R. B. Benentt with eleven representatives from Manitoba.

ELECTION CONCEDED.

PONTIAC, Que. — Election of Charles Belloc (Cons.) conceded. Conservative gain from Liberal.

Famous Quebec Bloc Broken When Conservatives Scored Gain of Twenty-Five Seats

In Many Respects Yesterday's Election Resembled That of 1911 When Liberal Party Went Out of Power on the Now Famous Reciprocity Agreement.

BENNETT IS ASSURED OF WORKING MAJORITY OVER ALL OTHER PARTIES AND GROUPS IN HOUSE

Dunning, Crerar, Kay, Cannon and MacMillan, Cabinet Ministers, Were All Defeated, While Stevens and McRae, Conservative Leaders, Go Down.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29 ((C.P.). — It was a night of surprises, a dramatic night. In many ways it recalled that night of September 21, 1911, when a Liberal Government went to the country on the strength of the Fielding Budget of reciprocity, and was beaten by the defection of the famous Liberal Bloc in Quebec, which returned 27 Conservatives. Only three Conservative supporters came out of Quebec in 1917, none in 1921, four in both 1925 and 1926. Yesterday the Government went to the country largely on the Dunning Budget of increased British preference, and Quebec returned 25 Conservatives. New Zealand butter and a restricted American market being prime factors in a dairying country. And to complete the parallel, each Finance Minister was beaten — Fielding in Queens-Lunenburg, N.S., by F. B. McCurdy, and Dunning in Regina by F. W. Turnbull.

123 Supporters in Last House.

In the election of 1926 Premier Mackenzie King found himself with 123 Liberal supporters, to which he could add nine Liberal-Progressives, mostly from Manitoba, giving him a comfortable working majority in a House of 245 members. To-day Hon. R. B. Bennett has a following of 135, with the possibility of picking up one or two more from half a dozen seats in doubt. He need therefore look no further for support among the depleted Independent groups, and for the first time since the War a Government goes into office with a clear ready-made majority. Interest of the next few days will be focussed on Ottawa where it is to be presumed cabinet making will be the chief preoccupation of Mr. Bennett and his Lieutenants. Not only has he pledged himself to call a special session to deal with unemployment, but the question of Canadian representation at the Imperial and Economic Conferences must be speedily decided. His task of Cabinet making is simplified by the election yesterday of a round dozen Conservative ex-Cabinet Ministers, as well as the former Conservative leader in Quebec, Arthur Sauve. Probably a seat will be found for Hon. H. H. Stevens, defeated in Vancouver center, as indeed has been suggested by his successful opponent, Hon. Ian Mackenzie.

Conservatives Gain in Maritimes

Indications that all was not well with the Government campaign came early to hand as returns from the Maritimes flowed in. Instead of the half dozen gains anticipated by the party there was a net loss of five seats, two Conservative gains in Prince Edward Island and four in New Brunswick being countered by but a single Liberal gain in Nova Scotia.

The picture then moved on to Ontario for the reason returns were slower coming out of the Quebec townships. In fact Ontario was regarded as the key Province, while the general public looked for no real change in Quebec. Ontario had been the maelstrom of the campaign, but early returns showed no substantial gain for either party, each suffering losses, the balance swaying to and fro throughout the

LAKE FREIGHTER RESCUES CREW OF SAND BOAT

Whaler Founders Six Miles Off Dunkirk in Electrical Storm Last Night.

SOME MISSING.

Six Men Found Floating in Lake Erie Wearing Life Preservers.

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 29. (C.P.)—The United States coastguard station here received a radio message this morning stating that the lake freighter Amassa Stone had rescued six members of the crew of the sand boat Whalen which had foundered 22 miles southwest of Dunkirk at 5.30 a.m. The ship turned over, apparently ith little warning, six miles off Dunkirk, N.Y., at 1230 a.m. (E.S.T.)

The crew of the steamer Amassa Stone, of the Pickands-Mather fleet picked up six members of the Whalen's crew and brought them to port here with the first word of the Captain W. H. McNeil of the Amassa Stone said he heard the cries of several men in the water but was able to find and save only six.

Found Floating in Lake

The men were found floating in Lake Erie. They were wearing life preservers. The radio message gave no details of the rescue. Coastguard cutters 164, 197 and 107 were sent from Buffalo to the location given in the message to aid in the search for other possible survivors.

The Whalen was understood to have been headed for Buffalo last night, but no report of any disaster had been received either here or at Dunkirk. A severe electrical storm swept the eastern end of Lake Erie last night.

Lake sailors to-day recalled that three years ago a sand freighter broke in two during a storm at about the location where the men were picked up this morning. Six of its crew were drowned.

EAST LAMBTON WON BY TORIES

Election of J. T. Sproule Brings Conservative Ontario Gains to Seven.

PROGRESSIVE LOSS.

TORONTO, July 29. (C.P.) — The election of J. T. Sproule, Conservative in East Lambton, brings the total of net Conservative gains in Ontario to seven.

East Lambton records a Conservative gain from the Progressives. It sent consistently Progressives in the three previous elections.

W. P. Mulock, a grandson of Sir William Mulock, former premier of Ontario and Postmaster-General in the Laurier Cabinet, failed to gain the riding of North York, which he contested as a Liberal against the former member, T. H. Lennox, Conservative. This was one of the constituencies the Liberals hoped to add to their list.

Drury Fails Third Time.

Hon. E. C. Drury, former premier of the United Farmers Government of the province, who made his third attempt to enter Federal politics, failed again to regain the riding of North Simcoe. He contested it as a Liberal-Progressive against J. T. Simpson, who secured the Conservative nomination following the retirement from politics of W. A. Boys, who held the riding from 1912 until the close of the last session. Mr. Boys formerly was chief whip for the Conservative party at Ottawa.

In Ontario the Conservatives made a net gain of eight from the Liberals. These seats were Algoma East, Essex East, Glengarry, Grey North, Oxford South, Oxford North, Stormont and Temiskaming South. The Liberals regained four ridings: Northumberland, Ont., Toronto West Centre and Wellington North, with two seats in the doubtful column. This left the Conservative party with a gain of four seats in Ontario over the 1926 results.

RESIGNATION OF MACKENZIE KING EXPECTED EARLY

Prime Minister Will Make Statement From Ottawa Late To-day.

CARRY ON FOR FEW WEEKS.

King May Attempt to Elect Some of His Defeated Ministers.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29. (By The Canadian Press).—A statement outlining the course of action which he proposes to pursue will be made to-day by Premier Mackenzie King, no definite time has been indicated for the announcement however, and it may not come until late in the afternoon. The Prime Minister will, it is anticipated, announce the early resignation of his government. It is possible, in view of that fact that Hon. R. B. Bennett will hardly be in a position to assume the reins of office for a few weeks, that Mr. King will be asked to carry on for a little while. At any rate there is always a certain time given to a retiring administration for clearing things away and setting its house in order, before its successors take up the work. Consequently it will probably be some little time before Mr. Bennett actually assumes office.

May Elect Defeated Ministers

Already there is conjecture in respect to the personnel of the new government. There is also some questioning as to whether Mr. King will make any effort to elect some of the ministers who went down to defeat yesterday. It is unlikely that Mr. King will feel like relinquishing the services of Hon. C. A. Dunning, Hon. T. A. Crerar or Hon. Lucien Cannon if arrangements can be made to provide them with seats in the new parliament. Mr Cannon has always been regarded as a strong Opposition fighter, and Mr. Dunning was one of the most capable debaters on the Liberal side of the house.

However, until the prime minister makes an announcement it is difficult to arrive at any accurate predictions with respect to the plans of the Liberal party. No doubt there will be consultation between Mr King and his colleagues as to the course which should be followed and the tactics to be adopted in the future.

LORDS PASS BRITAIN'S $4,000,000,000 BUDGET

LONDON, Eng., July 29 (C.P.). — Great Britain's $4,000,000,000 budget, as contained in the finance bill, today finished its journey through all stages of the House of Lords, and received complete Parliamentary passage, having previously gone through the House of Commons.

The outstanding feature of the budget of Chancellor Phillip Snowden was an increase of sixpence in the standard rate of income tax.

Ontario Cabinet Members Are Returned To House

TORONTO, Ont., July 28.—(C.P.).—Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce was re-elected in Bruce North. With the exception of Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, who is leading his Conservative opponent in Kenora-Rainy River, all Ontario members of the King Government have now been re-elected. Hon. W. D. Euler was victorious in Waterloo North and Hon. J. C. Elliot retained his seat in Middlesex West.

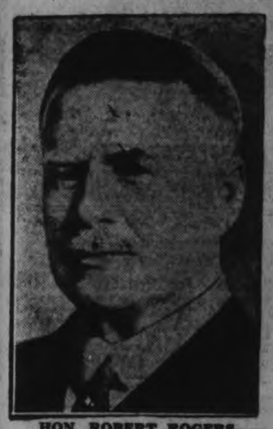
HON. E. B. RYCKMAN

SIR GEORGE PERLEY

HON. DONALD SUTHERLAND

HON. J. D. CHAPLIN



HON. ROBERT ROGERS

HON. R. J. MANION

HON. HUGH GUTHRIE

HON. G. B. JONES

The eight above members-elect are all ex-Ministers in Conservative governments of Sir Robert Borden or Sir Arthur Meighen. Hon. Robert Rogers, who was elected in Winnipeg South, was former Minister of Public Works, under Sir Robert Borden. Sir George Perley, elected in Argenteuil, Quebec, was also a Minister in the Cabinet of Sir Robert Borden and Sir Arthur Meighen. Hon. Donald Sutherland, elected in Oxford South, as Minister of Agriculture, under Sir Arthur Meighen; Hon. J. D. Chaplin, (Lincoln), as Minister of Trade and Commerce, in the government of Sir Arthur Meighen, formed in 1926, Hon. R. J. Manion, elected in Fort William, was Minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, in 1921, and Postmaster-General in 1926; Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Wellington South, was Minister of Militia and Defence, in 1920, and also again in 1926; Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of Public Works in the Meighen Cabinet in 1926; Hon. G. B. Jones, was Minister of Labor, in the Meighen Government of 1926.

DR. A. T. EMBURY HAS MAJORITY OF 3,566 VOTES

Liberal Candidate Carried Only Five of the Polls Already Heard From STRONG IN VILLAGES.

Hastings - Peterborough Was Regarded as One of Safest Conservative Seats.

MARMORA, July 29. — With twelve out of seventy-eight polls to hear from in the riding of Hastings - Peterborough, the majority of Dr. A. T. Embury, (Cons.) Bancroft, was 3566 over Fraser Aylsworth (Lib.) of Madoc.

The Liberal candidate carried only five of the polls, and four of them were in the Peterborough section of the hypenated constituency. They were Hall's Glen, in Dummer, three polls in Asphodel, and one poll in the township of Herschel.

Hastings-Peterborough was regarded as one of the safe Conservative seats. Mr. Aylsworth accepted the Liberal nomination because of the desire to be represented in the Federal campaign. Dr. Embury has been twice previously elected by his riding, but this is the first time he has got within sight of the government benches. He has the complete confidence of the Conservatives of Hastings-Peterborough, as was demonstrated by the fact that he was unopposed at the party's nomination in Marmora. It is one of the largest constituencies in the country, and because of the long trips necessary, the number of meetings during the campaign was comparatively small.

All the villages, Stirling, Marmora, Madoc, Norwood and Havelock, gave Dr. Embury large majorities.

Voting was extremely slow in Marmora up to noon; out of approximately 425 voters, only 100 having turned out to mark their ballots. Towards the afternoon the voting became a little brisker and an hour or before the polls closed, the town began to assume quite a busy aspect.

Albert Wright, 94-year-old resident of this town, along with his wife, who is 88 years old, were both out to vote. They are life-long Conservatives. Another old resident of the district, Mrs. Annie Potts of Murray Township, was also at the polls, despite her 92 years and the excessive heat.

Excellent arrangements for the reception of the returns from the polls throughout the constituency, were made by R. A. Elliott, secretary-treasurer of the East Peterborough Liberal Conservative Association, who had the whole-hearted co-operation of T. E. Potts, proprietor of the Royal Hotel who placed one of the rooms in the new wing at the disposal of Mr. Elliott and the press representatives. The town's folk were kept informed as to the progress of the fight through the medium of the bulletin board rigged up outside the hotel, and in the capable hands of Provincial Constable Percy Gray. Radios outside C. W. Gladney's store and outside F. N. Marett's store, were also valuable sources of information, but apart from a little cheering around 11 o'clock, when it was realized that the government had been defeated, there was little or no excitement. Possibly the fact that the result in Peterborough-Hastings was practically a foregone conclusion, was the cause of the apparent lack of enthusiasm.

Poll Number 13, Deloro Hall, was the first return to be received, coming over the phone at 7.15 p.m., to be followed shortly afterwards by Marmora Village.

By 8.50 half the polls were in giving Dr. Embury a majority of 2303 votes, and by midnight all were in with the exception of 12 polls in outlying districts.

Conservatives From Liberals

The first gain registered by any party was that of B. F. Smith, Conservative, who captured Victoria-Carleton in New Brunswick from A. R. Foster, Liberal.

Northumberland, G. M. McQuade (Cons.).

OXFORD, NORTH, ONT.—Election of Hon. D. Sutherland (Cons.) conceded.

GLENGARRY—The election of Angus McGiles (Cons.) conceded.

Hon. William Euler Re-elected to House

KITCHENER, Ont., July 28.—Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue in the King Government, was elected in North Waterloo for the fifth time here last night, defeating Karl Homouth, of Preston by a majority of 3,050. The vote was exceptionally heavy.

The campaign was the hardest fought here in years and Mr. Homuth got small majorities in Waterloo and Elmira.

The final figures were Euler 12,780 and Homuth 9,734.

40 IN QUEBEC ARE ARRESTED

"Telegraphing" Votes Leads to Prison—Brawl in Joliette Fatal.

STORM DELAYS RESULTS.

MONTREAL, Que., July 29 (C.P.)—Quebec electors contributed so generously to the flood of votes that swept the Conservative party into power in yesterday's general elections, that this traditionally Liberal Province returned the greatest representation of that party since 1911, when 27 Conservatives were elected.

With two seats, Pontiac and Wright, undecided early this morning, the Conservatives had 24 seats to 38 for the Liberal party and one Independent. At dissolution the standing was 60 Liberals, 4 Conservatives and one Independent. Last reports from Pontiac indicated that the Conservative candidate was well ahead of his Liberal opponent while in Wright the victory was practically conceded to the Liberal candidate.

Terric Storm

Election Day in Quebec was excessively hot and last evening, as the work of gathering returns was in progress a terrific and prolonged electrical storm swept over the Province, bringing chaotic conditions along lines of telegraphic and telephone communications.

More than forty arrests were made in Montreal of men and women charged with kidnapping a party organizer. A man who engaged in an election brawl in Joilette died later from injuries received.

The kidnapping charge was made by a ward organizer, who said he had been taken for a ride by supposed friends and left many miles from the city in an isolated place. He managed to get a ride back to town before the elections were over.

Liberals From Conservatives

TORONTO WEST CENTRE—Election of S. Factor, Liberal, conceded. Liberal gain from Conservative.

NORTHUMERLAND, ONT.—Election of W. A. Fraser, Lib. conceded.

FRASER ELECTED TO THE HOUSE BY LARGE MAJORITY

Results of Polls Surprise to Many People of Northumberland County.

THIRD CANDIDATE OUT.

Only Four of Thirteen Centres Give Previous Member a Winning Vote.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

CAMPBELLFORD, July 29. — A stronghold of Conservatism was stormed and captured on Monday when the historic old riding of Northumberland raised the Liberal banner, and sent their candidate, W. A. Fraser, to the polls with a majority of 887 in a three-cornered fight. Milton Maybee ran for the Conservatives, and Mrs. Edith Kerr MacDonald, as an Independent Liberal-Progressive.

The result of the polls came as a surprise to many people. Although feeling has been running high during the campaign, and the contest one of the keenest in the history of the riding, it was not thought that Maybee would go down to defeat with such a large majority. Only four out of the 13 polling centres gave their previous member a majority: Campbellford 76, Brighton Village 169, Brighton township 53, and Murray township 92.

Campbellford's count for the Conservative party was considerably reduced from the last election. Cobourg, which usually supports the Tory banner, gave Fraser a margin of 479 votes. This large count was also added to by the township of Haldimand with a 440 majority.

Solid Liberal Victory.

The Liberal victory was practically solid all along the line. The township of Alnwick gave Fraser a majority of 22, Colborne 70, the township of Cramahe 43, Hastings 22, the township of Hamilton 127, the township of Percy 49 and Seymour 35.

Cobourg was a complete swamp for the opposition parties. Mrs. MacDonald only polled 54 votes against Fraser's 1595, while Maybee's count registered 1116. Mrs. MacDonald, as a factor in the voting, did not exist. Her total count did not exceed 200, and in some polling places she drew as low as two votes. In Campbellford out of a toal of 1523 votes cast she only gained ten. The Liberal gains were to be noticed in the encroachment on the smaller polls. Some of these only carried with a very few.

In the town of Campbellford, although the Conservatives won the fight, the majority was a comparatively small one. The wards split even on the vote. Ward three registered the largest count, 266, with a majority of 105 for the Tories, but this was eaten up by the other Liberal gains. The township of Seymour turned over, but only gave Fraser a margin of 35 votes out of a total of 1367 votes cast. The township and village of Brigton were solid for the Conservatives, and Murray township remained firm, It is estimated that in the vicinity of 15,500 people cast their votes in the riding of Northumberland.

The result of the polls, with the exception of three from Murray township, is as follows:

"Big Fish in Coe River" Says Marmora Fisherman

MARMORA, July 29.—Causing quite a diversion to the crowd of people who waited around the Royal Hotel here last evening for election results, Julius Bedore landed a twelve-pound 'lunge while fishing off the bridge which spans the Coe River. Putting up a game fight, the fish took about fifteen minutes to land. Julius, although pleased with his catch, nonchalantly exclaimed, that he had caught two others of a similar size. A wag overhearing the remark, added: "Yes, we catch fish so big in these parts, that every time we take one out the river drops a few inches in level."

NET GAIN OF SIX ONTARIO SEATS MADE BY TORIES

Bennett Has at Least 59 Supporters From Province in Next House.

20 LIBERALS.

Both Heenan and Euler Have Hard Battle to Hold Constituencies.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29.—(C.P.)—Although the Conservative party scored a net gain of six seats in the Province of Ontario not one of the Ontario Cabinet Ministers was defeated. Two seats were still in doubt early this morning and 20 Liberals were elected, while Miss Agnes MacPhail, U.F.O., retained her position as Canada's only woman Member of Parliament.

At Least 59 Supporters.

Hon. R. B. Bennett will have at least 59 supporters from Ontario in the next House compared with 53 in the last. The Liberals last night were three short of their representation in the last House. The doubtful seats were Norfolk-Elgin, where W. H. Taylor, Liberal, had 10,552 votes to 10,507 registered for J. L. Stansell, Conservative, and Lambton East where W. B. Fansher, Progressive, had a slight margin over J. T. Sproule, Conservative, with C. G. Dunlop, Liberal, a poor third.

Of the Cabinet Ministers, Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, and Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, had the hardest fights but both were returned. Mr. Euler defeated the popular member of the Ontario Legislature for South Waterloo, Karl K. Homuth, in North Waterloo, and Mr. Heenan retained his seat in Kenora-Rainy River by defeating Frank McManus, Conservative. Hon. J. C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, defeated Peter Campbell, 22-year-old Conservative candidate, in Middlesex West and Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, reains his seat in Bruce North.

T. L. Church Defeated.

The salient feature of the election was the return of a Liberal in the City of Toronto. T. L. Church, seven times Mayor of Toronto and victor in a score of elections extending over a period of 10 years, went down to defeat in Toronto West Centre at the hands of Samuel Factor, the Liberal candidate.

Another seat which went against the Conservative trend was Ontario, where W. H. Moore, former chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board, succeeded in outsting the former Con-

NINE LOSE LIVES ON ELECTION DAY ACROSS ONTARIO

Two Western Citizens Killed Taking Part in Voting Activities.

FALL FROM TRAIN FATAL.

Four Drown as Canoes Upset—Two Drown Bathing.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29 (C.P.) — Accidents throughout Ontario took another heavy toll yesterday when nine persons lost their lives in a variety of mishaps. These added to the 23 killed in motor-car crashes, drownings and other accidents over the week-end brought the death list to 32 in the last three days.

Two prominent citizens of Western Ontario were killed while participating in voting activities. Bert Quance, Delhi, was struck and fatally hurt as he stepped from a polling booth at Delhi after casting his vote in the Dominion election.

A serious crash occurred near Woodstock and resulted in the death of William Dibble, East Zorro, and serious injuries to six other persons he was driving to a polling booth. According to eye witnesses, Dibble's car ran into a machine driven by A. D. Cameron, Mitchell, returning officer for Perth South.

Six Drowned

Six drownings were recorded. Bruno Caza, 31, Valleyfield, Que., perished when the canoe he was paddling with a companion capsized in Lake Shebanon; in the Head of the Lakes district, "Shorty" Bovan was another canoeing victim. He was drowned at Sioux Lookout, when a high wind upset his craft. George Meggitt, 25, was drowned near Brantford, when apparently overcome by the cold while swimming in a gravel pit; Earl Seaton, 10, got beyond his depth while bathing near Kingston, while Frank Smith, 65, and Julian Gowan, 23, were drowned in Toronto waters and their deaths are being investigated.

An unidentified body was found on the Michigan Central Railways tracks near Welland, and it is believed the man may have fallen or been thrown from the M.C.R. flyer. In his pockets was found $374 and a ticket from New York to Detroit. An inquest has been opened.

CONSERVATIVE VOTE NEARLY DOUBLES LIBERAL OPPONENT IN FIRST TEN POLLS HEARD

Peck Leads Duffus by Large Majority in Early Returns.

TWELVE POLLS IN

Optimism for Tory Election in City Expressed in Committee Rooms.

The first poll heard from was greeted with loud cheers by the Conservatives. It came from Mrs. Nicholls, poll clerk, and Fred Nicholls at Mason's House, 667 Armour Road, and gave Peck 107 votes and Duffus 48. It came over the wire at 7.10 sharp.

This result further raised the optimism pervading the Conservative rooms.

The second poll added fresh fuel to the Conservative already rising assurance of victory. It was poll 1A and gave Peck 88, Duffus 50.

"There's nothing to it. It's going to be a landslide.

Other early results were:

Polls	Peck	Duffus
44	107	48
1A	88	50
1	79	25
10	96	54
16	95	42
16A	72	52

This gave Peck a majority of some 200 votes.

The next two results cast something of a shadow on the general jubilation, however. Both numbers 41 and 12 gave Duffus majorities.

Ten of the first twelve polls heard from gave Peck majorities. In many of them he polled nearly double Duffus' vote.

Optimism was the paramount feeling among workers at the Conservative committee rooms as they assembled behind a battery of 'phones to receive the results from local polling booths. One of the party leaders declared that as he visited the polling stations after 6 o'clock he was told by scrutineers that a record vote had been cast. "Booth after booth reported a better than 90 per cent vote" he said. "In the city" stated this stalwart Conservative henchman, "I am confident that Peck will pile up a big majority. The country has me somewhat worried, I'll admit."

The clan began to gather in the Conservative headquarters shortly after 7 o'clock. They jammed into the limited space eagerly, despite the intense heat which seemed to increase with each passing moment. There wasn't a gloomy face in the whole picture.

First Rural Poll.

Clarady, North Monaghan, was the first rural poll in, and it returned a Peck majority of 50 votes.

Grady's store, poll 70, gave a tie vote, each candidate nabbing 88 votes.

Peck now leading by some 400 votes with 20 polls.

At 8.45 crowds were streaming into the Conservative rooms to congratulate Mr. Peck whose election was evident.

Mr. Peck was taking it all very calmly. "Wait and see" seems to be his way of looking at things, although his followers hastened to congratulate him on his "victory."

"They can't catch us now," stated one eager Conservative as he perspired freely. The crowd with each fresh report showed their rocketing feelings by stamping the floor.

Notorious Chinese Killer Captured

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 28.—Wong Sam, Newark Chinese, blamed by police for half a dozen Tong killings, was arrested in a lower East Side grocery to-day and jailed on a homicide charge in connection with the slaying of Hong Wa Hong on June 9.

Hong, President of the Chinese Peace Society, was shot in a Chinese Bowery theatre. Sam was identified as the slayer on the night of the killing. He escaped life imprisonment on a murder charge in Minneapolis in 1925 when his sentence was set aside on appeal, police said.

THOMAS CHURCH IS DEFEATED

Toronto at Last Elects Liberal to House in Samuel Factor.

WEST CENTRE RIDING

TORONTO, Ont., July 28.—(C.P.)—Toronto has at last elected a Liberal to the House of Commons Samuel Factor to-night won the West Centre riding by a narrow margin over the veteran political warrior, Thomas Langton Church. The seat was held in the last House by H. C. Hocken, who made way Mr. Church this time after "Tommy" had lost the nomination in his old constituency of Toronto North West to John R. MacNichol.

Mr. Church was one of the best known members of the House of Commons and was considered almost unbeatable in Toronto. He was seven times mayor of the city and in the last two won the North West riding by majorities running up to 5,000. His entry into the contest in Toronto West Centre followed a sharp dispute in local Conservative ranks.

TWO TORY GAINS.

Two Conservative gains were reported from Prince Edward Island when two Liberal candidates in Queen's went down to defeat. They included Dr. Cyrus MacMillan, Minister of Fisheries who was sworn in after the last session of Parliament.

PETERBOROUGH'S MEMBER-ELECT

E. A. PECK, M.P.-ELECT

who was returned to represent Peterborough West in the next House of Commons.

J. J. DUFFUS CONCEDES CITY ELECTION TO E. A. PECK

Near Final Figures Show Majority of 1,921 for Conservative Candidate.

EIGHT POLLS MISSING

At 9.50 o'clock J. J. Duffus, Liberal candidate for West Peterborough, conceded the election to Edward Peck, Conservative. At that time the Peck majority shown on the boards in the Liberal headquarters was 1,528, having held steady close to that figure for the preceding three-quarters of an hour. The Duffus total was 7,591 and the Peck total 9,119.

With all the polls in the city heard from, the totals which the large gathering of Grit supporters read with dismay were Duffus 4,486, Peck 6,407; giving Peck a majority of 1,921.

The crowd still held hopes for eight more rural polls not heard from. The country results up to 9.50 o'clock were Duffus 3,105, Peck 2,712, giving Duffus a majority of 393.

Outstanding Rural Polls

The rural polls outstanding were Hall's Bridge, Harvey; Webster's House, Lakefield; Town Hall, Lakefield; Silver Lake, Galway; Union Creek, Galway; Swamp Lake, Galway; Fortesque, Cavendish, and Catchacoma, Cavendish.

Hon. F. J. A. Cardin, Minister of Marine, was returned by his old riding of Richelieu, which he has represented since 1912. His was the first election recorded from the Province of Quebec.

C. H. Cahan, Cons., who was one of the unsuccessful candidates for the leadership of the party at the Winnipeg convention in 1926, retained his seat of St. Lawrence-St. George.

scene of humming activity as the time for the closing of the polls drew nigh. Many cars were despatched to carry voters to the polls with only two or three minutes to go.

The first poll to be heard from, other than the Advance Poll, which gave Duffus 12 and Peck 11, was Poll No. 34 at 7.07 o'clock. The large crowd which had already gathered read the result of the first poll in silence—Duffus 48, Peck 107, Poll 34, was at Percy Borfall's house, 43 Alfred street.

Several further losses for Duffus followed before Poll 47, the first gain, was reported. Loud cheers were raised but they were shortly dampened by further adverse results.

At 7.38 o'clock the board at the Duffus' headquarters showed totals: Duffus, 3,393, and Peck, 4,787, a Peck majority of 1,394. Cheers were far between as the polls favoring Duffus came in. The Peck majority quickly climbed to 1,557 by 7.50 o'clock.

LIBERAL MAJORITY AT ADVANCE POLL

The first returns to reach The Examiner last evening were brought over from the City Council Chambers at 7.03 by a staff reporter, showing the result of the Advance Poll to be:

Duffus 12
Peck 11

A minute later Poll 17 phoned in its count as follows:

Duffus 48
Peck 68

FORMER CABINET MINISTER ELECTED

HON. WILLIAM BLACK.

In the re-election of Hon. William A. Black (Cons.) in Halifax one of the members of the short-lived Meighen administration of 1926, retains his seat. Hon. W. A. Black was born in Windsor, N. S., the son of down-east parents of Scottish stock. He was elected to the Provincial Legislature in 1894 and was first elected to the Dominion House at a by-election for Halifax in 1925, being re-elected at the general election of the following year. Minister of Railways and Canals in the Meighen Cabinet, he was one of the few Conservative Cabinet Ministers returned in that year.

Two Conseratives Are First Elected

Before the polls closed in Peterborough, The Examiner had received the first two members elected to the House of Commons: Hon. W. A. Black and F. Q. Quinn of Nova Scotia; both are Conservatives and were members of the last House.

SHARP FIGHTING OVER MARITIMES

Tories Draw First Blood—Victoria-Carleton, N. B., Returns to Conservative Banner.

HON. W. A. BLACK RETURNED

TORONTO, Ont., July 28. — Conservatives have drawn first blood. Victoria-Carleton, New Brunswick, has returned to its Conservative allegiance.

Victoria-Carleton went Conservative at the last general elections, but on the death of the sitting member in 1927, it went Liberal by acclamation at a by-election. It also went Conservative in 1925, the Conservatives then winning it from T. W. Caldwell, who was the only Progressive to be elected in 1921 east of the Ottawa

Early returns frm the Maritimes indicate sharp fighting. Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, is the first Minister of the King Government returned. Col. Ralston represented Canada at the Naval Conference. Hon. W. A. Black, who was Minister of Railways in the Meighen administration, has been returned in Halifax.

FARM HAND DROWNS.

ENGLEHART, Ont., July 28 (C.P.).—Walter Grooms, farm hand, was drowned in the White River to-day. He was a worker in this district and made his home at Brentha.

MONDAY, JULY 28, 1930

THE NEXT STEP.

And what happens now?

First, of course, the resignation of Mr. King and his Ministers and the calling upon Mr. Bennett to form a new Government, after which he will announce his Cabinet and the necessary by-elections will have to be held.

As soon as possible the Premier-elect is pledged to call a special session of Parliament at which national works to give temporary work for the unemployed will be launched and at which, too, Canada's tariff will be altered to check the importation of manufactured goods.

It has been said that such a session would cost $2,000,000.

If it lasted fifty days so that the members would become entitled to their sessional indemnity of $4,00, the expense would run somewhere near that figure, but the explanation is made that the session will be a brief one and the members will be paid at the rate of $10 per day for the time they sit.

And after that the Imperial Conference, and then the regular session of Parliament in February, all of which means that Mr. Bennett and his associates won't have much cause so far as they themselves are concerned to complain of unemployment.

THE REASONS FOR IT.

Hastily attempting to size up the reasons for the defeat of the King Government at the polls yesterday, it would seem obvious that economic conditions, with unemployment in the cities and low prices and depression in rural sections, coupled with the feeling that the Government had failed to deal with the former and had been to some extent at least responsible for the latter formed one important factor.

Another was the vigorous and effective campaign conducted by the Conservative leader, Hon. R. B. Bennett, whose vigorous personality impressed itself upon the people in all parts of the country. It was in a sense a personal triumph for Mr. Bennett, who fought from beginning to end of the campaign with a courage that refused to admit the possibility of defeat. Firing the first shot of the political warfare, he succeeded in putting the Government on the defensive from the start by his advocacy of a number of policies, such as a national highway, national old age pensions and the St. Lawrence waterway development scheme, while his indictment of the Government on the unemployment issue, the effect of the New Zealand treaty on agriculture and the Government's alleged failure to protect Canadian industry was effectively handled.

From a political viewpoint, too, the attempt to present the British preference feature of the Dunning budget as the only path to Empire trade and to picture Mr. Bennet as wanting to take Canada out of the Empire was not sound. Obviously it was possible to believe in the development of Empire trade and still not feel that the whole thing hinged on the adoption or rejection of the Dunning budget, and the loyalty angle was probably overdone—at least judging from the general results and the fact that in the one section where the Government made gains resentment in British Columbia against Conservative opposition to the Australian treaty and not the Dunning budget was the principal factor.

It has been the history of politics that the Government that goes to the country during a period of depression pays the penalty by being tossed out of office, and yesterday was no exception to the rule.

Except that Governments usually claim credit for prosperity if it comes in their time, there is no particular reason why they should be given all the blame for bad times when they come.

The determining factor in such cases, however, is usually the feeling among many electors that a change can do no harm and may do some good.

At all events in yesterday's election that feeling mitigated with deadly effect against many of Mr. King's candidates.

THE GOVERNMENT GOES DOWN.

The Liberal Government of Right Hon. Mackenzie King went crashing down to defeat yesterday when the Conservative party, led by Hon. R. B. Bennett, succeeded not only in making gains throughout all English-speaking Canada, except British Columbia, but in breaking wide open the almost solid Quebec block that has been the firm foundation of the King administration since 1921.

As this is written at an early hour this morning the Conservatives have already won 126 seats, a clear majority of two after the election of the speaker, and it seems certain that latter results will increase this lead, while there is little doubt that the new Government will obtain also some support from U.F.A., Progressive and Labor candidates, so that it may be said that the Conservatives are already in the saddle.

In yesterday's sweeping change they made gains in every Province save Nova Scotia and British Columbia. A loss of one seat in the former Province was, however, more than compensated for by a net gain of five in the Maritime Provinces.

It was in Quebec, however, that Mr. Bennett made the gains that won him the reins of power. In that Liberal stronghold where only Saturday it was claimed that the Conservatives would win but three seats, one less than they held in the last Parliament, the Bennett legions "blasted their way" to the capture of twenty-three constituencies, a triumph that surprised the whole Dominion. Among the fallen were the celebrated Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor-General, and Hon. W. F. Kay, Minister of Portfolio, two of Mr. King's Ministers going down to defeat in a Province in which the administration had considered itself invulnerable.

In Ontario, while there were numerous changes and some surprises, the Conservatives improved their position as compared with that held in the last House, their notable gains including Glengarry, Stormont, the two Oxfords, South Essex, North Perth and South Timiskaming, while outstanding in their loss column were the nearby ridings of Ontario and Northumberland and Toronto West Centre where the redoubtable Tommy Church was defeated by Ald. Facter in a contest that was probably decided more on racial than on political lines.

While the results in the Prairie Provinces were by no means complete as this article was being prepared, substantial Conservative gains and correspondingly heavy Liberal losses were apparent. In Winnipeg the Conservatives divided the four seats with Labor, the veteran Hon. Robt. Rogers being one of the Conservative victors. Lisgar and Nelson were other Bennett gains in Manitoba, while they broke into Saskatchewan with several wins, and elected three other members in Alberta to accompany Hon. R. B. Bennett to Ottawa. The Liberal losses were costly, among the fallen being Hon. Charles Dunning, father of the May Day budget, in Regina and Hon. T. A. Crerar, former Progressive leader and Minister of Railways and Canals in the King Cabinet in Brandon.

Only in British Columbia where in the last House the Conservatives held all but one seat did the Bennett landslide run into a check. In the Pacific Coast Province the Conservatives had to yield all three Vancouver seats to Liberal and Labor opponents, the defeated candidates including such stalwarts as Hon. H. H. Stevens and General A. D. MacRae, the Conservative Dominion organizer.

THE LOCAL RESULT.

For the fourth time Edward A. Peck has been presented as a Conservative candidate in West Peterborough and for the fourth time the electors of the riding have given him a substantial majority.

In 1911 Mr. Peck was the successful Conservative standard-bearer for the West Peterborough seat in the Ontario Legislature.

Fourteen years after he came back into political life to defeat Hon. G. N. Gordon, soon after the latter had been taken into the Cabinet of Hon. Mackenzie King as Minister of Immigration and Colonization.

The following year he was re-elected at the expense of J. J. Duffus.

Yesterday history repeated itself, for in another battle between the two opponents who faced each other in 1926 Mr. Peck again emerged triumphant by a majority that will be about 1,700 when he complete returns are all in.

A record of four successful campaigns, all won by a large margin, is one upon which the veteran Conservative is entitled to general congratulations, and one that reflects the esteem and regard in which Mr. Peck is held by the people of the city and country.

He has always been a candidate at whom no stone could be thrown without hurting the man who threw it, and his life-long reputation for honesty and fair dealing has stood him in good stead in his political career.

The local campaign, although not marked by any extraordinary liveliness, wound up in a splendid vote in which the electors, in spite of red-hot mid-summer weather, registered a large percentage of the available vote.

Joseph J. Duffus, the defeated candidate, has the satisfaction of knowing that the majority of his opponent was reduced, and that he did not spare himself in his effort to turn defeat into victory. The Liberal standard-bearer worked unceasingly throughout the campaign, and if painstaking and systematic endeavor could have turned the trick, victory would have perched upon his banner.

Both the victor and the loser deserve general commendation for the clean-cut nature of the campaigns they conducted. Nothing was said or done by either during the battle that need cause any regret or heart-burning now that the campaign was over. They opposed each other as gentlemen and sportsmen, and the one was victorious and the other lost in the same spirit.

Mr. Peck, after sitting in opposition during two Parliaments, has now the satisfaction of occupying a seat on the Government side of the House. He may be depended upon, The Examiner is sure, to exert every effort to make his term of office of value to his home constituency and to the country generally.

AS IT LOOKED BEFORE YESTERDAY.

Mr. Bennett would have to win 34 new seats and hold every one he had in the last Parliament in order to lead barely enough members to form a Government, unless he had some assurance of support from other groups—an unlikely possibility. Where, political observers are asking, is Mr. Bennett going to get this extra number? His headquarters at Ottawa is claiming a total of not less than 134 seats, but claims by party managers on the eve of an election are not worth the paper upon which they are written. They are merely put out in the hope of influencing the vote, the theory being that there are thousands of independent, non-partisan citizens whose chief aim at election time is to vote for the side they think is going to win.

* * * *

A man for whose opinion the Star has a great deal of respect, a man who is as non-partisan as it is possible for anyone to be, made a casual prediction of the result yesterday and we pass it along for what it is worth. Clip it out and see how good or how bad it is when the returns come in Monday night. This man predicted a slight Liberal gain in the Maritimes, a slight Liberal loss in Ontario, substantially the same result in Quebec as at the last election, slight Conservative gains on the prairies and slight Liberal gains in British Columbia. (In the latter Province the standing was 12 to 1, in favor of the Conservatives, last time.) On this forecast the gentleman to whom we refer, predicts the continuance of the Mackenzie King administration.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Mr. Bennett got lots of votes everywhere, and West Peterborough sent him a Peck.

When Hon. Lucien Cannon was defeated in Quebec it was surely a case of spiking the Liberal guns.

The "I told you so" club is going strong to-day. It always is the day after an election.

Most election workers, as they sweltered in the heat and humidity yesterday, agreed that a Government which staged a campaign in mid-summer deserved to be beaten.

West Peterborough electors were not slackers. They piled up a surprising percentage of the total vote on the list, despite the weather conditions.

Right in the midst of the election excitement came the announcement that the R-100 had started on her voyage to Canada.

And now who will represent Canada at the Imperial Conference?

One of the astounding features was that on the day of a general Conservative triumph the renowned battler, Tommy Church, should have gone down to defeat.

Among the election prophets who shot wide of the mark was J. H. Burnham, who predicted a loss of twenty seats for the Conservatives in Ontario.

The Conservative slain included some well-known figures, the most notable being Hon. H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver Centre; General A. D. MacRae, Dominion organizer, and Tommy Church, of Toronto.

What To-day Means To You.

"LEO."

If July 29th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 5:30 a.m. to 7 a.m., noon to 1 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. The danger periods are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and 4 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Your hands will not be tied by fate on this date, as the astrological influences are not pronounced enough to influence you one way or another. The stronger forces of your character will be the dominating factors of the day, and your natural inclinations will have a chance to be aired.

Children born on this July 29th will have dignified, self-reliant natures, and rather a love of display and position. They will have an intense love nature, and they will almost worship those whom they love and admire. They will be influenced by their "pedestal" people.

You are, above all else, the very embodiment of all that is correct and conventional in life. You are always well-poised, and complete mistress or master of yourself, whether it be at your most glorified or most embarrassing moments in life. You always feel certain that you are right, and you never see obstacles—the rest of the world must keep in step with you. You yourself do not worry, but your invulnerable indifference is a worry to others who would like to penetrate it. You do not have an elastic mind, nor a tolerant one, and you are "down" on those who do not lead or think your "Philistine" life. You never allow yourself to display any violent storms of emotion, but your "freezing-up" methods are just as effective when you wish to show disapproval.

Underneath your hardness and bravado, however, may be found a person who longs for love, affection and understanding. You are happier with people to whom you can condescend, than you are with your own class or superiors. You secretly distrust and resent superiority of intellect. If you be a woman you must fight both envy and jealousy, or they will destroy your chances for real happiness and contentment. Your reading does not show that you will ever be in want for any of the material comforts and many of the luxuries of life. You are able to organize work, and to direct others. If you marry, your pride will never let you show the world, the true state of your home relationships, if they be unharmonious.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 27.

The king, a man constitutionally unable to accept a dare. Without force high courage and a certain amount of ruthlessness, he never would have attained his present position in the world of cattle and finance. Never having known a moment of weakness in an emergency, his heart beat high now with pride and admiration for Ken Burney. True, the boy still had another fight before him, but judging by the masterly manner in which he had inflicted such a crushing defeat upon Gallegos, the king was singularly free from worry as to the outcome of the second and final battle. But what did not greatly please him, however, was the manner in which his daughter had received this hired killer of his. Evidently, while Burney continued to kill in self-defense, the princess would continue to regard him as a gentleman.

While he stood with his back toward the young people (he was at the sideboard mixing the cocktails) he kept his old ears wide open for what they had to say. Ken Burney was drawing the princesss a map of the battlefi ih and lecturing her on the value of preparedness. "If I hadn't provided good rifles, sighted up to a thousand yards; if I hadn't trained my men to shoot expertly at that range, and if I hadn't made a careful plan of campaign and stood by that plan to the last," the king heard him say, "there would have been a different tale to tell. Gallegos is neither a strategist nor a tactician, but he's a fighter. He's not afraid to come on and he must have grand qualities of leadership, otherwise, his rabble would not have followed him. He would have overwhelmed any ordinary force of double the number I possessed."

"By crickey, you're right—if you do admit it yourself," the king soliloquized. "Ken, my boy, you're a good man and you know you're good. Muriel calls your admission of the fact self-conceit, but you and I know it's self-esteem and no man without that quality is worth two hoots in a hollow where there's a big job to be done . . if he could only be induced to forget that other girl . . if Muriel will play her hand well and land him . . hell, I'm old and need a rest . . damnation! Why must my baby be unlucky enough to fall in love with a man who can never reciprocate . . . poor Muriel. And it's all my fault."

Well, that was a pleasant dinner party—at least insofar as Ken Burney and the princess were concerned. Despite the heat and the burdens of the day, Mr. Burney was quite fresh and bubbling over with the joy of living. After dinner he went to the ranch office where he slept and brought back his jews-harp and harmonica; he whistled and played and sang; he told stories inimitably and to the music of his whistling he taught the princess two dances the world had forgotten before she was born, to-wit, the mazurka and the schottische.

The king was far from enjoying this intimacy in the young people. "Thank God you don't do tricks with cards," he growled irritably. "I don't think I could stand that."

To his signal relief Burney did not stay later than half past nine. He could not forget that he had to complete his contract and be on his way, for up in Harney county, Oregon, old Dan Wilkins was holding fifteen thousand head of cattle for his inspection and time was the essence of the contract. Moreover, he realized that any slip in his plans for the foray into El Cajon Bonita might be fatal—and he desired to write to his father! As he was about to take his leave the butler entered with the announcement that Mr. Burney was wanted on the telephone by Mr. Bruce.

"There's an extension telephone in my room," the king cried excitedly. "Wait a minute son, till I get on it. I want to listen in."

"There's another extension line in the butler's pantry," the princess announced. "I think I'll do some listening in myself."

"A minute passed, then Burney entered the telephone booth in the hall.

"Good-evening, Mr. Bruce," he announced gravely.

"That you, Burney?"

"Yes."

"Martin Bruce speaking. I got your wire. An' I been hearin' a lot o' your loose conversation about me. You still sure you're goin' to be down in El Cajon Bonita Thursday or was that just talk?"

"I'll be there. I give you my word of honor, I will."

"Good news. How about that horse you promised to sell me? You'll be dead or leavin' the country by Friday—an' you promised to turn over the bill o' sale an' the delivery order to the bank the day before you left Mew Nexico."

"Where are you know?"

"In Huachita."

"Very well. I suppose you desire to be well-mounted when you ride down to meet me with your gang. Well, I don't blame you. My horse has a running walk that will not jar a man of your age and weight. I'll send a man in Wednesday morning with the horse and the documents."

"Thanks."

"I'll be disappointed if I do not meet you in El Cajon Binita, Mr. Bruce."

Martin Bruce laughed harshly and briefly. "You'll meet me, young feller m'lad. I just called up to make sure you wouldn't disappoint me. Have you made your will?"

"No, but I shall in about half an hour I'll have that thousand dollars you're paying me for Rowdy to dispose of. Be good to Rowdy, won't you, Mr. Bruce? He's a grand horse."

"Don't I know it!"

"Have you made your will, Mr. Bruce?"

"Don't have to. I'm sittin' pretty, provided you don't disappoint me."

"I'll disappoint you. You're going to die and be buried Thursday in El Cajon Bonita. And I'll plant you with your pal, Miguel Gallegos, you dog."

He hung up, strolled out into the living-room, picked up his hat off the piano, bade the king and the princess farewell and disappeared into the night. Nor did he or the king fail to note that the princess was very pale, that her lips trembled and that in her eyes the tears were struggling for egress.

When the footsteps died away, the princess went to bed and had what is known among her sex as a good cry.

Burney gave Martin Bruce a week in which to mature a plan of campaign, and that was a hard week on the princess. The general manager avoided the castle as he would a pestilence. On Tuesday afternoon she saw Burney saying good-by to his horse and wept a little for both; she knew Rowdy would be delivered to Martin Bruce on Wednesday morning and that the horse, like its late master, might not survive beyond Thursday. And when, after luncheon on Wednesday, Ken Burney rolled out with his little army in motor trucks once more and called very briefly to say good-by to her and the king in a very jolly and informal manner, she could scarcely restrain her taers until his departure.

An hour passed and the king could stand her woe no longer. "Now, now, honey," he soothed, "nothing is going to happen to the boy. He'll out-fox both factions and be back here to-morrow night as pert as a butcher's dog. He isn't a bit worried."

"I know he isn't. He's an old soldier. He's gone to the assult in a hundred fights. But I'm worried.'

"So am I", His Majesty admitted.

"Then why will you persist in permitting him to do this thing, Dad?"

"The Lord knows I have tried to stop him, honey. But he'll not be stopped. He is obdurate and holds me to my contract—and a verbal contract with me is a sacred as a written one. I offered to make good as I promised, provided he abandoned his end of the deal, but he declined on the ground that he had to win the aid I offered him or forever remain unhappy; yet he could not accept my aid without having given value received. He assured me there was no danger to be apprehended for him or his men. He outgamed me. He has me foul.' He realizes I can't repudiate my agreement and he will not release me."

HON. WILLIAM BLACK ELECTION CONCEDED

Former Minister in Meighen Cabinet is Returned—Hon. G. B. Jones Also Elected.

Hon. W. A. Black (Cons., Halifax) whose election was conceded early in the evening is a former member of the "Shadow Government" of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. In the Maritimes he long has been known as the champion of Maritime rights. He was elected first for one of the Halifax seats at a by-election in 1923 and has held his seat in the Commons since. He was Minister of Railways and Canals in the 1925 Conservative Cabinet.

JONES IS RETURNED

Another of the "Shadow Government" to be elected in the Maritimes was Hon. G. B. Jones who held the riding of Royal. He was elected to Parliament first in 1921 and has held the seat ever since. He was appointed Minister of Labor in the 1925 ministry of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen.

DUFF RETURNS.

One of the stormy petrels of Parliament, William Duff, Liberal, successfully contested the riding of Antigouish-Guysborough , in Nova Scotia. He was first elected in 1917. He was re-elected again in 1921 and in 1925 but was defeated in 1926. At the close of the 1925 session he was chosen Deputy-Speaker of the House of Commons. Mr. Duff made a comeback in 1926 when a vacancy occurred in the riding he now represents.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake

TIME TO WAKE UP.

"During the majority of working hours the inner man is asleep," says Dr. William Lyon Phelps. He might truthfully add that many men are half asleep during the remainder of working hours.

Sometimes a sudden fright about losing his job will wake such a man and keep him awake, but frequently it is then too late.

The most dangerous thing is a little prosperity, a little success, which leads one to fancy that the world is all right and that he might as well go at half speed, save fuel consumption and take it easy.

You find many middle-aged men and women workers in that condition.

They take it for granted that because thus far they have "got away with it" they will continue to do so.

But by and by they discover that younger people are competing with them—younger people who have their way to make and who know that they must have modern ideas if they are to get a start at all.

It is then that the sleepers are eased out, often reluctantly, for few employers want to get rid of faithful old hands.

But business is business, and its demands are growing more severe.

The people who do not keep up, who have been half asleep, must make up their minds to be relegated to less important places, and if they haven't saved any money things may go pretty hard for them.

Barring hard luck and affliction, there is a pretty good chance for everybody to find what he is best fitted to do.

In any big organization are plenty of loafers and work dodgers, and the executives in charge are glad enough to find people who really think and work and keep wide awake during business hours.

These do not necessarily need to be the best equipped mentally or the best educated.

But they must be interested. They must think their job is important, and try to make it more important still.

They have got to clear the cobwebs out of their eyes when they get out of bed in the morning, and to keep them out all day.

And it will do them no harm to spend a few nights a week thinking about their business.

One of the most successful men I know, is not brilliantly educated, nor is he any mental marvel, but he thinks about business through most of his waking hours, and he never lets a business chance slip through his fingers.

He is never asleep any of the time, except when he is in bed, and then he probably dreams of business.

But he is a good employer to good men, and some of them are getting rich in his employ.

Fall wheat is in excellent condition and about half of it is ready to cut. Oats, barley and the other grains ought to come in well."

Roots are coming along nicely throughout the district, Mr. Nelson also reported. The crop of hay, the harvesting of which is about completed, has been somewhat light generally although alfalfa was good.

FEW COMMENTS FROM ENGLAND

Empire Free Trade Given Impetus Says London Press of Bennett's Win.

"RESULT NOT SURPRISING"

LONDON, Eng., July 29 (C. P. Cable)—The results of Canada's general election have so far drawn little comment here.

In some circles there has been a keen interest in the particulars, however, with exiled Canadians and diplomatists showing the most eagerness for news.

Metropolitan newspapers to-night print the record of Canadian voting without any great show of excitement. The Evening Standard editorially recalls Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King's long and honorable period in office. "The result is scarcely surprising," remarks The Standard. "Winning successive general elections is a feat taking all the powers of the most gifted statesmen and the odds were, therefore, against him from the start."

Boost Free Trade.

The result of the election should give considerable impetus to the Empire free trade movement in England, says the Standard. "The Liberals formulated a budget containing the principles of Empire free trade, and put it before the county. Hon. Mr. Bennett favored a reciprocal budget."

The Standard continues that of course the Liberal budget is now dead and the benefits it would have conferred on Britain will not materialize. "This will disappoint British manufacturers who will not now reap the advantages of a budget which proposed giving absolute free trade to Britain in 580 tariff items out of a total of 1,183. Nevertheless, the Empire free trade movement here will benefit from Bennett's victory."

NO SOLID BLOC IN NEW HOUSE

Premier Ferguson Well Pleased With Election Results.

Fresh Impetus to Business.

TORONTO, July 29. (C.P.) — "One of thhe most cheering features of the result of the election is that there are no more 'solid' provinces, one way or the other," said Premier G. Howard Ferguson, in expressing pleasure with the Conservative victory yesterday.

"Apparently the people are going to act upon principle and policy and not upon sectional prejudices, and the contemptible practices of raising racial and religious cries has met with the condemnation it deserves.

"I think this election will give a fresh impetus to business in Canada, and the outcome of the voting will be received with satisfaction in great Britain, where Mr. Bennett is known as a sterling Imperialist," said the Ontario premier. He summarized the result of the voting in the words — "The feeling of the people from east to west in Canada has been that the King government has failed to manage the affairs of the country in a reasonably efficient way."

TRADING CONTINUES AT SAME PACE IN TO-DAY'S SESSION

Big Majority of Stocks Remain in Discard As Far As Trading Attention Concerned.

PRICE ACTION CONFINED.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29 (C.P.).—No tangible reflection of election results was evident in the mining market during the early period to-day, trading remaining unusually light and price action confined. A feeling of relief after the uncertainty of election time was evident, but just what market reaction the change of Government would bring was of varying opinion.

A big majority of stocks were in the discard as far as trading attention was concerned. Only a few changes were seen at noon with the trend showing a slightly easier tendency. While copper stocks in New York have responded to some extent to the improved sentiment evident regarding the copper situation,only individual issues have displayed strength here, the majority apparently awaiting indications of better prices for the metal before moving.

Waite-Ackerman advanced to $2.91 and Sherritt-Gordon and Sudbury Basin were both a few points higher. International Nickel whose rights to subscribe to new stock will be forwarded to shareholders of record August 7 and will expire on August 30, was unchanged, and Noranda turned slightly easier.

Golds were a mixed group. Oriole dropped to 32, Big Missouri a couple to 60, and McIntyre 5 to $18. Sylvanite and Howey firmed a little, but other golds were stationary.

Home Oil, still affected by the absence of dividend action and the announcement that drilling and other equipment would be taken over from Imperial Oil, dropped 11 to a new low of $3.40, and Ajax Oil and Nordon were off a point or so each.

FARM ISSUES LEAD ADVANCE

Massey-Harris Adds to Substantial Gain Registered on Moiday.

OIL SECTION BRIGHT.

TORONTO, July 29. (C.P.) — The farm implement issues lead the advance on the Toronto Stock Exchange during the morning session to-day. Massey-Harris was much to the fore and added ⅝ to the substantial gain registered yesterday to sell at 27 7-8. Cockshutt Plow was up nearly a full point to go at 17¼. Brazilian proved indifferent to the trend and dropped 5-8 to sell at 39 1-8. This was the only outstanding loss throughout the entire list. City Dairy was another to continue the advance that started in late trading yesterday. This particular issue sold to a new high level for the year with a top price of 66. The old high was 65¼. C.P.R. among the higher priced industrials took on ¼ to go at 186¾. The oils proved to be a bright spot. There were no outstanding gains but all showed a fractionally better tone. B. A. and Imperial both were up an 1-8 to sell at 17¼ and 20¼ respectively. Little activity was seen on the curb and the price changes were of a very narrow margin. Seagrams was up ¼ to 10, while Service Stations and the two Standard paving issues went unchanged.

REBUILD 'QUAKE AREA.

ROME, Italy, July 29 (C.P.).—The Council of Ministers at noon to-day voted an appropriation of 100,000,000 lire, or about $5,230,000, to rebuild the stricken earthquake area of Middle South Italy.

designed the ship. He is accompanied by Major E. H. Scott, Assistant Director of Flying, who was Captain of the R-9 in 1917, the first British rigid airship to fly, and in 1919 commanded the R-34 on its flight from Scotland to the U. S. and back. It was Major Scott who invented and planned the St. Hubert mooring tower and base at Montreal, which now awaits the R-100.

Led Seaplane Patrols.

Wing Commander Colmore, who represents the Air Ministry, was largely responsible for the scheme of combatting submarines by airship and seaplane patrols, so effectively used over the English Channel and North Sea during the war. The navigator, Squadron Leader Johnston, is also a qualified master mariner. He was navigator of the first Imperial Airways flight to India in 1927.

An experienced member of the R-100 crew is Squadron Leader Wann, who was commanding the ill-fated R-38 when she broke up over the east coast in 1921. He was the only survivor from the forepart of the lost airship.

The airship is manned by a crew of four officers and 32 men, 14 of whom have no previous flying experience. With eight passengers, the total number on board reaches 44.

World's Largest Airship

The R-100, which is the largest airship in the world, is 709 feet long and 133 feet wide, while the R-101 is 724 feet long and is slightly slimmer.

The R-100 was originally designed for the London-Egypt-India trade and is so constructed that its cruising radius should range between four thousand and six thousand miles. It can carry a load of ten tons of freight in addition to a passenger list of fifty.

One of the features of the R-100 is that it incorporates a design which seeks to diminish air resistance by including the passenger accommodation with the envelope. The volume of the gas-bags is 5,150,000 cubic feet, giving the ship a gross lift of 156 tons.

R-34 Crossed in 1919

The last trip of a British dirigible across the Atlantic to the North American Continent was in 1919 when the dirigible R-34 crossed the Atlantic Ocean from Scotland to Mineola, L.I., covering a distance of 3,200 miles in 108 hours. She carried a crew of 31 persons including a stowaway. The return journey of about 3,000 miles was made in 79 hours.

The flight of the R-34 was the first craft of its kind to cross the Atlantic Ocean.

Q.—(a) What is call and time money?

A.—Call money is money that is loaned often by banks, trust companies, etc., and is subject to call or demand. It is quite liquid in that the ban can at any time recall the money advanced and return the security held against it. Or on the other hand the borrower can pay it off when he wishes. The rate can be raised by the lender at any time. In the event of such, if the broker thinks it excessive, he will pay off the loan. Brokerage houses resort to this method of borrowing funds when they need a large sum for a short time and are willing to pay a high interest rate for it. Since call money constitutes the bank's surplus funds it is a good barometer of the money market.

When it is plentiful, money rates are low and when the banks tighten up, the rates increase to correspond. such loans are usually of short duration because of the relatively high rates.

Time money is usually loaned for thirty, sixty or ninety days. The interest rates are fixed and cannot be altered, nor can the loan be called or paid off before the time specified in the note.

Q.—(b)—Which is usually quoted higher, and why it this so?

A.—Time money is usually quoted at higher rates than is call loan money. This is because the duration of the loan is fixed and the banks are unable to withdraw their funds when they need them for other purposes. Quick turnovers on the part of banks means frequent profits and, therefore, they demand higher rates on time loans.

ARTICLE LXXX

Q.—What is the object of placing stop loss orders and how can they be used to advantage: (1) in an advancing market? (2) in a declining market?

A.—(1) Stop loss orders are probably the most common way of protecting paper profits. In a rising market, stop loss orders can be placed slightly below the market price. These should be raised as the price of the stock advances. When the peak is reached and the stock takes a slide it will be sold slightly below the peak. This sounds very good in theory but it does not work out as it sounds. A stock has fluctuations within fluctuations which destroy this theory and this makes it impossible to get a high price. Some people wait until market conditions look unfavorable before putting stop losses on their stock. There is no doubt but what one can protect a paper profit already obtained in this way.

2.—A person can limit his losses by means of stop loss orders. When he first buys a stock, he may put a stop loss order a few points below the market price. If there is a bad break in the market his loss is slight, and he is able to buy in again at lower levels. Sometimes the stock drops enough to be sold and then advances beyond the original market price. It is a fluctuation such as this that ruins the purpose of the stop loss order.

Stop loss orders do protect profits and do prevent losses. Their purpose is fulfilled when they do that. There are many times when they work to the disadvantage of the investor, however. He can exercise certain discretion in placing them, but beyond that it is a gamble. When stocks are inactive, or where the the quotations are wide, or where the difference between the ask and bid price is great, stop loss orders are to be avoided. They should only be applied to listed stocks that are continually traded in.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE TO THE EXAMINER

The trade returns of the Commonwealth of Australia for the first ten months, July to April of the fiscal year 1929-30, show imports to be valued at £115,818,155 and exports at £80,769,422, writes D. H. Ross, Canadian Trade Commissioner in Melbourne, in the forthcoming issue of The Cammercial Intelligence Journal. Exports of bullion and specie were valued at £26,891,945 while imports were £21,034. Imports into Australia are being drastically curtailed by methods entirely new to the country, hence trade payments are being substantially reduced, yet the high exchange rates continue and with little prospect of any material relief for at least the balance of 1930. Lower prices for wheat in both Canada and the United States have had a marked effect on the Australian wheat market, and business has been practically at a standstill with few inquiries from oversea. The total quantity of wheat shipped from Australia since the beginning of the season down to June 22 is given at 30,849,904 bushels, as compared with 69,709,106 bushels for the corresponding period of last year, and of flour at 248,019 tons compared with 323,318 tons.

Canadian companies which have issued reports on operations for the first six months of the current year are to be commended in informing shareholders how the organization is weathering the difficult period of depression. It is gratifying, indeed, to see so many companies reporting earnings well above dividend requirements, even though profits are not the equal of those of last year. Among the latest companies to report on six months' operations are Dominion Stores and Hamilton Bridge, two companies whose activities lie in widely divergent directions. Dominion Stores, in the first half, earned 88 cents a share after all charges. As a heavy allowance was taken out of earnings to cover cost of equipping a number of stores with meat departments, the management has every confidence the second half will be better than the first. Dividend requirements amount to $1.20 a share annually, so that the dividend would seem assured even though there were no improvements the remainder of the year. Hamilton Bridge pays a dividend of $2 annually, so that here again the prospects are there will be a comfortable margin over and above dividend requirements at the end of the full year. Hamilton Bridge statement is viewed in a very satisfactory light and is reassuring to a public that has come to look upon the structural steel stocks with less optimism. Orders on hand and in prospect are sufficient to maintain operations at capacity for the next three months, which is a normal condition for a company in this lines of business.

"BEARS" PLAY HAVOC IN RAIL ISSUES IN TO-DAY'S TRADING

Election Result in Canada Evident on Wall Street — Favors "Bruin" Cause.

MOTORS WELL SUPPORTED.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 29 (C.P.). —Bulls fortified themselves behind important industrial and utility shares while bears played havoc in to-days stock market in the merchandising and rail issues.

On the whole, the day's news favored the bear cause. Speculators for the decline were quick to place an unfavorable interpretation on the high tariff party in Canada, estimating that retaliatory schedules may reduce our export trade to the extent of a few hundred millions annually.

General Motors were well supported, selling fractionally higher, and Dupont, which has a 23 per cent. interest in it, sold up 3 points for a time. Losses in Radio, U. S. Steel, and General Electric were held to narrow margins during an intermediate rally in the morning Coca Cola sold up 3 and Eastman more than 4.

In the rails, such issues as Rock Island, Union Pacific, Atchison, Atlantic Coast Line, Southern and Louisville and Nashville dropped 4 to nearly 10, the last two reaching new lows. Sags of 1 to 3 were numerous. In the chain store group, Safeway Stores dropped several points to a new low. Gillette reacted sharply.

LOCAL RESIDENT CALLS TO PARIS

First Trans-Atlantic Telephone Call to be Put Through From This City.

THREE MINUTE SPACE.

The first trans-Atlantic telephone call to be put through from Peterborough occurred at 7.25 Saturday night, when a local subscriber talked to Paris, France, for the space of three minutes.

An appointment call was registered at the Bell Telephone Company's Office here at 6.30 p.m. on Saturday by a prominent citizen and relayed to New York. The New York operator notified the local office that there would be an "indefinite delay" due to extreme static conditions over the Atlantic. After a lapse of almost an hour, the local office asked New York for information as to what was meant by "indefinite delay."

"The static conditions have cleared," New York announced. "The call from Peterborough comes up next."

The call, which lasted the minimum period, cost $33.75, according to H. H. P. Johnston, division manager of the Bell Telephone Co. here. The matter discussed, he announced, was "very private." Due to a rule of the company, he was not at liberty to divulge the name of the subscriber.

All trans-Atlantic calls from this city are put through New York and relayed from the giant American Telephone and Telegraph Co. radio transmitter on Long Island.

Although the first oceanic call originating in Peterborough, this call is the second of its kind to be handled locally. Recently a call from the Savoy Hotel, London, England, came through the Bell Office here for a subscriber in Lakefield.

With the advent of these trans-Atlantic calls, according to Mr. Johnston, the trans-continental calls which a few months ago were thought to be of such paramount importance have not sunk into the sphere of routine business.

"A straight line is the shortest distance.."

You need a flashlight or an alarm clock. That's one point in a common geometrical problem. Somewhere a manufacturer is making, a store is offering for sale, exactly the flashlight or alarm clock you should have. That's the second point in your private problem. . . . And advertising is the straight line that shows the shortest distance between the two!

Day after day, in the advertising pages, you'll find straight lines drawn direct to the products you need. Look for them. Follow them. They may save you hours of searching.

And more than time, they'll save you money. Advertised products are those whose honest worth has made them popular. Merchants and manufacturers who advertise regularly have passed the public's test of fair dealing and reliability. By studying their announcements in the light of your own needs, you can buy most wisely and well.

Read the advertisements and practice straight-line buying.

E. A. Peck's Majority Set at 1,627 Votes

Conservative Member For Peterborough West is Returned to the House of Commons for the Third Successive Time—Slight Decrease in Majority.

LIBERALS SCORE SMALL GAINS IN COUNTRY POLLS CITY POLLS PILE UP MAJORITY FOR CONSERVATIVES

E. A. Peck will return to the House of Commons for his third term as member for West Peterborough with only a slightly reduced majority from that which he enjoyed in the 1926 election. With several of the far distant polls yet to hear from, his majority is tabulated at 1,627. With the results now available he polled 9,488 votes, as compared with J. J. Duffus' total of 7,861.

Mr. Peck returned to the House with a majority of 2,109 over Mr. Duffus in 1926. He first entered Parliament in 1925 when he wrested the seat from Hon. G. N. Gordon by a majority of 1,963.

While the official results may vary a little from those at present on hand, the local Conservative victory is just as definite as it was in the two previous elections when Mr. Peck then carried the polls.

Result Never in Doubt.

Confidence reigned supreme among Mr. Peck's supporters right from the outset last evening. Even before the reports began to trickle in shortly after 7 o'clock there were no doubts in the minds of those gathered at the Conservative committee rooms. The very first reports bore out that optimism and each poll brought in its tale of Peck majorities.

Quiet confidence soon turned into noisy jubilation as the victory piled up. In the intense heat, with the crowd packed into the small space of the Peck headquarters, the place shortly became an inferno. Eagerly men and women swarmed about the sidewalk, mopping their perspiring faces and questioning for further returns.

Mr. Peck was enthusiastically received and congratulated. Up until 8 o'clock he had been rather unwilling to express assurance that he had been elected, but advised some of his happy supporters to wait a little longer before taking the victory for granted. By 8.30 with only a few polls to hear from, the country bugbear was definitely removed, and the Conservatives paraded to the Opera House to hold a victory celebration. There they were addressed by the local party leaders and heard the reports as carried in by wire from other ridings.

Examination of the unrevised figures from the city polls show that Mr. Peck had majorities in 44 of the 52 sub-divisions. The city gave him a majority of 2,242. His biggest single majority was returned at poll 30, W. C. Cook's house, on the corner of Park Place and Sherbrooke Street, where he obtained 230 to 76.

Liberals' Majority in Country.

In the country, however, as usual the Liberals enjoyed a marked success and made substantial holes in the Peck majority. In fact, the country gave Duffus a majority of something like 579.

Fifteen of the 41 rural sub-divisions returned Duffus' majorities, with four more outlying polls yet to be heard from. The Town Hall at Ennismore gave Duffus his biggest single majority, 175. O'Reilly's School at Ennismore returned 80 Duffus votes to nine for Peck.

Only one poll returned a tie vote, that at Grady's store, Clariday, where each candidate ran 88.

Peterborough voters came out strongly to the polls despite the intense heat. With five polls yet to be added in, there were 349 more ballots cast yesterday than in the 1926 election. So far recorded, 16,107 ballots were used yesterday, while in 1926 the total vote was 15,759.

There was nothing half-way about the Conservative celebration, even if it was held while most of the celebrators were half-anxiously awaiting results from other ridings. They had the band out, paraded the streets, and made whoopee in proper style.

Crowds gathered early outside The Examiner office to hear the results broadcast through the loud speakers as they came in red-hot over the two private wires from the Canadian Press clearing house in Toronto. It was estimated that at least two thousand persons took advantage of The Examiner service. The streets presented a busy and an animated picture throughout the whole evening, and even when midnight rolled around the ranks about the paper office was little reduced. Everyone wanted the outside results, and they got them.

Duffus Thanks Supporters.

"I desire to congratulate my good friend, Mr. Peck," declared Joseph J. Duffus, defeated Liberal candidate, speaking to the large gathering in front of The Examiner last night. "To be elected for the third time to the House of Commons is a great honor.

"If the Conservative party should get in power perhaps Mr. Peck could do more for Peterborough than I could do if he were defeated. However, if there is anything I can do for the city or any of the people I will be eager to do it.

"I have no regrets in this campaign. When I entered the fight I asked all those who intended to support me to do nothing that would bring any regret when the campaign was over.

"I sincerely hope that the country will enjoy an era of prosperity and progress in the future, for there is no real reason why this country should not make great advancement. I sincerely hope that we will have an administration with the interests of the Dominion sincerely at heart."

Mr. Duffus claimed that the MacKenzie King Government merited credit for the prosperous times enjoyed under its administration.

"If there is anything I can do at any time to assist Mr. Peck or the people of Peterborough collectively I shall gladly do it."

In an address to the gathering of supporters which filled the Liberal headquarters last night after he had conceded the election to Mr. Peck, Mr. Duffus thanked his workers, mentioning especially the Women's Liberal Association.

"When you realize that we got nearly one-half the votes, the defeat will not seem so bad. It is by no means an ignominous defeat, it being considered that this riding is largely industrial. The blue ruin talk must have had a considerable effect on the vote. However, when the Canadian dollar is above the American dollar, it is ample proof that conditions in Canada are better.

"I want to thank the voters in the townships. I think we made gains at nearly every poll. That shows that the farmers appreciated the work that the King Government has done. I think we owe the farmers a great deal for the gains."

Mr. Duffus spoke of the New Zealand and Australian treaties, maintaining, as he did during his campaign, that they brought Canada millions of dollars and will continue to do so. He claimed that it was one of the good bargains made by the Government.

FAMOUS QUEBEC BLOC BROKEN

evening, it being late at night before it developed the Conservative figures were increased from 53 to 59, while the Liberals fell off from 25 to 21 as compared with 1926.

Quebec Turn a Shock.

Meantime returns of a quite astonishing character had been piling in from Quebec. Conservative gains doubling even the optimistic forecast of their organizer. The whole situation immediately changed, and by half past nine, eastern standard time, the Canadian Press was justified in stating the Government faced defeat. But it was not until the story of Conservative gains in the Prairie Provinces began to come to hand half an hour later that the tide throughout the country had definitely turned toward a Conservative victory. Liberal support in Quebec is reduced from 60 to 39 members, with 24 Conservatives, one Independent, and Pontiac, former Liberal, in doubt.

One seat remained in doubt in Ontario, Norfolk-Elgin, going to W. H. Taylor (Lib.), unchanged, Lambton East, Liberal last election.

Tory Sweep in Manitoba.

Manitoba perhaps marked the greatest Conservative sweep, for they won 12 seats as against none in 1926, among the come-backs being Hon. Robert Rogers in South Winnipeg, Col. Mullins in Marquette, W. W. Kennedy in Winnipeg South Centre, and Thomas Hay in Springfield. These gains were at the expense of three Liberals, leaving but one, Dr. Howden, former Mayor of St. Boniface, and member there since 1925, of all four Progressives and of five of the seven Liberal-Progressives, who were virtually Liberals. Among seats that came back to the Conservatives was Portage La Prairie, where Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, then Prime Minister, was defeated in 1926.

In Brandon, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways and former Progressive leader, as well as Minister of Agriculture in the Union Government of 1917, went down before the Conservative avalanche. Winnipeg North and North Centre proved loyal to the two Labor leaders, Rev. J. S. Woodsworth and A. A. Heaps.

Six Saskatchewan Gains

Conservatives recorded six gains in Saskatchewan where they had no representation, the Liberal members falling from 16 to 10, and Progressives from 4 to 2, with one Liberal-Progressive and one seat, Long Lake, former Liberal, in doubt, the Conservative leading in the riding by 17 with one poll outstanding.

Premier Mackenzie was elected in Prince Albert and Hon. W. R. Motherwell in Melville, but Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw were captured by the Conservatives.

In Alberta Hon. R. B. Bennett held his seat in West Calgary, and his running mate in East Calgary won the seat from Labor. Conservatives also gained Edmonton East from the Liberals and Lethbridge from the U.F.A., a net increase of three. Three Liberals and nine U.F.A. complete the 16 constituencies. Hon. Chas. Stewart, Minister of the Interior and former Premier of Alberta, was re-elected after a hard fight in Edmonton West.

Thus Mr. Bennett emerged from the Prairie with a safe majority and the prospect of gathering in the majority of the 14 British Columbia seats of which he held 12 at dissolution.

Surprises in B. C.

But here was another surprise, for Vancouver gave three seats to the Liberals and the fourth to Labor, all at the expense of the Conservatives. New Westminster also went Liberal, but the latter lost Kootenay East to the Conservatives. Comox-Alberni again returned that stout Independent, A. W. Neill, and two seats are in doubt, Caribou and Skeena, both Conservative at last election.

George Black, Conservative, was returned for Yukon, unchanged. Beside Hon. Charles A. Dunning, defeated in the city where so long he presided as head of the Saskatchewan Government, four other ministers went down to defeat, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways, and former Progressive Leader, was beaten in Brandon by D. W. Beaubier, Conservative; Hon. Lucien Cannon, Solicitor-General, was beaten in Dorchester, Que., by Onesime Gagnon, Conservative; Hon. Cyrus MacMillan, who gave up a McGill professorship to become Minister of Fisheries, a new portfolio went down to defeat with running mate in Queen's, P.E.I., and Hon. W. F. Kay, Minister without portfolio, lost to Dr. Pickel, Conservative, in Brome, Missisquois, Quebec. Other Cabinet ministers were elected, though the Postmaster-General had a hard fight in Gloucester as the only surviving Liberal in New Brunswick.

The Conservative ranks also suffered serious casualties, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce in the Meighen Cabinet of 1921, and later in opposition foremost in pursuing the customs enquiry, was defeated in Vancouver centre by Hon. Ian Mackenzie, newly appointed Minister of Pensions. In the neighboring constituency of Vancouver north Maj.-Gen. A. D. McRae, Chief Conservative organizer and right hand man of Hon. R. B. Bennett, suffered defeat.

Most Spectacular Loss in Church

But the most spectacular loss of the Conservative party is that of that old parliamentary hand, T. L. Church, who was elected to Parliament for Northeast Toronto in 1921 while serving his seventh term as Mayor, being elected for Northeast Toronto in 1925 and 1926 by enormous majorities. But at this election the nomination went to the chairmen of the Conservative Association, J. R. McNichol, and Mr. Church, whose health last session was indifferent, was forced into a hard contest in Toronto west centre, the Liberal candidate, Sam Factor, beating him by a small margin and thus breaking into "solid Tory Toronto."

Miss Macphail, Only Woman

An outstanding Liberal success in Ontario was that of W. H. Moore, former Chairman of the Tariff Board who defeated the late member, Dr. Kaiser, in Ontario County.

Miss Agnes MacPhail again proved invincible in Southeast Grey, only survivor of 10 women candidates.

Mr. Bennett gained a notable recruit in Laval-Two Mountains, Que., with the victory of Arthur Sauve, former leader of Quebec Provincial Conservatives.

Hon. E. C. Drury, former Prime Minister of Ontario, who ran as a Liberal-Progressive in North Simcoe, was defeated, as was his former Minister of Lands and Forests, Beniah Bowman, in East Algoma.

The Worry-Saver

Mother spent a few weeks every summer visiting relatives. The family managed to "get along" somehow, but it wasn't easy. Mother started to telephone home every so often to ask about things and to offer suggestions. It certainly helped matters and relieved Dad's mind of a lot of worry!

WORK AT ST. PAUL'S RECOGNIZED BY KING

Dean Inge Becomes Knight — Architect Receives Knighthood and Canon Also Honored.

LONDON, July 29 (By Thomas T. Champion. Canadian Press Staff Corresopndent). — The Dean of St. Paul's, the Very Rev. W. R. Inge—it is not strictly correct to describe him as "Dean Inge"—has been created a Knight Commander of the Royal Victorian Order. The bestowal of this honor by the King upon the Dean is obviously in recognition of the labors for the restoration of St. Paul's Cathedral. The Dean has himself set on record that the Chapter of St. Paul's Cathedral is so constituted that the Dean himself has very little to do with the ordering of the affairs of the Cathedral. The real work of collecting funds for the restoration of St. Paul's, and of overseeing the labor of five years in reconditioning the building, fell upon Canon Alexander, for more than 20 years Treasurer of the Chapter. Canon Alexander is created a Commander of the Royal Victorian Order. The honor of knighthood is bestowed upon Mervyn Edmund Macartney, architect to the Dean and Chapter.

There are several precedents for the conferment of the Royal Victorial Order upon prelates and other eminent clergy. Thus the late Archbishop Lord Davidson was created K.C.V.O.—without receiving the Knighthood—in 1902. Two years later he was promoted G.V.C.O., and in 1911 was given the Royal Victorian Chain. The Bishop of London has been a K.C.V.O. for many years. Another distinguished cleric who was thus decorated was the late Right Rev. Dr. Andrew Wallace Williamson, who was Dean of the Order of the Thistle and the Chapter Royal in Scotland, minister of St. Giles Cathedral, Edinburgh, and Chaplain-in-Ordinery to the King in Scotland.

Dr. Inge has been Dean of St. Pauls since 1911. He has confessed that the offer of the Deanery by Mr. Asquith came to him as a "staggering surprise." It was Mr. Asquith's hope, it seems, that Dr. Inge would revive the old traditions of the Deanery as "the most literary appointment in the Church of England." Dr. Inge has scholarship in his bones. His father was Fellow of his College, had been a fast bowler in the Oxford Eleven, and it was only his excessive diffidence concerning his own merits which prevented him being appointed Bishop of Salisbury. He refused the bishopric without ever telling his wife.

PAJAMAS FOR SHOPPERS.

Beach dress is being worn by women shoppers along the Riviera, in France. Much as it is admired on the sands it barely arouses a glance in the market places. At Monte Carlo, on the Plage and by the swimming pool, the latest in Mexican trousers and short skirts are worn by women. At Cannes and at Juanles-Pins pajamas are worn all day, and are a common sight in style centers of the business sections.

Cricket players of India have declared a boycott on games with Europeans.

WALTER P.

CHRYSLER

PRESENTS TWO NEW STRAIGHT EIGHTS

All progress is change.

Only by change do man and the factors of his civilization move from the lower to the higher state; from the cruder to the finer development.

Our Chrysler engineers devote their lives to study, to analysis, to experimentation. And out of this constant searching and trying come the knowledge, conviction and decision that lead to progress.

In announcing two complete lines of New Straight Eights, in addition to our lower-priced Chrysler Sixes, we now register our most important change and progress—all designed, all worked for, all created to give the world better and more satisfying transportation.

In our progress there is no departure from fundamental principles.

To maintain public approbation, we must give always finer, more dependable, more dynamic car performance — must offer always greater value, as well as cars better suited to the needs of modern transport.

Thus, our latest Chryslers—the new Chrysler Eight and the new Chrysler Imperial Eight—containing as they do, outstanding engineering and style improvements — are, we believe, milestones along the course of automobile progress.

We are proud and eager to submit these cars to the inspection and test of the public.

MILLBROOK PICNIC HELD AT COBOURG

Members of Saint Andrew's Church Sunday School Enjoy Outing.

MILLBROOK, July 29.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Sunday School of St. Andrew's United Church held its annual picnic outing at Victoria Park, Cobourg, on Thursday afternoon, over two hundred attending the enjoyable gathering at the lakeside grounds.

The opportunity for a dip in the lake was, as usual, the great drawing card for old and young during the greater part of the afternoon, and with two 'scratch' teams playing softball, filled in the time happily until the tea tables were in readiness and the hungry crowd gathered about the well-laden board.

The preparation and service of the tea were in charge of the teachers and officers of the school, and the big task was carried through successfully and as promptly as was possible with so many requiring attention, tables having to be re-set at least three times before all had been seated, and appetites satisfied.

After supper the races for the younger element were the next attraction the winners being:

Primary class, boys: years 2-4—Max Raper, Hope Douglas.

Primary class, girls, 2-4—Yvonne Papineau, Mary Raper.

Boys, 4-6 years—Teddy McDowell, Jackie Kidd.

Girls, 6-8 years—Beatrice McDowell, Maud Raper.

Boys, 6-8 years—William Ridge, D. Williamson.

Girls, 8-10—Esther Might, Dorothy Smith.

Boys, 8-10—Gordon Jones, Kenneth Kidd.

Girls, 10-12—Marjorie McDowell, Dorothy Raper.

Boys, 10-12—Leon Raper, Reg. Edmunds.

Young ladies' race—Margaret Fallis, Margaret Smith, Maratha Earle.

Quite a number remained for the band concert in the evening, and the outing was voted one of the most successful in the history of the school.

Dated 1632, an original edition, second folio, of Shakespeare, was sold in Edinburgh, Scotland, recently, for $255.

This year the show was held at Manchester, where this picture was taken.

CONSERVATIVES IN CITY JUBILANT OVER ELECTION OF E. A. PECK FOR RIDING

Rousing Rally Held in Opera House Following Election of Local Conservative Candidate.

CLEAN CAMPAIGN

Hope Expressed Member for Peterborough Will Be On Side of Government.

Jubilant in the great Peck majority, local Conservatives joined in a rollicking rally at the Opera House at 8.30 last night to celebrate the victory. Cheers and whistles rocked the rafters, and hearty handclaps were freely exchanged.

Acting as chairman G. S. Matthews, president of the local Liberal-Conservative Association, congratulated Mr. Peck on his victory and the workers who had spent so much energy in getting him elected.

Mr. Peck spoke briefly, expressing his deep thanks to his supporters.

Introducing J. Ford Strickland, M.P.P., Mr. Peck said, "You will notice he has his coat off. He has had it off for the past five weeks.

"The results in Peterborough cannot help but be gratifying to all of us," said Mr. Strickland. "We must remember at this time that our majority was piled up, not only by good Conservative votes, but also by some level-headed Grits who voted for Mr. Peck.

"We are all now more interested in the summaries from the outside ridings," continued Mr. Strickland. "We all hope that it will be a big Conservative turnover.

Clean Battle Locally.

"Locally, both candidates have continued a clean fight, with no mud flinging, although some of the supporters threw some bad ones."

Mrs. Fallis was given a rousing cheer as she walked on the platform.

"Never before has there been a more strenuous campaign, and we are all glad to know that Mr. Peck has again led us through the smoke of battle to victory," stated Mrs. Fallis.

Continuing, she said that the personal attacks made upon herself by the Liberals had merely added votes to the Conservatives.

Hope For Bigger Things.

Charles Lloyd, a local Conservative leader, was next called to the platform. He said that Mr. Peck had previously been in the Opposition and could do nothing, but now he expressed the hope that he would now be in the Government, "and will be able to get something for Peterborough, because a man won't be at the head of the Government who wouldn't give you a five-cent piece if your were starving."

Mr. Lloyd stated that Mr. Duffus was a gentleman, and had conducted a clean, gentlemanly campaign.

KEENE.

Miss Lila Drummond, R.N., of New York, is home for her summer vacation.

Miss Peggy and Master Owen McCarthy of Millbrook, are visiting at the Victoria House.

Mr. and Mrs. James Slater of Kitchener, with Mrs. J. M. Center of Vancouver, were week-end guests of Mrs. William Campbell.

Mr. Isaac McNevan is home from the hospital after his serious accident.

The Young People's Club of Knox church met Friday evening. Mr. Hamilton gave an account of his work last summer as student-missionary at Port Renfrew on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

Reversing the efforts for strict observance of Sunday in Ireland, the City Council of Fermanagh passed a resolution requesting that a new pleasure boat on Lough Erne be run on Sunday, but the operating company refused.

PECK'S MAJORITY IS SET AT 1,663

Majority is Reduced by 446 Votes Over Last Time.

BIG CROWD OUT

Peck's majority was tabulated to be 1,663 at 10 o'clock last night with four more of the far-distant country polls to hear from. The totals were: Peck 9,487, and Duffus 7,824.

One consolation that Mr. Duffus may enjoy in his defeat is that he reduced by 446 the Peck majority of the 1926 election. In that campaign Peck had a majority of 2,109.

Peterborough voters came out strongly to the polls despite the intense heat. More than 349 more ballate were cast yesterday than in the 1926 election. With still four more polls to be reported the total vote reached 16,107, while in 1926 the total vote was 15,759.

There was nothing half-way about the Conservative celebration even though it was held while most of the celebrators were eagerly awaiting results from outside ridings. They had the band out and made whoopee in proper style.

Crowds gathered early outside of The Examiner office to hear the results broadcast through loud speakers as they came in red-hot from the Canadian Press clearing house in Toronto. The crowd was very quiet and heard the flashes with little outward show of cheer or lamentation.

MAN'S AUTO HITS TIGER.

While motoring at Glen Morgan, Southern India, on a dark and misty night recently, A. H. Jackman met three full-grown tigers in the center of the road. He at first thought they were jackals, but when he realized that they were tigers he stepped on the accelarator, hoping the animals would scatter. The car caught one of them full force on the hind quarters, knocking it down and running over it. There were loud roars and yelps from the injured, but Jackman, although his car was damaged, did not stop to give first aid.

Mr. German, who has spent 20 years in the west, his home being in Alberta, and being very prominent in the wheat pool, gave a very interesting address, which was enjoyed by all. Dialogues and recitations were in order.

The little Waters boys brought down the cheers with their clog dancing and steps of their own.

Both the Fife and Nixon orchestras were in attendance, and furnished some good music, while the Beamish brothers of Hastings contributed vocal music. Mr. Abercromby acting the comedian.

W. Wildman and Jack Grady helped with a good instrumental, followed by a song by Mrs. Fox and Mrs. Huycke of Hastings.

Recitations by Lila Burgess and Laura Metcalf were heartily enjoyed as also was the Scotch quartette.

A booth was on the lawn where all good things were sold.

An excellent time was acknowledged by all with thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Buck.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Fidler, pioneer settlers in the 5th Concession of Marmora Township. Deceased, who was unmarried, for a large number of years assisted his brother, James, in farming on what was considered the model farm of the township. It is left on record that in clearing land the late Magnus Fidler had recourse to a six-pound axe. The brothers Fidler were very industrious. They are remembered too as being most honorable in their undertakings and none of of their hired help ever had cause to regret being employed on their farm.

The deceased was a Presbyterian in religion and a Conservative in politics. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Frank Parker, of Stirling. The deceased was one of the oldest members of Marmora A.F. & A.M. 222 under whose auspices the funeral took place on Sunday afternoon. The cortege on arrival at Marmora proceeded to the Masonic Hall, where members of the Oder numbering forty joined the procession to the cemetery. After the committal had been taken by Bro. Rev. A. B. Caldwell, the rites of the Order were taken by Wor. Bro. A. V. Yates, assisted by Bro. Rev. A. B. Caldwell. The bearers were W. R. Linn, C. A. Bleecker, H. W. Sabine, W. A. Sanderson, G. W. Attention to Detail Marks Well Dressed Woman

The ensemble is important in evening accessories, and the idea is not extravagant if one chooses a multi-colored and gold brocade which will grace many a costume. The set shown in the Vogue sketch at the LEFT above, includes a capacious bag with a gold frame and a carnelian clasp, a cigarette case, also with a carnelian fastening, a very compact lighter, and a vanity case of folder type. There is also a black antelope pouch bag with a band that is fastened twice with simple baguette diamond bars. On the RIGHT above is a smart brimmed hat of white felt trimmed with black.—Sketch is by Vogue.

NEW COTTAGES AT TRENT RIVER

Hastings County Summer Resort is Becoming More Popular With Tourists.

GOOD FISHING

TRENT RIVER, July 29. (Examiner Correspondence).—Several new cottages have been erected on the north shores of the Trent up the river, directly east of what is known as the "tower" where the hydro crosses the Trent.

The land on which these summer homes are built was purchased from Joseph Harper, the situation is on comparatively high ground with a gradual slope to the water. There has been three cottages in the course of erection this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hofsteter and family of Canal Fulton, Ohio, are occupying their summer home "Phil-Roy" which he purchased two years ago. Visitors with them are the Misses Helen Schroeder and Hazel Laudenschlaigher and Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Hofsteter of Canal Fulton, Ohio.

The second cottage "Bree-Zee Ohio" is taken for a few weeks by Mr. and Mrs. Lester and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Strasser and family, Miss Jane Allen and Mr. Arthur Frentz of Canton, Ohio. Directly west of this stands "Pine View" recently built for Mr. Thilthorpe of Toronto. Mrs. Thilthorpe and daughter, Miss Edna arrived here the latter part of June; this is their third season at Trent River. Visitors with them are Mrs. Cope and son Frank of Toronto.

Further west is a new cottage of the square type owned by Mr. Edgar Laraway of Toronto, here Mrs. Laragay, daughter Marjorie and son John of Toronto are enjoying their holidays. Recent guests with them were Mrs. Curren and daughter Evelyn and Mr. Lorne Bradley of Toronto. Mr. Joseph Gardner of Norwood has erected two cottages recently, one for his son-in-law, John McConnell of Norwood and one for himself. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gardner are occupying John McConnell's cottage during the erection of his own summer home. This summer colony of cottages command a wonderful view of the Trent River.

EMILY ORANGEMEN DECORATE GRAVES

Rev. Mr. Smith of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Delivers Inspiring Address.

OMEMEE, July 29 (Examiner Correspondence). — The annual decoration of graves in the Emily Cemetery and service was held on Sunday afternoon, July 20. Led by the Salvation Army Band of Lindsay, the Orangemen of Emily district proceeded to the cemetery where after decorating the graves of departed brethren assembled with the large gathering beside the beautiful stone chapel for service. The opening address was given by the District Master, Wesley Wilson, followed by the band leading in the hymn "Onward, Christian Soldiers," and prayer by Rev. J. T. E. Blanchard, pastor of Trinity United Church. The hymn "O God of Bethel" was sung, after which Rev. Mr. Smith, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, gave a very fitting address on "The Memorial of the Dead":

"Ladies and gentlemen, we are met together this afternoon to honor the memory of those near and dear to us who have passed on from the scenes of this life into the great hereafter. It is indeed a fitting thing that we should so honor the memory of those who have lived and labored amongst us and who have now passed on to the reward of their labors. It is well for us at times to consider the great debt of gratitude that we owe to our predecessors—to those men and women who have laid the foundations of the community and who have blazed trails for their descendants to follow. The world and its ways change. The old order changes and yields place to new, but in the midst of all the transient and unpermanent about us, it is well for us at times upon occasions such as this to turn our thoughts to those eternal and abiding elements of life that do not change or fade. Shakespeare has truthfully said, "The evil which men do, lives after them," but he might just as truthfully have said that the good which men do lives after them. Our achievements, whether good or evil, are the really enduring memorials we erect and which remain after we have gone to our rest, and our greatest, let us remember, are not always the tangible things which we do—the houses we build, the harvests we gather, or the tasks we perform. Greater than these is the temple we erect in the soul, the manhood we reach, and the character we attain. R. L. Stevenson's biographer has summed up the life of that great writer by saying that "to do the work he did was a great achievement, but to be the man he was, was a greater achievement," and that is true of every life. Whatever our work may be, whether humble or great, our greatest achievement, our most noteworthy contribution to life is the manhood and the character to which we attain. This may seem to us at times to be rather unimportant, and the esteem in which it is held be attributed to a mere sentimental fancy. But let us not deceive ourselves. In the presence of death our sense of values change and we see things in their true light. In building up a Godly character we erect a memorial that endures the shocks of time—a spirit that broods over the lives of our associates when we are gone, and inspires them to noble living. A Godly character is one of the most inspiring things imaginable. It is all very well to preach to men of the value of character and the desirability of attaining it, but if there is no definite ideal presented, no living embodiment of the character, our works are ineffectual and useless. The character of a Godly man preaches a more effective and inspiring message with his life, and does more for the benefit and the uplift of the race than he who speaks of its merits with the greatest persuasion and does not possess its benefits. To-day, as we have gathered together to honor the memory of those whom we have loved and who have gone from us, our thoughts turn naturally to the building up of that permanent element of life, that strange mysterious power that lives on after we are gone, and makes us a part of all that we have met. These men and women whose memory we honor to-day are those who saw the worth of these permanent elements of life and have buried their lives on these foundations. These flowers with which we adorn their last resting-place are but a transient symbol of the esteem in which we hold their memory. These symbols will wither and fade, but the memory of them in our hearts must be kept fresh and green for ever. We do well to so honor their memory by such a tribute. But there is one tribute which these men and woman would prize far more highly, and that is that we should build our lives on the foundations which they have laid and govern them by the ideals which they cherished and upheld. These men and women have labored and we have entered into their labors. Let us see to it, therefore that we labor for the worthy ends for which they strove, and by so doing we shall pay a fitting tribute to their honored memory."

Rev. H. Earle, of Port Credit, rector in charge of Christ Church, spoke of "Reverence," and also paid honor to the pioneers of the district. The hymn "Abide With Me" was sung, and W. W. Staples, M.P.P., of Lindsay, spoke very fittingly of paying honor to our dead by the flowers and quoted several poems of Kipling and Shakespeare.

Mr. Fred Johnson of Omemee, District Chaplain, commended the Women's Institute who had been instrumental in bringing about decoration day in Emily Cemetery. He closed the service with prayer, followed by the National Anthem.

Farmer's Wife Benefited
"A farmer's wife is always busy and I have a big garden to cultivate all summer. I used to feel weak and tired but since I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can do all my work alone. MORE ABOUT SKIMMED MILK.

You may remember the old story that when the farmer looked at the pigs as they grew fatter for market, he used to smile to himself and say, "Nothing's too good for them, they're the boys that pay the rent."

And so all kinds of foods, all remnants of foods, vegetables and fruits of all kinds, were put in a mash, sometimes partially cooked, and fed to the pigs.

And one of the foods that the farmer feeds his pigs to strengthen and enlarge their bodies is skimmed milk.

Now there seems to be a feeling in some homes that once the cream is removed from the milk the remainder might just as well be poured down the sink.

As a matter of fact, the cream or most of the butterfat has been removed, and with it considerable of the fat soluble vitamin, but remaining in the milk, after the cream is removed, are some of the most valuable food factors.

Chief of these is the protein which, as you know, is the constituent in meat that makes it so valuable as a food. As the chief source of protein is from meat and eggs and they are rather expensive, you can see what a cheap source of protein then is found in skim milk.

Further, skim milk contains a considerable quantity of lime, and as the bones and teeth, the framework of the body, needs this for growth; you can see why the farmer wants to give his pigs skim milk. He wants a big frame on them to fatten out for market.

Now our baby specialists discovered the value of skimmed milk for growing babies and if you question mothers you'll find that a great number of them are feeding their babies skimmed milk.

Besides, skimmed milk still retains a little of its butterfat, which with the sugar remaining in it, gives the heat and energy that the body needs.

Thus the child in getting skimmed milk gets proteins which repair tissue which has worn out by kicking, wriggling, squirming and crying; some of the fat required for protection of tissues; lime to give him bone, and what is equally important to give him strong teeth; sugar to give him energy and heat.

The thought then is that skimmed milk is a real good food, and a cheap food. The use of it in soups, with cereals, or in cooking, would seem like good sense.

WEDDING BELLS

BROWNRIGG—DOWNS.

HASTINGS, July 29.—(Examiner Correspondence).—A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized this week in Ottawa of one of Hastings' most popular young girls, when Kathleen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Downs of Hastings, became the bride of George Brownrigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Abel Brownrigg of Pedleton. The ceremony was performed in St. Mary's church, Ottawa, by Rev. Father John Brownrigg, uncle of the bridegroom. The bride was attended by Miss Maxime McCauley of Ottawa, while Mr. Herman Brownrigg of Detroit, brother of the groom, was best man.

Immediately after the marriage ceremony the wedding party returned to the home of the bridegroom's sister, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Brownrigg left on a motor trip to Montreal and points east. On their return they will reside in Pendleton.

X-RAY REVEALS LOST FORCEPS.

Mrs. Mary de Sainte Croix, of Jersey, England, has been walking about for nearly seven years with a pair of arterial forceps in her abdomen. Early in 1923 she underwent an operation in a London hospital for internal trouble. Afterward she experienced pains which became so acute that an X-ray was taken recently and revealed the forceps. An operation will be necessary to remove the instrument.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

THE children's holidays are about half over now—some regret the fact while others are delighted because they like going to school much better than having holidays.

• • • • • •

I have noticed that picnics are in order now at this time. On Sunday when on a motor trip, I was surprised at the number of people who were apparently out for the day on a picnic, taking their dinner and supper with them.

• • • • • • •

Children delight in picnics and simply squeal with delight when they see Mother pack the baskets and everyone gets into the family car. And when mother can drive the car, they can go any day they wish.

• • • • • • •

I suppose the style of dress most used for such occasions is the sunsuit—many wear bathing suits and few care whether this style of dress is correct, so long as it is comfortable.

• • • • • • •

No child will overdress in summer—many want rather to underdress, but their is a tendency on their part to overeat.

• • • • • • •

Many are the digestive upsets following picnics because the children were allowed to overeat. Those mothers who are wise will see that the children do not eat too much and that the right kind of food is eaten—this is important.

• • • • • • •

You know, of course, that hot weather has a very marked influence over the digestive system of human beings. One should guard against eating on a hot sultry day under mental stress, because it may cause a severe disorder of the stomach.

• • • • • • •

It has been found, through experiments performed on animals that high temperature greatly reduces the efficiency of the digestive system. Animals confined in hot rooms will undergo attacks of severe diarrhoea after eating slightly contaminated food which causes no abnormal symptoms in animals kept in rooms with cool air.

• • • • • • •

It has been found, too, that hot weather causes a great increase in the heat regulating functions of the skin and there is a very close relation between the activity of the skin and the activity of the digestive system.

• • • • • • •

When the skin is doing a maximum amount of work the digestive system is able to carry only a minimum load!

• • • • • • •

When taking the children on a picnic, then, see that there is no anxiety especially if the day is very hot. They may be anxious to get in swimming, but try to ward this off, if at all possible.

• • • • • • •

For half an hour before eating, try to plan a quiet half hour—perhaps spent in reading, playing a word game in the shade, or if the children are not too restless, take a rest period.

• • • • • • •

The luncheon should be simple and one which cannot be eaten hastily. A good combination is bran bread and butter, tomato sandwiches, casserole of creamed potatoes and hard cooked eggs.

• • • • • • •

Then there might be lemonade or orangeade and little cakes and cookies. Or one might have stuffed eggs, vegetable salad, lettuce sandwiches and milk followed by some sweet, such as chocolate or some other wholesome candy.

POST MORTEM

By Wilda B. Gatrell

Did you think I would break my heart
Because you tired and wished to part?
Or drowned in depthless seas of pain
And prayed to have you back again?
Did you guess I walked down the street
In breathless hope that we might meet?
Or felt each tiny nerve a flame
If someone even said your name?
And spent my evenings all alone
In hopes that you would call or phone?
Then through the night, did you think I
In aching wakefulness would lie
To plan out ways of suicide?
For though you trifled, cheated, lied,
Since I had once been loved by you,
Did you think no one else would do?
Though you, like every man on earth,
Rate your love far above its worth,
I gotta hand it to you, kid—
That's exactly what I did.

"So your wife has thrown every bit of pottery in the house at you?"

"Yes, all, all are gone, the old familiar vases."

I call my girl Mazie because she never knows what she's doing.

—U. of S. Calif. Wampus.

I have brought you roses, love,
On my bended knees,
All the pretty posies, love,
Off the pretty trees.
I have brought you gewgaws, love,
Silks and jewels fine;
Poems praising you, love,
In dactylic rhyme.
I have brought you love, love,
Too much to relate;
What got I for this love?
What's that, you say? The gate!

RARE TRICK OF NATURE SEEN AS SEA GULLS VISIT PRAIRIES

Thousands of Beautiful Sea Birds Become Tame in Alberta.

OVER LAKE AREA.

(Special to The Examiner. Copyright, 1930.)

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., July 29. — Rare is it that the foothills and prairies of Alberta are visited by seagulls in any appreciable number but this season is an exception. The lovely birds of the briney are here in thousands giving a new, delightful attraction to the foothills country.

Especially are the gulls noticeable in the vicinity of Fishburn, a scenic region between Pincher Creek and Waterton National Park. This region is located in Alberta's fishermen's paradise, a land of numerous lakes and streamlets abounding in trout and offering numberless deep, shaded retreats with the lovely Rockies for a background. Here the flapping, feathered visitors from the sea are found by the score.

It is only occasionally in other seasons that the eerie cry, high in the air, of the gulls is heard or the flash of white pinions but this year they have flown low and shown an unusually friendly disposition towards the farmers working in the felds.

This species of gull is prettily marked—blackhead, yellow collar, a reddish hue on the back but snow white underneath, a white tail with a couple of black feathers in the centre and black tipped wings. His spread of wing is about 30 inches.

Extraordinarily tame for visitors, the gulls flutter about the heads of the farmers and his stock, so much so that they frequently frighten the horses. One would almost be fearful of attack as their shadows dash around one in the bright sunshine.

Although this is the season for migratory birds to be attending to domestic matters the gulls show no such inclination and one wonders if they do not attend to such affairs in the south when it is winter in Canada.

Pheasant families are likewise much in evidence this season along the creeks of the foothills and speeding motor cars are liable to destroy many tiny chicks, bewildered by excitement, for they are much the same in temperament as young turkeys.

The Alberta foothills in mid-summer are surprisingly beautiful. One finds endless delight all the way from the Highwood country, where the "E. P." Ranch—His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales is "boss" of this outfit—is located right through to the Montana border.

There is a quiet pastoral beauty about it all that entralls and inspires. The hills are green and still, the fields bright with the promise of the harvest, the streams cool and clear. In the waters of the region the government has planted thousands of trout fry and this year and for many years to come the angler will find a region rich in its rewards not only in sport but likewise in that renewing of the spirit obtainable only far from the "madding throng."

Isinglass Ike wonders if these new-front-wheel-drive cars will hurt the back seat drivers any this season.

CHILDREN'S PICNIC ON THURSDAY NEXT

Belmont Women's Institute Holds Monthly Meeting in Town Hall.

The monthly meeting of the Belmont Women's Institute was held recently in the Town Hall, the president occupying the chair.

The roll call was responded to by each member giving an apple recipe. Reports were received from several committees and the convenor of the property committee reported the painting of the kitchen at a cost of $33, also the purchase of an oil stove at $11.

The convenor on relief told of sending flowers, fruit and other delicacies to a sick woman.

It was decided to send $2 to the the District Secretary to be used as prize money in the girls' county judging competition.

A discussion on the care of neglected cemeteries took place and it was the unanimous feeling that the last resting place of our pioneers should have special care.

It was decided to hold the annual children's day picnic on Thursday, committees being appointed to look after the program and refreshments. A motion to purchase dishes was also passed.

The following program was given at the meeting: Piano solo, Miss Ruth Menzie; reading, Mrs. Harkins; demonstration on garment making Mrs. McComb.

A social half hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

She Did

When Lou awoke she realized it was a "special day." Then it dawned on her. It was her sister's wedding anniversary! A glimpse at her telephone reminded her that her sister was a great Long Distance user. She'd appreciate being congratulated by telephone. Lou was right.

Stribling Knocks Out Phil Scott in Second Round

SCOTT NO MATCH FOR GEORGIAN

Stribling Belts British Champion to Floor Four Times in First Round.

RECORD CROWD.

LONDON, Eng., July 29.—(C.P.)—Whatever hopes England had for a world heavyweight champion were blasted last night by the sledging-in fists of William L. (Young) Stribling, pride of Georgia. The Macon youngster knocked out Phil Scott, British title-holder, in two rounds and did it so thoroughly that as far as England is concerned the career of their champion is closed.

A record crowd of 35,000 saw Stribling belt Phil to the floor four times in the first round and polish him off in the second with a smashing left hook to the ribs. Stribling completely outclassed Scott in the ten round engagement that was billed for the "championship of the old world."

As an anti-climax stout old Joe Beckett clambered through the ropes after the knockout and challenged the winner to battle with a bet of 500 pounds sterling on the side.

THURSTON HURLS 2 TO 0 SHUTOUT

Boston Braves Held to Two Hits By Brooklyn Moundsman.

Cubs Beat Reds.

Back up to the majors for his second trial, Hollis Thurston has strenghtened the National League pennant hopes of Manager Wilbur Robinson and his Brooklyn Robins.

With Dazzy Vance pitching only mediocre ball and the Robins badly in need of a good right hander, Thurston apparently has relieved "Uncle Robby" of one less worry as the Robins continue to show the way in the hectic senior circuit race. After waiting until June 29 to start his first game, the former White Sox hurler has suddenly rounded into sensational form.

Thurston lost that first game to the Cubs, but Manager Robinson, master of pitchers, had faith in his big right hander, who went back to the Pacific Coast after spending the years from 1923 to 1926 with the White Sox and Washington. Hollis started against the Cards and held them to three hits and no runs.

Yesterday he opened his third game of the season against the Braves and turned in an even more brilliant exhibition, yielding only two hits and no runs.

Just as impressive but in another style was the performance of Bill Terry in the Giants' 5 to 4 victory over the Phillies. The big first baseman's activities included two home runs, a pair of singles and a sacrifice fly, which drove in the winning run in the ninth. The defeat was the Phillies' eighth straight while the game marked Terry's fifteenth contest in which he has hit safely, collecting 28 hits in 60 times at bat.

Although the Robins won, the Cubs gained a half game on their rivals by taking a double header from the Cincinnati Reds. The score of the first game was 3 to 2 and the night cap 5 to 3. The twin victories broke the Reds' jinx, which has done much to keep the Cubs out of the league leadership. Charlie Root outpitched Bennie Frey in the opener while Guy Bush was the hurling star of the closing game.

HOMER BY FOXX WINS IN 12TH

Yankees Surrender to Mackmen By 6-5 Count After Long Struggle.

TIGERS LOSE TO INDIANS.

The Athletics and Yankees renewed their American League argument at Philadelphia with the champions taking a 6 to 5 decision after 12 innings. To Gordon Cochrane goes the credit for driving in the winning run with a single, but it was Jimmie Foxx with his twenty-ninth home run in the ninth that made it possible for Cochrane to have his chance. The A's loaded the bases in the eleventh with none out, but Charles Ruffing went to the mound to retire the side without a score. He was not so fortunate, however, in the twelfth, when Earnshaw's triple and two intentional passes, packed the bases for Cochrane came through with the deciding hit.

Ted Lyons defeated a temperature of 107 degrees and the Browns to give the White Sox a 6 to 5 victory. The Sox were a run behind, going into the ninth but Cissell, Tate and Lyons put together a single and two doubles to win the game.

Cleveland also came from behind in the ninth to defeat Detroit 7 to 6. Elon Hogsett, Tiger hurler, broke the deadlock in the first half of the inning with a home run, but the Indians came back with two runs, Porter sending J. Sewell and Jablonowingski across the plate with the needed runs with a double.

MENIE DROPS FIRST GAME OF SOFTBALL LOOP FINALS

Fourth Frame Proves Fatal for Homesters and Bethel Wins 10-8.

CLOSE BATTLE

BURNBRAE, July 29 (Examiner Correspondence).—Menie dropped the first game of the district softball finals to Bethel on the home lot Friday evening by a score of 10 runs to 8. The game was close and exciting throughout and with the exception of the fatal fourth Menie had an edge on the play but seven glaring misplays in that inning virtually threw the game away. Kerr, with his sore arm in anything but good condition, pitched a wonderful game, striking out six of Bethel's heavy batters. He deserved a win on his performance but the support which he received was enough to discourage any pitcher.

Pitcher Wild

Gerald Broadworth was not in as good form as usual, throwing several wild ones. Menie batters lashed his curve ball hard, but the fielders from the highway hamlet were right on their jobs. Three errors coupled with two singles and Eagleson's three-bagger gave Menie a four-run lead which they increased in the third when Kerr scored on Tom Little's triple. Then came the death knell for Menie's hopes. Twelve Bethel batters faced Kerr. Gibson and A. Warren were safe on a hit and Shillinglaw's error. Dodwell swung at a third strike. Another error by Menie's first sacker and a single by M. Gibson, put three runs in before Carlisle fell a victim to a strike-out. The next batter was safe, putting two on bases. The next play was to Rannie at third, but instead of forcing the runner for the third out, he threw late to first and the merry-go-round went on. Hay dropped one in field, threw past second and first and a total of six runs were counted before Dodwell was out again at first with the bases loaded. Bethel added one in each of the fifth and sixth on safe hits. In the seventh they secured the winning margin on a play which caused some discussion. With two out, Bill Warren and Gerald Broadworth were on first and second. Percy Gibson, who had previously hit three out of four, came to bat. Kerr fielding the ball from second, did not notice the umpire step down the third base line to warn the crowd away from the bag and delivered the ball with his fielders unprepared. Gibson lashed out to deep right and both runners scored. Menie contended that time was automatically called and the ball out of play when the umpire left his position, but the play was left on the score sheet and Menie's dying efforts failed to tie the count. They counted two in the sixth on a triple by Lew Little and hits by Hay and Rannie. In the seventh, with the first man down, Tom Little secured another triple and scored on Shillinglaw's single. Lew Little again hit safely but Hay forced Shillinglaw at third. With the tying runs on bases Rannie was out on a fly catch.

The second game of the finals will be staged on the Bethel diamond on Friday evening, August 1. Menie will be making a desperate bid for a win and Bethel are just as anxious to make it two straight.

Line-up:—

Menie.—Kerr, p; T. Little, c; Shillinglaw, 1b; L. Little, 2b; Rannie, 3b; Eagleson, ss; Hay, lf; Petherick, cf; F. Little, rf.

IMPORTANT GAME WEDNESDAY NEXT

Harwood Journeys to Hastings for Northumberland League Fixture.

VISITORS NEED WIN

HASTINGS, July 29.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The most important ball game of the season is down for Wednesday afternoon, when Harwood come to Hastings. The boys from the lakeshore have not recovered from the trimming Hastings gave them on their own lot some time ago, which game they protested and after two meetings were held they lost out.

SARK MEN FAVOR WOMAN RULER

After two years of rule by a woman the people of Sark, an island off the English coast, wish her to continue in office. She is Mrs. Dudley Beaumont, with the title of Dame of Sark, and one of the last surviving examples of an absolute ruler in Western Europe. Sark has more men than women. Mrs. Beaumont is expected to continue although she says the duties are heavy. She is busy with plans for better sanitation and education, road improvements, harbor construction, and legislation. The minimum wage for women has just been established at $5 a week.

Tenants in municipal houses in Aberdeen, Scotland, are petitioning for better quarters.

LEAFS GO DOWN TWELVE TO 3

Crippled O'Neilmen Again Show Weakness on Attack at Rochester.

BISONS DRUBBED 12-2.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., July 29. — Eight hits by the Toronto Leafs off Paul Derringer, who fanned six and walked but one man, were not enough yesterday against the heavy hitting Red Wings who beat the Leafs 12 to 3. Nick Harrison was stingy over the first six innings, giving but four runs and seven safe blows, but he weakened in the seventh, and coupled with some pitching by Samuels, gave up seven runs and an additional seven hits.

Toronto took the lead with a tally in the second inning, but the Wings went ahead with two in the third when "Rip" Collins followed Joe Brown's walk and "Specs" Toporcer's single with a safe blow to send both men home. Harry Davis had driven home Bill Rogell in the second frame, and in the fourth he tied the count by doubling to allow Burke to score with the Leafs' second run.

In the sixth, the visitors filled the runway on a base on balls and errors by Brown and Anderson, but could not score. In the seventh, they counted once on three hits and a fielder's choice, as Sheedy tallied the final Leaf run of the day.

Battle Breaks Up.

In the seventh the Red Wings got down to serious business, and they came out with seven runs on seven hits, including three-base smashes by Pepper and Martin, and a double by Wilson. Two errors also helped in the counting of the runs.

"Pepper" Martin contributed the hitting feature of the contest when he drilled the ball over the centre-field fence with none on base in the eighth. The ball went out of sight at the 410 marker, the first ever to clear the barrier to the left of the 391 mark. It was the longest homer of the stadium's two-year history, over a fence which had been hit on the fly but twice before.

ROYALS DRUB BISONS.

BUFALO, July 29. — The Montreal Royals took a pretty fair slice of revenge for Sunday's double beating by thumping the Bisons all over the lot here last night for a 12-to-2 victory. They started a vicious attack against Dave Danforth, Buffalo's most effective southpaw, and kept up the assault right to the end, with Mills and Schoof the other victims. Long homers by Holoch and Ripple featured for the victors.

KEYS BEAT PIRATES.

READING, July 29. — Reading of the International League defeated Pittsburg of the National League 13 to 8 here yesterday in an exhibition game. It was a free-hitting affair and there were four home runs. Paul Waner, Pittsburg outfielder, hit two.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 29.—Wheat was marked down 2c per bushel, and other grains 1c per bushel on the Montreal cash grain market to-day.

Trading was noticeably quiet on the local dairy and produce markets, with butter a little easier, cheese a little higher, and eggs and potatoes about unchanged.

Eastern Townships No. 1 pasteurized butter could be bought as low as 28c. per lb., with asking price up to 28¼c, which was last week's closing prices. The dullness of trade, together with the fact that a large amount of butter was believed to have been unloaded at Halifax from New Zealand over the week-end, caused the easier feeling. To the retail trade solids were 30c. and prints 31c per pound. Receipts were 264 boxes.

On the cheese market, dealers adjusted quotations to prices paid at country Cheese Boards over the week-end, and asking prices were slightly higher. Receipts were 2,716 boxes

The egg market ruled firm. Receipts were 1,471 cases.

The potato market was quiet, with receipts light.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 29.— The largest receipts of wheat so far this season in Chicago and the greatest ever in Omaha did much yesterday to pull down the values of all cereals.

The price-breaking effect was intensified by the circumstance that the United States wheat visible supply to-day increased much more than expected, being augmented 14,503,000 bushels for the last week. This amount greatly exceeded the enlargement either for the week previous or a year ago.

Rain in Iowa and Nebraska, together with indications of a period of widespread moderate temperatures ahead for the corn belt, led to heavy profit-taking in the corn market.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 29. — The wheat market lowered itself yesterday as bears swarmed through the pit without opposition. Traders disregarded hail damage reports from Saskatchewan and frost notations from the Peace River District in the downward movement. They were impressed with the lack of export demand and United States corn's weakness. Prices were down 2¼c to 1⅞c at the close.

Most of the selling came from local holders in an extensive liquidation move, and the only support uncovered was outside buying.

Cash wheat trade was dull, with spreads unchanged to a fraction easier. Few sales were recorded on the coarse grains market.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, July 29—Conditions on the local butter and egg market yesterday showed little change from last week, and the reason for the only fair trading was lower production and a falling off in consumption just sufficient to keep prices steady.

On the butter market, the quotations of 28c to 28¼c for Ontario No. 1 and 26½c to 26¾c for No. 2 were steady with those of last week-end, the exception being that trading was less active yesterday.

Cream

Cream prices also held to the old level of 27c to 28c for special, 26c to 27c for No. 1, and 23c to 24c for No. 2, f.o.b., country points.

Cheese

The cheese market showed only fair activity, as usual, and the prices locally were on par with those quoted before, which were 16¾c for new, large; 17c for twins, and 17¼c for triplets, to shippers. Retailers were asked to pay at the advance of last week, 19c for new, large; 19¼c for twins, and 19½c for triplets.

Eggs

Graded eggs were firm at 31c to 31½c for extras, 29c to 29½c for firsts and 25c for seconds, in free cases. Prices to shippers were the same as last week-end, and they were quoted, 29c for extras, 27c for firsts, and 22c to 23c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Prices to retailers were 35c to 36c for extras, in cartons; 33c to 34c for extras, loose; 31c to 32c for firsts, loose, and 26c to 27c for seconds, loose.

Potatoes

New potatoes took another drop yesterday, and carlot dealers were offering, cars on track, Toronto, at $1.30 per bag.

A memorial to Thomas Hardy is to be erected at the western entrance of Dorchester, England.

Generals Swamp Crescents Under 11-0 Decision

BRIOUX GIVEN SEVERE BEATING

Crescents Lose 11-0 Decision to C.G.E. in Listless Affair.

HARDILL IN POOR SHAPE

The C.G.E. administered a severe trouncing to their nearest rivals, Brioux's Crescents last night at the Exhibition Park by the count of 11-0. It was a walkaway from the start, Crescents never being in the hunt. Aside from Bun Frost's good pitching, a large measure of the Crescents' defeat was due to the inability of Jeff Hardill to perform in true style on the mound.

The losers had no relief hurlers on hand and Hardill was compelled to stay in there and take his beating although he was troubled with a sore arm.

The affair was mostly batting practice as far as a league fixture was concerned though the hitting was for the most part one-sided. Hollingsworth, Beavis and Smith tore off triples for the C.G.E. and Hardill stuck in a three-bagger in the Crescents' lost cause.

The contest lacked interest amongst the players and this spirit or rather lack of spirit was soon relayed to the fans who took little or no interest in the proceedings. It was a tough break for the Crescents coming on the heels of expectations of a hard game.

Line-ups:—

C.G.E.—Ross, 2b; Johnston, 3b; Hollingsworth ,ss; Beavis, cf; Ash, 1b; Smith, lf;; Hatton, c; Kimmens, rf; Frost, p.

Will Reinstate Carnera If He Drops Managers

CINCINNATI, O., July 29 (U.P.) —Primo Carnera, giant Italian boxer, will be reinstated by the National Boxing Association providing he severs his relations with his present manager, Stanley Isaac, president of the National Boxing Association, announced to-day after conferring with John B. Clinton, Illinois chairman of the N.B.A., investigating committee. Clinton's committee, in its review of the case, found that Carnera's managers were "avaricious" in handling the big Italian, but no evidence could be found that Primo himself was guilty of any offense.

The committee added, however, that should Carnera get a new manager, his present managers, Leon See, Frenchman, who brought him to this country; Bill Duffy, principal American representative, and Walter Friedman, still would remain indefinitely suspended.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RAIN SHOWER.

The sun was shining bright and hot in Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily had built his hollow stump bungalow. Off to the west there was snow on top of the Orange Ice Mountains, but even those great drifts of white crystals did not make it cool under the trees and bushes close to where the rabbit gentleman sat out in front of his bark house.

The rabbit children, the puppy cats and pussy dogs— Oh, dear me! There I go again, mixing everything up. Well, please excuse me on account of the heat. I mean the puppy dogs and the pussy cats—the rabbits, the ducks, the birds and even the squealing pigs felt so hot that they did not even play lollypop tag. This is a game where you do nothing but shut your eyes and try to guess the flavor of a lollypop that somebody else gives you a bite of.

Lollypop tag is one of the nicest games in the world. It is so easy to play, and when animal children lie down and go to sleep under the shady bushes, instead of guessing the flavor of candy on a stick, you may know it is hot.

"Oh, dear!" whined Jackie Bow Wow as he looked at a fly on his leg. "It's so hot I don't even want to wag my tail to make that fly buzz away."

"It's awful hot!" mewed Kittie Kat, not even taking the trouble to blink her eyes. "I wish it would rain and cool off."

"Oh, rain would be lovely!" quacked Lulu Wibblewobble the duck girl. "I like to paddle around in the rain and squashy mud."

"But it will never rain when the sun shines so hot and bright in the sky," grumbled Neddie Stubtail, the boy bear, who felt the heat more than any of the others because of his thick, shaggy fur.

Then spoke Baby Bunty, the little orphan rabbit. Said Baby Bunty:

"Unkie Wig could make it rain right now, if he wanted to, and cool it off. Unkie Wig could make a nice rain shower."

"Oh, he could not!" cried all the other animal children.

"He could so!" said Bunty. "Unkie Wig can make it rain any time he wants to, so there!"

"Oh, Baby Bunty!" cried Kittie Kat. "How can you say such things! It can only rain when the clouds up in the sky want to squeeze water out of their-selves. Uncle Wiggily can't do it at all!"

"He can so!" said Bunty.

"He cannot!" mewed Kittie.

"Well, if Uncle Wiggily can make a rain shower I wish he'd make one now and cool us off!" whined Peetie Bow Wow. "It's awful hot!"

"Don't let Baby Bunty fool you!" bleated Billie Wagtail, the goat boy. Uncle Wiggily can no more make rain than I can."

"He can so! I'll show you! I'll go find Unkie Wig and get him to make us a nice rain shower to cool us off and then we can play lollypop tag!" cried Baby Bunty. She always called the old rabbit gentleman by the name "Unkie Wig." That was all the baby talk she was allowed to use.

"Ho! Ho! Ho!" laughed all the other animal children. "How silly you are, Baby Bunty. Uncle Wiggily can't make it rain!"

"I'll show you!" said Bunty, hopping away. She found Uncle Wiggily asleep in his easy chair in front of his bungalow in the shade, his pink nose gently twinkling.

"What is it, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears as she tickled his whiskers and awakened him. "Is anything the matter?"

"The matter is it's awful hot," panted Bunty, "and I wish you would make a nice, cool rain shower so we could hop in and out among the drops and then we'd feel better."

"A rain shower, Bunty?" asked Mr. Longears, hardly yet awake.

"Yes," said Bunty. "I want you to make a rain shower, Unkie Wig."

"But, my dear Bunty," spoke Mr. Longears, smiling, "that is something beyond me. It can only rain where there are clouds in the sky, and, you can see for yourself, the sky is blue."

"Yes," said Bunty, "the sky is blue and the sun is hot. But I told them you could make a rain shower any time you wanted to, Unkie Wig, so I guess you'll have to do it."

"You told them I could make a rain shower, Bunty?" cried Mr. Longears. "Whom did you tell?"

"All the other children—they're hot, too, and they want to be cool," said Bunty. "So I guess, Unkie Wig, if you don't want to make me look silly, you'll have to start that rain shower. Go on! Please!"

Uncle Wiggily twinkled his pink nose, he looked at Bunty and then he laughed and whistled through his teeth.

"All right, Bunty," he said. "I'll do it! I've just thought of a way to make a rain shower to cool you off!"

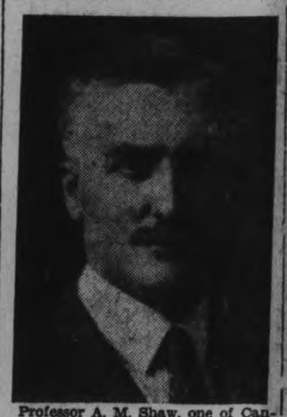
PETERBORO BEEN REPRESENTED ON GOVERNMENT SIDE 12 TIMES



Professor A. M. Shaw, one of Canada's outstanding authorities on agriculture, who has been appointed to succeed the late W. J. Rutherford as Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Saskatchewan.

On Only Five Occasions Has Representative Been in Opposition.

MAJORITY ONCE 16.

That Peterborough voters have the happy faculty of backing the winning horse is evidenced by the fact that, out of seventeen elections since Confederation, this riding has twelve times returned a candidate to sit on the Government benches. One of the five occasions on which Peterborough returned a member to sit in the cold shades of opposition was at a by-election when the Government supporter went down to defeat.

The largest majority ever accorded a candidate here up to 1917 was 360, but in the latter year J. H. Burnham secured the commanding lead of 3,418 votes. At the reciprocity election of 1911 Mr. Burnham had a majority of 42.

The smallest majority occurred in 1887 when only 16 votes provided the margin between victory and defeat. The first Peterborough member carried the riding by 29 votes. Since the 1917 election, local voters have consistently provided their member with a four-figure lead.

A curious situation arose after the general election of 1872, in which year J. Bertram, the Liberal candidate, was elected but never took his seat, as the returning officer declared the Conservative candidate, W. Cluxton, to be the winner. Mr. Cluxton sat in the House of Commons from March, 1873, to November of the same year, and before plans to unseat him were matured, the House dissolved in January, 1874. Mr. Bertrand became undisputed winner in the subsequent appeal to the electors.

SECOND BRANTFORD VICTIM DIES FROM MENINGITIS

BRANTFORD, Ont., July 29 (C.P.). —The death here yesterday of Leslie Legacy, 11, of 226 Grey Street, was the second from spinal meningitis in the present outbreak.

He had been treated for conjunctivitis, but not until too late was it realized that it was spinal meningitis.

Wirless service has just been established between Australia and the Fiji Islands.

Mary: What did you pay the preacher?

Teddy: He fined me five dollars.

EXTENDS RADIO SERVICE IN THE CANADIAN NORTHLAND

Department of the Interior Adds Four Stations To Its System.

AID AIR MAIL SERVICE

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29. (By The Canadian Press) — Four new radio stations are to be established in the Northwest Territories by the Northwest Territories and Yukon Branch of the Department of the Interior—namely, one at Norman on the Mackenzie river, one at Coppermine at the mouth of the Coppermine river, Coronation gulf; one at Chesterfied inlet, Hudson bay; and the fourth, a smaller one, at Herschel island, off the western arctic coast. These units will form part of the extensive system controlled by the Department of the Interior, which includes stations at Edmonton, Fort Smith, Resolution, Simpson, Aklavik, Dawson and Mayo.

In this huge network there was a stretch of over 800 miles between Simpson and Aklavik, and it was found that this was too great a distance for efficient and uninterrupted service. The establishment of the station at Norman, about midway between Simpson and Aklavik, will greatly improve conditions. The new station will also be of valuable assistance to the recently inaugurated air mail service. Moreover, Norman is an important strategic point, standing as it does at the junction of the Mackenzie and Great Bear rivers, and dominating the western area of Great Bear lake where there is such activity in prospecting for minerals. Another important fact about Norman is that it is on the shortest trail to Coronation gulf and the Coppermine, the region that is now attracting attention of influential mining companies and prospectors.

The stations at Coppermine, in the heart of the Canadian arctic, and at Chesterfield, on Hudson Bay, will be of very great benefit to the administrative and medical services, to trappers, prospectors, missionaries, the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, traders, and others whose duties take them to these remote regions.

Accidents caused by explosives in England last year totalled 344, resulting in 38 deaths and 316 injuries.

"Doctor! Doctor! I was playing de mouth organ an' swallowed it!"
"Keep calm, sir, and be thankful you were not playing the piano!"

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 23 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Tarzan of the Apes lived on in his wild jungle existence with little change for several years, growing stronger and wiser. With Tantor the Elephant he made friends. On many moonlit nights Tarzan and Tantor walked together. All else of the jungle were his enemies, except his own tribe.

At eighteen, Tarzan had never seen a human being other than himself. But as he sat one day in a tall tree, trying to solve the mystery of the cabin, the ancient security of his jungle was broken forever. A strange cavalcade strung in single file over a low hill.

In advance were fifty black warriors armed with wooden spears, long bows, and poisoned arrows. Then came several hundred women and children followed by more warriors. They were fleeing from the white man's soldiers, having massacred a white officer. They set to work to build a new village. Tarzan wondered.

A month later it was complete, and they had taken up their old life in their new home. Several moons passed before they ventured far from their safety, for many had fallen prey to the jungle animals. But one day Kulonga, son of their old king, wandered far toward the west.

Warily he stepped—his long shield grasped close to his sleek, ebony body. Night found him far from his father's village. He climbed into the fork of a great tree, fashioned a rude platform, and curled himself for sleep. Three miles to the west of him slept the tribe of Kerchak.

was brought on by a generally run-down system. I had no desire for food at all and was bilious and constipated. Sargon seemed to do for me about everything other medicines didn't. I've made a gratifying increase in weight, it's a pleasure to go to bed now for I enjoy resting and invigorating sleep, I have a keen appetite, a feeling of general well-being and a zest for life itself.

PROTESTS USE OF LIQUOR AT EMBASSY

Noted U. S. "Dry" Assails British Ambassador at Washington.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 29 (C.P.). — A protest against the use of liquor at the British Embassy has been received by Sir Ronald Lindsay from Samuel B. Woods, former Mayor of Charlottesville, Va., and an ardent dry.

"You have been willing to take advantage of a techniaclity and of the immunity of your office to do yourself what would be a crime in the United States," Mr. Woods wrote the British Ambassador. "Whether you intend it or not, you show disrespect for the constitution and contempt for the laws of our nation to which you have been accredited as a diplomat.

"You have not followed the noble example of General Foch when in our country," the letter goes on. "You are doing much to weaken the friendship of the United States for Great Britain, which Sir Esme Howard and the recent action of Canada have strengthened."

"LOST IDENTITY" CASE IS NOVELTY

Father Watkins Sues Hospital Following Mix-up of Babies.

SEEKS $100,000.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 29 (C.P.).—Damages of $100,000 for a "lost identity" will be asked in a suit to be filed by counsel for William Watkins, distraught father of one of the two babies in the now famous Watkins-Bamberger baby tangle.

The suit will be brought against the Englewood Hospital Association in behalf of the infant the Watkins brought home as theirs, only to find him labelled "Bamberger."

"It will be the first suit of its kind ever held, so far as I know," said Barratt O'Hara, attorney for Watkins.

"The baby will be plaintiff. The Watkins say the baby is a Bamberger."

"The Bambergers say he is a Watkins, and contend they have their own baby. Hence the plaintiff will allege he does not know who he is. The amount of damages asked will represent the damage done to him through confusing his identity."

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

SMALL LOSS

A run was made by Peterborough Fire Department yesterday afternoon to Parker's Dye Works, where a fire caused by a backdraft on the boiler flues, caused damage which will probably amount to approximately $100. Quick action by the fire-feighters prevented the fire from assuming serious proportions.

POPULAR!

The demand for Toronto papers this morning was so brisk that local newsdealers were completely sold out shortly after nine o'clock, except for copies saved for regular subscribers. And this was notwithstanding the fact that a considerable number of additional copies had been sent through, and that The Examiner's two extra editions last night were gobbled up as soon as they appeared. News dealers expect to see to-night's Examiner disappear as soon as it is placed on the stands.

"BLUE RUIN."

The extent of "blue ruin" in Peterborough may be judged from the fact that yesterday morning Freight Agent A. MacNabb was forced to add a new locomotive to his permanent complement to handle the increased freight at the local C.N.R. yards.

TOO OLD TO ARGUE.

Disputing the right of way at Brock and Water Streets intersection yesterday afternoon, with a young relative, an old car got the worst of the argument. Both front wheels crumpled under in concertina fashion, giving the vehicle a ludicrous appearance and somewhat suggesting the attitude of a steer as it drops on its knee; in dazed fashion after having been poleaxed. No personal injuries were sustained by either driver.

LAVERGNE ONCE SAT AS LIBERAL

tre, Man., and A. U. G. Bury, in Edmonton East. Rogers also sat for Winnipeg South in 1911, when he was a member o. the Borden government.

Among the former members who failed to come back were A. DeWitt Foster, Cons., Hants.-Kings, N.S., member for Hants in 1911 and Hon. W. G. Mitchell, Liberal, Richmond, Que., who failed to hold that seat for the Government. Mr. Mitchell was Provincial Treasurer in the Quebec Government, and after his election to the Dominion Parliament for St. Antoine Division of Montreal in 1921, resigned his seat in 1924.

John Harold, former Unionist member for Brant, Ont., ran as a Liberal but without success. G. A. Hanna also failed to be returned in Hastings South, Ont.

J. J. Carrick, former Conservative member in 1911, who endorsed the Dunning Budget and contested Port Arthur-Thunder Bay as a Liberal, was defeated, as was Dr. Matthew McKay, elected in 1921 as Liberal member for Renfrew North, and Hon. T. A. Low, former member of the King Government who tried to come back in Renfrew South.

Dr. M. R. Blake, supporter of the Borden Unionist Government of 1917, was unsuccessful in his North Winnipeg candidature as a Conservative.

FORGOT TO SEAL KIWANIS AUTO

In Last Night's Excitement Official Duty of Member-elect Was Forgotten.

TAKES PLACE SATURDAY.

Owing to excitement of the election last night the official sealing of the speedometer of the Essex car being given in the Kiwanis car contest was not carried out. The ceremony will take place next Saturday night at 9 o'clock, with E. A. Peck, Peterborough's member-elect to the House of Commons officiating.

Mr. Peck will seal the speedometer and turn the key in the speedometer lock. Then the wheels will be set in motion and the car started on its long trip which will cover—well, you take a guess. The speedometer key will be retained by Mr. Peck until the contest is over.

The job is, of course, to guess how many miles the speedometer will register when it is inspected. According to the rules the speedometer will be set at zero; the car will be run 100 hours on motor and pulley; the car will be run 30 hours on city street; the car will make the following trips: Peterborough to Lindsay and return, Peterborough to Lakefield and return, Peterborough to Oshawa and return, and Peterborough to Belleville and return. In the event of a tie the car will be run one hour on motor and pulley.

The proceeds of the contest will go to the aid of Kiwanis pre-tubercular clinic and under-privileged child work. At the Produced-in-Canada Exhibition at the Armouries, October 6 to 11, the winner will be announced.

HEAVY WESTERN POLL.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 29 (C.P.).—More ballots were cast in prairie cities yesterday than in any previous general election. The increase—ascribed to urban enumeration, growth of Western cities, and interest in election issues—amounted to more than 5,500 votes in six cities with yesterday's returns incomplete.

DOZEN CANDIDATES LOSE DEPOSITS IN MANITOBA

WINNIPEG, Man., July 29. (C.P.) A dozen candidates lost their deposits in Manitoba when the election-smoke cleared away to-day. Most of the also rans were Independents who crowded into the field on Nomination day. In Manitoba, there were only nine straight fights among 17 constituencies; in the other eight contests, six were three-sided one four-cornered and another quintuple.

Three Communists and three Laborites, two Independent Liberals and as many Conservatives, an Independent Laborite and a Liberal were not handed back their deposits.

TELEPHONE CALLS ELECTION NIGHT TOTALLED 4,000

In Four Hours Six Operators Answered the Local Lines.

GREAT INTEREST TAKEN.

In Recent Provincial Election Only 1,600 Calls Answered.

Four thousand people phoned The Examiner last night between the hours of 7.30 and 11.30 for the latest election returns—and got them. Eight operators working on six lines at the Bell Telephone Exchange on Hunter Street took up-to-the-minute flashes from points all over the Dominion as they were telegraphed into The Examiner Office and relayed by special messengers, issuing them to inquirers as fast as they were received.

To leave the line into The Examiner Office free for returns from rural subdivisions of local ridings, the calls of those seeking information were deflected to the six lines at the Bell Office and handled at the rate of well over 900 an hour. The service rendered was what is known as "equivalent service," whereby calls are switched into the first vacant line of those in operation.

At the Provincial election last fall some 1,600 calls were handled in this way on three lines. Last night, despite the pressure and the vastly increased number of calls, the traffic was not felt to be so abnormal, according to H. H. P. Johnston, district manager of the Bell Company.

The system used, Mr. Johnston pointed out, is that of bridging to a new group of numbers the regular lines of The Examiner, save the one kept open for calls from correspondents. Information-seekers calling 1600 are then diverted to the new lines.

After 11.30 calls were all handled by the regular staff at The Examiner Office, the last subscriber asked for results some time after 4 o'clock this morning.

No less efficient was the service given The Examiner by the Bell Telephone Company's employees in Marmora, which town was serving as the hub for election news from the Peterborough-Hastings riding. Connections with Peterborough were speedily handled, as also were the numerous calls from all points of the constituency, thus greatly facilitating the work of compiling a fairly complete list of the returns from each poll.

HARD BLOW GIVEN TO INDEPENDENTS

No Longer Have Any Hopes of Holding a Balance of Power.

COMMUNISTS FAIL.

TORONTO, Ont., July 29 (By Geo. Hambleton, C.P. Staff Correspondent) —A feature of yesterday's results is the blow it gives to Independent hopes. There is no questoin of their holding a balance of power. Progressives who in 1921 went to Ottawa 64 strong, with Hon. T. A. Crerar at their head, have now almost disappeared. They have elected only two in Saskatchewan. Two Liberal-Progressives are all that remain of the nine elected to the last Parliament, and Hon. T. A. Crerar himself, who in the revolving wheels of politics had become Minister of Railways in the King administration, was himself defeated. The more militant United Farmers of Alberta did better than Progressives, but they lost two of their seats, and with Miss Agnes MacPhail will complete a U.F. total of ten.

The new Saskatchewan Farmer Party, which aroused so much interest early in the campaign, had nine candidates, but failed to elect one. Communists had eight candidates but they were early swept away in the Conservative deluge.

BONAVENTURE DOUBTFUL.

MONTREAL, Que., July 29 (C.P.).—Bonaventure, the constituency on the Baie De Chaleurs, went into the doubtful column to-day. D. Morgan, Conservative candidate, to-day wired friends here he had been elected, while reports from the constituency last night first conceded Mr. Morgan's election, and then gave the seat to Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal. Several outlying polls have yet to be heard from. If Mr. Morgan wins it will be a gain for the Conservatives.

BRITISH PRESS FORESEES END OF CANADA'S PREFERENCE POLICY AS RESULT OF BENNETT VICTORY

Conservative Leader's Realistic Attitude Will Appeal to Protectionists.

BENNETT WELCOMED.

Canada May Be Invited to a Conference on India.

(By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Eng., July 30. — English newspapers welcome the return of Hon. R. B. Bennett as head of the victorious Conservative Party in the Canadian Federal elections, and declare he will be a welcome recruit to the Imperial Councils.

Opinion is mixed, however, when it comes to dealing with the Conservative election program.

While the Daily Express declares Mr. Bennett favored Canada striking a bargain with the rest of the Empire, instead of making a gesture, the Manchester Guardian has this to say: "If Canada voted for Bennett through any deep-rooted belief that the council of the Empire can be turned into a bargain counter, we might well despair. Fortunately, the change in government occurs through causes less single and obvious than the tariff issue, but vastly more natural and creditable."

"The Daily Mail has this assurance —"The time has long gone by when the issue of an election in Canada could affect the relations of the Dominion with this country. Conservatives and Liberals in Canada have both proved they know how to combine loyalty to the empire with passionate earnestness for the welfare of their great dominion. Both have rendered splendid services in the past to the cause of Empire, and may be trusted to show as noble a spirit in the future."

Guardian's Comment.

"The Conservative victory will no doubt be hailed by high protectionists here as a reinforcement of their plea," the Guardian comments

"Bennett, they may fairly urge, has taken throughout the election a firmly 'realist' attitude. 'Let the Empire accommodate Canada fiscally and Canada will strike a bargain.' The accommodation in the case of Great Britain would presumably consist of putting a tariff on non-imperal foodstuffs in the interest of Canadian produce. Then, and only then, should Canada consider the desirability of of reducing her rates on our man-

CHIEFS OF POLICE DECLARE PAROLE SYSTEM ABUSED

All Opposed to Granting Leniency to Habitual Criminals.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Too Little Regard For Peaceful Citizens' Rights Says Lindsay Chief.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 30 (C.P.)— The most discouraging obstacle encountered in their efforts to stamp out crime is to be found in "abuse of the parole system," declares delegates attending the annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada in session here.

Favor Reclamation

The tenor of the discussions centering about this problem indicate the delegates were wholly in sympathy with, and, actively co-operated in, all humanitarian effort which had for its goal the reclamation of wrongdoers. However, they expressed opposition to granting leniency toward habitual criminals, and criticized officials of Parole boards for coddling this type and turning them loose on society when their terms of imprisonment were far from completed. The most serious aspect of the parole system, one delegate declared, was the fact Chief Constables were usually kept in ignorance of a criminal's release.

On the motion of Chief Ross, Ottawa, and Chief Brown, Brockville, the matter was referred to the executive committee of the association for action.

R. H. Lawler, Police Chief of Lindsay, introduced the question by the presentation of a paper entitled "Abuse of the Parole System." He expressed the opinion a premium was being placed upon crime when positions were found for criminals that paid from $2,500 to $20,000 each year. Chief Lawler said he thought too much regard was shown by Parole officials for the criminal and not enough regard for the rights of peaceful citizens. "Would it not be more to the point to try and find work for honest and law-abiding citizens who were jobless through no fault of their own?" he asked.

Three Negroes on Parole

Alluding to the possible dangers resulting from the release on parole of criminals, Chief Lawler referred to a murder at Chatham last Fall, in which Three Windsor negroes were involved. These men were all out on parole at the time, he claimed.

Alfred Cuddy, Deputy Commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police, endorsed Chief Lawler's remarks. He declared the whole parole system is not properly administered in Ontario. The law should not be interfered with and criminals should serve their full term, he said, and the Parole Board should not have the say in the matter.

CONSERVATIVES WIN RECOUNT

REGINA, Sask., July 30. (C.P.)— The elecion of Dr. W. D. Cowan, Conservative, to the Long Lake seat in the House of Commons, was officially announced to-day, swinging another candidate into the fold of Hon. R. B. Bennett. Previously J. F. Johnson, Liberal, had been announced as victory for this riding in Monday's general election by a majority of 51 votes but a re-count was ordered.

SUSPECT HELD IN MURDER CASE

Provincial Police Withhold Identity of Long Sought Man.

INTEREST AROUSED.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 30 (C.P.) —Provincial Inspector Stringer late yesterday located a man for whom intensive search was conducted over the week-end. It is understood the man was questioned for some time in connection with the slaying of Phillip G. Rumbold, Tonawanda, N.Y., near Port Credit, last week.

Inspector Stringer stated he had no announcement to make, when asked if he had made an arrest. Inspector Stringer and Provincial Constable Owens left Provincial Police headquarters with the man without divulging their destination. The identity of the man was not learned.

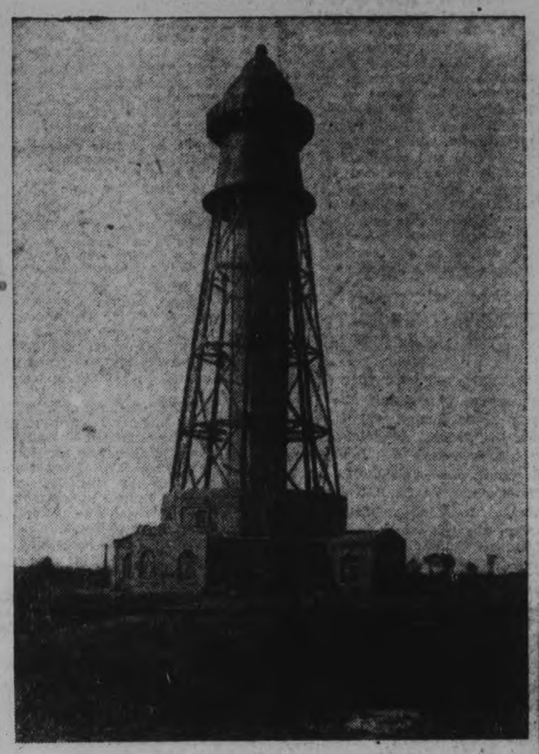
Owing to the keen interest of the public in the Niagara district over the Rumbold murder the slightest activity of the Provincial Police gives rise to many rumors and false reports. With the officers maintaining silence, no definite facts can be learned.

Icelanders Would End Danish Rule

LONDON, Eng., July 30.—(C.P.) —Copenhagen despatches to the Daily Herald say the wild demonstrations in favor of immediate, ending Dan.. rule in Iceland were made on Tuesday at the opening of the Icelandic Parliament in Reykjavik.

The Danish flag was taken down from the Parliament House and the Icelandic Home Rule flag hoisted. A man arested for his part in hoisting the flag was promptly rescued from the police by the demonstrators.

Where the R-100 Will Anchor.



The gigantic mooring mast at St. Hubert Aerodrome, Montreal, constructed specially to accommodate the British airships, which will eventually fly regularly between the various parts of the British Empire, will hold the nose of the R-100 when she arrives at Montreal this week. This mooring mast is one of the most complete in the world, and is modelled after the pattern of the British mast at Cardington.

CHINESE REDS LOOT CHANGSHA FOREIGN GUNBOATS HELPLESS

Systematic Destruction of Property of Foreigners By Communists.

8,000 ARMED REDS.

City In Flames.

PEIPING, China, July 30. — (C.P.).—Latest reports received here to-day said that the city of Changsha was in flames.

All Government buildings and foreign property in the city were burned with the exception of the Post Office and the Hospital.

The premises of foreign oil companies were stated to have been burned.

Missions Destroyed.

SHANGHAI, China, July 30 (C.P.). —The British North China Daily News to-day says all foreign missions at Changsha, Honan Province capital, were destroyed by Communists who overran the city yesterday.

SHANGHAI, China, July 30 (C.P.). —A word picture of the methodical burning and looting of Changsha was gleaned from information sent to-day by reliable sources in the Communist ridden area.

Due to the rapidly falling river level, foreign gunboats were unable to approach nearer than five miles of Changsha. One British, one American and one Japanese ship anchored to observe developments, which were reported by Chinese runners.

The reports indicated about 8,000 armed Reds had established a camp just east of the city, from where they were conducting their systematic campaign of looting and burning foreign properties.

The Reds divided the city into forty or fifty wards, and placed each under the direction of a Communist leader, who supervised the destruction in his district.

Communistic Clean-Up.

Each leader had a large group of riflemen and each rifleman in turn had a squad which would approach a foreign property destined for destruction, and while the unarmed men carried moveable effects into the street, the armed leader would address onlookers on the alleged non-militaristic aims of the Communists and suggest his hearers become active workers in the Red cause.

When the house furnishings were piled into the street the bystanders were allowed to help themselves while the riflemen pointed out such a practice has a part of Communist principle, enabling coolies and peasants to obtain their "rightful" shares of property "wrongfully" in the possession of the upper classes.

A bank in London has installed an elevator large enough to carry a truck down to its underground strong room.

Traveller Kills Elk With His Car

YORKTON, Sask., July 30. — (C.P.).—J. A. Greenwood, commercial traveller, has a new story to tell to-day. It's a true story, too. While driving at night from Melville to Yorkton, his car felt a sudden jolt. He stepped out and found a 700-pound wild elk dying, its antlers fastened in the damaged radiator.

61 PAINTINGS LOST IN BLAZE

New Lincoln Galleries, Boston, With $800,000 Collection, Destroyed.

FIRE MARSHAL PROBES.

BOSTON, Mass. July 30.—Paintings valued by their collector, John T. Barton, at $800,000 were destroyed late last night by a fire of suspicious origin in a Back Bay building.

The fire damaged the first and second floors of the four-storey structure to an extent of $50,000. The premises were opened on Monday as the Lincoln Galleries and a group of 61 paintings were on display.

Fire officials said the blaze appeared to have started in the rear of a couch on the first floor and an inspector of the State Fire Marshal's office was summoned to investigate. A report of incendiarism was made after a fire in the Barton Gallery two years ago.

TWO WEEKS WILL SEE THEIR ROOMS FILLED BY TORIES

Anticipated King Will Call Meeting of Ministers Before Long.

SOME ROUTINE BUSINESS.

Foresee Extremely Busy Period Ahead of New Premier.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 30 (C.P.).— The election over, interest in the political situation is now directed toward the personnel of the new Government and the impending special session of Parliament. Already there are signs of departure in some of the Ministerial offices on Parliament Hill. The process of cleaning up prior to relinquishing the rooms which they have occupied for years is beginning in the Ministers' offices. In ten days or two weeks this will be finished; the members of the King Government will have departed, and in their places will reign the men selected by Hon. R. B. Bennett.

Little Activity Yet.

As yet there seems to be little Cabinet activity. It is anticipated that Mr. King will call a meeting of his Ministers before long, but the majority of them are still out of town. They will arrive shortly, however, and then there may be a number of meetings to clean up business and leave the slate clear for the new Government. Nearly all the important matters were dealt with prior to the election, but there is always an accumulation of routine Cabinet business when the Ministers have not met for some time.

A special session of Parliament coming on soon and an Imperial Conference opening at the end of September, Premier-elect Bennett and his Ministers, whoever they may be, may look forward to a very busy period.

ONLY TWO SEATS NOW UNDECIDED

Close Results in Two Quebec Ridings—Marcil Defeated.

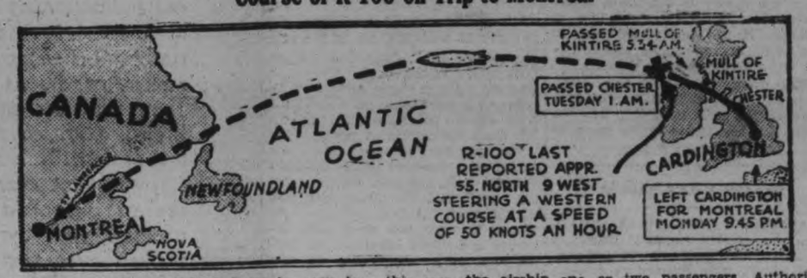
FINAL REPORTS.

TORONTO, July 30. (C.P.)—Two seats in British Columbia, which had remained in the doubtful column throughout the day, were definitely placed last night, the Liberals carrying Skeena, while the Conservatives retined Cariboo. The victory of Olaf Hanson in the former riding was a gain for the Liberals, bringing the Party representations in the Pacific Coast Povince to five, compared with one in the last House.

The Conservatives, however, discounted this gain by wresting Bonaventure, Que., from the Liberals. An exceedingly close race was waged between the candidates of the two major parties in this constituency and early report Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal, had been conceded victory. Development during the day changed the aspect of the situation and when the final poll vote was disclosed, D. Morgan, Conservative, was officially declared the winner.

Uncertainty of the result of Yamaska and Temiscouata in Quebec, sent these two constituencies back into the doubtful column. Yamaska previously had been conceded to the Conservatives and Temiscouata the Liberals. The latest returns from the former riding gives Aime Boucher, Liberal, a majority of 12 votes over T. Comtois, Conservative, while J. Poulliot, Liberal candidate in Temiscouata, on the basis of available figures is leading by 40 votes. It has been intimated that a recount will be requested.

Course of R-100 on Trip to Montreal



The map reproduced ABOVE shows the path the English dirigible R-100 is following on its transatlantic trip from Cardington, England, to Montreal, where it is due, according to reports, some time Thursday. As will be seen by this map the airship strikes north from the British Isles and then follows the "great circle" route around the north of Ireland. The craft is carrying a company of 44, which includes officers, men and one or two passengers. Authorities are optimistic regarding the success of the dirigible's maiden flight. Map also shows points en route where airship was reported.

Kentucky Polecat Ousts Tree Sitter

LEXINGTON, Ky., July 30. — (C.P.).—L. T. Brumagen, young Lexington tree-sitter, was forced to abandon his perch yesterday when a polecat disputed ownership of the tree.

Brumagen had been up fifty-six hours when the skunk arrived and took a liking to the tree. The tree sitter's ground crew came to his rescue, and killed the prowling animal.

Brumagen and his ground crew then voted unanimously to vacate immediately.

GOLFERS IN TIE AT 69 FOR FIRST EIGHTEEN HOLES

Leo Diegel and Tommy Armour Playing Off For Canadian Open Title.

SHOOTING AT PAR.

Contender Playing Much Better Tee and Fairway Game Than Champion.

ANCASTER, Ont., July 30 (By William D. White, C.P.).—Leo Diegel, title-holder, and Tommy Armour ended the first 18 holes of their tie playoff for the Canadian open championship with even scores of 69.

Armour, who electrified hundreds here on Saturday afternoon, when he shot an epic 66, was playing a much better tee and fairway game than Diegel. The title-holder appeared strained and nervous even more so than usual. He gained confidence a little after a one-stroke lead but soon seemed to lose it again.

Armour was poor—or had very bad luck—on the greens. He sent seven putts to within a few inches of the hole, from distances up to 20 feet. It was this type of putt which he was sinking on Saturday.

Diegel hooked on one hole, sliced almost out of bounds on another, played over a short green on a third drive, and sent a short dub drive on yet another hole.

Armour seemed confident on his long game, but he took a little time to make his putts, and in most cases ended a little short.

The cards for this morning were:

Leo Diegel—

Out	542 542 434—34
In	444 344 354—35
Total	69

Tommy Armour—

Out	435 543 434—35
In	443 444 344—34
Total	69

Armour shot par on the outgoing round and Diegel one below. Diegel shot par coming in and Armour was one below.

Ancaster Course Holes.

ANCASTER, Ont., July 30.—(C.P.)—The Ancaster course of the Hamilton Golf and Country Club over which the Canadian open championship tie is being played off to-day by Leo Diegel and Tommy Armour, is 6,485 yards in length.

The following are the holes:

1, 430 par 4; 2, 450 par 4; 3 380 par 4; 4, 500 par 5; 5, 310 par 4; 6, 200 par 3; 7, 350 par 4; 8, 155 par 3; 9, 420 par 4; 10, 360 par 4; 11, 430 par 4; 12, 370 par 4; 13, 205 par 3; 14, 425 par 4; 15, 400 par 4; 16, 165 par 3; 17, 500 par 5; 18, 425 par 4.

BRITISH DIRIGIBLE NEARS COAST OF NEWFOUNDLAND AIDED BY WESTERLY WIND

Giant Airship Exceeds Speed of 70 Miles an Hour Across the Atlantic and May Improve Time Set For Ocean Journey.

MAY SIGHT LAND AT 3 A.M. THURSDAY.

At Noon R-100 Was 700 Miles Off Coast of Belle Isle—Mooring Operators at Montreal Expect R-100 Thursday Evening.

LONDON, England, July 30. (C.P.) — Speeding along at more than 70 miles an hour, the giant British dirigible, R-100, was more than two-thirds across the Atlantic Ocean to-day, with the expectation that she would sight land by 8 o'clock Thursday morning, Greenwich Meridian time, or about 3 a.m. Eastern Standard Time.

So much speed has the ship picked up because of favorable wind conditions that she seemed likely to cut down even this margin of time, and to reach the coast of Newfoundland a little earlier than she expected.

At noon Greenwich Meridian Time, (7 a.m. E.S.T.) the dirigible gave her position about 700 miles from Belle Isle.

The great ship which left Cardington early Tuesday morning.

For some unknown reason the R-100 did not communicate with Cardington at six o'clock this morning as had been expected, but no anxiety was felt as the airship had exchanged greetings with several ships about this time. Atmospheric conditions, it was thought, may have prevented her from getting into touch with her air base.

Heard By Ocean Liner.

According to the North Atlantic weather chart most favorable weather conditions prevailed in the mid-Atlantic.

Among the liners which were in touch with the airship during the night was the steamship Megantic. The passengers and officers on the Megantic could hear the motors of the dirigible but were unable to sight her because of fog.

THE RECEPTION CREW.

MONTREAL, Que. July 30.—(C.P.) —Expert weather men, officers for the mooring operations and Canadian government representatives are waiting at St. Hubert airport just outside Montreal, for the arrival of the giant British dirigible R-100 expected between 6 and 8 o'clock Thursday evening.

Three Government meteorological experts from Toronto are at St. Hubert poring over weather maps in an attempt to forecast conditions on this side of the Atlantic for the benefit of the navigating officers of the dirigible.

Contact With Canada.

MONTREAL, Que., July 30 (C.P.). —Past the half-way mark on the flight to Montreal, the British dirigible R-100 has broken contact with Cardington, England, her home port, and has established radio communication via Louisburg, her point of destination.

From this point till the giant dirigible settles to rest at the St. Hubert Airport, Lieut.-Commander A. R. Pressey, R.C.N., will receive progressive radio bulletins on her journey to Canada's shores and up the St. Lawrence River Valley. Dominion meteorological experts at St. Hubert will in turn send frequent weather reports to the navigators of the R-100, advising them periodically of what lies ahead of them in wind, rain or shine, or visibility.

Ground Crew of 30.

The winches, electrically operated, that will draw the nose of the dirigible to the socket at the top of the specially built mooring tower, are in readiness with a trained ground crew of 30 to moor the airship. As the R-100 drones low over the airport, her engines throttled back, a cable will be dropped from the control car quickly spliced to a cable lying on the ground, and attached to the winches, which will pull the nose down to the universal point at the top of the 100-foot mooring tower.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police, 100 Militia, and scores of Montreal and Provincial Police will be on hand to keep the crowd in order. A veritable tent city has sprung up at the Government Airport, which is showing unprecedented activity. An advance guard of newspapermen has arrived and is busy making arrangements to flash the news of the arrival over the wires to a waiting world.

Accommodations for officers and crew of the R-100 have been made in the Government hangar, which will also shelter J. A Wilson, Controller of Civil Aviation in Canada.

ALLOW PLAYING OF SUNDAY GOLF

Test Case Fails Against Public Miniature Course.

UNDER WRONG ACT.

TORONTO, July 30. (C.P.) — Charges brought by York Township police against owners of a public miniature golf course for operating the course on Sunday, were dismissed by Magistrate William Keith in the county police court to-day.

In giving his judgment in what is regarded as a test case throughout the province, the Magistrate agreed with Crown Counsel Cecil L. Snyder, that operation on Sunday of the miniature courses, cannot be stopped by prosecutions under the Lord's Day Act of Ontario. He stated, however, that prosecution might be brought under the Dominion Lord's Day Act, but only with the permission of the Attorney-General.

Menace of Turco-Persian War Looming

TURKEY OBJECTS TO BORDER RAIDS MADE BY KURDS

Demands Persia Cede to Her Whole Aydagh District.

SHARP NOTE SENT.

70,000 Turkish Troops Massed on Border in Case of Refusal.

STAMBUL, Turkey, July 30.—With at least 70,000 Turkish soldiers ranged along the Turco-Persian and Turco-Iraq frontiers, the Turkish Government yesterday meant serious business with a note to Persia complaining against Kurdish incursions into Turkish territory.

Well-informed circles say that the note, prepared at Angora, touches on the necessity of Persia's ceding to Turkey the Aydagh district. This lies between the Turco-Persian and Russo-Persian frontiers where Mount Ararat descends into Persian territory, and by it the Kurdish rebels are enabled to escape from the besieging Turks.

The Turkish troops, after exterminating many bands of Kurds who had been laying waste the Province of Van, cornered the rest of the invaders on Mount Ararat, but without occupying Aydagh, they cannot completely encircle Mount Ararat.

Refusal Forecast

It is forecast here that Persia will refuse to cede Aydagh, and that Turkey will take it by force.

Support is lent to these prophecies by a speech of Prime Minister Ismet Pasha at Angora, in which he commented strongly on foreign responsibility for Turkey's trouble with the Kurds.

"A country in which exist subversive organization imperilling another country's frontiers is morally and politically responsible. The party which is subject to aggression is eventually obliged to have recourse to legitimate defense.

"Let nobody think we fear the consequences of such action."

Ismet Pasha did not mention either Persia or Iraq by name. He will go to Yalova, the summer Capital, tomorrow to confer with Mustapha Kemel. According to reliable reports, the Russian Ambassador will also take part in the conversations.

ITALY REBUILDS STRICKEN AREA

Hope to Have Nearly Quake-Proof Homes Ready By Winter.

RELIEF WELL ADVANCED.

POTENA, Italy, July 30. (C.P.)—To-day, a week from the fateful morning when well over 2,000 slumbering citizens met a frightful death from an earthquake that devastated Southern Italy, sees the smitten area looking to the future with renewed hope.

The Governments promised 100,000,000 lire (about $5,230,000) for restoration of buildings, the resumption of normal food provisioning, the evacuation of the last remaining injured and the practical completion of burying the dead are all elements warranting this optimism.

In addition, the Government has profited by the terrible lesson and already has begun the construction of houses which will be earthquake-proof, as far as possible. They will be finished before winter.

Relief work in general has advanced so far that the Government yesterday as able to turn to what may be called the luxury side thereof—an inventory of the damage done to the artistic treasurers of the region.

BENNETT DOWNS HIS OPPOSITION BY 7,985 VOTES

Greatest Personal Triumph of Tory Premier's Career.

LOST IN 1921 APPEAL.

King Has Majority of 1,149 in Largest Vote Ever Polled in Prince Albert.

TORONTO, Ont., July 30 (C.P.) — In leading his party to victory in the Federal general election Monday, Hon. R. B. Bennett, Premier-elect, registered the greatest personal triumph of his political career in his own riding of Calgary West.

According to final figures for the constituency, Mr. Bennett defeated his Liberal opponent, C. C. McLaurin, by a majority of 7,987 votes. The Premier-elect was credited with a vote of 13,888 against 5,901 for Mr. McLaurin.

In the election of 1926 Mr. Bennett commanded a majority of less than 2,500 over H. W. Lunney, who was running under the banner of the United Farmers of Alberta, while in 1925 his lead was slightly in excess of 4,000 over an Independent, Cap. J. T. Shaw, and in the 1921 appeal to the country Mr. Bennett went down to defeat by 16 votes in a three-cornered contest. Capt. Shaw then was the victor.

King's Majority 1,149

And similarly the support of Premier Mackenzie King in his constituency followed the trend of his party fortunes. On the strength of 141 polls out of 146 Prince Albert had rolled up a majority of 1,149 with the figures: King, 9,007; Braden 7,858. But, incidentally, the vote is the largest ever polled in the constituency.

In the 1926 election Premier King was opposed by J. G. Diefenbaker, emerging with a lead of about 4,000, while in his first appeal to the Prince Albert electors in a by-election held earlier in the same year, the Prime Minister won out by nearly 5,500. The seat was first made available to him following his defeat in North York in the general election of 1925.

TEN CANDIDATES LOSE DEPOSITS

Two Women, Two Communists and Two Laborites Among Defeated.

ALL IN ONTARIO.

TORONTO, July 30. (C.P.) — Ten candidates for election to the House of Commons lost their election deposits in Ontario when they failed to poll a sufficient number of votes. Four Independents, including two women, two Communists, two Laborites, one Liberal and one Conservative, made up the total.

Miss Mildred Low of Montreal, who ran as an Independent in Lanark, forfeited her deposit, as did Mrs. Edith Kerr MacDonald, Independent Liberal-Progressive candidate in Northumberland. The other Independents were S. R. Weaver in Wentworth and Rev. A. E. Smith in Fort William.

In Toronto West-Centre Tommy Church's defeat resulted in the election of the first Toronto Liberal in many years. Charles Sims, Communist, and James M. Connor, Laborite, both lost their deposits.

The other Laborite to lose out was Dr. J. Romer in Toronto South, and the other Communist was S. Cohen, in Hamilton East.

In Prescott, Dr. A. E. Mooney, Conservative, lost his deposit and in Lambton East C. G. Dunlop, Liberal, lost his in a three corned fight with Progressive and Conservative candidates.

P. E. ISLAND REASONS

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., July 30—Commenting on election results in Prince Edward Island, Hon. Walter M. Lea, Premier of the Province, said:—

"The result of the election yesterday was largely attributable to the delay in nominating Liberal candidates in Queen's and the early organization and the personal canvass of their opponents."

BRITISH PRESS COMMENTS ON BENNETT'S WIN

Inability to Sell Britain Canadian Wheat Aided in King's Fall.

TIME OF DEPRESSION.

Foresees England Taxing Foreign Wheat to Aid Her Own Manufacturers.

LONDON, Eng., July 30 (C.P.). — "Canada has decreed that, in Imperial matters, sentiment and economics shall be partners," says the Daily Express comment on the victory of Hon. R. B. Bennett and the Conservative party at the polls in Monday's general election in Canada.

The Daily Express emphasizes the importance of the Canadian election to Great Britain. Comparing the attitude of the two party leaders, it adds: "Mackenzie King said to the Canadians, 'Let us make a gesture to encourage the Mother Country,' while Mr. Bennett said, 'Let us make a bargain'."

The Causes.

Analyzing the causes leading to the defeat of the King Government, the Daily Express continues: "As the election campaign progressed, King had to meet certain definitely hostile factors, namely:

"1. He was going to the country at a time of depression.

"2. His Government was asking for a third term — and all Governments are born to fall.

"3. Canadian farmers have been unable to sell Britain their wheat.

"4. The Canadian understands a bargain better than a gesture.

"5. The British Government had bolted the door against any tariff concession to the Dominions at the Imperial Conference.

"In the circumstances," says the Daily Express, "the Canadian electorate turned to Mr. Bennett and empowered him to bargain for the Dominion."

Regarding the forthcoming Imperial Conference, the paper says: "The day of reality is at hand. Canada wants to sell us her wheat. If we buy it she will make equivalent concessions to British manufacturers. Our only method is to tax foreign wheat entering Britain.

"A realist Canadian Government stands ready to do business with us. Have we no one to send into the conference with them but fanatics or faint hearts?" the Daily Express asks.

GRIT AND TORY ARE BOTH HAPPY

Fraser's Victory in Northumberland and Bennett's in Dominion Both Celebrated at Campbellford.

FEATURED BY PARADES.

CAMPBELLFORD, July 30. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Campbellford was the scene of a double rejoicing on Monday, when both Liberals and Conservatives painted the town red. But it must be conceded that the Tory celebration had the staying power.

The town itself was filled with people coming from all parts in the north of the riding. When it was assured that W. A. Fraser had won in Northumberland, cheers greeted the news from the Grit party, and part of the local band started to add to the joy of victory .This was continued for some time, in the hope that the victorious candidate would arrive, but Mr Fraser was late in coming. It was understood that in the event of victory, he was bringing the Pipe band from Cobourg.

Meanwhile the news had come through that Hon. R. B. Bennett was heading the polls, and this was too much for the Conservative party to

Bennett Is Summoned By Governor-General To Form New Cabinet

Relief of Unemployment To Be First Consideration.

REQUIRES CHANGING.

Bennett to Assume Office Within Ten Days.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 30 (C.P.). — Parliament may possibly meet in special session about September 11 to deal with unemployment.

While with a change in Government pending there has been no definite decision, political developments in the capital portend this.

The duration of the special session would be approximately two weeks. By this program, the Conservative Premier-elect, Hon. R. B. Bennett, would be enabled to attend the Imperial Conference scheduled for September 30 in London.

On a summons from His Excellency the Governor-General, the Premier-elect last evening attended at Rideau Hall. The conference was naturally of a strictly private nature, but it was a preliminary to the assumption by Mr. Bennett of the office of Prime Minister and his selection of a Cabinet. Indications are that within the next ten days, the Conservative Leader will take office.

Mr. Bennett, it is understood, proposes on the assumption of power to give first consideration to the relief of the unemployed by the securing of parliamentary approval for proceeding with certain national undertakings. The steps contemplated would have in view not only relief for the present but for next winter.

Cabinet Gossip

Discussion of the personnel of the new administration is already taking place. Hon. R. J. Manion, Fort William; Hon. J. D. Chaplin, Lincoln, and Hon. E. B. Ryckman are among those mentioned from Ontario. For Quebec, the names of Sir George Perley and Arthur Sauve, former Conservative leader in the Quebec Legislature, who was elected in Laval-Two Mountains, are included in the gossip. Premier E. S. Rhodes of Nova Scotia and W. G. Ernst (Queen's-Lunnenburg) are mentioned in connection with Nova Scotia, while the names of Hon. J. A. McDonald and J. H. Meyers are mentioned for Prince Edward Island.

MOORE ELECTED BY RECORD VOTE

80 Per Cent. of Electors Out in Ontario County.

OSHAWA, July 30.—The interest taken in the Riding of Ontario in Monday's election was amply illustrated by the fact that the size of the vote was the largest in any Federal election campaign in the history of the riding. A total of 19,979 votes were polled, according to unofficial tabulation, this being a gain of 3,508, as compared with the vote in the election of 1926. This was a vote of approximately 80 per cent. of the total qualified vote, which was estimated by Sheriff Paxton, Returning Officer, as 25,000.

A feature about the comparison of the poll is that Dr. T. E. Kaiser, who was defeated, actually polled 1,114 votes more than he did in the last election, the figures being 8,638 in 1926, and 9,753 on Monday. Mr. Moore gained 2,394 in voted polled, from 7,833 to 10,227.

Gains in the number of votes polled were recorded in every municipality in the riding, with the exception of Scugog.

The biggest gains in the vote polled came in Oshawa and East Whitby and Pickering Townships. The gains in Oshawa and East Whitby were due to the increase in population in these municipalities in the last four years, but the gain in Pickering Township is believed to have been due largely to the added interest in the candidature of Mr. Moore, who lives in that township.

Oshawa showed a gain of 2,509, or almost one-third. East Whitby polled a gain of almost exactly one-quarter.

TRUCK DRIVERS STAGE STRIKE

Action Follows Cut in Wages Among Workmen of E. A. Jupp Construction Co.

AFFAIR UNSETTLED.

OMEMEE, July 30. — After their pay day 23 truck drivers in the employ of the E. A. Jupp Construction Company, "walked out." They had received a cut in wages, and the strike followed a conference in which the truck drivers pointed out that the cut left them no margin of profit.

The men were employed in hauling gravel from Omemee to the Lindsay-Peterborough highway, which is being paved, and the strike may slow up the work. A few have since returned to work, but many have returned to Oshawa following the failure to reach an adjustment with the company.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

Bennett's Message To All Canadians

OTTAWA, Ont., July 29 (C.P.) —Canada's Conservative Premier-elect, Hon. R. B. Bennett, to-day issued the following statement to his fellow-Canadians:

"The policy of the Conservative Party has been accepted by the people of Canada as the instrument of national development. The fact that every province of the Dominion has contributed to the result will sustain the new Government in the task which lies before us. This Dominion-wide expression of confidence ensures a solidarity of Government which at this time is essential and manifests a determination on the part of the people of our country to cherish and maintain national unity. For victory at the cost of unity would be in truth an overwhelming defeat of the purpose for which our party stands.

CONSERVATIVE POLICY TO SET LABOR ACTION

WINNIPEG, Man., July 30 (C.P.).—Decision as to whether the Labor Party in Parliament will co-operate with the Federal administration of Hon. R. B. Bennett will depend upon the Conservative policy. In making this announcement, J. S. Woodsworth, veteran Independent Labor Party leader, who has sat in the House of Commons for Winnipeg for almost a decade, said his party has always stood willing to co-operate with the Government in everything that pertained to the public welfare.

Lack of constructive policy was the main cause for the King Government defeat, he thought.

R-100 MOTORS HEARD PASSING LINER AT SEA

Megantic Receives Message, But Fog Obscures Airship.

70 HOUR TRIP.

Expect Landing in Montreal About 7.45 Thursday Evening.

MONTREAL, Que., July 30 (C.P.) —The purser of the White Star liner Megantic radioed the Canadian Press this morning that his vessel had been in touch with the R-100 last night and had radioed her position as 53.40 north longitude, latitude 7.31. The passengers and officers on the Megantic could hear the motors of the dirigible, but could not sight her because of fog. The message said the R-100 had been spoken to at 6 p.m. eastern standard time last night.

Trip Take 70 Hours.

MONTREAL, Que., July 30 (C.P.)—Calculations made here based upon the distance already covered by the British airship R-100, indicate that the flight from Cardington, England, to St. Hubert, Montreal, will take seventy hours or less. Definite forecasting of the arrival time is, of course, impossible, weather conditions being all-important in considering the length of any voyage, either by sea or air.

As the airship left Cardington at 9.45 p.m. on Monday (eastern standard time), the estimated 70 hours in flight would bring her to St. Hubert at 7.45 p.m. Thursday. Weather predictions made by the Dominion Meteorological Bureau indicated that the R-100 will be able to better the estimated time of 70 hours.

U. S. NOT SURPRISED

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 30 (C.P.)—The United States received the news of a change in the Government at Ottawa quietly.

Advices received from Washington indicated there was no great surprise there, inasmuch as there had been "predictions for some time past that the Conservatives would win."

OLD FREIGHTER BURNS ON LAKE

Veteran Steamer Destroyed to Provide Roman Holiday For Excursionists.

35 YEARS OLD.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., July 30 (C.P.). — No more will the battered and age-worn steamer Robert L. Fryer, once the pride of the Great Lakes, churn the blue waters of the inland seas, for last night the Fryer went as old boats would wish to go. The veteran steamer was burned to provide a Roman holiday for thousands of excursionists and residents of this district.

With wide open seams between her heavy oaken timbers, with here and there fragments of oakum protruding the Fryer was towed to open water and there burned.

It was 35 years ago that the Fryer first appeared on the lakes. Those were the days of wooden ships, and she was built of mighty oaken timbers which had withstood the battering of the lakes for many years. She was built by Wheeler's shipyard in Bay City, Michigan, and was 360 feet long.

For several years, the Fryer had played a useful part in acting as hospital ship for damaged and wet grain which had been lightered from other unfortunate craft on the lakes. Later, she was towed to the shipyards at Port Arthur, where her engines, winches, and other valuables were removed; last night nothing but a stripped and drunkenly lurching hulk, she vanished in a blaze of glory while thousands cheered.

COMMONS TO PROBE SERIOUS CHARGES LAID

LONDON, Eng., July 30 (C.P.) — The House of Commons spent an hour yesterday discussing what should be done about a speech of E. Sandham, Laborite member of Parliament, in which he is alleged to have made charges against his Labor colleagues of intoxication and receiving bribes.

The matter finally was placed before the Committee of Privileges by a vote of 449 to 8. This committee will examine charges against Sandham that his speech was a "gross libel" and will report later to the Speaker.

ONTARIO SENDS NEW LEADER 7 EXTRA BACKERS

Fewer Liberals, But Strength Added in Election of W. H. Moore.

HEENAN SURE OF WIN.

Miss MacPhail Retains Distinction of Being Only Woman Member.

TORONTO, Ont., July 30 (C.P.)—Miss Agnes MacPhail retains her distinction of being the only woman member of Parliament, and this session will have the added distinction of being the only member from Ontario outside the ranks of the two major parties. She was elected on the U.F.O. ticket.

So it is that Hon. R. B. Bennett will have seven more supporters from Ontario when he assumes office as Prime Minister than when he was Leader of the Opposition.

Fewer on Liberal Benches.

The Liberal benches on the other hand will have fewer occupants from this Province. The Liberal delegation will be strengthened by the election of W. H. Moore, former chairman of the Tariff Advisory Board. It will also number four members of the present Government, for none of the Ontario Cabinet Ministers were defeated.

Election of Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, in Kenora-Rainy River has now been declared certain. With 32 polls to be heard from Mr. Heenan has a majority of 776 over his Conservative opponent. Hon. J.

Doctors Will Dine On Election Bet

OTTAWA, Ont., July 30.—Picking the wrong party to win the election will cost Dr. Herbert Moffat a dinner to each and every medico in Ottawa. He wagered Dr. Andrew that the Conservatives would win here. If a candidate of each party had been elected in the capital, a third physician, Dr. Arthur Stewart, would have been the host at the dinner, which will cost more than $700.

Above is shown the mooring mast at St. Hubert, Quebec, prepared especially to anchor the R-100 upon her arrival in Canada. The R-100 is the largest dirigible in the world, powered with six 660 h.p. Rolls Royce engines weighing 90 tons and with accommodation for 100 passengers and crew.

The successful flight of this giant British dirigible will lead eventually to a regular airship schedule between England and Canada and later to the rest of the Dominions. Its arrival in Canada opens an era of closer communication and a strengthening of the traditional ties within the Empire.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

Do you know as much about wild flowers and birds as you should?

• • • • • • •

Vacation time is splendid for this purpose—refresh your memory along this beautiful line—it is really beautiful to really study all the wonderful flowers one finds hidden in the woods.

• • • • • • •

Parents can also encourage their children to study the birds and flowers during the summer, and do it in such an interesting way that they will find it a delight.

• • • • • • •

It may be an easier way for the parents to learn themselves some of those which they have forgotten. But it isn't necessary that either parent or child know about the birds or flowers first.

• • • • • • •

This may seem much to parents who never were versed in the lore of nature, and who might hesitate to venture in this plan if it were essential that they become teachers.

• • • • • • •

A wide range of books with pictures and descriptions can easily be obtained, and really should be included in every holiday bag.

• • • • • • •

Encourage the children to discover flowers and show them to you, but it is unwise to tell them to gather them for they may spoil flower beds and encroach on property in their zeal to get new kinds.

• • • • • • •

When going on walks make it a point to see how many new flowers you can discover and remember, and you will find your walk has been something more than exercise.

• • • • • • •

Tell the children that you will give a prize to the one who discovers the greatest variety of flowers during the week—let them get encouragement as they go along.

• • • • • • •

The study of birds is done in much the same way. A bird may be discovered by its plumage or its song.

• • • • • • •

It has to be seen, however, in order to classify it, unless the parents are familiar with bord lore. Then they can tell the child what the b'rd looks like and get him to watch for it whenever he hears the special call.

• • • • • • •

Everyone should be interested in nature study and how much nicer it is to be able to call each wild flower by name when walking with a friend!

• • • • • • •

If you're packing for vacation don't forget that b'rd and flower book!

Perfect Beauty

Hon. Marie Lyon-Dalberg-Acton, eldest sister of Lord Acton, has been called a perfect example of the British type of beauty, although she comes from one of the most Teutonic of English families, her father having been born in Bavaria. Through the Dalberg strain the Actons trace their lineage to the most ancient and illustrious family in Germany, which claims descent from one of the Savior's relatives who was reputed to have become a Roman centurion and to have settled at Hermstein.

RIVER TRIP IS MUCH ENJOYED

Several Persons Participate in Annual Outing to Rice Lake.

ALL DAY TRIP.

(F. R. Russell)

On Saturday last there was projected a river trip, which is always acceptable, viz., to Rice Lake — calling for a time at Gore's Landing. Accordingly at 1.30 p.m., D.S.T., there was assembled on the good steamer "Stoney Lake," a goodly assemblage of voyagers, who were all of one mind, apparently, viz., that a trip to Rice Lake was well worth while.

There was also another contingent on board—an aggregation of children and young women and boys, and a few seniors, belonging to some society called "Truth Mission." These were to be landed at Wallace's Point, to be picked up again on our return journey from Gore's Landing.

Accordingly a few minutes after our advertised hour of departure, the steamboat's crew cast off the mooring ropes, and we were on our way, threading our course through the logs which lay pretty thickly on the surface of the lake. Then another short delay occurred, for from some reason or other we had to slow down, and eventually stop, because notwithstanding our steamer's signal whistles, for some reason the railway bridge was not opened to allow us to pass. However, in a few minutes this little difficulty was overcome and we went on our way rejoicing.

It was a beautiful day; the sun was decidedly warm, yet there was a pleasant breeze; but there were a few ominous clouds which looked as if we might later on expect either a thunderstorm or at any rate a shower.

The country looked very beautiful; the growth of everything was very much marked, while there were several signs of harvesting.

In due course, Wallace's Point was reached, and many of us were not sorry to part with the "kids," for they had been running about pretty considerable, regardless of whose feet they were trampling on. So it was with a sigh of relief that we older folk saw them safely on shore and we commenced to thread our way through Hale's Bridge, and resume our trip Rice Lake-ward. And a very pleasant company we then had on board. All stiffness and formality was put on one side, and we quickly became a friendly party. And on and on we steamed down the Otonabee River, passing various boat loads of anglers intent on the elusive lunge or bass or what not.

In due course we negotiated Bensfort Bridge, and arrived at Rice Lake having passed many beautiful spots rendered so by a profusion of water lilies.

In due time we were moored alongside the quay at Gore's Landing. A half hour was accorded to the passengers to roam about on shore, but very shortly a messenger arrived to tell me that supper was ready for me at the Captain's table, and nothing loth, I was quickly doing justice to the good things provided by our genial cook—Mrs. Little. And mighty glad I am free to confess, was I to store away these good comestibles.

Well at 5.30 p.m., we left Gore's Landing and by the time we reached Bensfort Bridge again, the clouds, which had been growing heavier and heavier, broke, and we had a shower—not very heavy, but quite heavy enough, which lasted up to Wallace's Point. But as there was not then a big crowd on board we practically suffered no inconvenience.

As usual the genial Captain Scollard and the civil and obliging crew did all in their power to add to the comfort and convenience of their passengers, and in due course at 9.00 p.m., we pulled up at the George street landing wharf, said our respective good-byes, and joined the big Saturday night crowds on Main street.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

MEAT IS NECESSARY.

Every time I read an article attacking the use of meat, and suggesting that the vegetable diet is the ideal diet for everybody, I feel like writing an article on the value of meat in the diet and that everybody should eat meat once or twice a day.

And yet I know that meat twice a day is a mistake for a great many people, because of the fact that most people these days do not earn their bread by the 'sweat of the brow,' but by the use of their heads mostly, and partly by the use of the hands. The huge muscles that cover the body are really not called into use very much for the everyday work of life. Nature meant them to be used, and that is why they make up the largest part of the body.

When these muscles are used, they need to be repaired, and meat is the ideal food with which to repair them.

If, however, they are not used much, then you can readily understand that there will not be the need for much meat.

And so of course I have to admit that for the average individual doing little or no physical work meat more than once a day is not wise.

Why?

Because meat is not a bulky food, it is in a concentrated form, and as the system does not use all of it, then what is not used is like so many cinders in the intestine and kidneys, but what is really more harmful, these unused meat particles act as poisons to the system, and cause constipation, distress, and even more serious conditions.

However, where much work is done, where an individual is run down in health, in growing children, boys and girls, meat is the ideal blood and body builder.

In our sanitariums for tuberculosis, meat figures largely in the daily menu.

In anemia, liver and beef are the foods that accomplish the cure.

What is my thought?

That a little helping of meat daily will repair the worn tissue in all of us.

Where some physical work is done a generous helping of meat daily is wise.

Where there is heavy work or where hard athletic games are played, meat twice a day will keep the body in good condition for more work.

Who said "Blue Monday"?
WASHDAY—hardest in the week for many women. Especially if there are children.
But it needn't be "blue". When you begin to feel tired, make yourself a cup of tea. It will rest you!

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Alice Michaelis

THE PERFECT GIFT

This is the perfect gift, a rose,
Fresh from the ardent sun's caress;
A flower whose every petal glows
With loveliness.

Rose blossoms red, rose blossoms white;
Always a peerless gift is this
Of roses sweet with day's delight
Or moonlight's kiss.

Each rose breathes still of wind and dew,
And stars that watched the bud unfold,
Each rose recalls morn's pearly hue
And sunset's gold.

This gift surpasses things of art,
Gems, tapestries or lace;
For with each rose there goes a part
Of God's own grace!

PLANES AID GREATLY IN SUBDUING TRIBES

PESHAWAR, India, July 30 (A.P.) More than 70 airplanes of the Royal Airforce have operated in the numerous aerial actions that have worried the hard-fighting fribesmen of the northwestern frontier for some months.

Several times the planes have bombed groups of recalcitrant hillmen from their caves, inaccessible in any way except from the air, and it is considered that they have played a notable part in subduing the trouble.

HEALTH PROBLEM IS SOLVED FOR MANY

They Eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Daily

Constipation is the most common menace to health today. It is extremely dangerous in itself and is the source of many other complicating ailments. There is no permanent relief in pills and drugs. Many of them are dangerous.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is positively guaranteed to relieve and to prevent both temporary and recurring constipation. If it does not, money will be refunded.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is roughage. And roughage in food helps eliminate the possibility of constipation. Most modern foods do not contain roughage. Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily is the proper amount. In recurring cases, ALL-BRAN should be eaten with each meal. It is an essential in any reducing diet. In addition, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains iron, the blood builder. It is the original ALL-BRAN, proved effective by millions and recommended by physicians.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has an appetizing flavor. Eat it with milk or cream, in cereals and fruit juices, in soups and in cooked foods. Your grocer has ALL-BRAN in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

BILL was no mind-reader. But he could see that Joan wasn't enjoying this trip into town.

Why is she edging away? he wondered. Then he saw the newspaper headline—"Hotter weather here—look out for 'B.O.'"

Body odour—was that his trouble? Read Bill's own answer.

"Tricky 'B.O.' It fooled me all right.

"Yes, I perspired. But in a healthy, normal way. I didn't notice any unpleasantness.

"Now I realize that we become insensitive to ever-present odours; that pores constantly give off odour-causing waste—as much as a quart a day; and the hotter the weather—the more we offend.

"So it's Lifebuoy for me always—and no 'B.O.' worries. Its purifying lather keeps the body fresher. Even removes cigarette odours from the fingers.

"We all think Lifebuoy's a fine skin soap, too—and a real safeguard against disease germs. Lifebuoy's pleasant, extra-clean scent that vanishes as you rinse, tells you it purifies."

THEIR SERVICES NEEDED.

One of the most unsatisfactory features of any general election is the fact that the vagaries of fortune rob the country of the services of able statesmen whose experience and judgment and counsel are needed.

The loss of such leaders as Hon. Charles Dunning and Hon. T. A. Crerar from the Liberal ranks and of Hon. H. H. Stevens and General McRae from the Conservative strength is to be regretted.

Men of their type are needed in the House of Commons.

Parliament is not so overcrowded with capable front-benchers as to be able to bear the parting with such outstanding parliamentarians without a certain weakening of the whole structure.

It is reported that so far as the Liberal pair are concerned that Mr. King will endeavor to open seats for them in order that the Liberal party may have the benefit of their services when they take over the duties of His Majesty's loyal Opposition in the next session of Parliament.

Probably similar salvage in the case of Mr. Stevens and General McRae is being planned by Mr. Bennett as he completes his arrangements for taking over the responsibilities to which the electors of Canada by their ballots have assigned him.

Certainly the House would be strengthened by the return of all four.

A GOOD VOTE.

Both the local electors and the local politica. organizations deserve credit for the fact that a heat wave did not prevent Peterborough West from registering a splendid vote here on Monday.

The workers of the two parties were unflagging in their efforts to bring out the vote, but despite their determination and the huge fleets of cars at the disposal of the political organizations there would not have been such a larger percentage of the available vote polled had it not been for the interest shown in the contest by most of the electors and their ready co-operation with the campaign staffs.

Even the hot weather did not prevent hundreds of women from walking to the polls, refusing the offer of transportation, while male voters showed a similar eagerness to express their opinion by their ballots on the issues of the day.

It is the part of a good citizen to vote, and it is symptomatic of a progressive and wideawake community when practically all the available electors recognize their responsibility and exercise their franchise.

Making allowance for holiday absentees and for those who were unable to turn out by reason of sickness, many of the urban polls came very close to a perfect score, a showing that is both healthy and gratifying.

When all the people speak, the decision has an added significance.

MR. FERGUSON AND THE CABINET.

Speculation as to the composition of Mr. Bennett's Cabinet almost invariably includes the name of Premier Ferguson as one of the Ministers.

There is little doubt that the head of the Ontario Government can have an Ottawa post if he so desires; he has earned promotion—if a transfer to Ottawa can be so described—by reason of his outstanding service to the Conservative federal cause in the election that has just closed.

Mr. Ferguson most certainly will have the refusal of a Cabinet position in the new Government, and The Examiner's guess is that he will exercise that right by declining to accept federal responsibilities.

He is just newly back into power in Ontario with a huge majority, and the situation is such that he could hand over the Ontario command to a successor without any fear for the present at least of any unfavorable reaction.

That fact notwithstanding, it is probable that Mr. Ferguson will prefer to remain on the job in his own Province until he is ready to retire from the political stage.

He is closer to the people in Ontario than he would be in the larger arena; he has a liking for the educational department that would make him reluctant to abandon that sphere of activity, and for these and other reasons the prediction is justified that when Mr. Bennett announces his Cabinet the name of G. Howard Ferguson will be looked for in vain.

IT WAS DECISIVE.

Most Canadians, no matter what their political views may be, are doubtless gratified to see that Mr. Bennett has a substantial majority—some twenty-eight votes—over the rest of the combined House.

The greatest calamity that could have happened in the view of many electors would have been a stalemate with neither of the old parties able to carry on without the aid of Progressives, Labor and Independents.

Such a situation would have been a repetition of the 1925 conditions when Mr. King tried to weather a session without having a clear majority and eventually found the task impossible.

All danger of such a crisis in the new Parliament has been removed.

The result is decisive.

Mr. Bennett has a margin over the combined strength of the balance of the House that leaves him absolutely free to bring forward any policies he may desire.

There will be no need of log-rolling or bargaining for support; with a decisive majority of his own followers at his back the Conservative chieftain now has a free hand to launch out on the program he laid before the electors, a program seemingly endorsed by a majority of the people in this country.

The danger of another election within a year, which would have been the almost inevitable result of a deadlock, has been eliminated.

The Conservatives are definitely established in office for the next four or five years, and their majority ensures stability in the field of federal politics.

At the same time there is a strong, aggressive Opposition on the job with a sufficient strength of experienced parliamentarians to keep the Government alert and moving.

THE BUCKLEY MURDER.

The cowardly murder of "Jerry" Buckley, most popular of all Detroit radio announcers, seems to have stirred public opinion across the river as it has not been stirred in a long time.

Detroit's record of unsolved killings is a long one. Within the last few weeks some of the most sensational murders imaginable have been committed there. Men have been slain in broad daylight in the city's leading thoroughfare. Fifteen bullets were pumped into Buckley himself as he sat reading a newspaper in the lobby of a leading hotel. The men responsible then walked out and disappeared.

Is it any wonder that Detroit is excited, that Detroit is showing signs of "nerves?" Human life is a very cheap commodity across the river, and while we on this side sympathize with our neighbors in their misfortune, we are still of the conclusion that Detroit's troubles are Detroit's own fault, or perhaps it would be better to say that Michigan's troubles are Michigan's fault.

You can't coddle criminals and expect to preserve law and order. Michigan has been coddling criminals and consequently law and order are at a low ebb there. Murder goes unpunished so often in Michigan, or murder is so lightly punished, that men with murder in their hearts do not hesitate to carry out their evil designs.

It may be odious to make comparisons, but Americans who are worried by conditions have already started to make them. In this country and in Great Britain, the perpetrator of a murder stands little chance. The odds are a hundred to one that he will be caught and that, having been caught, he will suffer the death penalty for his crime. That is why murders are few and far between in Canada and few and far between in Britain; that is why Chicago, for instance, with approximately four millions of population, has several times as many murders per year as Great Britain with her forty odd millions of population.

Uncle Sam will solve his crime problem when he starts to really deal with criminals, when he abolishes the system of electing judges, when he refuses bail to men charged with violent crimes, when he speeds up the machinery of justice, when he refuses to allow smooth-tongued lawyers to interfere, on technical grounds, with the proper administration of the law.—Border Cities Star.

WAR HISTORY.

Admittedly it is not easy to give a balanced account of any period of national history during the time the chapter is in the making. And if this be so as regards political and diplomatic developments, the problem becomes almost measurelessly more intricate and complex in time of war. Of old, it was difficult to secure enough manuscript evidence to satisfy the curiosity of the reader, and the historian keenly felt the sparsity of the material placed at his disposal. Thus, until at least the midway period of British history, the alleged authorities upon whom our historic chroniclers could depend were few indeed; and these, for the most part, were far removed from the actual scenes they described, or, rather, about which they chose to gossip. And gossip they did. For it seems to have been the habit, pardonable under the circumstances for these ancient scribblers to go the round of the neighborhood and gather up such reminiscences and incidents as afterwards figured in their parchments. Fortunately, at that, we are not entirely limited to their jotings, which usually embodied an immense amount of lore, more creditable to a lively imagination than consonant with actual fact. In the Record of the Rolls we have a huge mass of authentic papers and manuscripts which, in modern days, have been consulted and researched, and range all the way from the date of Richard I. to the beginning of the eighteenth century. And since then, the book-leaf evidences have become ample enough to meet all reasonable demands.

But the question occurs: If matters which concern, let us say, the period of the Cromwellian disruption, present to our modern students so perplexing a narration, what is likely to be the emotions of some future historian who turns back unto the voluminous memoirs and jottings of the Great War through which our civilization has passed? How will the future historical connoisseur or student regard the bewildering mass of multiplex and criss-cross critiques to-day unloaded upon the literary market; the quarrels, disputes, jealousies, captious hagglings, blasts and counterblasts, accompanied by a tone of pessimism or disillusionment? Assuredly the task will be no easy thing to tackle. Of recent date, much comment has been aroused, and not a little resentment, by the appearance of what are termed "scandalous war books and plays," which, it is alleged, present a libelous picture of the Great War and the troops engaged therein, stress the seamy side of things, pander to the prurient taste of a section of the public such as are willing to accept an oblique, partial and neurotic version of the mighty struggle that took place. To strip off the fine feathers and paint from ghastly image of war is one thing. The sooner its glamor is swept to the discard the better. But defamation of the soldiers who took part, and paid the supreme price, in what they believed to be a defence of hearth and home, in a war to put an end to brutish aggression, is quite another thing. This cannot serve any good purpose. Like much other stuff, which masquerades under the aegis of realism, it is ill-timed, in poor taste, and unwholesome in its influence and effect. The protest against the commercialization of such questionable material is a point well taken. What is needed is truth, not slander; and balance, not merely acrid exhibition of spleen, from whatsoever quarter it may come. What possible interest can be served by any vitriolic script, ostensibly penned for the sake of posterity? When the "tumult and the shouting dies," the historian who sifts the ingredients will be able to discern that a great adventure was made, not indeed for sheer lust of war, but rather in the earnest persuasion that civilization might some time be freed from its waste burden and frightful carnage, and betake itself to a better and brighter road, leading towards international friendship and the citadel of world peace.—St. Catharines Standard.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Mr. Bennett's troubles will begin at once. He has to pick a Cabinet, and when such a task is to the fore the number of those who are ready to accept political promotion is surprisingly large.

Evidently General A. D. McRae had more luck as a political organizer and as an election prophet than he had as a candidate.

Agnes MacPhail is the only woman candidate out of ten aspirants to be elected. Still Agnes will be able to talk enough for the other nine.

Seven members of Provincial Legislatures throughout the Dominion resigned to enter the federal fight. And now all seven of them are in the ranks of the unemployed.

Sir Robert Borden, Canada's wartime Premier, came into the federal campaign at the last moment, playing a one-night stand at Ottawa.

To Form New Party

Count Von Westarp, most redoubtable of Prussian Junkers and for many years Reichstag leader of the Nationalists, plans forming a new Conservative and monarchist party in protest against the affront given President Von Hindenburg when Dr. Hugenberg, newspaper magnate and would-be political dictator, overthrew the Bruening cabinet and flouted the old marshal's wishes.

What To-day Means To You.

"LEO."

If July 30th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., from 4 p.m. to 5 p.m., and 11 p.m. to midnight. The danger periods are from 6 a.m. to 7:30 a.m., and 8 p.m. to 9:30 p.m.

It will be an uphill job to make this either a pleasing or fortunate date, as influences are against you in most factors of life. You will call upon the assistance of others. Distrust strangers! Signs oppose travelling!

It would be a pity to strangle the individual oddnesses of the child born on this July 30th, as they are the embryo elements in its character which will make it an interesting and worth-while adult. It will have a live imagination, and a spirit of adventure.

You are a dynamic being, forceful without being displeasingly so. You infuse life into others. Then you smile they smile, when you laugh, they laugh too. Your chief charm lies in your perfectly sincere interest in everything and everybody. There is nothing under the sun to you. The secret of your happiness in life is that you are content to be merely yourself, and are not trying to play some role or other that takes your fancy, or that circumstances suggest. You please your audience without being conscious of them. You attract notice without trying to do so. You carry with you an aura which is beneficial to all.

You not only spin wonderful ideals in thought, but quietly and silently, you seek to make them realities. You possess the wonderful faith, which those born under this sign inherently have. The whole of your life will seem to be devoted to doing good to others. Your influence is something which will be felt by many.

Leo governing the heart, causes this part of your system to be most easily affected. It is essential for your well being and health that you have a few minutes each day, when you can be quite alone and perfectly at rest. This enables you to start the machinery from the heart at an even and a harmonious rate of vibration. Love, peace and harmony are your best medicines.

"The question is," says soliloquizing Lil, "whether to put my money away for my old age or buy a car and die young."—By Gettler.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 28.

"It was wrong of you to suggest the enterprise to him," the girl quavered. "And now, if he's killed the memory of it will always be between us."

To hide his discomfort and contrition His Majesty elected to pretend anger. "Why should it?" he charged. "He wouldn't be the first man to be killed in my employ in the discharge of his duty; the men on my payroll may not select the peanuts and leave the hard walnuts to somebody else. I pay accordingly."

"But he's such a splendid young man to be asked to risk his life to save you some more filthy dollars. As if you haven't got more money now than you know what to do with."

"It isn't the money. Money means nothing to me. Forty years ago I started playing a game and now the game is playing me. I can't let go. I have many mouths to feed and my honor is at stake. Twenty years ago I would have washed my own dirty linen in El Cajon Bonita, but now that I'm old I have to hire it done. I tell you, Muriel, I'd rather lose every dollar I have and start in all over again with tubercular scrub cattle, leased land and outlaw horses than take orders from two crooks and pretend I like it."

"I can understand that, Dad, but oh, it does seem too terrible to send a man like Ken Burney to do the job!"

"My dear," the king sighed, "I've got to send him. He's the only man I've been able to find with any relish for the job and the only man I think who stands a chance of putting it over. It would be murder to send anybody else."

"The only capital he has is his life and you're asking him to invest that in your business. It isn't fair."

The king realized he had to be rough with her. "What the devil causes you to think so well of this wandering troubadour?" he roared.

"He's a man. At first I suspected—almost believed—that he was all on the surface—a chap movie actor-hero type, so I did not hesitate to high-hat him. But after he showed me I couldn't walk on him and get away with it—when I realized he wasn't the sort of man who would admit an error he hadn't committed to tickle the vanity of a capricious woman—the sort of man who would never be a door-mat—well, I just couldn't help comparing him with other young men I know.

"No girl with a sense of fairness could help appreciating his manly qualities. And after he mopped up El Cajon Bonita with that odious Miguel Gallegos I knew he was real. There are so few real men in the world—and besides, he's such gorgeous company. Really, Dad, he's quite an old-fashioned gentleman. You just know he isn't the type that thinks that every girl that looks at him is his slave."

"Oh, my great patience, Muriel. First you couldn't bear the thought of him having human blood on his hands and yet the minute he admits having knocked off eight men you cheer for him."

"That was a fair and open fight, in self-defense, with the odds seven to one against him." She mopped her eyes, led him to a big overstuffed chair, made him sit down and then sat down on hislap with her arm around his neck. She was smiling whimsically now through a film of tears.

"I have a report of Ken Burney, Dad," she confessed.

"The devil you have. Where'd you get it?"

"I wired your general counsel to procure it for me. He did."

"Oh, Lord," the king demanded, "why weren't you born a boy? I'd retire and make you president of the Bardin Land & Cattle Company to-morrow if had you been. What's the report?"

"Kenneth Burney is thirty two years old, son of Felix Ortego Peralta Burney and Margaret McConnell—dash of Irish or Scotch in him, you see. Graduate of Tres Pinos High School with three years in Santa Clara University, where he never had a high mark and never failed to pass a course. He was a member of the glee club and did well in college dramatics, with a leaning toward burlesque.

"When the Lusitania was sunk and we failed to declare war he decided to declare it himself, so he went to England and enlisted in a cavalry regiment, the Berks Yeomanry. He served during 1915 and 1916 in France and then his regiment was sent to Egypt. He served in Egypt and Palestine until the end of the war, was wounded twice, has two medals of sorts, and between battles learned to play polo on the desert sands. Returned to his father's ranch after the war and raised polo ponies and trained them and played polo at Santa Barbara and Del Monte.

"He has already informed us that he went into vaudeville to reimburse his father for a note the latter had endorsed for him; when that was paid he quit vaudeville; then you took his father's cattle; his father had to lease the ranch and Ken made up his mind there wasn't anything else to do except follow the line of business he loved best—the cattle business. So here he is."

"What do you deduce from all this?" the king queried warily. He was beginning to have a new respect for his daughter's intelligence and adroitness.

"Well, he's bred right, to begin with. His originalSpanish ancestor arrived with Don Gaspar De Portola in 1670 and there isn't the faintest taint of aboriginal blood in his veins. The family record on both sides appears to be clean. There is no history of feeble-minded, moronic, physically weak, insane or criminal individuals in his tribe. That is very important. He was not a brilliant boy in school, but he made good. Has it ever occurred to you that the honor men in college are seldom heard of in after life?"

"I never pinned my faith in one of the meteoric brand. They learn quickly and easily and for... the same way," the king agreed. "Give me the steady, safe, conservative fellow who makes a good general average. He improves with age and experience."

"Then you'll admit," the princess continued, "that if courage and intelligence constitute as Plato remarked, a man's real virtue—"

"I agree with you Ken Burney's got that sort of virtue. Go on."

"He is industrious, he is honest, for he paid his note in sorrow, doing something he loathed; he is independent, fiercely proud, but not, I think the possessor of more than sufficient ego to make him normal and mentally healthy. One must have some ego to stimulate ambition."

"He has plenty, my dear. His ego is in direct ratio with his ambition."

"He has nice manners and they are instinctive—as much a part of him as his black hair and sooty eyes. He would be kind and courteous and graceful even if his parents had not insisted that he should develop those social attributes."

"Correct, Muriel. Go on."

"He has a gorgeous sense of humor, even at times it is grim and deadly. It pleases him to give the other fellow big and little casino, cards and spades and the four aces, in order that he, Ken Burney, may conquer him with the sweeps. I think that indicates a touch of knight-errantry. Yes, I'm sure he is chivalrous. There is nothing borrowed in his wit; he makes no modern wisecracks, and he is never so humorous as when he is in deadly earnest."

"That's the touch of Celt in him, my dear. The Irish have a reputation for being droll, but as a matter of fact they are the most serious and sad race on earth. When they are funny they rarely know it."

"You've got to admit he's tremendously good-looking, Dad, and not in a pretty way, either. He's masculine."

"Well?"

"He's my ideal of a husband, darling."

"But he hasn't one nickel to rub against another— and until he is his own man—"

"Rubbish. There's enough money in the Bardin family for three, isn't there? You could make him an executive of the company and give him a good salary. I'm sure he'd earn it."

"Muriel, don't dissemble with your old man. Are you in love with this young fellow?"

"Yes, I am. I never dreamed I'd be so unmaidenly as to admit it, but I have to, otherwise my chances are terribly slim I've got to have you to pinch-hit for me, darling. Come now, Pop, don't dissemble with me. Don't you think he'd make you a wonderful son-in-law?"

"Honey," said the king sadly, "I see I've got to give it to you between the eyes. You've got to forget Ken Burney and the reason, is, there's another girl in his life. He told me all about her. The desire to marry her has fired him with ambition to be his own man and—"

"Is he engaged to her, Dad?"

"No, not yet. In fact, he told me he had not even asked her, nor will he until he has something tangible to offer her."

"Well, of course," said the princess, "I wouldn't be a poacher, but as you present the case it's a fair field, so I'm not going to be down-hearted. You never wanted anything you didn't reach for; did you Dad? Suppose I do get my kniuckles rapped? I can assimilate defeat, but I'll not acknowledge it until I've fought myself out."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

May Wed Butler

Miss Gytha Stourton, great-granddaughter of the fourteenth Duke of Norfolk, who can trace her noble lineage back to the days of William the Conqueror, is reported to be preparing for marriage to Fioravanti Del'Agnese, former butler to Sir Esme Howard, until recently British Ambassador to the United States.

CARS COLLIDE NEAR STIRLING

OCCUPANTS UNINJURED

STIRLING, July 30 (Examiner Correspondence)—What might have been a more serious accident occurred Sunday when two cars collided at the corner of the Marmora road and the road to Wellman's. Thos. Granston was coming out from the Wellman's road and the other car was proceeding in a southerly direction towards Stirling, driven by the wife of an Ottawa physician and occupied by four women and some children who had been visiting friends in Havelock. The impact was so great that the Ottawa car was overturned and ablaze before it landed into the ditch. The car was completely destroyed with all its contents, also a sum of money. None of the occupants of the car were seriously hurt, but some of them were in need of medical attention, which was given them here. The lady phoned to her home at Ottawa for another car and on its arrival continued her journey.

Change of Service

In St. Paul's United Church on Sunday Elgie Joblin, son of Rev. F. Joblin of Rawden circuit had charge of the service. Rev. Mr. Byers after a pleasant holiday resumed his work as rector of St. John's Anglican Church. The services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, and St. Andrew's, West Huntingdon, were withdrawn in the absence of the pastor on his holidays.

WESTWOOD, July 30 (Examiner Correspondence)—The ladies of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church held their annual quilting on Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the church. Four quilts were completed after which the ladies enjoyed refreshments and spent a social time.

On Thursday afternoon a pleasant and profitable time was spent by the members of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's United Church, when they gathered on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Richard Paux.

During the afternoon five quilts were quilted after which a dainty lunch was served.

FRIENDS HONOR ELETA PRESTON

Mrs. M. F. Sanderson and Miss Margaret Sanderson Hostesses at Gathering.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

LAKEFIELD, July 30 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. M. F. Sanderson and Miss Margaret Sanderson entertained about sixty friends on Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Eleta Preston whose marriage takes place early in August. The house was prettily decorated with shasta, dairies, bridal roses and gypsophila and other blooms.

Mrs. John Northey officiated at the piano and played suitable music for the occasion as Miss Elsie Kidd led in the bride-elect. Miss Kidd who is a life-long friend of Miss Preston spoke a few introductory words which paid a high tribute to the bride as a child, young girl, young woman and a teacher. Her record in all is one to be envied and admired and her fine young womanhood has left a good impression wherever she went.

A large basket decorated in white and yellow was carried in by Misses Mollie Thomson and Zelda Northey and was filled to overflowing with gifts which were miscellaneous indeed as they were varied in size and material, each bearing a message of good wishes and love. As the gifts were too numerous to all be contained in the basket, the Misses Ora Dunford, Veronica Johnston and Elizabeth Thomson followed with an armful of gifts.

Miss Preston replied gracefully, thanking all her friends for the gifts and the message of love which accompanied them.

The Royal Humane Society is being urged to present a medal for bravery to 18-year-old Queenie Smith, of Tottenham, England, who, garbed only in her nightdress, dashed into a blazing stable and saved her pony, which she reared from colthood.

BIG INCREASE IN DIVIDEND PAYMENTS

Total to Date Shows Increase of $26,800,000 Over Last Year.

By A. D. O'HALLORAN.
(Copyright, 1930)

TORONTO, July 30. — (Special to The Examiner).—Canadian corporations continue to maintain dividend payments above the corresponding months of 1929, and the month of August will contribute further to the uninterrupted monthly record of increases for the current year to date. The total for the forthcoming month will bring the aggregate sum for 1930 so far to approximately $127,500,000, contrasted with practically $98,700,000 in similar months of 1929.

An estimate of August disbursements, compiled from dividend declarations, ex-dividends, etc., indicates that Canadian corporations will pay to shareholders $5,644,377, against $4,592,910 in August, 1929. The eighth month of the year is a very light period for dividend distributions, and the list on this occasion provides only regular quarterly payments, there being no extras or initial disbursements. There are no individual payments of a million or better and only one bank, Imperial, is included in the list.

Sixty-five public utilities, financial institutions, industrial corporations and mining companies are represented paying on seventy-four securities. Ontario's mines make a good showing with three properties distributing $1,442,410, or approximately 20 per cent. of the entire total.

LONDON OFFICE RAISES QUERY

Doubt Expressed as to Vincent Massey Filling High Commissionership.

ELECTION OUTCOME.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C. P. Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Eng., July 30. — The Conservative party having defeated the Liberal Government in the Canadian General Elections, there is naturally considerable speculation in London Canadian circles regarding the future of the High Commissionership here, vacant since the death last February of Hon. Peter Larkin.

One London writer says the High Commissionerships are still regarded in all the Dominions as an item of party patronage. Two months ago it was announced that Hon. Vincent Massey, former Minister of Canada at Washington, would arrive in London in the autumn to take the post here. This writer, however, is doubtful whether this sound Liberal will come now, as things have turned out.

According to a leading American authority the world's visible supply of tin is about 32,000 tons.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND BRIEFS

A SPECIAL SERVICE T O THE EXAMINER

Canada Vinegars

Officials of Canada Vinegars Limited anticipate a good year for the company, conditions having been materially improved since agreement was reached whereby disastrous price-cutting which followed the severe competition of last year has been eliminated. The company now is able to receive a fair return for its goods and profits will be more commensurate with business. Precedent has shown that during a period of depression domestic pickling and preserving increases with a consequent greater consumption of vinegar. Another factor is that whereas last year there was very little pickling outside Quebec Province because of the drought, the pickling crop outlook for this year is excellent.

War Debt Payment

A growing sentiment is discernable in the United States, especially among men of keen intellect that the vexed problem of war debt payments is one calling for difference treatment than that accorded in the past and that the United States would be better off to cancel such debts. It is only natural that Englishmen, taxed to the hilt, should harbor a feeling of resentment towards the United States in having to shoulder such an enormous burden when debts owing to Britain as a result of the war were not be[illegible] paid and when it is remembered that the United States did not begin to assume her responsibility until quite some time after she had entered the war. This attitude of mind certainly will not be helpful towards consumption of American goods. Quite apart from this physchological effect the constant pressure of war debt payments reduces England's purchasing power. England has nearly two million unemployed on her hands so that the burden falls doubly on the remainder of her population. England must curtail purchases. This becomes a serious factor in world trade, sets leading industrialists in the United States wondering whether they are not strangling themselves by pulling the noose of debt payments. There is yet another point, an important point, to be considered—the purchasing power of the dollar is now far above what it was when these were contracted during war times. Three or four years ago, Professor Taussig, one of the leading economists of today, drew attention to the unfairness of asking dollar for dollar while at the same time the purchasing power of the dollar has steadily mounted. In other words, a day's labor loaned during war times has to be repaid by a day and one-half or two days now, quite apart from interest consideration. Clarence Darrow, well-known American lawyer, touched on war debts during his recent visit to Toronto, stating they should be cancelled. Numerous army officers have expressed the same opinion. Charles M. Schwab is one of the leading industrialists to go on record favoring cancellation of these debts. He says it would be good business policy.

SOFTER TREND ON STANDARD

Almost All Groups Affected With Losses During Early Morning Trade.

HOME OIL SOFT.

TORONTO, July 30. (C.P.)—Prices displayed a softer tendency in dull trading on the mining market during the early period to-day. Almost all groups were affected with losses considerably in the majority at noon.

Nordon was the most active stock, and by mid-day had dropped 4c from last night to 98. A strong short interest is believed to exist in this stock—price action following every announcement indicating this fact.

Home Oil dropped another 5 to $3.25, but Dalhousie, Mayland and Acme managed to show point gains.

The base metal group was irregularly lower in trend. Nickel was off 5 to $24.15; Base Metals 20 to $2.75, Falconbridge 5 to $2.15 and Sherritt Gordon a couple to $1.33. Noranda and Hudson Bay moved up 10 each and Newbec showed a small advance; Ventures at $1.08 was up 3.

PRICE INCREASE IN ZINC METAL

Formation of International Zinc Cartel Having Effect on Market.

BENEFIT TO AMULET.

TORONTO, July 30 Special to The Examiner).—Though it will probably be a month or so before direct results of the conference of zinc producers to be held in Belgium will be felt, the announcement of the formation of an International Zinc Cartel is already having a beneficial effect on the market for the metal. Zinc has risen to around 4.75 cents per pound. East St. Louis, which compares with a low for the year of 4.10 cents, indicating a recovery of nearly 16 per cent.

Amulet Mines, another company that will welcome any price appreciation in zinc with copper at 11 cents. Amulet's profits have been considerably reduced from original estimates, and the higher quotations will mean an important addition to income. The company has one shipment of 4,000 tons of zinc concentrates in Quebec at present, and this will be going forward to Europe any day now. This will be paid for in September at prices prevailing during August, so that Amulet is in a position to secure all advantages from the present and any future price improvement.

Another long week-end is in store for members and traders on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange, announcement is made today that the exchange will be closed on Saturday morning, and will remain shut until Tuesday morning. Further strength in the shares of Acme Gas and Oil to-day was traced to a report from Oklahoma City field that an important well had been brought in the northern part of the field. It is said to be in the same section within half a mile of the location at which Acme is drilling. Gas flow was estimated at 125,000,000 cubic feet and production in the neighborhood of 20,000 barrels a day. Drilling in the district is understood to be proving the northern section of the field up as the apex of the structure.

FARM STOCKS HOLDING GAINS

General List Continues Quiet With Trading Volume Low.

LEADERS UNCHANGED.

TORONTO, Ont., July 30.—(C.P.)—Tuesday's features were entirely lacking on Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. The implement stocks were holding their gains without signs of liquidation and City Dairy was firm at 64 but there was little trading and no sign of additional buying.

The general list was quiet, the volume very low. An indication of the extent of trading was to be found in Imperial Oil which towards the end of the second hour had not shown any transactions on the tape.

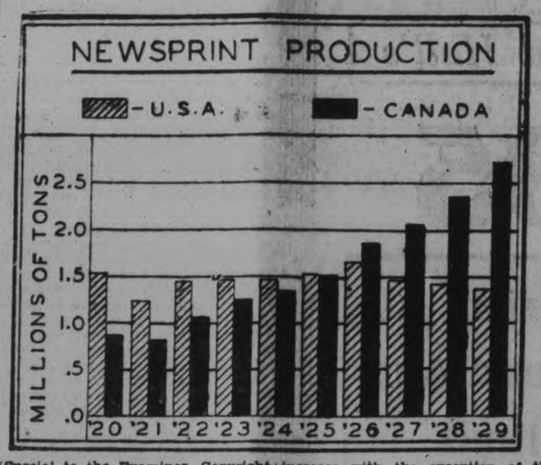
Most of the leaders were unchanged to slightly lower. Nickel for a time sold at 24, off ¼ point. Brazilian, Ford of Canada, Canadian Dredge, Gypsum, Service Stations, were unchanged. Steels were firm but not active. Canada Vinegars had a better turnover, up fractionally at 20¾. Durant Motors also was stronger at 5.

Those oils which did appear were unchanged.

KHIVA, Uzberkistan, U. S. S. R., July 30. (C.P.)—Many persons were drowned, numerous villages submerged and 300 houses carried away by a disastrous flood of the Amudara river, the largest stream in Asiatic Russia.

In the Kipchak Region a number of dams were destroyed, large numbers of cattle were killed and nearly 1,000 acres of rich sown land were inundated.

CANADA SUPPLANTS U. S. IN NEWSPRINT PRODUCTION



(Special to the Examiner, Copyright 1930)

TORONTO, July 30—Canada within the last few years has assumed increasing importance as one of the world's greatest producers of newsprint. Ten years ago United States produced almost twice as many tons of newsprint in a year as did Canada. To-day the position is reversed, the Canadian production being approximately double that of the United States. In the latter country the total for 1929 was below that of 1920 while Canada has reported a steady increase with the exception of the year 1921. The divergent course followed by the two countries is graphically illustrated in the accompanying chart which shows production in the United States and in Canada from 1920 to 1929, inclusive. U.S. output of newsprint in 1920 amounted to 1,511,768 tons, in 1929 to 1,392,276 tons. Canadian output in 1920 was 875,000 tons and in 1929 this had been increased to the surprising total of 2,728,827 tons, indicating the extent to which the industry has risen in chief rank in the Dominion.

WILL ATTEMPT TO RE-CHARGE GAS FIELD IN THE WEST

Interesting Experiment in Bow Island, Province of Alberta, Field.

UNIQUE FEATURES

CALGARY, Alta., July 30 (C.P.)—A very interesting attempt is being made to recharge the depleted gas sand in the Bow Island, Alberta, natural gas field with some of the surplus gas now being produced in Turner Valley, in which project a keen personal interest is being taken by Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior. For the area of this field that has been found productive, and bearing in mind the rather small closure of the structure, it has produced a very large volume of gas from a sand, near the base of the Benton Shales, having a thickness of 35 feet. In 1911 the Canadian Western Natural Gas, Light, Heat and Power Company, Limited, acquired a well that had been drilled by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and, in all, some 29 wells have been drilled to date. The gas was supplied to Calgary and other towns through a 16-inch pipeline, 170 miles in length and with a capacity of 39,000 cubic feet per day. Of recent years the sand has become considerably depleted and flooded in parts, with water, but at the present time it does not have to be drawn upon, for its place as the main source of supply has been taken first by the Foremost field some 20 miles to the south, an area very similar to it geologically, and more recently by the Turner Valley field, where, as is well known, a large volume of gas is produced.

The injection of gas from other sands into a depleted horizon with a view to its storage therein, either from the point of view of convenience of locality for supply peak load demands at other seasons of the year or in the case of oil sands to assist in the removal of the oil, is no new practice, but this is the first case where it has been attempted in Canada. The object here is to store surplus gas from Turney Valley that would otherwise be wasted and thus, it is hoped, build up a reserve for the future, which can be easily drawn upon through the existing pipeline as required. Two summers ago experiments were made on a smaller scale, tusing gas derived from the foremost field. It was found that higher pressure than was then available was needed to force the gas into the sand and the necessary plant is now being installed to furnish this. If successful, this plant can eventually handle up to 50,000,000 cubic feet per day. It is generally found that higher pressures are required where water has encroached than is the case with similarly situated but dry sands.

Most of the wells, having been drilled many years ago, are not in the best condition to withstand very high pressure. Some of the wells will have to be abandoned and carefully plugged; others drastically repaired; and the remaining ones used for the actual injection of the gas. The project presents one difficulty that has to be overcome, in regard to which no existing experience has been gleaned elsewhere. That is the overcoming of the flooded condition of the field. Both the Dominion and the Provincial Governments are affording the scheme every encouragement and the Hon. Charles Stewart has placed one of the Departmental engineers to study the work in the field and to keep the Department of the Interior fully advised as to its progress.

BLAME TRAIN FOR FIRE.

BRANTFORD, Ont. July 30.— (C. P.)—Sparks from a passing Canadian National train are blamed for a fire which swept thirty-five acres of stubble and pasture near Burford village last night. Fifty of the villagers with fire extinguishers fought to keep the blaze from spreading across a road and firing two seats of fine farm buildings, and they were successful in their efforts. The grass was as dry as tinder with three weeks' drought recorded here.

"BULLISH" SENTIMENT FAILS TO LIFT MARKET FROM SLUMP

Brief Upturn Follows Announcement From Finance Committee of U. S. Steel.

MARKET HOLDS.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 30. (C.P.) The "Bulls" appeared to have struck out in to-day's stock market and the bears had their inning, for after yesterday's performance it was apparent that the "bulls" had failed for the third time to break through the resistance points established at the end of the technical rally on July 18.

The statement of the Finance Committee of U.S. Steel, indicating that the recession in that industry had reached bottom an extraordinary bullish pronouncement to come from so conservative and reticient a quarter failed to cause more than a brief upturn in that leading issue. "Bears" made capital out of the fact that only the regular dividend had been declared although early rumors of an extra had not been taken very seriously.

Steel Revives.

The steel trade reviews pointed to weakness of pig-iron as a sore spot, Iron Age's composite price dropping 13 cents to $16.96 a ton, the lowest in 15 years. Steel quotations held steady, however, and "steel" pointed out that developments "lend moderate encouragement to the expectation that with the end of July is passing the worst of the present lull." "Iron Age," however, felt that the stimulus from increased industrial operations may not be felt by the steel companies until the middle or end of August.

Safeway Stores was again depressed to new lows, and it was learned that the first half report will show net of only about $2 a share, against $4.31 in the like period of last year. The possibility of new financing or a stock rather than cash dividend for Warner Bros., brought further selling into that issue.

Such issues as U.S. Steel, General Motors, American Can., Warner Bros., North American, American Telephone, General Electric, Safeway Stores, Air Reduction and Dupont, dropped 2 to 4, and shares losing 5 to 10 included such shares as Vanadium, Standard Gas, Western Union, Eastman, Byers, U.S. Industrial Alcohol, Allied Chemical, Worthington and Case.

Money was a little firmer, reflecting month-end requirements, although call loans held officially at 2 per cent.

TIME ELEMENT IS FOUND IN CANCER

Chief Surgeon of Kings Hospital College Describes Find.

ON WAY TO WINNIPEG.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 30. (C.P.) A curious time element in cancer is described by Sir George Lenthal Cheatle, British cancer authority. He is chief surgeon of Kings College Hospital in London and is here enroute to the British Medical Association meeting in Winnipeg next month.

There is one time zone when previously harmless stages of growths are likely to become cancer rather suddenly. This zone is in the same relative period of life for both men and animals.

"It suggests" Sir Lenthal said, "that some fresh but as yet unknown factor or agent may enter the body just at the critical time and cause cancer, or that the different parts of the whole cycle form a continuous process, and one part passes naturally from one stage to the final catastrophe of cancer.

PLAN BIG INDIAN TRIBE MEETING

Congress of North American Redmen Will Gather in Cleveland.

SMOKE PEACE PIPE

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 30. (C.P.)—Never before in history have the North American Indians of all tribes and nations gathered about one council fire, as they will in this city for five days in September.

Neither in peace nor in war, at any time in recorded history, have an Indians on this continent forgotten their differences long enough to sit down together and smoke as they will here the pipe of peace. There have been large gatherings in the past, but at no time has there been any pretence of giving all Indians representation.

This first Congress of North American Indians will bring them together from all parts of this country and from Canada. Here they will display the remnant of the glory of a day that is past, and of the power that long kept the white man at bay. The word has gone forth to all tribes still existing that here their White Brothers are beginning a determined program to undo in some measure the harm they and their fathers have done, and to promote justice in future dealings with the Red-man.

From the reservations that dot the land in the west and south and from the forests and hills of their one-time sway, the Red-man — the Vanishing American — will come bringing his badges of honor and prowess, and the full panoply that has made him unique among all peoples of the world. More than fifty nations and swub-tribes are definitely numbered among those who will have representatives here.

250 In native Dress.

More than two hundred and fifty of them will appear in native dress, to engage in ceremonials, rituals of the Indian, a festival, and a pageant—and join in the Council of the Pipe of Peace.

Mrs. Marion Campbell Winton of Cleveland, founder and president of the Women's National League for Justice to the American Indian, is general chairman of the organization planning the congress. Devoted to the cause of the Indian, Mrs. Winton and her followers plan to make the gathering fully representative without expense to any of the Indians, and a financial campaign is now under way here to provide a sufficient fund for that purpose. Prominent men and women are backing the project. Mrs. Winton has conferred with officials in Washington and has been assured of her interest and attendance. Several United States Senators and Congressmen are lending their aid. Governor Myers Y. Cooper and Mrs. Cooper head the society's list of patrons. Women of all states and also of Canada have been asked to join in the work of the permanent organization, and this appeal is directed particularly to those communities rich in Indian history and lore and those states in which there are reservations.

Prof. Nipo Strongheart, prominent Indian leader and Director of American Ethnology, who is giving his entire time to plans for the Congress, has numbered Indians by States as follows: Oklahoma 100,000, Arizona 46,350, New Mexico 35,000, South Dakota 20,000, California 19,000, Washington 12,900, North Dakota 10,000. Other states total only a few thousand. Indians of Canada to be represented at the Congress will include Blackfeet, Bloods, Peigins, Cree, Sarcee, Sioux, Brantford, and the Mic Mac from Nova Scotia.

Night Club Entertainer Claims Divorce From Watkins Not Legal.

IDENTITY NO CLOSER.

CHICAGO, Ills., July 30 C(.P.)—A Mrs. Anna Van Stan Watkins to-day had added another complication to the Watkins-Bamberger babies controversy.

Mrs. Watkins, described as a Philadelphia night club entertainer, informed newspapermen that she had been married to William Watkins, one of the fathers involved in the mixup of babies at the Englewood hospital.

Watkins made prompt denial yesterday of statements credited to the Philadelphia woman that they had not been legally divorced prior to his marriage to the present Mrs. Watkins. He said he was divorced in Cook County (Chicago) in March, 1928, and that he was married to his present wife June 20, 1929.

Barratt O'Hara, Attorney for Watkins, yesterday filed a suit in equity seeking to establish the identity of "John Doe," the baby now in the possession of the Watkinses.

CRIME INCREASE LAID TO HOMES

Police Chiefs Hold Parents Responsible for Juvenile Delinquency.

WOULD DEPORT ALIENS

TORONTO, Ont., July 18.—(By the Canadian Press.)— The 26th annual convention of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada, to be held at Hamilton, July 29-31, will devote much attention to crime prevention as well as to crime detection. It is the contention of most members of the organization that the primary responsibility for the increase in crime rests upon the home. To impress this fact upon the public mind, so that parents and other adults as individuals as well as church and social organizations may realize the necessity of co-operating with law enforcement bodies in the effort to prevent crime before it begins, is a problem which will be given an important place on the C.C.A. convention program. Among experienced police officers the conviction is growing that attempts to deal with juvenile delinquency — probation, suspended sentence, segregation from hardened criminals and the like—all these are largely nullified by the defects of home life.

The deportation of aliens convicted of criminal offences is another oft-discussed subject that will again receive attention from the Association. There is strong feeling that aliens, naturalized or not, who are convicted of grave offences, should be returned to the country of their birth no matter how long they have lived in Canada.

A recent judicial decision in Saskatchewan which apparently denies the authority of the police to stop and search automobiles or to question their occupants, except on warrants making specific charges, will also be discussed. It is felt that if this decision is made generally applicable it will seriously handicap the police efforts to arrest robbers, bootleggers, and other criminals or suspects. Traffic direction is now an almost intolerable burden upon police forces which have not been increased numerically to the place where they can cope with it, without regard to other expanding duties. If they are now to be barred from the right of immediate search where motor cars and drivers are suspect, they will more than ever become traffic directors only. Incidentally the Chief Constables' Association is strongly in favor of Dominion-wide uniformity of traffic laws, and has long advocated action to that end by interested bodies.

Discuss Parole System.

The convention will also discuss the administration of the parole system, particularly in Ontario. As an association and as individuals, the chief constables favor parole under the proper conditions. They differ a little from those who are enthusiastic for the general application of the principle, and lack first-hand knowledge of actualities.

Ways and means of establishing closer co-operation between the police forces throughout the country will be a chief concern of the convention. The C.C.A. was founded with this objective, definite plans presented at previous conventions have borne good fruit, and officers of the Association are confident that better results may yet be obtained. An ideal is immediate inter-communication, knitting together all forces in the country whenever a serious crime is committed at any place and the perpetrators make their escape. Radio may eventually furnish the answer to this. Other questions to be considered are pensions for all municipal forces, very few of which have done anything in this regard, and a plan for the better checking up of immigrants with criminal records.

A very representative attendance is expected at the convention. The president, Chief S. Newhall of Peterborough, will preside, and the vice-president, Chief J. Smith of Walkerville, will take an active part. Among many others expected are: Col. Cortlandt Starnes, Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, Ottawa, and Inspector Edward Foster, R.C.M.P., head of the central identification bureau; Chief Constable Lt.-Col. D. Ritchie, Calgary; Chief C. H. Newton of Winnipeg, who is secretary treasurer of the Association; Chief A. G. Shute of Edmonton, second vice-president; Chief G. Donald of Saskatoon; Chief F. Leslie of Prince Albert; Chief Bingham of Vancouver; Chief J. A. Caldwell of New Glasgow, N.S.; Chief G. Taylor, Port Arthur; Chief J. Robinson of Kingston; Chief Brig.-Gen. D. C. Draper, Toronto; Maj.-Gen. Victor Williams, Commissioner, and Alfred Cuddy, assistant Commissioner, Ontario Provincial Police; many chiefs from Quebec and New Brunswick, as well as representatives from the criminal investigation departments of the two great railway systems. Chief D. Coulter of Hamilton will be a busy man before and during the convention.

During the convention the delegates and their wives will go by special train to Niagara Falls, where they will be the guests of the city and the Provincial Government.

TORY VICTORY IS CELEBRATED

More Than Hundred of Marmora's Conservative Enthusiasts Stage Celebration.

BETS PAID OFF.

MARMORA, July 30.— (Examiner Correspondence.)— Very little sleep was partaken of in Marmora on Monday evening by at least a hundred of the town's Conservative enthusiasts. By 1.30 a.m. they considered that they had received sufficient information from the radio to justify a celebration, so led by youthful torchbearers the gang paraded down Forsyth street with one of the number pushing a wheelbarrow in which was an effigy. This was later consigned to the flames outside the Royal hotel. Terms of two election wagers were fulfilled on Tuesday evening.

Much amusement was caused when J. E. Gehan local blacksmith, with measured beat and slow, and with solemn countenance, used the muscles of his brawny arms to convey William Smith down Forsyth street in a wheelbarrow. This was the result of a bet as to which party leader would triumph at the polls. The same kind of a bet appealed to W. Archer and L. Greatrix, the distance for the winner to be thus conveyed to be from the Royal Hotel to the Post Office and back. The latter won the ride.

As though to establish the saying, 'the first shall be last,' the wager of longest standing will be fulfilled on Monday as part of the Calithumpian parade on Marmora's Civic Holiday. Walter Donnelly is set the the more laborious task of conveying Reeve T. N. Marett to the fair grounds in a wheelbarrow, all because Walter could not see that the Liberal candidate would get more than 125 votes in Marmora. Needless to say the juveniles have been keeping track of these events and are right there when the fun starts.

HOME TOWNERS

Tidbits, Interesting and Humorous CAMPBELLFORD

The hot weather over the week-end seems to have affected the river traffic. Three yachts got as far as town and tied up over Sunday. Two of these were the "Carmina" of Montreal and the "Enterprise" of Toronto.

The Rotary Club called off its Monday luncheon this week, and arranged a feed at Puff Ball Inn on Wednesday. It might be a little cooler there?

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lapp and son were visitors to Bowmanville on Saturday, when Mr. Lapp visited his parents.

"Here's one we can tell now election is over. There were three candidates for election, and their photos and qualifications were plastered all over the constituency. "Well, John, what do you think of them, and who is going to win?" asked a keen politician of a farmer who was looking at the bills. "Gosh, I don't know," was the reply, "but if them photos is true, ain't it a mercy only one of them can get in?"

Mr. and Mrs. G. Richardson and daughter Eileen have returned from visiting friends in Kingston.

The friends of Miss Mary Crossin will be glad to know that she has returned from St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, much improved in health.

Maclain Haig of Toronto is visiting his parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Haig, Front Street.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarty of Toronto are visiting the latter's sister, Mrs. and Dr. H. O. Richardson.

Mrs. S. J. West of Thorold is visiting relatives here.

Mr. J. P. Hume, Principal of Goderich Collegiate School, is visiting relatives in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Weston are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Anderson, at Fort Francis.

Mrs. Eric Roberts and children of Ottawa are visiting Mrs. Davies, Grand Road.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Jenkins of Montreal are visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Birk have returned from their trip to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. MacDowall and family of Niagara Falls, N.Y., were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James MacDowall for two days. They are taking a trip through to Quebec, then through the States home.

Capt. the Rev. H. B. Kenney of Consocon was the guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Riendeau at their cottage, "Dunwandrin," Trent River. While there he had exceptionally good luck with rod and line. This week he is the guest of Dr. H. O. Richardson.

ONTARIO SENDS

C. Elliott, Minister of Public Works, secured re-election in Middlesex West; Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in Bruce North, and Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, in Waterloo North.

Of five former Conservative Cabinet ministers elected in Ontario four were members of the last Parliament. Hon. Dr. R. D. Morand succeeded in regaining his old seat in Essex East from E. G. Odette, Liberal. The other former ministers are Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Wellington South; Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Toronto East; Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Fort William, and Hon. J. D. Chaplin, Lincoln.

Most, if not all of these, will likely be in Mr. Bennett's Cabinet. Another likely minister from Ontario is W. A. Gordon, Timmins barrister, who captured the riding of Timiskaming South from the Liberals.

Two Members Defeated.

Two Conservative members of the Ontario Legislature who resigned their seats to enter the contest failed to secure election. Karl K. Homuth failed to defeat Hon. W. D. Euler, Minister of National Revenue, in Waterloo North, and Harry Morel was defeated in Nipissing.

The riding of Norfolk-Elgin, where Hon. Peter Veniot, Postmaster-General, came into prominence through his refusal to appoint a disabled soldier as postmaster of the town of Simcoe, remained in the Liberal column. W. J. Taylor, the Liberal candidate, was elected by a very narrow majority.

FALL WHEAT IN VARIED QUALITY

Prospects Point to Fair Crop by Farmers of Millbrook District.

BARLEY AVERAGE

MILLBROOK, July 30 (Examiner Correspondence)—Fall wheat in Millbrook and vicinity varies from a good crop in some fields, to a rather poor yield in others. Wheat on summer fallow is the best; taken all round prospects are that it cannot be more than a fair crop. In some places rust has damaged the wheat to a certain extent. Fall wheat fields are fully ripe, many are cut, and several farmers are drawing in.

Barley is reported as not any more than an average crop; some fields are very poor, though later sown barley has done much better. It is ripening fast, and will be ready for cutting in the immediate future.

Spring wheat gives promise of being a fair crop although not overly thick on the ground. Oats are looking well, generally speaking, with very good length of straw and fairly well headed; will fill well if a few showers are available. None of the grain is too thick on the ground this season.

Every kind of grain, it has been remarked, has been a deep green color, and fall wheat, generally, ripened with that beautiful golden color that farmers like to see.

Hay has been an average crop, running about one load and a half to the acre. Alfalfa gave the best returns. Red clover was short, and not very thick; timothy was long and not as thick as usual on the ground. Alsike yield has been short and, like the others, not too thick on the ground.

Engineers have estimated that there are 500,000,000 tons of iron ore in Mindinao, in the Philippines.

MYRTLE KIDD IN FIRST POSITION

Wins Honors Along With Billie Stewart in County Competitions.

GARDEN CONTEST.

Myrtle Kidd, R.R. 1, Warsaw, and Billie Stewart, R.R. 11, Peterborough, won first places in the girls' and boys' competitions of the 1930 Peterborough County Home Garden Contest, according an announcement of the prize-winners yesterday at the local office of the Department of Agriculture. Myrtle Kidd's marks were 96½ and Billie Stewart's 96.

The list of winners in the boys' competition with the marks, is as follows: 1, Billie Stewart, 96; 2, Jack McGowan, R.R. 1, Peterborough, 93; 3, Will Stark, R.R. 7, Peterborough, 92; 4, Morley Bullock, R.R. 2, Lakefield, 91; 5 Clifford Johnstone, R.R. 5, Peterborough, 90½; 6, Charlie Whittington, R.R. 3, Peterborough, 90; 7, Orval Braden, R.R. 1, Indian River, 88.

The list for the girls' competition is as follows: 1, Myrtle Kidd, 95½; 2, Phyllis Moore, R.R. 2, Peterborough, 95; 3, Helen Cameron, R.R. 1, Birdsalls, 93; 4, Helen Savigny, R.R. 11, Peterborough, 90; 5, Bessie Kempt, R.R. 2, Ida, 89; 6, Marjorie Mahood, R.R. 4, Peterborough, 86.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture, through the agricultural representatives, promotes the Home Garden Contests every year to stimulate interest among boys and girls between the ages of 14 and 18 who have left school and returned to the farm. Many of the boys and girls who entered the local competition have been engaged in school fair work for some time and are now ready for growing crops on a larger scale.

In all there were fifty competitions, 28 for boys and 22 for girls, spread over the townships North Monaghan, Otonabee, Asphodel, Belmont, Dummer, Douro and Harvey. J. B. Nelson, agricultural representative, who scored the gardens stated that this year they were the best he has ever seen in similar contests. Ten of the fifty scored over ninety percent and practically all the prize winners had gardens in which there were no gaps of any kind. The quality of the vegetables would be a credit to experienced gardeners.

Each garden contained eighteen kinds of vegetables, the seed for which was supplied by the Department at less than cost. The money was also supplied by the Department and will be forwarded to the winners in the course of a few days.

GRIT AND TORY ARE BOTH HAPPY

take quietly. Forming into a procession headed by the Union Jack and the drum and fife band, it commenced to parade the streets, making a circle of the town and adding to its numbers as it went. When Mr. Fraser arrived, which he did at a very late hour, the town was hot, and he had a job to get through the crowd to his committee rooms. He spoke for a few minutes to his supporters from the balcony of the Queen's Hotel, Front street. When he left a few minutes later the intersection of Front and Bridge streets was filled by the Tory demonstration, who sang and danced in good old election style. Traffic was at a standstill, and cars found it impossible to pass, the bridge and streets leading on the intersection being jammed.

After the street corner festivities, the Tory procession formed up again and marched, and as early as 4 o'clock Tuesday morning, music was still to be heard. It was a case of everyone having something to rejoice over, and they rejoiced. Not in the past thirty years has so much excitement been caused in Campbellford by the result of a federal election.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, July 30—Cash grain prices were marked down 2c per bushel yesterday on the Montreal grain market.

The Montreal cheese market showed signs of being slightly easier today, and asking prices at the weekly Cheese Board at the Montreal Board of Trade were not realized. Bids of 16c per pound were made for No. 1 white, with 16¼c asked; for No. 1 colored the bid was 16½c, with 16 3-16c asked, and for No. 2 white 15c was bid and 15½c asked. The meeting was postponed, with no sales but it was afterward announced that the cheese would be sold at the asking prices, and the meeting would be held to-day. Receipts yesterday were 7,852 boxes.

TORONTO PRODUCE.

TORONTO, July 30.—Another quiet day was enjoyed by all on the local butter and egg market yesterday, and though prices were unchanged, this firmness was due to light receipts and not to active trading. Consumption has also ebbed during the past two days, and so the market has been at a standstill; equal supply and demand.

Prices to shippers for butter, remained the same as quoted during the past few days, and were 28c to 28¼c for Ontario No. 1, and 26½c to 26¾c for No. 2. But the top price was possible on large lots of high-scoring butter only, and buyers were not breaking any records in trying to secure any kind of supplies. The hot weather has been blamed for the lack of activity in both butter and eggs; but as long as receipts continue light prices should hold firm.

Cheese.

The cheese market took another flurry yesterday and this time local prices to shippers settled at 17c to 17¼c for new large, 17¼c to 17½c for twins and 17½c to 17¾c for triplets.

Eggs.

The egg market, as mentioned above, was similar in activity to the butter market. Prices for graded eggs, in free cases, were steady at 31c to 31½c for extras, 29c to 29½c for firsts, and 25c only for seconds. There was a report of some British Columbia eggs rolling eastward at 33c for extras, 31c for firsts and 29c for pullet extras. Country shippers in Ontario were offered 29c for extras, 27c for firsts and 22c to 23c for seconds, ungraded, delivered, cases returned. Prices to retailers were unchanged.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 30. — The wheat pit was buried under an avalanche of selling orders in the last hour yesterday, and prices were forced downward 2c to 2½c. Poor export demand overnight was followed by cables from Broomhall intimating British millers have withdrawn from the market their immediate requirements satisfied.

Early advances of as much as 1c toppled before the selling spurge, which came in the final hour of trading. Bulk of sales was credited to Eastern and United States interests.

Demand for cash wheat was good, but offerings continued light at unchanged spreads. Small lots of oats and barley sold for domestic use, soaked up light trade in coarse grains.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 30. — For the first time in a long while corn in Chicago yesterday brought more money per bushel than wheat. It is rare that any delivery of corn demands a premium over a similar delivery of wheat, but July corn closed yesterday at 88¾c, whereas July wheat finished at 86c to 86⅛c.

Depressed by big supplies, wheat values yesterday fell below any price level this season or for 16 years back, with corn advancing on account of drought news until checked toward the last by reports of scattered rains.

A nervous finish was witnessed both in wheat and corn, with wheat 1¼c to 1⅞c a bushel lower than 24 hours previous. Corn closed at ⅝c to 1⅜c net gain, oats unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25c.

Wings Strengthen Lead by Defeating Leafs 10-8

SIX HITS AND BASE ON BALLS WINS FOR WINGS

Champions Score Seven Runs in Eighth Frame and Overcome Lead.

LEAFS LOSE SERIES 3-1.

Six More Homers Hit at Baltimore as Orioles Beat Bears 13-6.

International League batsmen had a field day at the expense of the pitching fraternity yesterday, but without affecting to any great degree the relative standings of the leaders.

Seventy-seven runs were scored on hits off 20 pitchers in the four games yesterday with the heaviest firing at Baltimore and Buffalo.

At Baltimore, the Orioles clouted three Newark pitchers for 16 solid hits to run up a 13—6 score. In the Oriole collection were homers by Sand and Padden. Newark, getting fourteen hits off Luther Roy, never was in the game after the fifth inning when the Orioles drove Leo Mangum out of the box in the midst of a six-run rally that gave them a 10—2 lead. Four of Newark's clouts went for the circuit. The contributors being Layne, Thomas, Barrett and Jordan.

Nose Out Royals

Buffalo scored six runs in the ninth to nose out Montreal 12—11. The Royals had a five-run lead going into the last half of the ninth but a walk and three straight singles sent Southpaw Classett to the showers. Pinch Hitter Hawks slammed Buckalew, the Montreal relief pitcher for a single with the bases loaded. Buckalew then issued three straight walks, one intentional, forcing in the tieing and winning runs. Buffalo's 17 hits were scattered through the batting order while Henry got five of Montreal's 15 safeties, his string including a triple, double and three singles.

Six hits, counted with two bases on balls, after two were out in the eighth enabled Rochester to whip Toronto 10—8 and maintain its lead of four and a half games over second-place Baltimore. Manager Billy Southworth was the hero of the seven-inning uprising, his triple with three on and the score tied, breaking up the game. Worthington collected two hits in as many official trips to the plate for a four-games series record of 10 hits in 13 times at bat. Graham, Royal pitcher, gave the Red Wings only three hits in the first six innings and only nine all told. Toronto collected 13 off Smith and Littlejohn.

Jersey City scored six runs in the ninth, and Reading four in its half of the same frame as the Skeeters pulled out a 10—7 victory. The game started out easily enough and stayed that way until the closing frame when neither team could find a pitcher to halt the opposing batsmen. Twenty-six hits were made in this game by Jersey City.

Armour Plays Diegel For Golf Title To-day

ANCASTER, July 30.—A small man in light fawn shirt and knickers played around the golf course here yesterday and after his round spent an hour or so on the putting green. He putted with elbows up, head down on his chest and with an accurate pendulum stroke. It was the style made famous by Leo Diegel, and it was Leo Diegel at practice.

Diegel arrived here early yesterday ready for the play-off for the Canadian open championship. To-day he meets Tommy Armour, who tied him on Saturday by playing a brilliant round of 64—a round which broke the course record by two strokes and set a new record for the British, United States and Canadians opens.

LEAD OF ONE GOAL FOR WESTERN TEAM

Montreal C.N.R. Beaten By New Westminster Royals By Score 1-0.

WINNIPEG, July 30.—The crafty Royals from New Westminster, B.C., last night weathered a shooting storm of net-bound footballs to win the first game of the Connaught Cup finals from Montreal's Canadian National defenders by 1 to 0. One defensive mistake early in the first half and an array of blundering shots moved Nationals, Canadian champions, to the background in the 1930 classic of the Dominion Football Association playdowns.

Duguid, star Montreal back, handled the ball in a penalty-area scrimmage early in the first period and Royals scored their only goal on the free kick. Coulter snapped the ball past Nelson like a bullet. The champions started from that point in pursuit of the tieing goal and they still were faintly striving to beat the Far West barricade at the finish.

Victory for Westminster Thursday night would send the Dominion title to the British Columbia city for the second time in three years, but a come-back win for Nationals will force the teams into a deciding contest Saturday.

NATIONAL LOOP LEADERS AGAIN BOW TO DEFEAT

Braves Bunch Hits to Take 4-1 Decision From Boston Braves.

REDS DOWN CUBS.

Ninth Time Cincinnati Has Beaten Chicago in 15 Games Played.

The Pittsburg Pirates had their full share of brief successes at the start of the 1930 season and as the result they are pretty well out of the National League pennant race, but the Pirates at full strength are right on top of the second division, and the least little slip on the part of their leading rivals will place them among the first four clubs before the baseball year ends.

The Pirates placed themselves only two games out of the first division yesterday with a rather impressive 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. They piled up an early lead, lost it when Remy Kremers pitching wabbled a bit, then came through with two runs in the ninth inning to win. The younger Waner drove them in, singling when Suhr and Bool were on base to complete a sting which included another single and a double, two runs scored and one batted in. Big Brother Paul hit a double and a homer and sacrificed once, scoring two runs and driving home one more, while the team's lesser hitters, Suhr and Comorosky, each contributed an extra base hit.

Although the Pirates gained a game on St. Louis by this slugging performance, they could not pull ahead of Boston and St. Louis, their second division rivals. The Braves found an easy solution to the puzzle of Dazzy Vance's pitching after it had baffled them for six innings and gained a tie score. Then with Ray Phelps on the mound, they bunched three more hits in the tenth inning to beat the league-leading Brooklyn Robins 4 to 1. The defeat broke Brooklyn's six-game winning streak which had endured since Vance's last start.

The Reds continued to display their mastery over the Chicago Cubs, and kept Chicago from gaining on Brooklyn, by winning the series final 4 to 3. Old Epa Rixey had a fairly easy time of it except for Hack Wilson's 33rd home run of the year, which put the Cubs into the running. It was the ninth time the Reds have beaten Chicago in 16 games this season.

This double defeat of the leaders worked in favor of the third place New York Giants, who trounced the Phillies by an 11 to 5 score. Carl Hubbell gave the Phils 10 hits, but half of them were divided among O'Doul, Klein, and Sherlock, and did comparatively little damage. The Giants got eleven effective blows.

The Netherland East Indies has rescinded the government tax on company bonuses to employes.

Competition Keen in C.G.E. Softball League As Teams Enter the Home Stretch

Competition is waxing very keen in the C.G.E. Inter-department Softball League as the teams enter the home stretch, and with four crews bunched right at the top of the league, the remaining games should produce some first class softball.

The schedule ends on Friday, August 8th, and the league standing at the present time finds the Office, champions for two consecutive seasons, again holding down first place, one point ahead of the Engineers, who appear to be strong contenders for the Works' championship.

The following is the team standing up to Monday, July 28th:

CRICKET

LONDON, July 20.— Glamorganshire won from Worcestershire in an English County cricket match at Cardiff yesterday by 125 runs. Scores were: Glamorgan, 224 and 193 for four wickets, declared (D. A. I. Davies, 78, not out); Worcestershire, 97 and 105 (Mercer, four wickets for 35 runs, Ryan, six wickets for 44 runs).

Lancashire got a first inning decision over Hampshire at Bournemouth, scoring 152 to 145. Hants scored 241 for six wickets, declared, in their second inning (Brown 106, not out), and Lancashire 113 for one wicket.

Gloucestershire also won on the first inning, their opponents being Leicestershire. They played at Ashby-de-la-Zouch. Gloucester made 249 (Smith 57, Geary five wickets for 51 runs) and Leicester 69. Sinfield took five Leicester wickets for 25 runs, and Parker five for 32.

Derbyshire were ahead of Essex on the first inning at Leyton. Scores were: Derby, 342 and 122 for four; Essex, 297 (Mitchell, four wickets for 93 runs).

Surrey beat Kent on the first inning. Scores: Surrey, 303; Kent, 195 for four wickets (Woolley, 109).

The match between Yorkshire and Warwickshire at Sheffield was abandoned. Somerset won on the first inning from Sussex at Bath. Somerset compiled 138 runs and Sussex 99 (White seven wickets for 47 runs).

Nottinghamshire beat Middlesex on the first inning at Nottingham. Notts scored 185 and Middlesex 184 (Carris 72, Larwood eight wickets for 51 runs).

GEHRIG SHINES AS YANKS WIN

New York Slugger Connects For Two Homers, Single and a Double.

A'S LOSE 12 TO 3.

With Washington idle and the Philadelphia Athletics held in subjection by Henry Johnson, the New York Yankees, made the day's big gain in the American league race with the Cleveland Indians trailing in their wake. The Yankees humbled the world's champions by a 12 to 3 count as Lou Gehrig's hitting ably seconded Johnson's pitching. The Athletics made only seven hits while Gehrig alone made four, including his 30th and 31st home runs of the season. The other two blows were a triple and a double and Lou was credited with batting in six runs.

Indians combined 13 hits with a burst of wildness on the part of Guy Cantrell while the Detroit Tigers failed to find many effective combinations for the same number of blows. The final count was Cleveland 14, Detroit 7. The Indians scored 12 of their runs in the second and third innings. The Chicago White Sox failed to equal such bursts, but they put over four runs in the fifth inning and defeated the St. Louis Browns 6 to 2.

Softball Notes.

Another big battle in the softball loop can be expected tonight when Harrison's and Belmont Club play. Last night's Westclox defeat put Harrison's right up on the top rung with the Clockmakers. They cannot afford to lose tonight's game if they want to stay up there. Belmonts also need the victory tonight to stay in the running. It should be a great fixture.

The game will get away at 6.30 sharp, and will be played at Central School grounds.

Thursday night will bring Westclox and C.G.E. together at Central School grounds.

Five wins seems to be the limit for the pitchers. Dormer, after winning five in a row suffered three consecutive losses. Darling won five in a row and in his sixth start was taken over the scenic railroad for a ride by the Brinton boys.

Elliott, the young right-hander, made his first start for the Brintons last night, and showed a world of stuff.

Manager Beckerman of the Clockmakers switched his line up last night with dire results.

The C.G.E. defaulted Monday night's game to the Sugar Bowl, failing to get a full team out.

Charlie Shaughnessy wrenched his knee while batting in the seventh inning of last night's game and was replaced by Maudsley.

Joseph Summerfield, who was being treated with radium tubes for cancer in a hospital at Birmingham, England, died during an emergency operation to recover a tube which had slipped into his lung.

Team Mates Play Air-tight Ball Except For Toss-up in Second Frame.

HEAVY HITTING.

"Lefty" Darling Suffers First Defeat in Six Starts—Corbett is Hitting Star.

Overcoming a seven-run lead gained early in the game the Brintons defeated Westclox 15-9 at Brinton Carpet Grounds last evening in a softball fixture.

The game was viewed by the largest crowd of the season at the Brinton Grounds, and proved an interesting fixture.

Elliott, a junior product, made his first start for the Brintons last night and outside of the second inning pitched superb ball. His teammates played air-tight ball behind him with the exception of the second frame when the Clockmakers scored six runs.

"Lefty" Darling suffered his first defeat in six starts. His pitching was not as good as usual and his fielding was very bad, six errors being chalked up against him.

Foley and Curry for the Westclox and H. Rose and C. Shaughnessy for the Brintons were the fielding stars.

Corbett was the hitting star of the game, collecting four hits in five trips to the plate, including three doubles and a single. Foley and Dorrington hit homers.

How It Happened.

Westclox opened the scoring in the second, getting six runs. Dorrington led off with a single. Fowler was safe on Sturgeon's error. Kitchen doubled to centre scoring Dorrington and Fowler. Foley fouled out to Haas. Darling struck out. Mongraw singled to right scoring Kitchen. Goodson singled to centre. White cut a double down the first base foul line scoring Mongraw and Goodson. Curry singled to right to score White. Dorrington was thrown out by Creighton.

The Clockmakers added another in the third. Fowler was safe on Creighton's error. Kitchen got a life when Dundas dropped his fly. Foley was thrown out by Elliott. Darling struck out. Mongraw scratched a hit to second. Fowler scoring. Goodson flied to Creighton.

Brintons got two in the third. After H. Rose and V. Rose had struck out. Creighton and Corbett singled and scored on Dundas' double.

They got two more in the fourth. Sturgeon singled to start, as did Haas. Sturgeon scored when Darling mussed up Elliott's roller. Hass came in a minute later on a wild pitch. The next three were easy.

Brintons got one more in the fifth. Corbett led off with a double and was advanced to third on Dundas sacrifice. He scored when Darling mussed up Sturgeon's drive.

Four more were registered in the sixth. H. Rose and V. Rose led off with singles. Creighton also singled scoring H. Rose. Corbett doubled to centre to score V. Rose and Creighton. Dundas sacrificed Corbett home with a long fly to right.

The Brintons collected another quartette in the seventh. Sturgeon first up, was thrown out by Mongraw. Haas was safe on Dorrington's error. Elliott was thrown out by Darling. H. Rose was safe on Darling's error. V. Rose walked, filling the bases. Creighton singled to short, scoring Hass. Corbett cleaned the bases with a mighty wallop to deep centre. Dundas was tossed out by Mongraw.

The Clockmakers got one in the eighth when Foley hit a home run.

Brintons got their last two of the game in the eighth on hits by Elliott, H. Rose and Sturgeon.

The Clockmakers got another in the ninth on Dorrington's homer.

PACKERS LOSE HARD FOUGHT SOCCER CUP TIE

Excellent Display of the Scientific Code—Packers Were Goal Ahead at Interval.

CURTIS SAVED PENALTY.

Eric Jones' Two Clever Goals Gained Verdict For Brinton.

Ideal weather prevailed last evening for the soccer semi-final of the White Challenge Cup, between the Brinton Athletic and Canadian Packing on King Edward Park, before a large attendance of spectators. The Carpet Boys eliminating the Packers by three goals to two in one of the most sportsmanlike games seen this season, which was handled in an able manner by the official referee.

Bayliss gave away a penalty when he fisted the ball out as it was going for the goal. The custodian saved, otherwise it would have been a drawn game, which would have been a fitting climax to the hard-fought tussle.

First Half

Both teams played as advertised, Brinton, losing the toss, kicked off against the sun. The first note of interest came when Foster carried the attack into the vicinity of the Brinton goal where Newt Downer hit the outside of the net with a nice effort. Westwood relieved the pressure, thereafter, to place the ball in between the full backs, who were caught napping when James accepted the opportunity and from twenty yards' range beat the Packer goalkeeper with a lightning grounder. Taken unaware in this setback, the Packers took up the attack in real earnest to keep the Brinton halves on the jump to holding them outside the shooting zone. Twice in succession the C.P.C. worked inside the defense to fail at the critical point with weak attempts. Flag kicks aplenty came their way but eventually they concentrated on them to get some result later. A battle for supremacy on each attack which finally fell to Downer on the right wing, who judged the distance to permit Preston to have a point-blank shot at goal that bulged the net at the back, to even up the count. They were very unsuccessful in not gaining the lead when the front rank hammered away at the opposing citadel with all kinds of shots; in fact, Curtis brought off a brilliant save when he tipped the ball over the bar from Buchan's shot. The corner-kick brought them the lead again when Downer placed the sphere in the net from the resultant kick. While this was enacted at the other end, hard luck dogged Hanson as he dropped the ball on the top of the upright with the custodian beat to the limit and the pressure added later failed to concede anything worth while. Quick as a flash, the Packers' left wing men were peppering shots at the Brinton custodian, Curtis, who had to receive the trainer's attention but resumed playing. The next visit by the losers threw a fright into Brinton camp as the ball landed in below the bar, Curtis fisting out clear of his charge. A last minutes rush before the interval found the Brinton having the better of the argument as they tried to get the equalizer, but the defense nullified their objective at every attempt.

Second Half

Exchanges continued even on resuming and raid after raid terminated abruptly as the halves closed in on the attacks formulated in mid-field. Kick-and-rush tactics held sway for a little while; then the Brinton men settled down first to force the issue. The Packers replied with hard tackling that gained infringements aplenty. At last, James sent his partner along the wing with the ball at his pleasure. He met a two-man block to get them bewildered as he travelled into the corner of the field. Being satisfied that they were out of danger, h tapped the ball across to James who found the check hard and slipping the ball through the opposing man's legs, Jones sent a first-timer into the net amidst great rejoicing. From the centre-kick, the Packers outplayed the Brinton rearguard with clever dribbling, to overdo it, thereby losing a golden chance. Buchan punted the clearance back in again to find the corner of the upright. Everything looked a goal, but to their astonishment, Bayliss punted the ball clear before it had gone over the line. Downer was trusted with the spot kick who failed to register as the custodian stopped the rocket drive. A scrimmage ensued until Anderson carried the attack to the other end. With the count standing at a two-all, the players introduced many tricks of the code to gain their objective which found an over-anxious half line giving no room to move very far while in possession of the ball. With only ten minutes to go, the Brinton opened up a barrage of shots on Griffin's charge, who handled them with ease. Swinging the sphere from wing to wing by the Brinton forwards had the halves of the Packers in a mess during the onslaught. Always a thorn in the C.P.C. defence, Boon deceived them with his trapping, feint moving of his position to finish with a cross that Eric Jones made sure was going to the mark. He connected while on the run; the custodian running out to gather up the ball. To his great surprise, the Brinton man had the ball in the inside of the goal before Wade tried to prevent the count. The Packers had to accept the decision as it now stood. Brinton Athletic 3, C.P.C. 2.

NEW TOM THUMB GOLF COURSE

Canadian Company to Build Course at Corner of McDonnel and Reid Streets.

BEAUTIFY CORNER.

Peterborough is to have Tom Thumb Golf. According to an announcement by the Tom Thumb Golf of Canada, one of the minature courses will be installed on the old Dumble property at the northeast corner of McDonnel and Reid streets.

Next Monday or Tuesday construction will commence on the site which extends 114 feet on McDonnel street and 112 feet on Reid street. Thirty to forty men, secured locally, will be used in order that the job may be completed in about seven days. The cost is set at $4,000.

An endeavor will be made to turn the site into one of the beauty spots of the city with neatly kept flower beds, attractively trimmed trees and harmonious appointments such as rustic furniture and a suitable little club house, a representative of the Tom Thumb firm told The Examiner. Materials will be bought locally as far as possible and, when the course is opened the following week, four or five steady employees secured in this city will be taken on.

The course will be 18 holes with tees, greens, hazards and other provisions afforded by the full-sized golf course in miniature. A new type of patented green is used, the base of which is cotton seed hulls. It is specially mixed and preparted, so that it feels like grass, looks like grass and affords the same putting action as on grass.

Par for the eighteen holes will be between forty and forty-five, the exact figure to be determined by experts when the course has been completed and is in operation.

STRIBLING CLIMBS TO HIGH POSITION IN BOXING RANKS

Tom Donohue Considers Stribling As Challenger

NEW LONDON, Conn., July 30. —William L. (Young) Stribling of Macon, Ga., conqueror of Phil Scott, British heavyweight, by a two-round knockout on Monday night, had more than earned the right to challenge Max Schmeling of Germany for the world championship, believes Thomas E. Donohue, Connecticut boxing commissioner and chairman of the National Boxing Association. By disposing of Scott in clean cut fashion after the muddled bout between the Briton and Jack Sharkey in Miami, Fla., Stribling has done much to clear the air, Donohue declared.

Speedy Kayoes Against Von Porat and Scott Make Him Contender.

MEET CAMPOLO FIRST.

NEW YORK, July 30. — For the first time since he took his thumb out of his mouth and pulled on his first boxing glove, Young Stribling has won the unanimous backing of American fight fans. The Georgia boys quick knockout of Phil Scott before some 30,000 disillusioned British spectators was the master-stroke of a topsy-turvy boxing career, begun in a circus side-show at the age of 6, a career which carried Stribling close to the fistic heights, but found him, while often a challenger, never a champion.

Right now, following his one-round knockout of Otto von Porat and his two-round conquest of Scott, Young Stribling is entitled to recognition as the American heavyweight champion. His chance of attaining the world championship depends upon what manoeuvring is necessary to get Max Schmeling back to the ring.

Most fight fans, rating Schmeling off his showing against Jack Sharkey and considering Stribling's vast improvement both in manner and morale, would favor the southern boy to beat the German if they met.

By knocking out Scott last night, Stribling did more than to boost himself into the position of foremost contender for the heavyweight title. He disposed effectively, and one can only hope for all time, of the menace of "fainting Phil." After the Miami fiasco the British firmly believed that Scott had been foulled and grieviously wronged in his February fight with Sharkey. They insisted that Phillip was not only champion of Great Britain, but of the world. They believed Scott when he protested that he was game but sensitive, with a loose nerve in his thigh.

British Desert Scott.

Stribling knocked Scott down with cleanly delivered body blows and made him take the final count, in the second round, resting on one knee, too weak even to utter his familiar bleat of "foul." The British now know that Scott never was a champion, and the boxing critics, who were his staunchest supporters following the Sharkey affair, have turned against him and are urging his retirement.

The next thing on the cards is a bout between Stribling and Vittorio Campolo, the tall Argentine heavyweight, who has been holding down a chair in one corner of Madison Square Garden with no one to fight. The Garden owns Campolo's contract and so is in the position of acting as Vittorio's manager. Frank Bruen, who arranges such matters for the corporation, has offered Stribling a match with Campolo in September, and the paper probably will be signed upon the Georgian's arrival early next week.

Then Stribling can have another whack at Sharkey, if he gets past the Campolo party, and eventually, if Maxie ever gets up the courage to bring back his tin tiara, a bout with Schmeling for the heavyweight championship of the world.

MUNRO AT HELM OF THE MAROONS

Five Goalkeepers to Try Out With Montreal National League Team This Year.

STRACHAN REMAINS.

MONTREAL, Que., July 30. — Dune Munro, who last year was playing manager of the Montreal Maroons in the National Hockey League, will again be at the helm next winter, but not as a player. At a meeting of the club it was decided that Munro will be manager and coach as well, taking over the duties of Dr. Jerry Laflamme who last year was coach under Munro's direction.

James Strachan, president of the club, who had intended to resign, was persuaded to retain his position and continue to represent the club as director of the National Hockey League.

Munro will assemble twenty-four men early in October. There will be eight trying out for defensive berths and no less than five prospective goalkeepers, including Clint Benedict, "Flat" Walsh, Norman Smith and Claude Harris, a Toronto amateur. It is believed that Dave Kerr, captain of the M.A.A.A. team, this year's holders of the Allan Cup, will also try out for the goalkeeping position.

The team will need two eperienced defencemen to replace "Red" Dutton, sold to the New York Americans, and Munro. George Boucher has reported that he has entirely recovered from the broken leg suffered in the last game against Boston this spring.

OSHAWA HERE ON SATURDAY

Tangle With Raybestos in First Game of Lakeshore League Play-offs.

COGS MUST WIN TO-NIGHT.

Ball fans locally are getting warmed up as the teams in the two intermediate leagues swing into the final seretch in their series and the championships hang in the balance.

Raybestos will enter the final stretch for the Lakeshore League flag here on Saturday afternoon, when the Oshawa Arabs come to Exhibition Park for the first game in the play-off. The Rays finished second in the league while the Arabs occupied top place. They now meet in the final to win the honor of the representing the Lakeshore circuit in the O.F.A.A. playdowns.

Worthy Outfits.

Both outfits are worthy and the series should furnish plenty of fast ball. Andy Cohen, pilot of the Arabs, has succeeded in adding many of the stars of Oshawas Central League team of last year to his roster. Duke Dainty has returned to the mound on several occasions to prove that h's good left arm has lost none of its cunning, though it has s'owed up somewhat. The Arabs have a team strong at every post and they have earned a reputation as sluggers.

Opposed to them the Rays have a club that won the Lakeshore League last season and that is every bit as strong this season. They are well fortified with pitchers, having Heckman, Maudsley, Kitchen and Holmes. All are fit and ready for the championship struggle. The Rays have been increasing their hours of practise during the past two weeks to prepare for the final test and are now in the pink.

Certainly the Rays will be out on Saturday to get the jump on the Oshawa crew by taking the first game. The umps will call "play ball" at 3.15.

Cogs Must Win To-night.

In the E.P.L. Cogs and Canadian Generals play at Exhibition Park this evening, when the Cogs must win to maintain their slim chance of breaking past the Crescents into second place.

Another Crescents-Cogs engagement is scheduled for Friday evening. The championship series will be under way in Charlie Curtis' circuit next week with the Electrics meeting either Crescents or Cogs for the silverware. Crescents are favored as the team to meet the C.G.E., but, as stated, the Cogs still have a mathematical chance of slipping in.

The final championship struggle promises much for the fans, and it can easily be expected that the stands at Exhibition Park will be tested to capacity. It is now definitely known that the winners of the Lakeshore and East Peterborough loops will clash in the first round of the O.B.A.A. Intermediate playdowns. That will be a series!

CANADA HAS GREAT OPPORTUNITY TO GAIN MARATHON SWIM TITLE

Many of World's Greatest Swimmers Naturalized Canadians.

OUT TO SET RECORD.

(Copyright, 1930)

TORONTO, July 30. — (Special to The Examiner).—Cinderella the men have always pervaded world title swims. Unknowns, often in bunches, invariably come out after one of the grind classics to bask in unexpected limelight.

With two marathons scheduled for August 22 and 27 respectively at this year's Canadian National Exhibition, more sudden stars are certainty. But, since the current pair of distance crawls are the fourth of the series, there is now quite a collection of those who have splashed into the front pages. Peculiarly enough, few of them have succeeded in bettering their status on the second attempt. But 1930 is the year when they promise to do it.

Four of the most noted marathoners in this group are Canadians, by birth or personal preference. The former Ruth Tower, of Denver, now Mrs. George Corsan, of Toronto, is one who has succeeded in improving her status among the aces since that hectic day in 1928 when she was only yards away from a world title. Invariably, she is among the money-winners at the finish, and training since spring, should repeat again this season. Olive Gatterdam, former Seattle school girl, but now a manneuin in Toronto, was even closer to the extreme top. Whether Ethel Hertle, the Bronx flash and 1928 champion, would succeed in holding her slim lead over the Pacific coast beauty was in doubt to the final minutes. Last year the graceful Gatterdam slipped back several positions and in view of that, has this year doubled her training efforts.

Garnet Cochrane, country school teacher from Wainfleet, Ontario, drove most of the night before the 1927 swim, carrying his accompanying rowboat on a small truck. He arrived at the lake front at dawn and sat waiting at the starting line for the gun hours later. Unaware that he had landed in the large money, he went back home disconsolately to be roused in the middle of the next night by excited relatives who shouted that there was a $2,500 check waiting for him in Toronto.

Since then he hasn't returned to the spotlight or even made a real bid for more fame and certified checks. But he is back again this year.

Two of the 1929 celebrities, both youngsters, Marvin Nelson, of Fort Dodge, Iowa, and Isador Spendor, of Port Colborne, Ontario, are determined to break the jinx which seems to prevent the erstwhile unknows of the previous year coming through for a world championship the next time out.

Spendor stuck to the heels of the black shark, Vierkoetter, now a naturalized Canadian, for several hours, and though he slipped far back of him in the final stages, stayed in longer. Young Nelson practically swam himself unconscious and was hauled out by lifesavers after he had sunk twice.

Then there is the Wall street messenger boy, Louis Mathias, sturdy and bronzed lad hailing originally from British Guiana, who spent his last dime on a slim breakfast just before the start of the 1928 race. Hauled out of the water and taken to the temporary hospital after a gruelling struggle, he warned the nurse who offered him food that, much as he appreciated the chance to eat, he couldn't pay cash for the sandwich. Instead of walking back to Gotham, he set sail in a new suit and a broad grin for his original to tell the citizens that a smart boy seemed to have a better chance in Canada than even in the fabled money marts of United States where he earned $14 a week. Mathias is expected back.

This season the affair, like the entire exposition, is all-Canadian. The first race is 10 miles for mermaids only, to be staged on the opening day, Friday. The 15-mile open battle comes the following Wednesday. Prizes total $25,000, all contributed by the Exhibition.

Under the circumstances, it would be very fitting for a Canadian to lead the stars of all nations to the finishing line. There are more Canadians this year than ever before—Vierkoetter, the former Cologne star, is very proud of his new nationality, which also extends to his whole family, and is apt to go to the post carrying his citizenship papers. Since the romance which stirred international sport circles and resulted in Joe Wright, Jr., Diamond Sculls winner, wedding the ex-Olympic ace and present women's world champion, Martha Norelius, the Dominion has another strong contender—if she decides to re-enter competition. This is not definite nor decided.

Out of a whole platoon of native human seals, coming from points as scattered as North Battleford and the Maritimes, several should certainly land in the money and the possibility of keeping the titles at home is better than ever before.

DETROIT'S GANG KILLERS ARE DISQUIETING THREAT ON BORDER

Newspaper and Police Head Emphasize Danger in Proximity to Organized Crime.

HITS ADMINISTRATION.

(Copyright, 1930)

DETROIT, July 30. — (Special to The Examiner).—The editorial statement of the Detroit News that "The eyes of the world are upon Detroit" is scarcely likely, at least, to be disputed in Canada. The dastardly murder of Gerald Buckley, the popular radio operator, by three gunmen in the lobby of the La Salle Hotel was only the climax to a two weeks' orgy of murder.

And still the list mounts. In gang feuds, twelve gunmen have been shot down in seventeen days. Yesterday and the day before, four other murders, two of them crimes of passion, seem only to have deepened the feeling of despair that exists in the minds of a large section of the thinking public that society in the large United States cities must either revise its criminal procedure or break down into an anarchy of law unenforcement.

The editorial in the News might be paraphrased even to read: "The eyes of Canada are upon Detroit," just as they were upon Chicago only a few weeks ago when the Tribune reporter, Lingle, like Buckley here, was riddled by bullets of professional killers fired into the back of his head.

Fairly Bristles With Killers.

At the very commencement of a study of the epidemic of crime in Detroit and Chicago as it affects Canada there seems scarcely any need to do more than to emphasize the fact that the man who breaks into a house or a bank one month in Detroit may break into a house or bank in Toronto, Hamilton or Montreal the next. And, in the same way, a man who kills with a fusillade of bullets here one week may do the same things in a Canadian city the next.

If the statement that Police Commissioner T. C. Wilcox made during the course of an interview to-day is reliable, the acceptance of the truism is not difficult. "Windsor and the Canadian side of the river," he said, "fairly bristles with Detroit killers and gunmen."

"There are all kinds of them sitting right over on the other side of the river to-day," were some of the startling words he used.

"And they are just laughing at us," he continued, following the indirect suggestions made by the interviewer that Canada is fortunately not as Detroit is.

The look of surprise that he noticed after this statement brought forth the further explanation that, "All such a man has to do to stay on the Canadian side is to go across the river, make the announcement to the proper authorities that he wants to become a Canadian citizen and take out his first papers."

Seek Refuge in Canada.

"After that," said the police commissioner, who shares in a great measure the unpopularity of the whole Mayor Bowles administration, "we find we can make little headway in getting them back here to justice.

"Perhaps not to such an extent with outstanding killers," the commissioner partially agreed, "but everybody here has seen it done with the big whiskey runners who, after their indictment here, fled for refuge to the Canadian side."

It needs no over-emphasis to picture successful professional killers of Detroit and Chicago as a disquieting threat to Canadian cities. In this way it is perfectly true to say that the Canadian as well as "the American people are particularly solicitous about Detroit's welfare," they are also interested in it from the other angle that the problem of administering the affairs of big cities is perhaps the foremost topic of interest to-day when even in Canadian cities machine politics increasingly present an alarming facsimile to the resultant paralysis of corruption over here.

A BEDTIME STORY

by Howard R. Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY'S EARLY SNAIL.

"Come on! Hurry up!" called the Bob Cat one day as he slunk into the den of the Fox, whose tail was as large as a dusting brush.

"What's the rush?" asked the Fox, trying not to feel proud of his fine tail as he looked at the silly little thing, no larger than your thumb, which the Bob Cat called his tail. "What's your hurry?"

"Uncle Wiggily is coming along the path through the woods," mewed the Bob Cat. "I just saw him leave his hollow stump bungalow. If we skip down to the end of the path, where the wood are very dark, we can catch him as he comes along. Come on! Step on it!"

"Step on what?" asked the Fox. "I don't see anything to step on, especially not your tail, for it isn't long enough to step on."

"Never mind making fun of my tail!" snarled the Bob Cat. "If you want a rabbit potpie come along with me to the end of the path in the dark part of the woods and we'll wait for him to get there. It will be easy for us to jump on him then, for it's no black he'll never see us. Are you coming?"

"Hello, little snail boy!" called the rabbit gentleman.

"Sure I'm coming!" barked the Fox. Then the two Bad Chaps slunk along beneath the trees, hurrying to reach the dark end of the long path through the woods to wait there for the rabbit gentleman to come.

As for Uncle Wiggily, he really had left his bungalow as the Bob Cat had seen, and the bunny gentleman was hopping along the path. If he hopped far enough and long enough he would reach the end where the Bob Cat and Fox were waiting.

"It's a lovely day," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, twinkling his pink nose to keep in practise. "I wonder if I shall have any adventures? I hope so." Ah, if he could have looked to the end of the path he would not have asked that question.

All of a sudden Uncle Wiggily saw something moving beside the path. At first he thought it was a leaf blown by the wind, but a second look showed him that it was a little snail boy, moving slowly along with his house on his back. A snail is like a big, fat worm, except that he lives in a round shell which he carries around with him on his back. Whenever a snail wants to go to bed, he just stops crawling and curls up inside the shell on his back so no one can bother him.

"Hello, little snail boy!" called the rabbit gentleman. "Where are you going this morning?"

"I am going to school," slowly answered the snail. He spoke as lazily as he crawled. "Yes, Uncle Wiggily, I am going to school."

"To school!" cried the rabbit gentleman. "You must be joking. There is no regular school now. This is the summer vacation. You must have made a mistake."

"No, I haven't made a mistake," spoke the snail boy as Uncle Wiggily walked slowly besidde him. The rabbit, who always hopped fast, had to take one step ahead and then two steps back for fear of leaving his lazy little friend behind. "I am going to school," went on the snail. "You see we snails always have to go slowly on account of only having one paw, or foot, which grows out of the middle of our stomach.

"I know there is no regular school now," whispered the snail boy. "But classes will start again in September and I don't want to be late or the Lady Mouse Teacher might not like it."

"Oh, but my dear boy!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "Here it is only the end of July and you are starting for school which will not open in more than a month. Why is that?"

"Because I have to crawl so slowly that it will take me until September to get to the follow Stump School," went on the snail. "My father said I had better start this early so I wouldn't be late, and that's why I'm going to school now."

"Dear me! How very funny!" chuckled the rabbit. "You will be more than a month crasling along to school! But I suppose your father knows best. No wonder, though, that you are starting now," said Mr. Longears as he hopped slower and slower so as not to get ahead of the snail. "Why, you hardly go an inch a minute."

"Yes," I said the snail, "I am very slow, but I am sure."

Uncle Wiggily liked the little snail boy so much that he walked slower and slower to keep beside him and talk. The result was that instead of soon getting to the end of the woodland path, the rabbit, after three hours, was hardly three of his regular hops from his bungalow. And the Fox, impatiently waiting with the Bob Cat in the dark woods, said:

"I thought you told me Uncle Wiggily was coming!"

"I thought he was," mewed the other Bad Chap. "Something must have happened to him. But wait! He'll come."

Another hour passed, but Uncle Wiggily, walking beside the slow snail, was hardly more than four hops from his bungalow. And then the Fox said: "He isn't coming! I'm going back to my den!"

"Fooled again!" mewed the Bob Cat as he slunk away with the Fox.

So, because he walked slowly with the early snail, Mr. Longears wasn't caught by the Bad Chaps who grew tired of waiting for him.

WARSAW UNITED CHURCH

WARSAW, July 30 (Examiner Correspondence).—The Rev. Mr. Wilkinson held his first Communion service in Warsaw United Church on Sunday evening, choosing as his text "Jesus said unto them, I am the Bread of Life.' Among his points were that Jesus had been explaining his work to the people and that he knew his disciples. It was hard for even the disciples to understand. Bread is that which give nourishment to the body; it is rightly called the staff of life.

He described gleaners going into fields which had been raked three times and picking up the grains which were joyfully carried home, where they were ground into bread. That bread was sweet, it had been obtained with difficulty. Without it, life would cease. It was the most precious earthly possession.

"Jesus announced that He was the bread of life. Christian life depends on Christ. We must feed upon Him. We must be hungry, feel the need of this bread, feed upon it and receive spiritual nourishment."

Elders assisted for the first time at the services for the distribution of the Elements.

Miss Cora Drain and Bryn Thomas sang the verses of "He is Able. He is Willing," with the choir joining in the chorus.

QUEBEC LIBERALS WISH PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS NOW

Would Not Have Tories Consolidate Position by Delay.

TASCHEREAU OPPOSED.

Premier Claims Members Would Rush Into Fight on Behalf of Mayor Houde.

MONTREAL, July 30. (C.P.) — The Montreal Gazette to-day says that although the smoke of battle has not yet risen from the fields in which Liberal hopes of retaining their large majority in this province in the Dominion field were dashed, the political mind in Montreal is turning to thoughts of Provincial general elections.

"That there is a strong faction in the Provincial Liberal ranks which wishes to have elections, is quite clear, but on the other hand, it is a well known fact that Premier Taschereau is not friendly to that view," the Gazette says, "and the Premier, all things considered, has the last word."

Wish no Delay.

"Those who want elections figure that it is better to rush them on at once rather than wait for a year when the Conservatives will have consolidated their position in the province, and be in a much better position from a technical point of view to fight than at present," the article continues. "In further support of this contention this section of the Liberal party believes that there will be lack of unanimity in the Conservative ranks on behalf of Mayor Camillien Houde, Provincial Conservative leader, because he did not see fit to get into the fight and try to get two or three constituencies on the Island of Montreal.

Taschereau Opposed.

"Against this aspect of the situation, however, there is the view said to be favored by Premier Taschereau, namely, that should Provincial elections be suddenly called, the Conservative Federal members elect, flushed with victory, will dash into the fight on behalf of Mayor Houde, ignoring the alleged tactical error charged against Mr. Houde, and thinking only of the general interests of that party in Quebec and the need of supporting the party through a Conservative government in Quebec."

The present Legislature can legally continue in office for another two years, having been elected in the fall of 1927 for a five year term, though the usual custom has been to have an election each four years.

Thrown out of employment by the popularity of the automobile, coach and wagon builders of South Africa are now becoming automobile-body builders.

NEW PAVEMENT IMPROVEMENT TO GEORGE STREET

Removal of Car Tracks Gives Streets Appearance of Greater Width.

FIRST PAVED IN 1913.

Many Changes of Fortune in 34 Years' Service of Railway.

With paving operations recently completed the Warren Bituminous Paving Company, George street Peterborough's main thoroughfare with the business sections of Charlotte, Hunter and Simcoe streets, possibly presents a more up-to-date appearance than will be found in any other city of the same size.

The removal of the street car tracks which had been obsolete since the summer of 1927 and which were first laid down in the year 1893, has given the streets a decidedly improved appearance and also the illusion of greater width.

George street was first paved in the year 1913, the contract having been let to Foley and Gleson on August 29th in that year. Previously the street possessed an ordinary stone and gravel surface.

Commencing operations in 1893 as the Peterborough and Ashburnham Street Railway Company, the city's street car services saw many changes of fortune in it's thirty-four years' existence.

Crisis in 1927

After a few years of it's initial running the services were suspended for a short time, before being resumed under the management of the Peterborough Radial Railway Company in 1904 and later when the H. E. P. C. took over the Peterborough Light and Power Company, they took over the street railway, as a going concern. The real crises arose in 1927, when the offer of the H.E.P.C. to turn over the street railway services to the city, was refused.

The steady growth of automobile traffic, reflecting the change which was rapidly taking place in the transportation world, was probably one of the deciding factors, in the decision reached by the City Council regarding the fate of the street cars—and now the few remaining stretches of track, a few old street car bodies which are being utilised as greenhouses and toolsheds in various parts of the city along with the old car barns on King street, is all that remains to recall the days, when the cars used to shuttle back and forth on the city's main streets.

Lines of parked automobiles, bearing licenses denoting their journeys from all parts of the continent are now the order of the day and certain indications of the revolution which has so rapidly taken place, rendering street cars, in this district at any rate, things of the past and almost causing the appearance of the once familiar horse and buggy on the city streets, to be regarded with a certain amount of curiosity and surprise.

Fine Store Fronts

With exceptionally fine store fronts handsomely dressed windows and well-lighted streets the business section of this city is decidedly attractive, both day and night.

Taking into consideration these facts, the vitality of all branches of trade, the close proximity to the beautiful Kawartha Lakes—which makes this city an ideal one for permanent residence—and the golden opportunities offered to manufacturing interests, readers will agree that these combined advantages are seldom found to exist anywhere outside of Peterborough.

The many hundreds of tourists who pass through here each summer are invariably agreeably surprised by the nature of our stores and the pleasing spectacle which George street presents to the newcomer, particularly so since the resurfacing has been completed. No less are they pleased with the civility and consideration which they receive at the hands of the store employees.

DUMBELL PLAYER DIES IN MICHIGAN

Ross Hamilton, Noted Female Impersonator, Succumbs in Kalamazoo.

WITH CANADIANS OVERSEAS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 30 (C.P.).—The death is reported from Kalamazoo, Mich., of Ross Hamilton, well-known as a female impersonator with the "Dumbells" Theatrical Company. No details of his death are available at the offices of the Trans-Canada Booking Company, where the news was received.

Mr. Hamilton, who was born in Amherst, N.S., served as a stretcher-bearer during the war. Previous to this he had no stage experience, but when concert parties were organized among the Canadian troops in France he created his famous role of "Marjorie."

After the war the troupe of soldier actors with whom he had played at concerts in France were organized as the "Dumbells." They enjoyed a successful season in London and then toured Canada. Ross Hamilton was one of the stars of the company later when they invaded New York City for a successful three months' stand at the Ambassador Theatre.

SPOTLIGHT CENTRES ONCE MORE ON FAMOUS HALIFAX SPEAKEASY

Kemal Phann, "Secret Service Agent," Spies on Many Houses.

DO A BIG BUSINESS

(Special to the Examiner Copyright 1930)

HALIFAX, N.S., July 30—Internationally heralded in one of the largest American magazines, 113 Market street, famous liquor strong-hold of Halifax, has once again sprung into the lime-light following the activities of one Kemal Khann, a little Ghurka, who dropped into local bootlegging circles out of a clear sky and furnished evidence against some thirty of the fraternity before they realized what it was all about.

Kemal Khann in his evidence has said that he is a "secret service agent." He claims to have been in the Imperial Army and to have a war record. He has certainly a record of sorts with the local bootleggers. His method has been to go into some speakeasy, buy drinks for the crowd—including himself—and to walk off with a bottle which is turned over to the Customs Officers of Temperance Act sleuths.

The bootleggers do not like it.

Khann's evidence throws some interesting side-lights on the profession. In a recent case he told the court that between May 17 and June 3, he went to "113" about 90 times. While there he spent $24 per day. He explained that the liquor was not all for himself. He treated the crowd.

A preventive officer who works with Khann testified that one of the proprietors of "113" had told him that the daily cash receipts were never less than $700 a day.

The business hours were 7 a.m. to midnight.

Mistress (calling to the maid): Annie, how about breakfast this morning?

Annie (who had overslept): You needn't bother to bring me any. I ain't hungry this morning.

—Ohio State Sun Dial.

There are none so blind as they who will not see a reliable bootlegger.

TARZAN OF THE APES No. 23 (Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.) By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Early the next morning the apes were astir, moving through the jungle in search of food. Tarzan, as was his custom, prosecuted his search in the direction of the cabin. Kala, busily engaged, had moved slowly east, when the faintest shadow of a strange noise brought her to startled attention.

Down the leafy trail she saw the stealthily advancing figure of a strange and fearsome creature. It was Kulonga. Kala moved rapidly back along the trail, seeking rather to avoid than to escape. Close after her came Kulonga. Here was meat! He could kill and feast well! His spear poised for the throw.

The spear sped toward Kala. It but grazed her side! With a cry of rage and pain, the she-ape turned and charged. Instantly the trees crashed beneath her hurrying fellows—swinging rapidly to Kala's scream. Kulonga fitted a poisoned arrow, and drove it straight into the heart of the great anthropoid.

With a horrible scream, Kala plunged forward upon her face before the astonished members of her tribe. Roaring and shrieking, the apes dashed towards Kulonga, who fled down the trail. None had ever seen a man before other than Tarzan so they wondered what strange creature had invaded their jungle.

Tarzan heard. He knew something was amiss. He found the entire tribe gathered jabbering about the dead body of his foster-mother. His grief and anger were unbounded. He roared out his hideous challenge, beat his breast, and then fell upon the body of Kala, sobbing out his lonely heart.

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up by an Examiner Reporter

INVESTIGATING

City Police are investigating the theft of a car from Water and King streets yesterday, belonging to a local resident and which was found wrecked and abandoned in the ditch a few hundred feet this side of Phalen's Corner on the Lakefield road last evening.

TOUCHING UP

With a view to making their location more prominent, fire hydrants throughout the city, are being given a coat of yellow and black paint by employees of the Public Utilities Commission.

It is pointed out by Fire Chief Gimblett, that the former red paint did not stand up to the weather very satisfactorily, and after a few months became very drab and dirty looking, making it difficult for motorists seeking parking places to observe the location of hydrants.

BARN BURNS

Fire caused the total destruction of a barn on a small holding tenanted by George Fraser, River road, near the Golf Links, early this morning. A call for assistance was sent to the Peterborough Fire Department shortly after 2 a.m., but no response was made owing to the fact that the property is situated in Douro township and outside the jurisdiction of the City Brigade.

It is understood that the damage is not very extensive, the structure being of small proportions and not used for the storage of grain or fodder.

HELP REQUIRED

A Toronto visitor to the Lift Locks yesterday, had occasion to call upon the services of the City Fire Brigade, when the ignition system on his automobile took fire. The outbreak was extinguished with a 3-gallon Foamite spray, before any further damage was caused.

CRUISING POPULAR

With four cruisers tied up at George street wharf to-day and yesterday, Peteborough's yachting activities are beginning to take on their old-time aspect. Three visitors on their way to Georgian Bay were among those present: namely, the "Ric-Hel-Jim," 45-foot cruiser of Fairport, Ohio; the "Carmina," 45-footer of Montreal, and the "Argo," 36 feet, of Toronto. In addition, the Chenhall cruiser, "Tumart," of this city, occupied the north end of the wharf while undergoing preparations for an extensive trip scheduled to begin Saturday.

OBITUARY

ROBERT WALLACE MARTIN

BETHANY, July 30. — (Examiner Correspondence)—The funeral of the late Robert Wallace Martin was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs Albert Byers, Cavan, on Sunday, July 27 to St. John's Cemetery with about three hundred people in attendance.

Mr. Martin was a member of the J. B. Hall Masonic Lodge at Millbrook who took charge of the funeral assisted by the Rev. Mr. Fierheller, of St. Paul's Church, Bethany, and the Rev. Mr. Whitham of Cavan United Church.

The beautiful solo, "Face to Face," was sung by Mrs. Kennedy.

A very large cortege followed in procession to the beautiful hillside cemetery at St. John's where another large body of people were assembled to pay their last respects to one who had worshipped with many of them previous to his removal about fifteen years ago to Detroit. Mr. Martin and his family of wife and son Donald attracted by their fellowship made many friends in their home city during their residence there, and was beautifully expressed by the many floral tokens sent from over the border.

Those attending from a distance were: Mr. W. B. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Odell, Mr. and Mrs. Terroll of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Mahood, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Hartley, of Peterborough, Mr. and Mrs. James Kerr and daughters, Bobcaygeon, Miss Eve Kerr, Lorneville, Mrs. Yelland, Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer, Omemee, Mr. Herb Fowler and Jack Nelson, of Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore, Port Hope, Mr. and Mrs. D. Morton, Omemee, Miss Irene Housten and Mr. Fred Byers, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Carr, Toronto.

FINAL TRIBUTE IS PAID BY CITIZENS TO J. R. EASTWOOD

Scores of Friends Attend Last Rites at Little Lake Cemetery.

SERVED OVERSEAS.

Noted Young Business Man Started Career in Peterborough.

John Russell Eastwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Eastwood of this city, was laid to rest in the Little Lake Cemetery, Saturday afternoon, following the funeral service which was held at the home of his parents on Belmont avenue. In the absence of Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe of Murray Street Baptist Church, of which church the late Mr. Eastwood was a member, the service was conducted by Rev. C. V. McLean of St. Andrew's United Church.

Forty employees of the Deer Park Garage, Toronto, of which the late Mr. Eastwood was managing partner, made the trip from Toronto to attend the last rites here of one whom they had valued not only as an employer but as a friend. Scores of men and women with whom the late Mr. Eastwood had labored during his twenty years in Toronto sent their expressions of the very real sense of personal loss which they felt at his passing, while many more of those with whom he had gone to school here in Peterborough and with whom he had worked as a boy and a youth were present to pay their final tribute.

From the expressions heard on every side it was impossible not to conclude that "Jack" Eastwood had been a man loved by all who came in contact with him, both socially and in business and that he had been a good man to have for a friend.

The late Mr. Eastwood was a member of the York Lodge of the Masonic Order, and the service was conducted along Masonic lines. The number of floral offerings which heaped the casket and grave has scarcely been excelled here.

With the family at the bier was Mr. Eastwood's widow, the former Miss Edith Radley, a MacLeod of Woodstock. While the late Mr. Eastwood was serving with the Mechanical Transport Service during the War, Miss Radley, then his fiancee, was serving as German translator with the British Intelligence Department. She had been in Germany at the outbreak of the War and had taken up her duties in London in order to be near her future husband. The marriage took place in May, 1919. During the years that have followed, Mrs. Eastwood has been her husband's constant companion and helpmate.

Born in Peterborough.

Born in Peterborough on July 9, 1890 the late Mr. Eastwood attended Public School and Collegiate Institute here. After working at the Peterborough Hardware Company for a short time, he entered the local branch of the Royal Bank of Canada of which his father was manager. Later he was transferred to the Head Office of the Bank in Toronto. His mechanical turn of mind, however, soon re-asserted itself, and he entered the service of Hyslop Brothers, well known Cadillac dealers. It was at this time that he first met his future wife, who was related to th Hyslops through her grandfather, Mr. MacLeod of Woodstock.

After his return from overseas, the late Mr. Eastwood went into partnership with Allan Muirhead in the Deer Park Garage, a business which the late Mr. Eastwood was largely responsible for building to its present preeminence.

With the untimely passing of "Jack" Eastwood Toronto loses one of the finest examples of its younger, progressive business men, one of its most esteemed and popular citizens, while Peterborough loses a son of which it has good reason to be proud.

FRASERVILLE.

The Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Swayne and daughter, Marjorie, are spending their holidays at Salmon Lake.

Messrs. Will McElroy and Percy Moncrief were business visitors to Toronto last week.

Mr. Earl Carl of North Bay has returned to his home here.

Mrs. H. Gainer of Bailieboro visited her daughter, Mrs. Percy Moncrief, recently.

There will be no church or Sunday school in Fraserville United church next Sunday.

Miss Roberta Holden was the guest of Miss Mildred Moncrief on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moore of Millbrook were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Lackey on Sunday.

Mr. Percy Moncrief, shipper for the U.F.O., shipped a car load of cattle from Bethany and one from Fraserville on Monday.

On Tuesday, August 5, Springville, will present their play, "The Arrival of Kitty" under the auspices of Fraserville United church in the seed room of Mr. John Douglas' elevator.

BRITISH PRESS FORESEES END

factured goods. Such is the Conservative argument, encouraged, no doubt by the violence of the press campaign in the same cause which this country is witnessing.

Essence of the Bond.

"If it had indeed prevailed we might well believe the Canadian electorate is bereft of both sense and sentiment, for it is of the essence of the bond, sentimental as well as sensible, that keeps the nations of the Empire together. That each shall work out the economic destiny that seems suited to its resources without threat or condition between one member and another. Laurier knew that well when in 1897 he granted, without haggling about a quid pro quo, the first measure of preference to Britain. King was as well aware of it when he sought to continue the tradition."

Shun Retaliation.

"Bennett will enter Parliament as the leader of one of the largest parties ever elected in Canada," the Liverpool Post commented. "It is an enviable and an impressive position for a statesman absolutely fresh to the duties and calls impose on the head of the Cabinet. At the same time it is a position which might conceivably induce Mr. Bennett to embark on fiscal adventures better shunned. We must at any rate hope he will not let himself be entangled in retaliatory measures against the United States. It would be surprising if he had not won votes up and down the country on the plausible notion that he would be readier than Mr King to hit back at the United States for her vexatious tariff."

Free Trade Death Blow.

The Yorkshire Post said it was quite clear that Canadians had taken the view their interests lie in a bargain-for-bargain policy in Empire trade. "It is to be hoped Mr. Bennett will bring this policy to the Imperial Conference, however inconvenient it may be for Mr. Snowden and his friends," it continued. 'We have little doubt the result of the election will be hailed by the Beaverbrook-Rothermere press as a victory for their cause, but in truth the cause of Empire free trade, if it means what it says, has received a death blow from Bennett's accession. It has had no encouragement from Australia, and now Mr. Bennett is frank enough. He is no Empire free trader. He is a thorough-going protectionist and a Canadian protectionist at that."

Dunning Preferences.

"Canada First" is the caption over the Conservative Morning Post's election comment. "Heavy as the disappointment will be in this country if the Dunning preferences are lost, we cannot dispute the justice of the argument," it commented. "No country can expect to enjoy preferences in other markets while giving nothing in return. Mr. Bennett will no doubt note that American comment shows the United States is less afraid of Canadian protection than of Imperial reciprocity. The result of the elections may come rather as a blow to Lord Beaverbrook, since it enforces the warning we have always given him that Empire free trade was unlikely to be acceptable to Canada. If, however, he stretches that term to include mutual preference, we think it likely he will find Mr. Bennett as favorable as Mr. King.

"While we regret the loss of Mr. King's offer, the change in Government gives this country, if she will only take it, the opportunity of placing the preferential system on a fairer and sounder and therefore more permanent basis."

Heading its editorial "Canada Decides," The Mail says the Canadian Conservative Party and its distinguished leader may be congratulated on the sweeping victory they secured. The Mail declares they secured at the same time a verdict for a rational policy of Empire free trade. "The election should do good here by waking up our dreamers and reminding them that in the modern world Cobdenism is a source of weakness and danger.

Preference Doomed.

"The present one-sided regime of preference whereby the Dominions grant our manufacturers concessions and we give them nothing in return cannot last, The Mail says. "It is doomed. There remain two alternatives—Empire free trade with rapid consolidation of the Empire and every prospect for expansion of British industry; or a fatuous adhesion to Cobdenite free trade which means certain ruin and disaster."

The Mail concludes with the statement that Canada and the other Dominions should be asked to send representatives to the London round-table conference on the future of India.

The London Times says: "The French-Canadian element regained a footing in the Conservative Party and a voice in the party councils, which will be entirely to the good in many ways."

NEW U. S. AIRSHIP 76 FEET LONGER THAN GIANT R-100

Akron Will Incorporate Half Dozen Revolutionary Features.

CRUISE 10,580 MILES.

Eight Motors With Propellors Outside Placed in Helium Filled Hull.

WASHINGTON, D.C., July 30. — (C.P.). — As the world's largest dirigible forced her way across the Atlantic to-day, workmen had passed the half-way mark in the construction of a United States airship larger even than the R-100.

Since aeronautical experts hold nearly every lighter than air ship is obsolete by the time it flies, development of the navy's ZRS-4 may make the R-100 an out-dated craft.

Besides being nearly one-third larger than the British dirigible, the American ship named the Akron will incorporate half a dozen revolutionary features designed to increase its effectiveness. Where the R-100 holds only 5,150,000 cubic feet of gas, the Akron will hold 6,500,000. The Akron will be 785 feet long, as contrasted with the R-100's 709-foot length.

Cruise 10,580 Miles Without Stop.

The R-100 has a cruising radius of about 6,000 miles, but the Akron will be able to fly 10,580 without refueling

In the Akron, for the first time, there will be an airplane hangar, housing five fast fighting planes for scouting or protective purposes.

Because inflammable hydrogen is the lifting gas in the R-100, the British dirigible's motors must be hung outside the hull of the ship. Eight motors, with shafts running to propellers outside, will be inside the hull of the helium-inflated Akron.

WEDDING BELLS

HUNTER—SANDERSON.

Muclon Farm, the home of the bride, was the scene of a very pretty wedding this afternoon, when Leila Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Sanderson and the late Alexander Sanderson, Chemong Road, became the bride of Donald Henry Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hunter of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed at two o'clock by the Rev. W. S. Edgar of Gilmour Memorial Church, and took place in the living-room, which was attractively decorated with gladioli, ferns and palms.

The bride came in on the arm of her brother, Harvey Sanderson, to the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. J. W. Watson, sister of the bridegroom.

She wore a lovely gown of white georgette, trimmed with Spanish lace, and made in princess style without sleeves and with long, flowing skirt draperies. A cape collar of georgette fell to the waistline in the back and the front was made with a pointed yoke of lace.

A veil of white tulle was caught with orange blossoms. Long white silk gloves were worn, with white kid slippers and white silk hose. The bride's only ornament was a crystal necklace. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and lily of the valley.

The bridesmaid, Miss Molly Wilson, was charmingly attired in a frock of mauve georgette, with matching picture hat of mauve mohair, white kid slippers, white silk hose and long gloves. Her bouquet was of Sunburst roses.

Kenneth McCannan acted as best man.

During the signing of the register, George Coleman, Junior, sang in splendid voice two solos, "When Other Lips and Other Hearts," from the "Bohemian Girls," and "Where e'er You Walk" (Handel). His accompaniments were played by his sister, Miss Phyllis Coleman.

After the ceremony, a dainty buffet luncheon was served to about forty guests on the front verandah, which was arranged with pink and white bells and streamers. The table was done with the bride's cake and vases of sweet peas and gypsophila.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left by motor for a trip down through the Eastern States and the Adirondack Mountains. On their return, they will spend the summer at Chemong Park and reside in Peterborough.

The bride travelled in an ensemble of Independence blue silk crepe, with eggshell blouse and hose, small stitched hat of blue silk and navy kid shoes. She carried a scarf of brown fox fur.

A large number of useful and beautiful gifts were received by the young people.

JOSEPH WEARING IS APPOINTED JUDGE

R-100 Lands in Montreal at 8 o'Clock

SLACKENS SPEED TO MAKE ARRIVAL IN COOL OF DAY

Evening Landing Will Save Valving Off Valuable Hydrogen.

PHOTOGRAPHERS WAITING.

Strict Guard Being Maintained at Landing Field.

St. Hubert Airport, Montreal, Quebec, July 31. (C.P.) — The R-100 slowly approached end of its flight from England, to-day its arrival delayed by choice or necessity, until shortly before dark to-night.

At noon to-day a relayed wireless from the ship itself announced that arrival would be at seven o'clock E.S.T.

Miss Afternoon Sun.

No reason was given for the delay, but it was not believed that it was caused by adverse weather or any enforced slowing up of the dirigible's six great engines. Rather it was believed that in all probablty the officers in command had decided that atmospheric conditions would be better close to dusk than in the heat of the afternoon sun.

Sun heat had the effect on hydrogen (which is the lifting gas of the R-100) of enormously increasing the buoyancy and it was believed the R-100 officers had decided on a delayed landing to avoid the necessity of valving off valuable gas, to effect a landing in the full heat of mid-afternoon.

St. Hubert is an excellent field, large, and with all modern facilities, but it is a strange field to most of the men on the R-100, and it was believed that these men preferred to take not the slightest chance merely for the purpose of making a slightly better time record.

The mooring mast is, according to officers at the field, the last word in modernity and efficiency, but it has never been used in an actual mooring operation.

Final preparations were completed hours before the dirigible was due or even expected by the most optimistic.

Reporters Lie in Wait

In an airplane hangar overlooking the field and the massive black and yellow mast, reporters from Canada and the United States rounded out stories of the R-100's approach and dozens of cameramen waited beside planes held ready for quick transport of pictures to newspapers all over the continent as soon as the dirigible should arrive.

There was an air of keen expectancy among all those civilians and officials, having anything to do with the arrival, but the general public seemed satisfied to stay at home, confident that they would see the great ship pass from their own windows, or read about its arrival in the papers.

Guard Maintained

The guard at the field was not relaxed however, for officials were convinced that as the arrival time approached thousands would be no longer able to restrain their natural curiosity and desire to see the ship close up and would jam the narrow road from Montreal and the excursion trains scheduled to leave the city at frequent intervals throughout the day.

Never before has any aircraft, whether heavier than air or lighter than air, flown up over the St. Lawrence in direct flight from Europe The R-100, which left Carrington, England, on Monday evening, was therefore making history. And the history-making flight has been in typically matter-of-fact naval fashion. Terse bulletins on the ship's position and the information that all was going well, were all the ship sent over her radio. Quietly and without fuss the world's largest airliner has followed the great circle course to the New World for over two days.

Rumored Dead, but Sister Says Not

HALIFAX, N.S., July 31 (C.P.) —Ross Hamilton, female impersonator of the old Dumbells theatrical troupe, who was reported to have died in Kalamazoo, Mich., yesterday, is aboard the steamer Evangeline, en route from New York to Yarmouth, according to a telegram received by his sister, wife of Rev. Henry McKay of Toronto, at Great Village, Colchester Co. this morning. The telegram was from William W. Scars, a mutual friend living in New York.

Giant English Dirigible R-100 Will Land at Montreal To-Night.

The giant British dirigible, easy off Ralph Booth, wife of Capt. Ralph from its moorings at Cardington, England at 9.45 (E.S.T.) Monday on its trans-atlantic flight to Montreal under the command of Squadron Leader R. S. Booth. Photographs here show: (1) Commander Sir Chas. Denniston Burney, designer of R-100. (2) Major Scott, commander of R-34, official observer on trip. (3) Mrs. Booth. (4) Commander R. S. Booth. (5) The dirigible R-100 as she appeared recently, made fast to its moorings mast at Cardington. Interesting facts about the R-100 are: Length, 709 feet; diameter, 133 feet; actual displacement, 156 tons; engine power, 4,200 horsepower; maximum speed, 80.5 miles an hour; cruising speed, 71.5 miles an hour; carrying capacity, 100 passengers and mail; cruising range, 3,500 miles at 71.5 miles an hour, with full load. It can carry sufficient fuel for a 5,000 mile flight. Six Rolls-Royce petrol engines, water-cooled. The R-100 is the so-called Atlantic type of airship, designed to make the London-to-New York trip regularly in 48 hours, and the return flight, aided by prevailing winds, in 36 hours.

CANAL OPENING TO BE DELAYED BY GOVT'S FALL

New Conservative Administration to Officiate at Historic Event.

WELLAND STARTED 1910.

Celebration of Hudson Bay Railway Completion Set For 1931.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 31.—(C.P.)—The tide of party success ebbs and flows but the great national undertakings of this Dominion go on. Several governments have come and gone since the work was first started on the Welland ship canal.

It was to have been officially opened on July 1 with a Liberal ministry directing. This formal ceremony had to be put off and now a Conservative government will be in office for this historic event. It is not expected the date for the opening will be fixed for some time.

In the case of the Hudson Bay Railway, the driving of the last spike was planned for last fall but these plans were changed. It was decided that the celebration would take place at the opening of the ocean route rather than at the completion of the railway so it will likely be next year. Therefore the new government will officiate at the completion of these works started many governments ago.

Greatest Undertaking is Seaway.

The Probability is that the new Ministry's greatest undertaking will be the St. Lawrence river deep waterways. This prospect makes th portfolio of Minister of Railways and Canals one of the most important in the Government, even more because of the canals than the railways. That is why many people in this city are expecting Premier Howard Ferguson to be the one selected to fill that position.

It is interesting to trace the lines of Governments alongside such works as the Welland canal or the Hudson Bay railway. The first contracts for the railway were let by Rt. Hon. George P. Graham as Minister of Railways and Canals in the Laurier Government in 1910. This was for one section Then the Government of Sir Robert Borden came into office and the contracts for two other sections were let by the Conservatives. Nelson was then the objective. Work proceeded through the Conservative tenure of office and into the time of the Unionist regime. It was discontinued in 1918 because of the stress of the war. The Government of Mr. King took office. In 1926 the terminal was shifted from Nelson to Churchill and the railway to that point completed last year. The port construction and the aids to navigation are in course of construction.

The work on the Welland canal was started under the Borden government in 1913 and continued until the war stopped it in 1917. It was started again under the Unionist government late in 1918 and has been continued ever since.

2-Day Battle Ends Arghanistan Revolt

PESHAWAR, India, July 31.—(A.P.)—Latest advices received here from Kabul indicate that a revolt against Nadir Shah, King of Afghanistan, was crushed after a two-day battle in which several hundred of the rebels were killed. Heavy field guns and airplanes were used by the Government forces.

COOLIDGE FAVORS NEW TORY GOV'T

Claims Policy of Protection Makes Canada Better to U. S. Customer.

NATIONAL SPIRIT AWAKENED.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 31 (C.P.) —The Herald Tribune, under a Northampton, Mass., date line, today publishes the following comment of the Canadian general election in a copyrighted article signed by Calvin Coolidge, former President of the United States:—

"In Canada the Liberal party has lost control of the Government in the recent election, and the Conservative party will have a clear working majority in the incoming Parliament.

Two Elements to Blame

"Two elements contributed to this result. The first was business depression, which usually works against the party in power. Many wage-earners were out of work. The price of agricultural products was low. Therefore both the laborers and the farmers turned to the Opposition party. The second was a resurgence of the national spirit. The Canadians voted to put Canada above the Empire. They are for a tariff that will protect their own domestic interests. While their economic ties with the Empire are weakened, probably their political ties are unimpaired.

"Our investments in Canada run into billions of dollars. Whatever will make the Dominion prosperous would be welcomed by us. We have never directed our tariff policy at the Canadians and do not expect they will direct theirs at us, but any general policy of protection to build up the country would in the end make them better customers for our goods. We can best deal with a country that maintains our standard of living."

MAN CONFESSES MERCY SLAYING OF LOVED WIFE

Took Life to Free Her From Existence of Which She Had Tired.

USED FLAT IRON.

Request Had Been to Pass Peacefully Away While Asleep.

LONDON, Eng., July 31 (C.P.) — Police to-day held a man who they said had given himself up with the confession that he had killed his wife to free her from an existence of which she had tired.

The story of the "mercy slaying" was related in the West London Police Court when Charles Augustus Galichet, 52 years' old French citizen was committed for trial on the charge of the murder of his 47-year-old wife.

Galichet gave himself up last Wednesday when he walked into the station house and, according to the police, said he had taken his wife's life that morning by hitting her on the head with a flat iron while she slept. In a statement Galichet was quoted by the police as stating:

"My wife and I had been reviewing things and were coming to the conclusion that the future held very little to make life worth living. One of her last remarks was 'How nice it would be to pass away peacefully in one's sleep'."

The detective who had investigated the case, told the court his inquiry had shown Galichet and his wife had been a devoted couple.

LINDBERGH TO BROADCAST

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 31. (C.P.) —When Col. Charles A. Lindbergh makes the first prepared radio address of his career on August eight, he will deliver it three times and it will be broadcast on three continents.

It is anticipated that he will advocate the calling of an International Aviation Conference by the League of Nations.

Pigeon Lake Yields 39-Pound Monster

Two splendid fish are reported as having been caught in district waters in the past few days.

On Monday last, Leonard Lush, of 599 Aylmer street, while fishing at Gannon's Narrows landed a black bass that weighed exactly five pounds and measured 19 1-16 inches in length and 11 1-8 inches in girth.

A. W. Crough, of Enimsmore, succeeded on July 24 in landing a huge muskie he hooked in Pigeon Lake. The monster fish was 4 ft. 8 inches long, had a girth measure of 28 inches and tipped the scales at 39 pounds.

NOVEL CEREMONY FOR PACT SIGNING

King George Reads Bill, Then Authorizes 3 Peers to Give His Assent.

COMMONS ATTENDS.

LONDON, England, July 31 (C.P.) —A traditional form of Royal assent which has existed some 400 years, will put into effect the London Naval Treaty Bill, probably to-morrow.

The Treaty Bill, which gives effect to the London Naval Pact as far as Great Britain is concerned, and already has passed both Houses of Parliament, will not be signed by the King.

Instead, the King, after reading a copy of the measure, will sign a Royal Commission which authorizes three or more peers to give his assent.

Held in House of Lords.

The ceremony itself will be held in the House of Lords. At the time set the peers designated, garbed in scarlet and ermine robes, will take seats before the throne and instruct the "Black Rod," an official, to summon the House of Commons.

After the Commoners arrive, headed by the Speaker carrying the Mace, one of the peers, probably the Lord Chancellor—will doff his antique tricornered hat and inform the Commons that, in obedience to Royal

CROP YEAR ENDS WITH PROSPECTS OF BAD TIE-UP

Storage at Head of Lakes Almost at Same Point as Year.

NEED OVERSEAS RATES.

Estimates on This Year's Harvest Above 400,000,000 Bushel Increase.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 31. — (C.P.) — On the threshold of a new season, Canada is threatened with another grain tie up.

To-day, marked officially as the end of the 1929-1930 crop year, storage at the head of the lakes and in the west will stand almost at the same point as last year—when railways were forced to halt shipments to the packed bins at the lake head. Besides, the new crop about to be harvested promises to be some 100,000 bushels larger than last year's in wheat alone.

Two Million Less in Year.

When records of the Board of Grain Commissioners shift over into the 1930-1 crop year on August 1, stocks in store at Port Arthur and Fort William are not expected to be more than a couple of million bushels less than a twelvemonth back. On July 2, they aggregated 60,332,494 bushels—about 1,350,000 bushels less than a year previous. In either case the bins were packed within 25,000,000 bushels of their capacity.

Last year at this time, shippers were able to look back to a summer of far heavier shipping than they can point to now. Up to the present time this season, shipments from the head of the lakes have totalled only about 150,000,000 bushels—only half of the grain carried away in the same time last year.

There is still ample time for plenty of grain to go down to the sea in ships. But overseas demand must develop by mid-September if it is to show its results before the close of lake-shipping.

Best Cash Wheat Under 90 Cents.

To-day the best cash wheat is selling for less than 90 cents a bushel. Even at that level, buyers are not flocking to purchase the Canadian product. But grain men consider that the new low marks may start the buyers, and they hope that the demand will begin before the start of the grain flood from the prairie harvest fields. Even now the reaping is started in some sections.

Not only the wheat yield—forecast as some 100,000,000 bushels larger than last year—is causing the storage worry, but barley and oat crops are expected to be much larger than the 1929 harvest, since considerable extra land was seeded to coarse grains due to cheap wheat prices. Already rye and barley stocks at the head of the lakes are more than three times as large as twelve-month ago — and a bushel of the coarse grains takes up the same space as a bushel of wheat.

HEENAN HAS MAJORITY OF 486 VOTES IN NORTH

KENORA, Ont., July 31 (C.P.)—Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, was elected in Kenora-Rainy River constituency by a majority of 486 votes, according to results tabulated from all but two polls in the constituency. Reports are not uniform but show a vote of 6,266 for the Minister against 5,780 for F. J. McManus, Cons., noting a majority of 486.

City Solicitor Is Named Judge For Middlesex County

Born in Liverpool, England, Almost 51 Years Ago and at an Early Age Migrated With His Parents to County of Simcoe, Township of Oro.

SECRETARY OF LIBERAL ASSOCIATION FOR 10 YEARS AND CITY SOLICITOR FOR THE PAST SEVEN

Appointment Was Made Last Week But Announcement Only Came Last Night After Conference Between Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and Hon. R. B. Bennett.

OTTAWA, July 31. — One of the last official appointments of the Mackenzie King Government was the appointment of Joseph Wearing of Peterborough as County Judge for the County of Middlesex. The appointment which was made last week was only announced last night after Prime Minister Mackenzie King had conferred with Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Leader of the Conservative Party, and the Prime Minister-elect. Two other appointments that were made at the same time were also announced. One is that of Lieut.-Col. Henry J. Coghill, of the Department of National Defence, as Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Commons to succeed Lieut.-Col. H. W. Bowie, who has been retired, and the other is Thomas Gallant as Judge of the District Court of Gravelbourg, Saskatchewan.

Appointed Judge

JOSEPH WEARING
City Solicitor, who has been appointed County Judge for the County of Middlesex. Mr. Wearing has practised law in Peterborough since January 1st, 1914.

Born in Liverpool.

Judge Wearing was born in Liverpool, England, in 1879. When he was thirteen years old he came to Canada with his parents, who took up farming in Oro Township, Simcoe County, near the town of Barrie. One of the early friendships of his youth in Canada resulted from his meeting the Hon. E. C. Drury, former Premier of Ontario, who has been a close and ardent friend during the intervening years.

Judge Wearing's first occupation in this country was as a farmer with his father. [illegible] education he attended Woodstock College and Napanee Collegiate Institute, and later graduated as a Master of Arts from McMaster University, Toronto. Before going to Collegiate he worked as lumberjack in winter and sawmill hand in summer for seven years.

Full of energy and ambition, and realizing the necessity of a broader education, Mr. Wearing attended Napanee Collegiate Institute, where he obtained his matriculation, also Woodstock College, and finally he took the Arts course at McMaster University, from which he graduated with the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Arts. During his college days he was western secretary for Frontier College for six summers, with headquarters in Winnipeg.

His law course was completed in 1913 when he graduated from Osgoode Hall, Toronto, and was called to the Bar. Judge Wearing came to Peterborough on January 1, 1914. This city has witnessed his development as a barrister and solicitor, and has provided the opportunities for his abilities and personality which have led step by step to the Bench. Always an active member of the Baptist Church, he was superintendent of the Sunday School of Murray Street Church from 1915 to 1925; he was teacher of the Baraca Young Mens Bible Class, and has been a member of the Board of Trustees and of the choir.

Member of Board of Education.

His intellectual and civic interest attracted him to the municipal field, and for some years he was a member of the Board of Education, and during the last eight years he has been Peterborough's city solicitor, a responsibility which he has performed

FIREMEN RESCUE VENUS DE MILO

Uproot With Hose Poison Ivy Planted in Attempt to Clothe Statue.

BOTHERED WOMAN.

WINONA LAKE, Ind., July 31 (C.P.). — The Fire Department has come to the rescue of the Venus de Milo, and a scheme to clothe the goddess' statue in poison ivy has been thwarted.

Mrs. Mary Schell Starr, of Chicago, summering here, holds the opinion that the staue, which has been a figure of artistic pride for 20 years, should wear something.

Yesterday the statue was moved to a location near the Fire Department, and the circumstances gave Mrs. Starr an opportunity to put her idea in action.

Poison ivy was planted around the base of the statue. Mrs. Starr expressed the hope, according to the firemen, "that the ivy grow and grow until finally that indecent figure shall be all covered up."

The firemen, who are really art lovers at heart, decided to foil the scheme. They did not want to touch the ivy with their hands, so they turned the hose on it, rooting it up.

ST. IGNATIUS OF LOYOLA COMMEMORATED AT ROME

ROME, Italy, July 31 (C.P.). — St. Ignatius of Loyola, founder of the famous missionary and teaching order known as the Society of Jesus was solemnly commemorated to-day at the Gesu, mother church of the Jesuits, and at Saint Ignazio, the church that bears his name.

It was the biggest celebration of their own that the black-robed priests of the world-wide organization have had since the canonization of nine distinguished Jesuits, the eight Canadian martyrs and Cardinal Robert Bellarmine, in St. Peter's just over a month ago. The members of the order now in Rome and Vatican City, recruited from all nations, were out in force at the early masses, as were the young men undergoing their long novitiate.

NEW TARIFF CHANGE.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 31 (C.P.). — Announcement of a change in the Canadian tariff governing importation of cold rolled sheets of iron or steel is contained in a special issue of the Canada Gazette. Under the new regulation sheets of iron or steel, cold rolled, when imported by manufacturers for use exclusively in the manufacture of sheets coated with tin in their own factories shall come into Canada free under all tariffs.

Col. Ralston Flies To See R-100 Land

BOSTON, Mass., July 31 (C.P.)—Col. J. L. Ralston, Canadian Minister of National defense paid Boston an extremely brief visit to-day. Mr. Ralston arrived on the Yarmouth boat and almost immediately hopped off from the Boston airport for Montreal. He desires to be present at the arrival of the R-100. He was piloted by Flight Lieutenant Earl Jellison of the Royal Air Force, who flew here from Ottawa to meet him, in four hours and twenty minutes.

PURCHASE TOTAL SHOWN IN NEW PERMIT SCHEME

WILL REDUCE SALES.

Further Effort to be Made Against Home Brew Permits.

HAMILTON, Ont., July 31 (C.P.)—Introduction of a new system of liquor permits under which the total amount of purchases will be designated in dollars and cents, was announced by Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the Liquor Control Board, at the convention here of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

This was one of the measures definitely decided upon by the Commission to curb the abuse of liquor purchases by recognized permit holders in Ontario. The Government, Sir Henry said, would take every step to see that the sale of liquor would be restrained to the fullest extent as set down by the Liquor Control law.

Sir Henry also stated the opening of new liquor stores had dealt a real body blow to the small bootlegger, but he doubted whether lengthening the sale hours would serve the same purpose.

Home brew, according to Sir Henry, provided the main threat to the proper enforcement of the Act. This province led all others with a total of 120,000 having the right to brew malt liquors at home.

"We have tried and failed to get legislation to check this evil," he said. "There can be no harm in trying again."

TWO ONTARIO RECOUNTS ARE BEING REQUESTED

TORONTO, Ont., July 1. (C.P.)—It has been learned recounts have been requested in two Ontario constituencies as the result of close votes.

The election in Bruce north of John James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is being disputed by the supporters of William Mitchell, defeated Conservative. The successful candidate's majority was given as 83.

Election of John T. Sproule, Conservative in Lambton east, is also considered close enough for a recount. His majority over Burt Fansher, Progressive, stood at nine today.

LIBERALS IN TORONTO FAR FROM DOWNCAST

TORONTO, July 31. (C.P.) — Despite the downfall of Premier Mackenzie King's Government in the recent election, local Liberals are not so downcast as they might be. Not only was the first Liberal in 33 years elected in this Conservative stronghold, but the total vote in Toronto ridings showed a notable increase of Liberal voters. In the nine constituencies the Liberal vote increased from 5,209 in 1926 to 56,622 in the last election.

Edison Submits to Annual Questioning

WEST ORANGE, N.J., July 31 (C.P.)—Thomas A. Edison, the electrical wizard and inventor, whose judgment on any subject under the sun is yearly sought by newspapermen, has submitted to his annual questioning and freely approves of prohibition, endorses modern youth, said six hours' sleep was enough for the average person.

"Do you think the country is suffering from depression, Mr. Edison?"

"No. The workers are scared and won't buy."

TO BUY DOMINION PRODUCE IN BULK

British Gov't Places Plan on Imperial Conference Agenda.

PRICE STANDARDIZATION.

LONDON, July 31. (C.P.) — To the accompaniment of Labor cheers, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, in Parliament, revealed the British Government would place on the agenda of the Imperial conference, its plans for bulk purchase of Dominion produce and "price" standardization." Presumably this item deals mainly with wheat; in any case its purport and ultimate significance must be left until the Prime Ministers of the Empire are gathered in conference.

The agenda is divided into three parts — inter-Imperial relations, foreign policy and defense, and economic questions. And the last named promises to provoke the most discussion.

The question of a suggested tribunal for determination of inter-Imperial disputes and matters left over from the conference on Dominion legislation, are most important of the questions under the heading of inter-Imperial relations.

LIBERAL WINS IN TEMISCOUTA

Conservatives Ask For Recount in Hon. James Malcolm's Constituency.

FOUR RECOUNTS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 31.—(C.P.)—By a majority of 40 votes, the constituency of Temiscouta, one of the two Quebec ridings which remained doubtful yesterday, has been conceded to J. E. Pouliot, Liberal, over C. E. Dube, Conservative.

In Yamaska, Que., an unusual situation has developed over night. Aime Boucher, former Liberal member, and T. Comtois, Conservative, were reported tied with the returning officer readly to cast the deciding vote. A judicial recount, however, was expected to be held.

Three more recounts have been announced, in Bonaventure, Que., which has been conceded O. D. Morgan, Conservative, Liberal headquarters claim that Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal, was elected In Bruce North, Ont., the election of Hon. James Malcolm, Minister of Trade and Commerce, is being disputed by the supporters of William Mitchell, Conservative. Election of J. H. Sproule, Conservative in Lambton East, is also considered close enough for a recount. His majority over Burt Fansher, Progressive, stood at nine today.

Allowing for the still doubtful constituency of Yamaska, Que., the latest party standing is: Cons. 138, Lib. 86, U.F.O. 10, Prog. 2, Lib.-Prog. 1, Labor Ind. 2, doubtful 1.

DELAY SEEN FOR IMPERIAL MEET

South African Premier Brings Up "Right to Secede" Question.

PREFERENCE THREATS.

LONDON, Eng., July 31. (C.P.)—The Morning Post to-day features the speech by Prime Minister James B. Hertzog of South Africa and complains the last Imperial Conference occupied too much time with "barren casuistries" about status. "Now Hertzog comes along armed with a resolution of his Parliament that the right of the Dominions to secede exists, though it was politely added by one of his colleagues (Col. F. H. Creswell)—that there was no intention of exercising it" the Post says "thus another barren debate will be forced upon the next Imperial Conference."

The Post quotes the South African Premier's reference to his inability to ignore the decisive influence of economic interests, and also his allusion to hypothetical changes in the existing tariff policies of the various Dominions. "In fact he said what Mr. Bennett has said—namely, nothing for nothing," the Post goes on. "South Africa, like Canada, gives substantial preference on British goods. If Snowden fulfills his threats those preferences will be withdrawn and nothing will be left to the British Empire but the 'right to secede'."

MASSEY REFUSES LONDON OFFICE

Resignation as Canadian High Commissioner Sent to Mackenzie King.

ADVISES BENNETT.

TORONTO, Ont., July 31 (C.P.).—The Mail and Empire in a news feature to-day, says:

"Hon. Vincent Massey is understood to have forwarded to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King his resignation of the post of Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain and to have asked that Hon. R. B. Bennett be so advised."

In 1926 Mr. Massey was appointed Canadian Plenipotentiary to Washington, a post he held until his appointment to London vacated through the death of the late Hon. P. C. Larkin.

Mr. Massey's appointment to London was ratified and the necessary Order-in-Council for his retirement as His Majesty's Canadian representative in Washington passed some months ago. He was not to have taken over the London position, however, until October. Since then he has been spending the summer at his summer home near Newcastle, a few miles from Port Hope.

FOUR BANDITS CONFESS

MONTREAL, Que., July 31.—Four men, who confessed to staging six hold-ups in the city during the past few weeks, were arrested and taken to detective headquarters yesterday. The men, ranging from 21 to 24 years of age, were in possession of an automobile which was reported stolen.

Bandits Are Foiled By Lowly Dustpan

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 31. — (C.P.)—The chance to be a hero comes seldom to a street sweeper.

This golden moment caught Max Levine with nothing but his brush and a refuse pan, when two robbers careened through a Brooklyn street in a motor car, making their getaway from the scene of a holdup.

But Max used his homely weapons with effect. He flung the pan through the windshield of the car and caused the driver to swerve into a vegetable stand, enabling the capture of both felons.

Max was rewarded. The head of the Department of Sanitation eulogized him publicly, as Max stood at dutiful attention in his big chief's office.

"How about getting me a little raise?" said Max.

RECOUNTS FORESEEN.

TORONTO, Ont. July 31. (C.P.)—With only one doubtful seat out of 245, the Conservative Party has elected 138 members to the House of Commons, Liberals 86, United Farmers 10, Liberal-Progressive three, Progressive two, Labor three and Independent two. These figures give the Conservatives a majority of 31 members over all others combined.

In the after-election fluctuation of doubtful seats Temiscouata, Quebec, has been definitely conceded to the Liberals; J. F. Poulliot, former member, had a lead of 40 votes over C. E. Dube, Conservative, in the final returns.

The one remaining doubtful seat in Yamaska, Quebec, where an unusual situation has developed, Aime Boucher, former Liberal member and T. Comtois, Conservative, were reported tied, with the returning officer ready to cast the deciding vote. A judicial recount was expected to be held.

A recount will take place in Bonaventure, Que., which has been conceded to D. Morgan, Conservative. Liberal headquarters claim that Hon. Charles Marcil, Liberal was elected.

EXPECT AIRLINER WILL ARRIVE IN LATE AFTERNOON

"All on board are extremely well and taking eager interest in the airship's performance," was the cheery word from Capt. Booth, received here this morning. At the time that the message was received it was estimated the vessel was in the vicinity of Anticosti Island. Weather conditions were favorable, with the ship sailing calmly through a 32-mile per hour headwind.

All night long three officers sat in the control room of the airport awaiting the captain's reports and accurately checking the vessel's position.

Moor In Early Evening.

The ship is expected to reach Montreal late in the afternoon, and will probably moor in the early evening, when cooler atmospheric conditions will prevail. Shortly after she is settled to rest snuggled close to the mooring mast, a swarm of aeroplanes will be off, bearing pictures of the arrival to appear in to-morrow morning's newspapers. All the larger movie and still photographic firms are represented here to-day awaiting the arrival of one of the biggest "stories" of the year. Newspapermen in scores have descended on the airport ready to interview Captain R. H. Booth and his officers and to describe the landing.

The next few days will be given up to official inspections of the ship by invited guests of the Canadian Government, Senators, members of Parliament, aviation officials and many others.

Possibly the only women to inspect the ship while she is here will be Senator Cairne Wilson and Miss Agnes MacPhail. Both will be invited by virtue of their positions as Canada's only woman Senator and only woman member of Parliament, respectively. It is understood all other invitations have been sent to men.

Touring Date

MONTREAL, Que., July 31. (C.P.) Dates for the tours of the British dirigible R-100 have been announced as follows:—

Tuesday, August 5, Ottawa and Otawa valley.

Friday and Saturday, August 8 and 9, Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls and possibly Windsor, Ont.

Wednesday, August 13, Quebec.

Arrangements were completed for the visit of the R-100 to-day. It was announced that St. Hubert airport will be thrown open to the public immediately after the arrival of the ship here, though no one will be permitted near the vessel until she is safely moored. After that the public will be allowed within fifty feet of her. A guard of soldiers will be thrown around the dirigible night and day. The press will be permitted to inspect the craft on the day after her arrival.

OLD FIRE BELL HAS NEW TASK

Historic Bell Which Awakened Halifax is Hung in Church.

IDLE 30 YEARS

HALIFAX, N.S., July 31.—Idle now for more than thirty years, the old bell that once wakened Halifax to the cry of fire has found a new resting place in St. John's United Church, as a memorial to a century of service.

Early in the last century the big bell—weighing 1600 pounds — was hung in the belfry of the Union Fire Protection Company's hall on Barrington street. In those days Halifax was without fire alarm boxes, and the bell, which continued to ring until a fire had been extinguished, was the only way of giving a general alarm. The Fire Protection Company was organized in 1768, less than twenty years after the founding of the city, but it was some years later that the hall was built and the bell installed. From this time on until 1804 its metallic warning heralded the danger of every fire.

In 1919 the bell was presented to the North Park Street Church, in memory of a member of the Fire Protection Company who fell during the Great War. Subsequently this church united with St. John's, the North Park Street building being converted into a Labor Temple, where the bell remained until a few days ago, when it was taken down and placed in a prominent position in the church now housing the United congregation.

The fire system of Halifax, early in the last century when the bell went into service, was a purely volunteer one, with which the foremost citizens were proud to be connected. The town had a population of but 11,000 and as most of the buildings were of wood, blazes were frequent. Fire fighting apparatus consisted of ladders, water buckets, hand pumps and man-power. The "bucket brigade" method of defence was chiefly in use. The town was then divided into twenty small divisions, each in an emergency directed by a Fireward.

JAMES DOLAN LEADS SWIM AT TRENT BRIDGE

Many Acquatic Stars From District Take Part in Annual River Meet.

DIVING IS GOOD.

Handsome Array of Prizes Provided For Winners of Various Classes.

TRENT RIVER, July 30.—(Examner Correspondence.)—A brisk, steady wind which blew down river fanning the surface of the water into formidable waves failed to dampen the ardour of paddlers, swimmers and motor boat drivers at the Trent River regatta staged at Trent Bridge yesterday afternoon. The meet was proclaimed by spectators one of the finest regattas held in the district for many years past.

Having gathered from Campbellford, Havelock, Norwood and many other points in the region, a large crowd lined the piers and the shore at the scene of the aquatic meet as well as using the bridge as a spectators' gallery. With unwaning interest they followed the various events as they succeeded each other in rapid order and oftimes shouted their encouragement and approval in no uncertain manner. Entry lists were light in many cases but at all times the competition was of a high standard.

Judges of the regatta were George Van Volkenburg, Reeve of Seymour; James Craighead Havelock, and A. L. Riendeau, Campbellford. It was run under the auspices of the Trent River Fish and Game Protective Association of which T. J. Brown is president and Stanley Carnrite is secretary.

Excellent Diving.

The diving contest possibly went over the biggest of any of the events. There were nine entries, eight boys and one girl, all of them doing thier best to show the enthusiastic audience how a neat dive should be done. The exhibition was carried out on the main pier. A four-cornered tie in points between Fred Pettifer, Campbellford; Betty Brown, Belmont Lake; Howard Martin, Havelock; and Charlie Haggerty, a nine-year-old Havelock lad, made necessary some extra dives following which the decision was given to Pettifer.

Jim Dolan of Trenton, won the silver trophy in the one mile swim, open to all amateurs, after a hard battle on the home stretch, with Gerald Potts, of Marmora. Ten entered the race, but only five finished. Potts finished three feet behind the winner and farther back in the field Gerald Chaplin of Trent River won a hard fight for third position with Arthur Wright of Toronto. Willie Post of Havelock, finished fifth. The first leg of the swim was against the current and the waves.

No Entries.

Honors for the 100-yard swimming races for boys and girls under 16 went to Arthur Pincombe of Havelock, and Marie Bedford of Havelock, when they were the only entrants in the respective races.

Marguerite Garneau of Trent River had a healthy lead over Laura White of Trent River in the ladies' single canoe event.

In the men's single canoe, Zack Smoke of Roseneath was given a real argument by J. Deyell of Wallace Point, before he crossed the line a winner.

The Tug of War number on the program was well received. Bill Smoke

Body In Indian River May Be Missing Flyer

RANGOON, Burma, July 31 (A.P.)—A mutilated body believed to be that of the missing aviator, Erick Hook, was taken into Prome yesterday by members of a rescue party.

The body was found on a bank of the Buye River Monday and was little more than a skeleton; the limbs missing. Burial was made this morning at Prome. No official report identifying the body as Hook's has been received here.

Hook and James Matthews were flying from England toward Australia early this month when their plane was forced to land in the jungles. Matthews was able to walk to safety but Hook was too badly injured.

CATTLE, GRAIN, PRODUCE

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, July 31. — (C.P.) — Grain prices collapsed to-day to a standard seldom equalled even in times antedating the World War.

Wheat fell below any point reached ince July, 1914, when Europe's unprecedented huge military needs and relativ scarcity elsewhere sent breadstuff values skywards.

In violent contrast, yesterday's trans-atlantic demand for wheat from North America was at various stages the slackest in a long time, and harvest reports from places northward toward Canada pointed to millions of bushels soon to be added to the big stocks on hand. Wheat closed at virtually the bottommost level reached, 2¼c to 3c a bushel under yesterday's finish. Corn closed ½c to 1 7-8c off. Oats as well as wheat established a new low price record for the season, finishing 1¼c to 1⅝c down. Provisions, however, scored gains, latest quotations being 2c to 20c net higher.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, July 31. — Including cattle that were not offered earlier in the week, some having been held since the opening day and a few since last week's close, there were close to 700 head in the supply at the yards today. Trade was draggy with salesmen asking an advance on good butchers at the start but practically everything offered was sold before the close with steers and butcher cattle unchanged at the Monday decline, and good butcher cows firm at yesterday's partial recovery of the opening day reduction of 50c per cwt.

Handyweight steers sold from 5½c to an extreme of 7.85c per pound, with only one small lot at the top, and the range on butcher heifers in a light offering was 6c to 7.10c. Weighty steers sold from 6¾ to 7¼c per pound. The odd fancy light cows made a top of 66¼c per pound, with the bulk of choice from 5½ to 6c and plain downward to 4.40c per pound. Canners and cutters brought from a low of 1½c for the former to 3¾c for the latter. Good butcher bulls were worth 5 to 5½c and bolognas sold from 4 to 4½c per pound. Fed calves were the only class of killers showing an advance, the odd top making 11½c and the rest in an offering of 20 head from 10 to 11¼c per pound.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, July 31. — Although figures received by the trade here, indicated that a little over 30,000 boxes of New Zealand butter had been landed at Halifax, prices locally dropped off 27¾c a pound, with little buying.

Cheese was barely steady, Ontarios being quoted at 16½c to 16¾c a pound, and Quebec at 16c to 16¼c. The egg market continued steady, with price to retailers unchanged. The potato market was firm, 80-pound bags of locally grown new stock being quoted at $1 to $1.10. Live poultry in carlots was being offered at 18c to 26c a pound according to weight and quality. Leghorn broilers were quoted at from 15c to 17c, and heavy broilers at from 18c to 24c a pound.

Spring wheat flour was reduced 20c a barrel, winter wheat flour was down 30c a barrel, rolled oats, off 10c, and wheat preferred 2c a bushel on the cash grain market. Middlings was the only section to show an advance, being up $2 a ton.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, July 31.— Trade was not quite so good on the local fruit and vegetable market yesterday, and as receipts were fairly heavy prices slumped considerably, especially on vegetables. Cucumbers, which enjoyed a fair rise in price Tuesday, were down again yesterday, at 50c to 60c per 6-quart basket. Carrots were quite a bit lower at 10c to 15c per dozen bunches, but corn was slightly higher at 20c to 30c a dozen, the top price being for Golden Bantam, which was the only corn easy to sell. Cauliflower was lower at 50c to $1 per hamper, and the reason given for the reduction was that the quality was not so good as previously. Celery was lower at 20c to 50c a dozen, and parsley was down at 25c to 30c per 11 quarts. Onions in bags were 25c lower at $3.25. Peppers were down at 50c per 11 quarts and 25c per 6 quarts. Potatoes also showed some decrease in price at $1.30 to $1.40 per bag. Vegetable marrows were lower at 25c per 11-quart basket. Hot-house tomatoes were down at 50c per 6 quarts, and $1 to $1.25 per 11 quarts.

Cherries held steady to the old prices yesterday, but Lawton berries were down at 10c to 12c per pint. Gooseberries were almost off the market, and there were no quotations. Raspberries were lower at 11c to 13c per pint, and this was due to poor quality stock now coming in. Peaches were a little stronger at 30c to 65c per 6-quart basket. Blueberries held steady at $1.25 to $1.75 for an 11-quart basket.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 31. — Wheat prices dropped yesterday to the lowest levels in nearly a decade under a flood of selling credited to United States and Eastern Canada interests. July broke 4¼ cents to sell far below the 90c mark and other months were even weaker, especially the December future which bore the brunt of the heavy selling pressure.

The heavily traded December future sustained the greatest drop, selling off 4½ to 4⅝c to 90¾ to 90⅞c. October was down 4¼ to 4⅜c at 87⅞ to 90c, and July an even 4¼c lower at 87⅝c.

It was the second successive day quotes tumbled under a flood of sales which limited support, supplied by scattered seaboard house buying, could not stem. Tuesday's drops were of about two cents. Yesterday's crash ran the market into liquidation through commission houses and stop-loss orders.

Absence of export demand and rather bearish statistics issued by Broomhall estimating the prospective wheat crop in 23 countries this season at 4,080,000,000 bushels or about 192,000,000 bushels more than a year ago, were factors in the decline. The Russian crop was estimated to be 40,000,000 bushels larger than last year.

Export sales were estimated at just more than three-quaurters of a million bushels.

THE RIGHT COURSE.

Right Hon. Mackenzie King is taking the proper attitude in putting no obstacle in the path of Mr. Bennett in regard to the latter's intention of calling a special session of Parliament to deal with unemployment.

It is essential both in consideration of the men at present employed and in view of the Imperial Conference at the end of September that no unnecessary delay in the Conservative program should be occasioned.

The return of the writs has to be waited for in any case, but in the meanwhile progress can be accomplished if Mr. Bennett is installed in power as soon as possible and given a chance to form his Cabinet and arrange the necessary by-elections.

In connection with the latter public opinion would be overwhelmingly in favor of allowing the new Ministers to be returned by acclamation.

There is nothing that most people desire at present less than more political turmoil, and opposition to the re-election of any of the members selected by Mr. Bennett for promotion would be strongly resented.

The electors have spoken, and the country now demands a chance for the new administration to function.

THE PAROLE SYSTEM.

The attitude of Canadian police chiefs toward the question of abuses of the parole system will be endorsed by a good many other people.

While there is every sympathy for the efforts of citizens who are seeking to reclaim those who have made a mistake and to save first offenders from drifting into a career of crime, it is obvious that too great leniency to habitual criminals is a mistake for which society eventually has to pay the price.

Leniency can be overdone.

When it takes the form of shortening the terms of criminals who show their gratitude by going back to their crooked companions and their criminal habits, it becomes a menace to the general safety.

The chief constables, the guardians of the public against crime, have every right to protest against any conditions that help to defeat the objects of their work, and certainly a parole system that gives the habitual criminal a fresh chance that he almost inevitably abuses is open to attack on that score.

Crime can never be kept down if grievous offenders against society are treated with too much consideration, allowing the impression to be set up that the administration of justice in this country is being softened.

THE CASE OF MR. STEVENS.

Rumors from Ottawa state that Hon. H. H. Stevens, defeated in Vancouver on Monday, may become Canada's ambassador to Japan.

While there is no doubt of the fitness of Mr. Stevens for the suggested appointment, many Canadians will feel that he could be of better service to this country as a member of the new Cabinet.

He has long been recognized as one of the outstanding members in the Conservative party, his industry, his keen insight into business propositions, and his ability as a debater making him a notable figure.

Political foes as well as political friends have a very high opinion of the ability of the former member from Vancouver Centre, and it will be recalled that the doughty warrior, Henri Bourassa, in a speech delivered toward the close of the last session declared that if he had the appointment of the Canadian delegates to the Imperial Conference he would send Mr. Stevens over to look after Canada's business interests.

Many Canadians will hope that the Cabinet to be announced by Mr. Bennett in the course of a few days will contain the name of Harry H. Stevens in connection with one of the portfolios.

A CHANCE FOR IMPROVEMENT.

It can be said of the new Election Act, which got its first test in the contest just closed, that on the whole it has functioned admirably.

The very high percentage of votes polled in most constituencies is a proof of that fact, for undoubtedly that showing was at least partially due to the up-to-date voters' lists secured under the enumeration system, which resulted in a very accurate compiling of the names of those eligible to vote.

In one particular the first test of the new election machinery has revealed a chance for improvement.

That is in connection with cases in which the name of a voter was omitted from the official lists after the enumerators had secured the necessary information and had left a slip stating that the name would be included.

Most people accepted these slips as a guarantee that their names would be listed, and in all but a very few cases they were; there is, however, no provision made for the protection of those who through an error in the preparation of the lists find themselves disenfranchised as a result.

It should be possible under such circumstances to give the electoral officer in each constituency the power to add the names of voters who are able to produce official enumerators' slips that show that they were canvassed and found eligible to vote.

A WISE DECISION.

It is interesting to note that the United States postal service has once again rejected the proposal of advertising interests that unaddressed matter be accepted by the department for house to house distribution. Some years ago, when the idea was first mooted, it was summarily negatived. The advertising folk, it seemed, just pigeonholed that very definite "No" in the hopes of being able to do something about it later on. Householders of the United States, as well as the letter carriers, will be pleased, of a certainty, to hear that the department has had no change of heart. Even under existing regulations in the United States and Canada, postmen complain that they are but little removed from dodger-distributors. It is compulsory to specifically address all postal matter and many with circulars to bombard at Mr. and Mrs. Householder do go to the expense of addressing and mailing to a selective group—the telephone directory usually being employed for these lists. It is easy to imagine what the outcome would be if advertisers were permitted to dump unaddressed matter in the post office chutes for distribution to every house in the land. Important first-class mail would be seriously delayed and it would be necessary to increase the personnel of distributing staffs and send the expense of postal department operation soaring. The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel, commenting on the decision of the United States postal service to retain the principle of the specific address, recently had this to say: "The postal system has rightly earned a high reputation for the promptness, safety and dependability of its services and for the honesty, loyalty and unselfish devotion to duty of the great army of postal employees. To convert or even partially convert this great institution into an agency for house-to-house delivery of advertising matter and impose upon letter carriers a status practically identical with that of mere bill-passers could not but result in a grievous lowering of the dignity of the postal service, while at the same time constituting a wholly unnecessary burden on one of the largest and one of the most faithful classes of public employees." Canadians will heartily applaud and with good reason the decision made by U. S. postal authorities. Had there been any lowering of the bars on the other side of the line, it is a certainty that similar concessions would have been sought from the Canadian department and the decision of the United States officials used as a talking point.—Hamilton Spectator.

THEN AND NOW.

Looking back over the last days of the political campaign it might be well to remind readers of the differences in organization, methods, and, in a sense, psychology, between to-day and fifty years ago. Now we complain that two months are entirely too long to drag out a campaign. People, we say, get heartily sick of it. We regard an election as something we have to have, and the idea is that the quicker we can get through and done with it for another four or five years the better. In the old days people took their politics much more seriously. They began to get ready for the next fight two years ahead, and kept it up with increasing vigor and intensity until the last hour of the last day. A member of Parliament, who first sat in 1867, and had had remarkable success in being elected election after election after that, had a constituency which represented a greater variety of elements than there was in any other part of Canada—large sections of Irish Catholics, a considerable body of French-Canadians, probably 7,000 or 8,000 colored voters, a small German community, and a good many Orangemen—obviously, a rather difficult aggregation to deal with politically. He was asked how he managed it, and replied: "The day after I am elected I start in on the next campaign."

In the years 1876 and 1877, with an election due in the fall of 1878, Sir John A. Macdonald, then in Opposition, organized a series of the famous political picnics, which for him at that time were very successful. These were held in groves of trees, situated in localities easily available to the rural population for many miles around. Incidentally, these groves were used for social picnics, one of the few social diversions it had, and camp meetings. A political picnic was an all day affair. The people flocked in for miles around bringing a lunch basket with them. Ample seats were provided in the shape of boards placed on blocks, and there was a platform for speakers, who represented the pick of the political leaders in plenty. Stenographers from the big newspapers, the Mail and Globe, Toronto, and the Gazette, Montreal, were there and took verbatim reports, which were published in full a day or two afterwards. There were no typewriters in those days, and the task of writing out in longhand pages of the newspaper may be imagined. Later on the Liberals followed suit, and for twenty years at least these picnics were more or less the vogue.

Political meetings in schoolhouses and halls began to be held about five or six months in advance of election, or probable, election day. They were joint meetings, at which speakers from both sides were heard. If it were a Conservative meeting, Liberal speakers were invited, and the same procedure was followed if it were a Liberal meeting. The order of speaking was usually, but not always this: The local candidate, as a rule mediocre as a speaker, opened the meeting in a short speech, the shorter the better for his cause, to be followed by the star orator of which ever side, and the Opposition speaker chosen was sandwiched in for say an hour, after which the said star would wind up in reply. These meetings were not held every night, or every week, but only once in a while in any particular locality, otherwise the supply of "star" performers would not have been sufficient to have gone round and there would have been a surfeit of mediocrity. The political speakers of those days were well trained in the arts of oratory, some of them brilliant, and none better qualified than a rural audience to appraise them. The Grits, with the Weekly Globe as provender, didn't believe anything the Tory speakers said, even though they brought an angel from Heaven, or Solomon from his tomb, to testify in their authority, were equally with the Weekly Mail as their authority, with equally sceptical. But it all helped to keep the pot seething and boiling.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

We hasten to announce that there is no political significance attached to the visit of the R-100.

And now the newspapers will spend the next few days in selecting a Cabinet for Mr. Bennett.

"Conservative candidate, Peck, in Peterborough has won three elections in a row. If he does it again he will have his opponent buried under a bushel."—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

That story from Yorkton, Saskatchewan, of an elk being killed by a commercial traveller's car sounds like as if it ought to come from Sault Ste. Marie.

The Independent candidate in Regina only drew 83 votes out of a total of some 25,000. He doubtless realizes by this time that the Regina folks didn't want him.

One of Mr. Bennett's immediate troubles is the fact that so many members of Mr. Meighen's 1926 Cabinet have been returned. It is a situation that complicates the task of Cabinet-making.

Liberals and Conservatives are in agreement at last. They both confess the Dominion results were a surprise.

History repeats itself. Mr. Dunning, author of the May Day budget, went down to defeat Monday, as did Mr. Fielding in the landslide of 1911 after he had introduced the reciprocity pact.

New Zealand butter proved a consistently slippery article for Liberal orators in rural ridings to handle effectively.

"Poor Dora," says catty Katie, "she thinks a stalemate is a cause for divorce."—By Gettler.

What To-day Means To You.

If July 31st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 9:15 a.m., 1 p.m. to 2 p.m., and 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and 4 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Astrological influences will play their part on this date in setting something in motion which will poke a disturbing finger in your life. Disturbances in both your business and personal affairs. Mental awakeness!

The child born on this July 31st will be quick-witted, inquisitive, and "up and coming." It will be affectionate, but slightly jealous, and will be unhappy unless it is "Queen Bee." It will have definite talents.

You are a silent thinker, you talk too little. You take the old proverb about speech being silver and silence golden too literally, and your silences have been responsible for a multitude of misunderstandings. People have to guess what you think, and they often guess wrongly—why not put them right by voicing your sentiments? It is not hard to know when you are displeased, because you mope and sulk, but it is often hard to know why you are displeased. A frank word at such times has a value beyond all computation, but silence in such circumstances is not worth a brass farthing.

You are faithful, sincere, earnest and persevering. You are a hard worker, and you perform all duties in a grim, uncomplaining way. If you say you will do a thing, it is a surety that it will be done, and on time. You never let any one down at the last moment. You have an unimpeachable character, a blameless moral integrity, and most enviable virtues. You do not break either moral or state laws. If you would unloosen your tongue, and try to be more cheerful, the world would have no case against you. You are not a shallow person, but give the world a chance to enjoy and to know the secrets of your hidden depths. You are generous to fault, and only selfish in your moods. You are capable of a very deep and sincere love.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL IS WELL ATTENDED

Good Program Provided at St. Mark's Anglican Church, Warsaw Gathering.

WARSAW, July 31 (Examiner Correspondence)— The raspberry and ice-cream social held by the people of St. Mark's Anglican Church was well attended. The grounds were prettily decorated and well lighted.

Leslie Albert Ryan wore the Joseph's coat of many pockets, and disposed of many useful and pretty articles. Each article was numbered and the lucky number was held by Joe Kendall, of Lakefield who won a thermos bottle.

The Rev. J. T. O'Connor-Fenton was chairman for the program which consisted of solos by Miss Verna Payne, of Lakefield, Mrs. Charles Foster of Peterborough, Mr. Kemster of Norwood; violin duet by Dr. Munro and Thomas Davis and Mr. Kemster gave a short humorous sketch.

The Rev. Mr. Battisby of Hastings, the only former clergyman present and spoke of missing the faces he had known but he believed they were present in spirit. "There is no real severance with Christians, they may be absent in body but where Christ is they are present in spirit." He spoke of the work of pioneers.

"Old people tell how they literally cleared a way through the solid bush and reared a home. They were happy and contented because they built on a sure foundation. The church still stands after seventy-six years because it was built on a sure foundation."

Mr. Fenton spoke of the erection of the building when there was no other place to worship for many miles.

THE GRINGO PRIVATEER

By PETER B. KYNE

CHAPTER 29.

His Majesty thrust the princess off his lap and stood up. "By the toenails of Moses," he declared, "you're my own child, after all. Have I ever denied you anything I could get you, when I thought it would make you happy? I have not. And I'm not going to quit now. If you want this boy, then by Judas, I want him, too. He'll do and to hell with the money he hasn't got. I can't put a twitch on his nose and lead him to the altar for you, but I can make it worth his while to stick on the Bardin payroll and give you the opportunity to do the rest."

"And if I lose? Will you dismiss him then?"

"Not if he makes good on the job. I never mix sentiment with business," the king declared virtuously.

"Well, I'll do my best, Dad, but I must remind you that there is one obstacle that has to be overcome before I can start my campaign."

"I'll remove it, sweetheart. Tell papa what it is."

"Ken Burney is liable to get killed to-morrow morning."

"He is not! I'm going to stop this war. I'm going to forget I own El Cajon Bonita and all the cattle in it. I can afford to lose these assets but I cannot afford to risk the loss of the man my only child has set her heart upon. Telephone to the garage for the ranch car."

"But darling, how about your honor?"

At times the king could be vulgar. Such a time was upon him. "To hell with my honor, Muriel. Telephone for a car, and I'll head Burney off before he crosses the border."

"How do you know he may not insist still upon holding you to your contract?"

"He'll not. I have to confess that I didn't oppose him very hard when he objected the first time. I was just salving an uneasy conscience when I asked him and when he stood pat I was secretly delighted. But I'll be remorseless now. There's too much at stake." He winked portentously. "When I give an order it is obeyed."

It was forty miles to Huachita and the king knew that the heavily laden trucks of Burney's convoy would do well to make an average of twelve miles an hour over that sandy, dusty, narrow, rutty road. So the king had his cowboy chauffeur average thirty miles per hour; nevertheless, as the white trail unwound before him his yearning glance failed to glimpse the high clouds of dust that would denote the convoy. An hour and a quarter after leaving El Ranchito the king rolled into Huachita and on to the customs house at the international border.

"I'm Bardin, of El Ranchito," he announced to an immigration guard. "Has my outfit in motor trucks passed over to-day?"

"I know the outfit well, Mr. Bardin. It hasn't passed through." He grinned at the king. "The last time your man Burney passed this way he got by the Mexicans with a lot of arms and ammunition. He couldn't do that again, you know. We have orders to search him if he tries. There have been complaints that he broke the neutrality laws and it is common knowledge that he had a fight over in El Cajon Bonita recently and walloped the pants off that Gallegos crowd. While we're for him, Mr. Bardin, nevertheless we will arrest him if he tries to cross here with an armed body."

"Thank you," the king replied shortly. He knew now—and cursed himself for not having thought of it before—why Burney had avoided crossing into Mexico at a port of entry. So he filled up with oil and gasoline and motored back toward El Ranchito until he found the spot where the motor convoy had left the highway and started straight across country in a southeasterly direction, breaking trail through the low sage. The long line of trucks had beaten a fair road for the king to follow to the point where Burney planned to make a secret and unofficial crossing into Mexico that night; nevertheless it was five o'clock in the afternoon before he caught up with his quarry, parked in a grove of scattered cottonwoods about half a mile north of the international boundary and fully ten miles from even such a sign of civilization as a goat-herder's jacal.

The cook was busy preparing supper; the horses, with saddle cinches unloosed, and tied to trees, were munching oats from their nose bags, while the king's riders lay around in the sand, smoking and talking.

Ken Burney came forward to meet him, inquiry in his sooty eyes.

"This expedition is all off, Mr. Burney," the king announced. "I mean it and there will be no argument about it either. As soon as your men have had supper load your outfit and head back for the ranch. I can't accept this awful responsibility."

"It's too late to obey you now, sir. I've made a private and unofficial deal with the Mexican government to help it rid itself of a nuisance, and I can't quit now. I've gone too far."

"Mr. Burney, you have heard my orders. Obey them."

Ken Burney shook his head. "You're out of order, sir. I made a contract with you and you can't crawfish out of it. I shall not obey your commands, and neither shall my men."

"You men listen to me," the king shouted. "Mr. Burney is fired and any man that refuses to obey my orders here is fired also."

"Hurrah for Mr. Burney!" a cowboy yelled, and a chorus of cheers answered him.

"You're all fired," the king's ukase went forth. "Every last damned hombre in the lot."

"Fine," Ken Burney assured him. "We're all fired, so pay us off."

"I haven't enough money with me, you infernal Bolshevik. Come back to the ranch and draw your time." The king was furiously angry.

"The king is unable to pay us off after firing us, boys," Burney reminded his crew, "so, to protect our claims, let us help ourselves to his saddle horses."

The king was in agony. "Ken, my dear, dear boy, if you're killed to-morrow my daughter will never forgive me. For God's sake, boy, have pity on me. Don't ruin me with my own daughter."

"I can't quit now—with honor. I'm part of a plan. Forgive my impertinence, but with the present representative of the tribe of Burney all is lost save honor—and I'll be shot if I'll let you take that away from me."

"What's all this tommyrot about honor, I should like to know?"

"I have made a secret and unofficial treaty with the Mexican government to give it some highly intelligent aid in the difficult problem of eliminating Miguel Gallegos and his bandit or semi-bandit followers.

"It is now too late to abrogate this treaty, Your Majesty; if I fail to do my part on schedule the force of rurales co-operating with me will get soundly trounced—annihilated, in fact; and thereafter the Mexican government's local representative will make El Cajon Bonita as hot for you as Bruce and Gallegos are making it now. On the other hand, if I follow through we will win and thereafter anything you want in this portion of Mexico will be yours for the asking."

"I understand perfectly well the fix you're in, son, but do you realize the fix I'm in—with my own daughter? I'm perfectly willing to sacrifice my interest in El Cajon Bonita if you will abandon this enterprise, as a special favor to her. The devil take the Mexican government. They can't hurt me, no matter how resentful they may be, because I'll have finished operating in their country. What I crave is peace and a lot of it."

"Well, nobody's trying to saw off El Cajon Bonita and its cattle on you against your will, and what you do with those assets after I finish my job to-morrow will be entirely your own business."

"If you're killed—" the king began, but Burney waved him into silence.

"In that event your financial risk ceases. All you have to do is send me back to Tres Pinos, California, and omit flowers. When I contracted to do this job for you, you tacitly gave me a free hand; now you're mixing sentiment with it. Unfortunately the job has gotten out of your hands and mine."

The king was visibly affected. "If I only knew something of your plans—something, I could tell Muriel to buck her up—I'd have sufficient courage to go home and let you go to the devil as you seem hell-bent on doing."

JAPANESE PARTY TOURING CANADA

Business Men Investigate Conditions Across the Dominion.

SEE NIAGARA FALLS

TORONTO, July 31.—As a gesture of good will towards the forthcoming visit of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to the Orient, seven prominent Japanese business men will arrive in Toronto on C.P.R. Train No. 4 at 8.20 daylight saving time Friday morning on a survey of business and manufacturing conditions. At a luncheon at the Royal York Hotel the same day the visitors will be entertained by the Rotary Club and afterwards will be taken on a tour of some of Toronto's largest plants. Saturday will be spent at Niagara Falls. The delegation will return to Toronto on Sunday and leave for Montreal that evening. W. Fulton, assistant general passenger agent for the C.P.R. will have charge of arrangements during the parties stay in Toronto.

OLD POEM WANTED

The Examiner would like to procure for a subscriber, an old resident of Peterborough, now in Montreal a copy of a poem written by a Mr. Orde about fifteen or twenty years ago entitled "The Otonabee River." If any of our readers have a copy of it we would be glad to secure it.

The New System

"When my children married and moved away, it seemed as though I had lost them," said the old lady softly. "It would be months before I'd see them. But now we've a visiting system—by telephone. We call each other alternately. It's really very cheap, especially at night. Why, I even call Lyall—way down east. We have wonderful talks!"

BRANDY FROM APPLES

BERWICK, N.S., July 31.—A proposal, understood to provide for the establishment here of a distillery plant turning low grade apples into brandy for export, is arousing interest and controversy. The promotor of the enterprise, a citizen of the United States, is prepared to invest $100,000 in the plant, which would employ from 20 to 25 men the year round, it is said.

A number of business men and growers endorse the scheme, while clergymen and temperance workers denounce it. Ratepayers will decide the issue.

AN APPRECIATION FROM MR. DUFFUS

TO THE ELECTORS OF WEST PETERBOROUGH:

Ladies and Gentlemen,—

For myself and on behalf of the Liberal Party, I express warm appreciation and sincere gratitude for the splendid support received and the confidence reposed in me as Liberal candidate in the Dominion election.

The splendid showing in the face of the admitted fact that nearly all Governments that go to the polls in times of depression meet defeat is a fine tribute to an organization of loyal women and men whose hearts were wrapped up in a wonderful cause, and to whom I desire to extend my heartfelt appreciation.

While I deeply regret the defeat of a Government whose record of implicit honesty and unprecedented progress, covering nearly nine years, has been free almost entirely of any semblance of scandal or reproach, I am glad the new administration has a following of sufficient strength to implement its policies free of any chance of placing the blame on anyone.

Now that the elections are over and this all-important matter definitely settled, may I humbly suggest to all supporters to place no handicap in the way of our member and new administration who have been entrusted with our public affairs.

On the other hand, let us nobly do our full part to assist in every way possible to the end that we may enjoy the inevitable benefits which should acrue from building a bigger Peterborough, a greater Canada and a united Empire.

Again expressing congratulations and best wishes to our member-elect, I beg to remain with confidence and high esteem

Faithfully yours,

J. J. DUFFUS.

FRANCE IS INTERESTED IN CONSERVATIVE VICTORY

PARIS, France, July 31. (C. P. Cable, via Havas)—Newspapers here have expressed keen interest in the result of the Canadian election. Commenting editorially they see in the victory of the Conservative Party with its high protection policy an answer to the recent tariff changes enacted by the United States in passing of the Hawley-Smoot Bill and comment that the defeat of the Liberals, with their lower tariff aims, is readily comprehensible in the face of existing circumstances.

MORE ACTIVITY IS PREDICTED

New Service on New York Mining Exchange Will Introduce Canadian Securities Across Border.

COPPER PRICES HIGHER.

TORONTO, July 31. (Special to The Examiner)—In spite of present depression, conditions in the mining market intercession point to a broader scope for activity in many listings in the not too distant future the formation of a new service on the New York Mining Exchange will serve to introduce Canadian mining securities more extensively across the border, and to-day's report that the Calgary stock exchange had made application for the installation of a Standard Stock and Mining Exchange ticker service on its trading floor suggests a renewal interest in the possibilities of mining and oil shares listed here. Membership of the Standard will be asked to vote on the latter question to-morrow. Some ambiguity appears to exist in reports of the annual meeting of Calmont oils held in Calgary recently. First advices stated shares holders are to be given a four-one split while others have it that a stock dividend of three additional shares will be paid.

Both actions amount to the same thing in the end, but entail somewhat different procedure in carrying them out. It is fairly well established, however, that the new stock would be available to shareholders of record September 30. The financial statement of Calmont oils shows current assets of $407,879, as compared with total current liabilities of $275,178. Fixed assets are reported as $7,904,217, including a valuation of $7,259,00 placed on leases on directors were re-elected and voted 35,000 Calmont shares to themselves as remuneration for four years' service. Sir William Cope of London, England and W. Motherwell of Calgary, were added to the board.

As stated before things in copper are looking a little better due to larger sales of the metal at 11 cents a pound. But that doesn't mean much in the way of earnings. On 11 cent copper very few copper companies can earn even current dividends. The large sales, however help to reduce surplus stocks which must be cut down materially before there can be any lasting improvement, the important question is 'Are producers still turning out a tonnage of copper in excess of consumers' requirements."

If surplus copper stocks on hand at the end of July show a further increase bulls on the copper issues are going to be very disappointed, and the fact heads of important branches of the industry are beginning to adopt a more optimistic tone and state as their opinion bottom has been reached as far as price is concerned would appear to indicate room for more hopefulness on the part of traders. Part of the heavy sales made when copper first broke to 14 cents was for delivery in July and these shipments should have their effect in view of current curtailment of production.

The report that English Electric Co. of Canada has received an order from Canadian copper refiners, subsidiary of Noranda mines for 120 motors, ranging from small size to 110 h.p. is significant in two ways. It shows the manner in which Canadian mining companies are carrying out their avowed intension to purchase as much equipment as possible from Canadian manufacturers and also suggests a substantial home market for copper which, up to date, has received comparatively little attention from the producing faction.

STOCKS TAKE TURN FOR BETTER FOLLOWING FIRMNESS IN WHEAT

Two Steamers Collide East of Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR, July 31. (A.P.)—The British India steamship Company's steamer Nerbudda and the Spanish steamship Legazpi were in a serious collision this morning in a dense fog 100 miles east of Gibraltar.

The Nerbudda reported by wireless that she might be able to keep afloat while the Legazpi said her engines were out of commission.

Salvage steamers rushed from Gibraltar to the assistance of the disabled vessels.

PRICES MOVE IN NARROW RANGE

Majority of Base Metal Stocks Display Firmness on Standard.

LINDSLEYS LISTLESS.

TORONTO, Ont., July 31 (C.P.)—Prices moved aimlessly back and forth within narrow limit on the mining market to-day, with a somewhat softer tendency appearing among the higher-priced issues towards noon. Trading was very dull.

International Nickel and Noranda were both off a half to $23.50 and $23 respectively. Other base metal stocks displayed firmness, however. Newbec and Abana gaining a point each to 11 and 43, respectively, while the balance of the class held unchanged. Lindsleys moved listlessly, Sudbury Basin selling up 5 at $1.50 and Sherritt Gordon down a point to $1.32.

Golds were a particularly quiet group, the majority failing to even put in an appearance. Hollinger eased to $5.80, and Barry Hollinger dropped a fraction to 17. Teck Hughes sold 5 higher at $6.60, and Howey and Big Missouri gained a point each to 38 and 63, respectively.

Oils were weak and showed an almost complete absence of buoyancy. Petrol Oil and Gas, a late feature yesterday, receded a couple in the face of profit-taking, and Acme and Nordon Corp., were off each to 39 and 99, respectively. Home Oil softened another 10 to $3.15.

WHEAT CLIMBS HIGHER GROUND

Three Cents Advance on Bushel Registered at Winnipeg.

HEAVY FOREIGN BUYING.

WINNIPEG, Man., July 31 (C.P.)—Wheat's price pendulum swung back to higher reaches to-day, wiping out the greater part of yesterday's losses as it closed 3 to 2½ cents a bushel up. Foreign buyers, reports said, had accepted all the wheat seaboard houses had offered overnight and eastern interests were in the market to-day for more stocks. The export business was estimated in excess of 3,000,000 bushels, including United States wheat.

The market, which yesterday was pounded down to its lowest levels in years, re-acted to steady buying from the start. Pit trade was active, and though bulges brought out liberal offerings.

Portion of Wednesday's Losses Regained in Bull Fight to Regain Control.

MONEY PLENTIFUL.

NEW YORK, N.Y., July 31 (C.P.). The bull group, feeling that it had gone too far to give up at this juncture, struggled to regain control of the price movement in to-day's stock market, and managed to win back a substantial portion of the losses of the previous session.

Yesterday's severe setback proved a keen disappointment to speculative quarters, but with reports that several industrial plants which have been closed for regular July shutdowns will resume operations within the next fortnight, many traders feel that for the moment at least, the seasonal trend of business was more favorable to the bill than the bear cause.

Further flurries of selling had to be absorbed during the morning, but the fact that yesterday's break caused no heavy accumulation of selling orders at the opening was interpreted as indicating that stocks in the market are lodged with interests not easily stampeded. A firmer one in the wheat market also helped stocks. Shorts with substantial paper profits were inclined to cover.

Money Plentiful.

Call money remained fairly plentiful despite the approach of the Aug. 1 settlements. During the morning selling losses of 1 to 3 points or more in several of the leading shares were numerous, but most of these were recorded before midday, as the list developed a firm tone. Rails, however, were decidedly heavy, reflecting the B. R. and P. dividend omission.

Missouri Pacific broke 6 points and New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio sagged 2 or more. The Chicago and Alton issues sold up a little in response to announcement that Baltimore and Ohio was negotiating for the road and Atchison and Southern Railway reflected short covering.

Such issues as Dupont, Byers, Worthington, Allied Chemical and Eastman gained 1 to 6 points or more. American Can, Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction, Vanadium U. S. Steel and Amer. Telephone gained a point or two.

TORONTO FOLLOWS WALL STREET LEAD

Uniformly Small Price Changes Feature of To-day's Bull Session.

TORONTO, Ont., July 31 (C.P.)—Uniformly small price changes were featured on the Toronto Stock Exchange this morning as the market went through another slow session. The trend was toward lower levels, the local market again following Wall Street with inter-listed issues the principal traders.

Nickel sold off to 23 and Brazilian, ex-dividend, was lower at 7⅛. Ford of Canada, C.P.R., old and new, Noranda, Distillers, Walker's sold off fractionally. F. N. Burt lost a point on a small turnover. Foods were soft but not weak, and farm implement stocks failed to follow up their recent advantage. City Dairy was firm at 64½, up ½ point from last night.

The oils fluctuated idly in light trading; B. A. Oil and Imperial ¼ point lower; International Petroleum, ¼ point above its closing price of last night.

LONDON, Eng., July 31. (C.P.)—The committee of Privileges of the House of Commons, investigating a speech made by E. Sandham, Labor, charging members with bribery and drunkeness to-day reported that his statement was a gross breach of privilege that the bribery charge was a gross libel on the House and that Sandham deserved the censure of the Commons.

The committee declared that the allegations were made without any particulars and were unsupported by any evidence.

The committee also informed Sandham that unless further information were given it, it would be impossible to recommend a formal investigation into the allegations.

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK EIGHT INTRODUCED

Price at Factory is Announced at $1,290 by General Manager.

OSHAWA, July 30—The most important builder of six cylinder motor cars outside the lowest price field will on August first swing over to eights exclusively. On that date, according to J. H. Beaton, General Manager of General Motors of Canada Limited - Buick valve - in - head straight eights will go on display across the country.

Rumors of a McLaughlin - Buick eight to sell at a greatly lower price level than last year's car were confirmed by Mr. Beaton, who stated that one of the series would be priced as low as $1,290 at the factory, bringing the new eights into the very lowest eight-cylinder price field.

Silent synchro mesh transmission standard on three of the four new McLaughlin-Buick series, appears for the first time on cars of medium price, enabling the driver to shift noiselessly back and forth at any speed required by driving conditions.

These new McLaughlin - Buick eights make it possible to drive at breath-taking speeds, with perfect safety and with no consciousness of motor effort," said Mr. Beaton. "They are so sensitive that they seem almost to respond to the driver's wish, and their silence at any pace is uncanny. My own experience with these new cars convinces me that they will be a revelation to the motoring world."

Citizens Join in Wishing Joseph Wearing Much Success in New Position.

STERLING CHARACTER.

The appointment of Joseph Wearing of this city as County Judge in Middlesex County meets with the whole-hearted approval and draws the sincere congratulations of his fellow members of the Bar in this city and Mayor Denne. A number of interviews by The Examiner with lawyers of Peterborough who have known Mr. Wearing for some years past and have been associated with him through their profession, drew nothing but expressions of satisfaction and assurance as to Mr. Wearing's qualifications for the new field of duties his promotion will bring him. Following are the expressions voiced:

Mayor Denne

J. A. O'Brien

"It is a fitting recognition of Mr. Wearing's honesty and a mark of appreciation of his sterling character as a man and a conscientious lawyer. Joseph Wearing will, without any question, uphold the dignity and best traditions of the Bench. I don't think there is a lawyer in Peterborough who is not thoroughly satisfied with the appointment."

Believing that he is deserving of the promotion I can extend my sincere congratulations."

Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C.

KELLOGG COMPANY IS NOT FOR SALE

Cereal Foods Manufacturers Not Associating With Any Other Company.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 31—The following statement was authorized to-day by W. K. Kellogg, chairman of the board of the Kellogg Company, leading manufacturers of cereal foods:

"Reports to the effect that the Kellogg Company is contemplating alliance with other companies in the food industry are being brought to my attention with increasing frequency. I wish to state with the utmost emphasis possible that all such reports are absolutely without foundation. The Kellogg Company is not now and never has been for sale.

"We have at various times, of course, received flattering offers from both related and unrelated lines of business. We in the Kellogg Company, however, have spent many years in perfecting our line of products and in establishing the reputation these products enjoy. We are not interested either in associating these products with unrelated lines or in submerging any part of the prestige that has been built up by the Kellogg Company.

"Futhermore, we hold strongly to the belief that healthy competition between large and solidly established firms is the best possible means for assuring the public increasing returns in quality and service.

"The soundness of these principles and the wisdom of the greatly expanded manufacturing and merchandising programs we launched at the beginning of the year in the face of the general spirit of depression have been confirmed by the volume of business we have done during the first half of 1930."
